MURDERED IN BOXCAR

Engineer Brutally Beaten and Man He Befriended Is Arrested.

Man Attacked Near Granite Falls, Minn.,---Dies in Hospital in Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Granville, an engineer in the Great Northern shops in Havre, Mont., died in a hospital here last night as a result of being brutally beaten while in a St. Paul road box car that was sidetracked near Granite Falls, Minn. John F. Ruth of Milwaukee, Wis., is in the Yellow Medicine county jail, charged with having committed the crime. The motive is supposed to have been robbery.

Evidence indicates that Granville was attacked Thursday night by a brutal murderer armed with a heavy stove door he had wrenched from an article of freight, and a huge rock.

Granville was found dying in the box car. His face was a mass of blood, bits of his splintered skull showing in his scalp, jaw and nose.

Shortly after noon Friday Ruth was discovered in a pumping station of the St. Paul road, on the other side of town, trying to wash blood, it is said, from his clothes and hands.

Marshal Conner saw the murdered man and Ruth together, he says, the day before the crime was committed. Granville had been buying liquor for Ruth in the saloons of the town, and Ruth did not appear to have any money.

TEN ARE INJURED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Big Building at Cleveland Wrecked---Damage Is About $100,000.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 16.—Seven men and three women, two of whom may die, were injured early today when an explosion of natural gas gutted the four-story building occupied by the Wirick Moving & Storage company.

The roof of the building was lifted high in the air, and the falling side walls damaged the neighboring houses. Immediately following the explosion seven buildings in the neighborhood were afire and a conflagration threatened the district, but quick work on the part of the firemen prevented this.

Pedestrians upon the street were slightly injured by falling bricks, hurled high in the air. Two or three others were slightly injured by a runaway horse, frightened by the explosion. The loss will approximate $100,000.

IS UMPIRE IN THE GAME OF WAR

GEN. LEONARD WOOD.

FIRST CLASH IN MIMIC WAR

Regulars and Militia Have Skirmish in Boston Maneuvers.

Attacking Force Fails to Get Breach in Defenses.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 16.—The first clash at arms between the Red army of invasion that is attempting to capture this city and the Blue army of defense, the latter composed wholly of Massachusetts militiamen, occurred early today close to Wareham, near the base of Cape Cod. It was nothing more than a skirmish between a detachment of the cavalry of the invading force and the Second brigade of Massachusetts infantrymen, which had been pushed forward at the extreme left of the line of defense.

Brig. Gen. William A. Pew, commander of the Blue army at Bridgewater, sent his Second brigade across the Colchester brook along the east side of the great swamp, through Halifax to East Middleboro, with the extreme left resting at Wareham. The front of the Second brigade left had hardly reached Wareham when a detachment of the Red army cavalry appeared and a sharp encounter began.

Repulsed by Militia.

The object of the attack undoubtedly was to draw the Blue troops away from the vicinity of Middleboro and thus give Gen. Bliss an opportunity to push the main strength of his Red army up through Lakeville and Middleboro and on to Boston.

The second brigade of the Blue army resisted the attack of the cavalry, however, and it was evident that Gen. Pew was not going to throw his strength on his extreme left and allow a breach at Lakeville.

Finding that Gen. Pew did not swallow the bait, Gen. Bliss moved the strength of his infantry towards the Blue army right wing. His artillery force was sent on in advance.

GLADER CAUGHT IN NORTH DAKOTA

Man Accused of Killing John Grandrud at Cloquet Is Taken.

Cloquet, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—To answer for the second murder case in the history of Carlton county, Oscar Glader was brought back to the county seat at Carlton last evening in custody of Sheriff Lee and Sheriff Johnson of Nelson county, N. D.

Shortly after midnight on the morning of July 25, John Grandrud and two companions were returning from the "Island" and reached a place on the Duluth & Northeastern tracks where Glader suddenly emerged from behind a lumber pile and fired at Grandrud, the shot lodging in his abdomen and causing death the following morning. Before his death Grandrud told of a quarrel he had had with Glader a few months before the shooting, and that Glader had threatened to some time "put it over him."

After the murder Glader made a clean get-away and all track of him had been practically lost. Saturday morning a person from this city, whose name is not known, recognized him in a train at Grand Forks bound for Montana, but was too late to catch him before the train left. Word was sent ahead to Lakota, and the arrest made there and he was held in custody until the arrival of Sheriff Lee. A hearing was held this morning before Judge Skemp of the municipal court.

Both Grandrud and Glader were Finlanders, the latter having a family, a wife and five children, residing here. The crime stirred up the Finlanders to a considerable extent, as the murderer was not very popular among those of his own nationality.

TWENTY-TWO BUILDINGS BURN; LOSS $100,000.

Fernie, B. C., Aug. 16.—Twenty-two buildings were destroyed by fire in Coal Creek last night, causing a loss of $1,000,000. The water pressure failed, and Fernie was called on for assistance. The Fernie brigade fought the flames until early this morning, when the fire was got under control.

KILLS WIFE, WOUNDS SON AND THEN KILLS HIMSELF.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Gustave Hering, Sr., a bookkeeper, shot and instantly killed his wife, Louisa, probably fatally wounded his son, Gustav Hering Jr., and then killed himself at their home here today. The elder Hering, it is said, had been slightly demented for the last two years.

NO MORE MEN ARE TAKEN TO WORKS

Strikers Are Doing Picket Duty---Bread Donated to Their Families.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 16.—No additional imported workingmen were taken into the plant of the Pressed Steel Car company this forenoon. Although strikers were doing picket duty and questioning strangers in the vicinity of the works, no trouble has occurred since yesterday, when shots were fired at incoming workmen.

The idle workmen held a meeting at Indian Mound this morning. The commissary department is distributing bread donated to the families of the strikers.

FIND EVIDENCE OF OLD TRAGEDY

Workmen Unearth Fifteen Skeletons and Some Coins Dated 1729.

Washington, Aug. 16. — Fifteen skeletons, lying together in such a position as to indicate hasty burial, and three English copper coins bearing the date 1729, found with the skeletons during the excavation for the United States medical school hospital, near the banks of the Potomac, bring to light, it is believed, some Indian or piratical tragedy of early American days.

History sheds no light on the case.

Fraternal Congress Meets.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 16.—More than 300 delegates, representing fifty-one fraternal societies of the United States, were gathered in this city today at the opening session of the twenty-third annual convention of the National Fraternal congress. Two-thirds of the members were women. The convention will be in session until late in the week.

SHOWS LONG EARTHQUAKE

Seismograph Gets Record of Shock That Last Nearly an Hour.

May Have Been on the Pacific Coast or in Azores Region.

Washington, Aug. 16.—An earthquake of moderate intensity was recorded early today by the seismograph at the weather bureau. Beginning at 2.05 a. m. it continued nearly an hour. It was estimated that the origin of the disturbance was about 2,500 miles distant, either in California or the Pacific coast of Mexico, or in the vicinity of the Azores.

Fatalities in Japan.

Tokio, Aug. 16.—Reports concerning an earthquake in Central Japan Saturday afternoon show that there were a number of fatalities and that great damage was done to property. The dead at present are said to number thirty, though it is feared that the fatalities will be greatly increased when the outlying districts are heard from. The number of persons injured is eighty-two. Thus far 362 buildings, including many temples, are reported to have been demolished and more than 1,000 others badly damaged.

The shock occurred at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and affected a wide area in the Shiga and Gifu prefectures. The town of Osaka in Gifu suffered terribly. The banks of the Hida river there broke and the surrounding country was inundated. The people of the district fled to high ground and remained in the open all night. Intermittent shocks were felt throughout Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

Mountain Falls In.

The mountain Ibuki, a short distance west of Gifu, emitted smoke in the early stages of the earthquake and then collapsed with a thunderous roar. The formation of the mountain was completely changed.

Slight damage was done at Nagoya, to the southward of Gifu, and neighboring villages.

DRAWS LINE TIGHT ON WORKING FORCE

Secretary Nagel Issues Vacation Edict That Hits 12,000 Employes.

Washington, Aug. 16.—No vacations for employes of the department of commerce and labor until their work is done is the latest edict of Secretary Nagel. The order will affect about 12,000 employes. The employes have been notified to this effect.

"This does not mean," said Assistant Secretary McHarg last night, "that employes will not get vacations. Although they have no legal right to their 'thirty days,' the secretary does not intend to abolish the custom.

"When a bureau chief says he can spare one or more men for vacations, there will be no objections, but otherwise the vacations must wait. We have a flat appropriation from congress and want to keep within it."

Mr. McHarg said in only a few cases have vacations already granted been rescinded.

PACK SARDINES AND MAKE LACE

French Women Have Variety of Occupation During the Year.

Washington, Aug. 16.—From sardine packers at one season of the year to "Irish" lacemakers at another, is the strange labor transformation which takes place among legions of workers at Bretagne, France, according to a report on French needle workers, from Alfred K. Moe, American consul at Bordeaux. In Auvergne field laborers turn from their plows at certain times to the manufacture of pillow lace.

The latter, Mr. Moe reports, receive but 5 cents a meter for their work, while the lace sells elsewhere for 39 cents a meter. The attempt made by certain fashionable women to place the laces "en vogue" has, according to report, met with little success. The low average wages paid are said to be due to the competition both in labor and markets. A change of system with regard to such labor and its compensation is being discussed.

WOMEN CARRIED OFF BY CURRENT

One La Crosse Bather Drowns and Another Is Saved By Her Hair.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 16.—While a party of women were bathing in the Mississippi river last night, several were carried away by the current. Mrs. Peter Jensen, aged 30, was drowned. Count Holstein-Ledreborg Has Completed Distribution of Portfolios.

Ends Crisis Following Repudiation of Military Policies.

Copenhagen, Aug. 16.—The ministerial crisis which followed the resignation of the Danish cabinet last month because of its failure to secure the support of parliament for its project of military defense, came to an end today with the formation of a new cabinet under the premiership of Count Holstein-Ledreborg. J. C. Christensen is minister of war and marine; ex-Premier Neergard, minister of finance, and Thomas Larsen, minister of public works. Count Ahlefeldt-Laurvig, E. Sorensen, F. S. Hoegsbro, A. Nielsen, K. Berntsein and O. Hanson retain respectively the portfolios of foreign affairs, education, justice, agriculture, interior and commerce.

FINE CONCRETE BUILDING FALLS

Two Experts May Die From Injuries in Collapse at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 16.—The handsome reinforced concrete apartment block known as the "Bredalbane," being erected on Hargrave street at a cost of $225,000 by McArthur & Fisher, fell in with a crash Saturday evening. Heavy rains had moistened the concrete so that the steel girders gave way, sending down the weighty floors to the basement. Four men were inside at the time inspecting the work, and were crushed, two so severely that they were taken to a hospital in a dying condition. They are J. Duncan and William Dodds, expert concrete mixers. The wreckage is such that it will cost considerable to rebuild.

HAS NO DEALING WITH JOHN BULL

Orville Wright Will Spend Only One Day in England and Will Not Fly There.

London, Aug. 16.—Orville Wright, who arrived here today from New York, will spend only twenty-four hours in England. He is going to Germany tomorrow. He will not be able to do anything in the flying line here, although his areoplanes are completed, the motors for them have not yet been delivered.

As far as Mr. Wright knows, the only flying he will do in Europe will be in Germany. He may possibly return to England on his way home. He has received no communication from the British war office, and no arrangements have been made for a meeting between him and British officials, as has been reported in some quarters.

FACTIONS IN WAR PAINT

The Pinchot-Ballinger Affair Promises to Come Up at Denver, Too.

Supporters of Opponents at Spokane Rally Round Totem Poles.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 16.—Predictions that the next few days will see a breach in the federal service that will end only in the resignation of either Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot or Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger were the opening feature of the twelfth annual Trans-Mississippi congress that began here this morning in the Auditorium. More than 5,000 delegates already are present for the meetings, and every train today brought additions to this number. Moreover, every delegation was met with the question, "Whom are you with?" and new arrivals are being dragged into the controversy almost as soon as they reach the city.

That the fight brought here from the irrigation congress held at Spokane last week will be of the bitterest character is indicated by the fact that nearly every one of the most prominent supporters of the two leaders in the controversy has promised to be on the field.

The trouble began when Chief Forester Pinchot charged, in an address at Spokane, that the Roosevelt policies with regard to conservation and the use of the public domain, which the present administration is pledged to follow, are not being adhered to.

Favors for Corporations.

Scarcely veiled accusations were made that large corporations, particularly those interested in waterpower privileges, were being favored by the

WEATHER WORK IS CHAMPIONED

Bureau Issues Bulletin of Comments From the Newspapers.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Answering recent magazine strictures on its abilities as a prognosticator, the weather bureau has issued a bulletin intended to disprove the theory that the bureau "has not made good."

Instead, however, of giving its own opinion of its work, the weather bureau has gathered together in this 65-page bulletin opinions expressed in hundreds of newspapers throughout the country and in letters from representatives of various commercial, agricultural and maritime interests, all tending to uphold the work of the bureau. Of more than 500 newspaper criticisms received by the bureau, all but three were favorable.

CONDENSED INTERVIEWS

"The copper surplus is no longer a menace to the market, and I am convinced that we will see a greater activity in stocks this coming fall than at any time since 1900," said Irving J. Sturgis of Boston, a member of the brokerage firm of Gay & Sturgis, who was at the Spalding yesterday. Mr. Sturgis says that conditions are right for a big movement in coppers, for the demand for the metal now exceeds production, and the existing surplus will soon be used up.

WALK BLOCKED TO PEDESTRIANS

Complaints Over Action of Contractors Building the Alworth Building.

The fact that the firm having the contract for the construction of the new Alworth building on Superior street, just west of the Lonsdale building, Third avenue west and Superior street, has fenced off that portion of the sidewalk directly in front of the structure while it is being built, is causing some of the business men in the block, and others who pass the spot frequently, to enter complaints.

The argument is advanced that as that is one of the busiest sections of Superior street, the contractors, if there is any way possible, should leave at least a part of the walk open to pedestrians, as a great inconvenience will be caused by blocking the entire walk. Those making the complaints express the belief that some way could be devised whereby this could be done. They suggest that a roof, even with the first story, could be built out over the walk, to protect passersby from articles which might chance to fall while the construction work is in progress, or that if half the walk were fenced off that might be enough to meet the purposes of the builders.

There is no desire to interfere with the construction of the building, but it is believed that a passageway could be left without causing any great inconvenience to the contractors.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

PENNSY GETS DULUTH MEN

Eastern School Draws Liberally From Zenith City Athletes.

Duluth Boy Has Place on Big Team Practically Cinched.

Pennsylvania University draws quite liberally from Duluth's stock of athletes this year.

Reginald Graham of this city who made quite a name for himself at that college last year in wrestling and swimming, and who was almost assured of a place on the eleven this year, expects to leave within a few days. The early training this year will take place in the mountains and it is expected that it will be well under way inside of two weeks. Graham plays right half, tips the scales at over 200 pounds, and is as fast as many men with not nearly so much weight.

Bill Crawford, who was captain of the high school team of last year, is also going to the Pensylvania school. Bill has had four years' football experience and two years at rowing with the crews of the Duluth Boat club. He is going in for athletics and should make good.

Allan Nelson, who brought fame to himself as a hammer thrower will probably return to Pennsylvania. He too has football aspirations and as he has the weight and some experience to back him, he too should be able to do things.

Robert Smith, who has cut a few figures in the sprinting line, is also to return to the Pennsylvania school of learning.

Thomas Doyle of West Duluth is going to Pennsylvania this year. He is a wrestler and will try for the team that each year represents the school at the Eastern indoor meets. This branch of sport is much more popular East than in the Middle West. Doyle's admirers think that he will have little trouble making the team.

Messrs. Le Tourneau, Manley and Harold Crassweller are also slated to return to this school.

Boyle, the star quarterback of the high school team of last year and Cook who played a star game at full back on the same team, have picked Dartmouth. Both men are good players both at football and baseball.

Most of the other members of last year's team will go to Minnesota.

WOMEN'S TEAM TO PLAY TWO GAMES

"Lady Tossers" to Oppose Newly Organized Big Duluth Club.

Duluth baseball fans will have two chances to see the Hopkins Brothers women's baseball team in action, for Saturday afternoon they meet the Big Duluth team at Athletic park and Sunday afternoon they again line up against the same team at the same place.

Sunday the women played with the Turnbull-Cameron-Degler team of Superior at the Superior park, and the largest crowd of the season witnessed the game.

It took fifteen innings for the Superior team to defeat them and the score was 2 to 1.

The women were to have played in Duluth by electric light Saturday evening, but the rain interfered and the game was called off.

WRENSHALL WINS.

Moose Lake Team Is Vanquished 2 to 1 in Fast Game.

Wrenshall, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Wrenshall team defeated Moose Lake here yesterday in a 2 to 1 contest, the fastest of the season. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Wrenshall .....00011000x—2	7	2
Moose Lake ....01000000—1	3	5

Selecting Yachts.

Marblehead, Mass., Aug. 16.—The work of selecting the fastest trio from a fleet of nineteen Sonder or special type yachts, by putting them through a series of six-mile sprints, began off here today, and it is expected by next Saturday the international committee of the Eastern Yacht club will have named the three which will represent America in the third yachting struggle with Germany.

During the first three days the yachts will sail three races each day.

The final races on Saturday will be sailed by probably a scant half dozen survivors. The yachts were divided as follows:

First division—Bandit, Corinthian, Crooner, Joyette, Spokane III and Wag.

Second division—Bessie, Demon, Eel, Ellen, Manchester III, Sumatra and Vim.

Third division — Alarm, Caramba, Lady, Sally X, Skeezix and Wolf.

New Irish Record.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 16.—A letter has been received here from Nat Cartmell, the Louisville athlete, who is now in England, in which Cartmell says that he has returned from Belfast, Ireland, where he won at 100 yards and at 220 yards from Kerr, champion sprinter of Canada, setting a new Irish record of :10 flat for the 100 yards and equaling the Irish record of 1:12 1-5 for the 220. As there is no really good 220-yard track in Ireland, this latter feat is considered something of an achievement. Cartmell expects to return to America next fall.

The Lipton Races.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The second of the Lipton racing series was sailed today by local yachtsmen. The course was a windward and leeward one, twelve miles in total distance.

The yacht Spray, representing the Chicago Yacht club, winner in the first race Saturday, is opposed by the Illinois Athletic Yacht club boat which nearly won the first race. Possession of a silver cup presented to Chicago yachtsmen by Sir Thomas Lipton is the prize for the yacht having the highest percentage at the close of the series.

Freeman Suspended.

Sioux City, Iowa, Aug. 16.—Pitcher Jimmy "Buck" Freeman has been suspended by Manager Holmes of the Sioux City Western league team because the pitcher refused to report at Riverside park in uniform Sunday afternoon.

READY FOR GOLF MEET

All Set for Opening of State Golf Tournament.

Many Twin City Players Have Already Reached the City.

Everything is set for the opening of the state golf tournament, which will begin tomorrow on the links of the Northland Country club. Delegates from the different state clubs, which will be represented in the tournament, began reaching the city this morning. By this evening it is expected that quite a large number of the contesting players will be on hand.

Prominent among the players to arrive today is William Brooks of Minneapolis. C. S. Langdon of Minneapolis and F. L. Blood of St. Paul are also here. They are registered at the Spalding. C. P. Jaffray and G. C. Beckwith of Minneapolis, are also at the Spalding. More players of the two Minneapolis clubs and of the Mankato and Winona clubs are due to reach the city this evening and tomorrow morning.

Tomorrow will be an open day of the tournament. The four-ball match will be played in the morning and the five-man team match will be played off in the afternoon. The club will be open to all the members and their friends.

It is expected that when the state championship play opens on Wednesday that the largest number of players that have ever been present at any state tournament will be ready to begin play. All the members of the state association are liberally represented by their strongest players, and each event on the program promises to be keenly contested.

The local club will be strongly represented. The best players of the club have been practising for the tournament for some time, and it is believed that they will make the best showing the Northland club has ever made in any of the state tournaments.

State Champion Harry Legg, Wendell Hertig, one of the strongest players in the state association, and others of the Twin City cracks, are expected in on the evening train. The players who reached the city this morning were out on the links today.

Omaha Tennis Tourney.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 16.—The ninth annual open tennis tournament of the Omaha Field club for the championship of the Middle West in both singles and doubles, under the auspices of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, began on the courts of the club this morning. There are seventy entrants, fifty-two of whom are out-of-town players. There are three challenge cups to be played for. C. S. Peters of Chicago, present holder of the championship cup in singles, is not here, but Walter Hayes of Chicago, last year's runner-up in singles, and Mr. Peters' partner in the doubles championship, is entered.

Cloquet Defeated.

Cloquet, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Big Duluth team, formerly the Fitwells, won an easy victory yesterday, defeating the locals by a score of 8 to 3. Thorsen was on the hill for the Big Duluth team, and was invincible until the eighth inning, when Sandstrom hit for two bases. In the ninth he was touched for two more. Errors and hits in the eighth resulted in five runs for the visitors, thus cinching the game.

The score:	R.	H.	E.
Cloquet .....00000012—3	3	8
Big Duluth.....20100050—8	9	4

Batteries — Carlson and Skinner; Thorsen and Schaeffer.

Great Ball at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thirty-five strikeouts in eight and a half innings was the record in Fargo Sunday afternoon when the Fargo athletics defeated Barnesville in a loosely played game, 9 to 4. The Fargo pitcher in nine innings fanned eighteen men and Kasson of the visitors got seventeen in eight innings.

NO PLUMS IN CENSUS WORK

Taft Issues Letter Saying Politicians Must Not Get Jobs.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 16.—In a letter addressed to Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor, President Taft serves notice that any man engaged in the taking of the thirteenth census of the United States who engages in politics in any way will immediately be dismissed from the service. Outside of casting their votes, the president believes that census supervisors and enumerators should keep clear of anything that savors of politics, national, state or local.

The president orders that the secretary of commerce and labor and the director of the census embody in the regulations governing the taking of the census the rule so forcibly laid down in his letter.

Mr. Taft says that in appointing census supervisors it has been found necessary to select men recommended by senators and congressmen in their districts. He says he realizes that this method of selection might easily be perverted to political purposes, and it is to take the census out of politics, as far as the actual work is concerned, that he has explicitly expressed his desires as to the regulations.

No Political Work.

President Taft told the representatives and senators who have urged various men for census places that he would insist that no active partisan should be named and that no attempt should be made to build up a political machine in any state or district through the distribution of the census patronage.

One hundred and thirty-four additional supervisors of the census were appointed yesterday. President Taft was busy until late Saturday night signing the commissions of the successful candidates. Altogether 184 of the 330 supervisors now have been commissioned, and Mr. Taft's task is a little more than half completed. Practically all of the appointments have been agreed upon, but some are being held up temporarily on account of protests.

Named for Minnesota.

Among the census supervisors announced today were:

Minnesota—First district, Frank E. Gartside; Second district, Frank W. Gilmore; Third district, A. B. Kelly; Fourth district, William B. Webster; Fifth district, Charles H. Cairns; Sixth district, E. E. McCrae; Seventh district, Charles W. Odell; Eighth district, Byron L. Hollister; Ninth district, Daniel W. Meeker.

Michigan—Third district, Fred W. Stuart; Fourth district, Charles Foster Davidson; Fifth district, John L. Boer; Seventh district, H. H. Bart; Eighth district, John Baird; Ninth district, John A. Sherman; Tenth district, Charles B. Jackson; Eleventh district, Sylvester P. Young; Twelfth district, James T. Bennett.

North Dakota—First district, Carl N. Frich.

OSTBY IS BOUND OVER

Bjorn Ostby was bound over to the grand jury this afternoon on a charge of murder in the first degree. The charge admits of no bail. Dr. E. L. Cheney was the only witness called this afternoon.

Succeeds Jackson.

About ten years ago J. T. McGaughy was contracting freight agent for the Great Northern railroad at Helena, Mont. Since then he has been general agent for the same company at Cleveland, Ohio and has been connected with the freight department of the road at Minneapolis. He was in Duluth a few months ago while holding the Minneapolis job. Announcement has just been made by Passenger Traffic Director Broughton of the Great Northern that Mr. McGauhy has been promoted to be assistant general freight and passenger agent at Helena, Mont., succeeding H. A. Jackson, formerly of Duluth, who has been transferred to Portland, Or.

TWO INDICTMENTS AGAINST PERSCH

New York, Aug. 16.—Two indictments for grand larceny were returned by the grand jury today against Donald L. Persch, the note broker, who is now under $50,000 bail in the Tombs prison, under charges in connection with the sale of collateral deposits by M. M. Joyce, a broker, on a loan negotiated through the Windsor Trust company.

A TREASURE.

Tit-Bits: At the dinner of the Cab Drivers' Benevolent association, Sir Squire Bancroft told a story of a young lady who tendered the fare of a shilling at the end of a journey.

"Half a moment, miss," said the driver. "Are you married?"

"No. Why do you ask?"

"Because," was the rejoinder, "when you do marry, whoever gets you will have a treasure. You makes a bob go further than any gal I know."

STRIKERS WILL RETURN TO WORK

Fort William Labor Trouble Seems to Be at an End.

Fort William, Ont., Aug. 16.—The striking dock laborers of the Canadian Pacific railway returned to work en-masse this morning. A mass meeting of strikers and friends numbering 5,000 persons was held in a drenching rain yesterday afternoon in the dock district and addressed by Mayor Peitier, who urged the men to resume employment and submit their grievances to a board of arbitration. Greeks and Italians stood in the front row, with timid Poles and Hungarians behind in the rear being filled in with rows of women, little children clinging to them. Little groups who had the vital interest of bread and butter in the outcome surrounded the crowd. The 600 red-coated soldiers with rifles in hand, were lined up to quell any movement which might border on the danger line.

General Manager Bury of the Canadian Pacific railroad had previous to the meeting given his promise to the mayor to take the men back if they agreed to arbitration. The front row of speakers demanded the release of their compatriots, fifteen of whom had been jailed for riotious conduct, and also the withdrawal of the troops, but to this the mayor replied that the law must take its course. Finally after prolonged discussion the strikers accepted the mayor's proposal and were given thirty-six hours within which to resume employment. One hundred and fifty additional strike-breakers arrived yesterday morning, making 400 working yesterday, enabling the steamer Manitoba to unload and get away, and sending two trains of merchandise West.

DAMAGED BOAT BEING REPAIRED

Morrell Has Hole in Side as Result of Collision.

The steamer Daniel J. Morrell is in drydock at Superior as the result of a collision Friday in Whitefish bay with the steamer Henry Phipps.

The Phipps gave the Morrell a glancing blow, amidships, crushing a large hole in her side. The repairs to the Morrell will take at least two weeks.

Capt. Joseph Kidd, the marine surveyor, is making an examination of the boat today. It is understood that about twenty plates will have to be replaced and the cost will probably amount to $15,666.

The steamer J. H Reed is also at the Superior drydock for repairs.

OSHKOSH COP BADLY TREATED

Was Thrown Overboard That Tug Might Get Away.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 16.—After taking a policeman's revolver away from him and throwing the bluecoat overboard, Capt. Scott of the tug Togo got away safely from Oshkosh. The captain was arrested at that point because Albert Coal of Duluth owned a mortgage on the tug and the Zenith City man wished to foreclose.

Capt. Scott is now back in Menominee and his boat is safe from the seizure at least for a time.

As soon as it became known that the Togo was in other waters an attempt was made to take possession of the boat for the Duluth man. She was chased from Stockbridge to Oshkosh from there to De Pere and back to Menominee.

It was at Oshkosh that the real adventure happened and it looked for a time as though the boat, captain and all the crew were arrested.

SEEKING COPPER IN LOST PEWABIC

Syndicate Working at Thunder Bay--- Divers on the Grecian.

Alpena, August 16.—Employes of the New York syndicate that is trying to recover the copper in the sunken steamer, Pewabic, lost in Thunder bay, forty-two years ago, are working every day at their big task.

The Pewabic lies in Thunder bay in about 170 feet of water. The steamer Douglass and a gasoline launch are used by the syndicate. So far, only preliminary work has been done, the Douglass coming into port every night. A diving bell, said to be the finest in the world, and two diving suits will be used when conditions are favorable.

Divers are also at work on the steamer Grecian, which was sunk in the open lake just north of Thunder bay island three years ago. As the steamer was light when she went down she will probably be raised when Dr. Staud of Chicago succeeds in getting his canalons under her. The steamer Searchlight is being used as a base for the operations.

FIGHT STANDARD ON GREAT LAKES

Independent Oil Company Fitting Out Fleet of Carriers.

Independent oil companies have declared war on the Standard Oil company, and the battle ground is to be the Great Lakes. A fleet of oil tank ships will be in operation shortly, enabling the independents to compete with John D. Rockefeller's company on the same price basis.

The Petrol Traffic Company of Toledo, with a Minnesota charter, is the name under which the independents will fight. The steamer Foster W. Mitchell, with tanks capable of holding 230,000 gallons of oil, is already in commission.

The Standard Oil company has had a monopoly on the oil traffic on the lakes. The independents will not only cut into the field covered by the old company, but will invade new territory, probably extending into Canada. A number of big tank stations will be built along the chain of lakes.

Heretofore the independents have been spending money to obtain regulation of freight rates and to put an end to discrimination. They have brought hundreds of cases before the interstate commerce commission to this end, and have accomplished much. Their campaigns came under the Roosevelt administration. Now the independents allege the rail rates, while not quite so discriminatory, are often raised or reduced, as the case may be, to the ultimate advantage of the Standard.

The inauguration of the independent movement will result, it is expected, in concessions from the railroad companies.

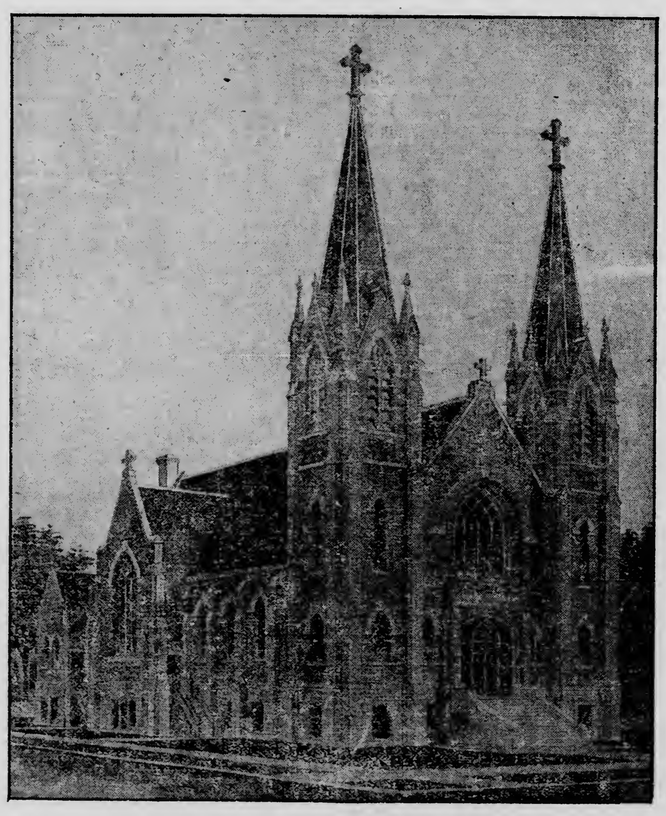
CLOQUET CATHOLICS TO HAVE SPLENDID CHURCH



AS NEW EDIFICE WILL LOOK.

Cloquet, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The plans for a new Catholic church, submitted by Alban & Fisher, architects, of St. Paul, have been formally accepted, and there is being general satisfaction expressed over the acceptance by the local parishioners. The church will be 157 feet long and 66 feet wide, and will have a seating capacity of 1,000 people. It is estimated that the cost of the church will be approximately $35,000. The church will bear the name of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart, the same as the old one.

The old church was built in 1901-02, a frame building, and was destroyed by fire early on the morning of Sept. 18, 1908, when it was struck by lightning. Work will be begun on the new church about April 1.

An interesting fact in connection with the new structure is that this will be the twenty-first church built by Rev. Father Charles Giraux, the pastor, since his advent into the priesthood, the largest being built in Rome and had a seating capacity of 7,000.

STRIKERS READY WITH CHALLENGE

Union Men Still Resent Appearance of Non-Union Help.

To all appearances the strike on the lakes is over. This is not the case, however.

Not in the least disheartened over the seemingly unsuccessful methods used up to this time, the strikers are constantly casting about in other ways to strike at the boat owners.

The men are taking turns carrying the signs that give notice that there is a strike on the lakes and asking men to keep away.

Although not in so large numbers as some time ago or at the beginning of the trouble this spring, the men still stay around the docks. They are ever ready with their challenge.

That the men who are taking their places on the boats are timid about accepting positions on the boats is certain. Each day a number are seen going toward the docks to take berths left vacant by union men, and they are always escorted to the boat by a policeman. The men of late have been shipping in great numbers from the several employment agencies on the Bowery, and they refuse to go near the boats unless a policeman is detailed to protect them.

Further than a few hisses and a few hard words directed towards the new men, there have been no demonstrations on the local docks of late.

WOMEN ACCOUNTANTS.

One line of work which women have recently taken up is accounting. There are said to be about twenty-five women engaged in this work in the United States. They have come into this field within the last two or three years, and have met with unexpected success.

It is hard work, but it is far more remunerative, according to a writer in the Bookkeeper, than any other of the professions in which women have heretofore engaged. A director in a leading commercial school of New York says:

"I know of two women in well-known concerns who have mapped out and put into operations a complete new system of financial methods for their employers, and who have even been intrusted with big funds for profitable investment, and whose advice has been followed in many other important business undertakings. The number of such women who have proved their ability and liking for this responsible and remunerative work is steadily growing. It offers a splendid field for the woman who is not loath to accept responsibilities and who has a liking for the hard work it entails and who is ambitious."

Nearly all the commercial schools show a steady increase in the number of women students over previous years. One of them reports that four-fifths of its students in the regular business course this year, which includes stenography, commercial law, banking, English and kindred subjects, are women.

In the bookkeeping classes there are about as many women as men. A very large proportion of these women, who appear to have marked out a business career, are college bred, and many others are high school graduates. One reason given for this tendency is the overcrowding of such professions as teaching.

EMOTIONAL INSANITY THE PROBABLE PLEA

Bjorn Ostby Has Preliminary Hearing in Municipal Court.

His Attorney Getting All the State's Evidence on Record.

Nothing new that could be considered of very great significance was brought out in municipal court this morning, during the preliminary examination of Bjorn Ostby, charged with murdering his father, John G. Ostby, last Wednesday evening. All the evidence was not in at noon, and an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock. There is little doubt but that the young man will be bound over to the grand jury.

From the trend of questions put to the witnesses by Albert Baldwin, attorney for the defense, it seems very evident that the defense in district court will be emotional insanity, or "brain storm." His one object during this morning's hearing seemed to be to put all the witnesses for the state on absolute record as to what they know in connection with the case, so he will know exactly what they will testify to when the murder trial comes up in district court.

Three men who will be witnesses for the state at the district court trial —Chief of Police Troyer, Detective Schulte and Dr. H. E. Webster—were called to the stand in the preliminary examination as witnesses for the defense, and were plied with a line of questions intended to bring out everything they knew relative to the matter in hand. Dr. Webster, in company with Dr. Cheney, interviewed the prisoner in his cell at the county jail last Friday, on behalf of the state, although Ostby claims he believed they were acting for the defense, and professed great anger when he learned the true situation.

On the witness stand Mr. Baldwin asked Dr. Webster if, during the conversation with the alleged murderer, the latter went into the details of the shooting, and the doctor said he did. When the attorney for the defense asked for a review of those details, County Attorney Norton, for the state, objected, saying that the question was not proper at that time, and that Dr. Webster would be a witness for the state in district court. The objection was sustained, and at this point the noon recess was taken.

Boy Is In Court.

Bjorn was in court during the whole of the hearing. He paid no attention to the large crowd of spectators which filled the space back of the railing. Every inch of standing room was occupied, and the door was closed to prevent a further jam. Scores of people were disappointed at being unable to get into the room, and went away. As the hearing opened, Mr. Norton asked the court to clear the room of all those not directly connected with the case, on account of the noise which might arise from the crowd and make it difficult to hear the testimony of witnesses. Judge Cutting, however, told the people they could remain as long as they were very quiet.

Ostby was dressed in a suit of blue clothes and wore a white collar, with a black tie. His hair was carefully combed. When he first came in he was given a seat at the side of the room, and sat there quietly, with legs crossed, looking rather sullen, but otherwise with an expressionless face. When the hearing started he took a seat behind his attorney, and, while the sullen look remained, and there was slight change in his features, he displayed an active interest in all that was said and done, and apparently was intensely interested when the stenographer, who took notes at the inquest last Friday, was reading the testimony of Dr. Graham as to the course the bullets which killed his father took. The same interest was manifested when Chief Troyer was on the stand, telling of the conversation he and a newspaper man had with Ostby at the city jail, in regard to the attitude of the murdered man toward his family, and particularly towards Mrs. Ostby.

The Detective's Story.

Detective Schulte, who, in company with Detective Schulte, answered the telephone call directing them to the Ostby home the night of the murder, the two making the arrest, was the first witness called. His testimony was practically the same as at the inquest. He told of going to the Ostby home, 528 East Sixth street, where, at the top of the stairs leading to the upper floor, where the family lives, Bjorn met them. He was alone on the floor. They asked him if he was the Ostby that called the police station, and he said he was, and invited them upstairs. Mr. Schulte asked him what was the matter, and Ostby, according to the witness, said: "Come right in here," and led them to a bedroom, pointing to the dead body of his father lying on the floor.

Detective Irvine said he felt the dead man's pulse and found that life was extinct. The body was cold, he said. All this was a few minutes after 8 o'clock in the evening. Ostby, said Irvine, told them he had killed his father and later telephoned the police station. He refused to say anything about the details of the murder, but showed them two guns standing in the corner of another room, and pointed to a 22-calibre Winchester as the weapon with which the man had been killed. Ostby was quoted as saying that when he was tried in court he would tell everything on the witness stand, but refused to have anything to say the evening in question. He seemed in a hurry to have them take him to the police station.

Talked on Other Matters.

In the cross-examination, Mr. Baldwin laid special stress upon the fact that he wanted Mr. Irvine to tell everything that had been said and done in connection with the affair, and the detective asserted that he had told all he remembered in connection with the events directly concerning the murder, although, in walking to the police station with Ostby, he had some talk with him about the Fourth street paving, P. McDonnell, the contractor who has the job, and the general prosperity of Duluth. The prisoner also talked about the proposed steel plant. The detective did not remember asking the youth how many shots had been fired, or whether that question was asked Ostby by him or any of the other police officers.

Mr. Irvine testified further that at the police station, Ostby was interviewed by Chief Troyer, Schulte and himself, Mr. Troyer asking most or all of the questions. When asked how the murder came to occur, the witness said Ostby asserted that he did not know anything about it. Mr. Baldwin took particular pains to ask the different witnesses if it were not a fact that to most of their questions directly relating to the murder, Ostby did not either say that he did not remember, or did not know. The witnesses admitted that in several instances this was true.

Detective Schulte was called to the witness stand twice, first as a witness for the state, and then as a witness for the defense. Seeing that Mr. Baldwin was intent upon getting all the state's witnesses on record, Mr. Norton took pains to ask Mr. Schulte, when first upon the stand, nothing concerning his conversation with young Ostby, beyond what related directly to pointing out the gun, and what he said about it. Mr. Schulte's testimony along this line corroborated that of Mr. Irvine. He said he found an empty shell in the gun, and another on the floor of the bedroom where the gun stood, and not in the room where the dead body lay.

When Mr. Baldwin tried in his cross-examination to learn the youth's conversation aside from his pointing out the gun, Mr. Norton objected, saying it was not proper examination, as having no bearing on the questions asked by the state's attorney. The objection was sustained, and later Mr. Baldwin summoned Mr. Schulte as a witness for the defense, and the desired information was secured.

The witness said both he and Mr. Irvine were talking to the telephone operator at police headquarters when the call from Ostby came, and that the message over the wire, supposedly from young Ostby, was to the effect that a murder had been committed at 528 East Sixth street. Schulte thought the rooms where the gun stood and where the boby lay were ten feet apart, but could not say exactly.

Dr. Graham, who performed an autopsy over the dead man's body, was out of the city, but the testimony he gave at the coroner's inquest Friday relative to the course of the two bullets which passed through the elder Ostby's head, was read by Miss Louise Emerson, who acted as shorthand reporter at the inquest. This testimony showed that either one of the two bullets would have resulted in death.

After the stenographer had left the stand, Detective Schulte was called back by Mr. Baldwin, and Mr. Norton objected to the line of questions, saying that its one purpose was to get the state's witness on record. The objection was overruled. Attorney for the defense then asked what talk had occurred between the detectives and the prisoner at the time of the arrest, and Mr. Schulte testified practically the same as had Mr. Irvine.

Chief of Police Troyer, called by the defense, said young Ostby had refused on the night of the murder to tell the details of the crime, and that he did not remember when the shots were fired, or the position of the murdered man when the shooting occurred. He said Ostby had said considerable about family affairs, how his father had ill-treated his mother; how he had failed to provide her with sufficient groceries or money, and how the family believed Mr. Ostby, after his return from a six months' stay in Europe, was sending his money back to Europe to relatives, instead of using it for the benefit of his wife and children.

The chief testified that Bjorn said he had no words with his father after other members of the family had left the house, and that the last he remembered seeing his father alive was in the kitchen, when the latter was warming water for shaving.

Dr. Webster was called to the stand by Mr. Baldwin, and Mr. Norton objected to him testifying, saying he would be called in district court as a witness for the state in case a certain defense, supposedly emotional insanity, were raised by the defense. The objection was overruled, but the court upheld Mr. Norton in his objection to the doctor giving the details of a conversation relating directly to the events leading up to the shooting, and to the shooting itself. Dr. Webster said he and Dr. Cheney went to the jail on behalf of the state, and said he supposed Ostby knew they were doctors, and that they were there for Mr. Norton. Because he was convinced on that point, he said he did not think it necessary to explain to Ostby who they were, and why they were there. He testified that Ostby talked freely, until in response to his question, he told him they were physicians there on behalf of the state.

At this point the noon recess was taken.

About 200 persons, most of them women, attended the funeral services over the remains of John G. Ostby. A brief service was first held at Durkan & Crawford's undertaking rooms Saturday, and later in the afternoon there were longer services at the Norwegian church, where the largest crowd gathered. Most of those attending the ceremonies were strangers to the deceased.

The cortege passed the county jail, where the son is imprisoned, and a jailor called the young man's attention to the fact, but he paid absolutely no attention, and expressed no curiosity to look out of the window. He sat with chin resting on his hands until long after the sounds of the passing vehicles had passed away.

Mrs. Ostby, her son, George, and daughter, Martha, went to the undertaking rooms, where Rev. J. H. Stenberg, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church, offered prayer. The casket was opened and members of the family and their friends took a last look at the face of the dead man. Rev. J. H. Stenberg also conducted the services at the church, taking his text for the funeral sermon from the twelfth verse of the first chapter of Lamentations: "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? Behold and see if there be any sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the Lord hath afflicted me in the day of fierce anger."

Rev. Stenberg spoke in Norwegian, and Rev. Alexander Milne, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church, who followed him, spoke in English.

Rev. Milne took as his text the fifth and eighth verses of the XVII Psalm: "My soul, wait thou only upon God, for my expectation is from him;" and "Trust in Him at all times; people, pour your heart before Him; God is a refuge for us."

Interment was at Park Hill cemetery.

DROPS BABY IN DOORYARD

Woman Explains to Cass Lake Officer That Husband Told Her To.

Says She Comes From North Dakota and Is on Way to Duluth.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Claiming that her husband had told her that she must get rid of their 2-weeks-old daughter or he would have nothing more to do with her, a woman who gave her name as Edith Carrigan early this morning left a baby in the dooryard of H. Thorve of this city, after carrying it to that place in a satchel.

The baby was found by Mr. Thorve, who reported the matter to the police. A search brought out the fact that a woman with a satchel had been seen in that vicinity early this morning, and the police set a watch on all trains. The woman who called herself Edith Carrigan was stopped by an officer at the depot just as the southbound train was pulling out, and after a few questions she confessed to having left the baby in the Thorve yard, and told her story to the officer.

She says that she came from near Grand Forks, N. D., and that her husband is a section foreman.

Later in the day a home was found for the child with a local family and the woman left for Duluth, where she says she has relatives. She declares that she will never return to her husband. She is good looking and about 20 years old.

CROWDED QUARTERS.

Great Demand for Rooms at Y. W. C. A.

During the last two weeks every available bit of space in the new building of the Young Women's Christian association has been utilized as sleeping quarters, as a great number of out-of-town visitors to the city have been applying at the association building for accommodations. Last evening every sleeping room was occupied, and the emergency room, supposed to be reserved in case of illness, three class rooms, and the cots in the rest room were all pressed into service. Although the strangers in the city cause the present crowding, the sleeping rooms will be inadequate for the demand this fall. There are seventy-two bedrooms at the building. Sixty-eight of these are permanently engaged now, and there are thirty names on the waiting list. Every mail brings inquiries from teachers who will be coming to the city next month and who desire to live at the building. The question of supplying this demand has not yet been considered by the board of directors.

IMPORTANT FACTOR

Is Dress in Business Life of Woman.

Any woman who has her way to make in the world, whether in social or business circles, must recognize that dress is one of her chief assets. Take the housemaid, for instance—if you want to start with one of the lowest rungs of the ladder—a careless, untidy girl will never get a good position. One knows at a glance that she is ignorant, incompetent, untrained. The neat black dress, fetching apron and immaculate collars and cuffs stand for a position or wages that rank high in the servants' world, writes Mrs. Simcox in the September Delineator.

The same conditions, exactly, exist right up through the ranks. The efficiency of a saleswoman, a stenographer, a teacher—in fact, of any woman who works—is judged by her dress. Shabbiness is almost always taken as a sign of ill-success, and it is a popular, if somewhat fallacious, theory that real merit and ability always succeed. Carelessness is quite as blighting to one's prospects as shabbiness. It may not be altogether just or fair, but it is true that wherever you go your social position, your income, success or failure, your ability and character are appraised by the clothes you wear. If I were starting in business—I don't care in what capacity—and had only a very little money to invest, I would put it into clothes—clothes that were suitable, attractive and well made. It is what financiers call "a good risk"—an investment that is almost certain to turn out well. In fact, it is exactly what I did when I came East to find my fortune in New York. I put almost all my capital into smart gowns and went to Saratoga at the height of the season. Women noticed my clothes—asked about them and about me. As a result I received my first private customers—the nucleus of my present business—there at Saratoga.

I don't for a moment advocate extravagance in dress except for women of large means. With them extravagance is more than excusable—it is justifiable. It keeps money in circulation, which is the wisest and most beneficent form of charity to women who need work.

But for women in moderate circumstances a parsimonious attitude toward dress is a false, and often fatal, economy. If you want to succeed in anything, look successful, able, competent. Otherwise you can never inspire confidence in others, and to look successful, prosperous, assured, you must be well dressed.

A WASTE OF TIME

To Accumulate Any Tangible Thing but Money.

"She is a natural born accumulator." How often one hears this expression! And the woman usually justifies it, says an exchange.

Inanimate objects just simply love to gather around her. Her house is exactly like a museum. She keeps every invitation she ever received, every letter, every cotillon favor, no matter how old and dusty. It is a wonder she doesn't get tired of some of it and pile on the rubbish cart the furniture in all ages of decrepitude, the faded spotted clothing and the moth eaten hangings. Nothing ever seems too old to keep. She has clocks that will never run again, books with whole sections missing, pictures lacking frames and chairs lacking springs. Some women cannot bear to throw away an old paper or magazine. They keep piles of these under bureaus or desks, where they accumulate dust and prevent any systematic cleaning. Other careful souls believe in hoarding old hats, old gowns, old feathers and small sections of trimmings that match nothing else on earth.

"Everything comes back in style once in every seven years," remarked one of these economical souls, and she forgot to add that the precious article saved was usually so rotten or so faded that it was no good by that time.

But the most irksome woman of all is she who accumulates second-hand ideas and clings to them year in and year out regardless of the march of time and the progress around her.

Good advice to women is: Don't accumulate anything except money. Use just what you need and either give or throw away the rest. Save yourself the wear and tear which belongs to responsibility, and needless responsibility at that. The world is hard enough for you as it is without you making it any harder for yourself.

SUNSHINE ACTS.

The way to blessedness is always through narrow gates. It is not spectacular, but individual and quiet. There is one gate in every woman's daily life through which she can reach it—a gate neglected by many because it seems so small and insignificant. But which opens direct upon the true path. It is the gate of the sun, which has been aptly described by one of our leading organizations in its short but sufficient motto, "One sunshine act a day," and which a great church also recommends in its advice to its children to do one "practical act" of devotion daily, says Harper's Bazar.

The characteristic part of such an act is that it must be unselfish and must look toward the light. Even one such act a year will leaven life and lift it from the material slouch by just so much. When each day holds such a deed, no matter how small, it is impossible to estimate the uplift that ensues, not only to the individual, but to the household, the neighborhood, the community in an ever-widening circle. Nor can any woman, whether with leisure or without, in gay health or a shut-in invalid, in a city palace or a country farm, be shut out from this sunshiny path, this "one joy of doing kindnesses."

Organized philanthropy sometimes leaves us cold, because this joy is left out of it in places and efficiency and accuracy are supposed to make up for it. But this mistake is more and more being rectified, and charity resuming more and more its rightful name of love. Meanwhile, individually, outside of all possible organization, the daily personal practical act of sympathy and cheer lies open to each woman somewhere between morning and night. She who misses it misses one of the fundamental values of life—and misses it by her own choice, not by any chance or fate. The gate of the sun is for all feet except those that pass it by.

Much in Vogue.

"Earrings certainly are in vogue in Europe," said a returned traveler. "It seemed to me that well nigh every woman I saw, whether young or old, had her ears adorned—or disfigured, according to the viewpoint—with some kind of earring. There were rings of all sizes, whether of plain gold or set with stones. Tortoiseshell pendants were a favorite, too, as were the single large pearls. It all seemed to me rather barbaric at first, but within a few days I became quite accustomed to them, and now, on returning home, I find I really miss seeing these curious articles of jewelry."

the EVENING STORY

THE HEIRESS OF THE SALT MARSHES

By Ashby Deering.

(Copyrighted. All rights reserved.)

Only after he had spilled a handful of good wheat over the bare plank floor did I understand what the old man had in mind when he would run the grains through his fists, like sand through an hour glass, and talk in a slow apologetic monotone about the wealth of the marshes.

I hope no one will think me a sordid person; I speak of his whim because it explains his last wish and his last act. He did not own a foot of the landscape and the shanty was no more than a squatter's claim. But somehow his vague intentions had instilled in my heart a longing, without hope or reason, to inherit the dreary acres of reeds, pools of salt water and piles of sweepings emptied from grain cars on the Y, and, God willing, I shall live on this forgotten estate as long as I may.

It is now perfectly clear that my gentle, sensitive benefactor had thought an heiress would be happier far from here with the love of a worthy bridegroom, who once belonged in a city. He showed this by mute signs when he himself went out from the rude habitation never to come back alive.

For how many years I cannot tell, I sifted the waste of the grain cars that came down from the mills and elevators. Tons and tons of sweepings are run out on this little branch of the railroad and are unloaded by the brakemen with huge shovels. The railroad people call it dump, but my guardian told me long ago the name of the station is Marsh Mine. He it was who discovered what those placer heaps contained. He invented a sifter and taught me how to separate the dust from the wheat.

At first it was wild play to see the chaff and fine dust flying like fine snow in the wind. I was a little girl then. After a while I came to know it was work, but did not complain. Other poor people found out the mine and worked for their family bread and something more besides. But the idea of vast wealth grew upon my aged foster father until he began to talk about turning the sacks of wheat into sacks of pure gold by some mysterious means. This he said he could do, his thin face—pallid as the flour dust—staring at the hour glass he made with his bony hands.

As we sat together by the peat fire in the shanty and waited the long winter evenings for word of a new siding of cars, I would ask the old man many silly questions, but always when he did not wish to speak his mind he was listening to the wind rushing in from the sea over the salt marshes. And his answer was ever the same: "Ah, my little girl, it will be fine tomorrow at the mine."

Afterward the track walker would knock to tell us the cars were due to come down by day break. He would seldom enter and seldom stay long, because I think he was afraid the railroad spies would hear he was giving information and have him discharged, though he never said so.

He was a fine fellow for taking the risk. But whoever heard of employers so selfish, so heartless?

My benefactor told me once the track walker had been an engineer of a survey that helped to build the railroad, but he was laid off and could find nothing better to do than pace over ten miles of the roadbed. From the track-walker I learned all the signals of the trainmen and I could answer them, when I saw him far off sounding the rails of the main line and stopping now and then to examine a loosened bolt. But he would not come near the diggings of Marsh Mine in the day. Hundreds of bags of half wheat have the old man and I taken out of the sweepings from the mills, which are many miles away. The work did not stop in any season, wet or dry, warm or drear, since the mills never quit grinding. At last the old man became too feeble to carry the sacks of wheat on his back to the shanty. All he could do was tie the full sacks with strips of cotton, darn holes and mend the sifters where the wire netting had broken.

Every week a wagon came and took away the golden harvest, which was sold to rich people on the highlands. They fed it to chickens and mixed it in bran for the cows. But I never suspected what price it brought, nor cared to ask. We made the balance into bread and had enough. The old man—no, I will not call him a miser—used to say that when the mine was cleared up a hundred times as many sacks as his age, then he would die and I should be heiress of the marshes. I set no store by his oft-repeated promise, forgetting how many thousand bushels of grain ore had gone to the make believe assayer. Still I humored his whim and even said I would marry the nomad of the main line who risked his job so many times to make us wealthy.

Yes, my love had made his plea—a plea without a plan. And that I know is for love's sake. But somehow I fancied he watched a little wistfully at times the faces that sped by at the windows of the through express. Like faces flying through a dream they are; people of dreams, for they are dreaming, too, upon this wayside picture. What matter if the sudden blast of the whistle is—bah! for all the joy and sadness of the marshes? The trailing waste of smoke mingles kindly with the clouds of flour dust and chaff, and the marshes are quiet again.

But at such times I was afraid lest my good friend feel discontent. And now I am afraid it was my anxious gaze down the track at sunset that helped the old man to think someday our track walker would turn his face the other way and we would not see him any again.

My benefactor became a watcher as well as I. Often after a day's work we have climbed up into the signal tower by the Y and loked for the solitary figure coming nearer and nearer on the double tracks. Then we would wave hands to him, shout goodnight when he approached and passed, and go home together—the old man and I—happy as the wild ducks that fly over the marsh.

"He's a good boy," the old man would say, simply.

My heart leaped to thank him, but somthing held my tongue. Perhaps it would only have made the old man brood more deeply over the purpose I was unconscious of.

One day as he limped over the half-frozen ground I remember that he said. "Ah, my child, it is a terrible thing to be old."

I shall never forget the sadness in that voice or the look in those deep-set eyes.

One other time I have seen him that way; his eyes wide open with a far away stare, as if trying to see where the snow flakes began their determinable journey.

I am sure it was a sudden great blow to my guardian when he heard the trackwalker was discharged. He came to tell us how it happened and to say good bye, stopping first at the grain cars on the Y, which he had never done before. My sweetheart is young and brave, so he only laughed. But I had no heart to go on with my sifting. I accompanied him across the marsh to talk it over with the old man.

For the first time in winter the door of the shanty stood wide open, creaking its hinges mournfully on the seaward side. The old man was not within. A half measure of grain was on the flour and beside it a measure half full of gold and silver coins poured out of a canvas sack; and scattered over the carpetless planks were a few grains of sound wheat.

His foot tracks led off from the lonely path into the lonlier thicket, and some of the reeds were broken down as if peering through the morbid, whistling growth, while on one of the tallest cattails was caught a strip of cotton—such a strip as he used to tie the sifted sacks of wheat—and it was beckoning furiously in the winter blast.

LUCANIA BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

Cunard Liner Is Sunk in Order to Put Out the Flames.

Liverpool, Aug. 16.—The Cunard line steamer Lucania lies submerged at the Huskisson dock, seriously damaged, having been almost gutted from her funnels forward by fire which broke out on board the liner at 7 o'clock Saturday evening. She was refloated this morning with the aid of salvage tugs and powerful pumps. She will be drydocked and towed to Glasgow for repairs.

The flames are supposed to have originated in the saloon kitchen. The fire brigade of the vessel with two motor engines turned out immediately at the first alarm and found the first saloon burning fiercely from end to end. Despite all their efforts, the flames worked forward until they reached the steerage, consuming every particle of the woodwork there, and then played havoc with the forehold.

At this time the heat was tremendous and the flames, shooting high from the vessel, attracted thousands to the side of the river.

Flooded and Sunk.

At 3 o'clock this morning it was decided to flood the vessel by admitting water into her from the dock. Soon she keeled over and her funnels came in contact with the cranes on the dock and were badly damaged. A half dozen firemen who were on the gangway at the time were thrown into the water, but all were rescued. A fleet of tugs then was brought into requisition and pulled the liner upright and held her until she settled firmly on the mud bottom.

It was 10 o'clock in the morning before the fire was under control, and noon before the fire brigade were able to relinquish their task. The second class quarters and the whole after part of the boat, including the engine room, escaped injury.

SHOOTS MAN WHO GAVE BONDS FOR LIQUOR MEN.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 16.—A probably fatal shooting occurred late last night at Canonsburg, Pa., the result, it is said, of the widespread crusade being waged against illegal liquor sellers and "speak-easies." After arrest-stable Ritson shot and mortally woun ing twenty alleged offenders, Constable Ritson shot and mortally wounded John Vasitis, a wealthy man, who had given bond for the prisoners.

A GREAT POKER GAME.

It Lasted a Week and Sleepy Man Won Thirty Cents.

New York Sun: "Say, Jim," said the hot sport of Long Acre square, as he stepped wearily toward the gorgeous slab of onyx on which Jim serves liquid refreshment to any and all who are able and willing to pay for onyx on the side. "Say, Jim, did you hear anything about an election the other day?" And he bowed his head toward the slab as one suffering from sudden access of reverence or strong yearning for slumber.

"Naw," said Jim, ever alert for kidding. "Wot election?"

"Dunno," said the hot sport vaguely. "Seems like the last I heard was 't somebody named Taft was runnin' against Bryan. But I been busy. Did anything drop?"

"He didn't run against him. He run over him," observed Jim, thoughtfully. "But how is it you sobered up so sudden? You look almost rational!"

"That reminds me," was the dreamy response. "I came in for a drink. Haven't had one f'r a week, so you better make it a bath."

"What is it," demanded Jim with some show of interest, "just a dream or are you on the way to the funny house?"

"No dream. Fact," replied the hot sport. "Tell you I been busy."

"Went 'round to Billy Hovey's place one night. Nothing doing. Bill and me started a freezeout f'r a hundred just to pass time till the gang come.

"Say, d'you ever watch one o' them moving pictures so steady you c'd see it goin' after they put out the lights? Well, that's me. Say, Jim, what day is this?"

"Thursday."

"Well, it was Thursday we begin the game. Must 'a' been a week ago. Mebbe two or three weeks, I dunno." And his voice trailed off to a murmur.

"Who win the freezeout?" asked Jim.

"Nobody. We played along f'r an hour," said the hot sport, rousing himself, "an' Dick an' George Beebe came in, so we let 'em in f'r stakes. That's what started it.

"I bought once, an' George bought twice, but nobody was accumulatin' till Harry Bang set in. 'Peared like he must 'a' been usin' four-leaf clover f'r breakfast food. Every second deal somebody'd go to the boneyard, an' Harry must 'a' had near three thousand in front o' him, when Joe Irish took a hand.

"He must 'a' busted Harry's luck, f'r everybody except him begin to win, sudden, an' that t'ree thousand went in t'ree rounds. 'N' when Nick Wheeler an' Dave Murphy set in the game begin to get some swift. They was buyin' 500 at a crack, an' the ante was ten call twenty.

"That was when I first thought o' quitting. My roll begin to look like a cigarette paper, an' nothin' come my way f'r more'n seven hands, but just then everybody come in on a jackpot, me havin' the last say, so I took a long shot with nothin but a red queen to pull to, an' I shoved up all I had left.

"There was some good hands out that time. George had opened on a straight, an' he throwed in a white chip, entirely reg-lar. Then Joe, sittin' next, he boosted it a hundred just f'r a starter, he said, an' Harry seen him an' raised it two.

"Bill said he wouldn't insult his cards with nothin' less 'n a thousand, an' I set like a stoughten bottle with nothin' more to put up, so I never looked at my four-card draw till the showdown. There must ha' been $1,000,000 in the pot by that time, 'n' Bill took nighly all of it with a ten full but when I turned my hand over I found a queen full an' raked down $1,500.

"That gave me a fresh start, even if it didn't quite put me even, an' when Dan White an' Pete Bascom an' Larry Wheeler an' Jack Hagen came in—"

"Say," interrupted Jim, "how many o' you was playin' in that game?"

"Oh, there was some of 'em dropped out Saturday night," said the Hot Sport. "Harry Bang was the first. He rolled under the table an' we give his chips to the nigger to keep for him. Then Joe Irish was too sick an' we give his wad to the ambulance surgeon.

"But they kept comin' in as fast as they dropped out, an' 'long about Monday morning I got that movin' picture effect. Say, what's good to drink when you feel that way? Gimme some of it.

"Well, I couldn't begin to tell who didn't set in 'fore we quit. There was one chap they said was a district leader uptown came along with a wad he had f'm headquarters, an' we took that away from him in about six deals. Last I seen o' him the nigger was feedin' him out of a bottle.

"Then, just as I was thinkin' o' quittin' again, bein' somethin' like $7,000 to the good, there was a wild-eyed Westerner showed up with a herd o' cattle 't he'd sold in Chicago, and he looked so easy, I says to myself, I'd better get a few horns and hoofs, so I played right along.

"Come to think, mebbe that was election night. Was there any noise on the street that night?"

"Didn't hear any," said Jim.

"Well, mebbe, it was the church bells Sunday. Anyway, you couldn't hear the cards fall when they was dealt, but I laid that to the way the Western man chewed tobacco.

"He played for a day or two. One time I remember I boosted him some, bein' in love with three jacks 't was scattered among my hand, an' he came back at me.

"He'd been bluffin' 'fore that, an' I built high on them jacks, 'specially when he took one card, but he filled his flush an' I didn't better, so I stayed along to get even again."

"Did you get even?" asked Jim.

"Yep. I win 30 cents net on the sittin'. Great game, draw poker. I'd 'a played longer, but there was only five of us left, an' the other four all went to sleep, so I cashed in.

"Gimme a little more o' that sleep juice, Jim. I'm goin' to take the next train to Philadelphia."

LET SLEEPING GERMS LIE.

Did you ever realize what a dangerous thing it is to clean house in the spring? According to Success Magazine, a writer in the London medical journal, The Lancet, insists that spring cleaning has many possibilities for evil if not properly conducted. Dirt and dust are full of disease breeding germs, but however dangerous these creatures may be when lodged in the woodwork or comfortably settled under the hall carpet, they are much more ferocolus, this writer insists, if stirred up, and irritated, and sent flying through the air. If we can't keep our houses clean as we go, we had better let them stay dirty. This writer's rule is to "let sleeping germs lie."

What a house would look like after forty years of total abstinence from spring cleaning, we leave to our women readers to judge. Yet we venture the assertion that there is one creature who would find the situation entirely satisfactory. It dislikes the annual cleaning ceremony, it hates to eat cold suppers off the kitchen table, and beating carpets is to it an abomination. It will doubtless make capital out of the Englishman's warning against the perils of housecleaning.

Lincoln Information That Went to Waste in Some Cases.

New York Sun: A librarian in one of the busiest branches of the New York public library asked every child who came into her library on Lincoln's birthday the question, "Who was Lincoln?"

The library had displayed varied and interesting picture bulletins about Lincoln's life, had assisted several hundred children in getting material to write compositions on Lincoln—had, indeed, occupied the greater part of its time for two weeks past with trying to help young America in its struggle to understand Lincoln—and the librarian was interested to know if there was any child over 10 years of age in New York who did not know the history of Abraham Lincoln.

The children came from public and parochial schools, and many—in fact, nearly all—gave quick, clever answers. On the other hand, a few seem worth recording, only to show that the teacher may work himself to death and not put "sense" into the head of an inattentive boy or girl.

The first startling answer to the question "Who was Lincoln?" was, "He freed the Indians." Another boy said, "He was the sleeping sentinel."

A little girl said she did not know who he was, but seemed to struggle with some vague memory—finally burst out gladly: "I do know; he was Washington!" Some other answers were: "He freed the niggers, and now they don't have to work." "He started the Civil war." "He fought the Indians." "He left go of the slaves," and "He was the man that pulled a pig out of the mud."

"One boy said, "He was president in 1841 or 1861," and when asked if he was something more than president, replied: "No, ma'am, you can't be more than that."

One boy, a stranger in the library, evidently thought the librarian a truant officer, for when asked "Who was Lincoln?" said, "I don't know ma'am," and when the librarian insisted, "Yes, you do," said:

"I ain't Lincoln, and it's a holiday."

A nice looking girl, when asked what she knew about Lincoln, answered contentedly: "He's dead." Another said, "He lived in a log cabin."

"But what else did he do?"

"He freed the Americans."

Another answer to that question was, "He freed the land."

Others thought that his title to distinction lay in his having "a grand temper," his having been "born in Kintucky," or his having been "very poor."

One prim little maid, when asked what he did when he was president, said: "They say he freed the slaves, but there were so many of them I don't see how he did it."

"WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH DULUTH?"

The Herald trusts that every one read the remarks in Saturday's edition by W. B. Patton, chairman of the municipal affairs committee of the Commercial club, on the reasons why, in his opinion, Duluth does not grow faster. His views are the result of a trip to the leading cities of the rapidly growing Far West and a careful study of the conditions there and the methods employed to aid in the upbuilding of those cities. While Duluth is doing little or nothing to take advantage of the splendid opportunities with which it has been favored by nature, the other cities are making the most of less favorable conditions and the result is that they are gaining rapidly in population, in trade and commerce and in industrial growth. They have a systematized method of advertising their resources and advantages and the opportunities which are presented for new commercial and industrial enterprises. In brief, they are hustling all the time to boom their towns, and the results are seen in their steady progress in every way.

As Mr. Patton says, it is time that the people of Duluth awoke to the necessity of doing something to further the city's growth. It is true that we made progress and that we are progressing now, but the rate of growth is not fast enough and is not what it could be made by proper and concerted effort. There is no finer climate on earth than Duluth's. It is so far superior to that of the cities referred to that no comparison can be made. Yet what are we doing to let the people of other sections know about it? We have advantages which other cities do not possess as a site for more wholesale houses and manufactories, yet what are we doing to induce capital to take hold of these advantages? The cost of living is no higher here than elsewhere in the West. It is not more difficult to secure labor here than in other cities. We suffer from railroad discrimination, but what have we done and what are we doing to secure the removal of this discrimination and have the city accorded the freight rates to which its location entitles it?

Mr. Patton would have the city hire some able man, with practical experience in building cities, to come here and boom Duluth as has been done by Portland, Seattle, Spokane, Denver and other cities that are forging ahead at a lively rate. It is a good idea, and the Commercial club should take it under consideration without delay. But such a man cannot accomplish everything or anything unless he receives the united, enthusiastic support and aid of all the citizens. A spirit of civic pride and enterprise must be behind him, to back up his efforts and show the whole country that the people of Duluth have faith in their city and its opportunities. There was a time when Duluth was the best advertised city in the Union. A few loyal, enthusiastic men started the ball rolling and created an amount of enthusiasm at home and abroad that had telling results. Such a campaign should be started now and kept up so persistently and enthusiastically that the question of "what's the matter with Duluth?" would no longer be asked.

UNTRUTHFUL MOVING PICTURE FILMS.

Jack Binns has brought suit against a firm of moving picture film makers to recover damages for fraudulently picturing him in his act of flashing the "C. Q. D." signal to the four winds.

You haven't forgotten Jack Binns already, have you? Jack was at the wireless key upon the steamer Republic, and his presence of mind and courage and devotion to duty had much to do with saving the several hundred people aboard when the steamer collided with the Florida.

It was all in the day's work, and if he had failed to do what he did he would have been and should have been execrated. Probably nine out of ten other wireless operators would do the same thing or better if the need arose. But he did it, and he was made a hero for the time being.

Of course the vaudeville people tried to get him to exhibit himself at a handsome salary on the vaudeville stage, but Binns had too much good sense to do that. His refusal was as fine a thing as his courageous flashing of the distress signal from the wrecked Republic. It showed him to be properly modest, and most real heroes are modest. He decided to stick to his key, where he belonged.

First thing Binns knew, however, moving picture shows all over the country were exhibiting what purported to be films showing him in the act of sending the call for help over the Republic's wireless apparatus. He was smoking a cigarette with exaggerated calm, and acting quite like the melodramatic hero and very little like the real hero. Thousands of people all over the country saw those pictures, and believed them to be true. They didn't know that somebody in the employ of the film makers, possibly the janitor, had sat for the pictures, and if they had admired Jack Binns for refusing to exhibit himself, they promptly swallowed their admiration.

It was pure and unadulterated "fake," however; easy to do and easy to fool the people with. But Binns didn't like it. He didn't wish to exhibit himself, and he didn't like to have a lot of people all over the country thinking him a bigger ass than he would have been if he had smirked at them from a vaudeville stage. So he is suing for damages. His spirit is very proper, and here's hoping he gets the damages.

All of which brings to mind the fact that while the moving picture show can be and is to some extent made educational, the prevalence of such "fakes" as this robs it of much of its educational value. People will hardly consent to be educated by a liar, and in a case like this the film is a liar. "Fakes" that are so transparent that they are obviously manufactured are not so bad; for instance, probably nobody believes in the films now on show giving pictures of Theodore Roosevelt battling with lions in Africa; but many fakes are not so patent, and are clearly intended to deceive the patrons of the moving picture show. They will do the business no good in the long run.

DEEP BREATHING AS A CURE.

A writer in Harper's Bazar tells of being unable to sleep because of pains from rheumatism and neuralgia. It hurt him terribly to rise or even to turn over. As a forlorn hope he tried slow and deep breathing, after which, to his astonishment, he enjoyed sound, comfortable and refreshing sleep.

Also, there is recorded the case of a man who applied for life insurance and was rejected by the medical examiner on account of small chest expansion. Scared, he started on a course of deep breathing. Getting out in the open air at every opportunity, he made it a practice to occupy five or ten minutes daily in inflating and deflating his lungs. In six months he had cultivated a real chest expansion, and he made the application for life insurance over again, this time with success. Also, he had rid himself of much ill health, possibly warded off incipient lung trouble, and he felt much better all around.

A neglected organ is likely to become a weak and inefficient organ, inviting the inroads of disease. Thousands of people don't breathe enough. The indoor worker who takes little or no physical exercise, and who has a maximum chest expansion of only an inch or two, and that perhaps in only one way instead of all around the chest, can't be physically well. Certainly he is not physically equipped to throw off the disease germs with which he may come in contact constantly.

Circulation has an intimate connection with lung efficiency, too; so that the person who does not use his lungs as he should is not giving his heart the exercise it needs to prepare it to withstand sudden strain; also, enfeebled circulation is likely to make for enfeebled organs: a sluggish liver, a lazy stomach, with consequences likely to be ultimately serious.

In physical exercise the lungs are brought into full play, and proper breathing comes naturally. The heart is thus given wholesome exercise—provided, always, that the physical bodily exercise is not more strenuous than the condition of the system will warrant—so that the circulation is brisk enough to carry off impurities and revivify the body.

Deep breathing is good, but the best way to get it is naturally, by the way of wholesome physical exercise. You can't do better than to start in with walking, which is the best and cheapest and most satisfying all-'round exercise yet invented. As you walk, fill your lungs with the splendid outdoor air, the best medicine on earth. Don't overdo this deep breathing business, however. Go easy on it at the start if you haven't been used to it. If you hold your breath too long you will find yourself getting dizzy; which shows that your lungs need exercise and that you don't want to start in too strenuously. Take long, slow, comfortable drafts of fresh air, and let it out slowly. Do it while you walk; and walk every day. You can increase your lung expansion, add tone to your system, and feel better and be better therefor.

AN UNNECESSARY ACTION.

A prominent citizen of Duluth was unnecessarily humiliated by the police Saturday evening while entertaining guests from another city at the Spalding cafe, because he had left his automobile standing in the street in front of the hotel. Summoned from the table by a policeman, he was compelled to make a trip to the police station to straighten matters out, with resulting embarrasment to both himself and his guests. The same patrolman, later in the evening, saw another car in a similar position, but he merely took the number of the car and reported it to headquarters, which was the proper procedure to have been taken in the first case.

There is no question that automobiles ought not to be left where they obstruct the streets or the entrances to public buildings. The rules of the police department that forbid such carelessness on the part of owners of cars are only just. On the other hand, it is quite as much to the interests of the hotel management that access to the hotel should not be hindered. In other cities, some of them much smaller than Duluth, hotels have men, part of whose duty is to instruct chauffeurs of motor cars where to place their machines while the occupants leave them to spend some time in the hotel, and in some instances even furnish garages in which cars can be stored temporarily. It would seem that the management of the Spalding, as well as of other Duluth hotels, would be acting not only in their own interests, but those of their parons, if they were to adopt similar policies, particularly if their patrons are to be made the objects of unnecessarily embarrassing and humiliating action on the part of the Duluth police department.

The discharge by Secretary Nagel of employes of the interior department merely because they are inefficient is regarded in civil circles as an outrage.

It is noticeable that many congressmen left for Europe immediately after the adjournment of congress. Were they afraid to go home and meet their constituents?

It was really unkind on the part of the Duluth ball team to keep the Superior people on the anxious seat for so many innings. Some of the visitors really believed they would win the game.

THE MINNESOTA INSURGENTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The papers of late have been somewhat overloaded with matter laudatory of Senators Nelson and Clapp for their recent insurgent feat, but that feat seems to me to be rather on the hippodrome order. The trust agents in the senate and the house counted noses and found they had votes to spare in the matter of the tariff swindle, and then looked over the field to see which of their number was most threatened by their people at home.

Minnesota seemed the most rebellious of all the states represented by the trusts' private agents, and Nelson and Clapp were given parole to go out and insurge themselves out of danger; the house ditto.

It seems strange that anyone can be received by such a thin gauze of deception; but perhaps the next primary will show that the voters are not so badly deceived after all. Next, likely, there will be an Indian reservation in Northern Minnesota to be stripped of pine, and said pine carried to market at public expense and the proceeds dropped into the trusts' pockets. Again trust noses will be counted, and perchance Senator Aldrich will be found afrighted of his constituency and will be given parole to go out and insurge some, and will mount the "untamed broncho" and prance three times round the arena, doing various stunts as a forest conservor or the like. Of course this act will have something of the clown effect, but will likely hold the people in line till something else can be turned out.

It is the old story of Commodus, with club and shield, against the gladiator armed with a sponge. In those days the public were disgusted with the spectacle, and avenged the unarmed gladiator with the assassin's knife. When will the public avenge the victim of Aldrichism with the right kind of a ballot? The right kind of public sentiment could wither such villainy quicker than paris green will wither a potato bug. Are we on a lower plane than the public of 2,000 years ago?

I regard Senators Nelson and Clapp as being on the same level as the Hon. C. R. Miller of the Eighth Minnesota, and he sought and obtained election as an insurgent against Cannonism and then shouted allegiance to Cannon as soon as he got in sight of Washington, and wired his reasons back home at the first telegraph office. Indeed, it is surmised that he had the telegrams all written before he left home.

Talk about the trust leading Minnesota out of the Republican party, indeed! The trust never gives up anything, not even half a dozen representatives when they have three-fourth majority.

E. P. JAQUES.

P. S.—It seems, on closer inspection, that the comparison of Commodus is slightly "out of true." A little investigation shows that Commodus did not do a thing to the gladiator, but that the gladiator did take away the club and shield of Commodus and send them rattling across the floor of the arena; floored that gentleman with a short-arm jab to the jaw; stuffed the sponge into his mouth and had him well nigh strangled when the supreme court pulled the gladiator off.

DAYTON'S LOSS, DULUTH'S GAIN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I want to tell the people of Duluth that in George Buck, who will become principal of their high school next year, they are securing an excellent educator, a fine gentleman and a devoted public servant.

Through many years of service in the Dayton schools Mr. Buck has proved his value as a teacher. He has shown a steady devotion to his work, which refused to be diverted. He has given the people of Dayton his best efforts, and his loss is sincerely regretted by those interested in educational work here.

Dayton's loss is Duluth's gain. I look to see Mr. Buck take hold with your people and prove his worth as he has proved it here. I am sure he will meet with success, and I congratulate Duluth on the wisdom of its board of education in securing him.

To show what Dayton people think of him, I will quote from an editorial in the Dayton Journal:

"One of the best of Dayton's teachers has been lost to the local schools; the cause of education has suffered a distinct detriment; we have permitted a most excellent public servant to leave employment for no defensible reason whatever.

"Through many years George Buck has proved his value as a teacher. His sole fault has been a steady devotion to his work, which refused to be diverted or seduced. His qualities as a man are no less eminent than his qualifications in his profession.

"Why should Dayton, then, have let George Buck go to Duluth? He has never failed to give loyal, intelligent and adequate service to our schools in every capacity and in every position. If this were the first instance where a highly competent and valuable factor in our school life had been sacrificed to official indifference or to personal jealousies, we should not make this especial lesson of it.

"But this is not the first time that Dayton has wantonly injured her educational system by just such a short-sighted and inexcusable policy."

AN ADMIRER OF MR. BUCK.

THAT DOWNTOWN PARK.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some time ago, The Herald agitated the conversion of the county property at the northwest corner of First street and Fourth avenue west into a public park. The suggestion was unheeded. The county is still holding title to a property for which it has no use, the fenced in sand-heap is an eyesore to the citizens, and apparently the summer will go by without anything being done.

If the county wants to hold the property it should level it off, sod it, and so beautify it that a man will not have to gasp at its ugliness every time he passes. If the county doesn't want the property it should dispose of it, either to the city for a city hall site, or to private parties.

I think the city should purchase the property as a site for a new city hall and pending the erection of the city hall, it should be made a beauty spot. Duluth needs a new city hall now, one will certainly have to be erected within the next few years, and the site held by the county is centrally located and will enable the city to join with the county in the grouping plan for public buildings.

With very small expenditure, the park board would transfer the sandy waste into a pretty breathing spot and no time should be lost.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: A girl is so clever at making love that it seems even to her the man is doing it.

The part of a man's life that is not spent in doing foolish things is spent in recovering from them.

The difference between a woman's temper and a man's is merely that she can turn hers loose without swearing.

THE WEATHER.

Following a week of fog and rain, yesterday's beautiful weather was very welcome to Duluthians, and they enjoyed it to the limit.

This morning broke clear and fine, although the weather man looks for unsettled or cloudy weather tonight and Tuesday.

A year ako today it was hot and humid, with frequent thunder storms.

The sun rose this morning at 5:06 and will set this evening at 7:18, making fourteen hours and twelve minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Barometric depressions central over the Western Dakotas and Lake Erie caused light to heavy showers or thunderstorms over the southern lake region, the Ohio valley, Atlantic states, Iowa, Missouri, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Southern Saskatchewan during Sunday or last night. Very warm weather prevails in the Central valley states and the Dakotas, especially in Western South Dakota, Rapid City, reporting a 7 a. m. temperature of 86 degs. Much cooler weather attends a decided increase in pressure north of Montana, Edmonton reporting a 7 a. m. temperature of 36 degs. The barometer is highest off the Oregon coast. Indications favor scattered showers over St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

MRS. BESANT.

Buffalo News: If hearers of Mrs. Besant and readers of what she says will avoid being prejudiced against her by her over-dogmatic assertions about what goes on in the other world they may get some useful suggestions about what might be done to better conditions in this side of the dividing line. For example, what she says about murderers. Mrs. Besant doesn't believe in beheading or otherwise killing murderers—and for a novel reason. She says they are more harmful after being "cut off" than before. She was illustrating what an easy thing dying really is, as she secs it, and went on to tell what a dreadful time drink-lovers have in the other world where there is no drink, so she understands. Then she said:

"The murderer isn't killed when you strike off his head or hang or electrocute him. You only kill his physical body and you thereby set him free to spread his evil broadcast over the community. Have you ever noticed how crimes repeat themselves? This is encouraged somewhat by the printing in newspapers of the details of such crimes, but the present method of dealing with the murderer also has its effects. He goes forth into the next world a veritable devil who incites to temptation." She advocates locking the murderer up where he could do no harm and then working on him to improve his nature, so that when death comes he will take better ideas into the next world with him.

There is a suggestion of country experience in this. Mrs. Besant probably knows, as most farmers do, of certain kinds of weeds that are thankful for being plowed up and taken by cultivator, to see the world. They just root afresh when they are broken and separated and turned under in new places. The notion that a murderer relieved of his body is a transplant of virulent influence thereafter is worth considering. It has been said many times that the poorest use of a man is to kill him and this may be the reason. A less profound reason has been widely believed—that death penalties breed morbid ideas leading to crime in others and do not really prevent crime because of the universal gamble on the enforcement of the law. Mrs. Besant, aware of what is doing in the other world, if she knows herself, adds to this a suggestion worth considering. She has certainly strengthened the argument in favor of making something better than a quicklime-eaten corpse of a breaker of the Sixth Commandment.

Packed for Ship Subsidy.

Nebraska State Journal: A complete list of Speaker Cannon's committee appointments reveals Richmond P. Hobson as the newest Democratic members of the committee on merchant marine. This leaves no reasonable doubt of the speaker's intention to pack this committee in favor of the ship subsidy, an intention already indicated by his removal of Congressman Hinshaw from the committee. Mr. Hobson was one of the Democrats who voted for the ship subsidy the last time the question came up in the house.

MINNESOTA'S GOVERNOR.

Hutchinson Leader: Governor Johnson's speech at the Seattle exposition has made him the most talked-of man in America. When he voiced "the call of the West" he sounded the keynote which shall give to three-fourths of the country freedom from the domination of Eastern trusts and political wire-pullers.

Winona Independent: Col. William J. Wylie of Governor Johnson's staff was in Winona a day or so ago, after just having returned from Seattle with the governor. Mr. Wylie is enthusiastic over the trip, and says that the governor was everywhere received with genuine pleasure, and that his speeches were gems.

Eveleth News: Governor Johnson is a big man in his own state, and when he goes outside he doesn't shrink any. Out West the people are learning to like him. Both East and West they believe he is the coming man. It will be rank ingratitude if Minnesota does not give him full-hearted support.

Anoka Free Press: President Chilberg of the A. Y. P. was afraid to let the public know that Governor John A. Johnson would not be present on Sweden's day for fear of ruining the attendance. Just another proof of the popularity of Minnesota's governor—a popularity based not on press report but on a national appreciation of the man's true worth! It is no wonder that the people of the country are watching Johnson with interest as the logical, natural and most acceptable man for 1912.

Aitkin Republican: Governors Johnson of Minnesota and Hughes of New York were big attractions last week at the Seattle exposition. Both are big men and are looked upon as being fit to lead the two great parties in the next presidential campaign.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: Governor Johnson's address at Seattle last Tuesday is commented upon by practically all of the leading newspapers of the country. In the Central and Western divisions there is the highest praise for the governor's suggestion that these portions of the country should no longer submit to the political domination of New England. Naturally the Massachusetts and Rhode Island journals strongly object to the West assuming its rightful place in the councils of the nation. The self-satisfied Bostonians object to the breaking of the Aldrich leading thongs. The governor's speech was a masterful resume of the growth and development of the Northwest, and his plea for justice will be applauded by every person who understands the present political and commercial barriers that must be browen down.

The New Progressive Party.

San Francisco Bulletin: If the next president of the United States is not Theodore Roosevelt it will be, in all probability, one of the seven Republican senators who voted against the tariff bill. Those seven—Beveridge, Bristow, Clapp, Cummins, Dolliver, La Follette, Nelson—could form, in alliance with Gore and other Western Democrats, a new party which would sweep the country three years hence. Aldrich had the effrontery to read them out of the Republican party because they would not swallow his program. If they should take Aldrich at his word, secede from the party and organize a new Progressive party they would take the majority of the Republicans and Democrats with them and leave the Aldrich machine with a scant constituency. The "organization," representing the special interests, was never weaker than in this hour of triumph over the ultimate consumer.

It is a hopeful sign when seven Republican senators, representing populous and wealthy states in the Middle West, break away from the "organization" on an affair so important as the tariff bill. Matters have improved since the time, not so long ago, when La Follette was the solitary figure standing out against the machine phalanx. Just by dint of being right the senator from Wisconsin has brought powerful allies to his banner. One man, speaking for the public, has been sufficient to force a great moral and political issue to an acute crisis. Decisively the majority overrode his protests and voted him down, but after each defeat in the senate he came up stronger before the people. His one vote, and his clear voice, made him a power which could not be ignored. La Follette's career is a lesson to every ambitious man in politics. It teaches that the way to real leadership and the sort of success that is worth while is not the way of the programmer and the pork barrel.

alue of a Split Log.

Bo Transcript: If government statistics are dependable there are in the United States about 2,000,000 miles of earth road, or enough to encompass the earth eighty times. The problem of keeping them in repair is an ever-recurring one and not in many places has it been satisfactorily solved. In searching for a remedy for trouble we sometimes follow the trail of empiricism, so eagerly as to overlook the simple relief that all the while confronts us. It may be so in this case, and if one of misplaced confidence the government must bear a large share of the responsibility, because it has issued a bulletin commending what is called the "split log drag" and describing its proper construction. Any individual or community desiring a copy can get one free by applying to the local congressman.

This simple device is not new. Its virtue has been proclaimed before, but it is comparatively unknown in this part of the country. Some years ago a Missouri farmer, named Batterton, with an enthusiasm for good roads, was accustomed to hitch a drag of this construction to his wagon when he drove to town. It took him but a little more time to make the trip with this handicap, and in a few months he had a road that was better than most of the rock-bedded kind. It naturally attracted attention, resulting in a "brotherhood of good road draggers," which recently held a celebration, with a parade half a mile long to give emphasis to its achievements.

Up To The Farmers.

Kansas City Star: It is for the farmers of the Great West to say whether they will tolerate, on the part of their chosen representatives in congress, the submission to Cannon and Aldrich that has been witnessed in the recent congress, a submission that has been so general as to defeat the declared purposes and the express promises of the Republican party in its last platform. It is time for the West to demand of its men in congress that they speak the Western language, or, at least, the national language, and that they speak it without the least New England accent. That section cannot continue to make the laws and determine the cost of living for the whole country, when the farmers furnish the food to keep the nation alive.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Princeton Union: Is there no good material out of which to make a United States senator outside the city limits of St. Paul? There may be a section in the state Constitution which requires that the capital city shall always have a representative in the American house of lords, but we have not discovered it.

Lake Crystal Union: Col. Bryan has never been governor. How does he know what he would have done if he had been in Governor Johnson's place in the tonnage tax veto? Mr. Bryan, you are punk.

New Ulm Review: Here lately, the man who says, "I am a graduate of Harvard," does not attract as the man who says, "I own a $6,000 seven-passenger touring car."

Redwood Reveille: There is little difference in political parties in integrity. Subjected to the same conditions they are mightily alike. A party long continued in absolute power becomes corrupt and unresponsive to the public will. That is what ails the Republican party, nationally speaking, and a decisive defeat may be necessary in order to bring it to its senses. A man who votes against his party to correct it, is no more of a traitor than a man who disciplines his child for the same purpose.

Hendrum Review: Attorney General Simpson has handed out an opinion on the appropriations made by the last legislature something like this: The appropriations of money to be spent in the cities are constitutional. Those to be spent in the country districts are unconstitutional.

St. Cloud Times: The Minnesota congressman who wanted to save his political hide voted against the Payne tariff bill. The press of the state is loud in their praise but woe to Tawney. His future political usefulness in Minnesota is gone.

Long Prairie Leader: The opinion of Senators Nelson and Clapp, together with the same opinion from practically the entire Minnesota delegation in the house to the effect that the bill does not make good the Republican pledges in the last campaign is of course shared by their constituents, the people of Minnesota. This fact is what will make the attitude of the president toward the bill the more interesting.

Aitkin Age: The dean of the Chicago divinity school says in a lecture at Chautauqua, that the rank and file of newspaper editors and publishers print what the people want to see in print and the standard of newspapers is regulated by the people themselves. And he speaks the truth.

Litchfield Independent: There is a concerted move in progress toward a consummation of the ship subsidy steal. All of Minnesota's Republican congressmen voted for a subsidy bill at the recent regular session of congress, if we are correctly informed, and as this measure finds no favor in the interior, we should think a good opportunity presents itself to replace some of these chaps with Democrats or with Republicans who have an ear to the wishes of these constituents.

MEANT TO BE FUNNY.

Judge: He (declaiming)—"Roll on, you dark, blue ocean, roll!"

Week-Old Bride—Oh! Edward, it's doing it.

Washington Herald: "Do you think that Canada will ever become Americanized."

"Well, she plays baseball."

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: Father (shouting downstairs at 11:50 p. m.)—Mary, aren't all of my cigars gone yet?

Silence downstairs.

Father (chuckling as he crawled back into bed)—I guess that won't hold him much longer.

Cleveland Leader: The Doctor—Nonsense! You haven't got a cancer. Booze is what ails you. You must stop drinking at once.

The Souse—Gee! Is it that serious? Why, doctor, I thought it was some simple thing that could be helped by an operation!

Baltimore American: "How is that girl of Dick's coming along who married the actor fellow?"

"First rate, I believe. Dick said the other day that her husband is now a star and she is supporting him."

"Supporting him! Humph! That's what comes of marrying these stage folks."

Puck: "So you didn't take any part in the campaign, Uncle Silas?"

"Naw. Jim Higgins, the school teacher, and Eb Miller, the lawyer, gobbled up 'Vox Populi' and 'Unum ex Pluribus' right at the start, and with them two nondescripts gone and nobody in town knowin' any more Latin, the rest of us fellows couldn't do any writin' for the public press at all, by gum!"

Illustrated Bits: Maud—Would you marry a widower?

Dolly—No. I wouldn't. The man I marry I am going to tame myself.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Magistrate—Can't you live with your husband without fighting?

Elderly Lady—Not happily, yer honor.

Texas "Tightwads."

Olney, Tex. Oracle: It is said that three of the stingiest men in the state were in town yesterday. One of them will not drink as much water as he wants unless it is from another man's well. The second forbids any of his family from writing anything but a "small hand," as it is a waste of ink to make large letters. The third stops his clock at night in order to save wear and tear on the machinery. All of them decline to take their country paper on the ground that it is a terrible strain on their spectacles to read newspapers even in the day time.

Eveleth, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The work at the local mines is going on day and night and the shipping record will be broken this season.

All the stock piles at the Adams shafts have been cleaned up and those at the Spruce are now being worked upon steadily. Shipping is now going on from the new Adams stripping by steam shovel where in former years the orewas taken out by the shaft and milling system. The No. 4 shaft house in that vicinity was also taken out to make way for the steam shovels. The new stripping has occupied the attention of many men during the past year and the beginning of ore shipping from the stripping is looked upon favorably.

CROSBY MINE REGULAR LAKE

Fifty Feet of Water Reported in Nashwauk Mine After Flood.

Nashwauk, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The floods in this locality caused considerable damage to mining property in particular. The Crosby mine was flooded to a depth of fifty feet including the drifts and shafts. Three pumps are at work below the surface under twenty feet of water now and it is expected that the mine will not be in working condition for at least two weeks.

The Hewkins mine was also flooded but not greatly. The tracks were buried under the mud and a string of loaded ore cars were covered over with ten feet of water. The Larus and Pearson mines also suffered much damage by the heavy rains.

GRAND RAPIDS JUNIORS BEAT FLOODWOOD SECONDS

Grand Rapids, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—A ball game at the local ball park Sunday between the Grand Rapids Juniors and the Floodwood second team resulted in a victory for the locals, 5 to 2, and twas the best game played here this season.

The Juniors are boys averaging 16 years of age, and their opponents yesterday were all grown men, except two, the catcher and pitcher being 18-year-old boys. A misunderstanding as to which team the Floodwood boys were to play up here led to the second men's team coming, and when the Juniors saw what they were up against they decided to play any way. The game was well played on both sides.

Batteries—Grand Rapids, Whaling and Lee; Floodwood, Paul and Auger.

The Juniors have not yet been beaten, and they are open for games with any team their age.

Next Sunday they play with a similar team from Taconito.

The mail service at the present time is considerably better than it has been for some time past as there are three outgoing mails and four incoming, with the star route from Buhl.

EVELETH CONGREGATION TO RETAIN MR. WARGELIN.

Eveleth, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the local Finnish Lutheran congregation yesterday it was decided to communicate with the congregation at Republic, Mich., where Rev. Mr. Wargelin has accepted the call, and try to get them to allow Mr. Wargelin to remain here, as the congregation decided that it was able to support a minister of their own, instead of having him in charge of five other congregations besides the local one.

The decision to retain Mr. Wargelin leaves Virginia, Iron Junction, Sparta and Embarrass without a pastor. They will hold a meeting next Sunday to plan for a minister.

WOUNDS HIS WIFE THEN KILLS SELF

Tragic End to Joseph Josephson of Hibbing's Spree.

Hibbing, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Joseph Josephson, a bride of a month, is in a hospital with a bullet hole in her face and a broken jaw, while the body of her husband, who killed himself after twice wounding his wife, lies at the morgue.

The attempted murder and suicide came as a climax Saturday to a drunk, on which Josephson had been for several days.

He was brought home by an officer and soon after a disturbance was heard in the house and the shooting followed, Josephson winding up his murderous act by firing a bullet through his head, dying instantly.

An inquest will be held this afternoon or tomorrow if Mrs. Josephson's condition will permit her testifying.

Mrs. Josephson was a widow with five children, ranging in ages from 3 to 12 years, when a month ago she was wedded to Joseph Josephson. She had worked hard as a washer woman to support her family and had succeeded in sending her children to school most of the time. Little is known of Josephson here, he being a recent resident of the city. The neighbors state that he spent most of his time in drinking and this is partly borne out by his condition during the past five days. The neighbors say that Josephson and his wife quarreled over the children. They assert that he wanted to have the four children sent to some public institution, such as a children's home, and insisted that the 12-year-old boy be sent out to work that he might earn money for the family. Mrs. Josephson strongly objected to this plan and trouble began very shortly after the marriage.

PLANS ACCEPTED FOR NEW CHURCH

Christian Scientists to Have a Handsome $100,000 Edifice.

The acceptance of plans for the new church building to be used by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, at Ninth avenue east and First street, assures to Duluth another handsome religious edifice, and a noteworthy addition to the list of public buildings in the city. The plans accepted and approved last week provide for a $100,000 structure, which promises to be one of the finest in Duluth.

The building will be erected upon the property now owned by the church at Ninth avenue east, the rear half of which is now occupied by the present church. The architecture of the building will be Italian Renaissance, in conformity with the general style for Christian Science churches. Pressed brick and terra cotta will be used in the construction. The big auditorium will seat 1,200 persons, and there will be commodious Sunday school rooms, with janitor's headquarters in the basement.

A handsome foyer will be a feature, and the church will be replete with the latest features, such as concealed radiators, effective lighting effects, etc.

It is not just certain when the construction work will be begun, but it was stated yesterday that probably half the cost of the new building will have to be subscribed before ground is broken. The entire cost of the structure will be defrayed before it is dedicated, as no Christian Science church can be dedicated until it is completely free from all indebtedness. The raising of funds for a Christian Science church is somewhat hampered by the scruples of the sect against bazaars, fairs, etc., as a means of securing money. The big sum necessary for the completion of the church must come as plain donations.

LOTS OF WATER DAILY HOISTED

Ten Tons of Water to One Ton of Ore Is Removed.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—To bring to the surface ten tons of water for every ton of ore is the daily routine at the United States Steel corporation's big Chapin mine here. The mine is a valuable property, with very large reserves of high-grade ore, but it is one of the very wettest in the entire Lake Superior iron region. This is due to the limestone formation.

Limestone districts are always noted for caverns, underground streams and generally aqueous conditions. The water finds its way for wonderfully long distances through limestone, and the deeper the shafts the greater the area drained and the more water it is necessary to handle.

At the Chapin the aqueous conditions are such that to permit of mining operations it is necessary to take out ten times as much water as ore, and this work goes on ceaselessly. The pumps and hailers bring to the surface every minute 2,700 gallons of water, each hour 162,000, each day 3,888,000 gallons, and each month 116,640,000 gallons.

In comparison with the 3,888,000 gallons of water which come from the mine each day, it is interesting to note that the Iron Mountain water works pumps only 700,000 gallons daily to supply the needs of the entire city of 10,000 people.

As an offset to the extra expense of pumping, the Chapin enjoys probably the cheapest power of any iron mine in the Lake Superior country. A fine hydraulic plant is located at the falls of the Menominee river, three and one-half miles distant, and leading to the mine is a three-foot steel main through which compressed air is forced at a pressure of seventy pounds. Steam is employed at the Chapin to a certain extent, but the greater part of the power comes from the falls.

department of the interior, to the disadvantage of the people at large. The speech of Mr. Pinchot stirred up considerable feeling, and this was intensified when Secretary Ballinger, failing to see the note printed on the programs of the meeting that speakers would answer any questions asked from the body of the house as to points in their addresses, declined to remain for any such quiz after his formal address.

Some defenses of the course taken by the secretary and his department regarding public lands and water powers brought on another series of attacks from prominent men, including Former Governor Pardee of California, which proved far more direct and bitter than the suggestions of Forester Pinchot, and the controversy became intensely bitter before the close of the Spokane irrigation meeting.

Extensive alterations will be made this fall in the Silberstein & Bondy company's store, plans having been completed for changes which will give the company 2,500 additional feet of floor space and will make it one of the finest establishments of its kind in the Northwest. The alterations are intended to have beauty as well as utility for their effect, and the entire appearance of the store will be changed.

CHANGES NAME OF LINE.

Big Falls & International Falls Name of Thirty-Five Miles.

International Falls, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota & International is now hauling a baggage car and a coach which bear the inscription "Big Falls & International Falls." The thirty-five miles of road between Big Falls and the county seat are operated as a separate corporation known as the Big Falls & International railway, and it is supposed that the new car arrangement is to make it possible to keep free from entanglements with the railroad commission on account of the short haul rate they collect on this end of their line.

NORTH DAKOTA'S NEW GAME LAW SATISFACTORY.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new Hale game law is meeting with great favor in this state. Last spring a lot of people objected to its provisions which eliminated spring shooting but there have been so many more feathered fowl using the state as a breeding ground that the kickers are all satisfied. The outlook for fall shooting is excellent. Under the new law the season doesn't open till Sept. 7, a week later than formerly. The lakes are filled with ducks and the prairie chicken crop is both numerous and well developed.

GOOD SAMARITAN GETS TOUGH DEAL.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—His life may pay the forfeit for the heroic action of James McGuire, a stranger, who prevented a trio of toughs from holding up an aged man. They threw him over the bridge railing onto the flats by the Red river and his spine was so seriously injured death may ensue. One of the men was captured and is held.

MAY TIE UP FREIGHT IN TWIN CITIES

Strike of Nearly 4,000 Men Is Threatened at Midway.

Union Officials Declare Temporary Truce After Some Quit Work.

St. Paul Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—A strike of freight handlers is pending in St. Paul Minneapolis and Midway, which, until an agreement is reached between employes and employers, will tie up the freight business of the two cities and their connecting territory.

Nearly 4,000 were expected to walk out this afternoon, refusing to continue work without an increase of 10 per cent and a guarantee of one and one-half time for overtime, but a truce was agreed on. Truckers now are paid 18½c and hour and callers 20c an hour, with some slight difference in favor of skilled individuals.

There are 150 freight handlers employed by the Minnesota Transfer Railway company at Midway; each of the nine railway companies in St. Paul has from thirty-five to forty freight handlers and the force at Minneapolis runs from forty to fifty for each road. A general strike would affect not only all the actual freight department employes, but drivers and helpers as well.

Hold Many Meetings.

At 1 o'clock the men did not go out, as planned, but meetings were being held. Business Agent James Kelly of the Freight Handlers' union was hurried from St. Paul to Minneapolis for conferences; commercial agents and freight managers of railroads were meeting behind closed doors, and everyone was in general "up in the air."

At 1:30 it was announced that the Chicago Great Western force had decided not to go out for the present, but to wait until after the sale of the road on Aug. 21 and put their claims up to the new ownership.

The only positive move in the strike today was when all the men at the Soo, Burlington, Great Northern and Minneapolis & St. Louis depots at Minneapolis walked out at 1 o'clock and were followed at 1:35 by the freight handlers and clerks of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

Northern Pacific Gives In.

The Northern Pacific employes remained in on a promise of a 5 per cent increase and this may have had its effect on the strike as far as Minneapolis is concerned.

The men on the other roads were hardly out when they were ordered back to work by the union officials, a truce having been declared.

WATER RIGHTS IN SPOKANE RESERVE

Shortest of Government Land Drawings Is Held at Coeur d'Alene.

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Aug. 16.—The shortest of the three great Indian land drawings took place here today. The Spokane reserve, the hilly timbered strip of land lying just north and east of the junction of the Spokane and Columbia rivers, furnished the prizes, and dainty Harriet Post, the 12-year-old daughter of Attorney Frank T. Post of Spokane, selected the blue envelope holding the first winner's name.

There were, in all, 99,807 applications. It is believed on some of the land lots disposed of today valuable water rights and choice fruit tracts may be found. It is possible, also, that good mineral deposits may be discovered.

The winners of the highest numbers in today's drawing for the Spokane reservation include the following:

1—Allen Newton, Helena, Mont.
2—Mabel D. McMickle, Chicago.
3.—F. J. Snoddy, Miller, S. D.
7—Charles N. McGiarl, Greensburg, Ind.
11—Lewis Lueke, St. Louis, Mo.
16—David Mentzer, Springville, Ia.
31—J. N. Scherrer, Lacomb, Alberta, Can.
32—Mary C. Hanning, Chicago.

40—George H. Tusk, Liberty, Ill.
41—David C. Ruhl, Ord, Neb.

TALKS ABOUT COUNTY JAIL

Californian Tells How Such Places Could Be Made Better.

Declares Improvements Cannot Come Until Social Order Is Better.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—"The county jail has been charged, indicted, tried and convicted time and time again for ruining the bodies and souls of its victims, but each time the execution has been stayed and it is still unwhipped of justice," said W. A. Gates, secretary of the California board of charities, in an address at the convention of the American Prison association today.

"To reform the county jail and make it an instrument of good instead of evil the following steps are necessary:

"District workhouses for all prisoners sentenced to terms in jail, and a proper labor system installed therein.

"A separate cell for each prisoner, well lighted and ventilated, and supplied with sanitary plumbing.

"Sufficient rooms or departments, so that prisoners may be classified according to sex, age and apparent criminality, and each class be completely separated from the other.

Have Humane Jailers.

"Trained jailers with humane instincts and high character, who appreciate the opportunity of making better the persons placed in their charge.

"The improvement of our county jail system, however, depends upon a general improvement of social order. No material advance will be made until man puts a higher value upon his fellow-man. Society must feel that men are worth saving before it will throw out the life-line. This will not come until we forsake the worship of the 'golden calf' and give obedience to the golden rule."

Mr. Gates criticised the handling and treatment of female prisoners in several counties of California, and recommended the enactment of a law compelling the appointment of a matron in every county jail.

The hearing will not be completed until late this afternoon.

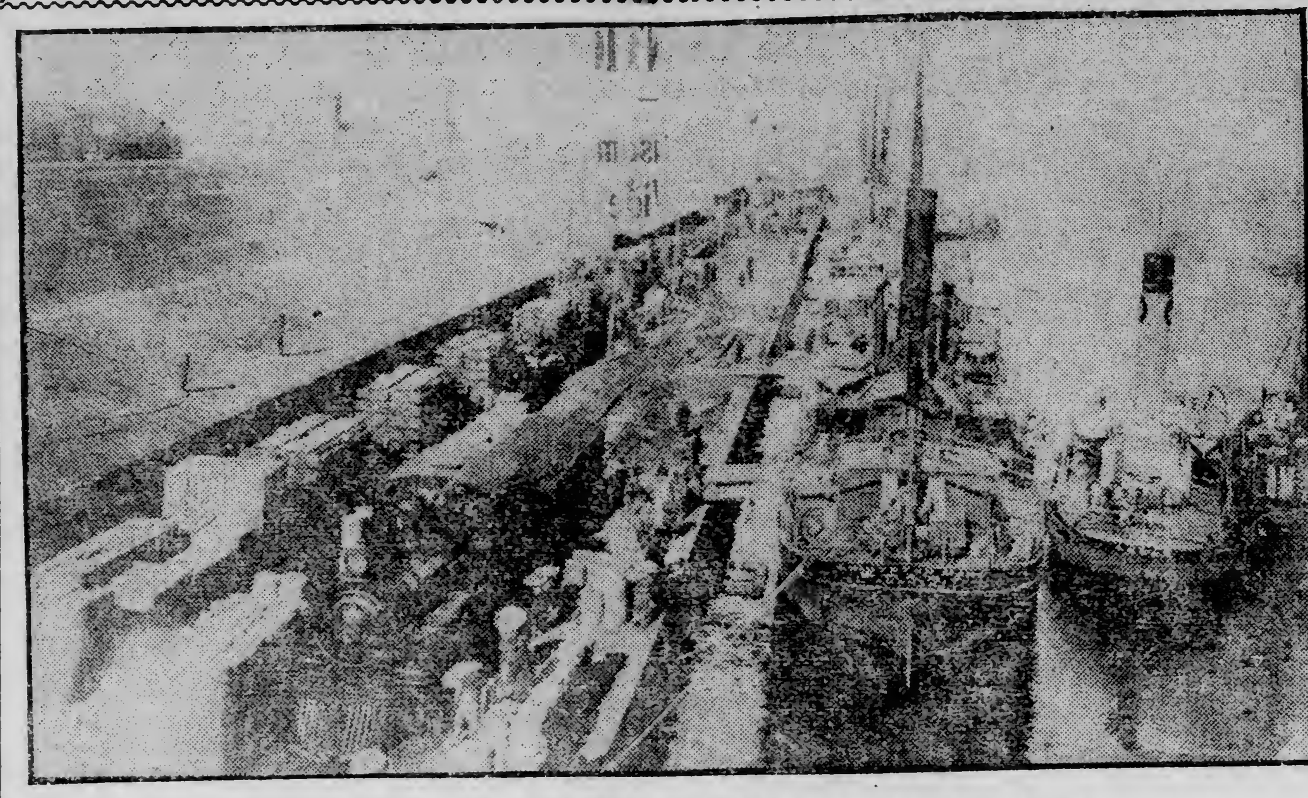
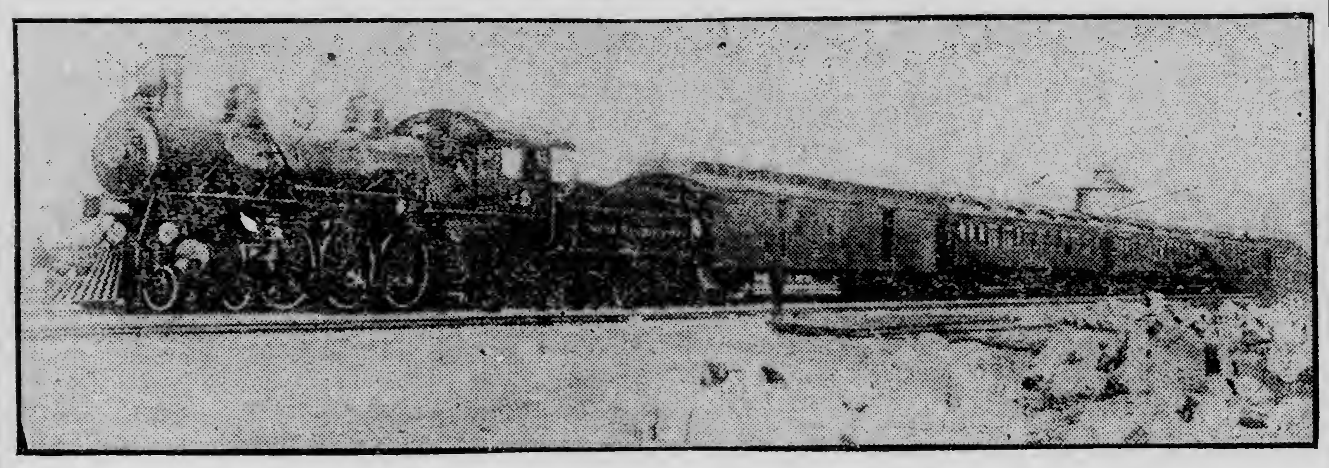
WHERE ORIENTAL INTERESTS ARE CLASHING



DOCKS OF THE SOUTH MANCHURIAN RAILWAY, AT DALNY.



EXPRESS TRAIN ON THE SOUTH MANCHURIAN RAILWAY.

It is only of late years that the Far Eastern nations have been associated in the Western mind with the idea of commerce and commercial controversies. It seems, however, as if the Orientals have been doing their best to make up for lost time in the way of competition, for China and Japan are reported to have been at the point of flying at one another's throats several times within the last few months over the building and control of the transportation facilities in Manchuria. One of the principal bones of contention has been the South Manchuria railway. It is a valuable property from a commercial point of view, but beyond this it is regarded as having a strategic value for military purposes. Representatives of the two nations are at present negotiating regarding the control of this road. Japan insists that she has rights prior to those of China; China asserts that Japan has no more rights than herself, but that the facts of her alliance with Great Britain and the latter's sanction of the plans of Japan for the seizure of all possible advantages in Manchuria, have emboldened the mikado's government to take unfair means to "do" the Pekin government out of its just share of Manchurian control.

CHINESE BEAUTY FOUND MURDERED

New York Chinatown Is the Scene of Mysterious Stabbing Affair.

New York, Aug. 16.—Bow Kim, the most beautiful of the few Chinese women in New York, was found murdered yesterday morning. She was 21 years of age, and came here from San Francisco about a year ago with an Americanized Chinaman, Chin Len, 31 years of age.

The crime was discovered by Chin Len, who dashed out of a tenement house at 17 Mott street, crying: "My woman been murdered." The street was filled with loitering Chinamen and parties of American "sightseers."

A policeman and a detective hurried into the house under Len's direction, through dark hallways to a rear room on the second floor. The door was locked and the officers were about to break it in when Len pushed them aside and unlocked it himself.

In a bedroom the murdered woman lay on the floor, stabbed in half a dozen places. Her slender neck was ringed with bloody finger prints, indicating a struggle with her assailant, and beside her lay a rusted hunting knife. It was evident that the woman had been dead for two or three hours. On the stairs were found traces of blood and also on a door leading to the store of Yu En Chin & Co., on the ground floor.

Three Chinamen there were arrested, although they denied any knowledge of the murder. Six American women, who declared themselves to be the wives of Chinamen, were found in the house and arrested, but none would admit any knowledge of Bow Kim's death.

In the room of the murdered woman were found letters in Chinese, but none gave a clue. Len declared that he had no idea who killed his wife, unless "See Sing kill her; See Sing say she owe him money and he try to get it."

See Sing once had been in love with Bow Kim, he said. As to Sing's whereabouts, he knew nothing.

Len's account of himself was that he had spent the early evening until 7 o'clock with his wife, and then had gone to No. 22 Mott street. Returning at 2 o'clock in the morning he found the body on the floor. In touching it he had soiled his hands with blood, which in turn had smeared the door and stairway as he hurried to the street. No formal charge has been preferred against Len, but he is held in $5,000 bail as a "material witness."

The sultan requested the embassy to assure the Spanish government that sufficient native troops would be sent to pacify the Riff region without the aid of Spanish troops.

SAY STATE WAS UNFAIR

Haskell and Others File Motion for Quashing of Indictments.

Claim Grand Jurors Were Forced Into Finding True Bills.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 16.—Attorneys for Governor Charles N. Haskell and the five other defendants indicted in connection with the alleged Muskogee town lot frauds, today filed motions in the federal court here to quash the indictments setting forth a number of sensational allegations.

Aside from charges against five grand jurors and the allegation of improper conduct on the part of United States Marshal Grant Victor, the allegations dealt largely with the grand jury's selection and with especial objection to the exclusion of Muskogee county, the home of the defendants, from the territory from which the jury was composed.

It is alleged that George W. Strawn, J. H. Dixon, R. C. Burgess, A. G. Dumas and W. T. Bailey, members of the grand jury, which indicted the defendants, deliberately sought to go on that jury with a view to returning indictments; that Strawn, as foreman, conspired to intimidate the other jurors into voting indictments after they had refused to do so.

Foreman Is Accused.

The motion insists that Foreman Strawn repeatedly told the jurors that they probably would be charged with perjury if they failed to indict and at one time, when the ballot stood 8 to 8, he called for an open vote so he would know who should be prosecuted.

It is alleged that out of eight talesmen selected, seven were partisan Republicans and the eighth a bitter personal enemy of Governor Haskell. Governor Haskell is a Democrat.

After pointing out numerous technicalities in the manner and time of the jury's selection, the motion declares there was no evidence presented to show a conspiracy to defraud, and that the secretary of the interior and all of its departments in the Indian Territory were fully aware of how the lots were scheduled and that no objection was raised.

The six defendants were indicted by the federal grand jury at Tulsa, Okla., on May 27, charged with obtaining titles for the government to town lots in Muskogee by illegal methods.

Defendants Are Wealthy.

The five co-defendants of Governor Haskell, all wealthy and prominent citizens of Oklahoma are: C. W. Turner, A. S. English, W. R. Eaton, W. T. Hutchins and E. R. S. Evers.

Governor Haskell and six other defendants had previously been indicted on the same charge, but on April 10 last Federal Judge John A. Marshall of Utah upheld a motion for the defendants to quash the indictments. The indictments were quashed on technical grounds.

Walker's copper letter in Saturday's Boston Commercial says:

"Copper is stronger. Lake is 13½ to 13¾ cents and electrolytic is 13¼ to 13½ cents per pound. The statement of the Copper Producers' association, issued this week, showing a decrease of 32,261,454 pounds in the accumulated supplies of copper in this country during July, has done much to restore confidence and stimulate new buying. Consumers are satisfied now that the price of the metal will gradually work higher, that the continuing improvement in general business conditions will lead to a steadily increasing consumption of copper in all lines, and that the surplus will soon be absorbed. Unquestionably we are coming back into an era of extensive electrical development and great prosperity in the copper trade.

"The fact that 100,000,000 pounds of copper, more or less, is held abroad by speculative interests has been considered a bear argument but consumers are now beginning to see this situation in a different light. These speculators are connected with the copper trade, and have made a study of the metal market for years. The fact that they are willing to buy copper at prevailing prices and carry it proves that they have the courage to back with their money their conviction that it will sell much higher a few months or a year hence. Viewed from this standpoint, the speculative purchases are now encouraging rather than discouraging buying by consumers."

PERU MAY BE ARMING FOR WAR AGAINST CHILE.

Valparaiso, Aug. 16.—It is reported here that the steamer Alexandria, which sailed from Hamburg for South American ports and San Francisco, and which sailed from Valparaiso Aug. 8 for Mollendo, Peru, has on board a cargo of arms and ammunition for Peru. This has led to the belief here that Peru is secretly arming against Chile.

CONUNDRUM MAN AGAIN.

Chicago Evening Post: The man with the commodorevanderbilt whiskers and the encored chin came into the office of the man with the discouraged hair and the recalcitrant fountain pen and asked:

"What is the difference between a man who is punctuating a story written by a friend who has sent it to him for revision, and who is not only careless but unversed in the uses of commas, periods and the like, but who thinks if he can get the manuscript fixed up it will stand a chance with a magazine, because he has a friend who knows a magazine editor—what is the difference between him and a man who whiles away idle moments writing little 'i's' on large sheets of manila paper?"

The man with the discouraged hair shakes his head sadly and continues his work, but the man with the commodorevanderbilt whiskers informs him:

"One eyes his dots and the other dots his i's. You can use that one if you want to."

In spite of the fervent hope of the man with the recalcitrant fountain pen, his caller does not slip and fall down the stairs as he goes out.

WOMAN'S PROBLEM SOLVED.

Democratic Telegram: There was something about the face of the stranger who sat opposite her in the tram car that was familiar to the stern lady.

"Pardon me," she said, "if I'm not mistaken you are one of the poor underpaid girls whom our Emancipation society tried to benefit, or at least you were a year ago."

"That is so," said the stranger.

"Then our society has evidently not been without influence, for you look prosperous now."

"I have everything I want, and never was so happy in my life."

"That's splendid. You must have solved the woman's problem."

"I have."

"Glorious! Do tell me all about it."

"I've married."

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW

New York, Aug. 16.—Iron and steel products were quite active last week, although the volume of business was moderate in comparison with the great sales of the last few months. Supplementary orders for railroad equipment and for finished material for manufacturing plants are sufficient to maintain a strong and confident tone in the trade and it is evident that further advances in prices are only a question of time.

In the territory east of the Allegheny mountains, sales of pig iron have been mainly confined to small lots but the aggregate has been surprisingly heavy. Total transactions have aggregated close to 40,000 tons including steel-making iron, malleable Bessemer, forge and foundry grades, basic sales have been partly of Virginia, East Pennsylvania and New Jersey production. There have also been several sales of low phosphate iron aggregating 3,000 or 4,000 tons. Several additional contracts of basic iron are on the point of being closed.

Early in the week interest was mainly in the sales of steel-making irons in the Central West, especially in the Pittsburg district and in Ohio. Although there were some delay in consummating these contracts it is understood that heavy sales have been made of basic and Bessemer.

There has been some irregularity in prices of Southern iron due to the release of a somewhat speculative holding and a few forced sales. Prices of No 2, Alabama foundry have ranged from $12.50 to $13.50 Birmingham.

Virginia iron is now $14.50 minimum Eastern Pennsylvania, $16.50 minimum at the furnace, with some sales 50 cents a ton higher. No. 2 foundry at Buffalo is held at $15.50 for prompt shipment and $15.75 for the fourth quarter, while malleable has sold at $16 Buffalo.

Railroads have placed supplementary orders for rails aggregating about 45,000 tons and contracts for about 75,000 tons are still under negotiation. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has finally placed orders for 3,700 cars and is about to place 2,000 additional. Other roads have inquiries out for 5,000 cars.

Fabricated structural steel contracts have aggregated 20,000 tons.

There have been no further important changes in prices of finished steel products but advances are being asked and obtained for deferred shipments.

STATE'S SILVER LIES NEGLECTED

South Dakota's Gift to the Cruiser Evidently Forgotten By Navy.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Whenever Capt. J. T. Smith, commanding the armored cruiser South Dakota, wishes to decorate his table with a magnificent silver service, he can do so by merely making a request of the navy department for the transfer to his custody of the gift made to his vessel by the people of South Dakota five years ago.

When in 1901 it was decided by the department to name a battleship for South Dakota, the pride of the people of that new and thriving state was so aroused that they at once decided to follow the example of other states and present a silver service to ornament the mess room of the new war engine.

In 1904, long before the craft was ready to be put afloat, the gift was made by the governor of the state with a request that as soon as the vessel was placed in commission, the silver be sent aboard.

In January, 1908, the South Dakota was commissioned. The gift of the people of the state for which she was named appears to have been forgotten. The silver service had been boxed and stored in the New York navy yard. There it is supposed to be today. No one seems to be especially charged with the duty of delivering it to the vessel.

The people of South Dakota have become restive under what they regard as the indifference shown toward their generosity.

SLASHES AT THROAT WHILE ON FAST TRAIN.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 16.—L. Ginsburg, a clothing merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a pen knife on the Pennsylvania Flyer, near St. Paris, Ohio, last night. Upon the arrival of the train here, Ginsburg was removed to the Protestant hospital. Ginsburg, with his wife, was on his way to Atlantic City.

Orange, Tex., Aug. 16.—E. H. Rice and his sister-in-law, Mrs. A. Smith, engaged in a street duel with revolvers here yesterday as the result of domestic troubles. The former is at his home with three bullets in his body and the latter is in jail. Mrs. Rice and her sister, Mrs. Smith, were at the Rice home when Mrs. Rice announced her intention of leaving her husband. He followed the two women to the street, armed with a pistol, and the duel followed.

CONTINUE CONCERTS

Public Spirited Citizens Will Support Sunday Musical Treats.

Herald's Project Supported By Park Board and Commercial Club.

The Sunday band concert has come to stay in Duluth. The great success attendant upon the series of concerts given by The Herald during the past two months has demonstrated to Duluth's public-spirited citizens, and to the park board, that the people want the concerts. The large and enthusiastic crowds which have attended them, and their approving comments, have proved an overwhelming testimony in favor of the affairs, and they are to be continued under other auspices.

Byron G. Segog, the park board, the Commercial club, and other private interests are financing and backing the concerts which are to be given in the various parks during the rest of the summer. The park board has been brought to approve the plan because of the increased patronage of the parks, and the concerts take in educating the people to the beauties of the recreation places which the city has furnished them. The other interests have decided to back the concerts as a substantial aid in the progress of the city, inasmuch as they are an undoubted aid in making the city a more pleasant place to dwell in.

One more Herald concert will be given at Lester Park, probably some time this week. It has been twice postponed on account of bad weather. The Herald will continue to give its support to the concerts, advertising them liberally, and giving notices of the places where they will be held.

The first of the concerts given under the new auspices was held at Lincoln park yesterday and as a result the beautiful West end park drew an unusually large share of the Sunday pleasure seekers. Fully 10,000 found shelter from the scorching heat of the afternoon and listened to the music in the cool shade of the birches at Lincoln park.

After a week of rain and depressing weather, Duluth took up its summer amusements generally with a vim and energy that went far to make up for lost time, and the parks and amusement places of the city were crowded to the limit yesterday.

At Lester Park, St. Paul's Lutheran church had its annual picnic and helped to swell the crowd. Services were conducted at the park by Rev. E. Wulfsberg at 10:30 in the morning. The Finnish Socialists of the city held a picnic at Thirty-first avenue east near the lake shore during the day.

The gasoline car and its trailer were packed to the limit on every trip yesterday, and Pond du Lac got its full share of the holiday crowds. The Easton on her Two Harbors excursion carried the biggest crowd of the season, and the boat club and the Northland Country club were thronged from early in the morning until late at night.

SHOOTS WIFE WHEN HE FINDS SHE IS NEGRESS.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 16.—Ascertaining after eight years of married life that his wife was a colored woman, Alfred Haberman, a white man, returned Saturday to their home on Summit street, after a visit to Washington, D. C., and shot her twice. He then turned the weapon on himself, inflicting a wound that will prove fatal. Mrs. Haberman cannot recover. She was a beautiful woman and looked like a white woman. The couple have a son 7 years old.

DEFY THE LID AT ATLANTIC CITY

Saloon and Amusement Men Run Place Wide Open on Sunday.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 16.—Saloon keepers and proprietors of amusement places here Sunday bade defiance to the reformers and members of the Lord's Day alliance, who are trying to enforce the Sunday closing laws in this city. Although a half hundred liquor dealers are under bonds, following their arrest last week, practically every bar and cafe in the resort was open yesterday.

Extra forces of bartenders were employed to serve what is claimed to be the greatest crowd of visitors ever gathered here.

The baseball game at Inlet park was played despite the objections of the reformers. City police in uniform were present to prevent any attempt at a raid or breaking up of the game.

POLISH TROOP IN FIGHT IN CHICAGO

Mob Bests Twenty Men Armed With Bayonets---Score are Hurt.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Twenty persons were injured here last night when a company of the Polish sharpshooters charged a crowd of men, women and children with their bayonets.

The trouble started when the captain of the company hit a boy with his sword because the youngster did not get out of the way quick enough to suit the officer. This enraged the crowd who had gathered to see the soldiers and an explanation was demanded by the angry people. Finally the mother of the boy attacked the captain with a stick. The captain then ordered his company, which consisted of about twenty men, to charge the crowd with their bayonets.

The crowd fought back and outnumbered the soldiers. The riot became general and the captain of the company was one of the first to retreat.

A riot call was sent in for the police and they arrived in time to arrest five of the soldiers—all of whom were more or less bruised.

ELEVEN DEAD AS RESULT OF WRECK

Engineer Who Disappeared Is Found But Refuses to Answer Questions.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 16.—With the death of C. M. McCreary of Dallas, Tex., yesterday, the number of fatalities resulting from the Husted wreck on the Denver & Rio Grande Saturday was increased to eleven. None of the injured, numbering close to two score, in the local hospital, is believed to be in a critical condition.

The bodies of John Boshporkek and J. J. Parker, Chicago, and A. A. Davidson, Parsons, Kan., were sent home last night. Engineer Lessig, driver of the lead engine hauling the northbound train who disappeared immediately after the wreck, was found at his home in Denver Sunday. He appeared greatly worried and offered no reply to questions regarding the cause of the accident.

J. J. Parker, a Chicago traveling salesman, was conscious when removed from the wreckage, but died later. Two others died while being brought to this city.

Electrical Storm in Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 16.—As a result of a severe electrical storm which raged in Ohio last night and today, telephone and telegraph wires are down and many washouts have occurred on the railroads. Crops suffered heavily. A 35,000 gallon oil tank of the Ohio Oil company caught fire from lightning.

Three Killed in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 16.—In a storm which broke over this city last night, one man was struck by lightning and killed, another shocked and a young man and woman who were canoeing drowned.

N. T. Gristow of Cleveland was in Belle Island park and was struck by lightning and killed. Charles Arnold of this city, who was with Gristow was badly shocked. A man and woman in a canoe were caught in mid-river by the storm. Two men with a rowboat tried to tow the canoe to shore, but the line snapped and the canoe was blown out into the stream and after the storm, could not be located.

MURDERS YOUNG WIFE AND THEN DRINKS ACID.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 16.—William Graulich of this city shot and killed his wife, Clara A., Saturday night and then took carbolic acid, which caused his death. Both were 19 years of age. The wife would have become a mother in a few months. The murder and suicide was committed just before midnight.

Mrs. Graulich was at the home of her sister when Graulich called. She went to the door. They had conversed a few minutes when she was heard to cry out, "Oh, let me go, let me go!" A moment later she lay dead on the floor with a bullet hole in the temple. Graulich at once drank the acid from a bottle, then ran down stairs and staggered to a street corner where he fell into the arms of a policeman.

The couple were married last October after a courtship that was started, it is said, while Graulich was an inmate of the state industrial school for boys here. After his release, he induced the girl to go with him to Detroit, where they remained for a while. The marriage followed and finally the woman returned to her home here, the husband going West. When he returned a few days ago he was arrested for non-support, on the complaint of his wife, who also started suit for divorce.

GREAT NORTHERN BEHIND.

Not Keeping Up With Other North Western Roads Making Money.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 16.—The Great Northern railroad is the only Northwestern line that shows a falling off in earnings for the last fiscal year, ending June 30, 1909. The decrease in gross earnings from freight and passenger traffic amounts to more than $1,000,000. There was a decrease in operating expenses of over $3,000,000.

The hard times of last year caused the falling off in business during the fore part of the fiscal year, and while the last six months were among the best the road ever experienced, they were not enough to bring the earnings up to the standard of 1908. The total operating revenue for 1909 amounted to $53,658,463, a decrease of $735,009 from 1908. The revenue is divided as follows: Freight, $39,473,667; passengers, $10,979,957; other transportation revenue, $2,979,158, and non-transportation revenue, $225,679.

The operating expenses were: Maintenance of way and structures, $9,786,664; maintenance of equipment, $6,169,278; traffic expenses, $746,139; transportation expenses, $14,808,002, and general expenses, $1,014,462, making a total of $32,524,547, a decrease of $3,619,449 from 1908.

PREACHES SERMON IN ST. LOUIS BEER GARDEN.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 16.—Because the board of trustees decided that burning lights for Sunday evening services was an unnecessary expense, Rev. Jacob E. Meeker of the Compton Heights Congregational church last night went to a summer garden and preached a fifteen-minute sermon to the pleasure-seekers. Patrons of the garden applauded and several members of his congregation congratulated him when he had finished.

The minister stood on an improvised platform, facing numerous beer tables, a theater and a dancing pavilion. He declared a week ago that if people would not come to hear him preach, he would go to where the people congregated and preach to them anyhow. About 1,000 persons heard last night's sermon.

LOST GIRL IS FOUND "WAITING FOR FATHER."

Lake Geneva, Wis., Aug. 16.—Margarette Haley, the 12-year-old pupil of Mrs. George Fellows' school here, who disappeared Friday, was found Monday in a house near the Northwestern depot at Williams Bay, where she said she had been awaiting the arrival of her father, H. A. Haley of Norfolk, Neb. The girl disappeared from the school Friday night, and a thorough search had been made for her. She was found at the home of Till Sheldon by detectives, and said she had been taken there by a member of the family who had found her at the depot. She was returned to Mrs. Fellows' school.

SUES TOBACCO TRUST FOR $1,000,000 DAMAGES.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 16.—Alleging illegal practices by the "Tobacco trust," designed, it is charged, to destroy the plaintiff's independent business, the Ware-Kramer Tobacco company has brought suit in the United States circuit court at Raleigh, N. C., against the American Tobacco company, claiming $1,000,000 damages.

Frank D. Ware of Norfolk, president of the plaintiff company, whose factory formerly was located at Wilson, N. C., is said to have the support of all other independent tobacco manufacturers in his action, which alleges the sufferance of illegal practices by the trust to a point past endurance, and asks protection against "unrelenting persecution."

It is charged that the trust has brought undue influence to bear in congress for the passage of laws hurtful to independent tobacco manufacturers, and that the new national tariff bill favors the trusts as against the independents.

TRACKLESS TROLLEY CARS PROVE SUCCESS.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Trackless trolley cars for suburban and interurban traffic are being operated successfully in Austria, Northern Italy and the valley of the Rhine, says Consul Hamms at Hull, Eng., in forwarding to the state department a report made by the city council of Leeds, Eng. The council, through two of its members, investigated three of the systems on the continent. The vehicles differ little from the single deck motor omnibus, except that they add a means of collecting current like that used for overhead cables on ordinary electric street cars.

King Kohl was a merry young soul!
The King did it in the eighteenth.
Long live the King.

For eighteen long innings the battle of yesterday between the Sox and the hated Drillers from across the bay, raged. The tide of battle ebbed and flowed. First one side held the fleeting advantage, then the fortunes of the contest seeked to favor the other side. It was in the eighteenth that the King ended the long game.

O'Brien was the first man up in the last half. He hit at the third strike—that's all. Breen drew a pass and McCrone hit, sending the youngster to third. With two on and one gone, the King strolled to the plate. He smashed the second ball pitched far into center field and the battle was ended. Long live the King.

The starboard twirlers, Schmirler and Baertschi, opposed each other on the hill. At the beginning of the contest it looked as if the Superior slab artist would have all of the best of the battle, for five innings he held the suffering Sox hitless. But he was going too fast for the distance. In the sixth Schmirler got to the visitor for a hit. In the seventh two more hits were gathered off the weakening Baertschi, and in the fifteenth inning the hurler was taken from the slab and Klingebiel was sent to the mound. The Drillers were the first to score. Their first and last score of the long drawn game came in the second inning. Geelan hit the ball against the fence in right field, getting two bases on the blow. Vogt sacrificed the runner to third. With Lew Drill at bat, the squeeze play was pulled off, Geelan coming over with the only run of the day for the suburbanites. Baneroft and Baertschi ended the inning by going out on infield hits.

In the proverbial lucky seventh the Sox tied up the score. McCrone opened with a hit. Kohl grounded out, third to first, Mac going to second on the play. Tom Taylor hit a screaming single to center, bringing McCrone across with the run that tied the score. Mueller and Schmirler retired the side.

The Sox came near breaking up the game in the thirteenth. Neelon got on through his hit, was advanced to second, but was left lifeless at the halfway station. In the fourteenth inning the Sox again came near putting an end to the long game. McCrone was walked and Zackert was hit by a pitched ball. Kohl got a hit, but sharp fielding kept the Sox from scoring.

In the eleventh and twelfth innings the Sox had runners on third.

In the fourteenth Kohl was left at third. Only the sharpest kind of fielding on the part of the Drillers prevented the Sox from coming over with the run that would have ended the game. Schmirler was pitching stronger as the game got older and finally the repeated rallies of the Sox broke down the great line of defense that the Drillers had maintained all through the game.

The largest crowd of the season witnessed the great game. The grandstand was filled to the point of sitting on your foot, if you wished to sit, and both the first base and third basebleachers were filled to capacity. The crowd surged out into the field and watched the extra inning contest from vantage points around the grounds.

This afternoon the Sox will journey over to the railroad yard and play the Drillegs on their own little lot. Probably Rube Manion, big and strong and willing worker, will be on the slab for the "Kids."

Superior will come over for the third game of the series tomorrow. That will be the last chance to watch the Sox work on the local diamond until they return from the four game series at Wausau. After the Sox return from the games with Wausau the big and all important series of the year will be pulled off. Winona comes here for four games, and they are due to be the most exciting games played in the league this year.

Saturday's Game.

J. Pluvius interfered with the final game of the Sox-La Crosse series, stopping the game of Saturday in the sixth inning with the score 3 to 2 in favor of the climbing Sox. Pitcher Schardt hit a home run in the La Crosse half of the seventh, tieing the score. But as the time for calling the game was reached before the Sox had time to take their turn at bat, Umpire Mack reverted the game to the sixth inning and called the score in favor of the locals.

Schmirler and Cummings pitched for the Sox and were opposed by Schardt, the big boy of the Outcasts. The Sox gathered eight blows off the delivery of the big fellow and seven hits were registered off the pitching of the two Duluth hill dwellers.

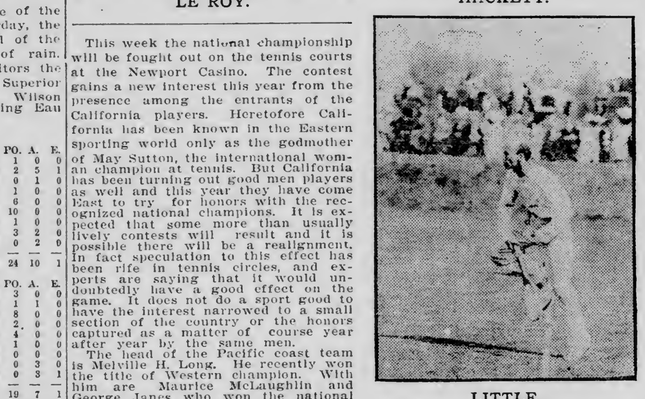
WESTERN MEN PROMISE TO BE ACTIVE CONTENDERS IN NATIONAL TENNIS MEET

LE ROY.

HACKETT.

ALEXANDER.



LITTLE.

KARL BEHR.

This week the national championship will be fought out on the tennis courts at the Newport Casino. The contest gains a new interest this year from the presence among the entrants of the California players. Heretofore California has been known in the Eastern sporting world only as the godmother of May Sutton, the international woman champion at tennis. But California has been turning out good men players as well and this year they have come East to try for honors with the recognized national champions. It is expected that some more than usually lively contests will result and it is possible there will be a realignment. In fact speculation to this effect has been rife in tennis circles, and experts are saying that it would undoubtedly have a good effect on the game. It does not do a sport good to have the interest narrowed to a small section of the country or the honors captured as a matter of course year after year by the same men.

The head of the Pacific coast team is Melville H. Long. He recently won the title of Western champion. With him are Maurice McLaughlin and George Janes who won the national doubles at Chicago recently and have challenged Alexander and Hackett for the national championship at Newport. Harvey M. Macquiston who holds the Mexican championship is another Western entry. Others are Simpson Sinsabaugh and Thomas C. Bundy.

Long and Macquiston defeated in doubles recently by Little and Leroy, while Hackett and Alexander beat Janes and McLaughlin in the tournament at White Plains this week. The tennis world was looking forward to the Southampton meet to show better the style and quality of the Western players, but because of the regulation forbidding the use of spikes, they declined to play. The Eastern players have been watching them closely at the Crescent club matches and at the Knollwood games at White Plains, and believe they have them beaten.

Among the Eastern entrants for the Newport matches are Larned, Little, Leroy, Niles, Clothier, Hackett, Alexander, Behr and other crack players. The contests will be interesting and whether the Western players win or lost, they will no doubt make a record which will make them distinct factors in future calculations.

GLEAMS IN THE SPORTING FOG

While there is life there is hope.

Several teams are waiting for the Sox to die.

They are waiting, hopefully, for the break. They are hoping, with a fervent hope, that we will blow up.

The Winona Independent voices the sentiment of the little down river town, by stating in the columns of that publication that the Sox are about to blow up; that we are playing ahead of our game; that the bunch of youngsters will never hold the pace that the team has been hitting for the past few games.

Here is what the Independent says: "Don't get excited you fans. Duluth will take a tumble soon. They haven't a pennant winning crowd in that bunch of colts."

We can't really blame the guy who writes that stuff in the down river publication. He has made the same mistake that those heavy money men (?), the magnates of the Winona team, made earlier in the season. The men who have the running of the Winona team may realize the mistake they made by this stage of the pennant race; the boy who grinds stuff for the Independent evidently does not.

There is not a chance for the colts to blow up, Chauncey, or whatever your name might be, as they say in your part of the state. The vets of the Winona team have already broken, badly, too, in the stretch, simply because they could not trail our sulky. We have been hitting a very fast pace, and the veterans, some of them a little wind broke, have lost their stride before rounding into the turn for the dash for home.

Don't worry, Chauncey, the colts are not going to blow up at this stage of the game. We have had our bad places at earlier stages of the derby route. In Detroit's marks, we got off for a bad start. Stop and recollect and you will find that your bunch of veterans, used to the ways of the barrier and the little tricks of the game, got off to a very nice lead. At the first quarter you were leading the field, with daylight between you and the rest of the bunch. There we were, plugging along in the rack, swallowing the dust from you and the others, but fighting for position all the time. We never used the whip until the three-quarter post.

At the half remember Chauncey, we were coming up to you and you had begun to get desperate and had crowded your pace a mount along too fast. You had begun to feel the effects of the killing pace at the half, and now that you are into the stretch all the sprint has been taken out of your mount and you are playing for place.

No, there isn't a chance of the colts blowing up. We are sorry for you, in a sort of a way. Cheer up, old chap, for a bunch of guys as old as Joe Killian, Ell Cates, old man Curtis, McHale and "Vet" Dexter, we must say that your team of somewhat-worse-for-wear players, has done much more than they could be expected to do. They are through now, though, and when they come here Aug. 23 to 26, Chauncey, you may be sure that we are going to administer something your brave old stagers need very badly. Come up and see the fun.

Tonight in the Copper country, Mistah Waltah Whitehead and ancient Michael Schreck are scheduled to settle a dispute that has been of somewhat protracted standing. They are going to battle for a maverick title—the heavyweight championship of the Northwest.

If the Duluth dinge wins he will be in line for some of the big guns of this section of the country. Schreck will meet the big Duluth scrapper with the somewhat doubtful prestige of having finished that ardent warrior, Marvin Hart, the pride of Louisville, in four rounds. If Schreck is beaten by the colored brother, Waltah may get as chesty as he usually does after a win, and plan with careful detail that trip to England.

But before he sails away, like Honey boy, he should really give Mister George Gunther one more chance. Gunther is only a little man, weighing from fifteen to twenty pounds less than Whitehead, and he has never claimed any titles, strange as it may seem. He is fighting for lacre and not for titles. When Gunther and Whitehead tie up, if the larger man wants any more of Gunther's game, there will be found plenty of good, substantial money that says Gunther will beat the coming champion.

If Schreck beats Whitehead in the battle scheduled for this evening, George Thatcher of this city is ready to back Gunther against the Cincinnati German. Gunther is in the West at the present time. He is angling for a match with Young Peter Jackson, the colored brother, who made Philadelphia Jack O'Brien take the count of ten on the coast. He is matched with Whitehead, and in the event of the Duluth darkey ending Mike Schreck's fighting days, the two men will then in all probability come together before one of the clubs of the booming Copper country.

It is getting sickening; It has past the tiresome stage. When Jim Jeffries reached Plymouth and heard that Sam Berger had signed the articles for the clash with the dark man with the motor mania, he immediately said, or is reported by cable to have said, that Berger had no authority to sign the articles in question, and that it was all a surprise to him.

Doesn't all that stuff give you a very decided pain?

Here for almost six months we have been hearing the Jeffries-Johnson stuff. At the end of all that time they are apparently no nearer matched than they were the day Jeffries came out to get all the easy money in sight. The big man from California is rapidly losing the friends who have stuck with him all through his pugilistic career. He is making a very great mistake.

If the match had been what the public have a right to expect, Jeff would have signed the articles before leaving for the waters of Carlsbad. His denial of the right of Berger to sign the articles, if the cables have quoted the boiler maker correctly, puts a disgusting finish to the whole wearying matter.

It is estimated that $300,000 will be spent this fall by the majors for minor league players. Never before in the history of the game has the demand for young players of promise been so great as it is the present season. Ball players are as scarce as promising heavyweights. The big leagues have to have them, and when you have to have anything, it generally comes high.

TRYING OUT THE NEW AUTO COURSE

Christie Makes Ninety Miles an Hour in His Car.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 16.—Automobile enthusiasts thronged the new motor speedway yesterday to watch drivers of racing cars trying out the course in preparation for the races to be held here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, defeating the most completely equipped automobile track in the country.

The crowd sweltered under a burning sun. They sent up a mighty cheer when Zeigenall barked a Chadwick-Six around the great white stone course of two and a half miles in the time of two minutes and two seconds, an average of 73.74 miles an hour.

Zlegenall was only one of the score of drivers of national reputation who took advantage of the opportunity to open the throttle in the first trials.

John Aitken at the wheel of a National-six recorded the second best time of the day when he negotiated the two and a half miles in two minutes and five seconds. Barney Oldfield guided another National-Six around the circuit in two minutes and fifteen seconds, while Herbert Lyle drove an Apherson the same distance in two minutes, twenty-two and three-fifths seconds.

Walter Christie made his first appearance on the track and leaped past the grand stand in the freakish car of his own creation known as the Christie-411 at ninety miles an hour, but did not attempt to maintain that speed for the entire distance.

Sixty cars already have been entered for the races and more are expected to enter before the list is finally closed next Wednesday. Purses worth approximately $15,000 have been offered.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MORE TIME IS GRANTED

Opening of the Northwestern Minnesota Lands Is Postponed Six Months.

Exchange of Allotments Took More Time Than First Expected.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The register and receiver of the local United States land office have received word from the department of the interior that the lands in the Winnibigoshish, Cass Lake, Leech Lake, Chippewa, Mississippi and Leech Lake Indian reservations, not included in the national forest reserve, created by act of May 23, 1908, and not yet opened to homestead entry shall be excluded from entry for a period of six months, commencing Sept. 13 next.

The lands were at first advertised to be opened on March 13 last, but the interior department postponed the opening for six months for the purpose of facilitating the exchange of allotments from lands within the limits of such national forest reserves to lands outside thereof. This change was made on the recommendation of the commissioner of Indian affairs. On July 28 last, the commissioner of Indian affairs reported that the change could not be perfected in that length of time and requested that an additional six months be given. The department of the interior has approved the request and so instructed the proper officials.

LEG IS BROKEN BY BASE RUNNER

Cass Lake Second Baseman Victim of Peculiar Accident.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a game of baseball here Sunday afternoon between two local teams, Leo Lafontaine, more commonly known as "Frenchie," had his left leg badly fractured. The injured man was playing second base, when Ben Billstine attempted to steal from first. The ball was thrown to Lafontaine, who succeeded in getting it in time to put his man out. Billstine made a dive and a slide and struck the baseman with terrific force, breaking his leg. When the bone broke the crack could be heard distinctly all over the diamond. The players took the injured man to his home, where the leg was set.

ASLEEP ON TRACK; GIRL IS MANGLED

Inmate of a Chippewa Falls Feeble Minded Home Is Dying of Hurt.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mabel Sherman, aged 16, and pretty, an inmate of the home for the feeble-minded here, is dying as the result of injuries she sustained near the Griffith farm when she was struck by a train. She had wandered away from the home during the afternoon.

In the course of her ramblings Mabel came to the Soo railroad track. She walked along it for some little distance and finally, becoming drowsy and somewhat fatigued, lay down on the track and went to sleep.

Soon, with thunderous approach, westbound freight No. 39, neared the spot where the child lay, all unconscious of the nearing danger. Nearer and nearer it drew, but Mabel slept on. Soon it was upon the prostrate girl. Her frail body was crushed and mangled beneath the cruel wheels of the iron monster. The train was stopped after the entire length of the string of cars had passed over the body. Some of the train crew hastened back to where she lay and found that Miss Sherman had been horribly bruised and mangled about the head and body, and worst of all, she was still conscious. The body was tenderly picked up, the caboose was uncoupled from the train, and with the engine, made a flying trip back to Chippewa Falls, where the frail burden was deposited into the waiting ambulance.

BURY FIRE VICTIMS.

Five Bodies Borne to Graves in Hancock After Big Funeral.

Hancock, Mich., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—The largest funeral ever seen here took place from St. Joseph's Catholic church Saturday when services were rendered for the fire victims of last Wednesday night's fire in Ripley.

Solemn high requiem mass was said by Rev. Father Glaser, assisted by Rev. Father Gerhard of Columbus, Ohio, and Rev. Wallozh, assistant pastor of St. Ignatius church, Houghton. The full church choir was at the service and solos were sung by C. C. Oliver.

The procession first wended its way to the old Catholic cemetery at Hancock where the body of Annie Racine was laid to rest, then returned to the church and to Forest Hill cemetery, Houghton, where the bodies of Mrs. Dionne and her three children were laid beside that of the eldest son of the family who died over a year ago.

A large number of people attended the funeral. In fact it was the largest funeral ever held here. St. Joseph's church was filled and there were more people outside than inside waiting for the end of the service.

A subscription, headed by Manager John Hicok with a substantial contribution, is being circulated at the Ripley plant of the Portage Coal Dock company for the relief of Andrew Dionne and family who suffered so terribly from Wednesday's catastrophe.

Are Found in Haystack North of Foley, Benton County.

Foley, Minn., Aug. 16.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Corrier, who runs the Varner farm north of here, hearing a moaning and seeing a dead hand protruding from a haystack on his place, notified Dr. Freeman and H. H. McGobern, who were passing in an automobile, and the three removed the hay only to make an astounding discovery. There lay the dead body of a young woman and a live infant that was a few days old. The body of the infant was wrapped in an apron. The dead woman proved to be Frances Florek aged 20, whose parents live at Morrilltown, Morrison county.

Three days ago the girl started for the home of a friend. But when she got as far as the stack strength failed her and she lay down. Here the child was born and the mother died after taking every precaution to insure the life of the child.

After the channel has been all cleaned out the dredge and crew will go to Zippel bay and do the work needed there.

PEONAGE CHARGE IS RAISED AGAIN

Russian Consul May Be Asked to Aid Local Prisoners.

The old question of peonage, or forcing ignorant foreigners to work in undesirable situations against their will, may be raised again in the near future by friends of Joseph Calish and Charles Orman, young Poles, now serving 30-day sentences in the county jail.

Orman and Calish were shipped by a local employment agent to the Northern Lumber company's camp at Mountain Iron, the railroad company paying their fare of $1.68 each. They say that the agent assured them that the camp was a comfortable one, and that conditions were desirable in every way. They state that they found the camp too unclean t obe healthful, and the food unfit to eat. They complained to the foreman, they say, and said they wanted to quit, whereupon he ordered them out of the camp.

Subsequently they were arrested and brought before the justice of the peace at Mountain Iron. In their ignorance, their friends say, they failed to put up a defense and were sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

According to their friends here, the Russian consul at Chicago will be asked to communicate with the state department at Washington relative to their imprisonment.

This question of peonage is an old one, and has been raised time and again here in similar cases. The difficulty of making the foreigners understand conditions, and their total ignorance when brought before a court of law, has resulted in similar cases ever since lumbering and mining operations were commenced in the north woods.

FRENCH SHIP IS USELESS FOR WAR

Armored Cruiser Can Knock It to Bits in Fifteen Minutes of Fire.

Toulon, Aug. 16.—The experiments with the old battleship Iena as a target for the armored cruiser Conde continue to yield instructive results. It has been demonstrated that the projectiles fired at the Iena have had greater effect than it was supposed they would have, and that all parts of the ship above the armor belt, including the turrets, would be destroyed after fifteen minutes of bombardment such as would occur in a naval battle. The armor plates of the Iena also have been shown to possess much less power of resisting the shots than was credited to them.

KILLS HERSELF AND THREE SONS WITH GAS.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Marie Hansel committed suicide and at the same time asphyxiated her three boy babies. She had carefully bathed and dressed her three children—one 4 years old and the other two, 2 years old—and carried them into the bathroom where she had closed the door and turned on the gas. The smell of gas awakened her husband, Joseph Hansel. When he broke open the door of the bathroom, he found the four dead bodies. The twins were wrapped in a quilt and placed in the tub while the older boy was clasped tightly in his mother's arms.

Mrs. Hansel had been ill for some time and apparently was able to get no relief, and that is thought to be her only reason for her act. She had four other children ranging in age from 6 to 16 years.

OBSTRUCTED ENTRANCE.

Dr. W. H. Magie Arrested for Leaving Auto in Front of Spalding.

Dr. W. H. Magie was arrested by Patrolman Westerlund Saturday evening, charged with obstructing the street, because he left his automobile standing in front of the entrance to the Spalding hotel. After a private conference at police headquarters, the doctor was allowed to go, and no charge lodged against him on the police book.

Chief Troyer has issued orders that the space in the street directly in front of the entrance to the hotel shall be kept free of carriages and automobiles, except when they drive up and unload or take on passengers. Dr. Magie stopped his machine within these limits, and went into the cafe with Mrs. Magie and a party of friends, leaving the automobile in front of the hotel.

After the machine had remained there for an hour, Officer Westerlund learned the name of the owner, found where he was, and sent in word, asking him to come into the lobby. The situation was explained to Dr. Magie by Patrolman Westerlund, but the latter says the doctor refused to move the machine, whereupon he was arrested and taken to the police station.

S.S.S. PURIFIES BAD BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of our ailments, and when from any cause it becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, trouble in some form is sure to follow. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, pimples, etc., show that the blood is infected with unhealthy humors which have changed it from a pure, fresh stream to a sour, acrid fluid, which forces out its impurities through the pores and glands of the skin. A very common evidence of bad blood is sores and ulcers, which break out on the flesh, often from a very insignificant bruise, or even scratch or abrasion. If the blood was healthy the place would heal at once; but being infected with impurities which are discharged into the wound, irritation and inflammation are set up, the fibres and tissues are broken, and the sore continues until the blood is purified of the cause. S. S. S. is Nature's blood-purifier and tonic, made entirely from roots, herbs and barks. It goes down into the circulation and removes every particle of impurity, humor or poison, restores lost vitality, and steadily tones up the entire system. S. S. S. neutralizes any excess of acid in the blood, making it pure, fresh and healthy, and permanently cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Boils, and all other skin eruption or disease. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

WHEAT HAS A DECLINE

Improved Harvesting Conditions Send the Prices Down.

The Market Is Quiet---Little Change in Flax Prices.

Duluth Board of Trade, Aug. 16.—Wheat went down in American markets today, the effect of the heavy covering of shorts last week having disappeared. The news from the Northwest also showed improved weather conditions for harvesting. The gereral tone of the market was bearish although the news was meager and unsubstantial.

The natural effect of the improved weather conditions in the harvest fields was offset by the strong cables, which were 1¼d@2¼d higher. Rains in England and poor weather conditions for the harvest in other European countries sent prices higher in the markets on the other side of the Atlantic and the effect in America was to steady the weakening market.

On the local board, the market had spells of weakness and strength, a final period of weakness toward the close sending wheat down nearly 1c and counteracting the effect of the stronger periods through the session. The net loss was little or nothing, however, and the general feeling among the traders on the floor was not very bearish in view of the high cables.

The September option was unchanged in Duluth, unchanged in Chicago, ⅛-¼c off in Minneapolis, ½c up in New York, ¼c off in St. Louis, ⅛-¼c up in Kansas City and ¾c off in Winnipeg. The December option was ½c off in Duluth, 0-⅛c off in Chicago, ⅝-¾c off in Minneapolis, ½c up in New York, 0-⅛c up in St. Louis, ⅛-¼c off in Kansas City and 1¼c off in Winnipeg. May wheat was ½c off in Duluth. Chicago corn was ¼-⅜c off and oats were unchanged.

Wheat closed 1⅛d to 2d higher in Liverpool, unchanged in Antwerp, ⅛c higher in Berlin, 1⅞c higher in Budapest, ⅛c higher to unchanged in Buenos Ayres.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "There was a strong opening in wheat here this morning with values from 1d to 1¼d higher, and during the morning there was an additional advance of ¾d to 1d, with the principal strength in September. Shorts covered freely, being induced by the firmness in American cables on Saturday and light world's shipments to Liverpool. Toward mid-day there was some recession from these extreme prices, as realizing developed, prompted by the very heavy Russian and Danubian shipments. At mid-day the undertone was still firm with values ¼d to 2¼d higher than Saturday on the unfavorable conditions in the United Kingdom and light Russian offerings. Corn was steady at the start and ⅛d higher in sympathy with America. Later the market declined ¼d to ⅜d on the poor demand for spot.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Selling on Early Bulge Caused Weakness in Wheat.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The wheat market was strong at the start with prices up ⅝c to 1c, compared with Saturday's final figures. Commission houses in general were active bidders at the opening, the demand being based chiefly on an advance of 1¼d to 2¼d at Liverpool. On the bulge several prominent longs sold freely on the September delivery which caused a material reaction, a large part of the gain being lost early in the day. Weather conditions in the Northwest were generally favorable for harvesting and threshing.

The September delivery opened at $1.00x to $1.00⅝, and sold off to 99⅝@99¾c. December declined to 96½c, after opening to 97¼c to 97½c.

The market gained fresh strength following the publication of statistics relating to the visible supply of wheat in the United States, which showed a much smaller increase than had been expected. Late in the day, however, prices yielded again to renewed profit-taking, September selling off to 99½c and December to 96½c. The close was easy with September unchanged at 99⅝c. December was a shade lower at 96½c.

Continued drouth in the Southwest was again the chief factor in the corn market, sentiment in the pit being bullish early in the session. After an opening rush to buy was ended the trade was quiet for a time. Prices at the opening were ⅛@¼c to ⅝@¾c higher, September being at 65¾c to 66⅛c. For a time the price held within the range.

The market was extremely strong for a time and prices advanced still further, September selling up to 67c. A sharp break occurred late in the session on liberal profit-taking, prices dropping about 1c from the top. The close, however, was firm with September up ⅝@¾c at 66¼c.

Shorts and country commission houses were fairly active bidders for oats at the opening, and as a result the market manifested considerable strength. Demand was brought out mainly by the bulge in wheat and corn. An easier feeling developed shortly after the opening, owing to selling of December by cash interests. September opened ¼@½c higher at 38⅝@38⅞c and sold off to 38½c.

Provisions were strong, especially pork, because of general buying by commission houses. The demand was chiefly for the January products. Light stocks of provisions at all important centers was the principal factor. Prices at the opening were 5c lower to 20c higher.

Cash wheat was firm on account of the very light offerings. The low stocks of wheat in store in Minneapolis and the possibility of a delay in the spring wheat movement added strength to the situation. No. 1 northern sold for $1.43@1.44½. Demand for wheat to arrive was very active.

Barley—Receipts 27, year ago 79; shipments 4. Offerings of the new crop were quite plentiful and there was an excellent demand. Old crop barley was very scarce. Malting grades received the strongest inquiry. Shipments were light. Closing range 44@59c.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Unloading Causes Break in Wheat After Early Strength.

HEARD ON THE FLOOR.

Gossip of the Trading Room and the Pit.

At the annual meeting of the state grain inspection board, held Aug. 3, the existing rules were changed so as to give the inspection department the authority, when necessary, to place a dockage on oats and barley. At this meting no objection was raised to the action taken, although the usual notices calling said meeting, that had always prevailed, had been given.

At the request and on petition of many, representing they were misled by the wrong date on the copy of the official notice calling the said meeting, as posted on the bulletin board of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, another hearing was ordered for Saturday Aug. 14, in order to give the fullest opportunity for all interested to present their views.

Recognizing the very large and vigorous protest presented, covering all sections of the three Northwestern states, from producers, independent farmers and other grain interests as against the change adopted, the board, realizing these objections were made in good faith, yet under a misapprehension of the practical application of the new rules, which were largely to be used to stop the pernicious practice of dumping the screenings and other foul matter into these grains by grain handlers changed the rule adopted Aug. 3, 1909, and the rule of 1908 will be continued, under which, in the several grades of oats, barley and speltz, the amount of dirt, foul seeds and foreign grains is taken into consideration in arriving at the grade.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—The Commercial National bank's annual crop report shows the winter wheat acreage decreased 6 per cent from last year, spring wheat acreage increased 7 per cent and over half of the acreage in the Northwest is safe from blight and rust or frost. Grain has come to the market on an average higher price than last year. Corn acreage has increased 8,000,000 acres to 109,000,000 acres. The period of polinization has been safely passed over; the period of hot winds is passing and the corn has only the cutting down of frost to fear. The oats acreage was materially increased and the yield is unusually large in many states. The Northwest is having an immense yield of oats and barley.

The weather forecast for the wheat belt is as follows.

Illinois—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; probably showers Tuesday.

Upper Michigan, Lower Michigan and Indiana—Generally fair.

Missouri and Kansas—Fair and continued warm.

Wisconsin—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; probably showers in the western portion Tuesday.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Market Opened Higher, But Fell Off Under Large Selling Orders.

Close Was Weak at About Lowest Prices of the Day.

New York, Aug. 16.—Higher prices were made in all the important stocks at the opening of business on the stock exchange today. The advances ranged from a small fraction to 1¼. Union Pacific established a new record figure at 219 and Southern Pacific was also higher than ever before. The principal gains amounted to 1¼ in Union Pacific and Illinois Central and a point on Southern Pacific, New York Central and Amalgamated Copper.

Professional traders met the opening demand for stocks and the market sold well off to about Saturday's closing level. Atlantic Coast Line sold at a loss of 2 points, North American 1⅜ and Interborough-Metropolitan preferred 1. On the decline there were sales of many large blocks of stocks, one transaction in Union Pacific amounting to 7,700 shares and one in United States Steel to 8,500. Renewed activity on the long side in New York Central forced it 1¾ higher and prompted a rally in the general market, but Union Pacific was sluggish and did not get beyond Saturday's final prices.

Continuous selling of the Union Pacific stocks offset attempts to bid up prices in other quarters and the market went down pretty steadily. Supporting orders, however, were encountered in the general list at about the level of Saturday's closing. Union Pacific broke to 1½ and the preferred to 1¼, under last week's final prices. Ontario & Western and Consolidated Gas also lost a point. Business fell off tremendously at the lower figure and the market was steady and quiet all through the second hour. Toward midday the tone improved somewhat with New York Central and Southern Pacific making the best showing. Some of the less active stocks were quite strong St. Paul preferred going up 2 points, Northwestern 1½ and International Paper and Kansas City Southern stocks up 1.

Prices moved narrowly until after 2 o'clock, when there was a violent break in Union Pacific which dropped down to 214, compared with 219 at the outset and 217¾ in Saturday's closing. The other markets ran off rapidly in sympathy and there was little left of the early material advances in Reading, Southern Pacific and New York Central.

The market closed weak. Supporting orders stopped the break in Union Pacific at 214, but the preferred meanwhile slumped to 114 and many other stocks had lost from 1 to 1½. The collapse in Union Pacific was variously put down to a bad drive, attempts to shake off a weak following and realizing by insiders. Union Pacific jumped above 216 again, but the balance of the list did not rally with much vim, although there was spirited bidding up of Northern Pacific. In the last few minutes selling was renewed in all quarters and low prices for the day were made for many stocks.

"Why, bless me heart, man, you have a great country up here."

Capt. Fred Smith of the White Star liner Baltic one of the biggest of the ocean greyhounds, made that statement this morning. He meant it, too. It wasn't one of the stereotyped statements that some people are in the habit of giving out when they strike any city. It was right from the heart, with the genial captain.

When the captain started for the Northwest, he informed some of the officials of the White Star line that he was coming up by way of the Great Lakes. They asked the captain what he wanted to see about the lakes.

"In ten hours I can swim across the biggest lake they have up there," General Manager Whipple of the White Star line informed Capt. Smith. When Capt. Smith struck Duluth, he wrote to General Manager Whipple.

"Lord bless you man," wrote the genial captain of the Baltic, "If the good Lord permitted you to live and swim for 100 years, you couldn't swim across the smallest lake up here."

Like many other people who come out of the effete East for their first view of the great and glorious country West of the Adirondacks, the captain was genuinely surprised at that we have out here. He has been sailing the big blue Atlantic for the past fourteen years. He knows about all that great divide between New York and Liverpool, but he knew little of the West. Now he has had his eyes opened.

Capt. Smith has been a captain on the Baltic for the past fourteen years. He went from the service of the government to his present position. He is a graduate of the naval academy at Annapolis, and is really on a furlough from the government. During the many years he has been officer in charge of the big boat, which carried 3,000 passengers in addition to the crew, there has never been a mishap on the boat.

He has seen Duluth since his stay here, and honestly believes that it is a great city. In fact, the captain says hewould like to live and die here. The air up here is what strikes the old tar as the greatest lung feeder in the world. When told that some people complained of the climate in this part of the country, the captain looked incredulous. He has breathed salt air so long that he says his lungs are stopped up with fine salt. He has begun to feel better already, and is sorry that he must return to Buffalo this evening.

The captain is a genial sort; one of the hale and hearty men often found on the big water. Host Lee of the Spalding has already made the Baltic commander acquainted with a number of Duluth citizens and he is leaving with a most pleasant impression of the Zenith City.

ROB TILL OF RESTAURANT

Clever Thieves Work Smooth Game at Hibbing Lunch Room.

Deputy Sheriff George Donahue, who came down from Hibbing this morning with a prisoner, reports a clever and well planned restaurant steal which took place there last night. The affair took place in Joseph Flower's restaurant on the main street of the town. Two men, whose names are unknown, came into the restaurant and consumed fair sized meals.

When they came to go out one of them handed a five dollar bill to the cashier, a boy. When the latter got the change out of the till and placed it on the counter the man grabbed both bill and change and made a lightning exit on to the street. The cashier started in hot pursuit, and the minute he was out of the door the other man made a dash for the till and cleaned it out, and also made his escape. It was late in the evening and there were no other persons in the restaurant at the time. The thieves made their escape under cover of darkness and up to this morning had not been apprehended.

The Partnership Heretofore

NEW ORE FINDS ON VERMILION GIVE TOWER NEW LIFE

Not One Quarter of Ore Has Been Discovered, Says Walsh.

Pioneer Miner Predicts Big Things for the Range Town.

His Own Company Has Made Rich Strike in 5-62-14.

That the prospects of Tower, the range town which practically died two years ago when the Soudan mine apparently ran out, are brighter today than ever in her history, and that in his opinion less than one-quarter of the merchantable hematite ore on the Vermilion range has yet been discovered, were statements made by T. J. Walsh this morning. Mr. Walsh's opinion is entitled to some consideration, as he is the only survivor of the three men who, in 1882, worked on the exploration of the Soudan mine, before there was a railroad or a house nearer than Duluth. The other two men who worked with Mr. Walsh—Andrew Sandell and Peter—are dead.

Mr. Walsh is one of the men who organized the Vermilion Iron & Steel company last March, and the advance that the stock has taken holds all known records for phenomenal value increases. Last March the stock was put on the market, 200,000 shares, at $1 each, the market price at the time

EIGHT ARE SAVED FROM SCHOONER

One Man Drifts on Raft Along Shore From Stranded Vessel.

New York, Aug. 17.—Eight men, including the captain, of the three-masted schooner Arlington of Boston, were rescued from a perilous position on the bowsprit of that craft, stranded on a sand bar off Long Beach, L. I., today. Life savers from the shore effected the rescue. One man, who had put out from the vessel on a lift raft, drifted out of sight towards Sandy Hook.

The Arlington went ashore on Long Beach before daylight today in a heavy easterly gale which piled the surf high upon the southern coast of Long Island. Its decks were swept by the breaking seas, and the crew took refuge on the bowsprit while the Long Beach lifesaving crew tried vainly to shoot a line over the vessel or to launch their surf boat. One of the crew launched a raft in an attempt to bring a line ashore, but the raft drifted seaward and along the shore instead of coming on the beach. The condition of this daring sailor was worse than that of his shipmates clinging to the bowsprit above the breakers.

Gun Proves Useless.

The Lyle gun of the Long Beach crew was dragged a mile from the station to the scene of the wreck, and a fruitless attempt was made to shoot the line over the rigging of the vessel. Further attempts to rig a breeches buoy in this fashion were abandoned, and the lifesavers dragged their surf boat onto the beach some distance east of the vessel and waited a favorable moment to rush the boat through the surf.

Madden Pierson, the Swedish sailor from the Arlington who set off in a life ratt from the stranded vessel, was washed ashore alive at Rockaway Beach during the morning and is being cared for there. Eight men in all were rescued from the schooner by the Long Beach lifesavers.

OVER 2,000 AT MEETING

Trans-Mississippi Congress Is Attended By Horde of Delegates.

Ballinger-Pinchot Feud May Be Barred From the Discussions.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 17.—More than 2,000 delegates representing every city of importance in every state west of the Mississippi river attended the opening of the twentieth Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress here today. The morning session was devoted to welcoming the delegates by Governor Shafroth of Colorado and city officials, and responses by governors of half a dozen Western states. Because of the many speakers scheduled for the first session, none of the many projects fathered or backed by the congress came up for more than a brief mention.

President Thomas F. Walsh of Denver delivered his annual address this afternoon and then the real work of the congress began. John Barrett, head

The Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress is holding its annual session at Denver. Since its organization in 1891 the congress has been a very important factor in the development of land and waterways in the West. President Thomas F. Walsh is president of the congress.

BEAT BOSTON DEFENDERS

Troops of Invading Army Are Declared to Have Won Battle.

Artillery Duel Is Started By Opposing Forces in the Field.

Middleboro, Mass., Aug. 17.—Gen. Tasker H. Bliss threw the whole strength of his Red army of invasion against the left wing of Gen. W. A. Pew's Blue army of defense, in the war game, shortly after noon today and a fierce battle began. The artillery was in advance of both armies, and soon the Red army attacked, and an artillery duel was in progress.

The movement was preceded by a battle on Middleboro Green when the Eighth Massachusetts infantry were driven back by a flying squadron of cavalry. The engagement lasted an hour and finally was called off by the umpires, who decided that the Reds had driven back the Blues.

MAY USE GAS TO RUN MEN-OF-WAR

Navy Experts Are Investigating Practicability of Change of Power.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Gas as a motive power on men-of-war is a possibility of the future, in the opinion of naval experts here. It would mean a material reduction in coal consumption, and in turn would mean a greatly increased steaming radius for the ships and avoid the necessity of stopping so often to replenish the coal bunkers. In time of war this would be a desirable consideration, while at all times the economy in coal consumption would be desirable.

Admiral Hutch I. Cone, who commanded the torpedo flotilla on its way from the Atlantic coast to San Francisco, and who now is chief of the bureau of steam engineering, is gathering information on the subject, and recently sent Commander William W. White to visit several large manufacturing plants in the West to make a study of the extent to which gas is utilized in propelling machinery.

CLAIMS HE WAS ASSASSINATED

American Is Declared to Have Wired Newspapers to That Effect.

Monte Carlo, Aug. 17.—A report current here last night that an American named Marshall had been assassinated by a hospital guard cannot be confirmed today. It seems that a man named Marshall, supposed to be a brother of a rich American banker, was released from an asylum at Nice last winter, and yesterday he came to Monte Carlo. The theory of the police is that under the effect of mania, he himself sent a dispatch to the newspapers announcing that he had been assassinated.

KEEPS MEN FROM PLANT

Car Company Fears an Outbreak When Work Is Resumed.

Many Families Are Destitute ---No Efforts to Gain Peace Are Seen.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 17.—A tense situation is apparent in the vicinity of the Pressed Steel Car company's works at McKee's Rocks today. The constabulary, deputy sheriffs and special watchmen are on the alert, orders having been issued to prevent strikers congregating in numbers near the mill.

Claiming that over 2,000 new men are now housed in the various departments of the works, it is probable the company will today or tomorrow make the first real attempt to resume operations. The strikers, however, state that the number of men inside the plant is greatly exaggerated and are of the opinion a resumption is not possible.

Many Families Destitute.

A large number of families are in destitute circumstances. The commissary department organized to alleviate this distressing feature is taxed to its utmost capacity.

Although the strikers hold daily meetings and the company officials are in conference among themselves each day, there seemingly are no efforts to adjust the trouble.

Over thirty shots were fired this forenoon at the ferry steamer Steel Queen by strike sympathizers. No shots struck the boat. The state constabulary reached the river bank within a few minutes and drove the crowd to the hills.

BIG PRIZES OPEN TO ARCHITECTS

Americans Are Expected to Compete for Argentine Work.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Americans are expected to enter a competition, opened to the architects of the world by the Argentine Republic, to secure plans for the proposed policlinic "Jose de San Martin," which will comprise twenty splendid buildings in Buenos Ayres. The Argentine legation here has made public some of the details of the competition.

The author of the best project will be instructed to execute the definite plans and will take charge of the technical direction of all the works. Architects winning second and third places will receive prizes of $10,000 and $5,000 respectively. The competition will be open until Dec. 10, when the committee of judges will take the projects submitted under advisement.

Is Nagle's Busy Time.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Secretary Nagel, who has returned to Washington, has tackled the work in connection with the preparation for the next census with a view to getting it in such shape that he can return to his summer home in Massachusetts next week.

PASSES ON SUTTON CASE

Judge Advocate General Already Has Reviewed the Findings.

Early Announcement of Decision Is Expected at Washington.

Washington, Aug. 17.—If Acting Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop, approves the findings, the verdict of the court of inquiry into the cause of the death of Lieut. James N. Sutton, Jr., of the marine corps at Annapolis on Oct. 13, 1907, will be made public today. The findings of the court have been reviewed by Capt. Edward H. Campbell, the judge advocate general of the navy, as required by law, and they, together with his recommendations, were submitted to Mr. Winthrop this morning.

It took the judge advocate general only a brief time to go over the court's work, and the fact that he was ready so soon to make a report on it to his superior officer leads to the inference that he has few, if any, observations to make on the subject matter contained in the board's conclusion.

MOORS AGAIN ISOLATE TROOPS

Continuous Bombardment is Reported at Spanish Stronghold.

Madrid, Aug. 17.—Advices received here from Penon de la Gomera, on the coast of Morocco, set forth that the Moors again have cut telegraphic wires and isolated the Spanish garrison there. The bombarding at Penon de la Gomera is constant and there have been many casualties among the Moors. The Kabyles are mobilizing near Alhucemas preparatory to marching on Melilla.

HINDU MURDERER HANGED IN PRISON

Pays Penalty for Crime Committed in London on July 1.

London, Aug. 17.—Madarlal Dhinagri, the Indian student, who on the night of July 1 at the conclusion of a public gathering at the Imperial institute, shot and killed Lieut. Col. Sir William Hutt Curzon-Wyllie and Dr. Cawal Lalaca, was hanged at Pentonville prison at 9 o'clock this morning. Dhinagri was tried and found guilty of this crime and sentenced to death at the Old Bailey police court on July 23.

AFTER MEN "HIGHER UP"

Jerome and Persch's Attorney Tell Court That Broker Was Mere Tool.

District Attorney Makes Reduction of Bail Hang on Revelations.

New York, Aug. 17.—In opposing a plan for a reduction of the $50,000 bail under which Donald L. Persch, a note broker, is being held on a grand larceny indictment, District Attorney Jerome today declared his belief that the wrongful sale of Heinze mining stock collaterial, in which Persch is alleged to have figured, was but one of the ramifications of a conspiracy in which "men in high finance" had "combined to crush a rival."

Persch was arraigned to plead to the indictment which charges him with having procured from the Windsor Trust company and sold about $100,000 worth of mining stock which M. M. Joyce, a broker who frequently acted for F. Augustus Heinze, had deposited as collateral for a loan negotiated through the trust company.

Reduction Is Refused.

In arguing for a reduction of bail, John F. McIntyre, Persch's attorney, declared that Persch had been "a cat's paw in the hands of wiser and more experienced men."

The district attorney declared that "a financial institution had been unjustly placed in the public eye," and declared that a breach of trust by an employe was responsible.

Persch's attorney was unable to get the court to consent to the reduction of bail. Mr. Jerome said that if before Monday Persch should decide to tell the district attorney's office the entire facts concerning the transaction in which it was claimed he was "an instrument in the hands of dishonest people," the district attorney's office would be glad to consider the reduction of bail.

JAPAN CUTS OFF AID TO SEALERS

Withdraws Subsidy as Means to Check Poaching in Alaskan Waters.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 17.—According to a statement issued from the office of the Jananese Consul-General Nagai, yesterday, the Japanese government has withdrawn the subsidy heretofore extended to ship engaged in hunting seals and sea otters, in order to check the operations of seal poachers among the islands of the Alaskan coast. The statement says the new imperial ordinance went into operation July 1. It is believed the withdrawal of the subsidy will discourage Japanese seal fishing, as it cannot be carried on without government aid.

Golfers of the State Gather Here for Big Meet.

Play Begins in Four Ball Match for Foursome Trophy.

Qualifying Round for Championship Will Be Played Wednesday.

Play in the ninth annual Minnesota golf tournament began on the links of the Northland Country club this morning.

C. T. Jaffrey, who formerly held the state championship, and also the trans-Mississippi championship, together with Harry Legg, the present holder of the trans-Mississippi title, and many other men prominent in state golf circles are present.

Although play did not begin until late this morning, the players were on the grounds early. Many of the outside players only reached the city this morning, and went direct to the grounds. After the play had begun, along toward noon, the grounds presented a pretty spectacle, with the many little clusters of players, attired in spotless white flannel.

The grounds just at this time are in the best condition of the year, and the visitors, to a man, commented on the ideal location, the splendid view, the condition of the course and the general lay of the grounds.

Open Day.

Today is open day at the Country club and many took advantage of the opportunity to watch the play. Many groups followed the players over the course and much enthusiasm was displayed.

ARE LET IN ON BIG LOAN

American Interests Secure Right to Investment in China.

Agreement Also Means Opening to Markets of This Country.

Pekin, Aug. 17.—American participation in the Hankow-Sze-Chuen railroad loan was definitely settled at the offices of the foreign board this morning by Henry P. Fletcher, the American charge d'affaires, and Lian Tun-Yen, president of the board. The loan is to be increased from $27,500,000 to $30,000,000, and of this latter amount American bankers are to get one-quarter, the other three-quarters going to British, French and German interests.

May Sell Material Too.

Americans are to have equal opportunity to supply material for both the Sze-Chuen and the Canton lines and their branches; they will appoint subordinate engineers and they will have also one-half of all future loans of the Sze-Chuen railway and its branches, with the corresponding advantages.

The details of this settlement will be arranged after the arrival here next week of Willard D. Straight, the representative of the American financiers interested, whereupon the protest lodged by Mr. Fletcher against the completion of the loan with British, French and German interests alone will be withdrawn and an edict issued authorizing the signature of the undertaking. The entire question will then be conclusively settled.

The settlement reached today prevents actual American investment in the abandoned Hankow-Canton, but nevertheless it is the opinion here that American capital has been placed on an equality with other capital in China.

"STOLEN" GOLD ONLY MISLAID

Federal and Express Company Officers Hunt Thief Who Is Mere Myth.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 17.—Federal officers and officials of the American Express company have been busy during the last two days in trying to trace the theft of a sack containing $4,000 in gold coin sent from Camp Perry, Ohio, to the Chicago subtreasury. The money was what was left of the amount sent to Camp Perry to pay the army men and militia who took part in the rifle contests there. It was reported that when the sack reached Chicago and was opened it was found to have been looted of the money and an equal weight of iron pieces substituted. Today, however, it was given out that the money simply had been misrouted and that the tracers had found the entire amount.

D'ABRUZZI TO EXPLORE BIG GLACIER SYSTEM.

Allahabad, India, Aug. 17.—The duke of the Abruzzi will return from Kashmir to Bombay, whence he will proceed to Italy, as soon as his expedition has explored the entire glacier system of which the Baltero glacier is the center. The scientific results obtained by the expedition are considered most valuable.

LOEB ROUSED BY LABOR ARTICLE

Is Said to Be Planning Suit Against Editor of Union Paper.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Court proceedings by William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York, are said to hang over the head of a local labor leader. Mr. Loeb has written to Samuel de Nedrey, editor of a local trades union paper, protesting vigorously against a recent article in the paper stating that Mr. Loeb contemplates appointing Charles A. Stillings, former public printer, to a position of trust in the New York customs service, and which concluded with the question, "Who was at the head of the audit system?"

It is understood Mr. Loeb took offense at what he believes to be a veiled insinuation that he was interested in the audit system which was inaugurated at the government printing office by Mr. Stillings, and which, ultimately, was responsible primarily for the resignation of Mr. Stillings as public printer.

Mr. Loeb intimates that it is his intention to carry the matter into the courts.

Mr. de Nedrey says he was absent from the city when the article appeared in his paper, and does not know how it got into print. In the next issue, he says, will be an explaination which, he says, in his opinion will satisfy Mr. Loeb.

"If it does not," he added, "I shall govern myself according to circumstances."

At the time of Mr. Stillings' dismissal as public printer, Mr. de Nedrey took active part editorially in discussing conditions at the big printery. He knows of no basis, he says, for an allegation that Mr. Loeb was connected with the audit system, and sees no reason to criticise him for his attitude toward organized labor.

IOWA LAW UNDER FIRE

Primary Election System is Investigated by Men From New York.

Cummins Says Law is All Right, But Does Not Want to Talk.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 17.—The primary investigating committee of the New York legislature began an investigation of the Iowa primary law at the state house today. Secretary of State Hayward was the first state official examined. He was followed by Editor Lafayette Young of the Des Moines Capital, who favors the Iowa primary law "if it can be changed so that Democrats can be kept from voting at Republican primaries, and vice versa."

Senator Cummins talked an hour with Secretary Zitheimer yesterday, and, while he is a strong advocate of the Iowa statute, he requested that his views be not made public.

NOT MURDER, SAYS DOCTOR

Man Found in the River Met Death By Drowning.

Cuts on Head Could Not Have Caused His Death.

That an unidentified man, whose body was found about 6 o'clock last evening afloat in the St. Louis river, just below the first rapids, came to his death by drowning, and that he had not been murdered and then thrown in the river, is the opinion of Dr. David Graham of the Duluth hospital, who held an autopsy over the body of the man late this afternoon.

The body of the man was picked up by E. E. Rousain and Paul Laggard, in a bad state of decomposition, indicating that it had been in the water for two or three weeks. They tied it to the dock at West Duluth and notified the West Duluth police, who brought the body back and placed it in charge of M. J. Filiautrault, undertaker. Dr. Graham was called to hold an autopsy this afternoon, and it was decided that no inquest was necessary.

The man was garbed in a pair of brown trousers of good quality, a blue soft shirt, heavy underclothing and wore a pair of tan shoes. He did not have on either a coat or a vest. He was a man of about 40 years of age, nearly six feet tall, and weighed about 175 pounds. On his head he had two cuts, but his skull was not fractured.

It is thought that he sustained the cuts while being carried down the river. His clothes are torn in places, and his skin was also bruised by rubbing against obstacles in the water, it is supposed.

The police have no reports of men missing here, and it is thought that the body was probably washed down the river from Thomson, Scanlon or Carlton.

The body will be buried at the expense of the county.

Barn Burns to Ground.

West Duluth firemen were called out yesterday to put out a fire at 815 South Sixty-third avenue west. A barn and woodshed owned by John Olsen had caught fire late in the afternoon, and before the firemen could get to it, was completely destroyed.

The loss was about $500, and it was not covered by insurance. The origin of the blaze is thought to have been spontaneous combustion. The house received a slight scorching, but the fire did not injure it.

PROTEST ON INCREASE

Pulp Wood Shippers Object to Raise in Freight Rates.

Railroad Commissioners Consider This and Other Important Matters.

Judge Ira B. Mills, chairman of the state railroad and warehouse commission, and Commissioner Charles F. Staples this morning conducted a hearing at the Spalding hotel on the petition of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad to abandon some of the stations on its line, and also heard the beginning of an effort of the same railroad to increase its tariff on pulpwood.

Shortly before noon the hearing was postponed until later in the day. This afternoon the arguments presented by General Freight Agent H. Johnson of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad and some of the prominent dealers in pulpwood are being heard further by the two members of the state board.

The first matter that came before the attention of the two commissioners was the petition of the Northern Pacific Railway company to be allowed six weeks longer to construct the viaduct at Sixth avenue west. The petition of the railway company was granted, and until the expiration of the time allowed for, there will be nothing done by the commissioners in the matter.

W. D. Bailey of the firm of Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell, represented the Northern Pacific. Supt. Ross of the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific, was also present, as was Engineer Perkins of the same company, and Emerson and Hadley, attorneys for the railroad company.

In the petition of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad to have the stations of Lester Park, Arthur, Breda, Cornby, Elba, Sparta, Athens and Murray abandoned, no definite action was taken by the two commissioners. The matter was postponed until the commissioners could investigate further the conditions.

In petitioning that the railroad be allowed to abandon the stations named, President F. E. House and Mr. Johnson state that there is little use of any of the stations named in the petition; that they are all close to stations that are used by many more passengers; and that the use of the stations named is an unnecessary expense to the company, at the same time benefitting but few passengers.

The officials of the Duluth & Iron Range were of the opinion that the stations might be abandoned as tariff points, but used as flag stations. The two commissioners held that if the stations are done away with as tariff points, they cannot be utilized as flag stations. In all probability the petition of the company will be granted until further investigation.

The Pulpwood Rate.

The most important subject for the consideration of the two railroad commissioners is the petition of the Duluth & Iron Range road to be allowed to increase the tariff on pulpwood from Fox river points to different points on the line, including Two Harbors, from where much, or all, of the pulpwood is shipped.

General Freight Agent Johnson claims that the increase petitioned for is approximately a 10 per cent increase over the rates that have been in effect for the past ten or more years. Some of the shippers who were present at today's hearing claim that at some points of shipment the rates petitioned for will amount to an increase of 25 per cent.

Among the shippers present this morning were: William S. Taylor of the Pulpwood company of Appleton, Wis.; W. D. Hurlbet, traffic manager of the Wisconsin Pulpwood company; W. E. Nash, manager of the Northern Paper company; J. H. Kruger, manager of the Wisconsin Pulpwood company; Jessie Bradley, with the Scott-Graff company; Frank S. Colvin of Colvin & Robb; Ab Smith, John C. Mullery and James P. McDonald, representing the O'Brien interests; T. P. Bradley; Z. D. Scott of the Scott-Graff company; Elmer H. Whyte, representing Curry & Whyte.

The shippers present at today's hearing were fortified with ample notes and other data to back up their protest against any advance in the present rate.

On the side of the railroad the officials of the company claim that the present rate was put into effect when the price on pulpwood was much lower than it is at the present time and when the cost of operation was about 75 per cent of the present cost.

The officials of the railroad company hold that the proposed increase would injure the business of the spruce wood shippers, and that on the other hand, the present rate is not netting the railroad the revenue it should receive for the carrying and storing of the pulpwood. The present tariff includes also the storing of the pulpwood at the yards in Two Harbors. The new rate, if granted by the commission, will also charge for the storage of the spruce wood.

The commissioners expect to return to St. Paul on the late train tonight. The hearing will be completed this afternoon.

Judge Mills stated that the business of the state railroads was exceedingly heavy at the present time.

The chairman of the commission warns the coal dealers not to delay the shipping of coal.

Judge Mills was especially interested in learning of the heavy ore movement over the Duluth railroads, remarking that this increased tonnage should mean added prosperity. The chairman of the commission predicts one of the heaviest grain movements in the history of the Northwest.

I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." For sale by all druggists.

SAVES LIFE OF A FRIEND

Thrilling Rescue By George Oestrich at Lester River.

Arnold Eden Dragged Onto Bank in Nick of Time.

In saving the life of a boy friend older than himself, George Oestrich of Lakeside yesterday afternoon came very nearly losing his own life. Arnold Eden got beyond his depth in Lester river and Oestrich jumped in after him.

The rescue was an exciting one, and for a time it looked as if both lads would be drowned. Eden is older and heavier than Oestrich, and cannot swim. When he found himself sinking he cried out for help. As the younger boy reached him, Eden clutched him tightly and pulled him underneath the surface of the river.

Oestrich struggled desperately, and as he was carried under managed to free himself and gave Eden a shove towards the shore. Ward Brown and Phil Baker, two other youths, were watching the struggle from the bank, and there was sufficient power in Oestrich's last effort to bring Eden within their reach. They grabbed him and quickly hauled him out on the bank.

Freed of the grasp of the drowning boy, Oestrich managed to make his own way to the bank and was helped out on dry land by his companions. Both boys were all right in a short time. Eden would surely have drowned but for the bravery of Oestrich, and if it had not been for the presence of mind of the latter in tearing himself loose from the latter's grip and shoving him shoreward, they both might have been drowned.

STRINGENT SPEED LAWS

London Road Residents Petition for Strict Automobile Regulations.

Want Heavy Tax and Limit of Eight Miles Per Hour.

Residents along London road last evening presented a petition to the council asking for new regulations to govern automobiles along that thoroughfare, asking that these regulations be included in the new traffic ordinance, which was last night returned to the police and license committee for further consideration, after the city attorney had prepared suggested amendments relative to the licensing of "for hire" automobiles, etc.

The petition asks that the speed limit between Fortieth and Sixtieth avenues east be kept down to a maximum of eight miles an hour, in order to prevent undue wear on the street, as well as to lessen the dust nuisance and danger to pedestrians, with proper exceptions to doctors, hospital, fire and police motors.

Another provision requested is that a wheel tax of not less than $2 a horse-power a year, be imposed, the money collected to be paid into a separate fund to be used in renewing and rebuilding pavements in proportion to the wear and tear thereon by automobiles. It is also asked that gasoline cars and other engines which are noisy shall be supplied with mufflers, and that all machines which have become worn out so that they are extremely offensive to the residents generally, and which are practically unsafe for any one to use, shall be barred at all times from the use of the street. Other provisions are:

That all pleasure riding and carousing on the street shall be prohibited between the hours of 12 o'clock midnight and 6 a. m.

That no machine in excess of 40-horse power be allowed the use of London road, on the ground that high-power machines beyond this limit are not necessary for any legitimate purpose, are extremely dangerous to the public and are expensive to the taxpayers.

That the use of high-power searchlights shall be discontinued, for the reason that they encourage racing, make high speed possible at night, and really increases the danger instead of lessening it.

The petitioners explain that they are fully aware that the introduction of the motor car is along the line of progress and that it has its legitimate uses and useful purposes, and they assert that the petition is solely for the purpose of directing the attention of the council to its abuses. They say that if a speedway for automobiles is to be maintained in the city it should be at the expense of the automobile owners, and not the ordinary tax payer.

Those who endorse the petition in full are: Dr. A. Reed, C. S. Prosser, W. E. Magner, John Jenswold, jr., John D. Brady, L. N. Case, S. E. Catheral, W. H Vaughn, W. S. Albertson, Jesse Norton, T. J. Griffith, Clinton Brooke and D. M. Philbin.

Some who regard certain of the clauses of the petition as being too drastic subscribed to certain designated parts of the petition. These are Theodore Hollister, D. M. Morrison, J. C. Howard, F. E. Fleischmann, R. S. Manley, John Uno Sebenius and S. T. Brown.

HARRIMAN IS SAID TO HAVE NEW ROUTE.

New York, Aug. 17.—A report that E. H. Harriman has obtained an option on a controlling interest in the New York Central lines, which, if exercised, will give him control of a through route from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was circulated on the stock exchange yesterday. Such a route has been the dream of railroad men for years. The option taken by Mr. Harriman is said to cover about $50,000,000 worth of New York Central stock, a large part of which was formerly controlled by the Vanderbilt interests. The price at which the stock may be taken over is said to be $150 a share.

It was pointed out that the acquisition of the New York Central would give Mr. Harriman an ocean to ocean route by way of the New York Central, Chicago & Northwestern, Illinois Central, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific.

TAWNEY THROWS A FIRECRACKER.

Stirs Up Congressmen Who Voted Against Tariff Bill.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 17.—James A. Tawney, the lone Minnesota congressman voting "aye" on the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, tossed a firecracker into the ranks of the St. Paul committee, which is working up a reception to the "insurgents" in the shape of a telegram sent Saturday night to Ell S. Warner, Hinckley. He intimates strongly that some of the insurgents were insurgents only for the sake of the record, and would have voted for the bill if their votes had been needed.

Members of the insurgent wing deny the imputation flatly, and put the proposition up to Mr. Tawney again.

The Winona congressman's telegram, sent from his summer home at Lake Osakis, reads as follows:

"Before completing your arrangements to especially honor the Republicans and the one Democrat from our state who voted against the final passage of the Payne bill, I would suggest that you ascertain how many of them pledged the president of the United States to vote for the bill if their votes were necessary to pass it. This is suggested in the most friendly spirit to the end that only those who really merit the supposed honor may receive it and that the non-partisans of St. Paul do not bestow this supposed honor unworthily."

Representatives Nye, Lindbergh, Stevenson, Volstead and Miller have been heard from with reference to Mr. Tawney's statement, and each denies absolutely having made any such promise.

If It Disappears, It's Eczema

How to Tell Whether a Skin Affection Is an Inherited Blood Disease or Not.

Sometimes it is hard to determine whether a skin affection is a sign of a blood disorder or simply a form of eczema. Even physicians are often puzzled in their diagnosis. The best way for any one afflicted is to go to the Lyceum pharmacy and W. A. Abbett's, in Duluth; the Holmberg Drug company, in Superior, or any good druggist who handles pure drugs, and obtain 50 cents' worth of poslam. Apply this, and if the itching stops at once and the trouble is cured in a few days, it may be set down as having been eczema, as this is the way poslam acts in the worst cases of eczema, and in curing acne, herpes, blotches, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, barber's and other forms of itch, scaly scalp and all surface skin affections.

Any one who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York, can secure, by mail, free of charge, a supply sufficient to cure a small eczema surface or clear a complexion overnight and remove pimples in twenty-four hours.

BURNING ECZEMA QUICKLY SPREAD

Started Like Ringworm on Hand—Hand Swelled and Then Humor Spread to Arms, Legs and Face—It was Something Terrible.

PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED: CUTICURA CURED HIM

"I have used the Cuticura Remedies for a very bad case of eczema with complete success. About fifteen or eighteen years ago the disease developed in the shape of a large pinhead on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm, and made very light of it. He gave me a wash and told me to apply it before going to bed and all would be over in the morning. But the next morning my hand was all swollen up and I poulticed it. When the doctor came to his office I showed him the hand and to my surprise he told me that he had never experienced such a case in his practice and said it was well I poulticed it. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and finally to my thighs and legs generally and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. After I had tried this doctor, as I thought, long enough, I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was a bad case of eczema and that it would take quite a while to cure it. His medicine checked the advance of the disease but no further.

"I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely free from the disease and I have not been troubled with another attack since. I still use the Cuticura Ointment in my family as it is one of the best remedies to heal a sore or other injury rapidly. I can freely and truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are the best so far as my experience went with them and I am still recommending them, feeling sure I am not making a mistake. C. Burkhart, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1908."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.) in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of (60) to Purify the Blood. being 50 cents per share. Thirty thousand shares were taken at 50 cents, and within the last month there has been a transfer of several thousand of these shares at $50 a share, an increase of just 100 times the original investment. The shares went to $15 the first week they were offered, and have been rising steadily ever since. There is none on the market today. There are 120,000 shares still in the treasury of the company, and 50,000 went to the parties who put in the land.

Very little of the stock was subscribed for by Duluth people, and the big share of this enormous profit has been reaped by outsiders.

Duluthians Asleep.

"Duluth people have been asleep for the last twenty years," said Mr. Walsh. They have been interested in mining propositions in Arizona and Mexico and Alaska, while here within 200 miles of the city is a mineral district without an equal in the world. Within the last twenty years there have been 200 mines opened up worth from $10,000,000 to $60,000,000 each, and Duluth people have gained very little, comparatively, by it. They want something farther off. That is why Duluthians failed to get in on our stock."

The land represented by the stock which has made such a phenomenal jump is 160 acres in section 5-62-14. There is an ore body 430 feet wide between the walls, ranging from 64 to 68 per cent. Every test pit and drill hole sunk has struck ore. One drill struck ore at 198 feet below the surface, and was still in ore at the 500-foot level.

Mr. Walsh stated that a shaft will probably be sunk on the property of the North American Iron Mining company, within thirty days. This property consists of 160 acres in section 4-61-15, 40 acres in 12-61-15 and 160 acres in 22-62-15, titles to all of which are now secure and registered under the Torrens act. Title to the richest of these pieces, section 4-61-15, has been in litigation for twenty-seven years. One attorney got a fee of $8,500 and nine other attorneys were employed by Mr. Walsh during the litigation, so its cost has been immense. Churn drill work is now in progress on the property in an effort to locate a greenstone ledge for sinking the shaft. One million shares of stock were issued at a par value of $1 per share in this company, and they are held at $1.75 per share, though not on the market. Five hundred thousand shares went to the fee owners, 100,000 went to the public on sale at 50 cents, and the remainder are in the treasury of the company.

Other Explorations.

Another company, composed of Thomas Owens of Two Harbors, H. J. Gramnis and Louis Loeb, backed by other Chicago and New York capital, is exploring the northwest quarter of section 3-16-15, adjoining the North American property, and has acquired the famous Nordstrom property which was formerly inspected by Ed Mundy, the well-known iron range character who was killed in Superior some time ago.

The Robinson Lake Iron company is exploring sections 1-61-15, 6-61-14 and 1-62-15, on the last of which it has made big ore finds.

All of these explorations are being carried on within a radius of two or three miles of Tower, and as a result the range town is taking on an activity not equalled even in its palmiest days. When the Minnesota Iron & Steel company had its headquarters there. The reopening of the Soudan mine has proven richer than even its first indications warranted. Some years ago it was thought this mine was stripped clean and some of the machinery was moved away. The shaft was sunk further, however, and a body of ore has been opened which will insure operations being carried on there for fifty years more at least. As the life of an iron mine is considered to be from twenty years up, and prospects are bright for a number of big ore bodies being brought to light about Tower, its future looks very promising.

Mr. Walsh stated this morning that in his opinion, the diamond drill had been the curse of the Vermilion range. "Every big mine on the range has been condemned by the diamond drill. The Savoy, the Chandler, the Soudan, practically all the big bodies of ore, were missed by the diamond drill or else were falsely represented. On the other hand, every shaft which has been sunk on the entire Vermilion range has brought up a big body of ore. This is one of the reasons for stating that not one-quarter of the ore on the Vermilion range has yet been discovered." Mr. Walsh stated that he thought it would be a long time before the supply of hematite got so low on the Vermilion that it would pay to mine the magnetite either there or around Grand Marais.

To Take Up Many Subjects.

In the next few days action will be taken upon many subjects of importance to the West. These will include good roads, irrigation, conservation, freight rates, national highways, the Panama canal, and trade with the Philippine islands. Each state delegation, while enthusiastic for all these projects, has its particular scheme. These entail the expenditure of large sums, and committees will be named to investigate them thoroughly and make recommendations to aid the federation.

It is said this morning that the Ballinger-Pinchot feud may not be carried from Spokane to Denver. It has been expected that the controversy between friends of the two officials, which was a feature of the national irrigation congress at Spokane last week, would be resumed at the trans-Mississippi commercial congress. However, many delegates oppose a recurrence of hostilities, and are trying to have discussion of the controversy barred from the convention. Mr. Ballinger was expected in Denver, but is not coming.

There are caddies galore. It is a great thing for the small boy, the golf tournament, and every one entering the grounds is asked if he doesn't want a caddy. There are lucky caddies too, for those who are in any way superstitious. "I'm lucky is the general cry, and usually the lucky one gets the job.

ANTI-IMPERIALISTS SEND LETTER TO TAFT.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 17.—A letter deprecating the transfer of Porto Rican affairs to the insular commission of the war department from the department of the interior, and opposing the idea of new colonial department at Washington, has been sent to President Taft by the Anti-Imperialist league. The letter, which is signed by President Storey and Secretary Irving Winslow of the league, says with reference to the Porto Rican matter:

"The action taken must inevitably tend to create discouragement and discontent, and to suggest indefinite postponement of the hopes of the islanders."

The letter expresses the hope, "that the administration will not give any encouragement to the proposal which has been made from time to time that affairs of the Philippines and other 'dependencies' shall hereafter be confided to a new colonial department to be created, thus crystallizing and tending to give permanence to their retention."

PRIVATE BANKS ASKED FOR DATA

Treasury Department Sends Letters to Cashiers Throughout Country.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Cashiers of every state and private bank in the country were today requested in a circular letter sent out by Comptroller of the Currency Murray to furnish information regarding the character of deposits, number of depositors, average rate of interest paid, the minimum amount of deposit on which interest is allowed as shown by the banks' records at the close of business on June 30 last.

The data is desired for the use of the national monetary commission in connection with the report submitted to that body recently by the various banks with respect to the resources and liabilities of such institutions on April 23 last.

The comptroller says that the information will be regarded as "confidential" by the commission, which is collecting data to ascertain the number of depositors in the various classes of banks of the country.

FINE FARMS TO BE SEEN

Thrifty Farmers Have Cleared Off Some Splendid Lands.

Rich Farming Lands Along St. Louis River South of Aurora.

Aurora, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lying in the St. Louis river district, south of Aurora, is some of the richest farming land in Northern Minnesota. Several years ago about thirty Finnish people took up parcels of Uncle Sam's land in this region, and later a number more, until today there are in the neighborhood of 165 holding down claims and making homes for themselves. Over half of these have already lived on them for five years and have proven up on the land.

A trip through this region will surprise one who has the idea that nothing can be raised in this land of ore and snow. As one travels through this region he will find many well-kept farms. Some perhaps of twenty acres cleared and some of ten acres cleared. All showing, though, that the owners have the right spirit and are made of the stuff that will yet prove to the world that St. Louis county will rank with the farming counties of the state. Fine crops of potatoes, hay and oats can be seen, as well as garden truck of all kinds.

When these people went to take up their homes on Uncle Sam's land they found the land heavily timbered. After clearing an acre or two in which to build a log house and plant a garden, they started in to cut and market the timber to enable them to get money for further developments. Ties, poles and posts found a ready market, and after putting in the winter months cutting and hauling these products to the railroad, they turned to clearing more land and putting in small crops. By untiring efforts many of them have frame houses now, and all appear to be prosperous.

The Farmers Have Club.

The farmers have their club, and meet every so often to talk over the questions that will further help them in their work. They have a school for their children, and on Sundays have their church services in the building.

The town of White three years ago started to build a road through to the settlement, and up to date have expended about $10,000 on the same. This year the road has been graveled for eight miles out, and the good work will continue until the farmers have a first-class thoroughfare. In order to help them out, the homesteaders who desired to do so were employed on the road. As the settlement is much nearer Aurora than Biwabik, the farmers will all do their trading here when the road is in good shape. As it is, many are doing so now.

WILL BUILD NEW ROAD.

Proposed Highway to Connect With the Adams Mine Location.

Eveleth, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a conference between a committee from the Eleveth Business Men's association, composed of John Murnik, Peter Peterson and Frank Campbell, and the Missabe Mountain township board, composed of Clerk S. E. Helps, Thomas Trengove, Capt. Springer and D. M. Mouser, the latter decided to build a road between the end of the present Adams location and the new mine north of the Adams, which is owned by Pickands-Mathers, and which will be stripped this winter.

Only about 100 yards of new road will have to be built from the Adams location to the old Iron Range right-of-way which runs through the Pickands-Mathers forty. From this place to the new location another short road will have to be built. From the Adams into town there is now a good road, and with this addition the people who live at the new mine location will only have about a mile to come into town. A board walk, four feet wide, will be built alongside the road. Work will be commenced on the road and sidewalk as soon as the town board can get together with W. P. Chinn who will have charge of the new mine and find out his likes in the matter.

GLADER IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Alleged Cloquet Murderer May Put Up Plea of Self Defense.

Cloquet, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oscar Glader, accused of the murder of John Grandrud, was given a hearing yesterday afternoon before Municipal Judge Skempon. When he debarked from the train and on his way to the courtroom in custody of Sheriff Lee, there was a large crowd of people, chiefly Finlanders, who had known him, anxious to see the accused.

At the hearing, after the charge of murder in the first degree had been read, through the aid of an interpreter, Swan Arlgren and Otto Salonen, the two men who were with Grandrud at the time of the shooting, were called to the stand as witnesses for the state, but nothing further developed as to the murder. Dr. W. G. Dolan and Coroner Nyquist also testified. Later Glader was bound over to await the fall term of the grand jury, without the privilege of bail.

It is not known what the plea for the defense will be at the trial, but owing to the quarrel between the two men before the murder, it is plausible it will be self-defense. Glader refuses to talk definitely concerning the crime, and speaks very slowly and cautiously in answering questions.

NAVAL MILITIA BOATS ARRIVE AT MILWAUKEE

Were Reviewed at Ludington By Governor Warner of Michigan.

Gopher Has Been Making Splendid Showing on the Cruise.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 17.—Six vessels, representing the naval squadron of the Great Lakes, reached Milwaukee this morning. The officers of the fleet were received by a committee of forty headed by John H. Kopmeer, president of the Citizens' Business league, and tendered the hospitality of the city.

A reception at the Milwaukee Yacht clubhouse followed by a luncheon and automobile ride about the city made up the program of entertainment.

Ludington, Mich., Aug. 17.—Two thousand naval reserves from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and Minnesota, constituting practically all of the country's naval strength on the Great Lakes, excepting the antiquated protected cruiser Wolverine, arrived off this port yesterday aboard their six ships and spent the day in drilling.

The fleet included the Nashville, manned by the Illinois naval reserves; Dorothea of Cleveland; Essex of Toledo; Don Juan De Austria of Detroit; Yantic of Houghton, Mich., and the Gopher of Duluth.

Yesterday afternoon Governor F. M. Warner of Michigan inspected the fleet. Last night the vessels left for Milwaukee, where the annual cruise will end.

(By Staff Correspondent.)

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 17.—The splendid work of the Duluthians has made the day of the cruise of the lake fleet Minnesota day. Saturday was something extraordinary in the way of Minnesota day, as the Minnesota naval militia won both the gig race and the officers' race, and will bring home two loving cups as trophies.

Talk about supremacy! The Minnesota militia certainly was all to the red, white and blue when it came to supremacy in the fleet exercises. There was nothing to it but "Gopher" from the opening chorus to the finale. Cheers for the Minnesota men and ship, together with congratulatory toasts from all the whistles in the pretty bay at Harbor Springs.

The race between all the gigs' crews in the fleet was the first event on the program of boat events Saturday afternoon. The Gopher's crew rowed from the ship's side amid the encouraging cheers of the entire Minnesota delegation. The oarsmen in Commander Eaton's handsome gig went in to win—and they did, easily.

The officers and men of all the six ships of the fleet, passengers in the flotilla of pleasure craft on the harbor's blue basin, and the hundreds of summer residents and oldest inhabitants on piers and piazzas, bent forward eagerly to watch the contest between the crack oarsmen of the fleet, for such the crews of the various gigs are.

At the start the stalwarts in the Gopher's trim gig were in the lead and they increased it every minute of the time on the course. With the magnificent strokes of the crew, the Gopher's gig sped forward, and although the Nashville, Dorothea, Don Juan de Austria, Yantic and Essex boatsmen cut the water sturdily with their oars, they could not pull down the lead. It was a grand victory for the Gopher and the elation of her officers and men was unbounded.

The crew of the gig was given an enthusiastic welcome when it returned to the ship. Ensign Joseph Carhart acted as boatswain during the race and the crew was composed of the following: Chris Carston, Charles Nelson, W. J. Harbour, Earl Morrison, R. Oestrich and John Dembick.

By the Gopher's victory in the gig race the Minnesota Naval Militia wins, for its own, the loving cup put up for the winning crew by the Little Traverse Yacht club of Harbor Springs. The trophy will be brought home on the Gopher.

No less enthusiasm was evoked by the race between gigs' crews composed of officers of the various warships. This was also a victory for the Gopher, for Minnesota's gig pulled in first.

The officers' race was hotly contested, the Nashville's boat being a close second as the Gopher's gig crossed the line at the end of the course. But the Minnesota officers won out—and that was the important thing.

The rule of the contest provided that the captains of the contesting ships act as stroke oarsmen. Commander Eaton was stroke of the Gopher's gig and he and his crew rowed a magnificent race from the starting gun until the end of the course was reached.

Again, the Gopher's human cargo became a cheering bunch of spectators. They cheered and cheered; the whistle snorted—and when Commander Eaton and his oarsmen crossed the line in first place, additional cheers and whistle blasts were uncorked.

Capt. Purdy and his oarsmen from the Nashville's wardroom tried gallantly to nose in first at the finish, but they failed.

The success of the regular gig's crew had ignited the fires of patriotic fervor on board the Gopher, and when the officers won out and cinched a second loving cup, the exultation was quadrupled.

The Gopher's company lined up beside the gangway when the racers returned, and Commander Eaton and the rest were carried across the deck on the men's shoulders.

The officers then retired to the cabin to have a rubdown, and the crew gathered in the forecastle and called loudly for speeches from Commander Eaton and the rest of the officers.

Commander Eaton protested that speech-making was not his forte, but the crew was insistent and he had to accede to the request.

"Our victories today were splendid. They were samples of what we have done since the cruise began and what we will do throughout the maneuvers," said Mr. Eaton.

Loud cheers greeted the commander and calls for speeches from the other officers were set up.

Lieutenant Commanders Williamson, Hugo and Howard, Lieutenants Engels, Kelly, Smith, Chapman, Hugo and Nelson and Ensigns Carhart and Farrington made short addresses to the men, complimenting them on their work and on the general efficiency of the organization.

Lieut. A. K. Shoup, the regular service officer aboard ship, gave a happy little talk.

The following Gopher officers rowed in the race: Commander Eaton, stroke; Lieut. Kelly, Lieut. Smith, Lieut. Nelson, Lieut. Hugo and Ensign Carhart. Dr. Chapman, the Gopher's surgeon, acted as coxswain.

The officers, by their victory, win the Sherman cup put up last year, and won at that time by the Wolverine officers.

The cup must be won three times to be retained by an organization.

Officers on other boats trained industriously for the race, but the Gopher men had been so busy with ship's drills that they had no time to practice.

Saturday evening the officers of the fleet and the newspaper correspondents were guests at a hop given by the Little Traverse Yacht club in the organization's attractive Casino on the point.

Harbor Springs and Petoskey swarmed with officers and men from the naval militia ships and visitors from the countryside around.

Commander Marsh, in command of the fleet, had many kind words to say for the Gopher's signal work.

Commander Eaton secured promises from Commander Marsh to secure two four-inch guns and a new motor boat.

JUDGE CUTTING FINES ESTERLY

Jeweler Is Found Guilty of Obstructing the Street.

E. E. Esterly, who owns a jewelry store in the Spalding hotel block, was fined $10 in municipal court yesterday afternoon, by Judge Cutting, upon a charge of obstructing the street. He left his automobile standing in front of his store, which is next the Spalding hotel entrance, and the police claimed it was in the way of vehicles driving up to the entrance. The case has been appealed to the district court.

In justification of his action, Mr. Esterly attempted to show that there were a number of other automobiles standing by the curb at the same time as his, without being interfered with by the police, but this testimony was not admitted as evidence, on the ground that it had no bearing on the case. The police say the other automobiles were not disturbed because they did not block the entrance to the Spalding, and that M. Esterly was notified that he would be allowed to leave his machine beside the curb in the same manner, provided he did not occupy a spot directly in front of the hotel.

Patrolman Olson, witness for the state, said that about 10 o'clock the morning of Aug. 10 Esterly's machine was driven up in front of the Spalding hotel block and allowed to stand there, in front of the Jewelry store with a sign attached signifying that it was for hire. Olson said he notified Mr. Esterly that he must move his machine farther west as it was blocking traffic.

The man refused to move it, and the auto still occupied the same position when the policeman returned from dinner. A complaint was made out for the arrest of Mr. Esterly, and when he heard of this he paid a visit to the police station, as people often do when they hear that such warrants have been issued.

The jeweler did not deny that his automobile was left in front of the hotel, but denied that it was blocking traffic. The police say the orders are to keep a certain space in front of the hotel entrance clear, so automobiles and carriages may let off and take on people from the curb, and assert that a machine or carriage in front of the Esterly store obstructs the entrance, being so close to it.

MAN KICKS THE CAT AND IS SUED FOR $100,000 BY COOK

New York, Aug. 17.—Ernest W. Smillie, New York manager for a glove manufacturing firm, has been sued for $100,000 by Emily Jones his cook, because, it is charged, he kicked the cat through a window screen. His small daughter had complained that the cat scratched her.

The cook says her eyes were filled with a shower of particles of rusty iron wire as the cat forcibly disappeared, and she estimates the damage to her sight and her lessened chances for matrimony at $100,000.

BOY DIES TRYING TO SWIM NIAGARA

Goes Farther Than Capt. Webb, But Loses Life in the Rapids.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 17.—August Sporer, an 18-year-old boy of this city, drowned yesterday in the whirlpool rapids after a gallant battle with the waves between the two lower bridges and the pool.

With three companions, Sporer went for a swim in the river at the former Maid of the Mist landing. He struck out at once for the middle of the stream and then turned toward the bridges. His companions called to him to turn back, for the current is very swift at that point, but he kept on down-stream, and was caught in the great sweep, the first break from the smoother waters to the rapids.

The boy struggled for a time against the current, then realizing that he was beyond human help, and was to be carried through the rapids, which took the life of Capt. Webb and which have resisted every unaided human effort at passing, he deliberately turned downstream and began a grim fight for life.

Beat Capt. Webb's Record.

Not in all the history of the river has such a brave effort been witnessed. Although but a frail boy, he went into the rapids swimming strongly and held his own until he struck the giant wave which curls up opposite the Old Battery elevator. Then he went under and for a second was lost to the sight of the score of persons who stood on the lower arch bridge.

Again and again he disappeared, only to reappear each time fighting desperately against the terrible current. Then when within 300 yards of the whirlpool, his strength gave out and he sank and was lost to view.

Even then he had swum perhaps 100 yards further than the great English swimmer, Capt. Webb.

The body can now be seen in the whirlpool, where river men are waiting for it to be brought in toward shore far enough to be recovered.

SINGER ESTATE CASE CONCLUDED

Mrs. Singer and Edward T. Singer Divide Property Equally.

Mrs. Evelyn Singer, widow of the late Walter H. Singer, and Edward T. Singer, his brother, will each get half of the $66,000 Singer estate, according to the final decree in the matter filed in the probate court yesterday afternoon. This marks the wind up of a long-drawn-out controversy between the parties named over the estate.

The property of Mr. Singer consisted of real estate and personal property in Isle Royale and Duluth, several boats and their equipment. When the case first started, Mrs. Singer charged her brother-in-law with confiscating certain papers belonging to the estate, with intent to defraud her. These charges were withdrawn, and Mrs. Singer presented a claim for $15,000 against the estate, and Edward T. Singer presented a claim for $2,000. Both these were settled. A hearing was held some months ago before Judge Middlecoff in the district courtroom, and the decree entered yesterday was the result.

WILLIAM WINTER QUITS THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

New York, Aug. 17.—William Winter, dean of American dramatic critics, has severed his connection with the New York Tribune, which he accepted in 1875 at the invitation of Horace Greely. His resignation was announced yesterday in the following statement by Hart Lyman, the editor:

"Mr. Winter has resigned entirely of his own accord and much to my regret, and I have no reason to expect that he will reconsider his decision.

"I thought it right not to publish part of the large amount of the matter he wrote for the Sunday Tribune of Aug. 8. Mr. Winter did not agree with me, and his resignation followed."

WANTS EXHIBITS FOR STATE FAIR

A. B. Hostetter Issues Call to Farmers of the County.

A. B. Hostetter, who has charge of arranging the agricultural exhibit from this county for the state fair is anxious that grains, vegetables and grasses, as well as fruits, be sent in from all parts of the county, so that the exhibit may be thoroughly representative of this section of the state.

He will receive shipments any time up to Aug. 29. They should be addressed to him at the Y. M. C. A. He wants any kind of grain, threshed or unthreshed, but it must have been grown this year. The unthreshed grain should be tied up in neat bundles, and not more than two quarts of each variety of threshed grain is necessary.

Potatoes will be received in bushel or half-bushel lots. Mr. Hostetter lays particular emphasis upon the fact that the exhibit is not to be a Commercial club or a Duluth affair. It is for the whole county, as much for one part as for the other.

The Commercial club has been instrumental in having men in different parts of the county appointed to receive exhibits, but there are several sections not reached in this manner, and these should send the produce and grains direct to Mr. Hostetter at the Y. M. C. A. Among those appointed are A. W. Corwin, Aurora and vicinity; F. B. Myers, Biwabik and vicinity; H. L. Giffin, Hibbing and vicinity; W. A. McCurdy, Ely and vicinity; J. Mobroten, Forbes and vicinity; Erick Nellvark, Embarrass and vicinity; L. A. Barnes, West Duluth and vicinity.

CURES LEPROSY BY MEANS OF X-RAY

American Health Authorities Are Experimenting in the Philippines.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The X-Ray as a cure for some cases of leprosy has been demonstrated by the American health authorities in the Philippines, according to Dr. Victor G. Heiser, chief quarantine officer in the islands.

Dr. Heiser, in a report to Surgeon General Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service, says the X-Ray is suitable only for specially selected cases, and is valuable apparently only in the early stages. San Lazaro hospital at Manila was the first institution in the world to use the X-Ray for leprosy treatment.

Official figures show that on March 31, 1909, there were 2,446 lepers in the Philippines, segregation having reduced by more than 1,000 the number of cases during the last two years. At the beginning of the American occupation eleven years ago, there were nearly 4,000 lepers.

Americans perfected the establishment for lepers on the island of Culion in 1906. It is estimated that under the Spanish regime 700 new cases developed every year. At the present time the number of new cases averages 300 yearly.

"TEMPER OF CHUMS" BREAKS IN CHICAGO HOT WAVE.

Two men were shot during saloon brawls and several attempted suicides were reported.

ONE TROUBLE WITH DULUTH.

There is matter in the communication signed "B. H. S.", which appears on this page, that calls for serious consideration by those who are studying the situation in order to find out why it is that with all its advantages and prospects, Duluth does not grow faster.

There is something sadly wrong when the producers of a neighbor section like the Deerwood country refuse to ship their produce to Duluth, but instead ship it to Fargo, a town half again as far away. According to this correspondent, these farmers say that they are not given as good prices in Duluth as they are in Fargo, though the retail prices here are certainly high enough here; that payment for goods shipped to Duluth is delayed thirty to sixty days while Fargo pays promptly, cash on the nail; and that Duluth commission men unfairly mulct the shippers for alleged damage claims for spoiled goods.

Now these beliefs may all be unfounded, and they may be partly or entirely true. In either event they form something requiring investigation. If they are untrue the fact should be disclosed, and an effort made to induce farmers in the country naturally tributary to Duluth to ship their goods to the market that ought to receive all of them. If they are true they should be corrected, even if it is necessary for the Commercial club to start up a commission house that will deal fairly with its patrons.

Duluth consumers should be given the opportunity to profit by the saving in freight and express rates involved in furnishing the local market from near-by points. Something is grievously wrong when any considerable part of the produce grown near by is shipped to more distant markets instead of to Duluth; and the wrong hurts both the consumer in Duluth and the producer in the country.

If is a wrong, furthermore, that ought to be righted at once. It is a matter that the Commercial club might well assign to one of its committees for investigation.

The Herald will be glad to do anything in its power, because it wants to see the Duluth market open to all the produce grown within a distance short enough to make this its natural market. The only way it can be investigated is to have the farmers themselves relate their experiences with shipments to Duluth, and The Herald's "Open Court" department furnishes a medium for them to get their grievances to the public if they have any.

Duluth ought to be prized by every farmer living within a couple of hundred miles as a good market; and when the farmers less than a hundred miles away are found avoiding Duluth and shipping their goods 150 miles away to another market it is a situation that demands consideration and such action as that consideration dictates.

BASEBALL AS AN INDUSTRY.

The average man views baseball solely as a sport. Yet that it has its industrial side is evident from a moment's thought, and the fact is further emphasized by the interesting statistics that in 1908 over 30,000,000 people paid more than $10,000,000 to witness the games of fifty-two baseball leagues, with their 416 teams. And that year, being a year following a panic, was not a particularly good year, either; so that the figures this year are expected to pass the 40,000,000 mark.

These figures, and other interesting facts and figures, are related by Hugh C. Weir in the World Today magazine. The magnitude of the baseball enterprise is further shown by the expense account, which is treated in minute detail, even to the cost of balls and mitts. The total expense account for operation for the year 1908 is given as $6,382,500; and this does not take into account the traveling expenses of the teams, maintenance and upkeep of plants and interest on investments. The amount charged to salaries is given in round numbers as $6,000,000, while the balls used during the season represented an expenditure of $62,500. Mitts, which were formerly used only by the catcher, are now requisites of every player, and cost an average of $4 apiece. About $20,000 was paid out for bats, $100,000 for uniforms, $100,000 for shoes, $50,000 for masks and $50,000 for gloves. Other expenses, incident to traveling, are placed at $500,000 to $600,000, and hotel bills add a modest item of $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

Success in the baseball business is rewarded financially very well indeed. A good baseball player makes more than a good college professor, and there are many baseball players whose annual earnings double and treble the income of the average professor. The highest paid player is Hans Wagner of Pittsburg, who names his own price. This year he is pulling down $12,000, or about $2,000 a month for the playing season. As a side line, he is one of the proprietors of a steel plant at Carnegie, Pa. Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago "Cubs," and John J. McGraw, manager of the New York "Giants," each draw $10,000 a year.

There is no evidence in these figures that baseball is losing its hold on the affections of the American people. The figure of $10,000,000 probably doesn't cover the total cost to the country of a year's baseball, because besides the fifty-two leagues which it includes there is scarcely a town too small to boast its baseball team, and while the expenses of the amateur teams will not loom largely in comparison with the expenses of professional ball, it all costs something, and usually when the Jimtown "Hustlers" play the Oskaloosa "Terrors" admission is charged and the home folks turn out in large numbers.

And it is money well spent, too. Thousands of men leading sedentary lives, who get their sport vicariously by attending baseball games, must depend upon their afternoon in the bleachers for most of their contact with the reviving outdoor air. The sport is clean, wholesome and fascinating, and no matter how much it costs, the country is vastly the better for it.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

Nowadays people are no longer contented to live in unclean, unbeautiful and insanitary cities. They want their cities made clean, wholesome, beautiful and pleasant to live in. The campaign to this end is active the country over, and it is effective; but there is yet much work to do.

F. W. Fitzpatrick in the Construction magazine tells interestingly what the Canadian city of Toronto has done along these lines: "It would be a splendid object lesson, and incentive to do things right and well, an eye-opener, if more of us could visit Toronto. There we would find practice, not merely precept, and we would also see the advantages of doing things right always instead of by spasmodic jerks. That city needs no reformatory preaching and exhortation; there is no occasion for its women to go out and clean the streets. Pretty nearly everything there is not only being done right, but has been done so for many a year. The people are used to it, they see no reason for the astonishment of their visitors. Cleanliness and good sense seem to come naturally to them.

"The streets are thoroughly cleaned, and moreover the people help to keep them so by not littering them and throwing garbage, waste paper and what not in them. The stores are clean, the hotels even unto their kitchens and sculleries, the shops, everything, meats and foods for sale, are under glass, vegetables are not piled upon the sidewalks for customers and dogs to paw over or otherwise defile. The cleanliness of the city is attractive and hygienic. There are not the usual unsightly and monotonous rows of houses with filthy back yards and a dozen blades of sickly grass in front; each family has its home, with some lawn and flowers all about it, behind as well as in front. There may be few millionaires' palaces, but there are attractive and substantial and most artistic homes galore, homes of a happy, contented, cleanly people; not a city that has been forcibly scrubbed up here and there for one special occasion or because the best element in that city can no longer stand the accustomed filth, but a clean city that was clean yesterday and the day before, and because all its people are clean and will stand nothing else. Undoubtedly there is no more satisfying and attractive and clean city upon this continent—and probably any other continent—than is Toronto. We may have to consult sanitarians and skilled scavengers as to how we are to remove the outer coating, but it is to Toronto that we should go for lessons as to how to stay clean."

What better advertisement could Toronto have than that? What ideal of city-making is more worth having in mind than that? It is not quite comfortable to be compelled to go beyond the national boundary for an example to follow, but since that is where it is, the almost negligible boundary between this country and Canada shouldn't make the object lesson any the less valuable.

GOVERNMENT ICE-MAKING.

Ice consumers everywhere—and ice dealers everywhere, too—will be interested in present government experiments in making ice for the use of the various departments at Washington.

Consumers will be interested because there is such a margin between what they are paying for ice and what it is costing the government, and ice dealers because the discrepancy is likely to create awkward questioning.

The postoffice department at Washington has a complete ice-making department, and it is turning out more ice than it can use. Secretary McVeagh of the treasury department has been taking on some of the surplus, and the treasury department is paying the postoffice department just what it costs—65 cents a ton.

As the treasury department uses a ton of ice in its water-coolers every twenty-four hours, and as it has been paying private dealers $7.65 per ton, the saving of $7 per ton makes an annual economy of about $2,300.

This is at the rate of thirty pounds of ice for a cent, 150 pounds for 5 cents, 300 pounds for 10 cents, and 750 pounds for a quarter. Private consumers pay more than that.

This, of course, is artificial ice, which seems to be cheaper than ice cut out of lakes and streams. Down in Jacksonville, Fla., manufacturers of artificial ice are retailing their product at 15 cents per 100 pounds, and making a satisfactory profit at that figure. There doesn't appear any reason why ice should cost much more to make in Chicago or Boston or New York or even Duluth than it costs in Washington or Jacksonville, and unless there is something radically wrong with the government's cost figures the experiment affords hope that some time the average consumer will benefit from modern developments in ice-making. Of course the consumer cannot hope to do as well as the government. While the report does not state what items enter into the cost of 65 cents per ton, in all probability the department forgot to estimate interest on its plant, depreciation and other things that private dealers must figure in to make their business successful. Probably, too, labor cost is not figured as closely as the private dealer must figure it. But even with these items, ice to consumers might be made very much cheaper than it is. However, delivery of ice in large quantities is a very different matter from delivering such quantities as the average household consumes. The latter involves expensive systems for delivery and collection, all of which expense must be added in figuring the cost. Still, even with these items included, and a generous allowance for profit, that difference between 65 cents a ton and $7.65 per ton is a very wide margin out of which the consumer ought ultimately to derive some benefit.

Have you ordered your aeroplane yet?

Now that you have thought it over, what is your candid opinion of "revision of the tariff by its friends"?

Incidentally, this might be a good time for the Spanish theater managers to institute a revival of "Othello."

"Pittsburg Not So Hot" is the title of an editorial in the Pittsburg Dispatch. Yes, they do say there is a hotter place.

SHUN DULUTH MARKET.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I was out in the vicinity of Deerwood last week, and I was surprised, in talking to farmers and truck gardeners, to learn of the light in which they view—or do not view—Duluth as a market for their products. Only one man in the Bay Lake district, as far as I could learn, is shipping produce to Duluth; the others ship to Fargo and the Twin Cities.

Of course, there is a reason for the discrimination against Duluth on the part of the farmers, and the commission men furnish it. They not only do not encourage the Bay Lake farmers to ship to Duluth, the farmers say, but they actually discourage it by treatment tending to create a prejudice against Duluth in the minds of the shippers.

The farmers say that if they ship their produce to Duluth they must wait from thirty to sixty days for their money; and, shipping to Fargo, a much greater distance, they receive their money on the third day after the goods are shipped. They claim, also, that the Duluth commission men use unfair methods in settling for goods, claiming damage and poor quality when it is practically certain that none exists.

It seems to me the commission men should treat their Duluth patrons more fairly. The Deerwood products are as fine as can be obtained on the market—much better, in fact, than can be shipped in here from Southern Minnesota and other states. I should think the margin of profit would be just as large, for when I left here berries were selling at 18 and 20 cents a pint, and at Deerwood the growers were receiving but $2 for a case of twenty-four pints.

There must be some reason for the discrimination against the nearby produce growers. Perhaps the commission men have combinations with certain other people which induces them to favor districts other than that in the immediate vicinity of Duluth. While people are trying to encourage the development of the agricultural resources of this section of the state, the commission men are retarding it, and something should be done to make them see the error of the course.

Duluth, Aug. 17. B. H. S.

TREAT ALL ALIKE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Have been interested in the trouble between E. E. Esterley and the city police department concerning the obstructing of Superior street by Mr. Esterley by allowing his automobile and horse and carriage to stand in front of his place of business.

On behalf of Mr. Esterley would like to say a few words in regard to the partiality shown by the police department. All day long delivery wagons stand in front of grocery stores along the street where traffic is most heavy and make a much more ungainly looking sight than a neat appearing automobile, and this has been done for years past, but nothing was ever done to stop it.

Why can't the delivery wagons be loaded in the alley, the same as the American Express company?

If Esterley and other business men are prohibited from allowing their vehicles to stand on Superior street, why are other merchants allowed to do so?

I do not wish to be understood as a knocker against the police department, but should like to see all parties treated alike, and do away with this favoritism. Yours truly, A. F.

Still Fighting Postal Banks.

Chicago News: President Taft is committed to the policy of establishing the postal savings bank system in the near future. So is the Republican party.

It is understood that the president will urge congress at its approaching regular session to pass legislation bringing postal savings banks into existence. Speaker Cannon, of course, knows of the intentions of the president. With his usual adroitness he seeks to circumvent the chief executive and insure the continuance of his policy of reactionary opposition to everything of a progressive nature.

In naming the committees of the present congress Speaker Cannon has put at the head of the postoffice committee Representative Weeks of Massachusetts, said to be violently hostile to postal savings banks. To give the place to Weeks the speaker was obliged to ignore the rule of seniority by passing over the member of the committee supposedly in line for promotion.

Perhaps it is just as well that Speaker Cannon has shown his hand thus early. His effort to defeat the popular will and circumvent the president may be the action necessary to stir up the storm that will overwhelm the reactionary group.

New Superstitions of the Sea.

George Jean Nathan in Harper's Weekly: With the advent of wireless telegraphy there has come a superstition that bad news may be warded off if the mast that is a part of the apparatus is painted thrice with the palm of the hand.

"Go and ask the cook"—a seaman's inevitable reply to all irrelevant questions—has been elaborated in the last year to "Go and ask the cook's sister," and it is related that Capt. Turner of the Lusitania went so far recently as to alter the time-honored reply to "Go and ask the ship's cat."

A minister aboard ship has always been taken as a "Jonah sign," by seamen. In recent years, however, this superstition has been modified to a certain extent. A young minister, the seamen believe, will not bring as much of a "Jonah" with him as an old one.

Men on the sailing vessels have always held that scraping or scratching the mainmast would bring a long period of good weather. Men on the huge modern steam vessels now similarly believe that scratching a smokestack with the finger nail will insure continued fair weather.

One of the oldest sea superstitions has been connected with the flying of birds. If the birds flew high, that signified good weather; if they skimmed the water, that meant bad weather. There is gradually spreading among the seamen a superstition that, if an animal is aboard the vessel, bad weather may be deferred—even if the birds are flying close to the water—if the head of the animal is pointed aft and is held in that direction for some time.

Fakes In Art.

Washington Star: "As there are few real judges of literature, so there are few real judges of painting. Put in the average reader's hand a book by an unknown writer and he will be quite unable—he will even be afraid—to say whether the work is good or bad. Put before the millionaire collecter an unsigned painting and he, too, will be at sea. Hence the feeblest canvas of an unrecognized and starving genius, fresh and beautiful from the studio, fetches at most a few dollars.

J. Raphael Nichols, the well-known expert of Chicago, paused to take breath.

"I heard a dealer talking to a painter and sculptor the other day," he said. "His talk sounded absurd and wicked. After all, though, is it wicked to dupe our millionaire collectors? They are duping us when they profess a knowledge of art that they don't possess.

"'Got that bust thrown back on your hands, eh?' said the dealer to the artist. 'I don't wonder at it. Your bust lacks dignity and classic grandeur. Your pictures lack mellowness and the rich bloom of true color. Tell you what to do. Cut the bust's nose off, chop away part of the chin, dent the head here and there, pour acid all over it, and bury it in your garden for two months. It'll go then as an antique. And as for your last landscape, you'd better rub it all over with brown. Slap on a lot of varnish, and put it up the kitchen chimney a few weeks. I shouldn't wonder if I worked it off for a Sebastian Van Fayk.'"

THE WEATHER.

The showers did not come last evening, and today broke clear and warm. During the morning it became partly cloudy, and the weather man looks for showers tonight or tomorrow. A year ago today it was clear and cool. The sun rose this morning at 5:08 and will set this evening at 7:16, making fourteen hours and eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Barometric depressions that moved their centers from Western Dakotas to Missouri and from the eastern lake region to the Virginia coast, respectively, during the past twenty-four hours, caused very high temperatures in Central states, and light to heavy showers or thunderstorms over Manitoba, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, Tennessee, Atlantic and East Gulf states. New York city reports a twenty-four-hour rainfall amounting to 5.04 inches. Cooler weather prevails to the northward of Colorado due to an increase in pressure which attends a high barometer area central over Idaho. Indications favor scattered showers at the Head of the Lakes during tonight or Wednesday."

Money for the Crops.

Philadelphia Record: The harvest season calls for a large increase in the use of currency, because the crops of a year have to be paid for in three months. It calls especially for a large increase in the amount of small bills, because they are required in settling with the farm hands and at country stores. If the farmers universally had bank accounts they could be paid in checks, and in this respect a few years have made a great change. In fifteen years there has been a great increase in the number of farmers to whom it is convenient to receive the proceeds of their crops in checks and drafts. But even these farmers must have far more currency than usual in order to pay the wages of their men and pay the dealers for their supplies.

Our currency system affords no convenient means of increasing the volume of the currency quickly and reducing it as quickly after the special need has passed. The asset currency of Canada affords such means, and the volume of the circulation increases and decreases, just as regularly as the harvests come and go. The emergency currency of Germany answers the same purpose, and has been further liberalized in the past year. The Aldrich measure of a year or two ago purported to accomplish the same thing here, but its value has not been demonstrated; it does facilitate the increase of the currency, but still fails to introduce the required element of elasticity.

In the Cold, Gray Dawn.

I dreamed that I dwelt on an isle of cracked ice,
In the midst of a lake of champagne,
Where loomed the mint juleps in meadows of green,
Amid showers of lithia rain.
I reclined on a divan of lager beer
foam,
With a pillow of froth for my head,
While the spray from a fountain of sparkling gin fizz
Descended like dew on my head.
From far-away mountains of crystalline ice,
A zephyr refreshing and cool
Came wafting the incense of sweet
muscatel
That sparkled in many a pool.
My senses were soothed by the soft purling song of a brooklet of bousse cafe
That rippled along over pebbles of snow
To a river of absinthe frappe.
Then, lulled by the music of tinkling glass
From the schooners that danced on the deep,
I dreamily sipped a highball or two
And languidly floated asleep.
And then I awoke on a bed of rocks,
With a bolster as hard as a brick,
A wrench in my neck, a rack in my head,
And a stomach detestably sick.
With sand in my eyes and grit in my throat,
Where the taste of last evening still clung,
And felt a bath towel stuffed in my mouth,
Which I afterward found was my tongue;
And I groped for the thread of the evening before
In a mystified maze of my brain,
Until a great light burst upon me at last—
I'm off of the wagon again.

Growing In Strength.

Cambridge Independent-Press: Governor Johnson seems to be still dear to the hearts of the people of the Northwest as indicated by the hearty welcome accorded him along the line of travel during his Western trip. At all stations where stops were made, large delegations appeared to greet Minnesota's chief executive and applauded his remearks to the echo. The governor, ever popular in his own state, grows in strength throughout the country and the indications at present would seem to be that Minnesota will furnish the next candidate for president on the Democratic ticket.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: There will be no extra demand for handkerchiefs because Harry Thaw has been sent back to the insane asylum. That is a good safe place for men of his type.

Two Harbors Iron News: The council has acted wisely in providing a market place for the products raised by the farmers of the vicinity. The home farmer should be encouraged in every possible way. Brainerd Dispatch: Sixty old soldiers have died at the state home within the last year. The time is near at hand when the members of the "old guard" will be few and far between, and not many years will pass until the last of the veterans will have passed to their reward in the great beyond.

Winona Independent: The sane Fourth has cut down the death rate, but how is the toll of the swimming hole and of the tool that rocks the boat to be reduced.

Princeton Union: The almighty dollar tells us that in God we trust, but many a man never gives the Lord a thought so long as he has a dollar in his pocket. When he is "busted" he begins to pray.

Red Wing Republican: Walter Wellman again announces that he will start for the North Pole soon. When Walter gets out of range of a long distance telephone call, wire us.

Anoka Free Press: C. B. Miller failed to land on the house committee on rivers and harbors. Whether Cannon's failure to give Miller this appointment was due to Miller's opposition to Cannon in the caucus last spring has not been made public, but it would not be a difficult task to detect some connection between the two incidents.

St. Peter Herald: Just now the Republican party in Minnesota is in a queer predicament. If it is to applaud the seven Republican congressmen who voted against the Payne bill, how is it to indorse President Taft, who attached his signature to the bill?

Roseau Region: England has a tariff for revenue only; it taxes sixteen different articles. Our present tariff is for profit. It contains over 4,000 different rates of duty.

Mille Lacs Pioneer: The "insurgents" failed to partake of the Taft taffy dinner. They showed good taste in declining.

To Tax Deadly Weapons.

Manchester Union: One of the things that has perplexed congress at this extra session has been the certain provision for revenue sufficient to meet the growing federal expenditures. In public affairs, experience has demonstrated the inability to retrench, and the ease with which expenses are increased. It was this perplexity that led to the proposition for an income tax that was not incorporated into the senate bill, and of the incorporation tax that was incorporated. Last week Congressman Sisson of Mississippi introduced a revenue proposition of merit that might have prevailed had it been advanced early in the session. Much can be said in its favor. It proposed a tax upon every deadly weapon and every cartridge sold or manufactured in this country. This is the practical way of securing the revenue and on the theory that the consumer always pays the tax, the burden would be widely distributed. The schedule calls for a specific tax of $2 on pistols, dirk knives, sword canes, stilettos, brass or metallic knuckles, and similar weapons with the addition of 35 per cent ad valorem.

On cartridges of .22-caliber or under it proposes a tax of one-tenth of a cent on each cartridge, and on cartridges over .22-caliber the rate proposed is one-fifth of 1 cent each. Weapons or cartridges sold to the Federal government or to the various state governments for the militia are exempted.

Teach the Children to Swim.

New York Evening Mail: The present summer has brought forth no bit of reading more distressing than the report of Supt. Longefillow of the United States volunteer life saving service for the month of June. According to his document there were 1,126 drownings in the United States and 106 in Canada in that one month as against 621 in the United States and eighty-one in Canada in the month of May.

In the state of New York during the thirty days of June 114 persons met death by drowning, fifty-two of whom were children. The drownings in Pennsylvania numbered ninety-eight, of whom fifty-seven were below the age of 21. Massachusetts reported eighty-one cases and Illinois sixty-one.

These figures tell a heatrending tragedy of the bathing season. How many of those who lost their lives in our rivers, lakes and canals might have been saved had they been able to swim no one can say, but the figures as to the ages of the victims indicate that a large proportion were children and presumably unable to take care of themselves in the water. There is ineffable regret in the thought that many of them might still be among the living had they been instructed in youth in one of the simplest and most healthful of outdoor recreations.

The art of swimming is so easily mastered that there is little or no excuse for ignorance of it in any community bordering a lake, a pond or a stream, be it large or small. It is as graceful as dancing and tenfold more wholesome; as stimulating as tennis and far less difficult to do well. One might almost wish that there were attached to every school, public and private, a fully equipped swimming pool in which, under capable instructors, lessons in swimming should be compulsory on every pupil.

DISCOVERY OF PLATINUM

In Detola and Laurentian Gold Mines in Ontario Reported.

Iron Said to Have Been Found East of Dinorwic.

Mine Center, Ont., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is great xcitement at Gold Rock, in the Manitou lake district, north of here, over the reported discovery of platinum in the Detola and Laurentian gold mines.

The Detola gold mine is under development by a company having its headquarters in Toledo, Ohio. The Laurentian mine is the pet enterprise of the noted Anthony Blum of Boston. Recently Charles J. Reuscher of Toledo, visited the Detola mine in company with a couple of noted metallurgists from Germany. During their examination of the ores at the Detola mine, these skilled scientists surprised their clients by announcing that platinum in paying quantities existed in the gold ores of both mines.

Mine owners and prospectors around Gold Rock are working overtime in reading up on platinum and other rare metals, and if this alleged discovery proves to be founded on fact, there will be an excitement and activity heretofore unknown in the gold fields of Western Ontario.

One thing that makes local people take stock in this new find is the fact that the Ontario scientists, conected with the bureau of mines, for many years have continually and persistently urged the prospectors to keep their eyes open for new and rare minerals. Some interesting traces of rare and valuable minerals have been found, but never in place and quantity. Men of high standing have expressed the opinion that diamonds might be discovered at any time in the northern wilds of Canada, for splendid specimens of the precious stones have been found in the moraines in the states south of Ontario, particularly Wisconsin, and the natural inference is that they came from Canada.

The Laurentian Mine.

Mining in the Manitou is lively. Several properties are under development. The Laurentian gold mine, after being put through all sorts of paces in the past twelve years by Anthony Blum, is said really to be a remarkable property and one bound to wake up all Western Ontario when plans for it are worked out fully and the results secured. There is a shoot of ore in this mine of wonderful richness and on the strength of which literally hundreds of thousands of dollars have been secured from the investing public. A 20-stamp mill has been operated and without encroaching on the rich bodies, a very heavy bullion production has been the result. The main shaft is down nearly 500 feet and an expert who recently inspected the property as a matter of private interest and curiosity, informs your correspondent that he was amazed by the great merit shown. Mr. Blum now is engaged in raising capital for a mill of 100 stamps.

There is a great search for iron in progress all through Western Ontario. The discoveries between Mine Center and the old fields west of Port Arthur have been previously reported. Now comes a report that iron has been found south of the Canadian Pacific railway, tast of Dinorwic. Very recently the locality was visited by Capt. H. A. Machin, M. P. P., of Kenora, with an engineer from Trail, B. C., whose mission is supposed to have been to report on an iron property belonging to Mackenzie Bros.

The Paymaster.

George Thow has returned to Wabigoon from a visit to Kenora, and he states that machinery has been purchased for the further development of the Paymaster mine, of which he is superintendent. It also is reported that it is quite possible something will be done with Glass' Reef, belonging to George Glass and associates. Mr. Glass now is engaged in the sawmill business near Duluth.

There is a probability that the Baden-Powell gold mine near English river will be reopened. It has been closed down for some time.

There is considerable quiet work going on, under the surface, in connection with several of the old properties around Mine Center. A great many have expected that the Foley mine would be at work before this, but The Herald correspondent is able to say that nothing will be done for the present. It is surmised that plans are being perfected for operations on a scale greater than before, when the logical time arrives. A company now owns this famous mine outright and enough carefully selected claims in other sections of the Rainy river district to make an aggregate of over 1,100 acres. The Foley mine and outlying claims represent a cash outlay of about $250,000. The machinery plant cost $65,000 to install. There are nearly 3,500 feet of development. Reputable engineers report that, today, there is ore developed in the workings of a gross value of not less than $500,000. The late J. C. Foley when in charge, under very adverse conditions, made a record of better than $11 a ton by amalgamation, to say nothing of values in concentrates and very heavy tailing losses. After he lost control much development work was done, but, for some reason, no efforts were made to operate the stamp mill.

Graham & Horne, owners of the Ferguson mine, have unwatered the three shafts and a careful examination is being made by Capt. Trethewey. The present owners are wealthy men, and it is believed that they will incorporate a company to own the property and then finance it heavily.

The Golden Star mine is close to the Ferguson. It not only is filled with water and idle, but all the surface improvements have been stripped off.

The Golden Star.

Ten years ago last May, the Golden Star mine shipped $23,000 worth of bullion to Duluth, the product of one month's run with ten stamps, so the management claimed. R. A. Kerr then was superintendent. Since then he has become prominent in Duluth mining circles as an expert valuer of Western mines. A. C. Hubbell was general manager and Fred Merritt, now a stock broker in Duluth, was a bookkeeper at the mine. Thomas A. Merritt was heavily interested, as were Burgess Bros., A. E. McManus, George Randolph and others. Several profitable dividends were paid and the stock at one time sold at 80 cents per share on the Toronto stock exchange. Most of the Duluth contingent unloaded, but some of them have their stock yet. Bob Flaherty of Port Arthur was superintendent for a while, but finally control and management fell into inexperienced and incompetent hands and the enterprise completely failed. There are those who believe the property could be made to pay handsomely if not overcapitalized and in good hands.

RAISED ROADS' ASSESSMENTS.

North Dakota State Board Increases Valuations $2,665,965.

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 17.—The state board of equalization has made a substantial increase in the valuations of the roadbeds of the different railroads in this state for taxation purposes this year.

The greatest part of the raise was made on the mine lines of the trunk systems. A raise of $3,000 per mile on the Northern Pacific and Great Northern and $500 per mile on the Soo line makes the bulk of the sum, while the northern part of the Farmers' line was boosted $500 per mile.

The branch lines and the sidetracks were left at the same figure placed by board last year and the only increase in mileage was that the Northern Pacific, which constructed the cutoff around Valley City, and this was turned in at between nine and ten miles.

The exact figures for the raise in the valuation are $2,665,965, and the total assessed valuation for railroads in the state is $34,857,601.

The main line valuations per mile are: Northern Pacific, $13,000; Great Northern, $13,000; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, $7,500; Soo, $7,500; Northwestern, $6,000; Farmers' Grain & Supply, $3,500; Brandon, Devils Lake & Southern, $3,500; Devils Lake & Chautauqua, $600.

BIG PAYROLL TO BE DISTRIBUTED

Large Amount Due Railroad Men Shows Great Pickup in Times.

Escanaba, Mich., Aug. 17.—The largest payroll in the history of the Peninsula division of the Northwestern road will be distributed in Escanaba within a few days.

The company's series of pay days will open Wednesday and continue to Aug. 23, the employes of the different departments receiving their pay checks on each of the intervening days.

A general resumption of business in this district and especially in the iron trade is reflected in this month's big Northwestern payroll and unless unforseen conditions develop the prosperity which the district and the city is now enjoying will continue indefinitely.

Employes of the Northwestern road who have not worked steadily for nearly two seasons, because of slack business conditions, during the past month have been kept constantly on the jump and their activity as well as the prosperous business conditions is reflected in their heavy pay checks.

Intense Colicky Pains Relieved.

"For some years I suffered from intense colicky pains which would come on at times and from which I could find no relief," says I. S. Mason of Beaver Dam, Ky. "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me by a friend. After taking a few doses of the remedy I was entirely relieved. That was four years ago and there has been no return of the symptoms since that time." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

PUT ON COLLECTORS.

Northwestern Road Puts Check on Conductors Out of Escanaba.

Escanaba, Mich., Aug. 17.—The first fare collector placed on an Northwestern train running out of Escanaba, began work Saturday morning on train No. 10, running between this city and Watersmeet. The system of placing a collector on its passenger trains is being tried out by the Northwestern road on all of its divisions, and Saturday B. I. Fenn, formerly of the Iowa division, was placed on the Iron Mountain-Watersmeet run. The sole duty of the collector is to gather the tickets and fares of the passengers, while the conductor confines his attention to the operation of the train. The collector is in uniform similar to that of the conductor, and it is the intention of the company, if the system proves practicable, to place similar employes on all passenger trains.

Since coming to the Peninsula division the collector now running out of this city has made a tryout of the system on the run out of Crystal Falls, and for the past ten days was stationed on the run from Marquette to Michigamme, Champion and Republic.

Whether the collector will be placed on other runs out of Escanaba has not yet been announced.

Commission In Inspecting.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state railroad commission arrived in Calumet this morning in the private car of President Fitch of the South Shore for the annual inspection of the Mineral Range railroad.

SALOON MAN BACKS DOWN

Withdraws Application for License in Old Clifton Hotel.

Expected Fight Averted---The Mayor Urges Need of Storm Sewers.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Received petition from residents along London road asking new automobile regulations.

Referred traffic and automobile ordinance back to committee to consider new amendments drawn up by city attorney.

Received report of police and license committee that A. Salter had withdrawn his application for a saloon license in the Clifton hotel building.

Received request of mayor that steps be taken to provide a storm sewer on Lake avenue, and also suggested the need of such an improvement of other avenues of the city.

Granted request of the Duluth & Iron Range road to fence off two blocks of London road while overhead crossing is being built at Twenty-sixth avenue east.

The expected fight did not develop at the council meeting last evening over the application of Albert Salter for a saloon license transfer to the old Clifton hotel building on West First street, near Fourth avenue, now known as the Lincoln hotel. Mr. Salter withdrew his application, action upon which had been deferred one week by the aldermen.

When the question came up the evening of Aug. 9 there was a heated discussion among the aldermen. It was thought best to lay the matter over till the next meeting. Those opposed to the granting of the application got busy during the week, and circulated a petition against it, securing the signatures of fifty-two men doing business in the block, as compared with ten names favoring the license. Mr. Salter's name is not mentioned in the larger petition. It is against the location and not against the man.

Mayor Haven offered a communication pointing out the urgent need of storm sewers in different parts of the city, and deploring the fact that property owners are so backward about petitioning for improvements along this line. He spoke particularly of Lake avenue, and said a storm sewer should have been built there many years ago. He recommended that steps be taken at once to bring about the improvement, and that other hillside avenues be taken up in the same manner. The communication was referred to the committee on streets, alleys and sidewalks, and a resolution was adopted directing the city engineer to make an estimate of the cost of the storm sewer along Lake avenue.

The aldermen voted permission to the Duluth & Iron Range railroad to fence off that portion of London road between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-eighth avenues east for the purpose of building an overhead crossing over the tracks. F. E. House, president of the Iron Range, in making application for this permission, said that the contractor was ready to begin work at once.

By a vote of 8 to 4 the council declined to appropriate $75 to defray the expenses of Alderman McKnight as an additional delegate to the convention of the League of American Municipalities, which will be held in Montreal. M. McKnight was not present at the meeting. Mayor Haven and Alderman Jordan, president of the council, will have their expenses as delegates paid by the city, according to a vote taken a week ago.

The city engineer reported that there is no way to divert any of the water that flows into Oregon creek, at the present time, but that when the hillside avenues in that vicinity are paved and have storm sewers, the situation will be relieved. Property owners have raised the question of diverting some of the water from the creek bed, for fear a flood may damage their property.

Residents in the neighborhood of Third alley, west of Ninth avenue east, presented a petition protesting against a barn being allowed to remain at that point. The petitioners state that the building contains thirty horses, a cow and a flock of pigeons, all of which is very offensive to the people living near the place.

Skeleton Not Identified.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 17.—All hope that the skeleton found near Mellen, Wis., might be that of her missing husband has been abandoned by Mrs. Sine Anderson, 645 Reed street, and the Danish Brotherhood, which has been aiding her. A description of the remains furnished on Saturday by the Mellen police failed to tally at all with that of the missing man. The brotherhood will help Mrs. Anderson, should other clews develop.

EXTREME HEAT IN SOUTHWEST

Several Deaths Occur and Crops Suffer Much Damage From the Drought.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 17.—Unusually intense heat, officially recorded by the government weather bureau as high as 110 degs., caused at least three deaths, numerous prostrations and much damage to crops yesterday in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Throughout the Southwest the day was the most trying since the devastating drought of 1901. As the withering wind swept across the plains, much vegetation fell.

The day was the hottest Topeka has had for eight years, 102 degs. being officially recorded. Two prostrations resulted.

The last eight days in Kansas, each with a maximum temperature above 90 degs. and a minimum which has not been below 70, is the hottest period of that length of time since 1901.

Mercury at 112.

In Oklahoma City the government thermometer registered 103, while thermometers in the business district reached 112. It was the hottest day in fifteen years. Dispatches state that Oklahoma crops have been materially damaged by the sultry wind.

At Muskogee the government thermometer registered 110. This was the highest record in the three states.

A hot wind blew all day at McAlester with the temperature at 108. Vegetation there is being killed, cotton is materially damaged.

Three Dead in St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 17.—Three deaths were reported yesterday, due to the heat, among them being William A. Kenyon, a Civil war veteran, aged 64. The heat record of Sunday was reached when the thermometer registered 101 shortly after noon.

Becoming insane from the heat, Mary Kark ran for three blocks through the shopping district, screaming at the top of her voice. It required three men to overpower her.

Drought Does Damage.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 17.—All local hot weather records for this year were broken yesterday when the weather bureau reported a temperature of 103 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. There has been no rain in this section for three weeks and reports from the country are that the corn crop has already been seriously damaged and will suffer much more seriously if the heat wave and drought continues.

Hot in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 17.—Yesterday was the hottest day of the year in Arkansas. At 2 o'clock the government thermometer here registered 101. One death has been reported.

BALFOUR AGAINST RACE EQUALITY

Tells British Commons That Such Conditions Never Can Be Realized.

London, Aug. 17.—The house of commons unanimously passed the second reading of the South African constitution bill last night. In the course of the debate ex-Premier Balfour said that the house, in dealing with the question of a Constitution for the federation of South African colonies—the Tranvaal, Cape Colony, the Orange River state and Natal—was discussing one of the most important events in the history of the British empire. The bill, he declared, was a most wonderful issue from all the controversies, battles, bloodshed and difficulties to peace, and he believed that the world could not show anything like it.

No Race Equality.

The race problem, Mr. Balfour said, was but a fractional part of the great question parliament now was deciding. He strongly denied that it was intended to give the colored races equality with Europeans, declaring that so far as the government society and the higher forms of civilization were concerned, it would be impossible to give equal rights to the colored races without threatening the whole fabric of civilization.

In the opinion of Mr. Balfour, the best hope for the solution of this great problem was to place absolute and implicit confidence in the representative institutions the South Africans are now creating, and for the home government not to meddle with it. He added that he desired to do nothing that would hamper the government in carrying out a measure so essential to the future of South Africa.

Cholera Infantum Cured.

"Something like two years ago my baby, which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and purging profusely, writes J. F. Dempsey of Dempsey, Ala. I did what I could to relieve her but did her no good, and being very much alarmed about her went for a physician, but failed to find one, so came back by Elder Bros. & Carter's store and Mr. Elder recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. I procured a bottle of it, went home as quickly as possible and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It relieved her in fifteen minutes and soon cured her entirely." For sale by all druggists.

Won't You Learn How Whole Milk Tastes?

Just use Van Camp's in a milk dish once. Learn its richness and flavor. Then you will know why housewives use a hundred million cans annually.

In cooking there is no chance for prejudice against sterilized milk. For all milk becomes sterilized there.

There are many good reasons for using Van Camp's, and not a possible reason against it.

Van Camp's is immensely convenient, for you keep it in the house like flour.

And Van Camp's saves nearly half. Each penny's worth goes about twice as far as a penny's worth of milkman's milk.

All this in addition to the greater fact that here you get whole, rich milk.

No Tubercular Cows

The chief danger in raw milk lies in tubercular germs. Millions of infected cows, milked every day, are spreading consumption at a terrible rate.

That is why every authority advises sterilized milk.

Van Camp's milk is sterilized, but that isn't all. Our cows are inspected, so we know none is infected.

Our dairies are sanitary in the extreme. Our evaporating plants are built without wood. We employ every modern precaution.

The result is a milk which is utterly sterile. A milk that is safe, without a germ of any kind in it.

Rich Holstein Milk

We buy none but Holstein cows—the world's finest breed, famed for their splendid vitality.

The milk from such cows is immeasurably better for children than the milk of mongrel cows.

This milk, fresh from the cows, is placed in a vacuum. And a moderate heat, because of the vacuum, throws off the water in steam.

Thus we take out two-thirds of the water, and the milk that results is as thick as thick cream. It contains 28 per cent total solids, and 8 per cent butter fat.

We use no sugar, no starch, no preservative. Van Camp's is simply rich Holstein milk, reduced for convenience in shipping.

Six Cents Per Quart

The cost of Van Camp's, when you replace the water which we evaporate, is about six cents per quart.

The 10-cent can contains a full pint of milk reduced to the minimum. And grocers give discounts on cases.

So Van Camp's is cheaper than raw milk, because your milkman's daily delivery costs more than the milk itself.

And you have no waste when you use Van Camp's. You never have milk left over. You open a can when you want it, and it keeps till you use it up.

A Cow in the Kitchen

Van Camp's means a cow in the kitchen. Rich milk or cream for every purpose—all you want and all the time.

Add one part water for coffee or cereals. It is then like the richest cream. For cooking or drinking, reduce as you like.

Van Camp's gives to milk dishes twice the richness and flavor that you get from raw milk. For this is whole milk, with all the butter fat, all the solids in it.

In milkman's milk, the butter fat rises and the solids fall. You don't get the whole milk from any part of the can. Then you let it stand and it separates more. So the milk used for cooking is rarely more than a half-milk.

You'll be amazed at the flavor which Van Camp's gives to milk dishes. Not the slight almond flavor, due to sterilization, apparent when Van Camp's is drunk cold. You get that same flavor from milkman's milk when you heat it. The delicious flavor that Van Camp's gives to milk dishes is due to the richness, the wholeness of the milk.

Don't be Misled

If you want Holstein milk, reduced to the minimum, you will always insist on Van Camp's.

Others may claim that common milk, only partly reduced, is just as good as Van Camp's. But it isn't.

And don't think that condensed milk, which is nearly half sugar, is anything like Van Camp's. Van Camp's contains no sugar—no addition whatever.

Sugar was used to preserve milk before the days of sterilization. It is entirely unnecessary now. If you want sugar, you can buy it for half what it costs in a can of milk.

And condensed milk, because of the sugar, is unfit for cooking. You can't use it as you can Van Camp's. So, please let no one mislead you.

The 16-oz. can of Van Camp's sells for 10 cents; the 6-oz. can for 5 cents. So you get one-third more for your money in buying the larger cans. Grocers give discounts on cases. The milk is produced at our dairies, located in six states.

REHEARSING WITH LORIMER FOR "THE SHEPHERD KING"

WRIGHT LORIMER.

Watching a rehearsal conducted by Wright Lorimer is a good deal like sitting on the edge of a volcano. One does not know just what minute it will explode.

Mr. Lormier is at the present time whipping into shape a company of thirty-five actors, who comprise the cast of "The Shepherd King." It is the first time in recent years at least, that a large New York production has held its rehearsals in Duluth. "The Shepherd King" is one of W. A. Brady's chief attractions this year, and it will open its season in Duluth for a week's run at the Lyceum following "The Three Twins." That gives two weeks more for rehearsals, which were begun last Saturday, and the members of the cast are already letter perfect in their lines.

Mr. Lormier is a short nervous man, who smokes innumerable cigarettes during the rehearsals, and works in his shirt sleeves. When The Herald man tip-toed in at the stage entrance to the Lyceum, a tall, thin young man, with black hair, was making desperate love to a dark haired young woman in a shirt waist.] Mr. Lorimer was standing between them like the referee at a prize fight. "Work it up. Work it up," he shouted at the young man, who seemed to be going at top speed already.

"And I, like you, have but one ambition, one desire," said the young man, with his eyes staring at the young woman.

"I don't believe a word of it—not a word of it," interposed Mr. Lorimer. "You talk like a man dictating a business letter. Get some life into it. Love her, man, love her. And don't grab her around the neck. Get her around the waist."

Meanwhile the young woman was standing by unconcerned. She gave a sneering laugh, eluded the young man's grasp for her waist, and turning, with her head at a disdained angle, said: "I am the daughter of a king."

That didn't seem to get her much, with Lorimer, for he snapped at her like a bull pup that has been disturbed while engaged with a large juicy bone. "Don't accent 'daughter,' he shouted. "That isn't the important point. Accent the 'I' and 'king,' and pick up your cues quicker. You are spoiling the scene, and this is a beautiful little bit. You are not getting anything out of it."

The reporter expected each minute to see the tall young man grab a chair and swing on the nervous, little bundle of energy which was directing the rehearsal, but neither the man or the woman seemed in the least angered, and the other members of the cast sat about, the women quietly working at embroidery, and chatting in undertones.

"That's better, that's better," shouted Lorimer. "Remember that, now won't you, and work it up in your room before the mirror."

Soon the reporter realized the reason why the constant stream of directions, now good natured, now bitterly sarcastic, was not resented. Lorimer knew more about the work than any other person on the stage. There was not a needless suggestion made. He knew every person's part better than the actor did himself, and if he stumbled, Lorimer had his cue for him instantly. Every suggestion was an improvement, and Lorimer stuck at it until the actor got it the way he wanted it. One young man was kept saying six words for more than fifteen minutes, before he finally said them to suit his instructor, and repeated them to show it was not an accident or a mistake. The personal equation did not enter into the affair at all. Every one was eager and determined to learn, and the instructions were obeyed to the best of the actor's ability, with not a trace of resentment.

DIAZ WILL ASK TO LEAVE MEXICO

Official Recognition of His Proposed Meeting With Taft Is Given.

City of Mexico, Aug. 17.—The first official admission that President Diaz will meet President Taft next October was made by Minister of Foreign Affairs Marascal yesterday, when that official stated that all details of the event had been arranged with the exception of the granting of permission of President Diaz to leave Mexican soil. The foreign minister added that the Mexican congress would convene on Sept. 15 and that immediately after the president had read his annual message he would ask the necessary permission to visit El Paso.

The minister said there was little doubt but that this would be immediately granted.

According to information received at the department of foreign affairs, President Taft will arrive at El Paso at 9:40 on the morning of Oct. 16. President Diaz will also arrive from the City of Mexico at Ciudad Jaurez about the same time, and he will then cross the frontier and meet President Taft at El Paso. An hour later the president of the United States will return the visit to President Diaz at Ciudad Jaurez on the Mexican side.

Little Fear of War.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Mr. Dawson, the American minister to Chile, has reported his arrival at Santiago. In his telegram, Mr. Dawson says that while en route to his post, he observed that public apprehension of a war between Peru and Bolivia is rapidly disappearing.

St. Paul Man Makes a Serious Accusation Against His Wife.

Accused of Stabbing His Spouse, He Raises Novel Defense.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Instead of pleading guilty to attempted murder when arraigned before Judge Finehout Monday, Alex Tot, 1207 Rice street, openly accused his wife of having made several attempts to poison him so that she might marry a young Hungarian whom she met coming across from the old country.

Friday night Tot was arrested by Policemen Cleary and Hines of the Rondo street station, charged with stabbing his wife in the face and body. Mrs. Tot recently arrived from Hungary, and her husband claims that she has been receiving too much attention from a young Hungarian.

While returning from work at the American Grass Twine company's plant Friday night, Tot met his wife in a saloon at Geranium and Rice streets where she was said to have spent the day with the Hungarian friend. In the quarrel that followed the woman was stabbed repeatedly. She is now recovering.

Tot was defended by Attorney Thomas Newman when taken before Judge Finehout.

"Me no guilty," he yelled. "That woman's try to poison me many times so she could have the young man. Him in the house all time I am away working and my wife give him all the good things to eat. She put poison in my coffee many times and if I don't kill her she do it to me."

The case was continued for a week.

THREAD ON NAIL SERVES AS CLUE

Corresponds With Tear in Boy's Trousers and He Is Arrested.

Eau Claire, Wis., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—A few threads clinging to a nail served as a clue upon which the police yesterday arrested a young man whom they are quite sure robbed Chris Melby's saloon on Galloway street, Sunday night of a small sum of money, some liquor and bottled beer. The man arrested is no other than the son of the saloon keeper whose saloon was entered and robbed, Melvin Melby, aged 19.

The head of a nail stuck up on the bottom sill of the window of the saloon and a number of threads were found sticking to this nail. The police at once surmised that the burglar had caught the seat of his trousers thereon. They also figured that the guilty party must have had knowledge of the building and its various entrances. Later in the day it was learned that there was a trio of men holding a beer party in the park near the hospital on the North side hill and a policeman was detailed to arrest the bunch. Three men, of whom Melvin Melby was one, were found there discussing a few bottles of gin, brandy and beer.

The three were brought to the city jail, but after questioning them two were released as they could not be connected with the robbery, but young Melby was held as the seat of his trousers revealed a well developed rent such as would be made by a nail. He did not know how the rent came there but he denied robbing the saloon. He will be arraigned later.

HARD LUCK FOR A FERTILE MAN

Robbed of Money and Suit Case on Train at Havre, Mont.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—With a tale of hard luck that rivals anything ever exploited heretofore, Nick Nilson, a former Fertile, Minn., grain buyer, arrived here yesterday from Montana. While at Havre on his way here he was the victim of two robberies and besides lost valuable property by forgetting it on the train.

The first experience was the loss of $100 in cash when his pockets were picked, this occuring shortly before Havre was reached. At Havre Mr. Nilson went out to the baggage car to secure his dog. Setting his suit case on the platform to take the dog from the train he was surprised a few moments later when he found that it had been stolen. In the meantime he had failed to take two shotguns he owned from the train and they were carried out, and have not been located since.

WANTS NO CROSSING.

Northern Pacific Serves Notice on Cuyuna Road Grading Outfit.

Aitkin, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officials of the Northern Pacific Railway company have notified F. J. Mann, who holds a grading subcontract on the new Cuyuna Iron Range railway, that they will not permit any work to be done by the grading crew of the new railroad at the proposed crossing of the tracks of the Northern Pacific at Rossburg, and that all work at that point must be stopped at once.

The Cuyuna railroad people are not much worried over the situation, as it is only one of the many annoyances which a new railroad invariably encounters during the construction period. All such obstacles are met and overcome, and while the present situation may cause temporary embarrassment, it is equally certain that the difficulty will be removed and the work go steadily on.

WOULD KILL HIMSELF.

Legless Prize Fighter Prefers Death to Being Cripple.

Rhinelander, Wis., Aug. 17.—James McDonald of Cadillac, Mich., a former prizefighter, attempted to board a freight train in the Northwestern yards here and fell beneath the wheels, losing both legs. When members of the train crew rushed to his aid, McDonald begged piteously for a gun, crying: "I want to finish this job, for life doesn't look good to me now." He will probably die.

DROPS DOWN THE FALLS.

St. Cloud Woman Has Thrilling Experience in State of Washington.

St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Henry Scherfenberg of this city was seriously and perhaps fatally injured recently by falling over Whatcom Falls, near Bellingham, Wash. Mrs. Scherfenberg is 72 years of age and her advanced years militate against her recovery.

Mrs. Scherfenberg is on a visit to relatives in Bellingham. Sunday afternoon in company with a number of friends she went to see the falls. While attempting to walk across some slippery rocks near them her foot slipped and she fell headlong to the jagged rocks below. It seemed as though she were falling to instant death, but the high water fortunately broke the force of her fall. She landed on a log, where she lay with the terrible force of the turbulent water beating against her until rescue came.

A dispatch received in this city states that it is not known whether Mrs. Scherfenberg will recover from her injuries or not.

AITKIN FAIR TO BE FINE AFFAIR

Best Agricultural and Other Exhibits Are to Be Made.

Aitkin, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officials of the county fair are hustling to make the 1909 fair the largest and best ever held in Aitkin county. The drouth in June and July made the prospects unpromising, but the recent warm moist weather has boosted root and grain crops amazingly. Some fine agricultural exhibits will be the result.

Will Marsh of Cutler will have a splendid exhibit representing Hazelton township and will make a bid for first prize, which is a $40 cash premium.

Prof. A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids will judge divisions A and B, horses and cattle, and Prof. C. P. Bull of St. Anthony Park will judge divisions F and G, grain and grasses and vegetables. The fair management has engaged the opera house for Friday evening, Sept. 17, and Professors McGuire and Bull will there conduct a meeting that will be both instructive and entertaining. This meeting will be for the benefit of those from the country in attendance at the fair and others interested in agriculture.

A committee consisting of B. L. Hollister, W. F. Gwathmey and J. B. Gilmore will take charge of the amusements and sports, and a fine program is now being arranged and will be announced later. There will be horse racing, automobile races, bicycle races, a ball game, shooting match, balloon ascension and many other fine attractions. Those wishing to enter horses or autos in any of the contests should communicate with the committee at once.

HEMLOCK LOGS FOR PULP.

Northern Wisconsin Mills Are Negotiating for a Supply.

New Richmond, Wis., Aug. 17.— Negotiations are pending between the pulp mill interests operating plants in Ashland, Eau Claire, and other northern Wisconsin points and the Willow River Lumber company for a portion of the hemlock logs of the cut by the company along the line of its railroad, the Superior & Southeastern in Bayfield and Ashland counties.

The Soo line is taking an active interest in the deal, and if consummated some extensions will be made along its Ashland branch to handle the traffic. the hemlock is wanted particularly for pulp mills at Ashland and Eau Claire. The Willow River Lumber company will not in any event sell but a portion of its cut each year and will deliver the logs on board cars.

The deal will not interfere in any way with the operation of the Willow River sawmill in this city as the stumpage sought can be handled to better advantage over the Soo line, while the local mill secures its supply of logs by rail over the Omaha.

TACKLED WRONG MAN.

Jamestown, N. D., Pickpocket Made Mistake in "Touching" an Indian.

Jamestown, N. D., Aug. 17.—A bold pickpocket attempted to get in some fine work on the depot platform after the arrival of No. 4. J. C. Baine, a full-blooded Indian arriving from Wakpala, S. D., en route to visit some relatives at Oberon, was the first and last victim and it is understood the beating the pickpocket got from the Indian will make him unable to continue his light fingered work for several days.

After the arrival of the train Mr. Baine started to rthe Gladstone hotel and at the west side of the lunch room, near the short-cut, a hobo attempted to release Baine's watch from his pocket. When Baine realized what was being done he made a dash for the pickpocket and gave him a hard beating before he could get away. The big Indian is a student from the University of Carlisle, who has been working in the West this year on the new extension of the Milwaukee road as a civil engineer.

International Falls, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—M. E. Trumer of Minneapolis visited here en route home from Northwestern Canada, where he has been looking after his real estate interests.

Mr. Trumer was formerly townsite agent at this place and was naturally greatly interested in the changes that the past year has brought. Even seven years ago when he first became interested in International Falls, Mr. Trumer was extremely optimistic as to the future of the place, and while he is not surprised at the size and substantial nature of the development work being done and the general prosperity of the town, he is naturally greatly pleased, as it is another confirmation of the soundness of his judgment.

Ishpeming Man, Face to Face With Bear, Retreats.

Ishpeming, Mich., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—While in the woods north of the city one night recently, George Culbert had the novel experience of coming face to face with a big black bear. The horses, which were in a barn about 100 feet distant from the camp, were stamping and snorting, and Mr. Culbert got out to see what the trouble was.

As he approached the stable he came upon the bear. He lost no time in returning to the camp for a gun, but when he came out again bruin was not in sight.

THEY HAD COMBINATION.

So Considerate, Burglars Just Opened Perham Safe and Took Cash

Perham, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Talk about your considerate burglars, Perham has just had an experience that indicates the disciples of Lord Chesterfield and other authorities on politeness are not all dead.

The safe in William Lange's saloon was relieved of its cash contents, $65, last night, and the treasure box was not blown either. The thoughtful burglars were in possession of the combination, or the safe had not been locked, for they opened it, removed the coin, shut the door and locked it again. When Mr. Lange opened the safe yesterday to take out the money for the day's business he was horrified to find only emptiness where he was sure there had been bills Saturday night. Some one familiar with the combination probably turned the trick, and the police have some suspects in view.

I Cured My Rupture

I Will Show You How To Cure Yours FREE!

I was practically helpless and bed-ridden for many years from a double rupture. I wore innumerable different kinds of trusses and appliances. Some of them were tortures, some positively dangerous, and none would hold the rupture in its proper place. The doctor told me I could not expect to have it entirely healed unless I would consent to a surgical operation. I fooled them all, however, and cured myself completely and permanently by a simple method which I discovered. Anyone can use it, and I will gladly send the cure free by mail to anyone who writes for it. Fill out the coupon below and mail it to me today. I will send the cure by return mail, postpaid.

.415	Superior	.404

Of course we won. Duluth 4; Superior 3.

It is very hard to take a game from Superior over in the railroad yard. It is even harder to take a game when Mr. Wheeler, formerly pitcher for Superior, is umpiring. But we did it, and the Sox deserve special credit for the feat of yesterday.

How did we do it? This way. After smiling Pete Neelan and Patriot O'Brien had been retired in the first inning, young Mister Breen hit the Reach for three sacks. McCrone drew four that were not to the liking of Umps Wheeler and promptly stole second. King Kohl left the bench at 3:45. At 3:48 he hit for two sacks, and two runs were over the pan. Again—long live the King.

In the fourth one more score was shunted around the infield. Merry McCrone was the first man up and he singled. King Kohl flew to Caldwell and Old Scout Zackert got a life when Caldwell dropped his sky offering. Taylor struck out, but fat Lew Drill dropped the third strike and while he was throwing Thomas out at first, McCrone made a dash for the third plate. Geelon made a fast return of the ball, but Mac slid over with the third run of the game.

'Twas in the sixth that the run that proved sufficient to send the Drillers lower into the basement of despondency was sent over the plate. Breen hit the ball far into deep center and Dolly Gray made a mess of judging the ball. When Dolly got his digits on the ball Breen was anchored at second. McCrone was retired on an infield hit, but King Kohl got his second hit and Breen was pushed along to third. Philip Stremmel, honest German, with good intentions, threw to first to catch the King. Mister Geelon heaved to second, but there was nobody there, and Breen came across and Kohl registered at third.

The Drillers scored their first in the second half of the first frame. Gray flew to Tom Taylor and Caldwell hit for one and stole on the Baron, something that is not often done in this league. Geelon singled, sending Caldwell to third. McCrone made a throw to catch Caddy at third, and the boy with the shapely limbs crossed the pan on the wild heave. Shaub and Koepping went out on infieldofferings.

In the fifth the Drillers got real nasty, and scored two runs, tieing the score, much to the delight of the few in the bleachers. Lew Drill struck at three where they were not. Bancroft drew four that Wheeler couldn't see, and went to third on Stremmel's single. Gray singled, scoring Bancroft and Stremmel, who had gone to second on the first ball pitched to Gray. Caldwell singled and Gray attempted to come across the Congo. He was nipped at the plate by Orator O'Brien.

Lew Drill hit for two in the ninth, but the agony was ended by the other two hitters going out. This afternoon the Drillers will cross the bay and battle with the Sox in a real baseball park. Away from their own ball yard the Drillers are not known as dangerous characters. Today will be the last chance to watch the Sox until after their return from the four-game series at Wausau.

Below you will find another reason why we are going to win the flag:

Sharp Fielding By Lumberjacks Keeps Outcasts From Scoring.

Wausau, Wis., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lumberjacks took the second game of the series from La Crosse by the score of 4 to 1. La Crosse had runners on third in the first five innings of the game, but sharp fielding by the locals kept the Outcasts from sending them across. Although Schieffer was hit rather freely, he kept the hits scattered and pitched himself out of several holes. Two sensational running catches by Everett and Bourgeois were the fielding features of the game. Score: R. H. E.

PHILADELPHIA NOW IN THE LEAD

But Twenty-One Points Separate Three Teams in American League.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Philadelphia defeated Washington handily yesterday, thereby again taking the lead in the American league. The score was 6 to 1. Johnson was wild and ineffective in the fourth and fifth innings, when all the visitors' runs were made. Gray relieved Johnson in the sixth inning and the Quakers went out in their order of going to the bat in the four final rounds. Krause was very effective, especially in pinches.

The feature of the game was a home run drive by Pitcher Johnson. He caught one of Krause's curves on the end of the bat and when the ball came down it landed in the hands of an onlooker on a platform several yards outside the left field fence.

Johnson trotted around the bases to the accompaniment of many rounds of cheers.

Third Basemen Maker crashed into the railing in front of the pavilion in trying for a foul fly and was shaken up enough to make him retire from the game, Nichols taking his place. Baker's injury was not serious. Score:

Murray Makes Wonderful Catch.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 17.—With nearly 11,000 fans yelling themselves hoarse, Pittsburg secured a run in the eighth inning of yesterday's game with New York, thereby tying the score, and was prevented from sewing up the contest in that period by the most sensational catch ever seen in this city. A heavy downpour of rain at the close of the eighth inning stopped further play, with the score 2 and 2.

Mathewson and Willis, star twirlers of the opposing teams, were on the mound. Willis having slightly the better of the argument.

In the eighth inning with the score 2 to 1 in favor of New York, Hyatt, batting for Willis, tripled. Abattichio, running for him, scored the tying run when Barbeau flied to Seymour. Leach doubled to center, Wagner was walked and Miller knocked what ordinarily would have been a triple to center, but Murray ran into Seymour's territory and, reaching out with his bare hand, took victory out of the grasp of Pittsburg, keeping the game a tie. Fourteen Innings Without a Score.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 17.—Milwaukee and Columbus played fourteen innings to a tie, 0 to 0, yesterday afternoon. The game was a red-hot pitching duel between Wacker and Geyer, with honors about even. Both men were in magnificent form. Several times during the game a single would have won, but both twirlers were invincible with men on bases. Both pitchers were backed up in sensational style. C., fifth; and Prom Girl of Madison last.

In the Class C race, Lemon of Oconomowoc was first; Skip of Minnetonka second; Edith of Buttes des Mortes, third; and Patsy of Oshkosh fourth.

The Class B boats went twice twelve miles in all, and the Class C boats once around a six-mile course.

FAVORITES WIN IN ALL EVENTS

Attendance Was Light at the Grand Circuit Races in Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Light attendance marked the opening of the four-day Grand Circuit meeting at the Fort Erie, Ont., race track yesterday. Heavy rains which fell during the night made the track a trifle slow. When the horses scored in the first event rain began to fall, but the storm passed away and the track was not disturbed.

The feature of the card was the 2:05 pace, which brought together George Gano, Darkey Hal, Major Brino and Major Hallow. Gano, the favorite, got away badly. On the back stretch Driver Murphy tried to get out of a pocket and was forced to pull up. Gano going to a break. The stallion trailed, getting fourth place, and Major Brino beat Darkey Hal to the wire. Gano went to the post a favorite in the second heat and won from Darkey Hal. Darkey Hal was pushing Gano hard in the final heat, but broke ten feet from the wire.

Ed Geers upset calculations in the 2:20 trot, when he brought Marie N home in front of the Penaco Maid, the favorite. The betting favored Marie N in the second heat, but Geers could do no better than second. Penaco Maid repeated in the next two heats, the race going four heats.

Geraldine, Geers' pacer, ruled favorite in the 2:11 pace, the closing event of the card. She never was in trouble, winning in straight heats.

UTILITY CATCHER FOR THE CUBS

PAT MORAN.

Pat Moran started off as the regular catcher for the World's Champions this year, but had to give place to Archer as the main catcher. He was assistant to John Kling last year and is a good man behind the bat, but does not quite class with Archer.

WHITEHEAD GIVEN BAD BEATING BY DUTCHMAN

MIKE SCHRECK.

WALTER WHITEHEAD, Duluth Pugilist, Whose Championship Aspirations Were Given a Rude Jolt Last Evening.

Houghton, Mich., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter Whitehead, Duluth's colored claimant for pugilistic honors, received a crimp in his ambitions last night, when in the ninth round of his fight with Mike Schreck, the Cincinnati heavyweight, the colored man's seconds threw up the sponge, after Walter had taken a terrific beating at the hands of the Ohio fighter.

For nine rounds Whitehead stood up against Schreck's terrific punches, in a vain endeavor to be on his feet at the end of the tenth round. The rules of the contest called for a draw in this case.

It was Schreck all the way. Only in the seventh round did Whitehead do any aggressive work, and then it was in a half-hearted manner. Many times during the engagement Whitehead was on the floor. At the end Whitehead was all in, and he admitted that Schreck had him all the way.

It was strength against science from the very start. Science won. Whitehead's rushes were all met with well directed blows, while Whitehead's punches went wild. The men had been fighting but a few minutes when it was apparent that the Duluth man was outclassed and stood no chance to win against the more experienced scrapper. Even then there was some betting that Walter would be on his feet at the end of the tenth round. It was thought that his strength would allow him to be punished for ten rounds. Schreck's blows, while they lacked steam, landed at will, and the Duluth man was blinded, confused and utterly lost after the first minute.

Early in the game Whitehead was groggy. Schreck drew blood in the first round and at the last of the third Whitehead was groggy, and when the bell rang groped blindly for his corner.

In the fifth round Schreck forced his opponent all around the ring. At the end of the round Schreck landed some telling jabs and Whitehead once more staggered to his corner.

Whitehead showed up strong in the seventh. He landed several good ones on Schreck, but eased up towards the end and Schreck was getting to the colored man's body strong when the bell rang, and once more the Duluth scrapper was saved.

In the eighth Schreck went right after Whitehead in a way that showed his intentions clearly. A left jab sent Whitehead to the floor for nearly the count, and a right to the jaw forced him to take another rest of nine seconds. Another blow to the jaw and Whitehead went down like a log. A towel was thrown into the ring and the battle was over.

Schreck said after the fight that Whitehead was one of the strongest men he had ever met in the ring, but that he knew he "had him" the minute they met.

Whitehead took his defeat gracefully, and admitted that he did not have a chance against the Ohio fighter.

The attendance at the bout was about 2,500.

WOMEN DEFEAT HIBBING TEAM

Two Interesting Games Go to Hopkins Club, 8 to 7 and 5 to 4.

Hibbing, Minn., Aug. 17.—The local boys dropped two interesting games to the Hopkins ladies' ball team. The scores were 8 to 7, and 5 to 4.

One game took place in the afternoon and one at night. The evening game was played by the aid of electric lights and went thirteen innings.

Left Fielder Carrie Nation was the star of the game. The way she played the position made a distinct hit with the local fans, who were to a man on the girl's side.

NEW YORK MAN BREAKS RECORD

Sergeant Hingle Makes Perfect Score at 800, 900 and 1,000 Yards.

Camp Perry, Ohio, Aug. 17.—The marksmen of the United States marine corps thrashed the camp yesterday in the Catrow match, and one of them, Sergeant J. H. Hingle of New York, broke the world's record for seven shots at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards. Hingle made a perfect score at each range. The nearest approach to his performance was the 104 made a year ago. Marines captured not only the $5,000 cup given by Col. Catrow of the Third Ohio, president of the Ohio State Rifle association, but also secured second and third cash prizes—$25 and $20. Corporal W. A. Fragner and Private George Farnham each scored 103. Still another marine, Capt. C. H. Lyman, got eighth prize.

Of the twelve prizes, the marines got four. With the exception of fourth prize, $15, which Capt. Casey, inspector of small arms practice of the Second Pennsylvania took, all the twelve went to regulars. The militiamen were shut out, as they were last year from the first four places in the national match.

ENTRY LIST VERY LARGE

Training Camps at Indianapolis Speedway Continue to Grow.

The Official Staff for the Races Has Been Announced.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 17.—The training camps at the Indianapolis motor speedway continued to grow Saturday evening on further arrivals of automobile drivers and machinists to prepare for the races of Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The Buick team headed by Chevrolet, Strang, Burman and Dewitt and Heina with his Lozier car arranged their quarters late yesterday and will begin familiarizing themselves with the peculiarities of the two and one-half mile circular course today.

Barney Oldfield, Little, Dennison, Zeingal, Bourque, Aitken Drasch and other drivers of national and international reputation were on the track working out their machines in the four-hour interval granted for "Tuning" by the suspension of the work of the construction gangs that are smoothing out the remaining inequalities of the stone course.

A few entries are yet to be made to the list of sixty-four domestic and foreign cars that already are announced as contestants. The complete program will not be ready until Wednesday morning. Each day's racing car will begin at noon. The track and its elaborate supplementary equipment for the convenience of drivers and machinists and the thousands of spectators, who will assemble from all parts of the country, will be ready in every detail the management of the speedway announces.

Get in the game and row.

Now is the time to get ready for next year's regatta. You may say that it is the same old story; yet it is not. What we lack in Duluth is enthusiasm.

President Julius Barnes of the Duluth Boat club has done as much for rowing as any man and the Head of the Lakes. He is in hearty sympathy with the desire of a few officials of the club to get together a winning crew next year. With this idea in view a call has been issued for candidates for fall rowing, to get out in the lapstreaks and begin working for next year.

That is the right idea. It is what is being done at other boat clubs. That is why the crews of the other clubs row with more finish than the crews that have gone from Duluth. Yesterday Carleton Schaub, one of the best single scullers in the Northwest, who represented the Minnesota Boat club in the sculling events at the recent regatta, and who is in the city on business, stated that old members of the Minnesota Boat club were daily out on the river with new men, first putting them through the stroke in the lapstreak and then later taking them out in one of the old eights.

That is what Duluth needs. There are at least three or four of the older men who are willing to get out and assist in coaching the new men. Dr. Lynam is willing to give some of his time to getting any new men started in the right direction. It is the duty of every member of the club to try to interest some new men in in the idea of fall rowing. It is what they are doing at other clubs, and if Duluth hopes to win next year at Kenora there will have to be some new material developed.

The interest in rowing has been allowed to wane. The success of Duluth is something that should appeal to every member of the best club in the Northwest; to stimulate this success, the members of the club should feel called upon to exert some effort.

This afternoon the Sox will try out a new pitcher. He is "Bob" Block, son of Julius Block, ex-state treasurer and at the present time in business in this city. Young Block is one of the best amateur hurlers in St. Paul, a city that boasts of some very fast teams, and he comes to Manager Kuehnow very highly recommended.

In the event of the young man making good he will be carried until the end of the season. The pennant race is a hot one, as you have probably noticed, and the manager of the Soxs is not overlooking any chances to strengthen the team. If young Mister Block makes good, he will prove a welcome addition to the team.

"Hurls Baseball Over High Hotel"—reads the caption of a story detailing the throwing feat of Catcher Charley Schmidt of the Tigers. It sounds funny. Listen—

When the Cubs clashed with the Tigers in the series for the championship of the universe, the first time they clashed, this same mighty hurler was behind the plate for the Jennings crew. He was supposed to be some pegger. What the frolicsome Cubs did to the Schmidt party was a burning shame.

Little Rabbit Slagle, Frank Leroy Chance and Johnny Evers stole bases at will on the German. They made him look foolish. It was this ability to purloin bases that made the victory of the Cubs so easy. And now the story of the German throwing a baseball over a high hotel. Wonder if the high hotel applied to the rates of the place?

Of course, Charles, it is very simple to speak after the battle has decided so many points of difference. Yet if you will remember, The Herald has upon several occasions cautioned Mistah Whitehead that he was meeting a very tough and rugged battler in the ponderous person of Michael Schreck. The talk of a very lot of wise men that Waltah would put the German away in four rounds this morning looks as foolish as it sounded to a few at the time the words of wisdom were uttered.

Now that the long discussed question of supremacy between the two fighters is settled, it won't do any harm to tell a little story. Only a little story, you understand.

When the Hibbing fiasco was pulled off there were a lot of people who left the hall with the impression that Whitehead could murder Schreck in about five rounds. Listen! The only time that Waltah hit the Dutchman was when the latter was looking at the deputy sheriffs. They jumped through the ropes and Michael turned to glue his bright little orbs on their movements. Mistah Whitehead, with the instinct of self preservation, swatted the German right hard and with malice aforethought, on his Adam's apple. Down went the German.

But here is what Schreck said when the battle began: "I wish that there was three like youse in the ring so that I could give these blokes a run for their kale."

That is really what the big German said as he jumped out of his corner and tore across at the shivering negro. He has had Whitehead's Angora for some time. George Gunther is another man who has the goat of the Whitehead party. Schreck always thought he could lick Whitehead; he thought he had him at Hibbing, and those few who observed closely the trend of the hold-up affair on the range, went away with the idea that Mike would do several things to the brunette when they met in a battle that wasn't called as soon as the treasurer made his getaway.

Anytime you pick old Mike Schreck as an easy mark, you lose. He beat Marvin Hart and John Willie in the Nevada desert, when the two rugged battlers were right. Schreck has been his own worst enemy. His habits have prevented him from being, perhaps, the heavyweight champion of the world. Before he began to corner the brewery production, he was one of the grandest millers who ever put up his hands. Michael has developed a John L. Sullivan paunch, and like John, he has had a lot of fun growing his excess front.

But with all his faults, old Mike is a tough customer. Give Mike some manager that could make him train—train right and get right—and there are few of the heavyweights masquerading in the ring today who could beat the burly German.

In inside sporting circles it is a well known fact that the Shreck person once chased Jack Johnson out of an impromptu ring. The pair put on the gloves for an exercise tryout and the husky Michael got to milling with so much enthusiasm that little Arthur pulled off the gloves and beat it for the shower. When they beat Mike they have to have more than Mistah Whitehead has—a swing that resembles the effort of a maiden to throw a clothes line over the neck of a peevish pig.

From Fargo, N. D., comes word from "Kid" Paul. If you remember, the youngster used to do battle around Duluth when the game was thriving and some fighters were getting $2.50 for a fight. The Paul person writes to The Herald that he has been on several 115-pound men in the Flickertail state. He says that he knocked out young Driscoll in the second round and also put the kibosh on several of the aspiring pugs of the harvest fields. The "Kid" asked us to put this in the paper and sent a stamp for a copy of the piece. Isnt he the business man?

Isn't it funny how Eau Claire is losing to Winona? Think it over.

When Winona comes here, believe me John, there will be some excitement.

Gertrude writes: "Do baseball boys think and talk of the same things that other young men do?" Gertrude, how can you? We should be "afeared" to tell you what Darby O'Brien talks about. Once he stayed out all one night in Cleveland. King Lardner is on the stage, Gertrude, that is really true, and he is deeply interested in George Bernard Shaw. Right now the Sox are talking about the trip to Winnipeg. Some one has told Pete Neelon about the grotto in the sub cellar of the Marriaggi hotel. "Toughey" Breen talks about "Toughey" Breen. Sometimes he is interesting.

TENNIS CONTEST ENDS.

Fred Willson Beats Theo Elton in Finals at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The closing match of the North Dakota Tennis tournament was played off yesterday afternoon when Fred Willson defeated Theodore Elton, both of Grand Forks, in the finals of the Red River Valley championship event. These two men reached the finals Saturday afternoon, but the lateness of the hour resulted in the game going over till Monday afternoon. The count was 5-7, 9-7, 6-3.

The tournament proved to be an immense success from every point of view.

Chicago Man Wins at Tennis.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 17.—Washburn of Chicago defeated Morley of Chicago in the final match of the singles in the state tennis championship at the Town club today, the scores being 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. In the final of the doubles, Helmholtz and Hempholtz of Milwaukee defeated Morley and Rehm of Chicago, 3-6, 6-4, 1-6, 8-6, 6-4.

TO PLAY LAST GAMES OF SEASON

The officials of the City Amateur league will hold their last meeting of the year at the Northern Hardware company's store Thursday evening. There are several matters of importance to come up. Several postponed games, it is expected, will be ordered played, and there are some protests to consider.

The last scheduled games of the season will be played Sunday. The Cascades meet the Unions at Lakeside; the Hummers will meet the Duluth Heights team on the grounds of the latter club, and the Union Clothing company will meet the Union Match team at West Duluth.

The league has been very successful this year and the clubs will probably continue another season. This matter will be brought up at the meeting Thursday.

CRACK SHOTS WIN TROPHIES

A. H. Abell, W. J. Webb, J. W. Nelson and August Bloomstrand are the high men in the Central Gun club for the shooting season, which closed last Sunday. The averages for the season have just been given out, showing that the above mentioned men were the season's winners.

A. H. Abell won the Dupont trophy; W. J. Webb the Ballastite trophy; J. W. Nelson the class A prize; W. J. Webb the class B prize, and August Bloomstrand the class C prize.

Although the regular season is over, there will be many informal shoots until late in the fall. The first of these post-season shoots will take place Saturday, when a sweepstakes affair will take place on the grounds of the club.

Both the Central and Northwestern clubs will be represented at the shoot to be held at Virginia Saturday and Sunday. There have been cash prizes to the amount of $200 hung up by the range club. It is expected that all the outside cracks who attended the Duluth tournament two weeks ago will be in attendance.

SEPTEMBER TERM IN OLD BUILDING

The Courthouse Will Not Be Ready Until September 15.

The district court will have to hold one more term of court in the old courthouse. Secretary George Claypool of the courthouse commission stated this morning that the new building will not be ready for occupancy before Sept. 15, and as the September term is to convene Sept. 7, it will have to be begin in the old building. It is very impracticable to shift the proceedings in the midst of a court term, so the work of the session, which may last into October, will probably be completed in the old courtroom.

This means that the rest of the offices will remain until the term is over also, as their work is so interdependent that business would be seriously hampered were they not all together.

Furniture for the new building is arriving rapidly, ten carloads being already in the city. The marble cutters and other workmen make the courthouse a decidedly noisy and dusty place and very unpleasant as a location for a business office, according to the members of the commission, who have had an office there since the last of July.

SAD TALE OF SUFFERING

Mrs. J. A. McDonald Says Husband Threatened Her With Hatchet.

Life Saved by Young Sons on Lonely Northern Homestead.

A pitiful tale of abuse while living in the wilderness of the north woods, enduring the privations of frontier life in order to enable her husband to make a farm out of a wild and unbroken homestead, is told by Mrs. Harriet McDonald in a complaint filed this morning. She is suing for divorce from her husband John A. McDonald.

The McDonald's were married in 1892. He is 52 years of age, and she is 37. In 1907 McDonald took out a homestead in section 29-65-19, and the McDonalds with their minor children, Allen and John, went there to live. Mrs. McDonald there endured all the hardships and suffering attendant upon making a farm out of a timbered and stony wilderness, and bore her troubles uncomplainingly.

During the early part of 1908, according to the complaint, McDonald began to be abusive to his wife, "adopting harsh and cruel treatment" in regard to her. This culminated on July 25, when McDonald attacked her with a hatchet, according to Mrs. McDonald's story, threatening to kill her with the instrument. He was brandishing it over her head ready to strike, she says, when her two sons Allen and John appeared upon the scene, just in time to prevent the murder.

The complaint goes on to say that, still brandishing the hatchet wildly above his head, McDonald drove her and her sons from the homestead.

She then came to live in Duluth. For some time McDonald remained on the homestead, but on Nov 25 of last year he came to Duluth, discovered his wife's place of residence and, searching her out, again threatened to kill her, she says, in the presence of friends and neighbors.

She says that she is without means of support and she is sueing for absolute divorce with adequate alimony to complete the bringing up and education of her sons.

WATCHMEN TO GUARD LOCKS

Government Is Determined to Stop Fights on Its Property.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—In view of the numerous disturbances which have occurred on the government property about the locks, Supt. Sabin has requested the city police department to swear in a number of their watchmen as special police. Fights, which union men disclaim any connection with, have occurred, and it is to put a stop to similar occurrences that this request has been made. If the city falls to act the government will deputize the watchmen and give them the power to arrest.

The barge Sagamore, which collided with the steamer Pathfinder at Eagle harbor last week, got away this morning in tow of the steamer J. C. Morse, after having her damaged bow temporarily repaired.

FEW STRIKERS BACK AT WORK

Many of Them Have Gone to the Harvest Fields.

Fort William, Ont., Aug. 17.—When the Canadian Pacific dock sheds opened only a few strikers offered themselves for employment and the force, including 200 strike-breakers, brought in from Montreal, was yesterday not more than 300 men. An explanation of the failure of the men to keep their promise brought forth the statement that they did not understand conditions yesterday. They thought that on going to work, it would be under a raise from 17½ cents an hour to 22 cents an hour. No Greeks were among those who returned to work. They have been the principal trouble-makers so far and those of other nationalities, Hungarians and Italians, who remain away are doing so in fear of the Greeks.

Today about one-third of the strike-breakers have quit and gone on West to the harvest fields.

IOWA BOY CONFESSES MURDER OF STEPFATHER.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 17.—After four months silence, Henry Belze, 14 years old, has confessed to Sheriff Grant Kilmer of Indianola, Iowa, that on March 2 last he murdered his stepfather, E. J. Carraher, at the latter's home, three miles east of New Virginia.

The confession was secured by George Brand, who three months after Carraher's death married the latter's widow. The only witness of the deed was Belze's younger brother, who has since died.

In his confession, Belze declared that his step-father, while drunk, attempted to kill him. He discharged the contents of a shotgun into Carraher's breast and then crushed his skull with an ax.

He spoke in praise of what King Leopold has accomplished in the Congo, and said the resources and possibilities of development of the country had exceeded his expectations. Belgium, he declared, would work for the moral and material welfare of the natives in lessening their burdens, combatting the sleeping sickness and increasing means of communication. In conclusion the prince recommended that Belgians go out to the Congo.

AN EXPERIMENT STATION HERE

Plan to Have State Institution at the Poor Farm.

The agricultural committee of the Duluth Commercial club, at a meeting yesterday, passed a resolution recommending to the county poor commissioners that they make arrangements with the state experimental station for the establishing of a state demonstration at the poor farm. The members of the committee think the plan would successfully solve the problem of establishing such a station in St. Louis county, difficulty having been experienced heretofore in getting the project under way.

Under the plan the experiments would be directed from the state experimental station at St. Anthony's park, and they would be carried out by the labor of the inmates of the poor farm and such other help as might occasionally be necessary. Under the direction of the state's experts they would plant different crops and determine what success they had in the soil of this section of the state.

The farmers would have the benefit of the experiments, as reports would be made to them of the results of the experiments at the station, so that they could determine the probable results that would be obtained from similar crops in their own fields.

The state will establish such experimental stations where there is assurance on the part of the farm management that the experts of the state station will receive co-operation. An experimental station in St. Louis county would be of incalculable benefit to the farmers opening up the present undeveloped resources, and the members of the Commercial club agricultural committee are sure that the management of the poor farm will fall in with the plan and give the state the proper assurance.

The master and one sailor were sent to Loanda, the former charged with diamond robbery in the neighboring German colony. The charges of robbery against the master were not sustained, however, and the affair has been settled satisfactorily.

SAYS PRISON SHOULD CURE

North Dakota Warden Gives Talk on Evils of Penitentiaries.

Declares Forgetting of Ethics in Punishment Breeds Crime.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 17.—"If a man be convicted of crime and serve a term in prison, and no steps are taken to effect his reform or cure, a greater crime against society has been committed than the crime of the individual," said F. O. Hellstrom, warden of the North Dakota penitentiary, in his address at today's session of the American Prison association.

"Any prison management that forgets the moral ethics, justice and humanity, cannot justify its right to existence," continued the speaker. "The prison that is managed and dominated by the spirit of revenge is simply a barnacle that society must remove in order to facilitate human progress.

"When the inmate's character is uplifted, the duty of the prison management has in that measure been discharged, the shackles of crime have been removed from the mind of the inmate, and there has been added to society a useful member.

"Storm Sure to Break."

"If the man discharged goes forth with bitter hatred and vengeance in his heart against society, then both are to be pitied, for the storm will surely break and some innocent person will be made the victim.

"Look well to the moral development; lay stress on honesty and honor; discourage everything that makes for evil; teach and practice tact and patience; enforce strict discipline, but make no inhuman and unnatural rules.

"The solving of the criminal problem is a subject that reason and the spirit of charity alone can solve. Give us more schools, more churches, more charity and less barley corn and revenge, and there will be less need for jails, reformatories and penitentiaries."

LYCEUM—Miss Maude Leone and company. In "The Professor's Romance."

'THE PROFESSOR'S ROMANCE.'

Delightful Comedy Drama Presented By Miss Leone and Company.

Miss Maude Leone and her company opened their second and last week in Duluth, at the Lyceum last evening. The play chosen for this week is "The Professor's Romance" and it is a happy selection.

The play is a comedy drama, with a very pretty love story running through it. It tells of the love of a professor of middle age, for the daughter of his dead friend.

The house was well filled, and the audience was an enthusiastic one, responding to the comedy and the pathos in a manner that must have warmed the hearts of the actors. Miss Leone is cast as Polly, the ward, and the role is one of the type best suited to Miss Leone's talents—that of heydenish girl.

Mr. Jossey appears as the professor, who has grown young again in his love for his ward. His work is excellent. The transformation from the aged bookworm to the active, energetic young man, who is just beginning to enjoy life, furnishes plenty of opportunity for good work, and Mr. Jossey takes full advantage of it.

Mr. Patton had a congenial role in Andrew the professor's aged secretary, and he gave a good account of it.

The play will be repeated every evening this week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. It is a happy selection for the hot summer months, when heavy drama is not wanted, and the excellent manner in which it is presented makes a very pleasant evening's entertainment.

TONKA ISLAND DWELLER IS FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Samuel McCormick, a G. A. R. veteran, for years a noted character about Lake Minnetonka, was found dead in his room Sunday by his son and daughter, who lived with him on Enchanted island. The aged man had died alone during the night.

Mr. McCormick had lived a great deal alone in his island home until lately, when he became subject to fainting spells. It is supposed he passed away in one of these attacks.

WILL ASK J. J. HILL TO HELP ENTERTAIN JAPS.

Washington, Aug. 17. — Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor today decided to invite James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railroad to act as one of the government's agents in the entertainment of the thirty or more representatives of Japanese chambers of commerce who will visit this country in September. It is likely that the secretary himself, or Assistant Secretary McHarg, also will accompany the party on its tour of the Eastern cities.

The Japanese merchants and trade experts comprising the party will be the guests of the associated chambers of commerce of the Pacific slope, which is paying all of the expenses of the occasion.

The trip is being made to further commercial interests of Japan and the United States by inducing a greater exchange of business.

Vicious Dog Bites Girl.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 17.—Miss Olga Anderson, aged 16, was attacked by a vicious dog on the Main street Sunday night, and terribly bitten. The dog buried its fangs in her face. Its teeth penetrated both her cheeks and upper jaw, one fang cutting a deep gash in front of her ear. One of the wounds is only the sixteenth of an inch from the left eyeball. One of the arteries of her face was cut. A crowd gathered and the dog was promptly shot.

EXPECTS RECORD YEAR IN TRAFFIC

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Knapp Foresees Much Freight Business.

Washington, Aug. 17.—A heavier business than has ever been known in a single year, is looked for by Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission for American railroads during the present fiscal year. The serious situation anticipated not only by Judge Knapp, but by other officials of the commission and by operating railroad men generally, is that there may be a shortage of cars.

The corn prospects are considered so bright that the likelihood is that the railroads and other transportation companies may be taxed beyond their capacity to handle the freight that will be offered to them.

Already, according to figures submitted to the interstate commerce commission, the railroads, in considerable number, have recovered from the low business pressure of a year and a half ago and now are handling almost as much traffic as they handled in the rush months of 1907, which was the banner year in American railroading.

In the view of Chairman Knapp, the carriers are now in better position to carry the freight offered than they were in 1907, and he said today that it would not surprise him if that year's record were broken this year. Generally, it is expected, however, that a shortage of cars will result this fall from the increased business of the carriers, and that some embarrassment by shippers may be looked for as a consequence.

She was shot in the back while fleeing from her assailants, and hospital physicians say that should she survive the shock she will be paralyzed for life.

SENATORS HEAR FARMERS' STORY

Secretary Ballinger Promises to Relieve Sufferers From Hail Where He Can.

Billings, Mont., Aug. 17.—The senatorial committee on irrigation, accompanied by Secretary of the Interior Ballinger and Director Newell of the reclamation bureau, held a session at Huntley yesterday at which a committee of settlers appeared and made complaints, together with suggestions for the improvement of the service.

In answer to the plea of the farmers whose crops were damaged or ruined by the recent hail storm, Secretary Ballinger said that so far as that law would let him, he would seek to relieve the settlers.

Today the committee visited the Shoshone project in Northern Idaho, and will return to Billings Wednesday evening and on the following day will go to Great Falls to inspect the Sun River project.

For some time there were grave apprehensions that the trust company that was awarded the bonds would let the matter drag for several months, thus adding costs to the bond issue.

Williston, N. D., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—An application for a writ of habeas corpus, made by Ed Larson, an alleged horse thief, was denied by Judge Goss. QUIET DAY IN MARKETS

Wheat Prices Hold Steady With Little News to Affect Them.

Slight Changes in Flax Prices on Floor of Duluth Board.

Duluth Board of Trade, Aug. 17.—The American wheat markets had an easy tone today and there was very little change from yesterday's closing prices. There was very little news to affect the market. The cables were weaker, but they had little effect. The reports from the harvest fields were nearly all of good weather and good progress of harvesting operations.

The September option closed ½c off in Duluth, unchanged to ⅛c up in Chicago, ¼c up in New York, ¼-⅜c off in St. Louis and ¼c up in Kansas City. The December option closed unchanged in Duluth, ⅛-¼c up in Chicago, ⅜c up in Minneapolis, ¼c up in New York, ⅛-¼c up in St. Louis, unchanged to ⅛c off in Kansas City and unchanged in Winnipeg. October wheat was unchanged in Winnipeg and May wheat was ;c up in Duluth. Chicago corn closed ⅞c off and oats ⅛c off.

Wheat closed ½d to ⅞d lower in Liverpool, unchanged in Antwerp, 1c lower in Berlin, ⅝c higher in Budapest, and 1⅛c to 1⅝c higher in Buenos Ayres.

Bradstreet's reports the wheat of the Rockies increased 1,112,000 bu, during the last week and in Canada increased 174,000 bu, making a total increase for the United States and Canada of 1,286,000 bu.

The decrease in wheat afloat and in Europe was 1,400,000, making a net decrease of 114,000 bu. of wheat. The corn decrease was 282,000 bu, and oats 10,000 bu. The previous week the world's available wheat supply decreased 2,881,000 bu, and for the corresponding week last year the increase was 891,000 bu.

Broomhall reports the European visible supply this week amounts to 45,540,000 bu against 46,928,000 bu last week, making a decrease of 1,388,000 bu. Last year the visible showed a decrease of 500,000 bu, when the total was 48,800,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "There was an easy undertone at the start, with values ½@1d lower, being influenced by the easier American cables yesterday, which prompted general realizing. Following the opening, September advanced ⅜d on shorts covering, due to the steadiness of American offers of winter wheat and the poor grading of arrivals. The distant months were under pressure and eased ¼@⅜d on the more favorable European advices. The European visible is expected to show a liberal decrease this week. At mid-day the market was irregular and ½@¾d lower than yesterday.

"Corn was quiet at the start and unchanged. Later the market lost ⅜@½d on the poor demand and freer offerings by La Plata shippers."

Car receipts of wheat at Duluth were 3 against 15 last year and at Minneapolis 75 against 125 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 78 against 140 last year. Chicago received 278 against 253 last year. Winnipeg received 12 against 28 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 890,000 bu, last year 771,000 bu. Shipments 553,000 bu, last year 540,000 bu.

Primary receipts of corn were 459,000 bu, last year 441,000 bu. Shipments 558,000 bu, last year 278,000 bu.

Both wheat and flax were quiet on the floor of the Duluth board, with little change from yesterday's closing prices. The Cotton Market.

New York, Aug. 16.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 3@5 points and sold 10 to 11 points net higher right after the opening in response to the rally at Liverpool, reports that the weather was clearing off, warm in the southwest and expectations of bullish private condition figures for the half month to be published at midday. Offerings increased on the advance reflecting the persistency of the selling by leading bears, and the market during the middle of the morning acted nervous and unsettled at a reaction of 3 or 4 points from the best.

Spot closed quiet, 5 higher; middling uplands, 12.75; middling gulf, 13.00; sales none. Futures closed steady; closing bids: August, 12.22; September, 12.17; October, 12.14; November, 12.12; December, 12.11; January, 12.08; February, 12.07; March, 12.09; April, 12.09; May, 12.10.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Liverpool Decline Prompts Selling and Makes Wheat Bearish.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Declines of ½@1d in the price of wheat at Liverpool prompted considerable selling of wheat at the opening of the market here today, resulting in initial losses of ⅛@⅜c compared with yesterdays' final quotations. An earlier tone in the corn market also had a depressing effect early in the day. A slight bulge occurred shortly after the opening, owing to covering by shorts, but the demand was soon satisfied and prices dropped back again to about the opening level. Weather conditions in the Northwest were still favorable for harvesting, and threshing.

The September delivery opened at 99¼@99½c, and December at 96¼@96½c. After touching 99⅞c the price of the September option eased off again to 99½@99⅝ and December rose to 96⅞c, but declined again to 96½c.

The market was rather nervous all day with the predominating tone one of weakness. The heaviness of corn was a bearish factor. The close was steady with September a shade higher at 99⅝@99¾c. December was up ⅛@¼c at 96⅝@96¾c.

Reports of rain in parts of Nebraska and Iowa, checked the upward trend of corn prices, sentiment in the pit early in the session being somewhat bearish. Longs were disposed to take profits in view of a probable break in the drouth in the Southwest. The September delivery opened unchanged to ¼c lower at 66@66¼c and sold off to 65⅞c.

Additional weakness developed as trading progressed, September declining to 65¼c. The close was weak at almost the bottom, September being off ⅞c at 65⅜c.

Oats were steady, despite the easier tone of wheat and corn. A leading commission house was an active buyer. A good demand for the cash grain had a strengthening influence. September opened unchanged at 38⅜c, sold off to 38¼c and then rallied again to 38⅝c.

Provisions were firm on moderate demand by commisssion houses, based to some extent on a 5c advance in live hogs. Prices at the start were unchanged to 5c higher.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Whole Day's Session Proves to Be a Scalping Affair.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—The market was a scalping affair throughout the session. Further reports of damage from rain, hail, blight, rust and hot winds were received from North Dakota. However, with the advanced condition of the crop, these advices caused little apprehension.. Local stocks decreased 425,000 bushels for four days and this leaves only about 500,000 bushels left in regular Minneapolis elevators. Minneapolis today received 75 cars of wheat as compared with 125 cars a year ago; Duluth 3, against 15, and Winnipeg 12 against 28. September opened 99⅞c, high $1.00@1.00½, low 99⅞@99¼c, closed 99¾c. December opened 95¾@95⅝c, high 96½@96⅝c, low 95⅝c, closed 96¼c. May opened $1.00, high $1.00⅜, low 99¾c, closed $1.00⅛.

Cash wheat broke 10c from yesterday, when fairly liberal offerings of old spring wheat were received today. Several cars of the new crop were received. Flax—Receipts, none; year ago, 2; shipments, none. The market was purely nominal on account of lack of offerings. Prices were quoted 6c above the Duluth September. Closing prices, $1.44¾.

Barley—Receipts, 19 cars; year ago 41 cars; shipments 12 cars. There was no change in barley today. Demand was good, especially for malting grades. New crop offerings were quite plentiful, but the old barley was very scarce. Prices were unchanged. Closing range 44@60c.

Millstuffs—Shipments 750 tons. There was no change today. Shipments were very light and prices were unchanged. Bran in 100-pound sacks $20.50.

Weight Fell Through Ceiling.

Things were breaking nicely yesterday afternoon, in the new buffet of the Spalding. The day was quiet without, and within there was that spirit of contentment that comes—sometimes.

Suddenly there was a crash, and a huge iron weight shot through the arched roof of the buffet. Two commercial men, Charles Ransome of New York and J. F. Mute of Toledo, Ohio, were seated on one of the wall settees, directly under the place where the iron came through. The course of the weight was deflected by a solid iron beam, supporting the roof, or both of the men would have been instantly killed.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Market Opened Irregular, But Soon Started on Upward Movement.

Union Pacific, Steel, Atchison and New York Central in Demand.

New York, Aug. 17.—The stock market opened irregular but with more important changes in the way of advances. St. Paul, New York Central, United States Steel preferred and Kansas City Southern were up a point. On the other hand, Union Pacific lost as much and there were some large fractional recessions in other prominent stocks.

After the selling orders at the opening had been executed, the market began to work gradually upward, and the list soon ruled at a good level above yesterday's closing prices. New York Central was bought heavily at an advance of 1½, and Union Pacific converted its initial loss of a point into a similar gain. St. Paul also got up 1½, Reading 1⅜, Northwestern and United States Rubber 1 and Amalgamated Copper, American Smelting and Consolidated Gas 1. These gains were considerably reduced and in some instances wiped out later when profit-taking became general and a number of weak spots developed. Ontario & Western, Rock Island, Atlantic Coast line, Minneapolis & St. Louis, Great Northern Ore certificates, Sloss-Sheffield Steel, Republic Steel preferred, North American and American Woolen were driven 1 to 1⅜ below last night's close. Near 11 o'clock the market was bid up again sharply, with Atchison prominent at a gain of over a point.

Heavy buying for both accounts in Union Pacific was a feature of the late afternoon dealings, and the price was lifted to a parity with yesterday's closing. Complete recoveries were also made in other stocks, but the bulls did not attempt to push the market beyond yesterday's closing level.

The market closed active and firm. Stocks were accumulated again on a rising scale, with the demand urgent for Union Pacific, Atchison, New York Central and United States Steel. All of these stocks were anywhere from 1 to 1½ above yesterday's closing and the balance of the list also gave a good account of itself.

New York stock quotations furnished The Herald by Piper, Johnson & Case.

It looks now as if the curbs will again have their day.

The stocks listed on the local Exchange are hard to find at present prices. The Scotts are very scarce. An order for 1,000 shares of the full paid would, I believe, drive this particular stock up almost to $11 a share. The two paid is also hard to locate and is very strongly held. We will have another such a movement as in Toulomne one of these days. The Scott is selling for almost seven times less than the Toulomne, and its possibilities are surely as great.

If you do not take on B. & B. at these prices you will certainly lose a lot of easy money, for this is a big mine. The crowd is strong and it is a dead cinch that the shares will advance to $15 or $20 this winter. St. Mary at 31 cents is like postage stamps at this price. This mine should soon hit real high ore. Then look out for another Red Warrior proposition.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Aug. 17.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 7@13 points and active months sold 15@16 points net higher during the early session on covering and bull support due to better cables than expected, very high temperatures and dry weather in the Southwest and the expectations of a bullish condition report from the National Ginners' association. Foreign and Southern houses were large buyers here during the early session and the market seemed to be meeting less opposition from the local bear leaders.

Spot closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands, 12.80; middling gulf, 13.05; sales, 398 bales. Futures closed strong; closing bids: August, 12.35; September, 12.30; October, 12.28; November, 12.28; December, 12.28; January, 12.26; February, 12.25; March 12.27; April, 12.27; March, 12.28.

Telephone on Railroad Train.

An innovation in railroad travel that has been inaugurated by the Great Northern is the telephone attachment. The Oriental limited is fitted with a telephone that is connected with the regular city circuits of Chicago, when the train reaches that city, and with the circuits of St. Paul, Tacoma, Spokane, Seattle and other large cities. When the train reaches any one of the cities named, the telephone attachment is brought into use and the business man or any passenger of the library car can communicate with friends.

Had a Wife in Sweden.

Claiming that her husband, Nels Peterson, already had a wife living in Sweden, Anna O. Peterson this afternoon filed a petition in the district court to have her marriage with Peterson annulled.

The Petersons have been living in the town of Cotton. They were married a year ago, and Mrs. Peterson claims that she has since discovered that her husband had a wife in Sweden when he married her. She wants the marriage annulled, asks alimony and some recompense for the work done about the homestead while she was living there as Peterson's wife.

The woman is 45 years of age and Peterson is 55.

SUPERIOR NEWS

SHOULD TAKE OUT A LOCAL LICENSE

Whether outside brewing companies may sell liquor in Superior without a local license or not will largely depend on the outcome of a suit which has been started by the city against Gus Geske, special agent for the Fitger Brewing company of Duluth. The case was up this morning in municipal court.

Two witnesses were examined this morning. Geske, who is made a party to the suit with the Fitger company and Nels Sjerstad, a saloonkeeper, to whom a case of beer was sold without a license. After the testimony was taken the case was adjourned until Aug. 30, when the arguments will be presented.

Will Lay New Steel.

The Northern Pacific road will lay thirty-eight miles of new steel between Brule and Ashland. Work will be commenced tomorrow under the supervision of Roadmaster J. P. Mungavin of Superior. Two work trains will be kept busy. It is said that there is something of a scarcity of steel gang men, and good wages are being offered for construction work by all of the railroads.

Waives Examination.

Alex McAloon, chairman of the town of Gordon, when arraigned yesterday afternoon in municipal court on the charge of grand larceny of a county order, waived examination and was bound over to the next term of the circuit court, which will be held in December. This is the second graft charge against McAloon.

TWO TIED FOR CUP.

Lipton Trophy Contest Battle Between Yachts Spray and I. A. C.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 17.—With two yachts, the Spray and the I. A. C. tied for first place, and far in the lead of the other contestants, local yachtsmen regarded the final race of the Lipton cup series as a duel between the leaders. The course is rectangular, three miles to the leg, and is to be sailed once around. In the first race, over a triangular course the Spray, the Chicago Yacht club boat, was victorious and the I. A. C. second. In the second race a three-mile beat to windward, sailed twice over the I. A. C. representing the Illinois Athletic club, was the winner with the Spray second over the line.

NAVY COURT SAYS THAT SUTTON WAS HIS OWN SLAYER

Declares He May Have Been Trying to Shoot Brother Officer.

Stigma Now Lies Between Attempted Murder and Suicide Theory.

Mother of Lieutenant of Marines Fails to Clear Son's Name.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The court of inquiry in the case of Lieut. Sutton has decided that no possible charge of criminality lays against any of the participants in the fray except Lieut. Sutton himself and that Lieut. Sutton is directly and solely responsible for his own death, which was self-inflicted either intentionally or in an effort to shoot one of the persons restraining him, and that his death was not caused by any other injury whatever.

This verdict was returned in the second inquiry into Lieut. James Sutton's death. In the former inquiry it was declared that the young man committed suicide, but his mother and sister, Mrs. J. N. Sutton and Mrs. Rose Sutton Parker of St. Paul, Minn., succeeded in securing a rehearing, in the hope that the result would be the clearing the young lieutenant's name from the stigma of suicide.

The court of inquiry finished its hearings last week. During the hearings a veiled theory was advanced that Lieut. Sutton was shot by one of his brother officers in the United States marine corps, during a quarrel. The finding of the court, announced today, disposes of that theory.

"Mere Curtain Raiser."

Washington, Aug. 18.—When shown the report of the court inquiry, Henry E. Davis, attorney for Mrs. Sutton said: "The judge advocates handling of the case is fully supplemented by the court's action, which makes the inquiry a mere curtain raiser to the main performance."

Mr. Davis asked to be excused from making any statement as to the future course that may be followed in this case.

KITTSON COUNTY BANK IS ROBBED

Yeggmen Crack Karlstad Bank Getting Away With $1,500.

Hallock, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The State Bank of Karlstad, in Kittson county, was broken into early today.

The robbers secured $1,500 in cash and made their escape. A posse has been organized and is in pursuit.

RIOTING AT CAR PLANT

One Man Is Shot and Several Are Injured With Missiles.

Half Hundred Strikers Set Upon an Alleged Strike-Breaker.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 18.—One man was shot in the right leg and several others slightly injured by stones during a small riot today in the vicinity of the Pressed Steel Car company's works at McKee's Rocks, where a strike has been in progress for six weeks.

The trouble occurred when fifty strikers attempted to prevent an alleged strike breaker from entering the plant. When hard pressed the man fired three shots into the crowd of strikers, one bullet taking effect in the leg of Barney Waters, a bystander. Shooting and stone-throwing were freely indulged in until the arrival, twenty minutes later, of the state con-

NEGROES TALK ABOUT BUSINESS

League Founded By Booker Washington Meets in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 18.—The National Negro Business league with Booker T. Washington as chief figure, began sessions in this city today. This organization, which was founded in Boston by Washington ten years ago, makes a sort of annual review of the achievements of the race in North America and devotes the oratory of its session not to fulsome topics, but to sound commercial texts such as hog buying, cattle raising, profitable farming, good salesmanship, by negro experts to their people.

Booker T. Washington has been president of the league since he founded it, and Emmett J. Scott, recently secretary of the United States commission to Liberia, is corresponding secretary of the league. One thousand of the most representative negroes in the world are here.

GREEK FLAG OVER CRETE FORTRESS LOWERED BY SHOT

Emblem That Threatened to Bring On War Is Brought Down.

International Force Again Occupies Island as Heretofore.

Canea, Island of Crete, Aug. 18.—A well-directed shot fired by one of the parties of bluejackets landed early this morning from the international squadron anchored in Canea harbor brought down the flagstaff of the Canea fort and with it the Greek flag, that for three weeks has threatened to bring about war between Turkey and Greece.

A combined landing party composed of detachments from the ships of four protecting powers—England, Russia, Italy and France—was sent ashore before sunrise today, and the task of removing the Hellenic emblem was carried out in a few minutes without any attempt at interference on the part of the islanders.

Most of the bluejackets then returned to their ships, but small detachments were left behind in occupation of the bastion of the fortress to prevent any attempt on the part of the Cretes to raise another flag.

OPEN BIDS FOR WAR MONSTERS

Navy Department Begins Real Work Toward Building of Big Ships.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Two more American dreadnaughts, the Wyoming and the Arkansas, authorized by congress took first shape at the navy department today when bids for their construction were opened in the presence of numerous representatives of ship-building firms anxious to obtain the contracts. These vessels are to cost $6,000,000 each, exclusive of their armament and armor; are to make a high rate of speed, and are to be equipped throughout with the latest improvements in naval development.

The vessels are to be of 26,000 tons each, the largest ever undertaken by the American naval establishments, the increase in tonnage in this class of vessels being from 20,000, the size of the original American dreadnaughts, the Delaware and the North Dakota.

The Utah, now under construction by the New York Ship-building company, and the Florida, now being built at the New York Navy yard, are the two remaining dreadnaughts, their tonnage being 22,000.

The naval officials expect lively competition for the contracts for the Wyoming and the Arkansas.

HARRIMAN QUITS PARIS

Leaves French Capital to Sail for America Once More.

Financier's Return Is Coupled With Rumor of New Railroad Deal.

Paris, Aug. 18.—E. H. Harriman left Paris at 11 o'clock this morning on a special train for Cherbourg, where he will embark for New York today on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm III.

Through his secretary, Mr. Price, he informed the newspaper men that he was going to his home at Arden to rest and complete the cure inaugurated in Europe. He said also that he had no immediate intention of resuming his business activities.

Dr. Lyle, Mr. Harriman's physician, who accompanied him, declared that if Mr. Harriman was weaker, it was an effect of the rigid treatment he has undertaken at Bad Gastein.

"As soon as Mr. Harriman arrived in Paris he felt much better," Dr. Lyle continued. "Mr. Harriman was suffering from the results of over-work. He also had rheumatism of the back, but he has improved greatly under the massage treatment. Mr. Harriman eats well of a diet that is carefully arranged, but the baths naturally have weakened him. Now comes the after-cure—that is, rest."

Visited By Gould.

Mr. Harriman arrived here from Munich by train and not by automobile, as was at first understood. He went at once to the home of his friend, James Stillman, who is now in America. Among his callers yesterday was George J. Gould, who has engaged passage for New York on Sept. 1.

Extensive precautions had been taken to keep Mr. Harriman's departure as secret as possible and to Tilden, Neb., Aug. 18.—A pet skunk is the cherished possession of Miss Lucile Bliss, daughter of D. W. Bliss, a farmer, living near here. The little animal follows her wherever she goes and eats from her hand. It minds her commands perfectly, exhibiting much intelligence. She feeds the skunk bugs, worms and frogs.

BANKER IS VICTIM OF SHORT CHANGE GAME.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—George D. Bartlett, secretary of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, was the victim of a short-change game yesterday on an Omaha train between Minneapolis and St. Paul. Bartlett chased the man supposed to have worked the game into the union station, where he was stopped by two detectives. The man's name is Jesse Harrington, a former newsboy.

HENEY LOSES IN BOTH PARTIES IN PRIMARY VOTE

GRAFT FIGHTER LOSES BATTLE OF BALLOTS

FRANCIS J. HENEY.

Fickert Nominated By Democrats and By Republicans.

First Tryout Is Made of New Election Law in California.

Returns From Balloting in Nebraska Are Slow in Coming in.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 18.—That Francis J. Heney, famous for his prosecution of the mammoth graft cases in this city, has been beaten at the polls in the tryout of the California primary law, is the indication from the returns as far as they have been received this morning.

Mr. Heney's name did not appear on any of the ballots yesterday presented to the voters, but a number of the Republicans wrote it in the blank space provided for independent nominations. Charles M. Fickert, candidate of the regular Republicans, received a majority of the votes, however, and will represent the party in the November election.

On the Democratic ballots there was no name in the space for the district attorney, the blanks having been left pursuant to the indorsement of Heney by the Democratic organization, though there was no formal nomination. Most of the Democratic voters wrote names in these spaces, but the returns show that Heney was beaten and support given to Fickert by a small majority.

William Crocker, the candidate of the Business Men's committee for the mayoralty (Republican), has received the nomination over Byron Mauzey, the Independent Republican candidate, and Dr. T. B. W. Leland, the present coroner has received the Democratic indorsement over Supervisor Ralph McLearn.

For the Union Labor nomination for mayor, the returns indicate the success of P. H. McCarthy by a vote of 3 to 1 over Francis J. Sullivan.

Slow Returns at Omaha.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 18.—Returns from yesterday's primaries are coming in very slowly. The late hour at which the polls closed and the complicated form of ballot accounts for this in a large measure.

There were no contests for the supreme court judgeships in the Democratic primary, Messrs. Good, Sullivan and Dean being the only candidates. The meager returns so far in from the Republican primary show John B. Barnes, former chief justice in the lead with S. H. Sedgwick, also a former chief justice, a close second, and F. G. Hamer and E. C. Calkins making a close race for third place.

Embalmers at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 18.—Nearly every state in the Union was represented at the sixth annual convention of the Embalmers' Examining Board of North America in this city today. Transportatoon of dead bodies, the present laws for which are declared inadequate, will come up for discussion. L. T. Christian of Richmond, Va., is president.

When the session opened at 9:30 o'clock the roll of states was called for representation on the resolutions committee. Following this an hour was devoted to introduction of resolutions, and then came Mr. Pinchot.

John W. Noble, former secretary of the interior, was next in turn with an address on "Forest Preservation and that of Our Other National Resources." Other addresses were as follows:

WATERWAYS MEN WORK IN PRUSSIA

Berlin, Aug. 18.—The members of the American Waterways commission who are visiting Europe in search of information as to the best methods of solving the problems confronting them began their work today. Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio called at the Prussian ministry of public works.

A large steam launch has been placed at the disposal of Mr. Burton and his party, which will be used during the next three days for a study of the canals and streams adjacent to Berlin and the Upper Elbe. Prof. Emory R. Johnson of Philadelphia, George McPherson and J. Hopkins will collect material bearing on the historical development of the waterways system in Germany.

The commissioners were joined today by Maj. F. A. Mahan, United States army, retired, who came from Paris.

Special Police Called Out for First Time Since Spanish War.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time since the Spanish-American war, special local police have had to be called on to enforce order on government property here. Eighteen watchmen employed on the locks were today sworn in as special policemen for duty on the government properties, and were divided into three watches with six men in each watch.

Today's action was the result of a series of rowdy outbreaks in which sailors on passing boats were assaulted. The government officers here found themselves unable to prevent the outbreaks, and appealed to the local police.

ARMY OF DEFENSE PLANS CHECK FOR THE INVADERS

General Engagement Is Looked for in War Maneuvers.

Bridgewater, Mass., Aug. 18.—In an attempt to back up his isolated left wing and put an effective barrier to the advance of Gen. Taster H. Bliss' Red army of invason in the war maneuvers, Gen. William A. Pew, Jr., today ordered his right wing, consisting of the Second and Sixth regiments of infantry and the coast artillery, acting as infantry, to execute a retrograde movement from their position at Fitlicut station to the vicinity of South Hanson, where the brigade will be directly in the rear of the Robbins Pond headquarters of the Blue army.

The movement began at 3 o'clock this morning and at 8 o'clock the militiamen were marching through Bridgewater. Gen. Pew also moved his headquarters from Robbins Pond to a point nearer South Hanson.

Big Battle Expected.

The general engagement which did not materialize yesterday was expected to occur today in the neighborhood of Halifax, Plyton or Duxbury. It was believed today that Gen. Pew would make an attempt to reinforce his left wing, against which is opposed practically the entire strength of Gen. Bliss' army.

Last night was a most trying one on the militiamen in camp. The rain fell in torrents and the earth was soaked, like a cedar swamp.

TEN PERISH FROM HEAT IN 12 HOURS

Kansas City Finally Gets Relief From Spell of Hot Weather.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 18.—With ten deaths in Kansas City from heat in the twelve hours ending this morning, the torrid spell in this part of the Southwest has been broken.

At 9 o'clock this morning the temperature recorded at the weather bureau here was 79, six degs. below the record at the same hour Tuesday, and a cool east breeze was blowing. At Topeka and generally throughout Kansas a similar fall in temperature was reported.

THINK MAN MURDERED AND HOUSE SET AFIRE.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 18.—The body of Robert Staub, 45 years old, a wealthy dairy farmer of Wilkins township, was found today at his home with a bullet wound in the head and the legs badly burned. It is believed the man was murdered and the house fired to hide a probable robbery.

PUEBLO PEOPLE CALLED OUT BY FLOOD WARNING

LIMIT IS SET FOR UNWRITTEN LAW

Kentucky Court Says Writing Letters Does Not Justify Murder.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 18.—In holding to the grand jury here yesterday Argyle Lett, charged with the murder last Friday of Durawood Dentwood, the court held that although killing is sometimes justifiable, this special occasion was at the wrong time. Lett, a Memphis linotype operator, killed Dentwood, who was a schoolmaster and politician, because Dentwood had paid attention to Mrs. Lett and had written numerous letters.

Water Sweeps Down Royal Gorge and Does $250,000 Damage.

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 18.—This city was aroused at 3 o'clock this morning by warnings given from the Upper Arkansas valley that there was grave danger of a flood, and within an hour 5,000 persons were upon the streets working like beavers to remove stocks of merchandise and household effects out of danger. The work proved needless in most cases, as although the river rose seven feet above normal, there was no flood in the immediate vicinity of this city.

Great damage was reported, however, in the neighborhood of Canon City, forty miles from here, where the Arkansas overflowed its banks and was higher than at any time within

QUALIFYING ROUND FOR THE STATE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP IN PROGRESS

A. M. MILLER, JR., DONALD R. McLENNAN, EDWARD FISHER, L. PIPER.

L. J. Hopkins, the local golf champion, this morning brought in the best score to date in the qualifying round for the state championship, when he finished the eighteen holes in 87.

Hertig was next with 91; Cullum and Wheeler were tied for third place with 92. From this the score ran up to 111.

The day was ideal for golf. The air was clear, the sun bright, and a gentle breeze swept over the grounds making the conditions the best possible.

The players were on the ground early, but the play did not get under way until late in the morning, and it was thought that the qualifying round would not be finished today. Play on second eighteen holes was to have started at 1 o'clock, but as the first was not yet finished this round was not started until some time later.

Thursday is the big day at the club. Play will be for the championship of the state and those will be entered who qualified today.

The players making the thirty-two lowest scores will play for the state title. There will also be two flights of sixteen men each for special prizes. The sixteen losers in the championship flight will compete for the consolation prize.

Speculation is rife as to who will land the championship. Harry Legg, who has been playing a beautiful game so far this year, has not as yet hit his pace in Duluth. Hopkins is playing strong, as is Dr. Cullum, although the latter did not show up so well in the first half of the qualifying round this morning.

There will be two rounds in the championship play. The first will be at 9 o'clock Thursday morning and the second at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. At 3 o'clock the first round for the consolation prize will be played.

The course is now being covered more quickly, as the outside players become familiar with the lay of the course. It is expected that the tournament will come to a close Saturday evening, according to the program. It was thought for a time that some of the events would have to go over.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HAVE BIG PICNIC

Episcopal Churches Hold Annual Outing at Fond du Lac.

The churches represented are the St. Peter's Swedish and St. Luke's Episcopal churches of the West end, the Holy Apostle's Episcopal church of West Duluth, the Trinity Pro-Cathedral of the East end and the Park Point Episcopal church.

This afternoon a splendid program is being carried out. One of the prettiest features of the affair is the wild flower hunt for the Sunday school girls, The one who picks the greatest variety of the wild flowers before tonight will be given a prize. The same will be given to the girl weaving the nicest design from blades of grass.

Races of all kinds, tree climbing contests and numerous other events are on the program. The picnickers will return early this evening.

PEACE WITH WARRENS

P. McDonnell Reaches Agreement With the Big Contracting Firm.

Grand Forks Settlement Affects His Contracts in Duluth.

The Warren Bros.' company, which has been kept pretty busy all over the country during the last year or two, trying to prevent infringements on patents for paving material which are held by it, has withdrawn its application for an injunction to restrain P. McDonnell, the Duluth contractor, from proceeding with the laying of pavement in Grand Forks, and he is now free to go ahead with the work.

Had the injunction been granted in Grand Forks, it would also have applied to any similar work that McDonnell was doing elsewhere, and so would have put a stop to his local street contracts. It is understood that Mr. McDonnell has settled all difficulties with the Warrens, and that hereafter he will be free to go ahead using paving materials upon which they claim to have patents, without fear of interference on the part of the company.

Mr. McDonnell is said to have reached an agreement whereby he is released from all liability for damages in connection with past alleged infringements, upon condition that he pay a certain royalty for every yard of pavement laid which infringes the Warren patents. The fact that he is released from past liabilities is believed to also release the city from any liability on so-called Warren infringements, on pavements laid locally by Mr. McDonnell, because, in its contracts with him, the city insisted on inserting a clause that the contractor should be held liable for all claims for royalties. The claim of the Warrens, in their two suits against the city, is nothing more nor less than a royalty claim, and this fact is said to release the city of the McDonnell contracts, although it still would be tied up on similar pavements laid locally by other contractors, if a decision favorable to the company were rendered in the courts.

The Duluth man is said to be the only contractor in the Northwest who has arrived at a royalty agreement with the Warrens. As a business proposition, it looks as if he were wise in acting as he did, for he is now in a position to lay pavements said to be covered by Warren patents anywhere he can land a contract, without danger of delay or court proceedings, while any other contractor, not having such an agreement, is liable to injunctions and suits for damages. This being the case, it naturally follows that the average municipality would prefer to give its work to the Duluth man, and thus be assured that there would be no injunction delays and no suits for damages.

NEW PLANS FOR HORSE HOSPITAL

Council Committee Meets With Board of Fire Commissioners.

The common council fire department committee met last evening with a part of the board of fire commissioners, and took up the question of improvements at halls No. 3 and No. 2, the first at the corner of Third street and First avenue east, and the other at Eighteenth avenue west.

There was not a quorum of commissioners present, and no definite action could be taken. Mayor Haven attended the meeting, and recommended that plans for the enlargement of No. 2 hall be drawn up in two sets, one showing the building with the proposed horse hospital added, and the other with necessary improvements exclusive of the hospital, the object being to show the difference in cost. It is believed the council committee will make a report to the aldermen along the line of this recommendation.

When the idea of the new horse hospital first came up, the plan was to have it built adjacent to hall No. 3, but there was a protest from residents in that vicinity, which brought about a delay. Additional space will now have to be provided at No. 2 hall, and the location of the building is such that the improvement plans can include a horse hospital at almost the same cost of building as if the hospital were not included, it is said. If this is true, it is altogether probable that the council will vote in favor of putting the hospital in the West end.

"Calling this building a horse hospital gives out a wrong impression," said Mayor Haven this morning. "In the true sense of the word, it isn't a hospital, athough occasionally there is a horse there being doctored up. The needs of the department require that there shall always be four or fixe extra horses on hand to substitute at different halls as necessity demands, and the so-called hospital is more for the accomodation of these extra animals than for sick ones.

"It isn't often that one of the fire horses is sick enough to be put out of commission even temporarily, and when one is out of commission it generally is because of some wound, usually of little consequence. Although given a chance to rest up, he isn't diseased. Of course, one of the animals becomes really sick at times, but this isn't often. Most people believe that in this so-called horse hospital there will be a bunch of horses suffering from some disease all the time, but this is an entirely wrong impression."

The Fifth ward aldermen object to having the Eighteenth avenue west hall improved until necessary improvements have been made at No. 3, as the latter were asked for first.

THINKS HIS WIFE RULER OF HADES

Mrs. Habermann Says Her Husband Habitually Calls Her "Satan."

Claiming that her husband thinks that she is the devil himself, and habitually addresses her as "Satan," that he is surly and continually quarrelsome, and has several times threatened to kill her, Mrs. August Habermann this morning swore to an insanity complaint, and he was brought down to the county jail to await an examination this afternoon. Habermann is 53 years old and has lived in Duluth for twenty-one years. His examination was set for 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Habermann was detained on an insane charge once before, but before his examination his sister said that she would care for him, and he was released. She failed to do anything, Mrs. Habermann says, and she can not stand the strain of living with him any longer. Dr. Boyer and Dr. Linneman have both pronounced him insane.

WOMEN PICKET PREMIER'S HOUSE

Say They Will Keep Guard There Until He Hears Their Petition.

London, Aug. 18.—The militant suffragettes, who have been picketing the house of commons for the last six weeks with the object of securing an interview with Premier Asquith, have extended their operations to the premier's residence on Downing street. Mrs. Despard and Mrs. Saunderson this afternoon took up their stand outside Mr. Asquith's house and declared that sentries would be maintained uninterruptedly until the premier granted an audience. The premier, however, is in the happy position of being able to slip out through a rear door of his house to which the public has not access.

PROGRESS IN NICARAGUA

Friend of President Zelaya Spending Few Days in Duluth.

Says the English Are Developing Mines of the Republic.

James M. Hall, intimately associated with President Zelaya of Nicaragua, Central America, is a guest of the Spalding today. Mr. Hall is a young American, who went down into the Latin Republic some six or seven years ago, and who has devoted his time to the mining business of the country, which, he says, is showing wonderful development at the present time.

According to the statement of Mr. Hall, over $1,000,000 of English capital has recently been invested in the mining business of Nicaragua. This money has peen placed by English investors, who have sent high salaried engineers out to thoroughly investigate the possibilities of the country before investing their money.

Mr. Hall stated that he was of the opinion that $10,000,000 would be invested in the mineral development of the country within the next two or three years.

"The revolution is a thing of the past in Nicaragua since the Treaty of Washington," said Mr. Hall. "Since the war in which the other republics of Central America pitched onto poor little Nicaragua, the treaty absolutely guarantees that there will be no more upheavals. It is the belief in the permanency of established government that is causing English capitalists to invest in the country.

"I am sorry to say it, but the Americans in Nicaragua are not of the best class. I do not know why it is. On the other hand, you will find that the English are developing Nicaragua as the Germans are developing Brazil and the Italians Argentina.

There is ample opportunity for this country to develop the country and seek markets there, but the United States seems to be letting the opportunity slip. President Zelaya, with whom I am associated in some mining business, encourages the investment of foreign capital, the laws of the Republic protecting investors.

"The Republic of Nicaragua has recently placed a loan of $5,000,000 with English capitalists. This money will be utilized for the construction of a railroad from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts of the country. The construction of the railroad will open up rich banana belts and will also open up great mineral districts."

Mr. Hall says that many of the natives are college men. Harvard men, English college graduates and graduates from other American universities, are very common among the native young men of the country. Many of the best people of the country are highly educated, according to the statement of Mr. Hall.

With the assurance that the revolution of the past is not to be feared in the future, and with the encouragement of foreign investments. Mr. Hall is of the opinion that the development, not only of Nicaragua, but also of the other Republics of Central America, is only a matter of a few years.

STATE WILL SELL LOTS IN GHEEN

State Auditor Iverson to Conduct Sale There Next Monday.

For the first time in the history of St. Louis county, there is to be a sale of town lots under the auspices of the state. At the request of residents of the vicinity the land described as the N. E. ¼ of the S. E. ¼ of section 6-63-19 has been platted and named the town of Gheen. The land is state property and the lots composing it will be sold by State Auditor Iverson next Monday afternoon.

The town is on the line of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg road, Mr. Iverson will be assisted during the sale by one of the deputy county auditors, and a deputy treasurer.

Indications are that the new town of Taft, recently platted, will enjoy a lively boom in the near future. B. B. Brosvich, who is largely interested in the town claims that the ore bed recently discovered in the extreme northwestern part of the county extends in the direction of the town and that there are indications of large deposits of iron in its immediate vicinity. Also, it is stated on good authority that the branch road which the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company is building to connect with the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg road will pass through or very near the town.

RAILROADS

LAY RAILS IN TUNNEL

Big Underground Tube Now Ready for the Steel.

Work on the Passenger Depot Will Begin at Once.

The tunnel into the city of the Soo road is completed, and the laying of track in the long tube will begin tomorrow.

The last few finishing touches are being put on the tunnel. These last touches include some work that will have to be done on the east portal of the tunnel and some on the lining of the tunnel. The work of clearing the debris so that the work of track-laying can be started tomorrow is being done at the present time.

Work on the passenger station will begin tomorrow. With the starting of the work on the passenger station and the starting of the laying of the track into the tunnel, it looks as if the Soo may operate its own trains into Duluth late this fall.

Contractor Hickey, who has charge of the work on the tunnel, has been asked to rush the few details that remain on the big tube, in order that the work of completing the road to this city may be finished at as early a date as possible.

The road from Brooten to Superior is practically completed. Within a few days the line will be ready to haul wheat to the Head of the Lakes. If the work progresses as rapidly on the passenger terminals in this city as the officials of the Soo hope, it is quite likely that Duluth will be on the passenger schedule of the Soo some time this fall.

GETS CONTRACT FOR SOO DEPOT

Duluth Contractor Is Successful Bidder on General Construction Work.

George H. Lounsberry has been awarded the contract for the construction of the new Soo passenger station at the corner of Sixth avenue west and Superior street. Mr. Lounsberry received a telegram last night from Thomas Green, chief engineer of the Soo line at Minneapolis, notifying him that his bid had been accepted.

Mr. Lounsberry expects a letter giving the details of the acceptance. Two bids were submitted, one for cut stone exterior and the other for brick with terra cotta trimmings. Mr. Lounsberry is inclined to believe that the latter bid will be accepted.

Mr. Lounsberry's contract is for enclosing the building, putting in the flooring and walls, and will amount to about $50,000. The contract for the interior work, which will come to about the same figure, will be let later. Mr. Lounsberry says he will complete his contract within four months.

The building will be four stories in height on the Michigan street side, and two stories on Superior street for the present. The construction will be strong enough to support two more stories, which will probably be put on later for the accommodation of the general offices of the Soo line and the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic. The building will front on Sixth avenue west.

BUSINESS BOOMING.

Chicago Official of Soo Road Says Traffic Is Very Heavy.

J. C. Pond, assistant passenger agent of the Soo railway, is here today looking over the passenger situation at the Head of the Lakes. Mr. Pond has headquarters in Chicago, with the Chicago Division of the Soo.

Business in all departments of the railroads is booming, according to Mr. Pond. The Pacific coast is the great objective point of the passenger travel in the West, but the passenger travel is heavier all over the country than it has been for some years, he says.

J. J. HILL WILL SPEAK.

Railroad Magnate Expected to Attend Ward County, N. D., Fair.

Minot, N. D., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Though the date has not been set it is now practically assured that J. J. Hill of the Great Northern will be in Minot to deliver an address at the Ward county fair. Joseph Roach, chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements, has been in correspondence with Mr. Hill and has suggested Sept. 30, as the most convenient date. If this does not prove satisfactory to Mr. Hill the date will be changed, as the railroad magnate is anxious to be here and the people of the county are anxious to hear him. The committee is now at work drawing up the proper articles of incorporation for the association and a final report will be made to the Commercial club some time this week. It is planned to send men throughout the county interesting the farmers and selling them membership tickets at a nominal price, which will include the admission to the grounds and the right to enter exhibits.

FORESTERS IN CONVENTION

Northern Jurisdiction Holding Two Days' Session in Duluth.

The annual convention of the Independent Order of Foresters, Northern Jurisdiction of Minnesota, is in progress in Duluth today. Delegates from Crookston, St. Vincent, Northcote, Moose Lake, Arnold, Hendrun, Eveleth, and other northern Minnesota towns will be in attendance, and it is expected that there will be about 100 visitors in the city.

The business meeting is being held today in Steinway hall, John G. Ross, high chief ranger of the district presiding. This evening a class of fifty new members will be initiated, and a big ball will be given after the ceremonies.

The business session will be continued tomorrow, and tomorrow evening the Duluth Foresters and their visitors will gather for a big banquet at Gundeson's pavilion at Lester park. An elaborate banquet will be served and there will be an excellent program of after dinner speaking, Mayor Haven and Clarence B. Miller being two of the principal speakers.

WILL FIX NO PRICES ON DAIRY PRODUCTS.

New York, Aug. 18.—The practice of the New York Mercantile exchange, which deals in butter, cheese and eggs, of fixing the prices of farm products was condemned by the investigating committee appointed by Governor Hughes a few months ago, which stated that such practices resulted in deceiving buyers and sellers and recommended that the charter of the exchange be repealed. Under a plan adopted by the members yesterday no quotations will be made by the exchanges, and prices ruling in the dairy markets will prevail.

MORE JOBS THAN MEN

State Employment Agencies Cannot Begin to Fill Orders.

Furnished 2,500 Men With Work in Fifteen Days.

"Wages are higher than in some time and steadily going up. There is work in plenty for everybody; the heads of the great manufacturing and mining companies of the state are doing all they can to improve the conditions under which men work, and just at this time the path of the laboring man promises to run smooth for some time to come," says William McEwen, state labor inspector, who came up from St. Paul this morning to spend the week end with his family at their summer home at Fond du Lac.

"During the first fifteen days in August," says Mr. McEwen, "the state free employment agencies in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth supplied 2,000 men with work. This work was secured at an expense of 14 cents for each position furnished. We cannot begin to fill the orders for men and the scarcity of men promises to be as great as in the rush years experienced before the panic."

Mr. McEwen says that since he has taken the office of state labor commissioner the office has been entirely reorganized and is now one of the busiest in the capitol building.

Every branch of the labor question and every condition of laboring men is being thoroughly investigated. The office will publish some time during the fall a bulletin covering every phase of the labor question in Minnesota.

The conditions under which men are hurt, the average amount paid to the family in case of a fatal accident, the percentage obtained by the lawyer, the expense to the state of trying the cases, the condition of the family both before and after the bread winner has been injured or killed, as the case may be, are some of the phases of the question that are being investigated throughout the state.

When school begins the attention of the office will be given over to the enforcing of the education law. This law, it is said, has been ignored more or less throughout the state for several years. This year it will be enforced to the letter.

Mr. McEwen says that the friendly feeling between the employers and the office has much to do with its success in the state. Instead of trying to force the employers to make needed changes, the department brings to their notice things that are not right about the factory or mine, and suggests a change.

"Up in this part of the state especially," said Mr. McEwen, "the employers have been especially courteous and have given us every assistance in our investigations."

WEARY TOURISTS SLEEP ON COTS

Hotels Unable to Accomodate All Who Applied for Rooms.

"Carriage! Carriage! Hotels nearly full. Hurry, if you want a room!"

This was the cry raised by enterprising hackmen on the Northern Pacific dock last evening when the big steamer North West pulled in, and the result was a wild scramble for the Duluth hotels. The tourists forgot the friendships of the trip, and, each party for itself, entered into a mad Marathon for the nearest hotel. The clerk's desk at the Spalding was the goal for the greater number, and the prizes were decidedly limited. The baggage-laden tourists rushed into the hostelry in a steady stream and lined up before the clerk's desk in a crowd which would have driven a circus ticket agent to desperation.

There was truth in the hackmen's cry, too, for the afternoon trains, with the returning traffic from the Pacific coast, had filled the hotels fairly well, while the evening trains completed the job.

Even before the North West arrived the hotels were filled, and the conductor on the Twilight Limited announced to the passengers at Superior that the hotels in Duluth were filled. Many left the train there and spent the night in Superior as a result.

The tourists made the rounds of the hotels again and again in vain. Finally the cots which have done service in similar cases before, were brought out and some of the travelers who had applied for parlor floor rooms were tucked carefully away in cots on the top floor, four and five to a room. By this time they were sufficiently weary, however, to accept even the small luxury of the cot with great gratitude, and by midnight the last of the tired travelers had been disposed of.

It was the biggest night of the year in Duluth's tourist travel, by all odds, and will probably hold the record for this season.

Canea harbor yesterday afternoon, their presence being an outcome of the difficulty that has arisen between Greece and Turkey since the evacuation, and an indication of the purpose of the powers to maintain the status quo.

The foreign consuls at Canea notified the Cretan government that the Greek flag would be hauled down this morning, and they warned the government that irreparable consequences would follow any attack made on the international landing party. On the receipt of this warning the Cretan authorities issued an appeal to the people not to obstruct in any way the action of the powers. The action of this morning means that the protecting powers have returned to the island, and the situation is again much as it was before July 27.

make sure that he would not be disturbed. Few of the 150 passengers for the Kaiser Wilhelm III who had left for Cherbourg earlier in the day on the two regular steamer trains were aware that Mr. Harriman purposed traveling with them. Among the passengers are Former Governor O'Dell, Rear Admiral William H. Reeder and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Vanderbilt. Mr. Harriman is accompanied by his wife and two daughters. His son Roland will take a steamer for New York at Southampton.

Wall Street Interested.

New York, Aug. 18.—E. H. Harriman's home-coming at this time is awaited with interest in view of the recent reports in Wall street that he had obtained an option on a controlling interest in the New York Central lines which would give him an ocean-to-ocean route. But that this is a reason for his return is but speculation, for no statement has been made to that effect to the Union Pacific officers here or to Mr. Harriman's associates.

The coincidence of the financier's return at a time when the New York Central rumor cropped out strongest, however, is interpreted by Wall street gossip to mean that he will exercise the option upon his arrival here, covering $50,000,000 worth of stocks formerly controlled for the most part by the Vanderbilt interests.

NEGRO ELKS AND K. P. ABOLISHED IN GEORGIA.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 18.—Late last night Governor Brown affixed his signature to the recent act of the Georgia legislature which prohibits the use by negro secret societies of the insignia, ritualistic work, grips, etc., of orders composed of whites. It legislates out of existence the negro organizations of Elks and Knights of Pythias, but the negro Masonic and Odd Fellows organizations may continue in operation by changing their badges, rituals, grips, etc., as the latter have names slightly different from the white Masonic and Odd Fellows' organizations.

City of Mexico, Mex., Aug. 18.—What they declare to be a gigantic spiritualistic swindle extending over a period of one year and which has well-nigh impoverished Mrs. de Jesus Perez, a widow, has been discovered by the authorities.

A great fortune, the police say, has been depleted by daily remittances by Mrs. Perez to the materialized form of her departed husband. Medical men who have examined Mrs. Perez, declare her the victim of powerful suggestion and not responsible.

Madame Corrado Bay and Prof. Hipolito Salzer, a spiritualist, are in prison, while the authorities are making an effort to effect the apprehension of Enquire Bay, husband of the madame.

Railroads and Freight Handlers of Twin Cities Reach an Agreement.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be no strike or walkout of the clerks and freight handlers in the Twin Cities, including the Minnesota Transfer Railway company's depot at Midway, an agreement having been reached which is expected to be for a term which will cover any immediate possibility of further trouble.

The railway officials are not announcing the exact terms of agreement, but on both sides concessions were made. It is understood that the men are to receive a little more than 5 per cent increase all along the line instead of the 10 per cnt for which they asked. Overtime will be paid on a scale governed by the character of work done. The union will be recognized, it is reported, although in settling the difference the officials dealt separately with their own group of employes.

Some of the railroads opposed any increase at all, and stood out to the finish for a fight on the ground that freight handling was not skilled labor and vacated places could be quickly filled. But there was the possibility of congestion to be faced, and it was this consideration which brought the strike to a close with a compromise.

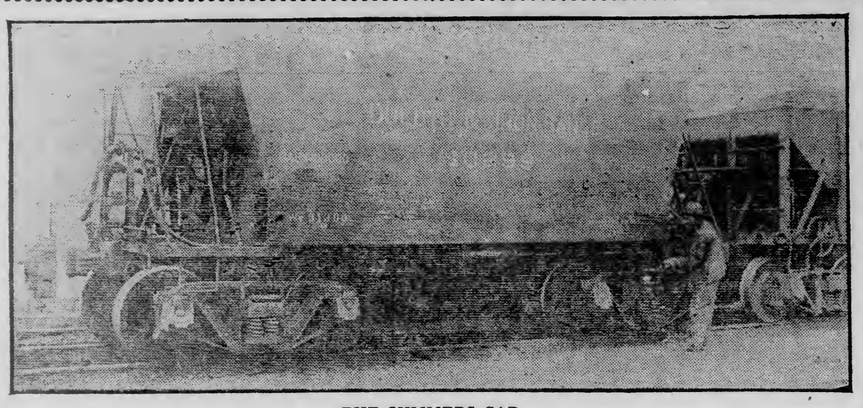
NEW ORE CAN BE DUMPED IN LESS THAN FIVE SECONDS



THE SUMMERS CAR.

In a test recently made on the docks of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway, the Summers patent ore car dumped a load of ore in the remarkably fast time of four and one-half seconds. This is the world's record and is considered nothing short of marvelous by railroad men and men who have watched the development of the patent unloading car.

The load in question was of 102,099 pounds. The car was on a train of forty-seven cars and was supplied by air from the engine operating the train. The car was dumped and trapped in the time stated, and to make sure that the time was correct, three men took the time with stop watches.

In another test the Summers car was opened and shut at intervals of ten seconds for forty times. The air guage on the engine was observed by Engineer Sullivan, in charge of the regular Missabe locomotive. It was found that the air guage only showed a reduction of four or five pounds from the initial pressure of eighty pounds. The maximum reduction shown during the test was seven pounds. According to the tests that have been made with the Summers car, it has been shown that a regular locomotive engine is capable of dumping a train of ore cars,

WILL COST $748,250 TO RUN THE CITY IN 1910

Comptroller's Estimate Provides for Increase of But $4,000.

His Statement Calls for a Tax Rate of 16.65 Mills.

City Comptroller McCormick estimates that it will cost $748,250 to run the city of Duluth during 1910, as compared with appropriations of $744,250 for 1909, an increase of $4,000. He has just completed his annual statement for the conference committee, giving the estimate of expenses for next year, and the revenue necessary to be raised for the year.

According to the table figures prepared, which gives every detail of estimated expense, the rate of taxation for 1910 will have to be 16.65 mills, where it is now 16.10 mills. The charter limitation for the funds numbering 4 to 16 is $320,000, and the comptroller's estimate for these funds is $305,250, bringing the total $14,759 inside the limit. There has been such a cry for more money from almost all departments that it is considered quite probable that the conference committee will raise the estimate to the limit of $320,000, when finally deciding upon the 1910 appropriations.

Of the total estimate of expenses, $748,250, there is a credit of $140,500 to be supplied from miscellaneous receipts, leaving $607,750 to be raised by taxation.

As compared with the appropriations for 1909, the comptroller's estimate for 1910 shows a decrease of $5,000 in the interest fund; an increase of $6,000 in the fire department fund; an increase of $500 in the police department fund; an increase of $500 in the light fund; a decrease of $4,000 in the water fund; an increase of $15,000 in the board of public works fund; a decrease of $3,000 in the health department fund; a decrease of $5,500 in the printing and supply fund; an increase of $4,500 in the municipal court fund; an increase of $2,250 in the salary fund; an increase of $250 for the water and light plant fund; a decrease of $10,500 in the permanent improvement fund, and an increase of $1,000 in the police pension fund.

The conference committee, consisting of the heads of all the city departments, will meet Saturday afternoon, but will adjourn until next Tuesday, without transacting any business. The comptroller's estimate will be presented Tuesday, and will be considered then and at subsequent meetings. Final action on appropriations for 1910 will not be taken until the regular September meeting.

The comparison of appropriations for the year 1909, and the comptroller's estimate of expenses for the year 1910 follows:

CONCERNING WOMAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton St. John and their two little sons will arrive in the city Friday of this week to visit until early in September. Mr. and Mrs. St. John are on a furlough from their missionary labors in China and they will speak at several meetings in Duluth during their visit here. Mrs. St. John was formerly Miss Io Barnes of this city, and she left shortly after her marriage with Mr. St. John for the foreign missionary field. They have been in America since early in the spring visiting in the West. After their Duluth visit they will go East for a few months, and will not return to China until the autumn of next year.

Mr. St. John will be the speaker at the First Methodist church at both services next Sunday, and will speak of some phase of the missionary work.

Invitations were issued today by the members of the Greysolon duLhut chapter of the D. A. R., for a reception in honor of Mrs. St. John and her mother, Mrs. Julia Barnes. The affair will be held Friday afternoon of next week at the home of Mrs. N. F. Hugo of 2407 East Third street. Mrs. St. John will speak at a meeting before the Young Women's Christian association and before the missionary societies of the First Methodist church during he rvisit. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes of Lester park will entertain the visitors during their stay in Duluth.

NO STAGE MANAGER.

But She Is Actress and Designer of Gowns.

College theatricals in all their enticing attractiveness opened the way for the stage career of Miss Ada Gifford, who is with "The Three Twins." Miss Gifford enjoyed with peculiar zest acting in college plays, designing costumes for the same and stage managing things in general. And when college days were over, although the folks at home wanted very, very much to have her remain there, the lure of mimic world was too strong and she entered her professional career. She still plays parts and designs costumes, but the management has relieved her of stage managing duties. The wedding gown worn by one of the members of the company in the "Cuddle Up a Little Closer" song was designed by Miss Gifford and the model was made exactly after her suggestions. Miss Gifford's father is a rich wholesale merchant of New York and he is gradually forgiving the vaulting ambition of his daughter and is gradually coming to think that maybe one theatrical star in the family might be a desirable thing after all.

MID-WEEK DANCE.

Orchestra Will Play at the Oatka Boat Club.

The midweek dance at the Oatka branch of the boat club will be held tomorrow evening. The usual water frolic will be held at 7 o'clock and for the dancing party which will follow an orchestra will play. The Oatka dances held during the week are among the most popular of the summer affairs and during the remainder of the summer an orchestra will play the program of dancing music instead of the pianola which has thus far done service.

WILL ABANDON CONCERT FOR THE OPERATIC STAGE

AUGUSTA ZUCKERMAN.

Augusta Zuckerman, the beautiful young American pianiste who is expected here soon, will abandon the concert for the operatic stage if report is true. She is a pupil of Alexander Lambert of New York. She is beautiful as well as talented and possesses an exceptional volce. It is reported that she has received so fine an offer from a London manager that she has been advised by her professional friends to accept it. It is said a part is to be written for her in which she will appear as a pianiste and play two or three numbers during the evening, so that she may keep in touch with her present profession. It will be remembered that Mme. Sembrich started in professional life as an instrumentalist and Charles Dalmores the remarkable French tenor, was originally a cornetist.

SKY PILOT HIGGINS

To Attend Annual Missionary Meeting Here.

At a special meeting of the officers of the missionary societies of the Duluth Presbyterial association held yesterday at the Glen Avon church, it was decided to invite Sky Pilot Higgins to be present at the annual meeting to be held in this city the last week of September or early in October. The Rev. Higgins has recently come into more attention than Minnesota people have heretofore given him, because of his discovery by a New York magazine writer who wrote most glowingly of Mr. Higgins' missionary work among the lumber camps of Northern Minnesota. He will be the particular feature of the annual meeting of the society.

At yesterday's meeting of the officers, the resignation of Mrs. Frank Crassweller as corresponding secretary was received and Miss Abbie Upham was named as her successor. The program committee appointed for the preparation of the annual program is Mrs. Campbell Coyle, Mrs. H. B. Sutherland and Mrs. Gibson. The plan of work for next yeaur was discussed. Mrs. W. J. McCabe, president of the society presided at yesterday's meeting.

MARRIAGE IS HAPPY

Or It Would Cease, Says Harper's Bazar.

The marriage question, like the poor, is always with us. This year it has had a prominent place in the wise utterances of learned men addressing college graduates. No one has been quite so pessimistic as the professor who, last year, announced that "love and romance die out with the sound of the wedding bells." Still, the general tone is mournful, and it will be a brave woman who marries with its echo in her ears, says Harper's Bazar.

A comparatively jocund world is refutation of these dismal views. The simple truth taught by all experience in all ages is that the great mass of mankind are happier married than they would otherwise be; because for most marriage is the fulfilment of nature's benign law, without which the race could neither have originated society nor perpetuated it. In the fulfilment of that law, heaven has ordained, shall be found the completest happiness. Fortunate, however, the man who, as Goldsmith counseled, chooses his wife "as she her wedding gown, for qualities 'that would wear well.' Every woman does not obey Penn's injunction, "Never marry but for love; but see that thou lovest only what is lovely." The great multitude of husbands and wives wed without reasoning about it. For most of them no wedding bells ring out. They do not know the word romance; they feel it, and, although Max Muller claims there is no thought without words, yet is there romance in millions of married lives without a vocabulary from the dictionaries. Such as these have been the makers of the human family. From them have sprung the noblest of every era, the greatest in the sciences, the most illustrious in the arts; aristocracy has been always a pauper in the democracy of genius. The poor who know not the pitfalls of artificial society live their wedded lives out, if not in ecstasies, in content; and they serve the world better than all others who, otherwise undevoted to humanity, linger in loneliness, and perish, leaving no trace behind.

If 90 per cent of the marriages were unhappy, as the pessimists claim, giving in marriage and marrying would cease. For mankind would not consent to virtually wholesale foreordained wretchedness.

SOCIETY WOMEN

Employ Talents and Money for Good.

Day by day there are accessions to the ranks of the society women who refuse to be mere butterflies and who try to use their wealth and influence to do good and bring happiness to the world outside their own small social circles. Mrs. Truman Newberry, wife of the secretary of the navy and daughter of Gen. Alfred C. Barnes of New York, has started a tuberculosis class among the members of the Church of the Covenant, in Washington. This class has engaged a specialist and a trained nurse. From the specialist they get practical scientific knowledge of how to fight the white plague. Thus made wise, they have segregated many cases of consumption in the poorest districts of the capital and have placed those households on a proper scientific basis. The nurse makes a daily visit to every patient who is under the protection of the class and teaches the sufferers how to get fresh air in the right way and how to prepare food. About twenty-five women of official society in Washington are banded with Mrs. Newberry, and the fact that they have many other interests makes their devotion to the poor consumptive all the more striking.

Rainy Weather Clothes.

A suburban woman, who like to look her best and also loves to tramp around in the rain has solved the problem entirely to her own satisfaction, says an exchange.

Her method is to adjure all the ordinary rain day impediments. Her high boots are of a kind impervious to dampness, her short skirt and coat, with knickers to match, are waterproof and call for no protecting raincoat, and her leather hat makes an umbrella superfluous.

"The real lover of rain," she says, "does not care to interpose an umbrella between herself and a shower. But if I did carry an umbrella it would not be a black one. I would unfurl an orb of crimson silk in the streets, and if I wore a raincoat it would be one of those shimmering silk things that are as beautiful as an opera coat. I would have it harmonize with the umbrella, with some lovely buttons to shine like jewels in the rain. There is no reason why one should wear dismal colors in bad weather. Dark greens, reds and blues look beautiful in the rain. The leather hat needn't be dismal either. Such hats come in pretty colors and with a roll of soft leather around them. They are just as becoming as any creation of flowers or feathers."

Mignonette vs. Screens.

For those who opject to wire netting in the windows during the summer a new idea has been found to prevent flies and such annoying pests from entering the house.

This new prevention is a window box of mignonette. It seems that the insects do not care to face the odor of this charming flower, so that it is an effectual barrier against their invasion. It sounds like a very pretty idea.

TAWNEY IS STIRRED UP

Reception to Insurgent Congressmen Rather Roils Winona Man.

Claims to Be Original Blown-in-the-Bottle Revisionist.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—Is the proposed reception to Minnesota's insurgent congressmen a personal affair, or is it meant for a Minnesota demonstration in behalf of downward revision?

This is what James Tawney wants to know. If it is a personal affair, it is a personal slap at him. If it is meant to back up the delegation in it efforts for downward revision, then Mr. Tawney maintains that he is entitled to a seat on the platform.

The Winona congressman who labored for free lumber and other reductions, but alone of the Minnesota delegation supported the final draft of the bill was here yesterday.

May Say More Later.

He was reticent when it came to commenting on his now famous telegram to Ell S. Warner.

"I have said about enough for the present," he remarked, "but I may say something more later. I do not care to say anything in explanation of my message. It speaks for itself. I will not say whether I had any certain members of the delegation in mind.

"I will say, however, if the members of the delegation were consulted, they would say that I should be invited to any kind of a demonstration in favor of downward revision. I believe they would be unanimous in saying that no member from this state did more to keep down the high schedules than I, and that no member of the house, outside of the conference committee, did more to cut down the advances made by the senate bill.

"That being the case, I cannot see anything in this proposed event but an attempt to give me a personal slap, and I cannot help resenting it. I have not criticised any of my Minnesota colleagues for their votes. I was not satisfied with the bill myself, but stood for it because it was the best we could get, over the present tariff. I do not mean any reflection on any member of congress from Minnesota in the question I put to Mr. Warner. I merely made a suggestion which may throw some light on the situation."

Tawney's Friends Stirred Up.

Mr. Tawney's friends in St. Paul are busy "knocking" the demonstration. Dar F. Rees, has been busy for several days talking with prominent Republicans and getting them to send messages to the congressmen who are to be invited advising these to stay away and that it is all a scheme to disrupt the Republican party in the state. Several of the district supporters of Mr. Tawney were in St. Paul to meet him. They are more indignant than ever over the situation.

It is reported that friends of Mr. Tawney had been getting names of the federal office holders who have been taking part in the demonstration movement. They expect the demonstration to be taken at Washington as a direct reflection upon President Taft and to put the office holders who foster the plan "in bad" with the administration.

CHICAGO DEPOT TO COST $25,000,000

Pennsylvania, Pan Handle, Alton, St. Paul and Burlington to Build It.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—The old union station in Chicago will be replaced by a $25,000,000 structure, according to an announcement made yesterday. The new building will be erected on plans of harmony with the "city beautiful" idea and will be opposite the $20,000,000 terminal which the Chicago & Northwestern is building. The railroads planning the project are the Pennsylvania, owner of the present depot, the Pan Handle, the Chicago & Alton, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. Several years of effort were required to remove the obstacles to the project. A $30,000,000 terminal is under consideration by officials of the Chicago & Western Indiana railroad between Polk and Twelfth streets.

LYCEUM—Miss Leone in "The Professor's Romance."

"The Three Twins."

"The Three Twins which comes to the Lyceum for the week of Aug. 23, is one of the best musical comedies that has ever been produced. Its long run in Chicago of five months at the Whitney opera house, and of one year at the Herald Square theater, in New York, the S. R. O. sign was displayed nightly.

"The Three Twins is a musical comedy with a plot and many novel features, the conglomerate nonsense, the riot of color, and the spirited movements make such an agreeable attack on one's senses that it matters not under what name the revelry goes. The music titillates and tantalizes, and the witty lines and adept clowning excite one to laughter. Mr. Gaites has lavishly costumed the beautiful show girls. In the second ct there are eight of the handsomest Parisian directoire gowns worn by beautiful and shapely girls. The electrical effects are marvelous, the faceograph being a distinct novelty. The electrical aerial swing is a structure of steel, illuminated with over 2,000 electric lights revolving at a rapid rate with six girls in the baskets singing "The Cuddle Song."

The company is headed by Victor Morley who created the title role and includes Bessie Clifford, Florenz Kolb, W. H. Woodside, Frank Smith, E. P. Bower, Ida Poetz and a chorus of sixty people.

A Theater of Her Own.

Miss Maude Leone who is playing Polly this week in the pleasant production of "The Professor's Romance" which is being given at the Lyceum, is having a theater built at Omaha for her particular use. The building will be completed by Jan. 1 and Miss Leone will open the theater some time after that date. Miss Leone completed a stock engagement at Omaha shortly before coming to Duluth and so successful was her season and her reception from the Omaha public, that the venture of the new theater for her was undertaken.

The Lyceum was again sold out this afternoon for the performance which is the most pleasing of the summer. The advance sale for the week has been large. The piece will be given every evening and at a Saturday matinee.

WELLMAN ALMOST MAKES REAL START FOR THE POLE.

Hammerfest, Norway, Aug. 18.—A dispatch from Walter Wellman's Arctic expedition camp at Spitzbergen, dated Aug. 14, says:

"A north gale which has been blowing since Aug. 5, dropped on the 12th, and Mr. Wellman made ready to start in search of the North pole. The balloon was inflated and provisioned and the motors were working smoothly. On Aug. 13 the wind was still variable, but Mr. Wellman decided to get the airship out of the house.

"The steamer Thalia arrived about this time and her passengers spent the night ashore watching the preparations for the flight and hoping to see the start. Officers and crew of the Thalia assisted in swinging the airship, which was of fine appearance, from the shed. The wind, however, again freshened and at 6 o'clock in the morning Mr. Wellman ordered the airship back into the shed to wait for more propitious weather conditions."

SOUTHWEST IS NOT MUCH COOLER

Two Die As Result of Heat in Kansas City---Mercury Is Well Up.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 18.—Severe warm weather throughout the Southwest gave way to a limited extent yesterday before cooling breezes. The day was the most trying in years in Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Two deaths were recorded in Kansas City. Oklahoma reports excessive heat. Government thermometers at McAlester registered 113, at Vinita, 110; Ardmore, 111; Oklahoma City, Guthrie and Tulsa, 106.

In Kansas City and Western Missouri, the temperature reached almost the 100 mark.

From Kansas points come the report that the heat is not damaging corn seriously. Recent heavy rains put it in such good shape that the crop is practically made.

Hot Day in Texas.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 18.—Yesterday was the hottest of the year, the thermometer registering 108½ at the government observatory here.

Is 120 in Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 18.—With the weather bureau thermometer registering 111 degs. from 2:15 to 3:15 yesterday afternoon, the street thermometers in the business district recorded 120 and it was the hottest day in the history of Fort Worth as far as there is any record. Suffering of man and beast was intense and business to a large extent was interfered with.

Southeast Gets It Too.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 18.—The heat wave which swept the country from coast to coast Monday was still rampant yesterday and new records were established. From all over the South and Southeast come reports of intense suffering, but few cases of prostration. The cotton growers are rejoicing over the heat wave, as they claim that it is rapidly destroying the boll weevil.

At Natchez 105 degs. was recorded at 3:20 p. m.

Not since July 1, 1901 has the heat been so intense throughout Middle Arkansas. At Little Rock a temperature of 105 was registered and two prostrations were reported.

Vegetation throughout the Shreveport territory of Louisiana wilted under the heat, the maximum of 104 degs. being reached at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

SAYS BOLIVIA WANTS TO KEEP PEACE WITH PERU

Lima, Peru, Aug. 18.—Senior Mujal, the Bolivian minister to Peru, has issued a statement in which he declares that all reasonable people in Bolivia are unanimous in their desire for a friendly and decorous outcome of the negotiations to settle the trouble that has arisen between Bolivia and Peru because of the adverse finding to Bolivia rendered by the Argentine president in the boundary dispute with Peru, and that the new Bolivian government will make every effort to effect a satisfactory settlement.

MAKES REPORT ON THE ANNUAL COAL PRODUCTION.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The effect of the financial depression beginning in 1907 and continuing into 1908 was the most powerful factor which caused a marked decline in the production of coal in the United States in 1908 as compared with the preceding year, according to statistics compiled by the geological survey and just made public.

The total production of coal in the United States in 1908 was 416,842,698 short tons, having a spot value of $532,314,117. Of this total 74,347,107 long tons, with a spot value at $158,178,849, was Pennsylvania anthracite and 332,575,944 short tons, with a spot value of $374,135,262, was bituminous coal and lignite.

The total production of both anthracite and bituminous coal in the United States in 1908 showed a decrease of 64,520,726 short tons, or 13.43 per cent in quantity, and of $82,484,781, or 14.42 per cent in value. In the production of bituminous coal, however, the decrease in 1908 amounted to 62,185,168 short tons or 15.75 per cent in quantity and to $77.079,574 or 17.08 per cent in value.

The total number of men idle because of labor disaffections in 1908 in the bituminous regions was 145,145, and the average time lost by each was 38 days. The total number of working days lost in the bituminous regions alone was 5,449,938 compared with 462,392 lost in 1907.

"WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH DULUTH?"

Elsewhere in The Herald tonight appears an interview with John A. Stewart of New York, formerly a resident of Duluth, who deftly and soothingly calls attention once more to the fact that with every single item of advantage that any city needs Duluth is not making progress as fast as it should.

It is true that Mr. Stewart calls attention to the important growth that the city has had since he left it, and that is still in progress. This growth is very real and tangible; but it is about such growth as the city couldn't have avoided if it had tried, and very little of it is due to the initiative and energy of the city as a whole or of any of its commercial organizations.

The main trouble appears to be that instead of doing things for itself, Duluth has waited for others to come in and do them.

Instead of investing its own capital in the many manufacturing industries that it needs to supply its own wants and to make the pay rolls which are a city's very foundation stones, Duluth has waited for outside capital to take up manufacturing, and has hazarded its own money in more or less precarious mining investments in faraway states, territories and foreign lands.

Duluth is and will be just what its people make it. It has splendid opportunities, but its people wait for somebody else to take advantage of them. It has every advantage needed for the making of a great city, but it has taken no steps to let the world know that it has such advantages. Early in the summer, when other cities sweltered in terrible heat while Duluth was cool and comfortable, The Herald tried to induce the Commercial club to take up such a small and promising form of advertising as to publish the temperatures of Duluth in city dailies during the summer days; but the Commercial club would not undertake it. For years The Herald has advocated a systematic campaign to advertise Duluth, but no move has been made.

Duluth can no longer remain content to be a mere shipping point, a depot for the commerce of other sections. It isn't getting enough out of the mere handling of raw materials which are to be manufactured somewhere else to support more than a large village. What it needs is manufacturing, and manufacturing it must have. This does not mean steel manufacturing alone, though that must be the backbone of Duluth's manufacturing industry; it means a lot of small manufacturing enterprises rather than a few big ones.

To have manufacturing it must have as cheap living as can be provided in these days of general high prices, and to this end there must be a more assiduous cultivation of the surrounding soil. Living is as cheap, on the whole, in Duluth as it is in any city of similar situation and size; but to keep it cheap more earth products must be grown near by, and those that are grown near by must have the encouragement of the business interests. If there is a commission row combination that is injuring the city and giving it a bad name among shippers, it should be looked into in the interests of the agricultural development of this section.

Duluth has the making of its future largely in its own hands. Nothing is made by inaction; nothing is gained by blinking at the truth; nothing is helped by concealment or evasion. The time has come for everybody in Duluth to talk right out and say what he thinks and do what he can to make use of the glittering opportunities that surround and fill the city.

WORKLESS PRISONS.

Here and there may still be found a state that retains the barbarous and inhumane custom of keeping its convicts in idleness. If confinement in prison is viewed purely as a punishment, and if the object be to make the punishment as severe as possible without regard to the dictates of humanity, depriving convicts of work is the most fiendishly successful device ever invented.

But the modern idea of penology is not so much that of punishment as it is that of reformation and reconstruction. Old methods confirmed criminals in crime; the new methods tend to make useful and honest citizens of the greater proportion of offenders. So wise and beneficent legislatures in most of the states—wise and beneficent in this whatever their other faults—have provided work for the hands and occupation for the minds of their prisoners, and the result has been wholly good. In Minnesota, for instance, without much competition of prison labor with free labor, the prison force is kept so profitably employed that the prison is actually operated at a profit.

Pennsylvania is one of the few states that have not provided work for its prisoners. The fact had escaped general notice, and it was something of a shock to find the Philadelphia grand jury, at its recent meeting, recommending that work should be found for prison convicts. Says the Boston Transcript: "That is an axiom of advanced penology which seems to have been seriously disregarded in Pennsylvania. One occupation after another has been taken away, presumably at the instigation of the labor organizations, until it is said that nineteen out of twenty of all penitentiary inmates must pass their time in complete idleness. That way madness lies, as had been shown by centuries of demonstration.

"The pleading of the convicts for work is pathetic. They feel the need of it to save them from themselves. The purpose of punishment is theoretically, these days, the reformation of the punished. That is practically impossible under conditions of enforced idleness. It is demoralizing even to the strong and the upright of character, and leads to swift degeneracy among the vicious. It gives normal activities nothing to build upon or steady themselves by. It is bad economy and worse humanity, and work should be supplied even if the opportunities have to be somewhat arbitrarily furnished."

Pennsylvania is greatly in need of good roads, but the grafters have so depleted her treasury that she cannot afford, without excessive taxation, to do what she would like to do. It has been suggested, and the suggestion has merit, that the state should set its prisoners at road-building, as Georgia has done with much success.

Minnesota can take pride in being one of the most advanced states in this respect. For many years her convicts have had labor to "save them from themselves," and in providing this labor the state has not only treated her convicts like human beings—they are still men and brothers, even if erring—but she has provided great advantages for her people. For instance, in making binding twine and selling it at a moderate profit, she has so underbid the trust that supplies the country's binding twine that millions of dollars have been saved to the farmers.

THE AUTOMOBILE AND THE STREETS.

The protests from Lakeside against the abuse of automobile privileges on London road seems to indicate that some of the automobilists, having a good thing in the London road speedway, haven't had the good sense to make reasonable use of it. So now they are threatened with a radical curtailment of privileges.

Very likely the full program of regulation proposed by the Lakesiders will not become effective. It is probably too severe, and maybe the Lakesiders realized that, but believed that they should ask much that they might get something by compromise.

Perhaps the best suggestion in the list is that of a wheelage tax, if it can be worked out practically. The coming of the automobile has brought new problems in the matter of roads and streets. The automobile is very destructive of roadways; one automobile will do more damage to roads than three heavy wagons. In some way the owners of automobiles ought to be made to pay a special tax to meet the special drain they cause upon road facilities. Two dollars per horse power per year is pretty steep, every automobilist will say; and there seems to be merit in the contention. But that the automobile ought to pay for the damage it does to the roads is an unavoidable conclusion, and there seems no better way of accomplishing this than through a wheelage tax. The amount of that tax should be reasonable, but it should be great enough to meet the needs of the situation, if there is any way of arriving at it.

The automobile has come to stay. In many ways it is a blessing; in many more it is something of a curse. Its problems must be met and grasped in a spirit of calm and reasonable fairness; nothing is to be gained by peevishness and heat on either side. It is the misfortune of the careful and sane automobilist that he is forced to shoulder some of the blame that ought all to go to the reckless and mad automobilist who cares only for his own pleasure and nothing for the rights of the public or of his fellow-automobilists. It is to the interest of the careful driver that there should be proper and reasonable regulation, else the crazy careering of the heedless will bring about unreasonable regulation that will take all of the pleasure out of the sport.

The automobilist should remember, however, that as yet his position is not secure. The pedestrian was here first, is jealous of his rights and is not disposed to yield too quickly or too much. Furthermore, the majority is so overwhelmingly with the pedestrian and the automobilist is in such a hopeless minority that until the situation becomes settled it will stand the latter in good stead to do a good deal of serious thinking about his relations with the public.

The London road dispute can be worked out calmly, reasonably and rightly, and that is the way it should be worked out. The new automobile ordinance should and doubtless will safeguard the rights of the public while giving reasonable latitude to the automobilist. Still, it is hardly to be expected that the latitude will be as wide as it might be if the majority were with the automobilist instead of with the humble pedestrian who has the votes.

TAKING THE CENSUS.

During the last half of next April, every household in Duluth—and in the country, for that matter—will be visited by the census man.

The government is about ready with its plans for the 1910 census, and it will not be long before the local organizations of census-takers and local superintendents will be made. Already the district superintendents—one for each congressional district—are being appointed, and much of the work of local organization will rest upon their shoulders.

About all the average citizen knows or cares about the census—unless he is one of those figure fiends who delight in compiling statistics out of the completed census and turning them into very dry reading matter—is confined to the moment of contact between the census agent and the home. It may, therefore, be interesting to know what questions the census man is going to ask. Here they are in full:

Name, relationship to head of family, color, sex, age, conjugal condition, place of birth, place of birth of parents, number of years in the United States, citizenship, occupation, whether employe or employer, and if employe whether or not employed at the date of enumeration and the number of months unemployed during the calendar year, whether or not engaged in agriculture, school attendance, literacy, tenure of home, whether or not a survivor of the Union or Confederate armies, and the name and address of each blind or deaf or dumb person in the household.

This is quite a cross-examination, and you have to answer it, too—even delicate questions like that about conjugal condition, which may involve embarrassment if there is a divorce certificate in the family or no marriage certificate. If you refuse to answer the agent can take you before the federal court and have you fined $100; so it is very much cheaper to answer.

No, Algernon, the Chinese did not derive their nickname from the cracks in the big wall.

Harriman is reported to have gobbled up another railroad. No wonder he has trouble with his stomach.

It will even cost more to die. The new tariff law, it is claimed, will double the cost of the white gloves distributed by undertakers at funerals.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about live topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective however.)

GUESS AGAIN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The article "Treat all Alike," in your last evening's issue does not treat all alike. "A. F." is badly mistaken when he says that the American Express company load and unload in the alley. They do both at their front door. They stop their teams and load, even in front of their neighbor's door, thereby blockading the street in front of the entrance of another business house. "A F." will have to find another object lesson besides the one he used as an illustration.

MORE HOTELS NEEDED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Duluth is a good town in every way but one. It hasn't enough first-class hotels. Last night, after applying to every one of the leading hotels, and being turned down at them all, I had to content myself with a poorly-ventilated room in a cheap hotel, where I paid 50 cents for 2 cents' worth of sleep, and suffered several dollars' worth of discomfort to mind and body.

The hotels here can little more than accommodate the first-class trade during the winter, and in the summer, when the volume of tourist travel is so heavy, they are entirely inadequate. I do not know in what class the new hostelry at the corner of Fifth avenue west and Superior street will be, but if it is a strictly top-notcher, as it probably will be in that location, the hotel space here will still be insufficient for summer needs, and with the increased winter business that will be here by the time the building is completed, there will still be no spare room even then.

It is too bad for the city that there is not more hotel room, for it is a poor advertisement for any town to have it known that an outsider coming here stands a chance of having to walk the streets at night, in lieu of sleeping. Where otherwise Duluth might make a splendid impression on the visitor, he now is liable to go away with his hammer out, because he couldn't get satisfactory hotel accommodations.

Another drawback on account of inadequate space is the fact that no conventions of any consequence can be held here during the summer, because there is no place to house the delegates. I understand big conventions in the past have been lost to Duluth on that account. Duluth should be the convention city of America, provided it had the hotel accommodations to offer. I know of no other place where the summer climate would prove such an attraction to residents from the sweltering interior, as well as to people along the sea coasts. The papers are asking editorially why Duluth doesn't grow faster. One reason is because she hasn't got more hotels.

A Chicago Reactionary.

New York Sun: Doesn't Chicago already regret that she elected Mrs. Ella Flagg Young superintendent of her public schools? A city that so delights to rush forward can hardly have patience with an official committed to antiquated, outworn and obstinately reactionary "educational ideals." Mrs. Young's program is short, but its fulfilment would be fatal to the American schools. Turning her back upon all the crowded and miscellaneous "studies" and accomplishments and sideshows wherewith the young American mind is stuffed, she swears by the three R's' those overturned idols of our ignorant forefathers. To make the pupils read, write and cipher; such is the pitiful object for which she strives. The pride of parents will revolt against such a sacrifice of their fondest hopes and desires.

Amateur street cleaning and other branches of sociology have been taught in some of the Chicago schools, we believe. Whatever interests the teachers, whatever is nobly inutile and superfluous, whatever can amuse, distract or befuddle the tender intellect, whatever, imperfectly learned and mixed multitudinously with other smatterings, makes a curdled and indigestible mash of flubdub, this is, and this, if we know the passion of Americans for ornamental education, will ever be the dream of hoards of education, and school committees.

To read, to write, to cipher; let us not sacrifice to this Moloch of dead schoolma'ams and preceptors. Let children, if so much concession must still be made to the prejudices of the past, let them learn to read doubtfully and slowly, without intelligence and expression, a few sentences from a book. Let them be able to write a letter, muddily worded, spelled after the manner of the Thane of Skibo, capitalized—but down with the capitalists! As for the multiplication table, long division, fractions and so on, toward these, in some sense symbols of capitalism, there is a new attitude, as there is toward property.

Mrs. Young will have to retreat. American children mustn't be permitted to learn or to try to learn anything that can be of any possible good to them or anybody else, except the makers of school books and the teachers of "fancy" subjects. Frankly, we are surprised and shocked by these views of Mrs. Young. Why, Ben Franklin couldn't have said anything more heathenishly "practical."

It is far more pleasant to preach than to practice. That's why the minority practice.

The Constitution gives to every man the right to free speech—unless he is boarding in a jail.

If you had to live your life over again, the chances are you would make a different kind of fool of yourself.

It takes the average man seventeen times as long to tell what he thinks he knows as it does to tell what he really knows.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: The only time there seems to be any room in a flat is after a sleeping car trip.

What people mostly like about good music is pretending they can understand it.

When a woman says she knows her husband like a book, she generally means like a check book.

It's simply wonderful the way it increases a baby's yelling power for it to belong to somebody else.

Some men are so unlucky in money matters that if they married a rich wife they would have to support her.

The reason a woman can believe scandal about other people is she doesn't see how they can believe it about her.

Should Sift Ballinger Charges.

Glenwood Herald: Serious charges have been made against Secretary of the Interior Ballinger that he has assisted the water power trust to secure control of water rights, power sites and other natural resources. If the charges are true the administration is guilty of overturning one of Roosevelt's policies which is perhaps more cherished by the people than any other, that of conservation of national resources, which the administration is pledged to carry out. The president should sift these charges thoroughly and if they are true the present secretary should be succeeded immediately by somebody who has the nation's welfare more at heart.

A Poor Purchase.

Chicago Record-Herald: When you buy a friend you must pay him a regular salary to keep him.

THE WEATHER.

Showers threatened for a time last evening, and a little rain fell, but later the sky cleared, and the night was cool and delightful. This morning broke bright and warm, and the weather man looks for fair weather tonight and tomorrow.

A year ago today, Duluthians were enjoying ideal weather.

The sun rose this morning at 5:09 and will set this afternoon at 7:14, making fourteen hours and five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Very warm weather prevailed Tuesday in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and Texas, with temperatures varying from 90 degs. to 100 degs. or more in many places. A rise in pressure from Kansas northward over Nebraska and the Dakotas to Manitoba is attended by cooler conditions this morning. The low pressure off the Virginia coast Tuesday morning has advanced its center to the New England coast. During the last twenty-four hours this disturbance caused light to heavy showers in North Atlantic states and the upper Mississippi valley. Clear skies are the rule in the Northwest this morning. Fair weather will prevail at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

Following were the minimum and maximum temperatures for the last twenty-four hours:

MEANT TO BE FUNNY.

Syracuse Herald: The Artist—Do you know the difference between working and playing?

The Musician—Yes; the man who gets music out of a violin is playing; the fellow that gets noise out of a drum is working.

Cleveland Leader: Mr. De Bore—The hours fly when I am with you.

Miss Tersleep—Well, that's one comfort.

Yonkers Statesman: Redd—Have you ever timed your automobile?

Greene—Oh, yes. I stood perfectly still for forty-eight minutes on the road today!

Judge: Daughter — Father, dear father, won't you forgive John and me for eloping?

Father, Dear Father—Yes, if you—er—elope again right away.

Washington Star: "Father," said little Rollo, "what is a plutocrat?"

"A plutocrat, my son, is a man who is vastly wealthy, but declines to endow any project in which you are immediately interested."

London Punch: The Youth—Oh, the cloak of invisibility! Just the thing I want for my adventure. May I try it on?

The Dealer in Magic—Young man, for goods of this description we always require payment in advance.

Chicago News: Little Willie—Say, pa, what is a philosopher?

Pa—A philosopher, my son, is a man who can generate a dozen good and sufficient reasons why other people ought to be perfectly satisfied with their lot in life.

New York Press: The little grass widow found her newly married friend crying bitterly. "Why do you cry?" she asked her. "Quit it. It isn't worth while. I used to cry like that the first two or three times, but I don't any more. I just go out and get a divorce."

Philadelphia Record: The man who buys his friends generally pays more than they are worth.

Yonkers Statesman: Bill—Did you ever try my doctor?

Jill—Oh, yes; don't you remember when I was sick such a long time?

Louisville Courier-Journal: "Get out the hose reel, Si! Peleg Whittletree's barn is afire."

"Can't do it, Seth. That hose reel was jest painted today."

Baltimore American: "I heard Mrs. Climber boast the other day that she was very high born. I don't believe it."

"Oh, yes, she was. She was born on the top floor of a twelve-story tenement."

Washington Star: "There's no use o' talkin'," said Farmer Corntossel, as he sat down on the horse trough. "I can't get along with some o' these here summer guests."

"What's the trouble?"

"I have jes' been lectured by that good-lookin' young woman with glasses fur spillin' the color scheme of the garden by puttin' paris green on the vegetables."

Bargain Goods.

Lowell Courier-Citizen: The new battleship Maine is to be laid up in drydock for $500,000 in repairs. A battleship wears about as well as a 90-cent parasol.

Why the Crops Grow.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: Irrigated and fertilized by the new tariff, the crops continue to grow in the warmth of a sun which shines beneficently only when the wool schedule is over 100 per cent ad valorem.

Profits Revised Upward.

Indianapolis News: Further analysis of the tariff bill shows that the "reasonable profit" has also been revised upward.

What?

Milwaukee Sentinel: Perhaps women, as Prof. Willett says, have not changed in 3,500 years, but what would Helen of Troy thought of a peach basket hat?

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1889.

William H. Newton of East Superior is dead as the result of being thrown from a carriage by the overturning of a seat. He was associated with others in founding and laying out Superior. For the past three years he has been in the real estate business there. He leaves a wife, but no children.

In addition to the new Chicago-Duluth passenger service contemplated by the Northern Pacific and Wisconsin Central roads, it is their intention in the near future to carry the Pacific coast mail from Chicago and the East via Duluth instead of St. Paul.

D. F. Kennedy and family of Stevens Point, Wis., have arrived and are residing near the West end depot.

E. W. McCormick of Washington, who has been prominently identified with the banking interests of that city, has about decided to remove to West Duluth. He is a cousin of S. S. Williamson.

Nelson Sickles of Elmira, Mich., a brother-in-law of E. R. Thurber, has been appointed clerk in the postoffice at West Duluth.

The two Superior land companies have consolidated their interests. Over ten-thirteenths of the vacant city property on the other side of the bay has been put in the combined pool.

Dr. Charles L. Codding and Mrs. Katherine Buchanan were married at St. Paul's church on Aug. 16. Rossini's wedding march was played by Mrs. Loman and Mrs. McKindley, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. William M. Barker, rector of St. Paul's. The ushers were Charles E. DeWitt, W. M. Roberts, Dr. Graff, Robert Wells, Walter Ayers and W. C. Farrington. A wedding supper was served at the residence of Col. Wells, the bride's father.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Aurora News: The kickers and croakers have no place in the city with the push and progressiveness of our town. The man who opposes needed public improvements and stands in the way of progress is not a good citizen.

Waverly Star and Tribune: Among the large number of Minnesotans who have recently returned from the exposition at Seattle we have yet to meet one who is not better pleased with the bread and butter state since returning from the Pacific coast country. Minnesota is truly the garden spot of the country and it has to be something extraordinary that will attract the average Minnesotan to other sections. Yes, we know all about the winter, too!

Fertile Journal: Congressman Tawney of the First district was the only one of the Minnesota delegation in congress to vote for the Payne tariff bill. We see Tawney's finish at the next election.

Anoka Union: Old Joe Cannon is as big a hog as ever.

James Tawney was the one black sheep.

Rush City Post: Spending large sums of money for reforestation and selling big bunches of state timber to the lumber men seems like wasting at the bung and saving at the spigot. Why not keep the forest trees we have than fly to others we know not of?

Wadena Pioneer Journel (Rep.): Every member of the lower house of congress from Minnesota voted against the Aldrich tariff bill with the exception of Congressman James A. Tawney of Winona. Mr. Tawney sacrificed principle for place, and staid with Speaker Cannon on that issue. We are sorry to note this, for Mr. Tawney is an able and influential member of our national lawmaking body, and could be of great service to our country if he so willed.

Ortonville Herald-Star: Minnesota now has an anti-cigarette law, but there seems to be a hole in it. Dealers are taking orders from consumers which are filled by the wholesalers direct. The dealer does not handle the goods, but he does handle the money and makes his profit. The attorney general says this is illegal, but what of it? Who is going to prosecute? Rotten!

Two Harbors Iron Trade Journal: President Taft has lost his chance for becoming one of our history-honored presidents by signing the tariff bill as it was finally passed by both houses of congress. His veto would have made him a popular president with the people.

Homesick.

When wanderlust gets in your blood and leads you far away
Among a people strange, perhaps—perhaps across the sea;
When all the novelty wears off and sights become passe,
And you're about as homesick as a mortal man can be;
When you would walk or swim or fly,
or anything you could,
To get back home, or willingly give all you have to give,
Now, honest, don't it cheer you up and set your feelings good,
To meet a man who knows a man who comes from where you live?

You talk about the smallest thing that marks the absentee—
His beard, his gait, his speech, his ways, that mole upon his nose,
For precious hours you discuss each eccentricity
That marks the man, and criticise his special suit of clothes;
You split a many a quart of wine until your purse is slim,
And resolutions you have made are
tattered as a sieve;
But what's the odds if wine does flow,
there's naught too good for him,
For he's a man who knows a man who comes from where you live.

He may not be the sort of man you'd cotton to at home!
He may affect atrocious clothes and not be worth his salt,
He may not have a lofty thought beneath his wretched dome,
But who are you that you should note each trifling little fault?
Ah, well, you know you would not care
how many faults might show—
Deficiencies that he may have you willingly forgive!—
Nostalgia will level all, and all you care to know
Is he's a man who knows a man who comes from where you live!

—JOHN D. WELLS.

The World's Activity.

Boston Globe: Chili has an industrial awakening which is marvelous. The work on the first steel plant south of Mexico is progressing so rapidly that it will be ready for operation in October, 1910. It will cost $2,000,000 in United States gold and it will have a daily output of 200 tons.

The consular reports sent to the government at Washington are filled with instructive comments and facts and figures about the activities of different nations. Japan's alertness is well known. Besides improving her rivers and harbors she is organizing new steamship lines at various South American ports.

But of all the interpid hustlers Canada is the silent, yet most conspicuous. When one tries to imagine the great empire which will one day take the place of the modest lady of the snows, all old world grandeurs seem to pale. When one further lets his imagination roam from Hudson bay to the Straits of Magellon and takes in the coming wonders of new world nations, he is staggered by the vision of Canadian, United States, Mexican, Central America, Brazilian, Argentine and Chilian developments. Europe, Africa and Asia and Australia vanish like the mist of a dream or remain venerable shrines from which the worshipers have departed.

The Way the Ad Read.

Newspaperdom: An advertisement appeared in the New York papers last month stating that one G. L. W. could recover a bag lost on the steamboat City of Worcester on July 9 by identifying it at the company's office.

In the bag, which is made of alligator skin, with the initials G. L. W. on one side, were found these articles:

A large sum of money.
Two diamond rings.
A copy of the New Testiment.
A flask of whisky.
A box of cigarettes.
Photographs of an actress in various poses.
An old-fashioned daguerreotype.
Two gold watches.
A pack of playing cards.
Unlisted assortment of French lingerie.

Any one brave enough to identify the bag will be welcomed.

THE WORD OF THE WEST.

Houston Chronicle: John A. Johnson, governor of Minnesota, is a man whose public utterances are of importance, not only because he is a presidential possibility, with an increasing strength among the Democrats—although how great his strength is it is too early to attempt to determine—but also because when he says anything he expresses ideas worth consideration. He does not merely make a speech because he is called upon. At the Seattle exposition, on Minnesota day, he said in part: "It is time that the West threw off the shackles of the East. I would preach no sectional divisions and no sectional strife, but Minnesota and Washington and the states between them, with those to the south of us, should rise in their might and claim for themselves that fair share of influence in the halls of congress and in the administration of national affairs to which they are entitled by every law of common sense, as well as of political economy. We have in the states west of the Mississippi the undoubted balance of power, no matter under what name the national administration at Washington exists. In the years that have passed our population and our material wealth have not enjoyed that representation to which they are entitled, and, furthermore, our leaders have been content to follow in no small measure the leadership of men who represent relatively small constituencies and smaller commonwealths."

All this is absolutely true. But what does the West stand for? Is there a Western spirit as distinguished from an Eastern spirit? What lesson, if any, has the great territory this side of the Mississippi for the territory on the other side?

Politics being left out of the consideration, and looking broadly at the two parts of the country, which are not and will not be divided by sectionalism, the West can claim a more stalwart Americanism.

The reason of this is twofold. First, as the more recently settled part of the country, the traditions of the fathers of the republic are more vividly preserved because of the similarity of environment. The founders of the United States were pioneers, and the West is not so far distant from pioneer days as the East. Second, because of its greater proximity to Europe, the Anglomania of fashionable society, and among the poorer classes the larger number of immigrants from abroad, the East has to contend against old world ideas which the Monroe doctrine has not been able to keep off from this continent.

The East is not Europeanized. The memory of the brave days of 1776 has not died out. Bunker Hill is still an eminence of sacred historical associations, and the Delaware yet recalls the glory of Washington. But the indisputable tendency to Europeanization referred to exists and threatens to increase. It comes both from the four hundred and the four million. Patent are the progress and poverty against which Henry George wrote. The plutocracy's luxury and the people's lack start men to recognize the un-American division into classes. Where citizens are forced to consider themselves lower than others they lose hope and patriotism and the country suffers.

The function of the West is to change all this. The West is the hope of the United States. The West is the leaven that will prevent the cake of the American people from being dough. The West believes in all the wealth that a man may get by fortune or industry, but in not one cent by unjust laws. The West abhors tribute. The West insists on the abolition of governmental favoritism, on a government of just laws fairly and squarely executed, on old-fashioned American freedom, and that this shall continue to be truly a republic in theory and practice, a land of liberty governed not by the politicians for the plutocrats, but by the people for the people.

A Maddening Lay.

On the frozen Ar'tic Ocean somewhere
north o' Bering Sea
There's an Eskimo a-sittin', an' I wisht that it was me,
For the wind is in the icebergs an' the
the polar bears at play.
Make a peaceful summer picture on the shores o' Baffin Bay.

Oh, the folks o' Baffin Bay,
On cold storage every day,
In the shadow of the glaciers loll and sip whaleoil glace.

Their pantaloons are leather an' their coats are made of skin,
Which prevents the chilly weather
that's outside from comin' in.
For, altho' skins are free in this here
happy, chilly clime,
Protection's necessary in the good old summer time.

Oh, the folks a' Melville Sound
Never go away from town
To summer in the mountains till the mercury comes down.

stabulary, when the strikers were dispersed.

River Men on Strike.

A strike on the steamer Steel Queen, used by the company to transport new workmen across the Ohio river, further complicated conditions at McKee's Rocks today. The river men state they are not anxious to help out the company, and also object to running the boat under the revolver fire of the strike sympathizers.

A court decision on the question of arbitration is hourly expected by the strikers. A petition presented to the court some time ago provides for nine arbitrators, the court, the strikers and the company each appointing three members. Counsel for the company today presented thirteen reasons why arbitrators should not be appointed.

the memory of residents of that section.

Rose Twenty Feet.

In the Royal gorge the river was reported to have risen twenty feet, washing out several miles of track on the Denver & Rio Grande railway and causing other damage. Telegraph and telephone communication throughout the gorge and with the upper valley was cut off and details were lacking.

The greatest damage was to the railroads, although crops were reported to have suffered heavily. There was no damage done the fruit crop. The extent of the damage cannot be accurately estimated, but it is believed that it will be in the excess of $250,000.

All trains on the Denver & Rio Grande bound for the West were held in Pueblo last night, and no trains from the West could get through this morning.

Stock Swept Away.

At Canon City the Ninth street bridge, a steel structure, was washed away and several other bridges were reported damaged. A considerable quantity of stock in slaughter pens also was carried away, several frame cabins were destroyed and the Santa Fe railway yards were flooded.

NO GOOD LINE YET ON HOW PAYNE LAW WORKS.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Treasury officials say that it probably will be another week before there will be any intelligent way of getting at a comparison of the operations of the Dingley and Paine tariff bills.

The receipts of the treasury from customs sources since the passage of the Payne bill have been largely made up from goods in bond or from vessels that started from foreign ports before the news of the passage of the Payne bill had been received. The shipping and importing world ascertained on the morning of Aug. 6 that the Payne bill had gone into effect that day, and that thereafter all shipments would be made upon the basis of the new bill. Within a week or ten days, the ships arriving in this country with goods will do so with the knowledge that their cargoes will pay the rates of the Payne bill.

ON THE IRON RANGES

WHY WORK HAS BEEN DELAYED

Contractor and Architect Explain Matters to Hibbing Board.

Hibbing, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The reasons for the delay in the task of finishing the new village hall were explained to the village board at the meeting last night by Contractor L. D. Campbell and Architect E. S. Radcliffe, both of Duluth. A number of changes in the original plans were advanced as the reasons. The contractor said he expected to have the structure finished and ready for occupancy in a short time.

Mrs. C. Berg was granted a permit to make a number of changes in her building, the Globe hotel, 214 Center street.

The village marshal was instructed to take note and report to the council of any violations of the ordinance relative to the erection or repairing of any buildings without having obtained a permit.

A resolution was passed authorizing the appointment of a committee to investigate the many complaints that have been received of the service given by the local telephone company. The committee will report at the next meeting.

EXCURSION WAS RECORD-BREAKER

Tuesday's Boat Trip to Two Harbors Took Great Throng.

Two Harbors, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday's Herald excursion on the steamer America from Duluth to Two Harbors and return was a record breaker bringing the largest number of people that ever came here on a boat excursion from the Zenith City.

The weather was ideal and the trip was certainly a success in every particular from the time the spacious boat left the Booth line dock in Duluth until it returned in the evening with its happy and self satisfied party. When the big excursion arrived here at 6 o'clock last night the people flocked ashore and for an hour enjoyed the many beautiful sights about the city and incidentally many of the visitors besieged the eating places. With an eye to caring for visitors the Methodist and the Presbyterian churches furnished meals to many visitors an undertaking that displayed the right spirit in the way of hospitality.

There was considerable rivalry between the women of the two organizations in caring for visitors and they saw to it that no one went hungry.

UNHEALTHY MEAT IS CONDEMNED

Virginia Council Hot After Concern Selling Dangerous Stuff.

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The meat markets of the city came in for a scoring by the council last night.

Last week over 800 pounds of sausage, ten veal and three lamb carcasses were condemned by J. P. Chalmers, assistant health officer. The concern from whom the meat and sausage was taken made strenuous objections but Mr. Chalmers was determined and asked that he might send a sample of the sausage to the state board of health. The report was granted and in his report read at the council Dr. Bracken said that the meat was not only unfit for use but was dangerous to the public health. The councilmen all of one mind on the matter of making an effort to secure better meats for the citizens and instructed Mr. Chalmers to make a report each week of the meats condemned and have it published in the local papers.

The heads of the different departments of the city are requested to meet with the city clerk some time before the first of September for the purpose of figuring out the amount of money they will require for the several departments during the coming year.

The new Feldman building and the Dowling theater will soon be finished. The theater will hold 700 people and will be ready Oct. 1.

GILBERT SPRUCES UP FOR BIG CELEBRATION.

Gilbert, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The road from Gilbert to Eveleth and Broadway, here is receiving the attention of officials preparatory for the Labor Day celebration, Sept. 6. The road roller and rock crusher are at work on Broadway, aided by eight teams and thirty-five men.

The ten blocks of board walks to be built this year will be laid before the celebration. The lumber will be furnished by the Sparta Lumber company, and will be ready on the ground Sept. 1. The Labor day committees are hard at work making final preparations for the day.

EVELETH IS TO FIX UP STREETS

Council Advertises for Ten-Ton Roller and Rock Crusher.

Eveleth, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city clerk was instructed by the council last night to advertise for a ten-ton road roller and a rock crusher with a capacity of twenty tons per hour, gyratory, weighing approximately 15,500 pounds and with a maximum size of 2½ inches for rocks. This decision was reached after an extended discussion on the necessity of paving or improving the streets, which are now in a very bad condition.

The Chicago Bridge & Iron works, formally notified the council they had a contract from Pastoret & Lawrence to furnish the new 300,000-gallon water tank and the city would be responsible for the contract price, $10,130. The communication was accepted. The applications for transferance of Charles Shonta's liquor license and of Max Stipetich's to Kate Stipetich was referred to the police and license committee.

The contract for hauling garbage was awarded to Axel Lindgren for $175 a month. W. P. Vietch had a bid in for $225 a month.

As the bids for the construction of the Douglas avenue sewer have been advertised to be opened on Friday, the council adjourned until then.

FIND BODY IN THREE LAKES

Body of Water Near Coleraine Has Given Up Its Dead.

Coleraine, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three lakes situated about three miles north of here has given up its dead. The body of Thomas Quinn, who perished in the lake, was recovered yesterday.

Quinn and another man, who are said to have been under the influence of liquor and incapable of handling a boat, were rowing on the lake when the craft capsized.

Quinn's companion was able to swim ashore, but Quinn was apparently bewildered and swam away from the shore into the deeper water. The lake was dragged and dynamite was used to bring the body to the surface. The body is at Peterson's morgue.

No one here knows of Quinn having any relatives. He was 35 or 40 years old and lived on a forty-acre homestead.

VIRGINIA TO BEGIN PAVING

Starts By Awarding Contract for Curb and Gutter Work.

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first step toward paving Central, Cleveland, Wyoming and Mesaba avenues was made at the council meeting last night when a contract for the curb and gutter work was awarded to the H. L. Bartlett company. Two bids were submitted, the Bartlett company, $5,726.30 and the Mesaba Engineering company, $7,931.30. The contract calls for the laying of curb and gutter and cement crossings a block either side of Chestnut street, the main thoroughfare of the city.

The matter of laying a storm sewer in the alley in block 25 was referred to the street and alley committee. The petition came from the residents in one block only and it is believed to be the first move toward putting in a complete storm sewer system from Railroad avenue through to Central avenue. During heavy rains the basements along the alley usually fill with water and the storm sewer system appears to be the only manner of solving the question as the street commissioner has been instructed to disconnect all roof drains that are now running into the sanitary sewer.

The municipal judge reported that $136.50 in fines were collected in his court during the week ending Aug. 14.

The park board stated that it was ready to go ahead with improvements in block 43, and asked the council to inform all persons still residing on the park site to remove their dwellings as soon as possible.

The members of the council are very impatient over the action of P. McDonnell in paying no attention to their request to repair the paving along Chestnut street, according to the terms of his contract. The city clerk was instructed to write the bonding company and inform it that the city would do the work, and that it would be expected to stand the expense. According to McDonnell's contract with the city, he is to keep the pavement in good condition for a term of five years, and he furnished a $5,000 bond for the faithful performance of his work.

BAD DREAMS

Caused By Coffee.

"I have been a coffee drinker, more or less, ever since I can remember, until a few months ago I became more and more nervous and irritable, and finally I could not sleep at night for I was horribly disturbed by dreams of all sorts and a species of distressing nightmare.

"Finally, after hearing the experience of numbers of friends who had quit coffee and were drinking Postum, and learning of the great benefits they had derived, I concluded coffee must the cause of my trouble, so I got some Postum and had it made strictly according to directions.

"I was astonished at the flavor and taste. It entirely took the place of coffee, and to my very great satisfaction, I began to sleep peacefully and sweetly. My nerves improved, and I wish I could wean every man, woman and child from the unwholesome drug—ordinary coffee.

"People really do not appreciate or realize what a powerful drug it is and what terrible effect it has on the human system. If they did, hardly a pound of it would be sold. I would never think of going back to coffee again. I would almost as soon think of putting my hand in a fire after I had once been burned.

"A young lady friend of ours had stomach trouble for a long time, and could not get well as long as she used coffee. She finally quit coffee and began the use of Postum and is now perfectly well. Yours for health."

PINCHOT LION OF DENVER MEETING

sources," by Joseph A. Holmes, chief of the Technologic branch of the United States Geological Survey, Pittsburg, and "Reclamation Service vs. the State of Colorado," by T. C. Henry, Denver.

Entertained by Walsh.

This afternoon the delegates were entertained at the Wolhurst, the country home of Thomas F. Walsh, president of the congress.

The convention is somewhat hampered by the non-arrival of delegations, and considerable difficulty will be experienced in making up the committees, the desire being to have every state represented on each committee.

Last night the Colorado delegation was working hard to have Former Senator Henry M. Teller made chairman of the resolutions committee. Mr. Teller is pronounced in his opposition to Mr. Pinchot and many of his policies. The desire to avoid anything savoring of open antagonism to Pinchot as a congress policy, and the fear that the selection of Teller would undo the plans to have the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy smothered, caused considerable opposition to Teller.

DREW REVOLVER FOR PROTECTION

Ah Wong Drives Ten Men Out of the Ohio Restaurant.

Alfonso Gentile, 45 years of age, yesterday afternoon maliciously broke a window in the Ohio cafe at 617 West Superior street, according to the story told the police by the Chinese proprietor, and in the evening ten men, angered at the arrest of Gentile, appeared at the restaurant and were driven out with a drawn revolver in the hands of the proprietor.

Gentile was drunk when taken into custody. Ah Wong, the man who owns the place, told the police that the ten men were there to make trouble, and he refused to serve them. Their story is that Wong drew his gun and told them he would shoot them if they didn't get out. He was arrested by Patrolman Gleason, and was released after depositing $15 bail. Two officers accompanied him back to the restaurant, when he expressed the fear that he might be assaulted by the men.

Both men pleaded not guilty in municipal court this morning, and their hearings were set for this afternoon. The Chinaman was charged with carrying concealed weapons, and the white man with malicious destruction of property.

USES CRUSHED ROCK.

Anoka First County to Lay Road Material From Reformatory.

Anoka, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Anoka county has the first strip of road actually laid with crushed granite from St. Cloud reformatory.

The agitation originated in this county two years ago, and an effort was made at that time to get rock here, but it was found to be too expensive.

Since then the agitation has been kept up, and the railroads persuaded to haul it free and the state to grind it.

The Ramsey Good Roads association has been busy and a start was made at the race track. The road was brought to grade and the rock put over a roadway twelve feet in width. About 1,000 feet has been laid. The coarse rock is covered with fine granite dust and gravel. The result is that the stretch of road from the corner of the driving park north is to be the best of the entire road to St. Francis, when but a few months ago it was the worst.

HELD FOR ASSAULT; CONFESSES MURDER.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 18.—Oliver Herman Harris, who some days ago acknowledged that he murderously assaulted his aunt, Mrs. Clara Harris, has confessed that on July 22 he murdered his cousin, Henson Poole, whose decomposed body was found Saturday in the cabin in which he lived alone near Rockville. In the confession Harris says that he went to Poole's cabin to buy some whisky and that a quarrel arose during which he shot Poole. Harris said he took two quarts of whisky and $52 in money which Poole had.

While the stolen money lasted, Harris seems to have given no thought to the possible consequences of the crime. Finally realizing his position, and in need of money with which to get away, his thoughts turned to his aunt, Mrs. Clara Harris. He knew that she kept money at her home, but took it with her whenever she left there. Sending her word that a relative was ill and needed her, Harris waylaid her in a field and almost killed her. Robbery alone was the motive of the crime, Harris said.

PICKED TAME CHICKENS.

Some Started Report Prairie Birds Had Been Illegally Killed.

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Game Warden Munch left yesterday for St. Hilaire to investigate rumors of game law violations.

The people generally are taking a greater degree of interest in the enforcement of the game laws than ever before. A few days ago Warden Munch was called to East Grand Forks to investigate a rumor. A party of men had been seen beside the road with some chickens. The game warden finally discovered that they were chickens purchased of a farmer, found the farmer's wife, of whom they had been purchased, and the real facts in the case were that a party of East Grand Forks men, who had been on a drive near Euclid, passed a farm where there were some very fine spring frys and bought some. They beheaded the chickens on the spot and, after proceeding toward East Grand Forks a ways, decided it would be a good idea to pick the chickens before the feathers set and stopped their rig and did the picking by the roadside. A party passing jumped at conclusions and thought prairie chickens had been killed.

CLEVER LAWYER, DEMENTED, WALKS INTO THE RIVER.

Simpson was a graduate of Yale and is said to have been a clever lawyer. He is said to have been related to prominent citizens of St. Paul, Minn. He had been missing since Aug. 11, and is supposed to have walked into the river while temporarily insane and drowned.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

CORN CAN BE RAISED

North Dakota Farmers Are Answering a Long Standing Query.

It Clears Foul Land and Is Good for Feeding Stock.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The question of whether corn can be successfully grown in North Dakota is receiving its answer in the affirmative this year. With a large acreage of corn planted, exceeding that of any previous conditions, and ideal corn growing weather, the crop has reached a state where it is now absolutely certain, barring extremely early frosts, that a yield comparing favorable to that of celebrated corn states will be realized.

Practically every farmer in the more developed sections of the state, and that includes all the eastern portion of the state, has from ten to twenty acres of corn this year, and many have an even larger amount than that. One of the notable corn growers of the state is J. D. Bacon, proprietor of the Lilac Hedge farm of Grand Forks, a former member of the state legislature. He planted 160 acres of corn this year and it has now reached a stage where it surpasses anything of the kind ever attempted heretofore in the state.

Corn Clears Foul Land.

"Those who are familiar with the corn conditions in Iowa, and I myself am thoroughly acquainted with the situation there, agree that the present crop on Lilac Hedge will compare favorably with the fields in that state. The crop will mature and the yield will be as good per acre as in the old corn growing states," said Mr. Hedge. "There are several collateral considerations in the adoption of corn as a standard crop in this part of the northwest. Some crop must be found which can be used for clearing foul land so that the ground need not lay idle over a season. Corn meets this requirement admirable. The condition of the land upon which corn has been grown this year has completely cleaned out all noxious weeds and the ground is in superb condition for any crop that may be planted upon it next year. It is believed by those competent to judge that if the land is sown to wheat next year the yield will be as heavy as though it had been sown to clover for one or two years.

Profit In Feeding Corn.

"Another matter of practical interest is the profit that a corn crop will yield. Last winter 100 head of stock wintered at the Lilac Hedge farm, without having any food except corn fodder, and the animals kept in condition throughout the entire winter. The fodder was not put in the silos but fed directly from stools, being hauled to the barns as needed. The direct returns from last year's crop, which was also from a 160-acre tract and from the same piece of ground that is sown to corn this year, were larger than a crop of wheat under the one crop conditions. But even if the entire corn crop was a failure, the enhanced condition of the land would be worth as much as a crop of grain in the ordinary way.

DEPOSITOR HAS STARTED A SUIT

Man Who Lost in Suspended Ironwood Bank Begins Action.

Ironwood, Mich., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The filing of two suits in the chancery division of the circuit court here by M. M. Riley and Levi S. Bice of Bessemer, in behalf of Joshua Hetherington, a depositor in the defunct First National bank, has caused a sensation among stockholders and depositors.

The first suit is against Edward D. Nelson, former president of the bank, to recover assets and funds of the bank which it is asserted Mr. Nelson while president, misappropriated to his own use and to that of the Twin City General Electric company, Ironwood Water Works company, Hurley Water company, Commercial Block company, and the Nelson Mining company, with which he was identified.

AFTER BLIND PIGS.

Grand Forks County Grand Jury Will Probe the Evil.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the grand jury for Grand Forks county convenes the first week in October another question besides that of the poor farm scandal will be investigated, namely, the blind pigs. State's Attorney Tracy Bangs is now engaged in the collection of material along that line which will be placed before the body when it convenes here and until it adjourns and the results are known, the blind piggers of Grand Forks county, and those inclined that way, will be kept on the anxious seat.

The state's attorney has invited all those who have any knowledge of the operation of blindpigs within the county to place their evidence before him and he will submit it to the jury. Already several have taken advantage of the opportunity and are giving the official tips on what is what in the liquor selling way.

WANTS MONEY BACK.

Kempton, N. D., Restaurant Man Files Unusual Claim With Railroad.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. N. Webber of Kempton, this county, has filed a peculiar claim against the Great Northern Railway company. He wants the the sum of $62, claiming that it was secured through false pretenses.

The deal which resulted in the payment of this amount to the company is a strange one. Mr. Webber is engaged in the restaurant business at Kempton and recently he made arrangements with the Northwood meat market at Northwood to secure a daily supply of meat. This meat was placed in the smoking car of the passenger train at Northwood and when it reached Kempton the consignee would take it off, thus avoiding express bills. All went well until a special officer learned of the deal and made a claim against Webber for $62, which was paid. This amount, as Webber says, was asked for freight and for the cost of investigation.

MAY PUT RAMSEY IN HALL OF FAME

Minnesota Commission to Choose Another Man to Be Honored Too.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 18.—T. B. Walker, one of the three members of a commission appointed by the legislature in 1905 to investigate the filling of one of Minnesota's two places in the national hall of fame, said yesterday that he would gt in touch with the other commissioners and submit a report. The commission, which consists of Mr. Walker, James J. Hill and Former Congressman J. T. McCleary, never has met.

Following the suggestion that the choice be made from six of the state's favorite sons, Alexander Ramsey, Henry H. Sibley, Cushman K. Davis, Col. William Colville, J. S. Pillsbury and William Windom, have come suggestions that the memory of Judge Mitchell be honored.

Alexander Ramsey is the one Minnesotan on whom all agree; but in selecting a statue to be placed with Governor Ramsey's the legislature will have a difficult task. Dr. William Folwell, historian of Minnesota, believes that the honor should fall on Gen. Sibley; Congressman Frank Nye believes the memory of Cushman K. Davis should be honored.

Following the report of the commission the legislature is expected to appropriate money for a statue of Governor Ramsey. The real task will be a selection of the second statue, for the commission, appointed to report concerning the one statue, will make no suggestions as to the other.

START LIBRARY WORK.

Construction of Bemidji's Carnegie Library Will Be Pushed.

Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The work of erecting Bemidji's $15,000 Carnegie free public library has commenced in earnest and will be pushed with all vigor until completed, the library board having approved the bonds of Thomas Johnson, who secured the contract, and the latter having at once put a gang of men to work excavating for the building.

Mr. Johnson bid $11,300 for the furnishing of all material, erecting the building and having the ground ready for occupancy, and he was awarded the contract. Mr. Johnson gave a surety bond in the sum of $11,300.

The site which was provided by the city is at the corner of Fifth street and Lake Boulevard, within the limits of the city park—an ideal location for a library building.

The new building will be imposing in appearance and will add greatly to the pretentious blocks of the city. It will be one story high, with a full basement, the latter to be faced with Bedford stone, the upper structure to be built entirely of Twin City pressed brick.

GRAND FORKS REJOICES THAT PAVING PROCEEDS.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Paving operations for which P. McDonnell of Duluth and the Kettle River company hold the contracts, are being pushed. With Mr. McDonnell having four contracts upon which no work has been done and the Kettle River company holding one, there promises to be some dirt flying here until all the jobs are completed. Besides the jobs that have not been started, Mr. McDonnell also has to finish a piece of work that he started last year.

The agreement reached between Mr. McDonnell and the Warren Brothers company, whereby the paving work is allowed to proceed, was heartily received by Grand Forks people who feared that there would be a long delay. The pavement in dispute, Donnellay, is to be used in the four jobs that the Duluth man has yet to commence, and they amount to a total of $75,000.

BRAINERD SCHOOL HEAD IS BURIED AT WASECA.

Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Prof. T. B. Hartley, head of the Brainerd schools who died Saturday afternoon at Waseca, Minn., was held in that place yesterday afternoon.

Prof. Hartley was superintendent of the city schools from 1898 to 1900, resigning to go to Michigan to look after business matters. He was again elected in March, 1902, to succeed Mr. Torrens. Since taking charge of the schools in 1902 Mr. Hartley has been continuously at the head and has wielded a potent influence in their upbuilding.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Tabes, William Wood and R. J. Hartley left Monday afternoon to attend the funeral of Prof. Hartley. Prof. F. W. Hanft, who is at Hubert, will also attend the funeral.

THRESHERS FIX RATES.

Meet at Crookston and Agree Upon Prices in Polk County.

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large number of threshermen of Polk county gathered in the city hall and at a meeting presided over by Thomas Bjoin agreed on a schedule of prices which they desire to prevail in Polk county for threshing the coming fall, this being the first time that a general agreement has ever been reached. The prices agreed to are as follows: Four cents per bushel for rye and wheat, 3 cents per bushel for oats and barley, 10 cents and up for flax, 15 to 25 cents for timothy seed, $1 per bushel for clover.

RED RIVER HARVEST IS NEARLY FINISHED.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Despite the frequent rains of the past week, travelers from points on both sides of the Red river report that close to 75 per cent of the harvesting has been done. A great majority of the grain is in the shock and with a few days dry wind will be ready for the threshing rigs.

On the Dakota side of the river, as well as on the Minnesota side, a stranger would be led to believe that nothing but the best weather had been experienced. Only a few fields of late grain are still standing and with anything like favorable weather for a week every field will have been harvested.

RED JACKET SEWERS MUST BE REPAIRED.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Red Jacket is having considerable trouble with its sewer system, principally because of the boggy nature of the ground in which the sewer pipes are reposing. A big break was recently discovered on Elm street, where the large pipes have sagged for a distance of ninety feet, and it was necessary for the granitoid paving to be torn up for that distance and more in order to effect repairs.

The job is a big one, and is being engineered by Capt. F. D. Smith and a large force of men.

ONE RESERVIST INJURED.

Senator Stephenson's Son Hurt While With Michigan Naval Boys.

Escanaba, Mich., Aug. 18.—Grant Stephenson, son of Senator Isaac Stephenson, is laid up as the result of breaking several ankle bones in a hotel at Harbor Springs, Mich., while stopping there during the trip of the yacht Bonita with the Michigan naval reserve fleet. DOUGLAS, NORTH DAKOTA, WILL HAVE TELEPHONE.

Douglas, N. D., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Convinced that a telephone system is necessary for this district, the Douglas business men have taken steps looking to the organization of a company. The temporary officers of the company are: President, G. W. Kinney; vice president, E. Hoff; secretary, C. H. Crockard; treasurer, A. G. Burgeson. The company proposes to erect a complete system covering the city and surrounding country, lines to be extended in every direction.

POOR FARM PROBE TO BE MADE IN OCTOBER.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—An investigation by a grand jury into the conduct of the county poor farm will be made about Oct. 1, according to an announcement made by prosecuting officials today. As soon as all the evidence is collected State's Attorney Bangs will petition the court for a grand jury session, and with the facts already gleaned, he says there will be no doubt but that a session will be held.

Charges of brutality towards inmates made against Supt. Mahon are to be thoroughly investigated by the grand jury.

SUICIDE ENDS SPREE.

Sentinel Butte, N. D., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Watson, a farmer residing near Watson, committed suicide in a livery barn at Beach by drinking carbolic acid Monday. Watson had gone out on a big drunk the night before and became despondent upon sobering up the next day. He leaves a wife and child, of one year.

REGENTS TO CONSIDER OLSON'S RESIGNATION.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The regents at the university will meet Saturday morning to consider the resignation of J. W. Olsen as dean of the agricultural school.

Mr. Olsen handed in his resignation to take effect on July 31, as he felt that he did not have the support of the entire board, but action on the matter has been deferred. It is understood that the board is divided on the matter.

The board may also appoint a successor to Dean F. S. Jones of the engineering department, who has resigned.

LIVES THREE WEEKS AND EARNS $100,000.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 18.—The 3-week-old daughter of J. F. and Clementine Deshon, "the $100,000 baby," died yesterday at heir home in the country and its body was taken to Jeffersonville, Ind., for burial. It was the birth of this child which saved to Mrs. Deshon and Mrs. Clark, nieces of the late James A. Holt, the $100,000 farm in this county, which have now gone to the Clark Masonic lodge of Jeffersonville, Ind., if they died without issue.

Lawyers here say that the lodge now can have no claim upon the property.

ESCAPES MANIACAL SON BY MAKING BIG JUMP.

St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.) — Possessed of a maniacal fury, John Montgomery, a cripple living with his mother, aged 74, between here and Sauk Rapids, attacked her with an ax yesterday and the woman only escaped perhaps death by jumping through a window.

Montgomery is under arrest and will probably be committed to the asylum.

Montgomery, who was once a brilliant athlete, has lost through a spinal disease the use of both limbs and can only walk with the aid of two crutches. At various times he has shown evidences of melancholia, and has on several occasions severely maltreated his mother, it is said, with one of his crutches.

FIND "ASSOCIATION OF INJURY FAKERS."

Montreal, Aug. 18.—The legal department of the Canadian Pacific railroad here claims to have unearthed a huge conspiracy to mulct that and other corporations by means of false claims for damages for personal injuries received in alleged accidents. The claimants are alleged to have a regular organization with branches in Chicago, Toronto, Vancouver and other places and to carry on a systematic scheme of fraud by means of false claims, false witnesses, etc. Three arrests have been made and others are promised. The conspiracy is said to involve a number of lawyers and doctors.

Snow in Johannesburg.

Johannesburg, Aug. 18.—The heaviest snowfall in many years occurred here yesterday, with over six inches of fall. The telegraph and telephone services are badly disorganized and business almost suspended.

Three Weeks Unconscious.

"DEAD" MAN IN PARADE

Duluth Man Gets Shock at Local Moving Picture Show.

Views Show Man in Procession Whose "Funeral" He Attended.

A tale which rivals the fiction of Conan Doyle is told by a Duluth man who frequents the moving picture shows here. What is more the Duluth man recites facts with which to back up his strange tale, which seem to establish its truth.

Some years ago according to his story, an Illinois county official was short $4,000 in his accounts and left the county. Nothing more was heard of him until a wire from a woman purporting to be his landlady, to the lodge of Elks in his home town, announced his suicide in New York. The body was brought to his home town, funeral services were held, and his friends, among them the man who tells the story, were allowed to pass sorrowing past the casket, and to gaze on the "dead" face of the ex-county official.

Within two weeks after the funeral it was rumored that the funeral had been a fake, and that the man was still alive, but the openness of the whole affair was such that little credit was given the rumor.

Now comes the strange part of the story. The Duluth man visited a moving picture show here last week in one of the local "nicolodeons." In it there was a picture of the Elks' parade last year at Atlantic City. To his intense astonishment, on the end of one of the marching files, clad in white clothing, marched the defaulting official, beyond any possibility of doubt. The Duluthian was an intimate friend of the man's family and says there can be no mistake. The man limped slightly, and the limp was still there. He had an odd way of chewing gum and did so persistently. In the pictures he was chewing gum in the same old way. He was the nearest man in the row to the camera, and the likeness was unmistakable.

The Duluthian who relates this tale is an intimate friend of the son of the official in question and for this reason does not wish his name to appear nor the name of the man he recognized. The man's family, two sons, three daughters and his wife, are now living in Missouri, where they went after the funeral. As the fake burial took place in 1906 and the films were unquestionably taken during the Elks' convention last year at Atlantic City, there can be no possibility of the film antedating the "funeral."

The Duluth man visited the theater and had the film run slowly for his benefit, to assure himself that the picture was that of the official in question.

BIG CASE IS UP FOR THIRD TIME

Madden Files Another Complaint in $35,000 Damage Suit.

The case of John L. Madden against the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company will come before the district court for the third time this fall. The first time was during the March term, when the case had been in progress two days, when it was reported to the court that one of the jurors had asked the Duluth & Iron Range yardmaster for a job, and this necessitated beginning the proceedings all over again.

During the last term of court the case was dismissed on the motion of plaintiff's attorney just after the jury had been impannelled.

Madden claims that he was seriously injured while firing on a Duluth & Iron Range engine last year. He claims that they were running backward about one and one-half miles above Allen Junction at between thirty and forty miles per hour when the accident occurred. This is, he claims, an excessive speed, the rules of the road limiting the speed while running backward to twenty miles per hour. The engine struck a sag in the track, and owing to its excessive speed the tender gave a lurch and threw him violently from his feet against the side of the cab. His hip and leg were broken and he received severe injuries. He was confined to his bed for several months and will never recover the use of his leg again, according to the complaint, but must go about on crutches. He is 36 years old, and had been firing four years when the accident occurred, getting $120 per month.

He will be unable to work for the rest of his natural life, and estimates his damages in suffering and lost wages at $35,000. Samuel A. Anderson of St. Paul is his attorney.

CAPTAIN IS HEAVILY FINED

Collector of Customs Assesses Steamer Douglas Houghton $600.

Collector of Customs L. M. Willcuts today placed a fine of $600 against the steamer Douglas Houghton for a reported violation of the navigation laws in St. Mary's river.

The report was made by the captain of the United States revenue cutter Mackinac.

On Aug. 6 the Douglas Houghton was headed down the St. Mary's river while the steamer Kalkaska with a tow, was bound in the same direction. The captain of the Douglas Houghton made it known that he intended passing the Kalkaska and the captain of the lumber boat informed him by means of a series of short whistles that he did not believe it safe to pass at this part of the river.

Notwithstanding the warnings sounded, the captain of the Douglass Houghton steamed up and passed the lumber boat and her tow, running close to her side.

In passing the boat at this point he violated three provisions of the navigation rules and was fined $200 each, making the total fine $600.

This is the largest fine imposed since the war was begun early this spring to make vessel men live up to the navigation laws.

SUDDENLY STRICKEN

Aged Proctor Man Succumbed to Heart Failure Tuesday.

DOGS AT LARGE.

Still Several in West Duluth Without License Tags.

At West Duluth 240 dog licenses have been issued this year, but there are still a few delinquent owners, and Capt. J. W. Mann, poundmaster for that district, is still bringing around the tardy ones. Twelve dogs have been shot this season because of the failure of the owners to pay up, and Capt. Mann will do the same in other cases unless the coin is forthcoming, he says.

There are some cases, according to Capt. Mann, where a thoroughbred dog is sometimes left to the mercy of the poundmaster because the owners have wilfully neglected to pay the yearly license. In one instance, a short time ago, Capt. Mann paid the license on a full-blooded water spaniel which would have otherwise been shot.

The dog is one of the best known in West Duluth. He answers to the name of Sport and is accomplished in many ways that the ordinary canine is not. Capt. Mann says it would take considerable to buy the dog away from him now.

The incorporators of the Huntley company are W. W. Huntley, H. C. Strong and W. D. Bailey, while Alex George, Charles G. Mars, Mike Zootis and James Costakos are the men interested in the fruit concern.

Amend Articles.
The incorporation of the Cananea Central Copper company was amended this morning to read as follows: "The management of the business shall be vested in a board of nine directors, who shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, which shall be held on the second Monday in June of each year at the office of the corporation in Duluth, upon such notice as the by-laws shall order, and until such election the board of directors may fill any vacancy therein by a majority vote. The present directors of the company are: William G. Greene, John D. Ryan, James Hoatson, C. A. Duncan, G. A. Tomlinson, J. B. Cotton, W. J. Olcott, T. F. Cole and C. A. Congdon."

Sues Street Car Company.
James Gray, the baker, this morning started suit against the Duluth Street Railway company for $160 damages to his delivery wagon which was struck by a car on the Lakeside line at Thirty-first avenue east and completely demolished. The sum involved represents simply Mr. Gray's estimate on the cost of the wagon and stock destroyed.

MAY NOW CUT DOWN POLES

Judge Dibell Dissolves Injunction Restraining the City.

May Remove the Telephone Poles in Second Alley.

The city of Duluth is no longer restrained by courts from cutting down the telephone poles of the Zenith Telephone company between Lake avenue and Fourth avenue west in Second alley. At a hearing held this morning, Judge Dibell dissolved his temporary restraining order and left the city free to go ahead with the work.

The dissolving of the injunction closes a long fight over the poles in question. Early in July the poles were ordered removed. The telephone company failed to do this, and Mayor Haven sent them a notice saying that if they were not removed at once he would send in a force of men to cut them down. On July 25 a request for a restraining order preventing the city doing this, was filed with Judge Dibell by the telephone company. He granted a temporary injunction at that time. The arguments on the case were commenced on July 31, but at that time were continued until today.

BLAMES THE OFFICERS

Naval Court Finds Laxity of Attention to Duty in Young Men.

Says That Some of Them Ought to Have Been Tried for Neglect.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Althought all the young officers of the marine corps more or less directly accused by Mrs. James N. Sutton as having a part in causing the death of her son are cleared of any suspicion of such charges by the naval court of inquiry in its findings reported today, some of them come in for at least a reprimand at the hands of the higher naval authorities. Besides the formal statement that the death of Lieut. Sutton was self-inflicted, either intentionally or accidentally while he was trying to shoot somebody else, the court also finds:

That Lieut. Utley failed in his duty as senior officer present in permitting Lieut. Sutton to run away and arm himself, instead of calling on those present for assistance and following Lieut. Sutton, preventing his arming himself, by force if necessary, and turning him over to the custody of the officer of the day.

Bevan Is Blamed.

That Lieut. Bevan, officer of the guard, failed in his duty as officer of the guard in not disarming Lieut. Sutton by force while in front of his (Sutton's) tent.

That Lieut. Willing, the officer of the day, failed in his duty in not immediately assisting by force in helping to disarm Lieut. Sutton when he arrived on the scene before the fatal shot was fired.

The court recommends, however, that in view of the youth and decided inexperience of Lieutenants Utley, Willing and Bevan at the time, and of the altogether unusual conditions of excitement, the threats and danger during the aforementioned fray, no further proceedings be taken.

The report is signed by J. Hood, commander, U. S. N., president of the board, and Henry Leonard, major, U. S. M. C., judge advocate.

Special Roast From Hood.

Commander Hood also filed a minority report in which he says he concurs in the majority report, and in addition he is of the opinion that Lieutenants Utley, Adams, Osterman, Willing and Bevans showed a deplorable lack of knowledge of their duties and obligations as officers holding commissions in the marine corps; and the testimony concerning the whole deplorable affair indicates a state of discipline discreditable to the service, and argues strongly against the practice of commissioning and putting into positions of responsibility young men without proper previous training.

He also is of the opinion that Lieutenants Willing, Bevan and Utley should have been brought to trial at the time for neglect of duty; and Lieutenants Adams and Osterman should have received milder punishments for engaging in a brawl unbecoming officers and gentlemen; and he concurs in the recommendation that no further proceedings be taken at this time, only because of the youth and inexperience at that time and because of their being, in a sense, the victims of a system for which they themselves are not responsible.

Lax State of Discipline.

In approving the findings and recommendations of the court and the judge advocate general, Acting Secretary Winthrop of the navy says:

"By its concurrence in the opinion of the court and of that expressed in the minority report, the department indicates its thorough disapproval of the lax state of discipline shown by the evidence to have existed at the marine school of application prior to and at the time of the death of Lieut. Sutton.

"The results of this laxity have brought serious discredit not only to the officers directly responsible for the efficiency of the institution, but unfortunately on the marine corps as a whole."

LITTLE INDUSTRIES ARE WHAT BUILD UP CITIES

Settlement of Contiguous Territory One of Duluth's Needs.

Former Duluthian Sees Great Future for Head of the Lakes.

"'Don't never prophesy unless you know,' said Hosea Biglow many years ago. It is a matter of gratification, however," said John A. Stewart of New York yesterday, "to observe to what degree the predictions of twenty-two years ago, the time of beginning a four years' residence in Duluth, have been fulfilled by actual accomplishment. I remember Duluth as a fringe of habitations and business houses, strung for several miles along the shores of the bay and lake. Physically, the site of Duluth seemed to present insuperable obstacles to the building of a great city, but Americans thrive on obstacles, and out of the rocky shoreline have been carved the streets and foundations of a city the future of which can be guessed only vaguely. It does not require a prophet to foretell with accuracy that within the next twenty years Duluth will have grown into a city of at least 250,000, and in that period there will be upbuilt at the Head of the Lakes a great manufacturing and trade center. Nature has handicapped other rival cities in the Northwest in favor of Duluth. The 150 miles of rail shipment between the Head of the Lakes and the Twin Cities represent what ought to be for Duluth a very considerable profit upon which to base an aggregation of manufacturing and trade establishments.

"Of course, Duluth has thrived immeasurably because of her point of vantage at the head of inland navigation. The iron mines and the millions of acres of grain and pine within the territory reached by her railroads and her incalculably valuable water power along the St. Louis and elsewhere between Cloquet and Two Harbors and Duluth, will continue to her advantage, but these factors in her progress can be most useful to her only as they supply the raw material for her factories, but at the same time such sources of raw material are not alone the foundation upon which great cities are the most surely builded. It is indeed true that New York and London, for instance, possess strategic trade positions, and that each is the entrepot for an enormous commerce, but nevertheless, were their little industries to be taken from these two great cities, each would be irretrievably injured. It is in variety of manufactures established, in the catering to the immediate everyday needs of contiguous communities, that upbuilds cities and makes them great. Just as it were much better that a community should have among its citizens many men of moderate wealth rather than a few men of great wealth, so it is better for a city to have many little industries creating things of local consumption, rather than to depend for its progress upon a few great industries.

"Duluth has cheap coal; it has seven months of water transportation; it has iron mines at its very doors; it has lumber, and it has grain. These four things are the essentials for innumerable manufactures. But in order that manufactures may thrive there must be a home territory and a country population with means to buy. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of valuable truck lands contiguous to Duluth, a vast country which could support a large village and farming population.

"Of vast importance to such cities as Duluth is the dispersal of the immigration which has centered in New York for the last fifteen or twenty years, thence spreading to greater or less degree to other parts of the country. Not long since the United States government in a feeble, futile way, established a bureau of immigrant distribution, to the head of which T. V. Powderly was appointed. Congress appropriated a few thousand dollars to operate a bureau whose work dealt with hundreds of thousands of people. It was only after a bitter fight that the bureau of distribution was established, and since then, owing to opposition on the part of the labor unions, its field of usefulness has been very considerably curtailed, although much is being accomplished. If the government could be induced, through the influence of Duluth and other communities, to give to such a bureau the support which this work should have, there could be sent from the port of embarcation abroad direct to every field of usefulness in this country a yearly stream of nearly a million able, capable men and women. This would mean in five years, provided the government established the bureau on a scale commensurate with the importance of its task, that three or four millions of immigrants would find homes or work at points in the United States where work awaits the capable and thrifty, or where land may be cleared for the support of industrious families. As matters are today, there is a constant congestion at the seaboard of a yearly arriving population, seven-tenths of which are men and women brought up on farms and familiar with the science of agriculture. As it is, two-thirds of the beneficent effect of that immigration which always comes to us during prosperous years is dissipated and made ineffective.

"As numerous and thriving as are the cities in New York state, the state itself is among the first two or three in rank as an agricultural state, and it is upon the farming and village communities that the state depends for its real progress and prosperity.

"I noticed coming in from the Brule yesterday an experimental farm operated by the Wisconsin department of agriculture. A large sign bore this legend: 'Trial Orchard No. 17.' It is in exploits such as this that Wisconsin leads the Union, and it is such experiments that will bear a fruit which will make Wisconsin one of the greatest states of the union agriculturally. It would seem to me, looking back over a period of familiarity with Duluth and its environment of now nearly twenty-three years, that much might have been done in the way of settlement of the contiguous territory, or rather in putting it in condition for settlement. This is a work which the state might well do, and which would be of great value to this city as a means of advancing its trade. The northern half of Minnesota can easily support half a million farmers and villagers, or a country community of say 2,500,000 of people. This would mean for Duluth an addition to her trade which would compel an increase in the city population of four or five times the present population.

"Duluth has indeed made wonderful progress in the last twenty years, but a good deal of it she owes to the organization of the United States Steel corporation and the development of the mines of Minnesota. Northern Minnesota is a fertile territory, capable apart from the lumber and iron industries, of a progress which would make the city at the Head of the Lakes one of the country's great industrial communities."

ENGINEERING PROBLEMS

Soo Road Had Several Difficult Situations to Face.

One Cut of Three Miles Through Sticky Clay Soil.

"The Contractor," a leading trade journal, published at Chicago, has the following to say about the construction of the Brooten extension of the Soo line to the Head of the Lakes."

"The extension has developed some interesting construction problems, though the work has been in the main part light work. A section of this work in unfavorable material, where the contractors' operations are worthy of special note, is that which was handled by Dale & Bumgardner of St. Paul, and completed about July 15.

"This work was located about twelve miles south of Superior, at a point where the maintenance of a 0.3 per cent grade as a maximum required an almost continuous cut of about three miles, involving the removal of about 320,000 yards of material. By making the cut, however, the Soo Line has secured an almost ideal location. This cut was covered by the contracts of Dale & Bumgardner and of Richard Evans. The contract in question embraced about half of the cut work and a crossing under the Great Northern railway, which is double-tracked here. About 160,000 yards were moved, practically all of which was in a hard, stiff clay which was difficult to break up when dry, and very sticky when wet. The character of the material may be judged from the fact that one of the contractors' wagons, which became stuck in one of the cuts, required six large horses to draw it out. The increase in volume of this clay when taken out was found to be about 50 per cent. It is subject to considerable contraction and slipping when made into fills. The cutting averaged about twelve feet in depth and reached a maximum of about twenty-five feet. There were two large fills in the section, a 10,000-yard fill near the north end, and a 10,000-yard fill and culvert over Clear creek at the south end. This latter fill is about 300 feet long and fifty feet high. The culvert is of concrete, amply reinforced to withstand the strains of the shrinking of the clay. The culvert opening is sixteen feet. All material outside of these two fills had to be wasted.

"The contractors assembled their equipment and started work in October, but did not enter the present long cut location until Dec. 1. The heavy earth-handling equipment, consisted of two 45-ton Bucyrus shovels, four Davenport and one Porter dinkey engines, and sixty 1½-yard side dump cars, half of which were of the Western type and half Kilgore-Peteler. One shovel was started in at the north end, while the other was started at the crossing under the Great Northern, which is somewhat south of the middle of the work. The first shovel took out one of the longest cuts, 3,600 feet, during January and February, and in spite of the weather conditions, left an even slope, which required no finishing after the arrival of open weather. The clay was loosened at this season with charges of 40 per cent Red Cross dynamite. Twelve holes were drilled at a time with hammer drills. The shots were kept about 50 feet ahead of the shovel.

"The second shovel started near the Great Northern tracks, and in January worked its way under the Great Northern roadbed, which passes over the Soo line in embankment, making a fill intercepting a cut at right angles. The cut was first faced up to the side of the embankment, and the roadbed section then taken out directly by the shovel, working through and below the fill between two timber trestle bents which supported the Great Northern tracks. The working width between the bents was nineteen feet, and the clearance from the Soo subgrade to the trestle stringers was twenty-three feet. In this space the shovel was operated with good effect, loading to cars supported on horizontal timbers, boat-spiked to the legs of one bent eight feet below the caps, and projecting out just far enough to carry the two rails. The shovel was close to the opposite trestle bent, with its outside jack arm raised to save room on that side. Only two cars were run in here at a time, loaded, and immediately shunted out to be replaced. The side slopes were taken out by station men. On one of the side slopes a timber box culvert of the Great Northern had to be dealt with in the excavation and the placing of the shorter trestle bents."

McDONNELL IS GIVEN RIGHT TO GO AHEAD.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—The injunction against Contractor P. McDonnell of Duluth was dissolved today by stipulation and the pavement work in dispute will be taken up immediately. The Warren Bros. company, as relators, agreed to this proposition in view of an indemity bond put up by McDonnell to the city, which will cover the royalty should the courts rule that Donnelite is an infringement on the bitulithic pavement.

We took the third straight game from Lew Drill's team yesterday by the score of 5 to 0. Winona lost and today the pennant chances of the Sox look better than they have at any time this season. One of the reasons why we won is that George Dauss pitched one of his good games—what more explanation is necessary.

Lew trotted young Mr. Wilson to the mound. The youth with the thirsty name looked for all the world like a hoodoo for the climbing Sox. For three innings he held the boys in blue hitless. Then in the fourth the Sox broke up the stingy hurling habit, and brought the first run of the game across with two hits.

In the sixth four runs were chased across the pan. Three hits and some bonehead baseball playing caused the collection of runs that were not exactly needed by us. Some of the more tender hearted fans in the bleachers felt truly sorry for the cellar champions, who have been most unfortunate the present season. But, as has been said before, the pennant chase is a stern one, and besides, Superior is used to being trampled upon.

Gray opened the game by hitting safely. This brought a wild, raucous howl from a fan who has had the misfortune to live in Superior. Caldwell attempted to sacrifice, forcing Gray at second, Breen to Kohl. Caldwell tried to steal, but the Count nipped him, and Koepping flew to old Scout Zackert in right.

After Neelon and O'Brien had been retired in Duluth's half, Breen drew a base on balls, but was thrown out attempting to steal.

Superior went out in order in the second, as did the Sox, McCrone and Zackert striking out. In the third after McCulloch had whiffed, Bancroft and Wilson hit safely. Bancroft was forced at third by Gray and Caldwell forced Gray at second, Kohl to O'Brien.

In the Sox' half of the inning after two were down, Dauss got to second on Vogt's fumble, but was left there when Neelon struck out.

In the fourth, the Drillers went out in order. O'Brien singled and was sacrificed to second by Breen. McCrone went out on an infield hit, advancing Darby to third. King Kohl hit for two, sending the Sox leader over with the first run. Zackert ended the inning by going out on an infield hit.

Dauss passed a Driller n the fifth, but the recipient of the gift was forced. Count Mueller got a hit in Duluth's half, stole second, but was left on the paths.

In the sixth a double play cut the Drillers down, after Gray had opened the inning with a hit. The slaughter of the innocents started in the last half.

O'Brien opened with a hit, but went out in an attempt to purloin the mid station. Funny Darby. Breen got on when Bancroft fuzzled his hot ground offering. McCrone hit, sending the Kid to second. Kohl was hit by the ball and the bases were fully occupied. Zackert hit to Bancroft and Breen was nipped at the plate. Taylor hit safely, bringing McCrone and Kohl over the Kongo. McCulloch, the youth with the pink hair, dropped the throw on Count Otto Mueller's hit and Old Scout Zackert came over. The Count ventured too far off and the Superior players began running up and down the base lines after the receiver. While the little game of tag was being played, Tom Taylor trekked across the rubber with the fourth burst of enthusiasm of the day. They finally nabbed Otto, but who cared?

Superior went out in order in the seventh and ninth innings. In the eighth Dauss gave a pass, but the runner died.

Neelon got on in the seventh, but died on the paths. Zackert got a pass in the eighth and stole second, but died at the half-way house.

This afternoon misfortune compels us to journey over to Superior for the last game of the present series. The game will be called at 3 o'clock to allow the Sox to catch a train. Four games will be played with Wausau before the Sox return to do battle with Joe Killian's clan.

Bob Block, who was screduled to work in the game of yesterday, will be sent to the mound this afternoon. Duluth rooters are needed. Below find the reason why those chesty Superior rooters were so quiet yesterday:

The team representing the Minikahda club with Harry Legg, state and Trans-Mississippi champion, and C. T. Jaffrey, former holder of both titles, won second place. Both men played brilliantly, but their team mates fell down. The Duluth players all showed splendid form, the team being well balanced.

THE ALLEGRO MOVES UP A NOTCH

Duluth Boat Captures Second Place in Class B Championship Series.

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 18.—Margaret L. of Minnetonka won the Class B race yesterday in the championship series of the inland lakes yachting association. Allegro of Duluth was second and Butterfly of White Bear was third; "23" of the Butte Des Mortes club, fourth; Virginia of Oshkosh, fifth and Prom Girl of Madison, sixth.

In the Class C race in the championship series, Patsy of Oshkosh was first; Lemon of Oconomowoc was second; Skip of Minnetonka third and Edith of Butte Des Mortes fourth.

Yesterday's race of Class A. yachts became a "lost race" when, shortly after 6 o'clock the judges called the event off for lack of wind. Swastika of White Bear was leading the fleet, closely followed by Tomahawk of Minnetonka at the time the affair was abandoned. As three races in as many days constitutes a regatta according to the rules of the association, this afternoon's event will not be sailed over and the series, which closes Friday will be one race less than scheduled. Four hours is the time limit on a contest in which the yachts sail to windward and return, and three hours is the limit on the triangular course. The race was three miles to windward and return twice around.

LA JOIE RESIGNS AS MANAGER

Makes Statement to Effect That Players Are Doing Their Best.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 18.—Napoleon La Joie voluntarily tendered his resignation as manager of the Cleveland American League baseball team last night to take effect as soon as a successor can be appointed by the directors of the team. La Joie will continue to play with the team.

La Joie's resignation is due to the large amount of criticism he has been subjected to owing to his failure to make a better showing with this year's team. Rumors of dissension among the players owing to La Joie's alleged personal unpopularity have been rife. This, coupled with the team's losing streak on the Eastern invasion, caused many patrons of the game to demand his resignation. The club owners defended La Joie.

No successor for La Joie has been appointed and the club owners say they are undecided as to whom they will appoint.

La Joie's statement follows:

"I herewith tender my resignation as manager to take effect as soon as you can select some one to take up the duties of the position.

"I feel that my obligations to you, to the public and to the players compel me to take this action at the present time. You have given me liberal support as manager for the last five years, and I feel that if any one can accomplish more with the club than I have been able to do, you deserve an opportunity to take advantage of the same.

"The Cleveland public has been very loyal to me under many trying circumstances. I feel that any criticism directed towards me in the past or at the present is not due to any personal feeling toward me, but has been and is solely because of a conscientious desire to see Cleveland a winner and it is but natural for them to put the blame on the manager who does not give one.

"I feel that it is my duty to the other players of the club to give them relief from the abuse and criticism which is being heaped upon them. Just at present the boys are being subjected to a lot of abuse because of our failure to win and they are being unjustly accused of not trying and being unwilling to play for me. In my heart I feel that the players are being wronged. Not a man on the club has ever refused to do anything I have asked of him. My retirement should certainly put a stop to this criticism of the players.

"In conclusion, I wish to pledge myself to the patrons of the club who have always treated me so royally under all circumstances, that I shall work just as hard as a player to give them the winner which they so richly deserve."

MECHANICIAN FATALLY HURT

First Accident to Take Place at Indianapolis Speedway Occurs.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 18.—Clifford Littrell of Dayton, Ohio, a mechanician attached to the Stoddard-Dayton Automobile racing crew, was probably fatally injured late yesterday when he fell under the wheels of one of his group of cars on the way from a down-town garage to the motor speedway. The cars were proceeding in file, when Littrell, who was riding in one of them, jumped out to return to the garage. He stumbled and fell before a car following his and it passed over him, crushing his chest. He was taken to the Methodist hospital.

All of the drivers and their assistants that are to man the sixty-five cars entered in the national races, arrived yesterday. Today the course will roar with the "Tuning-up" of the racing machines, and the parks and grand stands will be alive with workmen making the final preparations for the reception of the spectators that will assemble at noon on Thursday for the opening event.

Touring parties from many cities are arriving. Among them will be a company of 200 automobile enthusiasts in fifty cars from Chicago.

HARVESTER WINS AN EASY VICTORY

Ed Geer's Unbeaten Stallion Captures Queen City Stake of $2,000.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The Harvester, Ed Geers' unbeaten stallion, yesterday afternoon at Fort Erie won the Queen City stake of $2,000 for 2:09 trotters. It was an easy victory. The Harvester won four straight heats. The "Every Heat" race plan was followed in the events. The stallion covered the first mile in 2:08¼ but a slight rain which followed made the track about two seconds slower. The Harvester was out in the pool selling and Carlokin, the Californian was favorite. In the first heat Durfee's horse went to a bad break and before he settled down the distance flag was dropped. Genteel H, finished second.

The 2:09 pace also went to Geers, who drove Walter W, under the wire in straight heats. McDonald, with Billy B, tried hard but could not get closer than second.

The last heat saw Gladys, driven by McDonald shoot to the front on the back stretch, but Inner Guard got close up and a pretty race resulted in the stretch. Gladys broke ten feet from the wire and was passed by Wolverine.

CHALLENGE FOR MOTOR BOAT RACE

Bay City Man Wants to Meet All Comers in Duluth.

Capt. W. T. Battray is bringing to Duluth on the vessel Jay Gould two motor racing boats, which he will race against any boat at the Head of the Lakes. Through the columns of The Herald, the merry tar from Bay City, Mich., issues the following challenge:

"We, the undersigned, do challenge all motor boats in Duluth for a championship race, for prizes or cups or flags, or a $100 prize to be offered by the boat club, the contest to occur some time around the twenty-third of the present month. The race preferably to be a free-for-all contest.

"Captain W. T. Battray and George Lennon, engineer."

Here is an opportunity for Richard Scheil and some of the other owners at the Head of the Lakes who own fast racing boats. The captain is expected to reach Duluth today or tomorrow, and then he will be ready to listen to any offers that the local men may put forward.

ALLARD WINS FROM MAXSON

Lake Linden Man Given Decision When Maxson Quits.

Lake Linden, Mich., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Art Allard of this city last night defended the title of Northwestern middleweight champion, retaining his title by defeating "Dummy" Maxson, in eight rounds of a scheduled ten-round battle.

Maxson claimed that he was fouled in the eighth round and refused to continue the fight. The referee awarded the fight to Allard.

From the first bell Allard was the aggressor. He fought in close to the larger man and administered severe punishment in the clinches. He kept after Maxson all the time, following him about the ring and inflicting terrific punishment about the body.

The blow that Maxson claimed foul, was a stomach punch. The referee claimed that the blow was not low, and when Maxson refused to continue awarded the match to the Lake Linden man.

Eddie McGoority, who fought a ten-round draw with the winner last winter, Young Mahoney, Tom McCune and Jack Rowell challenged the winner from the ringside.

Fight on Ohio River.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 18.—George Perconti of Chicago was given a decision in the fifth round over Kid Bryson of Louisville in a prize fight here last night.

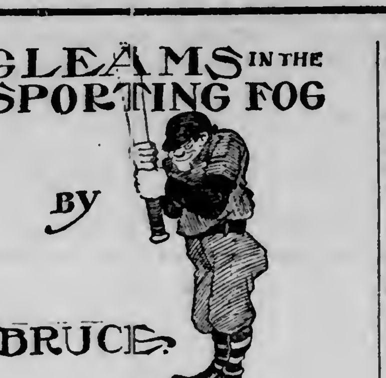
The fight was held on a steamer on the Ohio river. The boat went several miles down stream and took on a party at Henderson, Ky. Perconti outclassed Bryson and had the better of him throughout the fight, although Bryson showed up well in the second round. At no time during the fight, however, had he a chance to win. In the fifth round a body punch, followed by a left to the jaw, put Bryson down and out. The police made no effort to stop the fight, as they have no jurisdiction on the Ohio river.

Zeider Goes to Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—The Chicago American league team has bought Rolto Zeider, the star shortstop of the San Francisco Pacific league team. Two players, not named, and a large sum of money are said to have been given for him.

Tournament Postponed.

Rockport, N. Y., Aug. 18.—With the rain coming down in sheets early yesterday afternoon, the committee in charge of the arrangements for the national lawn tennis tournament decided that it would be impossible to start play and a postponement was announced.



Little flits to fame, series No. 7. Do you care to go up into the cupola and talk?

Roland Algernon Zeider was born down in Indiana, where fame comes so gracefully to the favorite sons of the Hoosier state. He breathed the same atmospheric inspiration that has swelled the chests of Boothie Tarkington and Uncle Charley Fairbanks, he of pure milk habits. Rollo's pater wanted his boy to become president, so he intended getting the boy educated with the Indiana branch of the Steel trust. But Rollo became a Democrat and his father became discouraged. It was when the great, bleak helplessness of the long road to fame dawned upon him that Rollo decided to seek a short cut. He became a baseball player.

Rollo opened his eyes upon a world of sighs about twenty-three or twenty-four years ago. How time flits. We can't honestly say that he was born in a log cabin, or that he went to the little old red schoolhouse—but he is here just the same. Charles Comiskey has purchased Rollo, and the Old Roman never has anything but heroes on his team.

The day broke bright and clear at Garrett, Ind. 'Twas in 1905. List! There were big doings in the town of Garrett on that auspicious occasion. There was going to be a baseball game, and as the farmers' wagons came pouring in from the little cross roads, young Rollo sighed and wished that fame might tap him on the shoulder.

Garrett was going to hook up with Auburn—same state. Auburn had contracted for a battery from Fort Wayne, Ind., the sports of Garrett had dug down in their jeans and had hired the best battery they could find. They had secured the famous "Doc" Riesling, the great old Western league player, who went to the American league and later to the Tri-State league. Those Bud Hicks boys of Garrett were going to have that game, if they had to mortgage the old homestead.

We have remarked that the day broke bright and clear. We must put atmosphere into the story. Little Rollo had made the trip clear from Auburn to Garrett. He showed a venturesome spirit when a mere youth. He sighed for the second time and wished that flitting fame would behave.

The plot grows thicker. Somebody please stir the plot. Great excitement among the followers of the Auburn team. The imported battery from Fort Wayne had not shown up at the last moment. Will trouble never cease? The rubes who had bet on Auburn's chances chewed their Indiana dark stuff with a moody, sorrowful jaw action. It was all over but the wild and exultant jubilation of Garrett.

Enter Rollo. Even then he was known as a pitcher with several things besides a hopeful spirit. There was nothing to do—Rollo would have to go into the box as a last resort. Fame had at last smiled on little Rollo. Hastily thanking old Mother Fate, little Rollo slipped into his uniform of navy blue and hied himself to the village green. Can't you almost see him?

What do you think? Rollo beat Mister "Doc" Riesling and shut out the hated Garrett team by the scrumptuous score of 7 to 0. It was a large day in the eventless life of Rollo. He firmly turned his back on the White House. Fame alley lay direct before him.

Later Rollo went to Springfield, Ill. There he heard about the life of Darby O'Brien, for to young players Darby has ever been an inspiritfon, and the youth resolved to become a great baseball player. He told the waitress of the hotel this same ambitious stuff, and she, being a young thing, sicked the Kid on to the game of fame.

From Springfield Rollo came to God's own country—Minnesota. 'Twas Labor day, 1905 when Rollo won the great struggle against Garrett, and in 1906 we can see him pitching and playing third base for Crookston in the old Northern league. From Crookston Rollo went to Winnipeg. 'Twas in the land of the Canadian cousin that Rollo got his pedals glued on to the first rung of the ladder of big flit fame. And you know, fellow members, that the first rung is slippery.

Our Rollo played very much Harry Steinfeldt baseball for Spike Anderson at the Peg. Goody Henderson, the youth who had caught Rollo in the historic Auburn-Garrett struggle, which is talked of around the "Postoffice" yet, later came to Winnipeg. From Winnipeg Rolly, sometimes we speak of him as Rollo, went to San Francisco. He has been there since, with the exception of the time he spent with Charley Comiskey's Sox on their spring training trip. He was tried out by the Old Roman last spring, but was sent back to Frisco for more training. This year he has been purchased by Comiskey, and there is little doubt but that Zeider will play a regular infield position with the White Sox next year.

When he went to the coast, Zeider was transferred from third base to the position of shortstop. He has since been playing that position. He is the sensation of the Pacific coast, where they have many sensations. Many fans in this, our little city, will remember the playing of Zeider. He has a Roman countenance and a whip that cracks the spheroid over to first with viciousness and unerring accuracy. He is one of the most enthusiastic throwers in baseball society, having cultivated the Arthur O'Dea "Louie" throw.

He is a boy with nice, city broke habits. Coming from a state that has housed Charles Fairbanks for all these years, Rollo spurns the cup that flows. He used to wander down into the grotto at the Marriaggi in Winnipeg, but it was only to listen to the water trickle over the rocks and watch the fishes play. He is a true son of fame, and like Newton Randall, Artie O'Dea and our own Darby, we love you Rolly.

Michael J. Kelly, one of the finest men that baseball has ever produced, was a welcome guest in our city yesterday. The famous Kelly smile was seen to work at the baseball game yesterday afternoon.

The quest of players, about as hard to gather as the Golden Fleece, was the mission that brought Michael to our city. Breen, Dauss and Baron Otto Mueller are the men that Michael glued his blue optics to yesterday. He has already an option on the services of Breen and the Count, and according to the statement of Mike to The Herald last evening, Breen will in all probability receive a tryout with the Apostles this fall.

If the Duluth youngster goes to St. Paul, he couldn't possibly go under the guiding wing of a finer fellow than Kelly. They don't make them any truer than M. J. He has the sincere respect of every fan, every newspaper man and every baseball player with whom he has had any dealings. He is a man who is a credit to baseball and is believed by many to be the greatest manager in minor league baseball. Breen will work under the best instructor in the American association, if he goes under Kelly.

Michael J. told The Herald last evening that Duluth had one of the best minor league teams that he had ever seen. He gave Darby O'Brien just credit for whipping the Kids into the form they are showing at the present time, and complimented the work of all the men on the team. Kelly left last night for St. Paul. It is probable that he will come here later in the season and watch further the work of the Sox.

The resignation of Napoleon Lajoie does not come as a great surprise to many who have followed the trend of affairs at Cleveland. One of the greatest players the game has ever produced, the big Frenchman has never been able to drill team play and inside baseball into his men. The grand Cleveland team, on paper the best team in the American, has played under the management of Lajoie an individual game. It is hoped that Larry continues to play baseball at Cleveland and that his resignation will make no difference in his wnderful work. He is having a great year.

Chicago Gets "Happy Smith."

San Jose, Cal., Aug. 18.—"Happy" Smith, right fielder of the defunct San Jose State league team and now a member of the Oakland State league team, yesterday signed a contract with the Chicago Nationals for the season of 1910. Smith batted .364 in the first half of the State league season.

FORMER PLAINS HAVE GOOD CROP

New Lines of Railroad Make Carberry, Man., Plains a Misnomer.

Carberry, Man., Aug. 18.—The advent of new lines of railway and the consequent springing up of elevators and sidings in every direction, has made the Carberry plains almost a misnomer. Thousands of bushels of grain which formerly found its natural outlet at Carberry is now marketed elsewhere. However, the plains are still here and have lost none of their famed fertility. This year's crop is a very satisfactory one from every point of view. There has been no damage from any source, the fields are comparatively clean, and the grain was sown under the most favorable conditions in the immediate vicinity of Carberry. The rainfall has been meagre, consequently the average yield will be about fifteen bushels per acre. Outside this small dry area, the rains were had when most needed. To the north, in the Wellwood, Oberon and Brookdale districts, which last year marketed 450,000 bushels, the grain is standing tall and clean. The heads are a good length, and well filled, and the yield cannot fall below twenty bushels per acre. The same might be said of the district south as far as Pleasant Point, except that the straw and heads are slightly shorter.

For the whole plain an average of eighteen bushels of No. 1 northern per acre seems a reasonable estimate, and as almost all the grain is ripe and 10 per cent already cut, conditions are not likely to be much altered. Twenty per cent of the crop is barley, and this promises a 35-bushel per acre average. There is an equal acreage in oats, with a probable yield of fifty bushels per acre.

From the Carberry plains last year over 1,000,000 bushels were marketed, and this season's crop will be equal to, if not greater than, last year's. Ideal weather conditions now prevail, and the hot weather of the past week does not seem to have impaired the yield to any appreciable extent.

BALANCE OF PHILIPPINE BOND ISSUE IS SOLD.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Bids were opened at the bureau of insular affairs, war department, yesterday for $1,500,000 4 per cent ten-thirty year Philippine public works and improvement bonds. This is the balance unsold of the $5,000,000 authorized by act of congress Feb. 6, 1905. There were only six bids offered, of which the following are the successful one for the amounts named:

The Riggs National Bank of Washington, D. C., on behalf of the National City Bank of New York and the Mercantile Trust company of St. Louis $1,392,000 at 100.28; Garvin L. Paine & company, Indianapolis, $100,000 at 100.51; Morris Merritt, Grundy Center, Iowa, $5,000 at 102; John Sethstrom, Guthrie, Okla., $3,000 at 101. The first two issues of the series of Philippine bonds the first aggregating $2,500,000, and the second $1,000,000 sold at a much higher rate than the prices ranging from 108.3747 to 109.06.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S S. S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. SHORTS SEND MARKET UP

Wheat Advances in All Markets on Extensive Covering Movement.

Northwestern and Canadian Crops Are Said to Have Been Overestimated.

Duluth Board of Trade, Aug. 18.—Wheat had a good advance in all American markets today, largely on the strength of nervousness among the shorts and much covering. There was very little news, but every scrap seemed to have full effect on the shorts and to cause them to abandon their bearish efforts and get to cover.

Locally the principal news was from the Dakota harvest fields. Advices tend to refute the estimates made earlier in the season. Sisseton reported but eleven bushels an acre from land that was estimated to produce sixteen and there were other reports of like nature indicating that the crop has been overestimated. The news had much to do with the advance here.

The September option closed 1⅞c higher in Duluth, 2⅜c higher in Chicago, 1⅛@1¼c higher in Minneapolis, 1⅞c higher in New York, 1½@1⅝c higher in St. Louis, 2½c higher in Kansas City. The December option closed 1⅝c higher in Duluth, 1½c higher in Chicago, 1⅝c higher in Minneapolis, 1⅜c higher in New York, 1⅛c higher in St. Louis, 1⅝@1¾c higher in Kansas City and 1⅝c higher in Winnipeg. The October option closed 1¼c higher in Winnipeg and May wheat was 1⅝c higher in Duluth.

Corn was 1c higher in Chicago and oats ¾@⅞c higher.

Cables were higher again today. According to the Russian service to Broomhall the corn crop in that country is deteriorating as a result of the prolonged drought. In the Southwest and Southeast the arrivals of wheat are of fair quantity. In Eastern Russia harvesting reports are favorable, but there are heavy rains in the Northeast and Northwest. In Berlin heavy offerings as a result of favorable harvesting weather sent the wheat market down a little.

Wheat closed ½d to ¾d higher in Liverpool, 1¼c higher in Paris, unchanged in Antwerp, ⅝c lower in Berlin, ¾c lower in Budapest, and unchanged to ¼c lower in Buenos Ayres. Broomhall cabled from Liverpool:

"There was a firm opening here in wheat this morning, with values ⅝@1d higher. American cables were considered firm in the face of the break in cash. These factors caused shorts to cover, particularly in September. Light American clearances and a growing belief that the Canadian wheat crop has been overestimated led to further covering during the morning, which held the market firm. Toward midday there was a slight recession on a quiet demand for parcels, but this decline was recovered, and at 1:30 p. m. the market was firm and ½@1d higher than yesterday.

"Corn was quiet at the start and unchanged. Later prices advanced ¼@¾d. The weaker American cables yesterday were offset by the bullish Roumanian report, which caused few sellers. The recent rains reported in Roumania have been insufficient to benefit the corn crop, which is irredeemably damaged, and a small yield is expected."

Car receipts of wheat at Duluth were 2 against 2 last year and at Minneapolis 79 against 141 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 81 against 143 last year. Chicago received 104 against 138 last year. Winnipeg received 6 against 15 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 787,000 bu, last year 733,000 bu. Shipments, 864,000 bu, last year 425,000 bu. Clearances of wheat and four were 109,000 bu.

Primary receipts of corn were 565,000 bu, last year 403,000 bu. Shipments, 421,000 bu, last year 184,600. Clearances of corn were 3,000 bu.

A short and vigorous attack was made against the market directly after midday, and before it was over Union Pacific, Reading and St. Paul had been forced a point below yesterday's final prices. Northwestern lost 1¾ and some of the earlier strong specialties surrendered a large part of the gains. There was some demand for Union Pacific from the shorts around low points, and it rallied a point, but the balance of the list became sluggish and dull.

Wheat and flax were both quite active on the floor of the Duluth board of trade today, and both were higher on covering of shorts. September wheat opened ¼c higher at $1.00¼, advanced to $1.01¼, declined to $1.01, advanced to $1.02 and closed at $1.02 asked. December wheat opened ⅜c higher at 96⅞c, declined to 96⅝c, advanced to 97¼c, then to 97¾c, declined to 97⅜c and closed at 98⅛c. May wheat opened 1⅛c higher at $1.01½, went to $1.02 and closed at $1.02 asked.

September flax opened ½c up at $1.39, declined to $1.38½, advanced to $1.40, declined to $1.39¾, advanced to $1.40 and closed at $1.40 bid. October flax opened ⅛c higher at $1.34⅜, declined to $1.34¼, advanced to $1.36¼, declined to $1.36⅛ and closed at $1.36 bid. November flax opened unchanged at $1.34½, advanced to $1.36¼ and closed at $1.36 bid. December flax opened unchanged at $1.32, advanced to $1.34¼ and closed at $1.34.

Durum wheat was 1¾c up and the coarse grains were unchanged. Cash wheat was 20c over September.

The close: Wheat—No. 1 hard on track, $1.23½; to arrive—No. 1 Northern, $1.06; No. 2 Northern, $1.04; on track—No. 1 northern, $1.22; No. 2 northern, $1.20; September, $1.02a; October, $1.01n; December, 98⅛cb; May, $1.02a; Durum on track—No. 1, 95¼c; No. 2, 93¾c; September durum, 90¼cb; October durum, 89¼c; November durum, 89¼cb; Flax to arrive, $1.43¼; flax on track, $1.45; September, $1.40b; October, $1.36b; November, $1.36b; December, $1.34; Oats to arrive—35½@37½c; oats on track, 40cn; rye, 63-66c; barley, 46-60c.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Shorts Get Nervous and Wheat Prices Are Advanced.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Wheat prices advanced about 1c early in the session on the board of trade today, as a result of active covering by shorts brought out by firm cables and a congested condition in the September delivery. A leading elevator interest is credited with holding an enormous line of the September option, and this fact, together with the continued smallness of stocks in store despite the heavy movement, made the shorts nervous.

Prices at the opening were a shade to ⅜@½c higher than yesterday's closing, September being at 99⅞c@$1.00⅛, and December at 96⅞@97c. Within the first half hour September had advanced to $1.00⅞ and December to 97½c.

Toward mid-day prices again advanced sharply owing to a report from Minneapolis which claimed that the wheat crop had been damaged to the extent of 25,000,000 bu by excessive heat. Another upturn occurred in the final hour, during which time September advanced to $1.02⅝, a gain of nearly 3c from the low mark of the day. December sold up to 98⅝c. The close was excited and strong, with September up 2⅜c at $1.02@1.02⅛. December closed 1½c higher at 98⅛@98¼c.

Continued absence of rain in the corn belt caused a still further advance in corn prices during early trading. Demand, however, was entirely in keeping with the bullish news, trade being only moderate at the start. The market opened ⅛@1c higher, September being at 65⅞@66⅜c. Later September touched 66⅝c.

For September the high point was reached at 66¾c. The market was strong all day and closed only a trifle below the best marks, with September up 1c at 66⅜c.

Oats were firm in sympathy with wheat and corn. Shorts were the leading buyers. Expectation of a falling off in the movement prompted some buying. September opened ¼@⅜c higher at 38½@38⅝c and advanced to 39⅛c.

Provisions were firm but the volume of trading was small. Good demand of the cash products and a five cent advance in the price of live hogs were bullish factors. Prices at the start were 5 cents ower to 5 cents higher.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Covering of Shorts and Low Stocks Make Wheat Stronger.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 18.—Covering of shorts, low stocks of wheat and more damage reports from North Dakota were factors in a very strong market. However, with the excellent start and large indicated yield, there could be a loss of 25,000,000 bu and still be a big crop. Trading today was limited to the professionals, there being no speculative interest. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 525,000 bu for four days. Minneapolis today received 79 cars of wheat as compared with 141 cars a year ago; Duluth, 2 cars against 2, and Winnipeg 6 against 15. September opened 99¼c; high, $1.01¼@1.01⅜; low, 99⅛c; close, $1.00⅞@1.01; December, opened 96⅛c; high, 98c; low, 96⅛; close, 97⅞c; May, $1.00⅞; high, $1.01⅜; low, $1.00⅜; close, $1.01¾.

Cash wheat was about steady with yesterday. Offerings were fairly liberal and several cars of new wheat were on the tables today. Old No. 1 northern sold for $1.35 and new at $1.25; No. 2 northern went at $1.30@1.33. No. 1 northern spot, $1.35; to arrive, $1.04⅝; No. 1 northern, spot, $1.30@1.33; to arrive, $1.02⅝; No. 3 white, $1.25@1.29; No. 3 yellow corn, 67¾; No. 3 white oats, 39⅞@40⅞; No. 2 rye, 65¾@66¾.

Flax—Receipts, none; year ago, 1 car. Shipments, none. The market was nominal again today. Prices were quoted 4½c above the Duluth September. Closing price, $1.44¾.

Barley—Receipts, 32 cars; year ago, 79 cars; shipments, 10 cars. Sales of barley to arrive were heavy today. The new crop offerings were plentiful, but the old barley was scarce. New sales were made at the lower quotations. Closing range, 44@60c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 1,043 tons. There was no change again today. Demand was fair; shipments light, and prices firm. Bran in 100-pound sacks, $20.50.

Flour was in strong demand. The inquiry for deferred shipments also showed a falling off. Shipments were light, 29,485 barrels, and prices held firm. First patents, $6.00@6.20; second patents, $5.90@6.10; first clears, $4.95@5.25; second clears, $3.35@3.65.

"HEARD ON THE FLOOR."

A. D. Thomson of Duluth Talks Bearish on Wheat in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—The big men as a rule say they are on the fence but they were not advising to go long. At the same time they said it was dangerous to be short on September as the Armour holding was formidable and might make a bad loss for a short. Basis for the bear arguments were the prospective movement for the new spring wheat in the Northwest and the poor export demand. A. D. Thomson of Duluth, who is here, talked very bearish, predicting that wheat will sell in the eighties. Other traders said they looked for Northeastern markets to eventuate the decline to a shipping difference under Chicago, but they do not look for this decline to come until after supplies in the Northwest become burdensome.

Corn specialists said that the weather is to continue to be the leading factor in their market. They asserted that the late bulge from the low point in the last hour was due to good buying in the West from people who claim that rains in Nebraska had been insufficient. There has been a lot of corn bought by the West and the Southwest the last few days and the distant futures are not regarded as out of line.—Inter Ocean.

STOCKS ARE FEVERISH

Close of the Market Marked By Much Activity as Well.

Union Pacific Leads Abrupt Slump and Other Lines Follow.

New York, Aug. 18.—Business was on a large scale at the outset of the stock exchange today and the market was materially above yesterday's closing for most of the important stocks. Union Pacific got up 1½ and the preferred and Ne wYork Central 1, Louisville & Nashville 1¾ and United States Rubber 2. Large fractional advances were made in other favorites, such as St. Paul, Reading and Southern Pacific.

Speculation broadened and there was a large accumulation of all classes of stocks, with the low priced specialties in keen demand. The standard railroad stocks did not advance much, as a rule, beyond their first prices, realizing sales holding them in check while the advance was continued at other points. This selling ultimately brought about reactions all around, and Union Pacific preferred and Amalgamated Copper sold a point below yesterday's closing. Among the notable gains were Atlantic Coast line, 3; Third Avenue and Pacific Mail, 2; Railway Steel Spring, 1¾, and Chesapeake & Ohio, Brooklyn Transit and a number of others a point or more.

Liberal selling for both accounts drove the average of prices below yesterday's closing, at which level the market began to show signs of support. Subsequently there was a moderate advance all along the line, but there was an entire absence of recent snap and animation to the dealings. Some of the usually inactive stocks became conspicuous in the rally, particularly Kansas City Southern, which rose over 2 points to above 50. Bonds were steady.

The market closed active and feverish. Prices had an abrupt fall in the final hour of business. The movement had its inception in Union Pacific, where the liquidation was continuous and spread rapidly to the rest of the list. Reading made a sensational drop and there also were several breaks in other stocks of importance. Losses of between 1 and 2 points were general. Union Pacific was quoted 4¼ below yesterday's final figures, the preferred 2¾, Great Northern Ore certificates 3½, Reading 3 and Southern Pacific 2½. The last few minutes there was some hasty covering of shorts contracts and prices rallied from ½ to 1.

Good news is expected from the Butte-Alex Scott mine and it is now expected any minute. Some of the drifts are getting into real high-grade ore and the conditions are such that we may shortly open up high-grade deposits equal to anything in Butte. The North Butte declared a $400,000 dividend for three months' work. The Butte-Alex Scott possibilities are as great, for they have over 2,000 feet of as good vein matter as any on the hill. The great Minnie Healy, we understand, took millions out of some of the same leads which pass through Scott ground. Don't let them fool you for a minute, but keep on buying the Scotts, for at $20 a share it would not bring as much money as Tuolumne is now selling for, and we certainly have as good a mine, if not better.

St. Mary's could not act better. I absolutely know that orders are in the market for over 20,000 shares. We can use big lots here. The Twin Cities and outside towns and cities are heavy buyers of this issue, and it is, from a market point of view, one of the greatest winners on the board. The tunnel should tap the ore in a few days and you will then probably witness another Red Warrior movement in the stock.

If the public does not get into this market strong it is making a mistake. Remember, the people of Duluth are not the only buyers of stock. We sell to every part of the Northwest, and with such crops and such good conditions in the labor world, there is "nothing to it." Boys, it is coming along, and you cannot stop it if you tried.

MARTIN ROSENDAHL.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Aug. 18.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 6 to 8 points with active months selling about 8 to 10 points net higher on firmer cables than expected and very bad reports from the Southwest concerning excessive temperatures. Realizing was very heavy around 12.37 for December and the market later sold off 6 to 8 points from the best, but was steadied by a renewal of demand from the same strong spot people who appeared to be bidding late yesterday and during the middle of the morning ruled about 3 to 4 points net higher.

Futures closed easy, closing bids: August, 12.31; September, 12.26; October, 12.24; November, 12.24; December, 12.23; January, 12.22; February, 12.21; March, 12.24; April, 12.22; May, 12.25. Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 12.80; middling gulf, 13.05; sales, 214 bales.

The New York cotton exchange will be closed Saturday, Sept. 4, and Monday, Sept. 6.

New York Money.

New York, Aug. 18.—Money on call steady at 2¼@2½ per cent; ruling rate, 2¼ per cent; closing bid, 2¼ per cent; offered at 2½ per cent. Time loans strong and fairly active; 60 days, 2¾@3 per cent; 90 days, 3¼@3½ per cent; six months, 4 per cent. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 4@4½ per cent; sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85.05@4.85.10 for 60-day bills and at $4.86.65 for demand. BIG CROWD WAS "STUNG"

There was a lively mixup on Second avenue west near Superior street about 1 o'clock this afternoon, which for about a minute promised to develop into a sensation, but ended in giving a crowd of spectators a wild goose chase through an alley in anticipation of seeing a fight.

A woman clad in white accompanied by a man politely shading her face from the broiling sun with her white parasol tripped down the avenue engaged in an animated conversation and exchanging smiles that told how happy they were in each other's company. Down the street came a hatless and coatless man at a breakneck pace. Overtaking the couple he grabbed the woman's male escort by the nape of the neck and struck at him. Failing to shake off his antagonist the man attacked handed the umbrella to the woman, made a motion as if to engage in combat, the yelling "come on in the alley if you want satisfaction" suited the action to the word and sprinted up the street to the alley. The other man gave pursuit, as did a crowd of a score or more attracted by the sight.

A woman yelled to a policeman who happened to be near and the bluecoat joined in the race. By the time officer and spectatars reached the scene of the fray, only one combatant was in sight, the other having taken to his heels. It was the woman's escort who had fled.

REGIMENT FOR FORT WILLIAM

Fort William, Ont., Aug. 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Immediate steps are to be taken looking to the organization of the new Fort William regiment of the Canadian militia.

Maj. E. R. Wayland, who is to be the colonel in command of the new regiment, said that the name and style of the new regiment had not been definitely decided on. Many of the military men favor a Highland regiment in a uniform composed of kilts and Scottish plaids, but it is more likely that the regiment will be termed the Fort William Fusiliers, as it is to be exclusively a Fort William organization.

The expense of equipping a Highland regiment is great as is addition to the special dress uniform it is necessary to have a large and well drilled bagpipe corps.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED VACATION—
Notice is hereby given that there has been filed of record in my office, as City Clerk of the City of Duluth, the petition of the East Duluth Company and Hartman Building Company for the vacation of that part of Second Street lying between Thirty-fourth Avenue East and the west boundary line of the rearrangement of part of East Duluth and the First Addition to East Duluth.

500 SHOTS FIRED IN RIOT

New Outbreak Occurs at Car Plant at McKee's Rocks.

Strikers Say It Was Ruse to Help Men Escape From Factory.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 19.—Mounted and using their hickory riot clubs, members of the Pennsylvania state constabulary are today keeping strikers on the move in the Pressed Steel Car company strike zone at McKee's Rocks. It is estimated that over 500 shots were fired last night and early today by strikers and sympathizers who had gathered on a bridge.

During the fight troopers and other police remained inside the mill, orders having been issued to take no action unless the strikers attempted to enter the plant.

Say Men Are Detained.

The constabulary was out on the streets this forenoon, however, compelling the strikers to keep moving. Troopers took possession of the bridge and efforts of the strikers to congregate at any one point were met with galloping horses and riot sticks.

Strike leaders today explained the shooting and disorder. They are of the opinion that the workmen are being held in the mills against their wishes. The shooting, they say, was for the purpose of bringing the constabulary from the plant to the bridge and thus give the new men an opportunity to escape from the works.

MAKE STOCKS NEGOTIABLE

Uniform Laws Men Want Change in Ownership Made Easier.

Detroit Mich., Aug. 19.—The nineteenth annual conference of the commissioners on uniform law, representing forty-three states and territories, held its first regular meeting here today.

The most important committee heard from was that on commercial law. The committee's report embodied a draft of a proposed statute providing for a uniform bill of lading and proposed laws governing sales. A proposed statute governing the transfer of corporation stocks would enable the holder of stock to indorse it "to bearer" and use it in payment of obligations without going through the process of having the stock made over by the corporation.

WILL OPEN PLAYGROUND ON ISTHMUS OF PANAMA.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The first public playgrounds ever established on the isthmus of Panama are about to be opened at Colon. The Colon government will maintain the playgrounds and appoint a play director. Music will be furnished by the Colon municipal band. The equipment was selected from photographs submitted, by the National Playground Association of New York.

Man, Wife and Son Drown.

Beloit, Wis. Aug. 19.—James McDonald, his wife and their 8-year-old son were drowned in Rock river, here, yesterday. They went out in a boat, which was found later upside down.

SEEKS OUT NEW CROPS

Government Finds Plants That Will Grow in Arid Places.

Date Palm and Clover Will Grow in Dry Parts of Southwest.

Washington, Aug. 19.—During the last year the department of agriculture has brought into the United States over 20,000 carefully selected plants from various parts of the world with a view to diversifying the products of the soil in this country. Especial regard has been paid to the introduction of plants that will grow in sections in which either the drought or the severe cold has made it nearly impossible to obtain crops of any kind. These plants have been placed in the hands of private experimenters and official plant breeders. The results thus far obtained in domesticating them has been very encouraging.

Some of the most important of the plants have been gathered from arid portions of China and it is believed they can be adapted to the dry states of the Southwest.

Raise Clover on Dry Soil.

Among these is a Chinese date palm that, it is said, resists drought and produces a valuable fruit. New seedless persimmons have been brought here; pears, apricots and cherries of especial value being among other importations.

A new clover from the Himalayan mountains can be grown in the hottest portions of the Southwest. Bamboo from the Orient has been planted in the Gulf states, and it is believed its cultivation will prove successful. Tropical plants, hitherto unknown to the soil of the United States, are being domesticated in the South.

Officials of the department declare that only the imagination can forsee what will be the result of this policy of the introduction of adaptable plants from every quarter of the globe.

SAID TO BE PATCHING UP ROW WITH HER DUKE

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH. (Consuelo Vanderbilt.)

The reported reconciliation between the duke of Marlborough and his duchess is exciting the greatest interest in this country because of the prominence of the duchess, who was Consuelo Vanderbilt. This alliance has been a conspicuous example of international matrimonial misfits. One view of international matches which is seldom taken is that the Englishman who boasts so much of "sportsmanship," is a mighty poor sportsman when it comes to marital affairs. The English people affect to look with contempt on Americans who purchase title through marriage; but how about the Englishman who sells his title and then doesn't live up to the terms of his bargain?

BANK SAFE TOO STRONG

Burglars Are Unable to Get Into Receptacle of $1,500.

St. Paul Robbers Get Only $50 in 1-Cent Pieces for Their Trouble.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald)—A daring attempt to rob the Twin City bank in the Northwestern furniture and stove exposition at the corner of Raymond and University avenues early this morning, was frustrated by the strength of the safe in the bank vault.

The robbers took away about $50 in pennies, but were unable to blow open the safe, which contained between $1,500 and $2,000.

The affair was reported to the police as soon as it was discovered, but so far there is no clue to the robbers' identity.

LAUGH KILLS MAN WHOSE BROTHER DIED SNEEZING.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Laughing oneself to death is no longer a mere expression here. Michael Kramer, aged 50 years, has actually laughed himself to death. A fellow workman at the New York Central shops in Depew, a suburb, told him a funny story while they were working. Kramer suddenly fell to the floor when laughing. A physician was called, but he died of heart disease. One year ago a brother of the unfortunate Kramer sneezed himself to death a few minutes after alighting from an automobile.

GET GOOD BIDS ON BATTLESHIPS

Navy Officials Find One Firm Wants to Install Turbines.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Naval officers say that the figures submitted by the big shipbuilding concerns for the construction of the battleships Wyoming and Arkansas are very reasonable, and the time in which they propose to deliver these vessels also is very satisfactory.

Contrast is made with the lowest figure submitted by the Cramps—$4,450,000 for construction of one of these vessels—with the contract price of the North Dakota, $4,377,000, several years ago, which at that time was regarded as very moderate. This, too, in face of the fact that both the Wyoming and the Arkansas are to be 26,000-ton vessels while the North Dakota is but 20,000 tons.

The proposition of the Fore River Shipbuilding company to install machinery of the turbine type, coupled with electric motors, is something new in naval construction and is considered by the officials to be worthy of serious consideration, although they do not think the time will come for turbine application aboard a man-of-war.

About ten days will be required for a thorough study of the various bids submitted before the announcement of the award to the contractors.

BARGE AND TUG MISSING

Former Lost in Atlantic and Other in the Pacific Ocean.

Five Men Are Believed to Have Gone Down With Their Craft.

Saunderstown, R. I., Aug. 19.—That the barge Shawmont, with five men, was lost in the gale last Tuesday is the belief of the captains of the tugs Valley Forge and Moncacy, which reached here this morning with tows. The gale was more severe than ordinary, and though the other craft managed to weather it, is is thought that the Shawmont and her crew went to the bottom. It was at first reported that twelve men were on board, but it has been ascertained that only five of the crew were with the Shawmont when it disappeared.

The Shawmont, bound from Philadelphia for Portsmouth, N. H., broke away from the tug Valley Forge off Shinnicock, L. I. Five other barges bound for Providence, Boston and Newburyport, broke away and floated helplessly for ten hours before they were picked up. One injured man was carried ashore for treatment when the Valley Forge arrived here today.

Tug Weeks Overdue.

Washington, Aug. 19.—A tug boat which the Bayano River company ordered from Seattle some time ago to be used in towing shipments of native lumber is thought to be lost, according to the Isthmian Canal Record of Aug. 11, as the boat was then several weeks overdue. The last heard from the vessel was shortly before it left San Francisco to start south under its own steam.

MEN WHO CAN FLY WILL SWAP YARNS

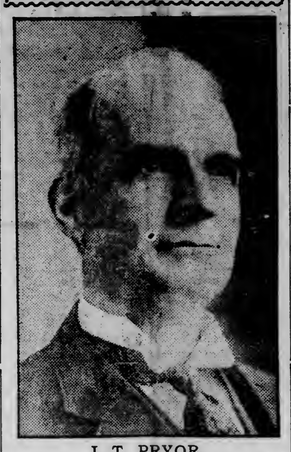
Orville Wright and Count Zeppelin Will Compare Methods.

Berlin, Aug. 19.—Orville Wright, his sister, Katherine, and Hart O. Berg, the European business manager of the Wright brothers, arrived here today from London. Mr. Wright is to make a series of public flights on the Tempelhof parade ground, in the suburbs of Berlin. If he is ready by the end of the month, Emperor William will witness one of his exhibitions. The emperor is coming to Berlin to review garrisons and to receive Count Zeppelin, who is expected to make his long voyage from Freidrichshaven to Berlin Aug. 28. The two masters of the different schools of aeronautics will then meet and compare methods.

Mr. Wright, in his flights here, will use an eroplane built in Germany by the company that has acquired all the rights for this country. He went out to the shops at Tegel today and examined the craft. He has two completed machines to choose from.

A pamphlet written by Capt. Von Hildebrad on the Wright brothers is being widely sold in Germany. Some pride is taken in the fact that the grandfather of the Wright brothers was a German.

PICKED FOR HEAD OF TRANS-MISSISSIPPIANS



I. T. PRYOR.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 19.—The report of the resolutions committee of the Trans-Mississippi congress today precipitated the session into debate of such proportions as to prevent much introduction of new topics.

Resolutions brought out yesterday asking that Denver be made the new capital of the United States because of the liability of Washington to attack in time of war; the re-monetization of silver; railway rate legislation, and other subjects were considered by the committee on resolutions last night, and after a long session a report was prepared, to be presented today.

The committee on permanent organization last night agreed on the following:

President, Ike T. Pryor, Texas; first vice president, A. C. Trumbo, Oklahoma; second vice president, Samuel F. Dutton, Denver; third vice president, W. F. Baker, Iowa; secretary, Arthur E. Francis, Colorado.

BATTLESHIP FREED FROM BEING STRANDED.

Sheerness, Eng., Aug. 19.—The British first class battleship Agamemnon, which stranded yesterday on the Longsands range while engaged in target practice, was refloated at 2:30 this afternoon with the assistance of tugs, and proceeded to Margate for an examination of her hull.

Willard Postpones Flight.

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 19.—The attempt of C. Foster Willard to win a cup offered here for the longest flight of an aeroplane, which has been announced to take place today, has been postponed until tomorrow.

BROTHER-IN-LAW TO TWO OF HIS OWN 32 CHILDREN.

Delmar, Del., Aug. 19.—The birth of twins last week added another chapter to the remarkable record of John W. Guy, who, at 76 years, is the father of thirty-two children. He has been married three times, and through the marriage of a son by his first wife and a daughter by his second wife to a sister and brother of his present wife he holds the somewhat anomalous relation of brother-in-law to two of his own children.

Guy is a wealthy farmer, living at Melfa. Of the thirty-two children, twenty-one are sons and eleven are daughters. Twenty-three are still living, his eldest son being 53 years old.

MUCH HAVOC FROM FLOOD

Railroads Suffer Seriously as Result of Heavy Rainfall.

Second Cloudburst Adds to Bad Situation in the Rockies.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 19.—Trains blocked in lonely mountain passes, tracks washed away or in some instances pitched into canyons hundreds of feet below, people driven from their homes to seek safety with their belongings in higher places—these were the scenes revealed today along the overflowed Arkansas river.

Alarmed by another cloudburst at Four-Mile creek, near Canon City, last night, scores of people in the lower sections of Pueblo and other points passed the night in removing their household effects from the danger line.

The famous Royal Gorge, walled in by rock 1,000 feet high, has been washed by a torrent for almost forty-eight hours and the railroad tracks have been washed out.

Trains Detoured 300 Miles.

Trains on the Colorado Midland, the Denver & Rio Grande and other railroads, most of them carrying Eastern tourists, have been detoured over circuitous routes.

One road has to send its trains by way of Almoso, Colo., in the southern part of the state, a distance out of the regular line of travel of more than 300 miles. Engineers have been sent out by some of the roads to determine the amount of damage done in the mountain passes, it being declared that the detouring of trains will be necessary for four or five days.

Not only the Arkansas river but almost all of its tributaries are overflown. The rainfall in the last two days has been unusual.

ST. PAUL BLOCK DAMAGED BY FIRE

Constans Building in East Seventh Street Is Partly Burned.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire starting in the Constans block, 224 East Seventh street, this morning nearly destroyed the furniture stock of M. G. Sullivan, and for a time threatened to destroy the whole block. A half dozen hose companies and two steamers, however, soon had the blaze under control.

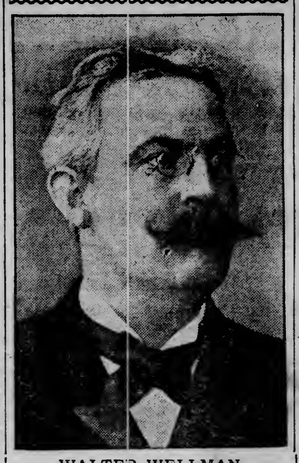
Mr. Sullivan's stock was damaged to the extent of $6,000. It is covered by insurance. Damage to the building, owned by William Constans, is estimated at $500 or $1,000.

There is no explanation of the fire's origin.

MARQUETTE MAN DROWNS.

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Falling from a dock into the harbor here last night, Robert Young was drowned. He was a Marquette man, aged 35.

HAS STARTED FOR POLE IN BALLOON



WALTER WELLMAN.

BLUES MAKE LAST STAND

Defeat By Invaders and Capture of Boston Seem Certain.

Gen. Pew's Only Hope Lies in Concentration of His Forces.

Pembroke, Mass., Aug. 19.—In a strenuous attempt to concentrate its strength against the Red army of invasion, in the mimic war now being waged in Massachusetts, with the capture of Boston as the object of the invaders, the Blue army of defense, composed wholly of Massachusetts militiamen, was early on the move today. The general indications were that the decisive battle of the campaign soon would be fought somewhere in the neighborhood of the historic towns of Plymouth and Duxbury.

When hostilities closed for the day yesterday the invading army, under command of Maj. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss and composed of National Guardsmen from Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and the District of Columbia, assisted by a detachment of colored troops from the Tenth cavalry stationed at Fort Ethan Allen, was massed against the left wing of the Massachusetts army, commanded by Brig. Gen. William A. Pew.

Blues in Danger.

Gen. Pew's position was regarded as precarious and his defeat was generally expected by experienced observers, unless he should be able to mass his Blue army against the entire Red strength.

The first engagement of the day occurred near Bryantville, a village in this vicinity, when the Sixth Massachusetts infantry were attacked by a Connecticut regiment and the entire District of Columbia infantry force. The conflict, although nothing more than a skirmish, was a spirited one and lasted for more than an hour.

It was believed by the officers in the Blue army that the object of the Red attack on the Sixth Massachusetts at Bryantville was a ruse on the part of Gen. Bliss to draw the attention of the Blue commander away from the main body of the invading Red army.

NO WONDER MISSOURI FOLKS DEMAND PROOF!

Chicago, Aug. 19. — Chicken fanciers and commission men marvelled today when a brood of fourteen chickens, alive and well, was found in a case of eggs shipped to Chicago from Missouri. The case was marked "strictly fresh," but when it arrived after a heated journey in a box car the downy little chicks discovered on the top layer of pasteboard within the case were the freshest things observable.

Consul General and Mrs. Thackara then entertained the commissioners at luncheon, after which the visitors embarked in a government launch and went the length of the Tetlow canal and part of the Havel.

WELLMAN HAS STARTED

Is on the Way to Try to Reach the North Pole By Flying.

Italian Steamer Captain Sends Report of Start of Adventure.

Paris, Aug. 19.—A special dispatch received here from Trieste says that, according to a telegram received from the captain of the Italian steamer Thalia, now at Hammerfest, Norway, Walter Wellman left Spitzbergen Aug. 16 in his dirigible balloon, bound for the North pole. He had a favorable wind when the start was made.

For the last four years Walter Wellman of Chicago has been devoting his time to preparations for an undertaking to reach the north pole by airship. He was at Spitzbergen in 1906 with a balloon, but postponed his departure on account of the lateness of the season. In 1907 a start was made in the airship America, but the vessel encountered a storm and was driven back, and the attempt for that year was abandoned.

Mr. Wellman left New York May 12 of this year for Spitzbergen, where he has been engaged in completing his preparations for the start he is now said to have made three days ago. He estimates that under favorable conditions the pole can be reached from Spitzbergen in from two to five days.

MERCURY AT 110 IN BATON ROUGE

Big Section of the Southern States Suffers From the Heat.

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 19.—Between ten and fifteen heat prostrations have been reported in Baton Rouge during the last twenty-four hours. Today the mercury is hovering around the 110 degree mark.

Whole Section Suffers.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 19.—From Vicksburg, with 99 degs. to Dallas, Tex., with 114, that section of the nation bounded by the Mississippi river from Arkansas to the Gulf, and from the mouths of the great river to the Rio Grande suffered its second day of extreme heat.

Yet in the reports received last night there are records of but four deaths, and prostrations were few. Two of the deaths occurred at Little Rock.

The figures on the thermometer are appalling, however. Some of the readings are: Natchez, 105; Little Rock, 101; Jackson, Miss., 105; Mobile, Ala., 101; New Orleans, La., 100; Shreveport, La., 113; Fort Worth, Tex., 113; Sherman, Tex., 107; Palestine, Tex., 107. Many small Louisiana towns, 110.

CITY BOYCOTTED BY THE MILKMEN

Lorain, Ohio, Ordinance Has Aroused Anger of the Dairy Keepers.

Lorain, Ohio, Aug. 19.—The milkmen of Lorain today put into effect their threatened boycott of the city as a result of the city council's severe milk regulations, and almost the entire population of 30,000 ate breakfast without cream or milk.

The city's ordinance compels them to buy milk only from farmers whose cows have been put through the tuberculin test.

SEVEN FIRED FOR HAZING

President Taft Acts in the Sutton Affair at West Point.

Cadets Accused of Attack on Comrade Dismissed From the Academy.

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 19.—By direction of President Taft, seven cadets were dismissed from the United States Military academy today for being involved in the hazing of Rolando Sutton. Cadet Sutton is a brother of Lieut. James N. Sutton of the naval academy, whose death was investigated at Annapolis recently.

When the hazing of Cadet Sutton first was discovered by the academy authorities, the victim was still suffering from the results of his experience, but he steadfastly refused to give out any information that might lead to the identification of his assailants. The academy officers, however, instituted an investigation that resulted in the laying of the blame on the seven cadets who were dismissed today.

Northland Players Survive First Round in Golf Tournament.

Better Golf Played as the Golfers Learn the Course.

The first round for the Minnesota golf championship has been played off and Messrs. Hopkins, Alexander, Hargraves, Cullum and Goodell of the Northland Country club are still in the game, with ten outside players, one default being recorded.

The round was finished shortly after the noon hour today, and while the high wind interfered somewhat with the long drives, the play was much closer and better today than at any time during the present tournament.

The competition for the championship is spirited. This event is the principal one of the tournament and naturally arouses the most interest, and the players were followed over the course by a good gallery this morning.

For the most part, all the players remain on the grounds all through the day taking their meals at the clubhouse. Interest in the play is great among the women and they are quite as enthusiastic as the men, following the players over the course.

This afternoon a match that is exciting more than ordinary interest, is that between L. J. Hopkins of Duluth and Livingstone of the Town and Country club of St. Paul. Both men are strong players.

As the visiting players become familiar with the grounds the matches become more interesting. There were several close games this morning. Johnson of the Town and Country club defeated McLennan of the Northland club by a score of 1 up in twenty holes, two extra holes being necessary. Langdon defeated White by the same score.

The scores in the first round of the championship flight follows:

Both McPhail and Harrison defaulted.

Langdon defeated White 1 up in twenty holes.

RIBENACK IS BOOMED

Talked of as Mayoralty Candidate at Democrats' Dance.

The Lincoln Park Celebration Brings Out a Representative Crowd.

Apparently the most important political gossip growing out of the dance of the City Democratic club last evening was a boom for Edward Ribenack as the candidate of the Democrats in the next mayoralty election.

Last evening the leading movers in the city organization gathered at the Lincoln park auditorium in celebration of the first annual dance of the organization. The first consideration in giving the dance and celebration, was the raising of funds for the city organization. Another object, one that is important to the success of the party, was the fusing of the local Democrats. The leading men of the city party want the Bryan and Johnson differences forgotten.

It is inevitable that politics will be discussed when politicians gather. That is what happened last evening. Edward Ribenack, one of the owners of the Lenox hotel, and a large property owner in this city, and ex-alderman, was freely discussed as the leader of the party in the coming campaign.

Mr. Ribenack has not given his consent to the boom that has set in for him. In fact, it is very doubtful if the gentlemen upon whom the political conversation was turned last night, has been approached upon the matter, that today is causing some discussion in Democratic circles.

The affair last night was a great success. It has lifted the local Democratic ship from the financial rocks. There were many present, a fine representative crowd, in fact, and the funds accruing from the sale of the tickets will place a tidy little sum in the coffers of the city committee.

Many familiar faces were seen behind cigars last evening, for, you know, where politics are discussed cigars are puffed slowly and meditatively sometimes; again with the fever of excitement. The cigars were puffed in the quiet and meditative spirit last night.

Andrew Nelson, chairman of the county Democratic committee, was one of the prominent Democrats present last evening. Last fall many Democrats throughout the Eighth district tried to persuade Mr. Nelson to file at the last moment as the candidate of the party for the congressional nomination. After considering the matter, Mr. Nelson decided that there was not sufficient time to meet the demands of his party members.

It is generally believed that Mr. Nelson will be a congressional candidate at the next election. But as the congressional campaign is somewhat in the future, it was not discussed as keenly as was the mayoralty campaign.

W. E. McEwen, state labor commissioner, was another prominent Democratic leader present. In the get-together phase of the meeting, it was an immense success.

Bert Wheeler hung around the outskirts of the crowd for part of the evening. But finally Mr. Wheeler was entirely won over by the innocent and joyful spirit of the occasion. He came right in and mixed with the other leaders.

Alderman Charles Hector, T. J. McKeon, E. A. Holdren, State Boiler Inspector, John A. McDonnell, Harris Bennett, E. A. Tessman, James Walsh and Joseph Shartell, were among the Democratic leaders seen during the evening. The politicians did not trip the light fantastic very heartily; rather they smoked and talked and shook hands. But the happiness, the joy that pervaded the meeting, was apparent to everyone.

THE TELEPHONE POLES ARE SAFE

Mayor Haven Says They Will Not Be Cut Down.

Mayor Haven said this morning that no action would be taken in the way of cutting down poles of the Zenith Telephone company, in Second alley, between Lake and Fourth avenues west, until after the court has rendered a decision to the rights of the city to take such a step.

Judge Dibell, in district court, yesterday dissolved the temporary restraining order obtained to prevent the cutting of the poles, leaving the city free to go ahead without fear of contempt of court, but the right of the city to cut the poles still remains undecided. Mayor Haven and the common council ordered the poles removed early in the summer, but the company refused to follow out the order.

BURGLAR TRAP KILLS NEGRO

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 19.—Ignoring a warning which was in the window to beware of a burglar trap in the "sylum not" store in the Kentucky highlands, across the river from Cincinnati, James McCurdy, colored, entered the store last night and today his dead body was found on the floor. He had been caught in the trap, a load of buckshot from a shotgun having ended his life.

ATLANTIC FLEET IS WORKING WITH GUNS.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 19.—With continued favorable weather conditions, the Atlantic battleship fleet was today engaged in the Southern drill grounds, thirty miles off the Virginia coast, in record stationary practice. The night stationary target practice is carried on by searchlight.

The "battle practice," with the torpedo boats Nicholson and O'Brien as targets, will not begin until the stationary record work has been completed, which it was announced from the Norfolk navy yard today may not be for a week or ten days.

WONDERFUL NEW SOUTH

M. V. Richards Tells of the Progress Being Made Down in Dixie.

Tide Has Turned and Drains on Population Have Ceased.

M. V. Richards, land and industrial agent of the Southern railway, and the Mobile & Ohio railway, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., is a guest at the Spalding hotel, having come to the Head of the Lakes on a trip that combines business and pleasure.

Mr. Richards is accompanied by Mrs. Richards and since being in the city they have met a number of former acquaintances.

Up to twenty years ago Mr. Richards was identified with the land department of the Northern Pacific railway, and was in close touch with the development of the country tributary to that system. He severed his connection with the Northern Pacific to organize a new department on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

After being with the Baltimore & Ohio for five years, Mr. Richards was called to the service of the Southern railway, a line which is very active in building up the section of country tributary to it in the Southeastern states. He is one of the most active and energetic of the men who are building up the new South.

Mr. Richards commented very favorably upon the progress and development Duluth had achieved since his last visit. He is very vitally interested in the development of the Northwest, being a resident of the West and a Western man at heart, though his work is being done at the present time in the South and Southwest.

His prediction regarding the future of such points as Duluth, the mining and agricultural resources of the Western country, are optimistic, to say the least.

"A country such as we have will be just what the people make of it," said Mr. Richards, "and now, while the prospects for active business and industry are so promising, all should take advantage of the opportunity and do what they can to develop the country along legitimate and substantial lines. The people of the Northern states are beginning to appreciate the wonderful advantages of the Southern states. We have many people and much capital coming into our territory. Prior to the Civil war the South was probably the wealthiest section of the Union. But it has required many years since the close of hostilities between the two sections of the country for the Southern people to regain their equilibrium.

"While the South has made splendid headway along agricultural lines, the development of diversified industries is resulting in the construction of one or more factories in every town of any size. The manufacture of cotton goods, the making of furniture, wagons and farm implements, the production of iron and steel have a great and prominent part in the industrial work of the South.

"The South's quarries of marble and granite send vast tonnage into the North and East. Some of the best buildings of the North are constructed from material from Southern quarries. Millions of dollars furnished by Minnesota people alone have found profitable investment in our Southern timber lands. We are glad to have with us in the South many former Minnesotans, and we extend to them a hearty welcome as they are assisting in making the South a prominent factor in the progress of the nation.

"For years the South sent many hundreds of people to the North and West, and did not receive any immigration in return. These drains upon the population of our Southern states were keenly felt, for it represented a great annual loss in population. We, who are so greatly interested in the South, congratulate ourselves that a complete change has been wrought. People from beyond the limits of the South are looking upon its opportunities and advantages with favor, and are coming to the South in no small numbers. These people are buying our lands and improving them, and taking advantage of the splendid opportunities the soil presents.

"They engage in various lines of industry and commerce. This combination of experience, capital and energy of the North with the capital and cooperative spirit of the South is making the industrial development of the South so wonderful."

Mr. Richards called attention to the wonderful growth of the cotton industry in the South. Cotton mills, woolen and knitting mills number over 751 at the present time. Millions have been invested in the industry, the growth in the textile industry being from 667,000 spindles in 1880 to 10,500,000 spindles at the present time. This numbers practically 50 per cent of the number in the entire country.

Kachelmacher-Norvale Scandal of Fargo International in Scope.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—International complications are being featured in the Kachelmacher-Norvale scandal in this city, and it may be impossible for the Kachelmacher's to secure a divorce in the United States, as it is claimed both still owe their allegiance to the Norwegian government, notwithstanding a resident of a number of years in this country.

The matter is still further complicated by the report that Norvale is still a native of Sweden, never having secured naturalization papers. The scandal arose over the separation of the Kachelmachers followed by the statement that Norvale and Mrs. Kachelmachers were seen in Salt Lake together by Fargoans, who conversed with them. The doctor is at present in Norway, where he hurried immediately after the sensation here, but it is not known whether he left to escape the embarrassment and publicity or to seek a divorce in his native land.

"Correct Dress For Women"

Not "Factory-Made" Nor "Turned Out"

——But——

"Tailored"

That's why Gidding Suits are un-like the ordinary kind. Then, too, they're not made by men who have hard scrabble to keep "up-to-the-times" by making twice-a-year trips to the market—for styles produced by such men are but "current" at the best—and only on a par with styles to be found in any store. Even though they be "strictly hand-made"—yet "hand-made" counts for little if the styles be not "right."

Gidding Suits are "tailored! Yes, "Hand-Tailored" under the personal direction of men who forecast the styles—men who are in a position to know in which direction the Fashion Wave is traveling, and what conditions are liable to influence it. Consequently Gidding Styles are not only "current," but fairly in advance of the commonly accepted styles.

It is a long time now that our Messrs. Gidding and buyers have been in the market, diligently working with these metropolitan designers, who study the styles of nations, and adopt the best for their own.

The fruits of their labors are now coming fast, and Fall Styles are Well Represented in Coats, Suits, Skirts and Dresses. The "Co-Ed" Dress, named for Elsie Janis, is the dress sensation of the moment in the East, and it is here awaiting your approval.

MISS WARBINGTON of our Millinery Department writes that she will soon return, and that she's fairly "crammed with ideas," and is bringing a wealth of choice selections and Trimming Tid-bits from the best Millinery Offerings of the market.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 19. — Only through "unconscious cerebration" is President Taft preparing for his many speeches to be made on the long Western and Southern trip. By this same method the president also is working on his annual message to congress. The president has thought out the general plan of his message; he has several cabinet officers at work on the details of certain phases of it, and he will not take up the work of assembling the document until a week or so before congress is to gather. The message is not likely to be a long one.

The personnel of the president's traveling party has been completed. While the trip promises to develop into the longest ever made by a president, the party unquestionably will be the smallest.

Besides the president there will be John Hayes Hammond, president of the League of Republican Clubs; Capt. Archibald Butt, military aid; Wendell W. Mischler, assistant secretary; Dr. J. J. Richardson of Washington, D. C.; James Sloan, Jr., and L. C. Wheeler of the secret service of Washington, D. C., and Maj. Arthur Brooks, the president's confidential messenger, who just now is fighting with the Red army of invasion about Boston as commanding officer of the battalion of colored troops with the District of Columbia National Guard.

Travel in Private Cars.

Six newspaper men will accompany the president throughout the entire trip. The party will travel in two private cars, attached for the greater part of the time to regular trains.

It practically was decided today to include Ogden, Utah, in the list of stopping places. This change will necessitate a curtailment of the stay in Salt Lake City, and was arranged in accordance with a request from the Utah committee. The president will reach Salt Lake City late in the afternoon of Friday, Sept. 24. On the way to Sale Lake City it has been arranged that there shall be a stop of one hour or more at Provo, Utah. The president is due in Butte, Mont., Monday morning, Sept. 27, and the stay in Ogden probably will be on the Sunday preceding.

Senator Warner of Missouri has an engagement with Mr. Taft for this evening. He is coming to talk over political matters in his home state.

Will Hear From Missouri.

The senator will soon be up for reelection. President Taft is anxious that Missouri, having been twice won by the Republicans in presidential years, shall be retained in the Republican column.

The mail man brought to the executive offices this morning a stuffed gray suede elephant about twelve inches in height, addressed to President Taft. The little fellow had "G. O. P." stamped on one side and on one ear. On the front of the elephant was traced a picture of the president, and underneath were the words "Sunny Bill." The elephant came from Detroit.

CONFIRMS CAPTURE OF THE INSURGENT ROGHI.

Tangier, Aug. 19.—A courier who left Fez Aug. 13 arrived here and confirms the reported capture of Roghi, the rebellious subject of the sultan of Morocco, and says he probably will be brought into Fez. Roghi's chamberlain and many of his followers captured in the recent encounter with the government forces were decapitated, while others were tortured. Large number of Roghian prisoners are being taken to Fez. The head of a negro general was carried into the city impaled on an officer's sword, and it is rumored that the head of a European was among those exposed on spikes.

According to the courier, the sultan has warned the Riffian delegates that he himself would complete the chastisement of the Riffians commenced by the Spanish.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

"A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." For sale by all druggists.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI.

First Autumn Meeting Will be Held Early in September.

The first autumn meeting of the Duluth Alumni association will be held early in September to affect a permanent organization and to make plans as definite as possible for the raising of funds to establish the Charles Alden Smith scholarship. A preliminary meeting was held in the early summer and a temporary organization achieved, but the hard work of securing the necessary number of members and the financial support, will be begun in earnest. The meeting will be held Friday evening, Sept. 3, and every effort is being made to induce every local graduate to be in attendance at that time. It is hoped to have the association so well organized, and the funds in such shape, that the scholarships may be awarded at the close of the next school year. Supt. Denfeld is most heartily in sympathy with the movement and it is anticipated that many of the successful business men and women of the city who received their early training at the local high school, will give their support. No cards of notice are being sent out, those eligible for membership being expected to be present at that time.

RHEIMS IS BUSY PLACE

Hordes of Visitors Will Attend Aviation Week Doings.

People From All Parts of the World Will Be on Hand.

Rheims, Aug. 19.—Rheims is filling up rapidly with visitors from all parts of the world for Aviation week, and the ancient capital of Champagne is showing more animation and activity than at any time since 1901, when the emperor of Russia visited the city and reviewed the French army. All the hotels are engaged to the last room. A special lodging agency has been organized by the committee. A number of Americans already have taken up their quarters.

The aerodrome, which until recently was an expanse of ploughed fields, has been given over to landscape gardeners. Twelve hundred pine trees have been transplanted to the field, to afford shade and give an artistic decoration. In order to meet the complaints of the aviators regarding the condition of the course, an army of peasants has been enlisted to level and clear the ground. The committee is confident that everything will be in readiness for Saturday, the day before the races begin.

"Dark Horse" Looked For.

It is said that one of the surprises of aviation week will be the appearance of a mysterious aeroplane, built along the lines of the Wright machines, which had been used successfully in a number of secret flights recently near Paris. The pilot of this machine only abandoned a project to fly from Paris down to Rheims because of the possibility of damaging his flyer.

This aeroplane takes to the air immediately, without running over the ground or making use of outside force. It rises aloft by varying the angle of the planes, and the stretch of its propellers.

It is understood that Glenn Curtiss, the American entry, will use an eight instead of a four-cylinder motor, which develops 25-horse power and drives the propellers at the rate of 1,000 revolutions a minute. This motor weighs 100 kilograms, or a little over 200 pounds. Lubrication is effected automatically, the oil issuing from a small reservoir underneath the motor. A reservoir pump that the aviator can manipulate with his foot also has been installed on Curtiss' machine.

Warned of Delays.

Speaking today of the forthcoming contests, Capt. Ferber said he feared there were disappointments in store for the spectators not accustomed to flying competitions.

"You must not expect the aviators to come punctually, like horses at a race course," the captain continued. "There possibly may be days when, on account of the weather conditions, flying will be impossible until the evening."

NEW OFFICERS.

Several Changes Made By the Red Warrior Mining Company.

Several new officers and directors have been elected by the Red Warrior Mining company. W. A. Eaton tendered his resignation as president, and Lucien Merritt was elected to fill the position. Judge J. T. Hale was elected vice president, a position formerly occupied by Mr. Merritt. E. R. Ribenack was elected treasurer.

Eastern interests are said to have gained control of a large block of Red Warrior stock, and it is believed the new interests will be likely to have a favorable market effect. The stock has been showing a good deal of strength on the stock exchange lately.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The annual Spirit lake garden party of the boat club will be held Monday evening, Aug. 30, at the river headquarters of the club. The affair last year was very beautiful and every effort will be made this season to have the party as successful as have been the other boat club affairs of the year. The scheme of decoration at Spirit lake is reversed from the plans followed at the carnival at the main house, in that the decorations and lights are all on land and the pretty scene is viewed from the river. The 2,000 Japanese lights of the club will be strung in the grove and about the clubhouse, and so far as possible the guests will be taken out in the club raft to view the scene from the river.

There will be many dinner parties at the club that evening, and beside the regular train schdule there will be a special train going up to the clubhouse at 8 o'clock that evening from the union station. The train will leave the clubhouse at 1 o'clock for the return trip. There will be a concert during the evening by the Third Regiment band and an orchestra will play a program of music at the dancing hall over the boathouse.

PROPERTY RIGHTS

Of Women Discussed at Political Equality Club.

So far as property rights go the women of Minnesota have little to ask, according to the facts as laid down last evening by Attorney Charles V. McCoy at the regular August meeting of the Duluth Political Equality club which was held at the council chamber of the city hall. The speaker gave a short and direct summing up of the law of the state in regard to the property rights of women, unmarried and married. In the case of single blessedness woman has equal privileges and responsibilities with man, and after she is married things are about the same. Any property that she may possess after she has bought her trousseau remains her own, and any profits that may accrue from such property, are also hers. She has also the delectable privilege of suing her husband if he perchance appropriates such profits to himself without her permission. She may contract bills and may be sued for the same in her own right and name. Her earnings are her own, and she is only responsible with her husband for the necessities of life that may be purchased for their household. There is little improvement to be requested along this line, according to the speaker.

An informal discussion followed the address of the evening. C. R. Keyes spoke of the ideal state of society which Mrs. Besant outlined in Duluth in her recent lecture. Dr. Mary McCoy, president of the club, remarked that Mrs. Besant had outlined that the coming race would have attained such a high spiritual sense and such lofty ideals of ustice, that there would be no need for lawyers and clergymen, but she had not said how the world would get along without physicians.

The club is planning to secure Mrs. Frances Squire Potter for an address at the time of her visit here in October. Although the attendance at the summer meetings is light, the officers hope that renewed interest in the work will be shown in the fall.

CIRCULAR KEYBOARD.

New Inventon Makes Piano Playing Less Muscular.

From Berlin comes news of a circular keyboard, which is attracting the notice of pianists and organists. Rudolf Ganz, Alberto Jonas and Godowsky have all tried it, and Mr. Ganz has performed on it in public.

Mrs. Clarence B. Miller of this city, who is abroad, is now studying with Rudolph Ganz in Switzerland.

The new invention does away with the great stretches of the arms necessary to command the high and low notes of the normal piano. The Cultsam keyboard is arranged in the form of an arc; in playing the high or low notes the arms retain a normal position and are just near the body as when occupied in the middle of the keyboard. Curiously enough, the Australian Clutsam, who hit upon this so simple and yet so effective plan, is not a pianist himself, but a cellist. In constructing his piano, Mr. Clutsam has based his invention on the anatomy of the hands and arms, and he claims that his new keyboard is scientifically correct. The curvature is comparatively slight and yet the difference to the player is very marked.

FOUR PARIS HATS

Are Brought To America by Lillian Russell.

Lillian Russell, she of beauty, taste and brains, returned to New York from Paris the other day with four samples of what men call bonnets.

"Paris is a cradle of contradictions as far as dress goes," is the way Miss Russell outlines her idea of prevailing styles as found by her in the French capital to a New York reporter. The famous beauty has just returned from her European vacation, and talked about the things dear to feminine hearts that are on the other side.

"For my own use," she said, "I still am firm in the belief that America leads the world in real dressmaking. I had my convictions concurred in by the eager admiration my New York made clothing and hats aroused.

"The scheme of dress for the winter in Paris can be anticipated, but hats—ah, here you have a world of things to choose from.

"I never wanted so much and found it so hard to condense my choice to four hats in all the times I have spent in Paris heretofore. But such choice as was made is pretty, simply and collectively, hope. For my first hat I have a large black George IV creation, with a large white moire bow in the back, and encircling the entire crown is a profusion of curled white aigrettes that completely cover the center of the hat."

To better illustrate her meaning Miss Russell adjusted the hat. Next from the depths of a French bonnet box she sprung forth a millinery poem in blue, which is the newest thing in Paris.

She styles it a Russian turban. It is made of pastel blue velvet, wound round and around the head, and covering the hair complete in the back, extending down to the collar.

The third hat worn by Miss Russell was a royal blue colonial, mingling suggestions of Washington and Napoleon in its outlines. This is of draped silk in royal blue shade, and is surmounted by four plumes of the same hue on the extreme right side. The last hat was an imperial purple velvet, which she calls the yeoman of the guard, but which is something of a modified Gainsborough.

"My gowns are all for the stage, as I did not buy a thing to wear while in Paris, except these dresses, and they are essential, as the new character I am to play is of a woman who is given to wearing imported gowns, and in order to complete the picture I got the latest that Paris will offer late this fall."

HER MOTHERHOOD.

John D's Daughter Writes of Her Happiness.

It is not until we have experienced a condition that we know. Never from the sayings of another can we rightly judge what has been the pain or the joy actually felt. It is only after we ourselves have felt, have suffered or have enjoyed that we can say, "I know." This knowledge gives us the power to sympathize, to appreciate; it broadens our horizon, makes us more rounded in our development, increases our chances for usefulness and deepens our powers of enjoyment. Why, then, should we not welcome the unfolding of the wonderful new world which comes to us after marriage and receive the fullness of the Creator's great gift? asks Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D., in the September Delineator, in an article on "What My Children Mean to Me."

Perhaps we have not cared for children as young girls—books, music, art have filled our minds and satisfied our longings. But when we waken to the realization that the baby in our arms is our own, that we have the right, the privilege, the honor to be called mother, we find that something new is within us, a love so different from any that we have experienced before—a pride, a jealous care, a great overwhelming joy. All this we could not know before, and how wonderful it is! A little soul loaned to us to love and to care for. What great confidence God has put in our love and our wisdom to make such a gift! Life now has a new aspect. No, it is not more beautiful than it was before, but it is more rounded—our horizon is broader—so much is open to us. The child who today lies in our arms entirely helpless and dependent is going to grow and to develop. We must then bestir ourselves. Are we going to be prepared to meet each phase of development wisely and equally? Is the unfolding of this spirit going to be met by an intelligent, loving mind ready to grasp, to guide, to advise? And if this is so, how wonderful each moment of every day is! Is this not the fullness of living?

"But," says one, "there is so much sacrifice in a mother's life; so much she gives up, so much she gives out which is not appreciated, and for which she never receives any return." May I ask what sacrifice is? Is doing what love prompts us to do ever a hardship or a deprivation? Are not the noblest deeds of one's life the deeds prompted by love? And can love ever be small? Can we ever go far from the best and the highest when we follow the dictates of love? In our married life it is love which paves each day's path with roses, and it is love which makes the thorns in the way not less pointed, but to hurt less. It is all from within, after all. Even life itself is, and can be to a large extent, what we make it ourselves. Will we keep love, beauty, nature's art, uppermost in our minds and in our hearts? Then life is one long, beautiful ray from the sun, even more from the Great Spirit, our Creator, our Father, our final Judge. And in this wonderful ray of life-giving light we live, we expand, we develop, until it becomes our privilege to outgrow our own limitations and to influence the lives of those about us. Then love, the great love comes and makes a new home, our own sphere, where all that we have worked for during years of educational development may expand and take definite color.

Has any queen a greater chance to make her individuality felt than we, each in her home? Then how carefully should we guard this privilege, and how much should we consider each daily duty not as tiresome routine to be shirked, but as a stepping stone in our development, a nearer approach to our ideal.

Fashion Hints.

All the smart women seem to have outgrown the antipathy to earrings.

Artificial pearl buttons are used to the almost complete exclusion of the real gems.

When these do not meet approval, fresh water or baroque pearls are used and cut down to the proper size and smoothness.

Large disks of mother-of-pearl are very smart. They are surrounded by halls of white coral are equally in demand.

Of course if you are tall enough you should wear pendants of pearl or jet. They are the smartest of all. Some women even wear hoops of small pearls which hang from a single pearl.

In fact, the earring of all kinds is with us, and we look quite sophisticated or gypsylike according to our particular type.

The hair is worn quite flat in front and whenever possible it is parted. A number of jeweled bands are being worn in the hair, and these go with the most classical style of hairdressing.

Besides, the hats must be worn flat on the head, and these make the high pompadour out of the question.

The plain ribbon pinned around the head like a surgical bandage is very much in vogue. A Parisian actress recently appeared with one of these made of fine pearls sewed on a piece of gold net.

To Save Linens.

Does the average housekeeper realize that the surest way to keep linen is not to use it consecutively?

Does she know that, in spite of the original outlay of money necessary to provide herself with a large stock of linen, the possession of a great many pieces is in reality the most economical method?

For instance, one woman found that by using one set of tablecloths and napkins for six months and then putting it away for a year's rest, during which time she levied on her extra supplies, her napery could be made to last almost twice as long as did that of other women.

In the same way this woman was in the habit of letting two weeks, elapse before she used each sheet again. And at the end of two months she put away the set that she had just been using and got from the depths of her linen closet another set.

Care of the Hair.

Moderation is one of the first principles in its treatment.

Too much combing and brushing is quite as bad as not enough.

Roughing and drawing front with a comb are both injurious.

Part the hair down the center and brush from the roots to the points.

Curling at night is injurious, but not so much so as are irons.

Massage of the scalp and of the line where hair and face meet does wonders.

Massage means moving the scalp backward and forward with the fingers.

This increases the circulation and will result in fresh hair.

Salt water is injurious to the hair, and it should be well rinsed after the dip.

Before entering the water a sponge should be placed at the neck.

The water trickling down the spine from this will offset the shock from the ocean.

the EVENING STORY

UNDER MONA LISA'S WING

By Kilbourne Cowles.

She was standing before the Mona Lisa, wrapt in the study of that inscrutable smile with which Leonardi da Vinci has puzzled poets, painters and critics for generations. Hawley noticed her as he walked past. He liked pictures, and though he made no pretensions to knowing much about art, when in Paris he always spent a great deal of time in the Louvre. He had certain favorites among the paintings, and the Mona Lisa was one that he never failed to visit when walking through the great gallery.

He saw that the woman in front of it was an American. A glance told him that, though her back alone was visible. It was this in the figure before the Mona Lisa that made him turn and walk slowly by again. There was something familiar in those smooth coils of dark hair, and it struck him suddenly that he had seen those graceful shoulders before. He approached the picture, and as he did so, its other admirer drew back, giving him an opportunity to get a full view of it and also, unconsciously, an opportunity to see her face.

"Belinda!" he exclaimed, and in a tone of equal surprise she said, "Why, Graham!"

"I had no idea you were in Paris," said he, grasping her outstretched hand.

"I had no idea that you were here either, but why shouldn't we both be here? All good Americans are said to go to Paris when they die, and those who can go before," she laughed and drew away her hand, which he seemed inclined to hold rather longer than was strictly conventional.

"Belinda, you are just the same."

She shrugged her shoulders in a manner quite French. "I hardly think that a compliment. I would rather you considered me improved, after all these years since we have seen each other. Were you going to pay your respects to Mona Lisa when you discovered my identity?"

"Yes, she is one of my oldest friends in the gallery. I like her reserve."

"But I think I have penetrated it," said Belinda, with a superior smile. "I'm sure that I have fathomed her secret. When you really come to know her intimately, she tells you how little worth while it all is."

"You believe in her cynicism, then? I don't, and I have known her very well indeed for some years. She never told me that it isn't worth while. I said you weren't changed, Belinda, but I begin to think you are, for the girl that I knew in the old days wouldn't have translated Mona Lisa's smile into a discouraging view of life. You know, I always fancy that her smile is almost benign."

"You see it is different toward men. She is enough of a coquette to hide her real meaning from her masculine admirers," laughed Belinda.

"Well, we don't wish to talk about pictures, do we, Belinda? I think we can find a more interesting topic in ourselves. Don't you want to know what I've been doing all these years?"

"Of course I do, egotistical man, so tell me about yourself at once."

"Not until you promise to return my confidences. Notwithstanding that you call me egotistical, I'm much more anxious to hear about you than to tell you of myself."

"First, let us move on. Our long conversation is attracting attention."

Hawley turned with Belinda, noticing as he did so, that a number of people were observing them.

"The French are beastly curious."

"They are not so curious as sentimental," said Belinda. "They see a meeting between old friends and they allow themselves the luxury of being mildly interested in what they consider a little drama."

"How do you come to know them so well?"

"I have lived here a long time. I never realize how long until I run across one of my old friends, as I have you today, then I feel that my exile has been real."

"You don't like to meet old friends?" Hawley couldn't keep the aggrieved note out of his voice any more than Belinda could avoid smiling when she heard it.

"It is this way; my pleasure in seeing American friends does not compensate for the loneliness I feel when they go and they always go—sooner or later. Indeed I have taken to shunning old friends."

"I'm glad then, I saw you first. I don't like to think that you would have tried to escape me, Belinda. You see I still call you Belinda, in fact, I should find it hard to call you anything else. Notwithstanding the changes in your life, let us pretend while we are together today, that we are the same boy and girl—friends—we used to be. Come over to the little tea shop on the Rue de Rivoli and let us have a good long talk."

"You must be my brother then for the time being, and ostentatiously call me 'sister' in French."

"Fetters and rank go together," thought Hawley, but he said nothing and then he began to think of the day that he had hotly declined to be her brother, and strangely enough Belinda was thinking of the same day, and it occurred to her that her life would have been very different if she had not asked him to be a brother on that summer afternoon so long ago.

"So I may still call you Belinda?" asked Hawley as they seated themselves in the cozy little tea room. "At first I did so naturally and then I feared that you—that is, that some one might object."

"I shall object if you don't call me sister," she answered in a low tone and Hawley quickly addressed her so loudly by that title that several people nearly turned to look at them, and Belinda laughed outright.

"You never could act. Don't roar at me again. I'll risk being seen with you. It was the loss of position that I dreaded, but I see no one here who I think knows me."

"You don't mean to say that such a small breach of les convenances could affect your position."

"You don't know how critical people are here on the continent."

"Would you rather not stay?"

"No, I prefer snatching a little pleasure when I can, for it is a pleasure to see you again, Gray."

She smiled over her teacup in a way that made his heart beat faster and then, when the smile faded, he looked at her searchingly and said gently, "Belinda, hasn't it turned out well? Forgive my asking, but are you happy?"

"Oh I suppose I'm as happy as most people. I don't believe much in happiness" she tried to speak carelessly.

"What is it? Are you—neglected? Let me as a friend, as a real brother, know if you are in trouble."

"I suppose I'm not neglected really, nor am I in any special trouble but I'm cynical, as cynical, Gray, as an old bachelor and I never thought to own it, but I am tired at times, and like Mona Lisa again I think it's all useless, that it isn't worth while."

"Belinda, I'm troubled about you. I had often thought of meeting you, and fancied it would be in Italy, perhaps in your own home, and I had hoped to find you radiant, satisfied—that—"

"Why not, Gray? I have no home in Italy, nor did I ever have."

"I suppose the Lady d'Orsina has the privilege of calling her husband's home, her home, is she?"

"The Lady d'Orsina?"

"You don't mean to say that you didn't marry that Count Orsina, whom you were engaged to, or was he a prince?"

"Oh, Gray, did you think I would marry him?"

"Everyone thought you would."

"But I expected my friends to think better of me. I was really never engaged to him. We were together a lot and through the mistake of a careless society reporter the engagement was announced in the papers but I never meant for a moment to marry Orsina. You might have known that." There was reproach in her voice. "What a to-do his attentions to me did stir up! I laugh when I remember how out of all proportion my affairs were canvassed when I was supposed to be an heiress."

"Supposed to be?"

"Yes didn't you hear that when my guardian died it was discovered that he had been unfortunate in the care of my money and had lost in bad investments nearly everything? It killed him, poor man."

"No, I never heard. I've been in Japan, you know. I am very sorry. But you married? You spoke of position. Are you the owner of a title after all?"

"Yes," she answered slowly, "I have won a title," and as she spoke Hawley's brow clouded, "the honorable title of school teacher."

"School teacher!" he repeated joyously.

"Yes, I teach English to little French girls, and if any of their mothers should happen upon me here talking to you unchaperoned, I should lose my position at once."

"Hang your position!"

"I often feel like it, but I really can't afford to, because I'm so fond of bread and butter and wearing apparel."

Hawley noticed with a pang as she spoke that though she had her old air of distinction, her clothes were almost shabby.

"Why haven't you married?" he leaned across the table toward her.

"Don't forget the possibility of my pupils' mothers being present," she warned him, and he drew back with a grimance.

"Hang the mothers!"

"I can't afford the pleasure."

"Why haven't you married?"

"Did you never hear it said that as a girl grows older she becomes more particular and less desirable?"

"I admit the first charge, but as to the latter there isn't a word of truth in it as far as you are concerned, and I don't care how particular you are, if you are not too particular to take me. I am only thankful to find you unmarried."

For a moment the girl did not answer. There was a lump in her throat. Something beautiful had happened that she had thought was impossible. The one man that she had ever cared for, had suddenly come back to her, forgiving the girlish scorn with which in a freak of perversity, she had sent him away so long ago. At last she stretched her hand across the little tea table and it was immediately clasped in a larger, stronger one. Looking around the room with its American, English and French patrons, she said, with a laugh that was almost a sob, "Come, let us hurry back to the Louvre before it closes. I wish to tell Lisa that I didn't understand her after all, that I know now that she was trying to teach me that life is worth living."

As they left the shop, the people nearest their table smiled after them.

PROSTRATED BY THE HEAT

Conditions at Grand Army Encampment Intolerable, Says Duluth Delegate.

Minnesota Delegation at Salt Lake Was Lamentably Small.

E. B. Force of 5349 London road, who as an alternate from the Duluth posts of the G. A. R. attended the Grand Army encampment at Salt Lake City last week, has returned to Duluth rather the worse for wear. He was prostrated by the heat in Denver last Sunday and was hurried home on account of his dangerous condition. He is around the house now, but rather weak after his experience.

"I never experienced such heat in my life," said Mr. Force this morning. "Last Friday, the day of the parade, it was terribly hot in Salt Lake City and hundreds of the veterans were prostrated. Sixty children in the living flag were prostrated and the hospitals were crowded. I suffered considerably from the heat, but did not collapse until I arrived at Denver. I fell in the passenger station there and was taken to a hospital. The doctors advised that I hurry home and I came as soon as I could.

"At Omaha I collapsed again, but they put me on the train and I was able to proceed. I learned at Fairbairn, Colo., that the thermometer registered 116 degs. I don't know how hot it was at Salt Lake City and Denver, but I think the heat at Fairbairn about shows the temperature all the time."

Mr. Force is not entirely pleased with the selection of Atlantic City for the next convention and he says many of the veterans feel the same way. The distance is too far for the Middle West and the West, he says, and St. Louis, the more central point should have been selected.

"They had a good encampment at Salt Lake City, but it was very different from those of former years. The city was too far out of the way, also, and I never saw so small a number of veterans in attendance. Some departments had only six or seven men, and I am sure that none had over 100. The Minnesota delegation number ninety-three men, the smallest number that has ever attended an encampment from this state.

"The parade was the longest ever held at an encammment, being about three miles in length, but the number of members of the Grand Army in line was the smallest ever seen. There were not more than 2,000 old soldiers in the line of march, and fully half of that number were in carriages. The local committees made an effort to get all of the boys in the parade. Those who didn't want to march were provided with carriages, and I never saw so many take advantage of the opportunity to ride. Usually they prefer to march, but it was so warm and uncomfortable that many, including myself, were afraid to attempt it.

"I didn't intend to go in the parade at all, because I couldn't march in my condition, but they took me from the hotel, put me in a carriage with Mayor John S. Bradford of Salt Lake City, and I went along. The soldiers from Fort Douglas, 800 or 900 in number, and a battery of artillery from the fort, lengthened the procession, and the state militia also took part.

"The Minnesota delegation was lamentably small. The First regiment had six or eight men, and that was the most from any one regiment. The Eleventh wasn't represented at all. Michigan was about the same. Other Middle Western and Middle Eastern states didn't turn out as they did in the past, but those that were there were royally entertained by the people of Salt Lake City.

"The boys are getting too old to travel so far, and the selection of Atlantic City next year is unfortunate. St. Louis would have been much more central, and the attendance at the encampment would be larger. Every year the number is growing less and care should have been taken to select a place where most of the old boys could gather, rather than some out of the way spot."

S. F. White was the accredited delegate from Duluth at the encampment, and he is still in the South. Mrs. Williams of Duluth, department commander of the Women's Relief Corps of Minnesota, also attended the encampment. A. D. Thomson of Duluth, and John S. Holdren, formerly of Duluth and now of Salt Lake City, visited the Minnesota delegates, he said, and helped entertain them.

Prisoners From Range.

Mike Sorick was brought down from the range this morning by Deputy Sheriff Owen Gately to serve a twenty-day sentence for carrying concealed weapons. The sentence was pronounced by Judge Martin Hughes of the district court, Sorick having been bound over by the grand jury some time ago.

He was arrested last spring in the Stevenson mine, Stuntz township, with two big revolvers and two wicked looking knives on his person. He pleaded guilty to the charge, and got off with a light sentence. Gately also brought down three other men for commitment on drunk and disorderly charges.

DEAL CLOSED FOR NEW SITE

School Will Be Erected at Fourth Street and Lake Avenue.

A deal was closed yesterday between the board of education and Luther Mendenhall, whereby the board receives title to four lots on the southwest corner of Fourth street and Lake avenue. The purchase price was $20,000. An option was taken by the board about ten days ago, $1,000 being deposited as earnest money. Yesterday $6,000 was paid and at the next meeting the board will decide whether to pay the remainder in cash or whether to give a note for a year.

The board already owns three lots on the northwest corner of Lake avenue and Third street, the rear of the two tracts adjoining. On the property it is proposed to replace the Washington school, and the other side to be given over to manual training and domestic science quarters.

The Washington school, which is on the corner of First avenue east and Third street, opposite the high school, is badly crowded. The use of seven rooms in the high school building relieved the congestion last year, but this year the rooms will be needed for high school purposes and other provision must be made for taking care of the grades.

It is proposed to have the new Washington school planned this fall and to complete it by the opening of the fall term in 1910. The proposed new grade school will accommodate about 1,100 students and when it is completed there will be a redistricting so as to relieve the congestion in the Washington, Nettleton, Franklin and Jefferson schools.

THAW DECISION ROASTED BY EX-GOVERNOR BOIES.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 19.—Bent with the weight of his eighty years, Horace Boies, twice elected governor of Iowa as a Democrat in an overwhelmingly Republican state, left the seclusion of his home in Waterloo long enough to write a scathing denunciation of the decision of Justice Mills in remanding Harry Thaw to the Matteawan asylum.

The letter of Governor Boies was brought forth, as an answer to the Des Moines Register and Leader, which editorially commended the court's decision. Governor Boies, who was for years one of the noted lawyers of Iowa, declares that the evidence showed Thaw to be a sane man, and that to confine him for life with the criminally insane, "there to die by slow degrees, is nothing less than judicial murder," and that "the decision ought to be everlastingly denounced by every just man capable of understanding the gravity of the question submitted to that judge."

The governor declares that in standing so well the ordeal of a fourteen-hour cross-examination Thaw showed the most conclusive evidence of a sound mind.

MAIL CARRIERS "CAN DOUBLE UP"

Postmaster General Sees Way to Save $250,000 in the Summer.

Washington, Aug. 19.—By requiring letter carriers to "double up" their routes during the dull season of July and August, instead of employing substitutes, Postmaster General Hitchcock expects to save the government not less than $250,000 the present fiscal year.

Postoffice employes are allowed by law fifteen days' leave of absence, with pay, each year. It has been the general practice for many years to employ a substitute for every day a letter carrier was on leave of absence. As there are 26,000 carriers in the service, and as the cost of substitute service for the fifteen days and two Sundays allowed the carriers for their vacation is about $40, the actual cost of the carriers' vacations is a little more than $1,000,000.

Carriers Can Double Up.

During July and August the volume of mail, in the large cities especially, is considerably reduced, enabling carriers to "double up," so that in some instances during these months two carriers serve three routes. This enables the third carrier to take his vacation without expense to the government.

The cost of giving the clerks at first and second class postoffices their vacation has never been excessive, because it has been found feasible to grant clerks leaves of absence during the dull season without employing substitutes.

COMPLAINT IS A BOOMERANG

Ah Wong Causes an Arrest and Is Himself Fined.

A surprise was sprung on Ah Wong, Chinese proprietor of the Ohio restaurant, 617 West Superior street, in municipal court yesterday afternoon, when he was fined $15 and costs, amounting in all to $24, for assaulting Alfonso Gentilo, who was fined the same amount because he kicked a hole in the restaurant window.

Wong caused the arrest of Alfonso, and to hear his story on the witness stand one would think that the white man had no reason for getting angry. One of the waitresses in the restaurant, however, testifying for the Chinaman, made his case look rather bad when she said he had struck Alfonso twice over the head with a stove poker before the latter thought of breaking the window. Alfonso told the same story.

After the evidence was all in, Judge Cutting said the defendant was guilty of breaking the window, all right, but suggested that a complaint be made out against the Chinaman for assault, as the use of the poker seemed to have been uncalled for. This was done, and then both men were given the same fine. Wong paid his, but Alfonso had to go to jail.

The trouble between the two men started earlier in the week, when Alfonso's employer, a saloon keeper, was not satisfied with a 25-cent roast chicken he got from the restaurant, because it had no dressing. Alfonso took the chicken back, and next time he showed up at the restaurant to buy food for the saloon man the poker degree was administered.

NEGRO IS CLEARED BY NAVAL COURT INQUIRY.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The authorities of the state of Massachusetts have notified the navy department that they do not want David Williams, the negro mess attendant on the battleship Vermont, who had a boxing bout with another negro named Foster, as the result of which the latter died.

Williams was cleared of all blame by a naval court of inquiry, but was held by Admiral Schroeder as a witness in the subsequent hearing to ascertain whether the officers of the vessel exercised proper supervision over the fight to see that it did not go too far for safety. He will be turned over to the Georgia state authorities, who want him for an alleged serious assault committed before Williams entered the navy.

GRAND ARMY STANDARD MAY HAVE BEEN STOLEN.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 19.—The standard of the Grand Army of the Republic which has been carried for the last twenty years by the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army and has been the official banner of every encampment, since 1889, has been missing since the parade of the veterans, Aug. 11, and it is feared it has been stolen. When last seen it was floating over the reviewing stands. The flag was presented to the Grand Army in 1889 in Milwaukee.

MAKES NEW RECORD.

Special Train on Northwestern Makes Fast St. Paul-Chicago Trip.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North-Western railroad established a new running record from St. Paul to Chicago Tuesday, traveling the distance of 402 miles in seven hours and twenty-five minutes. Part of the distance between St. Paul and Elroy was made at a speed of less than a mile a minute and the entire run was a record-breaker, as the time given includes some stops.

The run was made in moving a special party which arrived from the West over the Oriental limited at 8:10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The North-Western had a special train of three cars ready and it started to make a new record from St. Paul at 8:12 o'clock. The arriving time in Chicago was 3:37 o'clock in the afternoon.

The special made the distance of 195 miles between St. Paul and Elroy, Wis., in 197 minutes. Five minutes were lost taking water at Eau Claire and three at Merrillan to oil the engine, including the loss of time involved at railroad crossings at Merrillan and near Hudson. No information was received as to what stops were made between Elroy and Chicago, but there had to be some.

ALL SET FOR THE ENDURANCE RUN

Twin City Autoists Will Invade Duluth on Tuesday Next.

It is expected that 150 Twin City autoists will arrive in Duluth Tuesday next on the annual endurance run.

The run was to have taken place on Aug. 17, but a postponement was necessary and the affair will now be held on Aug. 24 and 25.

The pathfinder car was in the city about ten days ago. Richard Tucker, who was laying out the route and taking notes on the condition of the several parts of the road, has had his notes published for the benefit of those who intend to take the trip.

There is much enthusiasm in Duluth over the endurance contest, and the visitors will be royally entertained. The committee members are busy at present on the program.

The visitors will make the Spalding hotel their headquarters during their one-night stay in the city, and an effort is being made to secure the Armory to use as a public garage.

Each entrant in the contest names an observer. This man rides in some other car and makes notes on the repairs to the car while on the road. All these observations are calculated in making the final score.

Sandstone will be the only oil and gasoline station on the route. Tire trouble will not be counted against a car, but all other repairs will be figured in the final counting.

With the amount of enthusiasm displayed by the Twin City men over the contest, it is likely that Duluth will next year have the same sort of a run to Minneapolis. One of the automobile agencies has offered to donate a cup, and it may be that the race can be arranged for this fall.

NEW RULE MADE.

National Commission Takes Action on the Sale of Players.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 19.—The national baseball commission has adopted a new rule to cover what rule 36 failed to do, as it has been shown that the old rule can be, and has been, evaded. The new rule, No. 51, is:

"Whenever a major league club has sold a player to a minor league club, with an option to repurchase, and such option has been exercised by the major league club selling the player, and the same club then sells the same player a second time on a straight sale and then repurchases the player, then, and in such case, the purchased player must report to the major league club on or before the 23d of August, and if such players do not report, then in such instances they will be subject to major or minor league draft during the regular drafting season from the club with which they are found playing."

As an illustration, the Brooklyn club last year sold Player Finneyson to the Brockton club, with an option to repurchase, which they exercised. Under the rules this player could not be sold this year by Brooklyn, the latter retaining an option to repurchase. The records show that this year he was sold outright and again repurchased by Brooklyn. In this case the player will have to report on Aug. 23 or be subject to draft.

Entire Lower Half of His Body Was Crushed to Pulp.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred D. Cogswell, a watchman on the steamer K. T. Hutchinson, met his death here this morning in a most frightful manner. The steamer was warping into the upper south pier when Cogswell, in an attempt to slide down a rope to the pier to handle a line, lost his hold, and fell between the boat and the pier. The vessel was closing in rapidly and rescue was impossible. The fender streak caught the young man across the hips, everything below being crushed.

The accident was witnessed by several members of the crew, and the government watchman of the pier, who was about 100 feet distant. Mate Bostwick, clambored down the side, and when the boat cleared the pier a trifle, released the body.

Cogswell was 22 years of age, and resided in Cleveland. This was his first season sailing the lakes. It is understood that he intended to attend college this fall. The body is being held awaiting information concerning the parents from the steamship company.

PLAN BIG PARTY ON TAFT'S TRIP

New Orleans, La., Aug. 19.—"A concerted effort is being made to have every city and town of importance in the Mississippi valley represented in the great river trip which President Taft and his accompanying party of officials will make down the river from St. Louis to New Orleans," said Secretary Trezevant of the New Orleans Progressive union upon his return from St. Louis last night.

Mr. Trezevant went to St. Louis to confer with the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways association as to the program of their meeting here on Oct. 30, and Nov. 1 and 2, and the entertainment of the president and other distinguished visitors on that occasion. Present indications are that the New Orleans convention of the association will be the largest ever held.

After working hard for the confidence of our customers and the exclusive trade of the class of people who know better, the Columbia wouldn't risk to damage the value of a newly contracted long-life lease of the best corner in town by running old-fashioned mark-up-and-down sales. After July 10th we offered the choice of our finest up to $35 Stein-Bloch and Sincerity Suits at $19.09. We've sold piles of 'em since then, but a $125,000 stock like ours isn't easily exhausted. This week we've picked about 200 of these suits—mostly light colored ones—the values honestly stated being $20 to $30—and they will be put on sale

Tomorrow at Only.... $14

They are suits of the highest grade, the best styles and patterns, and $14 doesn't pay the piper, but new suits are beginning to arrive and these lightweights have to walk the plank. The salesmen say it's the offer of the season. Beautiful tans, grays, greens and other handsome mixtures, made of the finest worsteds, cheviots and Scotch weaves, real pure wool fabrics that can be bought tomorrow and Saturday for $14, and at that will be properly fitted by Mr. Le Roy, the well-known tailor, who has charge of our Bushelling Department, for we never allow a suit to leave the house unless it fits.

ARRESTED WRONG MAN

Judge Promptly Dismisses Charge Against Lunch Room Patron.

Says Owner Should Have Been Arrested in His Place.

Another "boomerang" case, like that of the Chinaman who was fined yesterday for assault for having a man arrested for breaking a window, came very nearly developing in municipal court this morning, in the trial of Samuel Johnston, charged by P. Christopher of the Boston lunch room, with disorderly conduct.

Judge Cutting declared Johnston guiltless, and expressed regret that a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Christopher, upon an assault charge, had not been made out, because, according to the testimony, he had struck the younger man two or three times in the face, without just provocation. The court also said that the police officer making the arrest of Johnston had acted outrageously in not also taking the lunchroom man into custody, if it were true, as claimed by two witnesses, that the latter had struck the youth while he was in the care of said officer.

Christopher claims to have been greatly annoyed lately by a group of young men who have hung around his place late at night, smoking and talking. Last night about 1 o'clock, he says, Johnston was a member of such a group, and declared that when he ordered the young man from the restaurant the latter delayed in going, and remained to argue the point. He soon left, however, but tarried in front of the building, whereupon Christopher called an officer and had the youth arrested.

"I thought I was going to be mobbed, so struck the man twice," Christopher told the court.

There were only three or four young men in the party, and there were two policemen on hand by this time, so the court wasn't much impressed of the danger of mob violence, especially in view of the fact that Christopher is 6 feet or more in height and weighs nearly 220 pounds.

Johnston and a witness both said there was no special argument in the lunch room, and that after the arrest on the street, made without cause, so far as they could see, Christopher grabbed Johnston by the throat, while the youth was being held by a police officer, and struck him three times with his fist, also tearing Johnston's shirt. The tear was exhibited. Christopher entered no denial if this.

"By Mr. Christopher's own testimony there was no disorderly conduct," said Judge Cutting. "Trespass is the worst charge that could be lodged against the prisoner, and there is a question if his guilt could be proven even on this charge. I cannot understand why the policeman in the case did not arrest Mr. Christopher. That he should be allowed to strike a prisoner in charge of a policeman, if this really did occur, as claimed by two witnesses, is outrageous. I cannot understand it. There was more reason for arresting the man than for taking Johnston into custody, if we are to judge by the evidence submitted. It is very strange that the officer allowed him to go. Johnston is much the smaller of the two men, and even if there had not been a policeman on hand, Christopher would not have been justified in lifting him, without greater provocation than he has been able to show. The idea of threatened mob violence, in the face of the evidence, is ridiculous. I am sorry that Mr. Christopher was not arrested."

Lieut. Fritz made the arrest of Johnston.

John Joyce, dirty, and with a breath like the drainage from a Bowery bar, was in court for vagrancy. He made a strong plea for freedom. Making a race for Judge Cutting's desk, he stretched a grimy paw towards his honor.

"Feel of that hand, judge, and tell me whether I am a workingman or not," he said. "Feel of it, I say, and tell me the honest truth. I want nothing but the truth. Feel it good. Tell me straight. I want the truth."

After repeating himself four or five times more, he was forced back to his seat. The judge did not avail himself of the invitation. There was so much dirt on the hand that one couldn't tell what was underneath.

Joyce was allowed to go on condition that he leave town today and stay away for three months.

WORRYING ABOUT MAIL

Bayview Heights Residents Petition for Rural Free Delivery.

Destruction of Incline Cuts Them Off From West Duluth.

People residing at Bayview Heights are signing a petition which is being circulated there, asking that the postal authorities at Washington, D. C., provide for a rural free delivery route for that section of the city. It will be sent in a few days to the fourth assistant postmaster general.

The need for a rural route at Bayview Heights has been urgent for some time past. People living there are now forced to go to the West Duluth postoffice for their mail, as no carriers go up the Heights far enough to include the residence district on their routes.

It is believed at the Heights, that the incline railway will not be rebuilt this year, and this makes it difficult to get to the postoffice for mail. The belt line was washed away at the time of the big flood of July 22, and no action has as yet been taken in regard to rebuilding it.

The stockholders of the company will hold a meeting tomorrow evening and will then decide whether or not the line will be rebuilt. The roadbed is entirely gone and it is now in bad shape. It has also been rumored that the line, if it is built, will be extended to UPorctor.

TWO SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICS

Slight Accident at Asbury Picnic at Donald's Grove.

While enjoying himself with a number of other young people at the annual picnic of the Asbury M. E. church Sunday school of West Duluth, which was held yesterday at Donald's Grove, near Smithville, Albert Meldahl, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Meldahl of 305 South Sixty-third avenue west, badly sprained his ankle and had to be taken home.

One of the bones in his ankle was broken, and he will not be able to walk on the foot for a few weeks. This was the only accident to mar the pleasure of the children yesterday at the picnic. It is estimated that about 200 attended. Picnic lunches were taken, and after they were served a program of sports was carried out.

At Lester park the Sunday school children of the Westminster Presbyterian church held their annual picnic. The following received prizes in the athletic events:

Boys under 6 years, 50-foot race—Ralph Sulcove, first; Glen Fraleigh, second. Seventy-five-foot race, boys from 6 to 9—Alfred Tiber, first; George Lundberg, second. Seventy-five-foot race, girl from 6 to 9—Helen Grandmaitre, first; Myrtle Simons, second. One hundred-foot race, boys 9 to 12—Wilfred Tifer, first; Arthur Anderson, second. One hundred-foot race for girl 9 to 12—Valerie Boutin, first; Margaret Lunding, second.

In the young ladies' race, Miss Cora Sorenson came out ahead, and Mrs. Moore and Mrs. C. A. Van Order were the leaders in the matrons' race.

Rev. Gerrett Van Puersem finished first in the race among the men, with L. A. Sulcove a close second. Miss May Dondineau won the ball-throwing contest. Miss Cora Sorenson won second in this event.

The hike was called off when the boys reached Pine City on account of the muddy roads and rainy weather. The boys took a train for St. Paul, and after spending a few days there returned to their home at West Duluth.

TO ENTERTAIN THE OFFICERS

President and Secretary of Letter Carriers' Association Coming Tuesday.

President William E. Kelly of the National Letter Carriers' association, together with E. J. Cantwell, secretary of the same organization, will arrive in the city Tuesday on the steamer North West on their way to attend the eighteenth biennial convention of the association, which this year takes place in St. Paul, beginning Aug. 30 and continuing throughout the week.

Mr. Kelly's home is in Brooklyn, N. Y., and the home of Mr. Cantwell is in Washington, D. C. Mr. Cantwell is editor of the Postal Record.

A meeting is being arranged by the Duluth and Superior carriers at which the men prominent in the affairs of the association will be invited to speak. A drive around the boulevard is also being arranged for the visitors.

On Monday morning the Duluth delegation, sixty-five strong, will leave on a special train for St. Paul, where they will attend the sessions on the first day of the convention. The train will pick up thirty Superior carriers at that place, making quite a delegation from the Head of the Lakes. The majority will return the same evening. GAMBOLIERS DROPPING IN

They Will Gambol Some on the Green for Two Days.

Fred B. Lyons, First President of Order, First to Arrive.

Fred B. Lyons, the first president of the Get-as-Much-Business-as-You-Can club, now named the Gambol-On-the-Green club, is the first of the railroad men who are coming to the Head of the Lakes for the gathering of Friday and Saturday to arrive. Mr. Lyons got in this morning. He states that there will be a large crowd of Northwestern railway men up for the annual meeting of the club.

Some of the advance guard will be here this evening. The majority of the Knights of the Rail will not get in until tomorrow afternoon. There is a big delegation coming from the Twin Cities, and the local officers of the association have completed all details for their entertainment.

Tomorrow will be devoted to general sightseeing and meeting of friends. Probably some of the railway men will journey over to Superior—railway men do peculiar things at times. Tomorrow evening at the Spalding the regular business meeting of the club will be held. The election of officers for the ensuing year will take place at the meeting Friday evening.

Saturday will be the big day among the Gambol members. The chartered steamer will leave the dock at the foot of Fifth avenue at 9 o'clock in the morning. It will go to Fond du Lac, where the big feed and frolic of the Gamboleers will be held. President Adson says same elaborate surprises have been prepared for the outing up the river.

Saturday evening the "time" of the club members will wind up. There will be several things doing around town for the boys of the rail. Many familiar faces to the railroad world, will be here tomorrow.

TEN HURT WHEN BRIDGE FALLS

Chicago Crowd Has a Bad Tumble at Twelfth Street Structure.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Ten persons were injured seriously and twenty others had narrow escapes last night when 250 feet of the Twelfth street bridge over the river and viaduct collapsed. It was thought at first that several had been killed, but workmen delving in the ruins found no bodies.

The bridge was closed on its west approach for construction work on the railroad viaduct underneath. The accident occurred just after a street car had run part way across the bridge and thirty passengers had alighted to walk over the dangerous portion to get on another car. The passengers were hurrying along in a group, when there was a loud rumbling and a crash, and the footway sank beneath them, carrying many of them to the pits below.

Many others escaped by clinging to side timbers. These, with the car crews, began the work of rescue and most of the injured were taken out before the police ambulances came. Several were found with legs and arms broken and internal injuries. Traffic on the railroads was delayed for an hour by the accident.

IS SHOT TWICE BY YOUNG WOMAN

Railroad Youth May Die of Wounds---Accused By Assailant.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 19.—Richard D. Watson, 24 years old, cashier of the Central of Georgia railroad, was shot and fatally wounded in his office here by Miss Elvira Todd, aged 22. Six shots were fired at Watson from a 32-caliber revolver, three of which entered the body, one just above the heart.

The shooting caused considerable excitement and the police were compelled to break down the door to capture the young woman.

Watson was taken to the city hospital, where it was said his death was a matter of but a few hours.

In her statement to the police, Miss Todd accused Watson of causing her downfall and declared he was on the point of deserting her.

CONCEDE HENEY THE NOMINATION

Opponents' Success in Primaries Reversed By Later Returns.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 19.—Hopes of having beaten Francis J. Heney in the primary election, which amounted to certainty yesterday when the first returns from the first primary election ever held here were received, were turned to nothing last night and today on the reading of later figures from other precincts. This morning, with a few scattered votes yet to be counted, the nomination of Heney for district attorney on the Democratic ticket was conceded by his opponents. The nomination is out of the ordinary, through the fact that Mr. Heney's name was not printed on any of the tickets given to voters, but was written in by the voters themselves. His opponent, on the Republican ticket, will be Charles M. Fickert.

CLERKS PICNIC WAS VERY FINE

Outing of Employes of Grand Rapids Stores Very Successful.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first annual picnic Tuesday of the Grand Rapids Retail Clerks' Athletic association at Lake Pokegama was a success in every particular. Grand Rapids was about deserted.

About 1,500 people were present, many coming from Cohasset, Deer River, Feeley, Floodwood, Bovey and Coleraine.

In the morning while the crowd was assembling the band rendered one of their delightful concerts at the Ogema hotel. At noon the picnickers took their lunches into the beautiful maple grove at the rear of the hotel.

Then came the ball game between the clerks of the north and south sides. The north side clerks won 11 to 8. After the clerks' game the band's team challenged a team picked from both of the clerks' teams, and a five-inning game was played. The score resulted 3 to 4 in favor of the band.

In the meantime, the steamer Undine from Cohasset had arrived and many took advantage of the opportunity for an excursion around the lake and to Cohasset.

After the ball game the races were pulled off. In the five-mile race M. Mulvihill, Roy Blood, Ben McLane and S. Dizzy entered. The run was made from the hotel to the schoolhouse, and finished with several laps around a track at the hotel. An automobile followed the racers to see that all the conditions of the race were compiled with on the road. The time made was 24½ minutes, Mulvihill coming in first, with Blood not far behind. Dizzy was third and McLane forth. In the clerks' interstore 100-yard dash, H. McLachlan represented Hughes & Co., S. McLachlan Beckfelt's, and Mark Latta and Manley Romans O'Donnells'. None of the other stores entered. S. McLachlan came in first, with his brother a close second. In the 50-yard free-for-all, Lester Lofberg took first, S. McLachlan second and H. McLachlan third.

After supper the band and as many as the steamer could accommodate went out on the lake for an excursion around the islands. The band rendered a delightful concert, and the music attracted a large number of gasoline launch owners, who accompanied the excursion with their craft.

In the evening the dance in the hotel attracted a great many and the dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

LAW-BREAKERS PUNISHED.

Bovey Saloon Keepers Get All That Is Coming After Being Tried.

Bovey, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several local saloon keepers caught in the raid instituted Saturday night by Rev. S. W. Hill were tried yesterday.

They were arraigned before Judge Prescott of Bovey, but several of the accused men asked for a change of venue and were tried before Judge Wiley of Coleraine.

Pogue of Feeley, who had the contract for the Blackberry-Feeley county road, who was here Tuesday attending a meeting of the county board, reported that the new road was completed Friday last, and that now the road may be traveled the entire distance without any inconvenience.

This road was the last link connecting Grand Rapids with Feeley, the road between Blackberry and the Rapids being in fairly good shape. Now that this road is complete communication between this place and Feeley, outside of the Great Northern railroad and by wire, will be comparatively easy. At a recent meeting of the county board a contract was let for the construction of a road between Feeley and Swan River, so that when that also is completed, Grand Rapids will have a direct wagon road to Swan river.

The Home Electric Company of Eveleth and the Virginia Light & Water Company of Virginia, who were turned down, will ask for a franchise. As the Eveleth company is composed of Eveleth men, it is very possible that a franchise acceptable to both parties will be secured.

The people are also wondering just how they will get water during the winter. At present they are getting water from a surface pipe connected with the Gilbert open pit, but during the winter this is very liable to freeze. As the Steel corporation has made no definite start on the water system, it is thought that the surface pipe will be protected in some manner during the winter.

About the time of moving here he married Miss Bertha Lewis of Duluth, who survives him, together with one son, Walter, 7 years of age. William Heberlee of Ontario and George Heberlee of Cambridge, Minn., came to Hibbing in response to the message announcing the death of their brother, and accompanied Mrs. Heberlee to Duluth with the body.

MAN AND TEAM DROWN.

Get Off Road Near Buhl and Perish in Twelve Feet of Water.

Buhl, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A local man named Laaten driving a delivery wagon and his team were drowned a few nights ago near the Grand mine. The old road from Chisholm into Buhl had been obstructed at this point by a railroad grade over which the overburden being stripped is hauled away. Travelers here are compelled to leave the old road and ascend the grade and then descend to the road beyond. At the top of the grade the road diverges from its regular course. At the base of the grade over the old road the basin formed by the dam had filled with about twelve feet of water during the recent rains. Upon reaching the top of the grade, no barrier having been placed to prevent it, instead of turning, Laaten evidently drove straight ahead which plunged the team and himself off the embankment into the water, where all perished. The body and rig were discovered the next morning.

MAY DELAY TRIAL OF ST. PAUL WOMAN

Mrs. Arbogast Will Not Be Well Enough By October Term.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is strong probability that Mrs. Louis Arbogast cannot be brought to trial at the October term of the district court for the murder of her husband, a West Seventh street butcher. She is still at the city hospital and there will be no attempt to return her to the county jail until her mental condition improves.

Dr. A. B. Ancker was asked whether there was any probability of Mrs. Arbogast's mental condition improving within the next month and a half, and while he would not express a definite opinion, it was evident from his talk that he did not have much hope of the woman's taking any decided turn for the better in the near future.

Deputy Sheriff Edward Payte was asked whether any attempt will be made to return Mrs. Arbagast to the county jail. "Certainly not so long as her mental condition remains as it is," was the reply. "Dr. Ancker would not allow us to remove her from the hospital, and no demand will be made upon him. I am convinced that she would not live a week if taken from the immediate care of her physicians and locked up in the jail."

Mrs. Arbogast and her daughter Louise both have been indicted for the murder and the case of the mother is set for trial the first week in October. The program of the county attorney has been to try Mrs. Arbogast first, the trial of the daughter to follow in the event of the mother's acquittal. The authorities have followed a process of elimination in investigating the murder, and the plan was to continue this at the trials of mother and daughter.

The Electric Construction Company of St. Paul secured the contract for the improvement, the bid being $28,169.60, and the work is to be completed in ninety days.

It was impossible to obtain a confirmation of the rumor today, but the scource lends a semblance of fact to the story.

The prisoner is 6 feet tall and weighs about 180 pounds. He needed money all right, for when he was searched at police headquarters not a cent was found upon his person.

THE CITY FOREST OF POLES.

As a result of the interesting test case brought by the Zenith Telephone company to restrain the city from cutting down some of its poles which remain erect in defiance of law and public sentiment, it is judicially determined, by the decision of Judge Dibell announced in last evening's Herald, that the city has a right to cut down poles remaining on the streets under such circumstances.

This is good to know, and it equips the city with all the power it needs. However, it probably will not be necessary to resort to heroic methods; at least it ought not to be necessary.

There isn't the slightest bit of doubt about public sentiment in this matter, or about what ought to be done. The city doesn't want a single pole above ground that isn't absolutely necessary. They are disfiguring, they and their wires get in the way of the fire department, and they obstruct the view. Underground conduits are infinitely better in every way. The city isn't going to be unduly and unfairly precipitate about compelling the wire-using companies to put their wires under ground; it has been anything but that. It has been, on the contrary, strangely patient. But the companies should remember that though the public patience is hard to wear out, it is not indestructible. They should beware how they tax it, or they may see an end of it that will result uncomfortably for them. Their proper attitude will be one of prompt compliance, for they will not be hurried unfairly so long as they show a disposition to be reasonable and decent about it. But the poles and overhead wires must go, and the quicker the better.

PATRONIZE THE CITY MARKET.

The city market at the Armory will be open Saturday, and home grown products can be bought there Wednesdays and Saturdays for about six weeks. Not only because Duluth needs to encourage this industry, but because the freshest and best of garden stuffs can be had there, the market should be liberally patronized.

THE ST. LOUIS COUNTY FAIR.

Duluth used to hold a St. Louis county fair, and at times with great success. Then it was discovered that fairs couldn't be made to pay without racing attractions, and presently the exposition features were neglected until the county fairs became little more than race meets.

Next, very properly since Duluth wasn't taking good care of it, Hibbing stepped in and took it away. It was regretted that the county seat was deprived of the fair, but since the county seat wasn't doing its duty in the matter no criticism could be made of Hibbing for coming to the rescue. So Duluth and The Herald wished Hibbing well, and gave its county fair good wishes if not much patronage.

Now, however, it is to be feared that the Hibbing county fair has gone the way of the Duluth county fair. At any rate, we find the Hibbing Tribune talking like this: "What can be the matter with the county fair association? The fair season is but a little more than a month off, and yet there has been no advertising sent out for this year's fair and as far as the Tribune can learn the matter is at a standstill. This is a busy season and more than likely the gentlemen upon whom rests the responsibility for getting the fair under way are too much engaged in other affairs to give this work the necessary attention. In that case perhaps they will see the advisability of relinquishing their authority to others who are in a better position to go on with the work, if such men can be found. In getting the county fair away from Duluth, Hibbing scored a great victory; in obtaining a long lease from the state of the splendid grounds the association was most fortunate. The farmers have shown a lively interest in the exhibits and the citizens have patronized the fair very well. The village has lent its aid substantially by contributing several thousand dollars for the improvement of the grounds. Surely, then, to give it up now would be a grave mistake. The Tribune has no desire to criticise, but it cannot watch the demise of an enterprise so useful to the prosperity of the village without entering a mild protest."

The Hibbing Tribune does well to protest, and if its first mild protest accomplishes no result, it should protest again, and yet more vigorously.

The Herald has no desire to criticise, either. It speaks in no spirit of glee over the fact that Hibbing seems to have failed as Duluth failed before it. But the county fair is important; not alone to Hibbing and to Duluth, but to all the county. It is a stimulus to agricultural enterprise, and there is nothing the county needs more than that. Somewhere in this county, either at Hibbing or Duluth, there should be a live county fair that will be truly representative of the industries and prosperity of the county; and it ought to be a regular and a permanent institution. It is not for the glory and profit of the town in which it is held; it is for the advancement and development of the whole county; and if there is danger that the institution is to perish altogether it is time that men of energy and initiative who have the county's interests at heart were taking it up in earnest and with vigor.

Perhaps a suggestion that if Hibbing fails Duluth will try it again will serve to galvanize the Hibbing society into activity.

HENEY'S NOMINATION.

San Francisco has no occasion to plume herself upon the nomination of Francis J. Heney for district attorney. The narrow shave by which he received the Democratic nomination does not indicate the wholesome interest in the cleaning process in which Heney is engaged that the people of that sin-scarred city ought to have. Nearly all day yesterday it seemed that Heney had been defeated at the primaries, and as the election was under the direct nomination system, by which the people pick their candidates, it would have been a mighty poor commentary upon the public spirit of San Francisco had he been beaten. It is no great credit to the city that he should have been nominated by so slender a vote.

Further than this result shows, we don't know what the people of San Francisco think about it; but unless public sentiment is misread, people everywhere else want Heney to keep right on until he gets the last one of the "higher up" grafters landed behind the bars. San Francisco is sadly in need of a civic cleaning up, and that is about the only way to make it effective. Had Heney been beaten vice would have been triumphant, criminal greed in glee, and justice would have been prostrate in shame.

PHYSICAL FITNESS AND MATRIMONY.

The state of Washington is undertaking to improve itself by a stricter regulation of marriages, and a very interesting law, adopted by the last legislature, has lately gone into effect.

It requires that all applicants for marriage licenses shall submit to medical examination as to their physical fitness before being granted licenses to marry.

There is much to be said for such a law, even though it clearly does not cover the field or even attempt a complete solution of the problems of marriage and divorce. There is sound public policy in restricting marriage to those fit to bear children. Minnesota refuses licenses to those who are epileptic, imbecile or insane, but the law provides for no physical examination. Applicants are asked to swear that neither of the contracting parties is afflicted in a way covered by the law, but naturally few people will admit imbecility or insanity, even though they might be willing to acknowledge the existence of epilepsy.

While physical deficiency is a part of the marriage problem, and a very proper part for the law to interest itself in, it is by no means the whole problem. It is, indeed, but a very small part of it. It is quite possible to imagine a pair of young people, both in perfect health physically but so ill-mated as to make marital infelicity a certain outcome of the union. What is the law to do in the case like that? Probably nothing, except to provide a divorce court in which the mistake can be partially rectified. Very likely Howard Gould and Katherine Clemmons could have passed a physical examination with flying colors, yet they and the country would have been much better off if they had never seen each other.

The best remedy for foolish marriages is a little more thought before entering upon an experiment so important to the two people chiefly concerned, not to speak of its importance to society. That proper consideration the law can hardly enforce, though it can do something by making it a little harder to get married than it is in the states where not even a license is required. The law can deftly provide that a decent interval shall elapse between the decision to marry and the marriage itself, and this it should do. A very large proportion of the marriages that culminate in the divorce courts—how large a proportion one can only guess—were arranged on the spur of a thoughtless moment and completed before either party had time for sober thought. When Wisconsin required no marriage license hundreds of Duluth couples used to decide to get married much as they would decide to go to a play, and slip immediately over to Superior and hunt up a minister or justice. There was a very significant relationship between this fact and the fact that more than half the divorces granted in Duluth in those days grew out of marriages contracted in Superior.

The experiment of physical examination is interesting, and beyond doubt the time will come when society will concern itself sufficiently in marriage to adopt the plan generally; but it falls far short of settling the marriage problem, and has but little relation to the divorce problem.

THE WRONG DOSE.

Just in one day's news, here are three stories of a very common kind, but all calculated to make somebody in the average household do a little wholesome thinking:

A St. Paul man reached in the dark for a dose of Epsom salts, and discovered after he had swallowed it that he had taken his medicine from a package of oxalic acid, a deadly poison. Quickness and presence of mind saved his life, but it was in deadly peril for a time and he was dreadfully ill.

A Menominee, Mich., man, returning from a ball game, took a dose of what he thought was quinine. It turned out to be strychnine, and he died in terrible agony.

A St. Cloud woman dissolved two headache tablets in a glass of water and swallowed the mixture, to find that she had taken corrosive sublimate by mistake. Her life was saved, but it was a narrow squeak.

The average household medicine cabinet is as dangerous as a box of rattlesnakes. Innocent nostrums for colds and headaches stand side by side with dangerous poisons. One reaching in the dark for a needed mixture is quite likely to take down a poison instead, and many lives and a vast amount of sickness and suffering go to pay the penalty for carelessness every day of the year.

Ordinary care, however, could be made to prevent all this. The poisons ought to be in a place by themselves, locked and guarded and padlocked and barred. If necessary, every bottle of poison should have a burglar alarm attached to it, so that the sufferer seeking relief from some trifling ill would be warned if he put his hand upon the wrong bottle. There is no brand of carelessness more culpable than that which allows deadly poisons a place on the same shelf with household remedies. It isn't necessary, usually, to have poisons in the house at all; but if it is necessary it is the easiest thing in the world to keep them where they will not be mistaken for harmless remedies.

The point is that all of the cases mentioned above, as well as thousands of others just like them, are due to plain carelessness which amounts to criminal negligence. There is carelessness on the part of the person that leaves poison on the same shelf or in the same cabinet as the household remedies; and there is carelessness on the part of the person who takes a dose without closely scrutinizing the label on the bottle. There have been cases where poison has been put into a bottle with an innocent label, but that isn't carelessness or stupidity; it is insanity or idiocy at the best.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about live topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. THE VALUE OF STREET SIGNS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have been interested in your article in the Aug. 11 issue of The Herald on page 13, entitled "The Days of the Overhead Street Signs Are Numbered." Possibly you will not object to obtaining the views of one who is admittedly more or less prejudiced on the other side, but whose convictions are backed up by an interested observation of a more or less extended period.

The general attitude of cities in the United States towards the electric sign is to encourage it as a desirable form of commercial advertising within reasonable restrictions. Within the past five or six years a very large number of cities large and small have given intelligent consideration to the matter and in a great majority of instances have been passed permitting and encouraging the installation of electric signs. Noticeable among these are the ordinances in Chicago, New York, Cincinnati, Louisville, Detroit and Philadelphia, all of which have been passed within the last five or six years.

There is no question but what the electric sign should be under municipal regulations. Illy constructed hideous signs should not be permitted. There should be a rigid inspection and a reasonable city license to provide the means for this inspection so that there should not be any danger to the public. Electric signs projecting over the public streets should be regulated as to size and a certain amount of attention should be given to good lines and simplicity so that they will not be offensive to the eye. The regulations as to size should also have for a consideration the whole number of the merchants not permitting any one merchant to put out a great affair which would shut off the view of the signs of other merchants. Finally there should be reasonable regulation providing for the steady burning of the signs during certain hours of the evening and providing for keeping them clean and attractive. The amount of free lighting which the municipality can obtain in this way is almost incalculable and the benefits to the general public would be greatly enhanced by the encouragement of electric signs.

Very truly yours,
PAUL GILCHRIST,
139 Adams Street, Chicago.

COMMISSION MAN'S REPLY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Would like to make some reply to the article in your Open Coourt, signed by B. H. S., relative to commission houses handling goods for farmers in the vicinity of Deerwood.

This man, whoever he might be, does not know what he is talking about. For his benefit I wish to state that the most of the berries shipped to Duluth from Deerwood and Bay Lake territory did not come to commission houses in Duluth, but came to two parties here, who both have their place of business in their residence.

All berries shipped to Michigan street houses are remitted for each day, or three or four times each week, so that parties shipping know all the time what they are getting, and if not satisfied they can switch to some other market. I wish to state that if the shipper got $2 per crate for his berries he got a good square deal, no matter to whom he shipped. As a matter of fact, a large percentage of those berries were sold by the consignee for $1.25 per case.

There are two reasons for this, the first being because they were not shipped to parties in the business, and the second is because they come in from Deerwood and vicinity by express, being held all night and then shipped in a hot express car instead of being shipped by refrigerator, as the Omaha railway furnishes from Eau Claire.

There the car is thoroughly iced and stands on the track ready to receive the farmers' goods as soon as he gets to town with his load. This car is re-iced and kept under refrigeration till the goods are delivered here. In this way the goods come to the market as nice as when they left. If the shippers in the Deerwood vicinity wish to get top prices for their goods they had better get busy with the railroad company and get daily refrigerator service, and then they can command top prices.

In shipping by express the berries coming from Deerwood get here anywhere from 11 o'clock to 1 o'clock, after the buyers have all made their purchases for the day, and the only thing to do is to get rid of them somewhere, at any price that you can get, for by the next morning there would be whiskers on them an inch long, and the face is so tender that it is impossible to shave them.

Eau Claire and Sparta berries get here at 6:30 each morning, as regular as clockwork, and by 7:30 almost all the grocers have bought all they want for the day.

Relative to The Herald's editorial, I wish to state that no alleged damage is ever claimed by a legitimate wholesaler unless it is so receipted for by the consignee, either by express or freight, and any shipper can make his report to the proper authorities and get the market price for his goods without one cent of cost to himself if he believes he has been fleeced. The size of it is that the producer is yelling for more money, and the consumer is yelling for the same thing—one to pay for the goods and the other for the value, or his idea of the value, of his goods. Every farmer thinks his particular mess of cucumbers is worth double what his neighbor's is across the fence.

Duluth is already injured by the very high cost of living, and yet producers are crying for help to get bigger prices, so that today a laboring man's $2 per day is worth to him about the same as $1 per day used to be. Very truly, COMMISSION MERCHANT.

He Remembered Richmond.

Philadelphia Bulletin: Thomas Nelson Page was talking in the smokeroom of the Amerika about the old fashioned bad men of the West.

"They are extinct now," said Mr. Page, "and I am sorry. They were, you know, so picturesque. I remember a western trip:—

He laughed heartily.

"We were all seated in the barroom of Tin Can or Dead Cur—some such town. I was the only tenderfoot present. Every man about me bristled with guns and knives like an enraged porcupine. If I refused to drink, I was given to understand, I would be turned into a human pincushion or worse.

"Well, as I sipped a friendly glass of something resembling wood alcohol, a very bad man indeed rode on a prancing mustang right into the barroom. He drew up and had a drink. Then, spying me, he said:

"'Whar ye from, stranger?'

"'Richmond,' said I.

"'Not good old Richmond, Virginia?' he exclaimed.

"'Yes,' said I; 'do you know it?'

"'Know it?' he shouted. 'Know it? Best jail I ever was in!'"

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: The reason the average person thinks he knows so much is he knows so little.

A girl can hardly ever learn to like a man that she can't teach to be jealous.

A man can spend pretty much his whole life learning that the thing he thought he wanted wasn't it.

Even if a girl knows better than to marry a man she knows better than to run the risk of not getting married at all.

The average man would rather play the fool at something anybody else could do better than do what he really can.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday's beautiful summer day was followed by another today; Weather like this makes Duluthians glad they chose the Head of the Lakes for their home, and arouses a feeling of pity from those who are suffering from heat in other parts of the country.

The sun rose this morning at 5:10 and will set this afternoon at 7:13, making fourteen hours and three minutes of sunlight.

The weather a year ago was clear and cool.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures ranging from 90 degs. to 100 degs. or more prevailed again in Gulf states during Wednesday, but the weather is slightly cooler this morning over Oklahoma and Arkansas. Some rain fell over Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Vermont, otherwise fair weather was the rule throughout the United States and Canada during the past twenty-four hours. The barometer remains low off the New England coast. Another disturbance is developing over British Columbia which is causing very warm weather over Oregon and Washington. A high pressure area central over Saskatchewan is attended by cooler temperatures in that province. A continuation of fine weather is indicated for St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

Judge: A cook informed her Boston mistress that she was apt to be married. The mistress was genuinely sorry, as the woman is a good cook and steady. Time passed, however, without further word of leaving, though the happy-man-to-be was a frequent caller in the kitchen. The other day the mistress was moved by curiosity to ask:

"When are you to be married, Nora?"

"Indade, an' it's niver at all, I'll be thinkin', mum," was the sad reply.

"Really? What is the trouble?"

"'Tis this, mum, I won't marry Mike when he's drunk, an' when he's sober he won't marry me!"

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Winona Independent: "The steel trust is pleased with the new tariff," says a Washington dispatch. But why single out the steel trust? Is there any trust that is not pleased?

Red Wing Republican: As a clubman Mr. Taft may be very agreeable. But as a man to use a club—spiked—the president is not the same howling success as his predecessor.

Sandstone Courier: At the last election, Minnesota cleaned out all of its Cannon figureheads, except one, and his district is already erecting his guillotine. These insurgents may not get any of the plums from Cannon's table, but it is acknowledged that this is his last term as speaker, and they can rest assured that their labors have been very fruitful and for the best interests of the country.

Aitkin Republican: Congressman Miller was dissatisfied with the conference report on the tariff bill and voted against it. In this the congressman is in line with his constituents.

St. Cloud Times: Some fool Republican papers are talking of the way President Taft outgeneralled Senator Aldrich in the final frame up of the new tariff bill. That might be funny if it wasn't silly. If Taft did succeed in whittling down half a dozen schedules you can bet your bottom dollar that Senator Aldrich had screwed up so high before it reached the president that a little reduction left it in a safe notch for the interests that Aldrich is serving.

Walker Pilot: About every editor in the country knows that the new pennies bearing the inscription of Abraham Lincoln are put, but ask anyone of them whose picture it is that decorates a $10 gold piece and he will get embarrassed.

Paynesville Press: President Taft seems to have made an excellent selection when he appointed Judge Elliott of the Philippin bench. If half the reports concerning his financial transactions are true he would have done still better had he transferred Mr. Elliott to Northern Alaska.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: Free hides doesn't mean cheaper shoes. It only enables the manufacturer to get his new material cheaper and make a larger profit. What the people wanted was a lower tariff on manufactured leather good.

But she wouldn't know beans if she

She can swim like a fish, she can race

She can tell you the very last caper in

At the running broad jump she defies all the world,
She has medals to show how the hammier was hurled,
She can tinker an auto—electric or

But she can't sew a button or run up

She can manage a farm and can free

She can toss off a toddy and puff

She can ride like a man on a horse all

But she opens a can when she makes

And she makes a great speech on the

She's a civic uplifter, and councilmen's

She dissects the new drama and lectures on art—
But she don't know the rules for a

And there's rapturous joy in his words and his look
While he learns how to sew and to scrub and to cook.

Government By Commission.

Outlook: Kansas City, with a population of 110,000, voted July 14 to adopt the commission form of government after having only a year before voted against it. That city for years has been misgoverned under the ward system, and it had reached the point where bankruptcy was becoming a possibility, with the city running behind its revenues at the rate of $100,000 a year.

Colorado Springs, Colo., has lately had its first election for officers under a new charter which lodges the municipal government in a board of five commissioners. The charter, which was adopted by a vote of 3,000 to 200, is in several respects a distinct advance over the earlier forms of commission government as adopted in Galveston, Houston and other Texas cities.

Des Moines, which has now been under commission government for a little more than one year shows by its annual report a highly efficient administration with a saving to the taxpayers of approximately $250,000 in reduced expenses, with better service and better paid employes than ever were known under the old form of government.

The same good showing has been made in Leavenworth, Wichita and Independence, Kan., all of which are operating under commission government, Missouri statutes make no provision for municipal government in cities, but the last legislature granted to St. Joseph, a city of 125,000 people a new charter which contains many of the features of the commission form.

The Inquiry Pertinent.

Portland Express: A Chicago reformer asks, "Why do men lie to their wives?" For information, we should like to ask, "How can men lie to their wives?"

The Revision Mockery.

La Follette's Weekly: The kind of revision demanded, promised, accepted, voted for and decreed at the polls has not been even partially complied with. Insofar as the price of any article of common use is affected by the rates fixed in the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, the cost will be increased to the consumer. Mark this statement. The character of this legislation is not to be determined by anything which the president or the Tory senators or the progressive senators may say of it now. Its character, its influence for good or evil was fixed the moment it received the executive signature and became a law. The American people will estimate it mainly by its influence upon the cost of living. It was not required as a stimulus to increase manufacturing. It was not enacted primarily to secure the Philippine concessions, the corporation tax or the customs court. These were mere incidents to the main legislative purpose. The great object of the extraordinary session which has just closed was a revision of the tariff downward upon the necessaries of life, sufficiently to reduce the cost of living. The legislation will be judged by its effect upon the bills which the American consumer pays month by month.

Motor Cars and the Roads.

Harper's Weekly: While persons using automobiles are by no means the most important in the community, the fact that their sharp interest has focussed the attention of the public on the movement (for good roads) entitles them to credit.—President Taft.

To be sure, and nobody will grudge them credit. What there is some current disposition to grudge them is the roads. They use them up so fast! A well-built macadamized road that gets heavy automobiles traffic loses its surface so quickly as to discourage its local makers. Consider the main roads leading to New York in the states of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. The wear of automobiles on them is very severe, but the roads are maintained largely by the towns they run through, in which only a fraction of the autos that use the roads are owned. Moreover, the roads are maintained by taxpayers, and used up chiefly by motorists, who still comprise only a small percentage of the population. The gist of the situation is that the motorists just now are taking much more out of the roads than they put in. The fault does not lie in their unwillingness to pay for their use of roads, but in the absence of means to assess upon them what they fairly owe and collect it. Toll gates would supply such a means, but, being rid of them, we are not likely to let them come back again. What we will have, and are getting already, is increased participation of the state in road-making. The state can afford to build roads for the motorist where local communities cannot, and it is in a much better position to make the motorists pay for what they get than the townships are. The motor has changed the relation of the local taxpayer to his roads. Once he maintained them chiefly for local use by local teams. Now he maintains those of them that are main highways largely for the use of machines that easily and often run a hundred, or even two and three hundred, miles in a day. There must be a change of method to correspond with this change in relation. The burden of maintaining the roads which the motorists use must fall chiefly on the states.

Wages and Families.

Lincoln State Journal: In pressing for higher wages the Chicago street car employes thought they were fighting the battle of the home. On the wages paid the bachelor motorman could not afford to marry, the married motorman could not afford children. The perpetuation of society depended on an increase in wages.

The increase is granted and a strike averted. The perpetuation of the race is assured? Well, hardly. Nobody who has seen his own income increase is innocent enough to believe that the increased wages of the Chicago motormen will be invested in wives and children. If that were to be true, celibacy and race suicide would be found among the poorest, where, in fact, they are least known.

The Chicago motormen will find that while they are better off than before, they are still poor compared with those who set the social pace. The extra pennies buy somewhat extra, but by no means all things purchaseable for their comfort and pleasure. Except as they were below the level of bare physical comfort before they will be in fact no better able to support families than before. Their standard of living has merely taken another rise. Yesterday's luxuries are today's necessaries. The motormen get about $1,000 a year. The hardest pressed class in the country comprises those with incomes of $2,000 to $3,500 a year, those just emerging into the automobile and soiree level of society.

In the cities, where properly reared families are an economic burden, only two classes can be depended upon to perpetuate themselves. These are the very small group of philosophers whose standard of living is not set by richer folk; and the large group of hopelessly poor. Needless to say this does not argue that motormen's wages should be held down to the "hopelessly poor" point. It does argue the need of more philosophers, perhaps.

GLOWING REPORT MADE BY THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Washington, Aug. 19.—During the last twelve years, the period covering the administration of Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, the agricultura balance of trade in the United States increased from a yearly average of $234,000,000 to $411,000,000, or 75.7 per cent, according to the department's year-book just made public.

This wonderful development is only in keeping with the progress that has been made along all lines of agricultural activity. At the same time, it is stated, many conditions affecting the lives of the farmers of the country have advanced in even greater ratio until many of the undesirable features of farm life have been eliminated.

"So increasingly disposed has the public been to ask and receive the aid of the department, and so large have been the new fields of work assigned to it by congress," says Mr. Wilson in a resume of his work, "that the number of employes has increased enormously. On July 1, 1897, 2,444 persons were employed and eleven years later, in 1908, the number was 10,420, or over four times as many."

Has Needed More Help.

Among the notable increases were: In the bureau of animal industry from 777 to 2,352 employes, in the forest service from 14 to 3,753, in the bureau of chemistry from 20 to 325, and in the bureau of plant industry from 127 to 970. Most of the additional workers in these bureaus are employed outside of Washington, there being 2,488 within and 7,392 outside the city.

Many have been the innovations introduced and developed into potential forces for the betterment of farm life during this period, says Mr. Wilson. The entire system by which the work of the agricultural department has been operated, has been changed. Never before has the work of state agricultural colleges and experimental stations been so intimately related with the department as now.

During these twelve years there has been a great diversification and geographical extension of products, apart from the cultivation of new land. Also there has been a decreasing production per acre of what was only recently virgin soil, there was an increased production per bushel per acre of the entire country.

Increases in Production.

Within ten years the production of corn per acre in Ohio increased 17.5 per cent; oats increased 17.9 per cent in Indiana; wheat increased 16.2 per cent in New York and 45.9 per cent in Nebraska. Similar advancement was made in the yield per acre of other products.

Farmers are already demonstrating, in the cases of various crops and of various states, Mr. Wilson says, that they can provide for a population increasing faster than by increase due to excess of births over deaths.

From 1895 to 1906, he says, farm wages increased faster than did prices. In the matter of wage increase, the farm laborer has fared better than the working man employed in manufacturing and mechanical industries.

"The farmer," says the secretary, "as a result of information, intelligence and industry has thrived mightily. The progress that has been made is in the direction leading to popular and national welfare, to the sustenance of any future population, as well as to a larger efficiency of the farmer in matters of wealth-production and saving, and in providing himself and his family with more pleasant ways of living."

AUTO SENDS MAN FLYING

Runaway Machine Sends Him Through Minneapolis Store Window.

Dairy Farmhand Fatally Injured By Machine Near Mill City.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 19.—One man caught up from a crowd of pedestrians on Nicollet avenue yesterday and pitched through a plate glass window, and another killed Tuesday night, the evidence pointing to a speeding car on a lonely road, was Minneapolis' automobile record for twenty-four hours. In addition, a professional chauffeur yesterday began a workhouse sentence for speeding.

Shooting across Nicollet avenue like a meteor, a big red touring car, without a driver, plunged about noon yesterday over the sidewalk and hurled P. G. Peterson of Kensington, Minn., through the big plate glass window of Pearce's store, 403-407 Nicollet avenue. Mr. Peterson was severely cut about the head and body.

The accident was one of the most remarkable in the annals of Minneapolis automobiledom. Nobody knows how the car started, or why it started. No one was in it at the moment it left its quiet stand in the street and tore like a thing of life across the sidewalk, scattering pedestrians and bringing up with a crash that echoed through the block. One man ran out and yelled "Whoa! Whoa!"

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were among the sidewalk crowds. Both were looking into the shop windows. At the sudden commotion, Mrs. Peterson started back, but the husband ran forward, only to be caught by the charging car and pitched into the deluge of falling glass.

Fred Staley, a dairy farm hand, was found dead at 4 a. m. yesterday in the automobile track on Superior boulevard, two miles from the city limits. His head was crushed to a pulp under the wheels of what must have been a heavy automobile, the driver and occupants of which fled and are unknown. The accident is believed to have happened about midnight.

Blood was spattered over the road, suggesting that possibly more than one auto wheel rolled over the man's body. His head was lying directly in the auto track and his feet at the side of the path.

Sheriff Otto Langum investigated the fatality and has hit upon clues which indicate that Staley was hit upon the head and roobed and his body thrown into the auto track to cover up the crime. He had $15 during the day and less than an hour before he is thought to have met his death, he had a $5 bill changed. But 26 cents was found on his person by Coroner Seashore.

Cholera Infantum Cured.

"Something like two years ago my baby, which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and purging profusely, writes J. F. Dempsey of Dempsey, Ala. I did what I could to relieve her but did her no good, and being very much alarmed about her went for a physician, but failed to find one, so came back by Elder Bros. & Carter's store and Mr. Elder recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. I procured a bottle of it, went home as quickly as possible and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It relieved her in fifteen minutes and soon cured her entirely." For sale by all druggists.

MAKES ROPE TO HANG HIMSELF

Prisoner in Ashland Jail Ends His Life in Bastile.

Ashland, Wis., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tearing one of his blankets into strips, which he wound together into a rope, John Martinson, who had been locked up in the city jail last night by Officer Eklo for sleeping on the sidewalk in front of a saloon, hanged himself. He was found dead about 10 p. m., suspended by the rope, one end of which he had fastened to the top of the cell door and the other around his neck. His feet were on the floor, and he must have deliberately hung himself, when at any moment he could have saved his life by simply straightening himself up. The body was turned over to Coroner Sollie, who will investigate today.

A few months ago Martinson applied for a berth at the poor farm, claiming to have been relieved of the few dollars that he possessed, while sleeping off the effects of the previous day's potations. He was sent to the poor farm, and returning to the city, was employed for a few weeks at one of the local hospitals.

TAFT PLANNING NEXT MESSAGE

Interstate Commerce and the Sherman Law May Get Attention.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 19.—Attorney General Wickersham is coming to see the president Friday concerning some pardon cases, and also to go over a few of the preliminaries in the plan for the reorganization of the duties of the Interstate commerce commission, the amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law and bringing of interstate corporations more definitely under the control of the government. Mr. Wickersham has given much study to these subjects, which will be the principal recommendations in the president's message to congress next December.

According to Mr. Taft's view, the machinery to enforce the laws on the statute books is now inadequate. He believes that the interstate commerce commission is so overcrowded with work that the long delays incident to its investigations and decisions under existing conditions work a hardship to the railroads and the complainants with grievances. He believes that the commission ought to be relieved of its jurisdiction as an executive directing body, and that its functions should be limited to the quasi-judicial investigation of complaints made by individuals and by a department of government charged with the executive business of supervision.

Would Amend Sherman Law.

The president also believes that under the Sherman anti-trust law, as it stands today, there is much to interfere with legitimate business. He has been urged by many of his advisers to recommend its repeal in toto. But the president believes there is enough good in the statute to offset any hardships it may occasion, and by amendment can be made an effective and just instrument.

To bring about a coalition of the law departments of the various government departments, which have to deal with railroads and other interstate corporations and "trusts," so as to permit of quick and decisive action in cases of offense against the statutes, is another of the tasks to which the president has set himself.

Reports which are reaching Beverly daily from Washington and New York that the constitutionality of the new corporation tax is to be tested just as soon as an effort is made to collect it, have not disturbed the president in the least. The tests and protests, the president declares, were all anticipated, and no threats of the corporation lawyers now cause the chief executive any alarm.

Not Worrying Over Tax.

Mr. Taft is thoroughly convinced that the tax will stand any test. Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Root, who collaborated on the corporation tax, believe the measure as enacted will survive any attempt to nullify it.

THAW TAKEN BACK TO THE ASYLUM

Says That He Is Convinced That Judge Mills Was Mistaken.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Harry K. Thaw was taken from the Westchester county jail back to his old quarters in the Matteawan asylum yesterday afternoon. He bade goodbye to his mother in the reception room of the jail, waved good-bye to some of the jail attendants, and, accompanied by William H. Moore, one of the personal employes, left the jail in custody of Dr. Baker and two attaches from the asylum. Thaw carried his belongings in a suitcase and appeared to be fairly cheerful. His mother bore up well. She will move to Matteawan on Friday to resume her residence near the asylum.

Before departing Thaw made the following statement:

"I don't question Justice Mills' honesty, but surely his opinion is not as good as that of Dr. Adolph Meyer or Dr. Schmid and all the other alienists who examined me, or the judges or laymen who know me well.

Says Judge Was Wrong.

"The Judge was wrong in relying upon Dr. Baker as impartial, when, out of 267 clippings, he produced 27, connected with Stanford White, mounted on pasteboard, but completely left out 240 others containing quotations from Lincoln's speeches, articles by Prof. Brashear, etc.

"I wish to express my appreciation of the respect and courtesy the judge showed my mother, but if my mother breaks down, or the bad conditions at Matteawan, surrounded by dangerous lunatics and general privation, should ruin my health, Justice Mills will be responsible for sending me there, for his decision is not supported by lawful evidence. It was hard to be acquitted by twelve men and then locked up by one. One man should not be permitted to imprison another man for life. This same judge, over a year ago, in this same court, said that he believed the time would come when Mr. Thaw should have a trial by jury.'"

CLUBS WOMAN AND THEN HANGS HIMSELF TO TREE.

New York, Aug. 19.—Angry farmers found the body of Frederick Krouse late yesterday, where he had hanged himself from a tree not far from the house of George W. Smith at Parsippany, N. J., where at day-break yesterday morning, he attacked Smith's wife with a club. She is the hospital here with a fractured skull and a broken arm.

Krouse, who is a laborer, entered the Smith home, apparently without provocation, and struck down Mrs. Smith. Her 17-year-old daughter, Margaret, jumped from a second-story window in her night clothes and gave the alarm.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF LIQUOR FRAUDS.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Julius Haymenson, who is alleged to have defrauded liquor dealers in many of the larger cities of the United States through the operations of the Consolidated Importing company, was arrested here yesterday on warrants sworn out by Post-office Inspector William Ketcham before United States Commissioner Foote. According to ths postal authorities, Haymenson sold adulterated domestic liquors in original bottles of foreign manufactures, using counterfeit labels and corks.

"BUNCOMBE."

It Don't Always Pay to Be Skeptical

When a newspaper writer and proof reader that works nights can feed himself out of dyspepsia, which most all that class suffer with, it is worth while to know the kind of food used.

This man says:

"Being a newspaper writer and proof reader, also a graduate in medicine as well, though not practicing, makes a combination that would produce a skeptic on the subject if anything would.

"Day after day I read the proof on the Grape-Nuts advertisement with the feeling that they were all 'buncombe.' All this time I was suffering from dyspepsia from the improper food I was eating at the restaurant.

"One day I saw a package of Grape-Nuts at the restaurant and tried some with good, rich cream. The food took my fancy at once. After a few lunches at midnight I noted an improvement in my feelings, and was able to work with less fatigue.

"I have used Grape-Nuts as a regular diet since then, and have improved greatly. The old dyspepsia and bad feelings that I thought were necessary adjuncts to night work all disappeared, and I am able to do much more and better work with less effort than ever before.

"I was nearly ready to give up night work and seek health in some other walk in life, but thanks to my change in diet I am now all right." "There's a Reason."

"THREE TWINS" ALL NEXT WEEK

New Scenery and Costumes This Year, Says Charles Gale.

Howard Gale, who has been in the city for the past week, ahead of "The Three Twins" company, left Duluth this morning, leaving a lot of new friends and a great many old ones behind. Mr. Gale has been in the show business for a number of years, and is one of the best known advance men in the country today.

"The Three Twins" company, which made such a hit in Duluth last season, will arrive in the city Monday, and will play all week at the Lyceum. It was here five nights last year, playing to capacity houses, and from the treatment accorded it then, Mr. Gale is of the opinion that it will easily stand a run of six days this season.

Victor Morley and Bessie Clifford, the two liveliest and most entertaining members of a very lively and entertaining company, are still with the show. All the other players are up to the high standard set by last year's aggregation, and there is an entire new outfit of costumes, as well as new and very elaborate stage settings.

Mr. Gale says if Duluth likes his show as well as he likes Duluth's weather, there will be satisfaction all around. He travels all over the country, and runs across all kinds of climate, but thinks the sample shown by Duluth while he has been here, beats anything he has seen in the summer line.

Old Newspaper Man.

William Jossey, who is this week making many new friends in his fine interpretation of the professor in "The Professor's Romance," is a one-time newspaper man, and is a member of the Chicago Press club. Mr. Jossey has done little work in the newspaper line for the past several years, being engaged as leading man in stock companies and in producing plays of his own.

The play this week is attracting large audiences. It will be given at the Lyceum every evening, with a Saturday matinee.

WILL ASK TAFT TO SAVE TAWNEY

Friends in Minnesota Realize Congressman's Fences Are Weakening.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The Times of this city printed an article stating "that President Taft will be appealed to by friends of Representative Tawney of Minnesota to do all in his power to bring about Tawney's re-election."

The article continues: "It has been known in Washington for some time that the chairman of the house committee on appropriations was in danger of being retired at the close of his present term in congress. His district has always been a close one, and Tawney has had to fight hard every two years to insure his return to Washington.

"During the closing days of the Sixtieth congress he became involved in a conflict with President Roosevelt over the activities of the secret service agents of the treasury department. The differences between the president and the chairman of the appropriations committee became so serious that ultimately the entire house became involved and the president was rebuked for sending to congress a special message which reflected upon its motives.

"Mr. Tawney had his way in the matter of the secret service and wrote into the statute books a provision limiting the activities of the detectives. Later he put out of existence a number of commissions which had been created by President Roosevelt without authority of law.

"When the tariff bill was put on its passage in the house the entire Minnesota delegation voted against it. Tawney, realizing that his failure to stand by his colleagues would but add to the antagonism fostered in his district, voted for the bill. Information reaching Washington from Tawney's home town is to the effect that he will be fortunate if he escapes defeat, and it is for this reason that President Taft will be appealed to in Tawney's behalf."

MAJ. HANSON SUED FOR A DIVORCE

Wife Alleges Cruelty and Infatuation With Another Woman.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 19.—Charging her husband, Maj. J. Fletcher Hanson, president of the Central of Georgia railroad, with cruelty and with infatuation with a Mrs. Horner, Mrs. Cora L. Hanson of Macon, Ga., has filed suit for divorce in the superior court in this city. Maj. Hanson, besides being head of the Central railroad, is a large cotton mill owner.

Mrs. Hanson in her bill alleges that her husband in 1907 paid Mrs. Horner devoted attention, notwithstanding that proceedings were pending between Mrs. Horner and her husband. She declares that she was in such fear of her husband that she often slept in the bathroom. A divorce is sought, but no alimony is asked.

YERKES ESTATE CASE IS DECIDED

Putnam Is Continued as Receiver in Spite of Objections.

New York, Aug. 19.—Harrington Putnam is continued as receiver of the estate of the late Charles T. Yerkes, in a decision filed by the United States circuit court of appeals here. The receiver was appointed in an action instituted by the Underground Electric Railway company of London, Eng., as a creditor asking administration and distribution of the estate. Appeal from his appointment was taken by Louis S. Owsley, executor of the Yerkes estate, and Mary Yerkes, the widow of the financier. This decision disallows this appeal.

The receiver was appointed on the allegation of the petitioning creditor that the executor had failed properly to realize on the Yerkes assets so that the estate was depreciating in value. In his answer to the complaint Mr. Owsley, the executor, declared that he had made a continuous effort to realize on the assets, but that as many of them had no ready market value they could not be turned into cash without a great sacrifice.

Under the receivership possession has been taken of the assets of Mr. Yerkes in this city, including the Yerkes mansion. Mrs. Yerkes, however, under the court's direction, was allowed to occupy the residence and to come and go without interference.

Deploring the mimic war game now in progress in Massachusetts as a mistake and a needless expense.

President Taft and Senator Root of New York are among the vice presidents re-elected. President Diaz of Mexico and Secretary of State Philander C. Knox are among the new vice presidents.

DR. ELIOT WRITES TO CRITIC OF "HIS RELIGION."

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 18.—Douglas Robinson, an attorney, who wrote an open letter to President Eliot criticising the views expresed in the lecture entitled "The New Religion," has received the following letter from Dr. Eliot:

"Dear Sir: My address on "The Religion of the Future' will be published in the Harvard Theological Review for October, published by Harvard university, Cambridge, Mass. I venture to think that the opinion of the lecture which you have formed on the basis of a few inaccurately reported, scattered sentences out of an address which took an hour to read, might be modified if you read the full address.

"I venture to add that I am not at the 'hold of any proud world' whatever; second, that such little part of the world as I am best acquainted with loves the 'lowly Nazarene,' and does not hate Him; third, that I have met during my life most of the sorrows which are accounted heaviest; fourth, that Jesus will be in the religion of the future, not less but more than in the Christianity of the past. Very truly yours,

"CHARLES W. ELIOT."

DAY CLERK OF RESORT SHOOTS DOWN ROBBER.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 19.—Two men yesterday made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the safe in the office of Fashionable Cliff house at Manitou. James Morrow, the day clerk, shot one of the men, Edward Clark, through the head, fatally wounding him, and received a bullet through his own clothing, but escaped injury. The robbers escaped, but were captured later.

New Testament Studies

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: AUG. 22. Acts: 19:23-20:1: The Riot at Ephesus.

By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

THE CONNECTION.

After the demonstration in confessing their dark deeds and burning the books of symbolism the city of Ephesus seemed wholly captured for Christ. Paul seems to think he can entrust the work to others and proceed with his world-embracing campaign, to go on first to Macedonia, and then to Jerusalem, with the gifts of the Gentile Christians to the suffering Jewish Christians in Judea, and then on to Rome. He sent two assistants, Erastus and Timothy, on into Europe in advance, intending to follow soon. This riot that we shall study about, hastened his going.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Gathering of the Mob. 23-28.

"And about that time there arose no small stir concerning the Way. For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, who made silver shrines of Diana, brought no little business unto the craftsmen; whom he gathered together, with the workmen of the occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this business we have our wealth. And ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they are no gods, that are made with hands; and not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the great Goddess Diana be made of no account, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence whom all Asia and the world worshippeth. And when they heard this they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians."

The disturbance that arose was worked up in an ingenious manner, and by one man. He appealed to two stirring motives, desire for gain and vulgar superstition. Demetrius was probably at the head of the business that manufactured souvenirs of Diana. They were miniatures of her temple and also the goddess herself, made of various material, the most expensive being silver. Diana was supreme over this province and these shrines were bought everywhere by great avidity, as a means of worship and as fondly as a souvenirs. We still do a thriving business in the latter line. The demand for these shrines had lessened greatly and something must be done to revive business, as well as protect their worship of Diana. The speech was as adroit as Mark Anthony's. "Gentlemen, you know that by this business we have our wealth." Then let us stop it. There stand his fellow-artisans and the commoner workmen, excited and incendiary. One more stroke will bring them to the desired frenzy, but first let him amplify and prove his proposition that business was in danger. Diana was regnant over Asia, and Paul's preaching was affecting everybody; the point of his preaching is that gods that can be made with hands are not gods at all; that the whole land is getting to scorn Diana. The two results will be that they will lose their wealth and Diana her prestige. The temple of Diana was the center of worship for all Asia. All Asia had aided in building it. Ephesus had been made the "temple sweeper," at first a menial and then an honorable position. To mercenary, civic and religious feelings the speech was addressed with the desired effect. The question was really submitted to a wild mob as judge. The speech is a fine example of the demagogue's trick. The religious feeling was more or less sincere, but the desire of the speaker for the success of his line of business was only thinly disguised. The gambler and the liquor man knows that as Christ's gospel prevails his business is in danger. It is their interest therefore that it cease to spread. Many a man is opposed to Paul and his gospel because they threaten to destroy a lucrative traffic in evil. It was a fine climax which the demagogue reached and how it affected his hearers we now learn.

II.

Paul Saved from the Mob. 29-32.

"And the city was filled with the confusion; and they rushed with one accord into the theater, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel. And when Paul was minded to enter in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not."

1. Notice their wild hatred toward him. Watch the mob. In a frenzy they rush through the streets, the artisans and workmen now joined by all who were astir, their loud shouts gradually bringing thousands more from their homes into the streets to join them.

We are first in doubt about why they picked up two of Paul's companions and attendants who happened to be in the path of their cyclonic rush for the theater, namely, Gaius and Aristarchus, who had come from somewhere in Macedonia with him. The sight of Paul's companions enraged them to the point of murder, for they probably intended to kill or torture these two men, as they could not get their hands on Paul.

2. Paul is kept from going into the theater. As soon as he heard of it he wanted to go in to quiet the mob, or, at least, to try to save his friends. Faith in Christ gives calm courage, and it was no coward's heart that could go in among the "wild beasts at Ephesus." Paul actually purposed and started to go in. How he was dissuaded from it is interesting. The chief men, or "Asiarchs," were men who, on account of wealth and prominence, were chosen to have charge of and support the festivals in the province of Asia. These men joined with the disciples in keeping Paul out, not that they were disciples, but were his personal friends. They had perceived his worth and had formed an admiration for him. They were more intelligent, and, though heathen, were above the dark superstitions of the rest of them. In Greece heathenism was some form of philosophy; here it was superstition.

They were probably afraid to face public opinion and become Christians, and a little cowardice is shown in the fact that they sent word to Paul rather than personally coming to him.

3. The howling mob's blind rage shows the nature of mobs in general, and the special peril which Paul escaped by being kept out of the theater. They were the dupes of their leaders, but were now beyond their power, and they did not know what they were there for, nor what they were yelling about.

Meantime the mob is at its best in the theater, yelling, and not knowing why they yelled. The picture is well drawn in this story with a fine line of satire here and there. The Jews were a little alarmed lest they should be classed with the Christians, and come in for a share of the punishment purposed. And the Ephesians wasted no love on them; would probably be glad to run the same sword through them. The Jews were in that crowd watching for a chance to find cause for it, and against the Christians or divert attention from themselves. At a suitable moment they put forward one of their number, Alexander, to assure them that the Jews were not involved in this misconduct of the Christians. But they made a mistake. The Jewish face was like a red rag. They put Paul and all the rest of the Jews in the same bag. Though the Jews opposed the gods of Ephesus, yet they had not been aggressive, like Paul, and had not really interfered with the trade in shrines, as he had. But those fellows were always anti-Jewish. They howled him down with their former cry, and then kept on saying the same thing for two hours. It is large wonder that the Jew and two Christians were not killed.

III.

The Mob Quieted. 35-41.

"And when the town clerk had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there who knoweth not that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter? Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash. For ye have brought hither these men, who are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our goddess. If therefore, Demetrius, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, the courts are open, and there are proconsuls: let them accuse one another. But if ye seek anything about other matters, it shall indeed be settled in the regular assembly. For indeed we are in danger to be accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause for it; and as touching it we shall not be able to give account of this concourse. And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly."

Partly because they were hoarse and weary and partly because of the town clerk's speech they stopped and dispersed. The way he did it was unique and interesting.

Note 1. His coolness. He never lost his head. That was shown in his waiting till they had worked off their surplus energy in shouting, before he attempted to pacify them. His coolness would calm and command them.

2. His skillful use of argument that appeals to their judgment and then to their feelings.

(a) He assured them that the worship of Diana was a fixed and unalterable thing, and that the whole world to a man, knew it. Therefore their fear and excitement were useless, therefore foolish. No one could question the fact that Ephesus was honored in its devotion to Diana, and that the image of the goddess, so reverently kept in its niche, had fallen down from the skies as a gift from Jupiter. Why be foolish?

(b) Further, they were acting on a false idea of these Christian men. Their fury was not only foolish, but ignorant as well. These men had not taken any of the piled up treasures from the temple of Diana, nor even spoken blasphemously of their goddess. Their statement shows that Paul had been aggressive in preaching Christ without saying much against Diana. He might have truthfully exposed the awful moral evils of the worship of Diana, but he knew he would be violating their law, and at the same time arousing needless anger and opposition. He was a wise winner of souls. The town clerk shows them their stupidity.

(c) Their stupidity is further seen in the fact that courts were open in which they could get those men properly punished if they had done anything upon which an action could be based.

(d) Besides, their stupidity is further shown in that a regular assembly could take up any such matter and settle it. This mob was not such an assembly.

(e) And the alarming thing is that they were in danger of being prosecuted for an unlawful assembly. The Roman government was severe in its laws against riots. Thus the town clerk appealed to their feeling, reacting from and tense excitement, and showed that they had been foolish, weak, stupid, selfish and unlawful.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The temple of Artemis or Diana, which glittered in brilliant beauty at the head of the harbor, was reckoned by the ancients as one of the wonders of the world. The sun, it was said, saw nothing in his course more magnificent than Diana's temple. The fanatic Herostratus set fire to it on the same night in which Alexander was born. This is one of the coincidents of history on which the ancient world was fond of dwelling, and it enables us, with more distinctness, to pursue the annals of "Diana of the Ephesians." The temple was rebuilt with new and more sumptuous magnificence. The ladies of Ephesus contributed their jewelry to the expense of the restoration. The national pride in the sanctuary was so great that when Alexander offered the spoils of his Eastern campaign if he might inscribe his name on the building this honor was declined. The Ephesians never ceased to embellish the shrine of their goddess, continually adding new decorations and subsidiary buildings, with statues and pictures by the famous artists.—Howson.

This prolonged repetition of a religious formula illustrates the Oriental tendency to attach value to much speaking in religious exercises. A good Old Testament example is the cry of the priests of Baal kept up for several hours, "Baal, hear us" (I Kings xviii:26); and modern instances are supplied by the endless repetitions of Mohammedan dervishes and Tibetan Buddhists.—W. T. Smith.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. How far may one listen to the appeal to the pocket?
2. How far may one imperil his life for his friends?
3. How far may we depend on our Christian bearing, apart from personal appeal, to win people to Christ?
4. Is mob action always wrong?
5. When does prudence become mere cowardice?
6. Is there any moment when all things do not work together for the good of one who loves God?

How to Make Twice-as-Good Milk Dishes

Your milk dishes will be twice as rich—twice as finely flavored. And they will not cost even so much as now, when you come to use Van Camp's Milk.

That is exactly true. You can prove it yourself by the use of a single can.

No waiting for the milkman, no shortage, no waste. Van Camp's means a cow in the kitchen.

No milk with the solids settled, or the butter fat off of the top. But whole, rich milk as it comes from our Holstein cows.

Not altered at all, save by sterilization; and the heat of your cooking would sterilize it anyway.

All that—and a saving. Do you wonder that we are evaporating 700,000 quarts per day?

Healthy Holstein Cows

Our cows are Holsteins—the world's best breed. Robust, contented, famous for their splendid vitality.

Holstein milk is immeasurably better than the milk from mongrel cows.

These cows are all inspected. Millions of tubercular cows are milked every day, but not one can be found in our herds.

This milk, fresh from the cow, is placed in a vacuum. And a moderate heat, because of the vacuum, throws off the water in steam.

Thus we throw off two-thirds of the water, and the milk that results is as thick as thick cream. When you replace this water you have a multiplied bulk, as rich as the richest milk.

Delicious Milk Dishes

Van Camp's is superb milk for cooking. The richness and flavor is twice that of raw milk.

For milkman's milk separates. The butter fat rises and the solids fall. From no part of the can do you get the whole milk.

Then it separates farther after you get it. So, the milk usually used for cooking is rarely more than a half milk.

Van Camp's is whole milk. The taste of one milk dish will be sufficient to make you a constant user.

Vastly Economical

Van Camp's costs ten cents per pint by the can, and less by the case. When reduced to the richness of milkman's milk, it costs about six cents per quart.

It is cheaper than milkman's milk, because of the saving on the cost of delivery.

But the main saving comes in the saving of waste. With Van Camp's, no milk is left over. You open a can when you want it, and it keeps till you use it up.

And you never run short, for you have the cow in the pantry. Rich milk or cream for any purpose all the time. You don't need to plan in advance.

Perfectly Sterile

Van Camp's Milk is sterilized after the cans are sealed. There is not a germ of any kind in it.

The slight almond flavor is due to this sterilization. It is the flavor of heated milk.

The result is a milk that is safe. Children can drink it without a thought of infection.

In the use of raw milk, infection at some time is almost inevitable. The infection may come from tubercular cows, from diseased milkmen, from uncleanly dairies, from the water used in washing cans.

Raw milk is more dangerous than raw meat, and the whole medical world protests against its use. Soon or late, all careful people must come to a sterilized milk like Van Camp's.

None is Like This

There are two reasons why Van Camp's Milk is the premier milk of its kind.

First, it is Holstein milk, with which no milk from mongrel cows compares. Second, it is reduced to the minimum. Every can will show 28 per cent solids—8 per cent butter fat.

Others may claim that inferior milk, only slightly reduced, is as good as Van Camp's. But millions know better.

In addition, there is condensed milk—almost half sugar. It is nothing at all like Van Camp's.

The modern way for preserving milk is sterilization, not sugar. It is folly to pay the milk price for sugar, and then get a milk too sweet for use in cooking.

Those who use inferior milk will eventually come to Van Camp's. The demand for the best has become so great that we now milk 25,000 cows daily.

The 16-oz. can of Van Camp's sells for 10 cents; the 6-oz. can for 5 cents. You get one-third more for your money in buying the larger cans. Our dairies are located in six states. The milk is sold by grocers everywhere.

CRIME MOST REVOLTING

John Hjelt, Becker County Farmer, Is Stabbed to Death.

Murderer Is Captured and Hurried From the Mob's Vengeance.

Detroit Minn. Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jacob Jampso charged with the brutal murder of John Hjelt a farmer of family in the town of Runeberg Becker county eight miles west of Menagha has been brought here to the county jail by Deputy Sheriff John Hurley and other officers who took a circuitous route here to escape possible lynching by an enraged community.

The stabbing of Hielt was most atrocious his chest being ripped open exposing his heart and lungs. Wounded to the death the dying man staggered thirty paces from the road where the brutal assault had been made with a huge knife and died on the porch of John Paso a farmer.

The crime aroused public feeling throughout the whole community and in order to resist any efforts to get the lakes and for the county officials left the scene of the crime southbound in a roundabout way for Detroit.

Was Deliberate Butchery.

The murder is reported in the most cold-blooded details of deliberate butchery. Charles Isaacson with Hjelt and Jampso as passenger drove his freight wagon up before the farmhouse of Paso and went about delivering some groceries. Some children stood near the wagon.

According to the accounts Jampso commanded Hjelt to leave the lines alone. This Hjelt refused to do, and Jampso is reported to have said:

"If you don't let them go, I will stab you with my knife."

"I a not afraid of your knife," said Hjelt.

Jampso then, according to the accounts of the affair, jerked his knife from his pocket and attacked Hjelt with ferocity.

Hjelt tried to resist the attack, reeled away and staggered to the porch of the farm house, whence the cries of the children had brought the men and women from within, and fell at their feet. An hour later he was dead.

Horrible Wound Kills.

The victim had received a fatal gash on the left side, which had torn open his chest, exposing the vital organs. The gash was about eight inches long. The bystanders were unable to relieve the painful contortions of the dying man.

At the death of the victim, Jampso had disappeared. He was later located at an abandoned house, which the Pasos and neighbor farmers watched at a distance during the night until the authorities arrested Jampso.

Hjelt is survived by a widow and four children. Both are Finlanders with large families and are well known in the vicinity of Menahga.

They were formerly neighbors, living on farms near that place. Hjelt moved to Menahga last fall and sold patent medicine. He was on his way to Wolf Lake to work when he was killed.

WILL MARK SPOT WITH MONUMENT

In Meeker County Where First Blood Was Shed in Indian War.

Litchfield, Minn., Aug. 19.—On Sunday, Aug. 22, will be held the exercises unveiling the monument erected by the state in the town of Acton, Meeker county, on the spot where the Jones-Baker families were massacred by the Indians in the Sioux outbreak of 1862. There was shed the first blood in that memorable war of Little Crow and his braves against the white settlers on the frontier, and which was intended to wipe out New Ulm, Forest City, Hutchinson and all the smaller villages through what was then called the western and northern part of the state.

Little Crow's plans would have been far more disastrous to the whites had the Acton massacre not been premature. His orders were to commence a simultaneous slaughter three days later.

The spot where the massacre occurred is about three miles south and west of Grove City, on the Great Northern railroad. It is, also, within one mile of where Capt. Strout had his battle with the Indians a few days later. Henry Feig of Kandiyohi county, former senator; W. W. Silvright, Jesse Y. Branham of Fargo and others will be speakers for the occasion. The monument will be unveiled by Miss Bertha Evenson.

An old-fashioned picnic dinner will be served on the grounds. Hacks and automobiles will be run from Grove City for the accommodation of those attending. The Grove City cornet band will furnish the music. The Old Settlers' association of Meeker county will be recognized on that day along more elastic lines.

INSURGENTS ARE BEING PUNISHED

Appointment of North Dakota Census Supervisor Slap at Gronna.

Grand Forks, N. D., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the appointment of Carl N. Frich of Lakota as census supervisor for the First district, will not go through without objection is the announcement made by Representative A. J. Cronna, who has appealed the matter to President Taft. Carl N. Frich is the former attorney general of North Dakota and is one of the congressman's bitter political enemies. The appointment of Frich as census supervisor, Mr. Cronna, believes, is a direct slap at him for his stand on the tariff question, in which he voted with the Insurgents as against the Payne bill.

"The announcement that Mr. Frich had been appointed to the position came as a complete surprise to me, as I had not been informed that the matter was under consideration. I certainly am opposed to his appointment and I have already wired to President Taft, stating my objections in full. I do not know just what I may gain by doing so, but I have at least given the president to understand that his appointment does not meet with my approval. Furthermore, it will give me an idea of how the administration is lined up on the North Dakota situation."

ENGINEERS ARE AGAINST SCHEME

Adverse Report on Red Lake River Improvement Is Made.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Surprise and indignation have been expressed here as a result of the unfavorable report which the United States engineer in charge of the district recently made with reference to the contemplated improvements in the Red Lake river, and for which congress appropriated the sum of $50,000 last winter.

The river from this city to the great Red Lakes is navigable all the summer seasons, except during periods of extreme dry weather. In a few places, particularly at the outlet of the lake, which is the source of the Red Lake river, bars of sand form, which obstruct easy navigation for all boats except those of small capacity. It was the purpose of the appropriation to have these bars removed, so that the large boats which ply these waters could without danger of delay complete their advertised schedules.

The river affords the only outlet for an immense tract of territory about the lakes and for many hundred miles of settled lands between this city and the lakes. Large settlements of farmers in the prairies country from twenty-three to sixty miles east of this city depend almost entirely on the boat traffic for their supplies and for the carrying of products to market. This trade and the lake trade have supported and do now maintain three large steamers and some smaller gasoline vessels. These are seriously hindered in their business at time by the bar formations and as a result the farmers and traders are losers thereby.

WOMAN IS ASSAULTED.

Two Railroad Graders Bound Over to Grand Jury in Aitkin County.

Aitkin, Minn., Aug. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walreter Davis and Charles Johnson, employed in a railroad camp six miles west of McGregor, have been bound over to the next grand jury on the charge of assauling Mrs. John Pearson, who was cooking at the camp where they were employed.

The woman was badly injured and was not able to appear at the hearing before Justice J. W. Clark at McGregor Tuesday.

The men had been drinking and at supper time made insulting remarks to the woman and became familiar, for which they received the proper resentment. This angering them they assaulted her in an outrageous and revolting manner, tearing her clothing from her. Her husband was present and made what defense he was able to, but was himself knocked down and beaten.

County Attorney Hallum and Sheriff Haugen went to McGregor for the hearing and after the pair were bound over to the grand jury of the October term by Justice Clark, they were brought hereby the sheriff and locked up in the county jail.

PLACE HOLDINGS HIGH.

Railroad and State Expert Are Far Apart on Valuations.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 19.—Taking of testimony in the rate case of the Northern Pacific railroad against the state of Minnesota was concluded at the federal building today before Judge Charles E. Otis. Yesterday the only witness examined was Dwight C. Morgan, the special engineer employed by the state.

Mr. Morgan's testimony showed a wide discrepancy between the railroad's estimate and the value of their land holdings in the Twin Cities and that made by him and his crops of assistants. According to the contention of the roads, the value of their land holdings in St. Paul is 48.2 per cent of the value of all the assessed land in the city exclusive of improvements. Mr. Morgan estimated this to be only 16.3 per cent.

Escanaban Loses Life in Heroic Effort to Rescue Offspring.

Escanaba, Mich., Aug. 19.—John Launderville of this city drowned off the docks while attempting to save the life of his 7-year-old son.

Launderville and his son were out on the bay in a catboat, and when the father tacked in order to escape a steamer which was coming up, the boom knocked the little fellow into the water. Launderville, fearing that the yawl which the steamer was lowering would not reach the boy in time, sprang into the water.

The boat reached the boy first and picked him up, but before aid could reach the father he had thrown up his hands and gone down. He leaves a wife and several children.

.460	Wausau	.450
.417	Superior	.406

Yes, indeed, we got ours yesterday. Superior, 12; Duluth, 1.

Now, please, don't be harsh. Remember how many games the Sox have won, and then be good.

The game started breaking badly in the very first inning. After the hustling Drillers had accumulated seven runs, the Sox just naturally let up a little in chasing screamers over the pebbly railroad yard. Nine errors, the majority of them figuring in the rungetting, were the cause of the breaking of our commendable string of victories.

Duluth was retired runless in the first frame, Neelon and O'Brien going out on infield hits, Breen drawing a base, but being thrown out at the second station. The trouble started when the Drillers took the offensive.

Dolly Gray drew transportation, Caldwell reached first on a fielder's choice, forcing Gray at second. Geelon drew a base and Shaub was hit by the ball, filling the bases. O'Brien booted Clapper's ground offering, after Koepping had struck out, and Caldwell scored. Vogt was hit by the ball, forcing the second run over. Bancroft flew to Mueller.

The suffering Sox got one back in their half of the second. McCrone doubled over the right field fence, which is about ten feet beyond first base, and went to third on Kohl's hit. With Kohl leading off first, Klingebeil made a balk and both runners advanced, McCrone scoring and Kohl going to second. The next three Sox flew out to Shaub in left.

Superior got one in the next. Shaub drew a base, Koepping was safe on O'Brien's bloomer, Clapped fouled to McCrone, who made a circus stab at the ball, and Vogt advanced the runners by an infield out. Bancroft hit, but Koepping was thrown out attempting to score on the heels of the scurrying Shaub.

Marion struck out in the Sox' half, Neelon got a hit, O'Brien struck out and Peter P. was thrown out trying to pilfer.

In the fourth the Drillers got two men on through an error and a pass, but one man was forced and the other died. McCrone hit and stole in the Sox's half, but Breen, Kohl and Zackert were easily disposed of. In the fifth the Drillers got a man on through King Kohl's error, but two outfield offerings and an infield fly ended the inning.

The Sox went out in order in their half of the same inning. In the saddening sixth the trouble was renewed.

Bancroft was safe on Kohl's bloomer; Klingebell offered an infield fly to Marion; Gray was safe on Darby's boot, Bancroft going to second. Breen contracted the digit disease, fumbling Caldwell's dinky grounder and Bancroft scored on the misplay. Geelon went to first when an effort was made to trip Gray between the Congo. The ball hit a bat that was lying in front of the platter, Gray scoring. Shaub offered a long fly to Taylor and Caldwell was run over with the third.

The Sox went out in order in their half. In the seventh, the last inning of the shortened game, the Sox went out in order and Young Mister Block was sent to the mound. Gray and Shaub got two-baggers off the young man's delivery, Geelon and Vogt registered for singles, young Breen made a bubble, Caldwell was given a pass—and in the chop suey of baseball bungling six runs were chased across the plate.

We sincerely hope that the win of yesterday will give the Drillers renewed confidence in their powers. They meet gentle Joseph Killian's band this afternoon, and we sincerely hope that they take the pursuing Winona bunch into camp, humiliating them and firmly placing the boot of defeat on the neck of the down-river men.

All but the errors of Umps Wheeler, who wears blue glasses when he is not working for the baseball association, are included below:

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 19.—Pittsburg took both games of a double-header from St. Louis yesterday, the first by a score of 6 to 3, and the second, 2 to 1.

The visitors secured all their runs in the first game before Pittsburg scored. In that game with Clarke on first, Wagner knocked the ball over the left field wall for a home run, tying the score, the locals getting their first run in the previous inning. Backman was hit hard in the eighth. Pittsburg netted three runs. Phillippi was relieved after the fourth inning, and Adams did not allow a hit, not a visitor reaching first in the next five innings.

Raleigh, St. Louis' 19-year-old pitcher from California, allowed Pittsburg but two hits in the second contest, but Camnitz also did well, the vistors going out in order during the last six innings. The winning run was made in the ninth, when Barbeau was hit, went to second on Leach's sacrifice, to third on Clark's infield hit and home on Wagner's sacrifice fly.

DOUGLASS WINS EMPIRE STAKE

Beautiful Gray Trots Four Splendid Heats at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Bob Douglass won the $10,000 Empire stake for 2:12 trotters at the Fort Erie race track yesterday. The gray trotted the four heats without a break, winning the race with little or no competition by the other six starters. In the final heat Demarest, driven by Geers, went to the front when the field was sent away, but the gray was close up and assumed the lead at the first turn. Demarest dropped back and Carroll took up the fight. On the back stretch the pair were nearly on even terms, but McDonald quickly put daylight between Douglass and Carroll. Alice Roosevelt, was close up all the way and made a try for second place in the drive down stretch, but failed to get her nose in front of Carroll. The first half of the final heat was stepped in 1.01¼. The fastest mile was made by Bob Douglass in the first heat in 2:06¼. The gray stepped the last quarter in the third heat in 30 seconds. Klondike, Tom Sharkey's entry, was distanced in the third heat, Jennie Constantine got the flag in the opening heat.

In the opening race for 2:21 trotters, Geers drove Franzee to victory in straight heats. The field was small and the horses finished one-two-three in each heat.

The only contest of the day resulted in the final heat of the 2:16 class trot. Rosemary Chimes, who sold favorite in the pools, won the first three heats easily. In the last heat Naomi went to the front at the start and retained the lead to the wire, winning by half a length from Rosemary Chimes. Rathbun got into a pocket, remaining there until the turn. Then he took Rosemary Chimes out around the field, but could not get to the fleet-footed Naomi, the 2:02 pace, it was announced, would be raced today. It will bring together the Eel and Aileen Wilson.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 19.—Jack Johnson, the heavyweight pugilist, yesterday entered suit against a local hotel proprietor for $25,000 damages, alleging that he was shut out of the hotel after he had engaged accommodations there. He alleges he was discriminated against because he is a negro.

Harvesting Minnesota Barley

MINNESOTA BARLEY, the finest grown, full of the food values that make our Northern grain so famous, is used exclusively in the brewing of Fitger's Beer. This most healthful cereal, together with Bohemian hops, known the world over as the very best for brewing purposes, produce a liquid food and tonic of undisputed value in building up and maintaining in healthy condition the tissues of the human system.

Lake Superior water, pure and sparkling, acknowledged by scientists as the best adapted to brewing of any in the world, is another important element in the production of this refreshing and health-giving beverage.

GLEAMS IN THE SPORTING FOG
BY BRUCE

Details are being worked out for a lapstreak race to be held next Saturday at the Duluth Boat club. The details of the event are being arranged by Anthony Puck, one of the older oarsmen who has the interest of rowing at the Head of the Lakes at heart. It is believed that five or six crews will be entered in the races of Saturday.

It is planned to have several of the firms of Duluth represented by crews. The object of the event is to arouse interest in rowing among new men. The lapstreak is a boat to train new men in. The crews will be composed of mostly new men, men who have never done any racing, and perhaps one or two older men to help the new men out.

The efforts of Mr. Puck, Julius Barnes, "Cy" Forgette, W. M. L'Estrange and some of the other club members, who are interesting themselves in the movement to get new men interested in the rowing, is a move in the right direction. It is what is being done at the Minnesota Boat club, where the officials are looking ahead to the regatta of next year.

The other day an old Minnesota man was talking over the rowing situation in this city. "You have the making of one of the finest crews I have ever seen, in that junior crew that represented your club at the St. Paul regatta," said this man. "If you can keep these men together next year, I am of the opinion that Duluth should have little trouble in winning the junior event at Kenora.

That is what the officials of the club are endeavoring to do. They are attempting to stimulate interest in rowing, and trying not to allow the interest to die with the passing of the midsummer regatta. What is needed up here is a fall regatta for the oarsmen of the club. Such a move would serve to keep the interest in the water events alive through the summer months.

The sailors of the club are kept busy throughout the summer. The fall months offer the most ideal weather conditions in this part of the country. A regatta for the members of the Duluth Boat club would be a move in the right direction to add to the interest of rowing.

It is probably just as well that Michael J. Kelly did not stay over to watch the game of yesterday. What do you think, Mister Breen?

And now do our troubles increase. Sometimes uneasy rests the head that wears a crown. In the case of Mistah Jack Johnson, it was a case of not resting at all. The dinge blew into the Mormon stronghold of Salt Lake City the other day. The colored population held a jubilee for "Our Champion." When the bright lights began to fade, the Texas black began to think of rest. He made the rounds of the hotels and found that they have an antipathy against housing the black brother in the hotels of Salt Lake City. He then applied to the police station. His request here was also turned down. If all the cities followed the example of the Utah burg, Jeffries would encounter a tired and weary champion.

Here is very sincerely hoping that the Drillers sink deep the quivering harpoon of defeat into the brigand crew at the head of which is gentle Joseph Killian, the friend and adviser of Red Moore. We only wish Superior ill luck when they are playing we'uns. If the defeat of yesterday gives the Lew boys increased confidence, it may be a blessing for us in deep disguise. We hope, you Superior, that you will clout mightily in the series with Joe's bunch, and may the pebbles in your little park be ever on the alert to make hits bound badly for the Winona's of the band of Ojibways. More power to Brother Drill and his crew. We don't wish the Killianites any hard luck, but would like to see them have their heads beaten off.

Edward L. Sudheimer, one of the greatest of the fast amateur riders who made the St. Paul and Minneapolis riders the best in the United States, some six or seven years ago, was a visitor in Duluth yesterday. Sudheimer is a prosperous and successful business man now, and business occasionally brings him to the Head of the Lakes.

"Eddie" rode with Danny Carmichael, his brother, George Sudheimer, the Perkins boys and the fast speed merchants from Minneapolis. He is a graduate from the University of Minneapolis, and has won many points for the Gopher institution with his wheel.

See who's here! Our old friend, Si Bennett. Mornin' Si, Gosh darn it Silas, but yer lookin' spry.

Mister Bennett is leading the Medicine Hatters in the Western Canada league to glorious victory. He is burning up the bounding prairies. Medicine Hat is leading the league in the stretch, and our Si is the big noise in the affairs of the team.

It may be that Medicine Hat and the Sox will clash at the end of the league seasons in the Minnesota-Wisconsin league and the Western Canada league. Plans to have the two pennant winners in the two leagues clash, are being made at the present time. Si's team is leading the procession by thirty points, Winnipeg is on the heels of the galloping weather manufacturers, with Calgary running back in third place. The race is to the strong, and it lies between the Medicine Hatters and the boys from the thriving Western Canadian metropolis. Very best gilt edged to you Si.

If you happened to be out on the bay yesterday you might have noticed a short, red streak shoot by, throwing swells that looked like a tidal wave on the gulf coast. This, fellow members, is the nifty motor boat that Capt. "Bill" Battray brought to "our midst" aboard the steamer Jay Gould, yesterday. The good captain is a very keen sportsman, and he is ready to meet any of the speed boats that are at the Head of the Lakes. The way the captain plowed through the waters of the bay yesterday makes one believe that he will make any boat he starts against go some to beat him to the home buoy.

The challenge of Capt. "Bill," as published on the sporting page of yesterday's Herald, still holds good for all comers at the Head of the Lakes.

Hibbing is getting chesty. Ruler Brady, the usually placid judge, who is to baseball at Hibbing as is J. P. Morgan to the harkings of Wall street, does come forward and say that he is of the opinion that his Hibbing tossers can trim the Sox. Fie on you, Judge. In response, Al Kuehnow did reply that any time the amiable judge held too strenuously to his opinion as to the superiority of the Hibbing men over our Duluth production, from $500 to $1,000 in real money would be deposited in the hands of the sporting editor of The Evening Herald, to make the issue interesting. This money will be wagered by the Duluth people that the Sox will trim the Hibbing boys.

There now, Judge Brady.

WRITES CONFESSION OF MURDER IN UTAH.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 19.—The police have in custody a man giving the name of Charles Olsen, arrested on a minor charge, who makes a written confession to having killed Deputy Sheriff Clark twelve miles from Ogden, Utah. Olsen says the killing occurred last October, when he and another man were robbing a railroad box car and were interrupted by Deputy Clark and a companion, who drove up in a wagon. A revolver fight resulted, in which Olsen says the deputy was killed.

RACING ON THE NEW SPEEDWAY

Indianapolis Automobile Track Thronged With Speed-Crazy People.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 19.—The $400,000 Indianapolis speedway was formally opened yesterday with a program of five well balanced races with a 250-mile grind ending the day's sport. When Fred J. Wagner started the contestants in the five-mile stripped class race at noon, the three-day carnival of speed was on. The big grandstand was comfortably filled with a crowd of automobile enthusiasts from all parts of the country. The out-of-town devotees of racing poured into the city until it was filled almost to overflowing.

Hundreds of automobiles were massed in the immense parking space just a little way from the finish line down the homestretch. It was here the real contests were expected as the mile straightaway offered many temptations for the speeders.

The track was alive with machines in the early hours before the races opened, but shortly before noon the course was cleared by a force composed of 100 local police and 100 members from the local militia companies. Then only the grim, business-like looking racing cars were allowed on the track.

From the showings made in practice workouts, automobile experts are free in their predictions that the records for practically all the standard distances will be broken before the three days of the dizzy dashes around the big track are finished. Zengel's circuit, in two minutes flat, yesterday, gives an idea what might be expected when the real contests are on.

ATTACK RAILROAD RATE RULING BY COMMISSION.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad, with seven Western roads as co-complainants have filed suit in the federal court to enjoin the interstate commerce commission from enforcing its rate order of June 20. This order reduces the through rates from points east of the Indiana-Illinois line to Des Moines, Iowa. This is the third attack of the Western railroads against the commission involving the commission's order that through interline freight rates from the East shall be less than the sums of the local rates. The other complaining roads are the Illinois Central, Chicago & Great Western, St. Paul, Northwestern, Burlington, Iowa Central and Wabash.

INTERNAL REVENUE RECEIPTS ARE BIGGER.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The receipts of the bureau of internal revenue for the month of July—the first month of the new fiscal year—shows an increase of $939,236 over July of last year. The receipts during July, 1908, were $22,968,642, and during July, 1908, $22,029,316. In the view of officials, this increase augurs well for the general prosperity of the country.

WHEAT IS DOWN AGAIN

Closing Prices Show Marked Losses in All American Markets.

Shorts Have Covered and Harvest Reports Are Favorable.

Duluth Board of Trade, Aug. 19.—The covering shorts, who caused yesterday's bulge in the wheat market, had found shelter by today and the close in all American markets shows a decline. News from the harvest fields was meager, but indicates good harvesting weather. There was a cessation of the reports of yesterday that the Northwestern and Canadian crops had been overestimated and there was a more general bearish feeling.

The small export demand has something to do with it. Europe is raising a large crop and German and Russian production will be especially heavy, according to reports. The bears have much to work on and some of them are inclined to make the most of it.

The September option closed 1¾c lower in Duluth, 1⅛c lower in Chicago, 1½c lower in Minneapolis, 1⅛c lower in New York, 1c lower in St. Louis and 1¾-1⅞c lower in Kansas City. The December option closed 2½c lower in Duluth, 1¾-1⅞c lower in Chicago, 2⅜-2½c lower in Minneapolis, 1⅞c lower in New York, 1⅜-1½c lower in St. Louis, 1¾-1⅞c lower in Kansas City and 2c lower in Winnipeg. October wheat closed 1⅝c lower in Winnipeg and May wheat was 2c off in Duluth.

Wheat closed ¼d lower to ¼d higher in Liverpool, unchanged ½c lower in Paris, ⅝c lower in Antwerp, 1c higher in Berlin, ½c higher in Budapest and 2⅝c higher in Buenos Ayres. Broomhall cabled from Liverpool:

"The weather in the South still continues unfavorable for the growing crop, the weather being too dry. Wheat was firm at the start with values ⅜d to ½d higher, partially reflecting the strong American cables. Following the opening there was a disposition to realize and values lost ⅛d to ⅝d with the principal decline in September. The favorable weather in the United Kingdom and the improved European crop prospects, together with selling by importers were the causes for the decline. At mid-day, the market was irregular and from ⅛d lower to ¼d advance.

"Corn was quiet at the start and unchanged. Later values advanced ⅛d on the firmer La Plata offerings and a fair inquiry for parcels."

Car receipts of wheat at Duluth were 1 against 3 last year, and at Minneapolis 71 against 110 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 72 against 113 last year. Chicago received 99 against 105 last year. Winnipeg received 10 against 18 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 771,000 bu, last year 516,000 bu. Shipments 522,000 bu, last year 690,000 bu. Clearances of wheat and flour were 488,000 bu.

Primary receipts of corn were 374,000 bu, last year 337,000 bu. Shipments 454,000 bu, last year 198,000 bu. Clearances of corn were 18,000 bu.

Trading was fairly active in both wheat and flax on the floor of the Duluth board of trade today, with values sagging in both. September wheat opened unchanged at $1.02, declined to $1.01⅜, then to $1, advanced to $1.00¼ and closed at that figure. December wheat opened ⅜c off at 98¼c, declined to 95⅝@95¾ and closed at 96c. May wheat opened ¼c off at $1.01¾, declined to 99¾c and closed at $1 bid.

September flax opened unchanged at $1.40, advanced to $1.40⅜, declined to $1.38¼ and closed at $1.38. October flax opened unchanged at $1.36, advanced to $1.36¼ and closed at $1.34. November flax opened unchanged at $1.36, advanced to $1.36¼, declined to $1.34¾, advanced to $1.35 and closed at $1.34 bid. December flax opened 2c up at $1.34 asked, declined to $1.32¼ and closed at $1.32 bid.

Durum wheat was 3¾c off, rye closed at 64½@67½c instead of 63@66c, and barley closed at 46@61c instead of 46@60c. Cash wheat was 21c over September.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Trading Is Light and Corn Furnishes the Feature.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Foreign grain markets showed little response today to the sharp bulge in wheat prices here yesterday, and as a result, sentiment in the pit here during early trading was inclined to bearishness. Weakness of the Northwestern markets also had a depressing effect on the local situation. Trade was rather light. In the wheat market September opened at $1.02@1.02½ and December at 98@98⅜c. After touching $1.02⅝ the price of the September dropped back again to around $1.02. December sold off to 97¾c.

The market became weaker as trading progressed, a severe slump in Minneapolis contributing to a large extent to the downward trend. Before the decline was checked September had dropped to $1.00⅝ and December to 96⅛c. The close was weak with Septmber off 1⅛c at $1.00⅞@1.01. December was down 1¾@1⅞c at 96⅜c.

Drought in the corn belt was still unbroken today, and as a result the price of future deliveries of corn advanced beyond yesterday's highest marks. Pit traders and commission houses were eager bidders, but offerings were only moderate. The September option opened unchanged to ⅜c higher at 66⅜@66¾c, and for a time held within the opening range.

Later in the day the market weakened with wheat, September declining to 65¾c. The close was weak with September off ⅜@½c at 65⅞@66c.

The strength of corn prompted considerable buying of oats, which caused a firm tone in that market early in the day. September opened ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c higher at 39¼@39⅜c, and later sold at 39@39⅛c.

Provisions were firm owing to a 5@10c advance in live hogs and to the further gains in corn prices. Opening quotations were 5c lower to 20c higher.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Big Break Follows Strength of Wednesday Session.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 19.—Following the strength of yesterday, there was a big break in the market today. September declined 1¾c from high to low. Reports from the Northwest were very favorable. Harvesting is about three-quarters finished, and in most sections threshing is quite general. Although the trade agrees that the crop has been damaged, it will be almost infinitesimal when compared with the total crop. Local stocks decreased 550,000 bu for five days. Minneapolis today received 71 cars of wheat, as compared with 110 cars a year ago; Duluth 1, against 3, and Winnipeg 10, against 18. September opened $1.00¾@1.00⅝; high, $1.00⅞; low, 99⅛c; close, 99⅜@99½c. December opened 95⅝c; high, 97¾c; low, 95⅛c; close, 95⅜@95½c. May opened $1.00; high, $1.00; low, 99¼c; close, 99½c.

Cash wheat was about steady today. Country millers say they can profit more by shipping their old wheat to the market at present prices than by making a dollar a barrel on flour. Offerings were more liberal and several cars of new wheat appeared on the tables. Prices were unchanged. New No. 1 northern sold for $1.25. No. 1 northern spot, $1.35; to arrive, $1.03⅛; No. 2 northern spot, $1.33; to arrive, $1.01⅛; No. 3 wheat, $1.26; No. 3 yellow corn, 67¾c; No. 3 white oats, 39⅞@40⅞c; No. 2 rye, 66¾@67¾c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 877 tons. There was no change. Shipments were light, prices unchanged and demand only fair. Bran in 100-pound sacks, $20.50.

Flour was unchanged. Millers report that they have about all the orders they can fill for September and October shipment. Shipments were light and prices were unchanged. The inquiry for the old crop product was slow. Shipments, 34,186 bbls. First patents, $6.00@6.20; second patents, $5.90@6.10; first clears, $4.95@5.25; second clears, $3.35@3.65.

Flax—Receipts none; year ago, 3 cars; shipments none. The market was nominal on account of the lack of offerings. Prices were 6c above the Duluth September. Closing price, $1.44¾.

New York, Aug. 19.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 2@5 points and sold 9@10 points net higher, right after the call on better cables than expected, a continuation of dry weather in the Southwest, scattering bull support and covering. The net advance was checked, however, by realizing and Wall street selling, attributed to the unsettled condition of the stock market, and the action of prices seemed unsatisfactory to recent small buyers, wha started profit-taking, under which the market eased off to within 4 or 5 points of last night's close.

The election and installation of officers this morning closed the convention of the Independent Order of Foresters, as far as the business of the delegates is concerned. This afternoon and evening the picnic and dance will wind up the gathering.

The following officers were elected at the business meeting: High chief ranger, John G. Ross of Duluth, re-elected; secretary, Robert McKercher of Duluth; high treasurer, Louis Christianson of West Duluth; representative to the supreme court of the order, to be held at Toronto in 1911, Neil B. Morrison of Duluth; high physician, Dr. H. E. Webster of Duluth.

WATER HAMPERS MINE.

Courtland, Ariz., Aug. 19.—At the Calumet & Arizona Mining company's main shaft, water began to raise faster than the No. 7 Cameron sinking pump could handle it and in two hours' time there was a depth of sixty feet of water in the shaft.

Supt. Arnold immediately ordered a larger pump, which is being installed. It is expected the new pump will handle more than the present income of water and in a short time permit the resumption of sinking operations.

STOCKS HAVE HARD CLOSE

Lowest Prices of the Day Are Struck in Last Dealings.

Market Is Active and Demoralized With Final Big Sales.

New York, Aug. 19.—Liquidation was renewed on a large scale in the stock market, and losses of between 1 and 2 points were made in a number of important stocks. New York Central gave way 2, Southern Pacific 1⅝, Rock Island 1½, Union Pacific 1¼ and Great Northern ore certificates, Delaware & Hudson, Chesapeake & Ohio and Rock Island preferred 1. Large amounts of stocks changed hands and there were sales of 8,000 shares of United States Steel at from 76⅝ to 76⅜, compared with 76⅞ at the close yesterday.

The appearance of supporting orders alarmed the short interest and they began to cover which brought prices back generally to about where they left off yestercay. Renewed liquidation, however, began soon after, and there was another severe break in prices. Union Pacific, Reading, New York Central and United States Steel were tumbled on the market in round amounts and the average level of prices sank well below the opening figures. Practically every stock was off in the neighborhood of a point and the decline reached 2½ in Union Pacific, 2⅜ in New York Central and 2 in Reading, Canadian Pacific and General Electric. A rally of a point in Union Pacific and Reading strengthened the market before 11 o'clock, but the dealings were small on the recovery.

Trading was in light volume, but the market maintained its rally, which amounted to 2 points in Reading and a point or more in a number of other cases. Professional operators were apparently holding off for some further developments in the Union Pacific situation. Interboro-Metropolitan preferred sold a point above yesterday's closing, and American Smelting and a few others a small fraction. Lackawanna sold at an advance of 25 points. Bonds were easy.

Except for unusual activity in the local traction stocks at advancing prices, the market was without essential change until 1 o'clock, when a sudden break in Union Pacific dropped it to 209 again. Reading fell back over a point and there was a moderate sag to the balance of the list. Third Avenue was maked up 3 points, Interboro-Metropolitan preferred 1¾ and the common, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and U. S. Rubber 1 to 1¼.

The market closed active and demoralized. Speculative interest was concentrated for a while in a few specialties, and as a result United States Rubber became animated and buoyant, with a rise of 4 points, Brooklyn Union Gas 2½ and Texas & Pacific and Pittsburg Coal 1. At 2:30 large selling orders were executed simultaneously in Union Pacific, Reading, New York Central and United States Steel, and the list went down at a rapid rate. The lowest prices of the day were made on this break. Union Pacific slumped to 206, which was 5¼ below yesterday's final prices. Both Reading and New York Central gave way 5 points.

St. Mary's, taken in thousand share lots today on the exchange, all the way from 33 cents to 38 cents a share.

Red Warrior is on its way to $5.00 and possibly $10.00 a share. Several cars of ore we shipped from this property gave big returns. St. Mary's, located on the other side of the hill, has every indication of becoming another such a mine. This stock should easily sell at the $1.00 mark shortly. Is there another on the board that offers such a great chance to make quick money on?

Butte & Superior is very strong, and sold at 2 1-16. This stock is due for a big advance.

The Butte-Alex Scott stocks are at present neglected, but boys, when full paid Scott starts, there will be big things doing, for $40.00 a share would be a reasonable price for a mine such as this one.

Calumet & Corbin is strong and hard to buy. Here is a stock that should also get busy very soon.

THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

PINCHOT IS ATTACKED

Denver, Colo., Aug. 19.—Despite the efforts of leaders in the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress to prevent the introduction of the Pinchot-Ballinger controversy, Former United States Senator Thomas M. Patterson of Colorado prepared an attack on Gifford Pinchot today.

Senator Patterson had prepared a resolution which cited that a board of inquiry composed of Mr. Pinchot and four other scientists some time ago reported that the boundary of the forest reserves are not definite and include grazing and agriculture lands. The resolution declared, therefore, that additional laws are not necessary, but the president now has the authority to declare these boundaries in a more definite way, thereby dividing the forests from the arable lands and saving to the people many thousands of acres of land now held in reserve as forest lands.

Attack on Pinchot.

Mr. Patterson declared that, inasmuch as Mr. Pinchot has himself concurred in a report which says that the boundaries are untrue, it will be no illegal act for the president to give back to the people the lands to which they are entitled.

Mr. Patterson asked that he be given twenty minutes in which to present his resolution, but the delegates declined to take this view, and his remarks were curtailed to three minutes and no action was taken.

No answer was made to the argument of the former senator.

More Pinchot resolutions were offered when A. M. Ammons of Colorado, asked that laws be requested opening for entry such lands as are not timbered, yet held as reserves. Also that private capital be given the first opportunity to develop water power instead of the government.

Notice of Dividend.

CALUMET & ARIZONA MINING COMPANY has declared a dividend of One Dollar ($1.00) a share, payable September 20th, 1909, to stockholders of record September 3rd, 1909. Transfer Books close at close of business September 3rd and reopen September 13th, at ten o'clock A. M.

ANDY JONES IS CAPTURED

Absconding Rugby, N. D., Banker Reported Run Down in Texas.

Once Reported to Have Been Seen in Honduras.

Rugby, N. D., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andy Jones, the absconding president of the defunct First National bank here, whose frenzied finance, culminating in his fleeing under embezzlement charges and the suspension of the bank furnished a sensation early last winter, is said to be under arrest in Texas. If this proves true the much sought for banker probably will be returned to North Dakota at once to stand trial for his alleged misdeeds.

No details of the capture were given. Jones disappeared before the holidays, and on Jan. 4 a receiver was appointed for his bank and later for the Barton State bank in which he was interested. The receiver has paid one 25 per cent dividend.

A majority of Jones' victims were other bankers in Northwestern states who were caught on weak securities. Jones was reported to have been seen in Honduras last spring.

CHILD IS SAVED AS BY MIRACLE

Parents Are Killed When a Train Strikes Buggy at Crossing.

Reading, Mich., Aug. 20.—Otis Glery and his wife of Clear Lake, Ind., were killed early today by a Lake Shore train while driving over a crossing near Montgomery, Mich., and their 3-year-old daughter, Goldie, who was in the buggy with them, had a miraculous escape from serious injury.

Mrs. Glery was thrown some distance from the track and instantly killed. The child and her father were both picked up by the pilot of the engine. When the train was stopped eighty rods from the crossing, Glery was dying from his injuries and close beside him on the pilot lay the child, unhurt except for a few minor bruises.

BIG BREWER IS INDICTED

Complications in Heinze Security Case Continue to Spread Out.

New True Bill Against Broker Clarke---Loan Clerk Is Wanted Too.

New York, Aug. 20.—Today the financial interests of this city are wondering where the commotion started by M. M. Joyce, when he had Donald Persch, a note broker arrested on a charge of grand larceny in the handling of some Heinze copper stocks, is going to end. Day after day the network of complications has spread out, until yesterday rumors and unsupport-

CHINA WILL HELP JAPAN

Terms of Agreement on Railroad Trouble Are Given in Letter.

Communication Is Sent From Tokio Addressed to the Powers.

Tokio, Aug. 20.—The memorandum signed at Mukden, Manchuria, Aug. 19, by representatives of the Japanese and Chinese governments practically closed the Antung-Mukden controversy.

According to the terms of this understanding China agrees to afford Japan every assistance in the reconstruction of the Antung-Mukden railroad and withdraws all her objections.

An official communication issued to the powers this afternoon details the progress of the negotiations since Aug. 6 as follows:

"With reference to the reconstruction of the Antung-Mukden railroad, Baron Ijun, the Japanese minister to China, notified China on Aug. 6 that the work would be undertaken immediately. The Chinese government replied that China did not insist on her objections, but requested that the question of the rectification of the line might be submitted to commissioners appointed by both countries.

Replied to Note.

On Aug. 10, Baron Ijun replied to this note that the proposed changes in the line were confined to the absolute necessities, based on the result of the joint survey already made by the commissioners of both governments. It was therefore unnecessary to send out new commissioners, and consequently

WANTS $1,000,000 FOR SUFFRAGE

Kate Gordon Declares War on Closed Ballot and Vice.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 20.—"I want to raise $1,000,000 to aid in making the woman suffrage question an issue and to attack the power of organized vice," declared Miss Kate M. Gordon upon her return here today from the Northwest. Miss Gordon was recently elected chairman of the Susan B. Anthony fund.

Miss Gordon refused to accept reelection to the post of secretary of the National American Woman's Suffrage association, because she said she wanted to devote more of her time to spreading the "propaganda of woman's suffrage throughout the South.

BRIG. GEN. TASKER H. BLISS.

ELEMENTS RIOT IN PITTSBURG

Wind, Rain, Hail and Lightning Terrorize People and Do Damage.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Wind, rain, hail and lightning terrorized this city and vicinity today. Windows were broken, cellars flooded and a number of persons injured when frightened horses ran away. Wire communication suffered and traffic was blocked. There were two storms, each lasting half an hour.

SUN SO HOT IT COOKED EGG ON THE SIDEWALK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—The intense hot weather early this week caused Jim Wilder and Clay Wilbanks of Little Rock to make a unique wager. The former bet that he could cook an egg inside of ten minutes on the sidewalk where the sun would have free play. At the end of the time limit the white of the egg had turned considerably and the yolk was partly cooked, but the judges decided that it was a draw, because the egg was not cooked to the extent that it would have been in a frying pan.

WRIGHTS ASK FOR RIGHT TO SMASH RIVAL AEROPLANE

Claim Curtiss-Herring Machine Infringes on Their Patents.

Willard Fails in Trial for Trophy for the Longest Flight.

New York, Aug. 20.—Wilbur and Orville Wright, the aviators, have brought suit in the United States circuit court here against the Aeronautic society of this city, alleging that the Herring-Curtiss aeroplane which the society recently purchased and which has had several tryouts at Mineola, L. I., by C. F. Willard, is a violation of their patents. The Wrights demand that the infringing machine be turned over to them for destruction, and in addition ask that the court assess damages for threefold the amount of whatever losses they are found to have suffered by reason of the infringement and the public exhibition or rental of the infringing machine. A hearing in the suit probably will be held early in October.

Aeronautic experts here generally view the suit as in the nature of a test case, brought to determine legally whether the Wright patents cover effectually all aeroplanes constructed

WILL NOT DRESS UP TO SEE TAFT

New Orleans People Decide Against Wearing Formal Costumes.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 20.—President Taft and his party will be met at New Orleans upon the termination of their trip down the Mississippi river in October by "plain clothes" citizens. It has been decided that high hats and frock coats no longer constitute a prerequisite for service on reception committees.

When Mr. Taft visited New Orleans last winter the reception committee, numbering some 2,000 persons, were asked to don the habiliments that go with formal affairs of the daytime. Though this sort of attire never has been popular in New Orleans, all met the situation bravely, and garbed themselves, in the face of difficulties, in the required garments of ceremony.

Will Address Convention.

According to the program formulated today, President Taft and his party will be met on the morning of Oct. 30 and taken under military and naval escort to their hotel. In the afternoon of the same day the president will address the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deepwaterways convention. An informal reception to the president will take place that evening. A sacred concert at Tulane university will be given in his honor Sunday afternoon. Mr. Taft is expected to make a talk at that time. He will leave New Orleans Monday.

Vice President Sherman, Speaker Cannon and other distinguished officials will address the waterways convention on Monday and Tuesday.

BOSTON IS IN FOE'S HANDS

City Is Captured By the Enemy in Military Maneuvers in the East.

Militia Fails to Put Up Defense That Keeps Invaders at Bay.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 20.—Boston has fallen! Theoretically the Hub of the Universe today is in the hands of an alien foe, and the brave defenders of the Bay State metropolis are beaten and dispersed.

This is the result of the war game that has been waged about the city throughout the week, in which the forces of the Red army of invasion, commanded by Brig. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, were opposed by the Blue army of defense under Gen. William A. Pew.

As a result of desperate fighting yesterday at Brandyville and along the line of march to Hanover Four Corners, Gen. Bliss' army was declared to have turned the flank of the the Blue army under Gen. Pew, and to have opened a straight road to Boston. Then Gen. Wood, chief umpire of the game, declared the campaign closed.

Fight Decisive "Battle."

The final victory for the New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and District of Columbia troops, who principally formed the invading army, came after the decisive "battle" at Hanover Four Corners between the 9,000 invaders and the 7,000 defenders.

After Gen. Pew commenced his retreat toward this place, Gen. Bliss turned his flank, and the troops engaged in the "closing battle" on the South Harrison road.

WALL STREET IN SPASM OF SALES

Stocks Are Thrown Over at Whatever Prices They Will Bring.

New York, Aug. 20.—Another spasm of liquidation came over the stock market in the first hour today on enormous dealings. Prices of the more active issues, such as the Harriman stocks, Reading, Illinois Central, United States Steel and American Smelting, declined from 2 to 3 points or more. Excitement on the floor of the exchange was intense at times, and the stocks were thrown over at whatever price they would bring.

Aside from further rumors regarding the health of E. H. Harriman, no news was offered in explanation of the sensational decline. Low prices of the morning effected losses ranging from 5 to 15 points below the high level of the last Monday morning.

Just After a Rest.

E. H. Harriman's return from his European trip at this time, earlier than expected, is simply to admit of his obtaining in his home, amidst comforts and conveniences impossible to secure in European hotels, the rest he needs after his treatment abroad, according to Alexander Millar, secretary of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads, who has been abroad with Mr. Harriman. Mr. Millar arrived today on the steamer Mauretania.

"Mr. Harriman's health is by no means as bad as seems the impression on this side," said Mr. Millar. "I don't think he will take any very important part in business for a few weeks after his arrival here."

ST. PAUL IS AFTER POSTMASTERS

May Land Next Meeting of National Convention, First Class.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 20.—Continuation of discussion of present day topics in the postal service made up the program for today's business session of the national convention of postmasters, first class. The first of these were "Relations between postoffices and the railway service," on which papers were read by John R. Carter of Birmingham, Ala., and E. R. Monfort of Cincinnati; and "Should the department discontinue supplying special request envelopes?" which was included in papers by H. C. Plumley of Fargo, N. D., and Isadore Sobel of Erie, Pa. A boat trip to Sugar Island constituted the afternoon and evening entertainment.

The committee on location met today to consider the claims of Richmond, Va., St. Paul, Rochester, Omaha and Washington for the convention of 1910, and will report tomorrow.

$1,000,000 BAD MONEY SEIZED UPON

Plot Is Found to Have Included Making of Fake Stock Certificates.

Sons of Former Judge Are in Jail---One Has Admitted Guilt.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 20.—Today's developments from the arrest of two brothers yesterday on a charge of counterfeiting Mexican currency show that the capture of these men and the seizure of their "mint" was in fact the breaking up of one of the most gigantic swindling and counterfeiting plots that the country ever has known.

In a statement to the press this forenoon, W. G. Osborne, the broker of J. M. Fetter & Co., who revealed the affair to the police, said that Marion Roberts had told him that the headquarters of the gang was at 103 Wall street, New York.

Briefly told, the plan of the operators was to conduct a country-wide imaginary business with imitation collateral. Their scheme, which already had been worked out to the extent of the printing of $1,000,000 in bogus Mexican paper, was to include also the faking of stock certificates of railroads and issuing counterfeit money to pay for them.

Four Behind Bars.

With the exception of a negro who acted as drayman to cart from the counterfeit "mint" at Harrod's Creek, in this county, the bogus 100 peso Mexican notes to this city, the police have behind the bars all those supposed to have been connected with the enterprise unearthed in Kentucky yesterday. John Roberts, who was in charge of the making of the bogus money; Marion Roberts, a brother, who undertook to dispose of it; Nannie Harp, Marion's housekeeper, and William Keonig, who confessed to having

HAS PILOT CHART OF SOUTH PACIFIC

Navy Department Issues First Such Matter Regarding Those Waters.

Washington, Aug. 20.—For the first time in history the South Pacific ocean, with Australia and the East Indies on one margin and South America and Panama on the other, has been portrayed by a pilot chart, issued by the navy department hydrographic office. The chart, which made its appearance today, combines, at a glance, all those varied features that sea captains heretofore have had to seek in scattered books, pamphlets, notices to mariners and in marine charts, including steam and sailing routes, average winds, region of icebergs, magnetic variations and location of wireless telegraph stations. Pilot charts of all the oceans except the Indian ocean are now issued by the hydrographic office.

HEARS EVIDENCE AGAINST MACK

Referee Begins Taking of Testimony in Suit for Divorce.

New York, Aug. 20.—The first of the secret hearings to take the testimony in the suit for absolute divorce which Alice Mack has brought against her husband, Andrew Mack, the singing comedian, was held Wednesday before Leopold W. Harburger.

Harburger was recently appointed referee to decide the merits of the charge which the actress has brought against her husband, whose real name is Andrew McAloon. The comedian was represented by Daniel O'Reilly.

He and the other attorneys interested in the case refused to make public the name of the co-respondent, who is said to be a well known dramatic star. The remainder of the testimony will be taken behind closed doors, and the findings reported to the supreme court.

Fargo Store Damaged.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ten thousand dollars' damage was done to the Tozier department store by a fire supposed to have started from the explosion of a lamp. The greater part of the loss was due to damage from smoke and water.

GET SIX BLIND PIG OPERATORS

Deputy Donahue Rounds Up Bunch of Alleged Liquor Selling.

Six John Doe indictments were returned by the grand jury in July for running blind pigs on the range. Deputy Sheriff George Donahue served all of them on Austrians in the vicinity of Hibbing yesterday and took a sextet of angry liquor dispensers over to Virginia, where they were arraigned. They were released on $300 bail each.

There were four of the blind pigs at the Croxton mine, between Buhl and Chisholm, and two at the Morris mine, near Hibbing. The blind pig industry on the range is becoming a very risky and unpopular business, every session of the grand jury resulting in a number of arrests, and it is said that a number of the illegal liquor joints are closing up of their own accord, because of their owners' desire to escape prosecution.

MACHINERY FOR POWER CONCERN

Rainy River Will Soon Be Furnishing Power at Fort Frances.

Fort Frances, Ont., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first installment of the electrical machinery for the big power dam has arrived from Hamilton, Ont., and as soon as the first unit of the power house is ready to receive it, it will be installed.

As soon as this is done the company will be ready to furnish power for street and commercial lighting. The electric light poles are nearly ready for placing in position and by the end of September it is confidently hoped that all will be in readiness for the street lights. These will likely be 1600 candle power arc lamps and so placed that the town will be well lighted. Those who contemplate lighting their residences and places of business should get busy at once and have the installation done so as to not delay the work of placing the lights. The town council is very desirous of starting with a large number of consumers so as to enable a better service to be given. The steel work on the pulp mill is proceeding rapidly and it will not be long before this large building will be roofed in. The contractors hope to have the external work on the power house and pulp mill all completed by Oct. 1, after which the electrical engineers and pulp experts will place the machinery in position.

SHE REPENTS OF DOUBLE MURDER

Woman Who Killed Two Children Realizes Enormity of Act.

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Anton Straus, who killed her two children, Mary, aged 3, and Elizabeth, aged 1, at her home, five miles from Tabor, this, Polk county, yesterday afternoon by beheading them with an ax, while demented, has partially regained her senses since being brought here to the county jail, and expresses sorrow over the enormity of her crime.

According to current reports, the manner in which the insane mother killed her offspring rivalled anything told of Far Eastern brutality. It is said that after she had beheaded the two children in the chicken house shed used for killing chickens, she undressed them, burying their clothing in a manure pile.

Leaving the naked, blood-smeared bodies upon the floor, she ran to the home of a neighbor a mile and a half distant to secure a gun for the purpose of killing two other children who were working in the garden at home, ignorant of the affair. The gun was not given her, and she was placed under watch until Polk county officials reached the scene last night. The insane mother has been out of the Fergus Falls asyium only seven weeks, having twice been committed there. The father and eldest child were away at the time of the double murder.

ACCUSED SAUK CENTER JUDGE DENIES CHARGE.

St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 20.—Judge W. A. Morse of Sauk Center, charged with embezzlement, was arraigned here yesterday and pleaded not guilty. He asserts that Examiner Swinborn never looked at his docket and that he can prove his innocence. He declares that Mayor Minnette of Sauk Center is at the bottom of his trouble and that Minnette fears he will be a candidate for the legislature and thus thwart his own aspirations.

SECOND TO SEATTLE.

Fargo Postoffice Business Gain Next to Sound Metropolis.

Fargo, N. D., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo's July postoffice business showed a percentage of increase second only to that of Seattle in the entire United States. Seattle had 41.74 per cent increase, due to the big Yukon exposition. Fargo was next with 34.73 and nothing but the normal increase in business to make the big gain. Dayton, Ohio, was third with 33.13. The average for the fifty leading cities of the country was 8.78, while St. Paul had 12.54 and Minneapolis 8.48.

MICHIGAN POSTMASTERS MAY BE GONE FIVE DAYS.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Postmasters of the third and fourth classes in Michigan, by order of the postmaster general, are granted leave of absence for as many days, not exceeding five, as may be necessary to enable them to attend the annual convention of the Michigan State League of Postmasters at Grand Rapids, Sept. 22 and 23.

CHICAGO AGAIN FACES STRIKE

North and West Side Car Employes Reject Terms of Employers.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Rejection by the North and West side street car men's union last night of the proposed wage schedule offered by President Roach of the Chicago Railways company, again brings within the range of possibilities a strike of all street car men of this city. An amicable settlement of the dispute, however, is still hoped for, and those hopes are based to a great extent on the efforts which will probably be made by President William Mahon of the International Street Car Men's union, who is expected here today to take charge of the situation.

Rounding Up The Police.

Possibility of a strike prompted Acting Chief of Police Schuettler to issue an order today instructing commanding officers to cancel all applications of policemen for furloughs and also to learn the whereabouts of all policemen now on furloughs so that they may be summoned for duty in the event of a walkout of the street car employes.

IMPRESSED BY HARBOR.

Harvester Company Officials See Its Sights From a Launch.

T. A. Coleman of Madison, Wis., Western manager of the International Harvester company, and S. White of Chicago, attorney for the company, left for their homes yesterday, after a visit with Frank Spurbeck of this city. They came up the lakes on the freighter Thomas Barlum. The boat loaded at Allouez and the visitors were brought to Duluth in a launch by Mr. Spurbeck. They were greatly impressed with the Duluth harbor and the natural location of the city as a great commercial center, and expressed surprise that the city had not grown faster than it has.

Player Pianos

Have Come to Stay

And there are many different brands, but those containing the Genuine Pianola Player mechanism will undoubtedly give by far the greatest satisfaction. They are endorsed by professional musicians throughout the world. Are considered not only a help to the beginners, but even to the learned performer. Instead of taking the place of the teacher, they create a demand for teachers of known ability, and higher musical education. A man or woman of 40, 50 or 60 years of age may take up the study of music with the aid of the Pianola Piano, and accomplish what was neglected in youth, and missed throughout life; may find pleasure and consequently profit. Stiff and unruly fingers no longer bar you from being a musician. The Chelton Genuine Pianola Piano costs $450.00. A moderate price, indeed, for this splendid instrument. More elaborate instruments may be had—65 and 88 note—to prices ranging all along the line to the Steinway Grand Pianola Piano at $2,200. This, of course, is the highest conception by man of a musical instrument. Anything better will have to be evolved by some genius of future generations.

THIEF RIVER FALLS MILLS BEING FIRED UP.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Aug. 20.—Special to The Herald.)—The Hanson-Barzen flour mills in this city are being improved by the introduction of the most modern machinery known for the cleaning of the kernels of grain before they are ground into flour. As these mills are the largest in this northwestern section of the state and enjoy a large domestic and foreign trade, the owners frequently purchase the latest in flour milling machinery.

URGES ATTENTION FOR RELEASED CONVICTS.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20.—The annual congress of the American Prison association ended last night. The report of the committee on the care of released prisoners, of which D. M. Sawyer of New Jersey is chairman, said: "On every side will be seen efforts being made to keep people out of prison, but the weak spot is the utter absence of care by the state toward its discharged prisoners. It must be individual treatment; the paroled men must feel that they are something more than a number."

ENDED LIFE WITH POISON

Miss Ida Putilla, 28 years old, died at St. Luke's hospital yesterday afternoon as the result of poison taken with suicidal intent. She was a domestic, and roomed at 324 St. Croix avenue.

Despondency is supposed to have been the cause of the woman's desire to kill herself. She has not been in good health lately, and for a time was dependent upon the county for support. She was a Finn.

Death resulted from a large dose of corrosive sublimate, and there is believed to be no doubt that it was taken with suicidal intent. She was hurried to the hospital immediately after her rash act, but the attending physicians were unable to save her life.

Not much is known of the woman or her relatives, but it is said she came to this country only a few years ago, determined to make her way in the world. She got along all right for a time ,but misfortune in the shape of bad health befell her, and she finally became completely discouraged.

AUTO STRIKES BOY ON WHEEL

While rounding the corner at Second avenue west and First street going east this morning, N. H. Smith in his Maxwell runabout ran over Charles Hickey, a 14-year-old boy who lives with his parents on West Third street. The boy was riding a bicycle and the street was crowded with teams at the time. The boy turned out from behind one of them just as the machine turned up the hill. He turned directly in front of the automobile and, seeing his danger became confused and fell. The wheel passed over his leg, but the car is a light one, and there were no bones broken and no serious injuries.

The boy was able to walk to the automobile and Mr. Smith rushed him down to the office of Dr. C. W. Taylor, where his hurts were cared for. Mr. Smith promised the youngster a new wheel for the one he smashed.

SUES IRON COMPANY.

John Forsell Wants Nearly $2,000 for Mine Accident.

John Forsell yesterday commenced suit against the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company for injuries he received while working in one of the drifts of the Crosby mine, near Nashwauk, on Feb. 6 of this year.

According to the complaint, he and a number of workmen had just made a blast in the new drift which was being made, and were waiting for the smoke and dust to clear away, when a portion of the roof fell and several tons of rock pinioned him to the floor. He received injuries about the head and shoulders, which sent him to the hospital for a long period, and he wants $1,995 for his injuries.

He claims that the company was negligent in not supporting the roof of the mine with adequate timbers.

TO JAIL FOR NINETY DAYS

W. E. Bealer, charged with petit larceny, was fined $100 and costs in municipal court this morning. He did not have the money, so will have to spend the next ninety days in the county jail.

Bealer was arrested upon complaint of E. Cameron, who told the police that he went to bed with the man in a Bowery hotel last night. He woke up during the night and saw Bealer leaving the room. Suspecting something wrong, Cameron felt in his pockets and found $7.85 missing, so he hastily donned his clothes, followed his roommate and succeeded in locating him.

J. W. Peters, a bartender in a West end saloon, was also fined $100 and costs, with an alternative of ninety days in jail. He was found guilty of selling intoxicating liquor to a drunken man, after he had been instructed not to supply him with drinks.

FLOCKING TO DULUTH

The railroad men are flocking to town.

Each train that reaches the city from the Twin Cities is bringing to Duluth today railroad men who are known throughout the Northwest. They are coming here to help make the annual gathering of the Gambol on the Green club the best convention of railroad men that has ever been held at the Head of the Lakes.

This evening, as stated in The Herald, the business meeting of the organization will be held at the Spalding hotel. The program includes the election of officers for the ensuing year. After the business meeting the program will be of an informal nature.

Tomorrow at Fond du Lac a baseball game will be held between the railroad men of Duluth and Superior and the railroad men of the world. No one is barred in the lineup of the men that will oppose the locals. It is stated today that Edwin H. Lee, manager of the Spalding, and an old college baseball player, will pitch for the Duluth and Superior men. Mart Adson, president of the organization, is slated to don the mask and pad.

The steamer Newsboy is being stocked with provisions enough to feed an army. The boat will leave the foot of Fifth avenue with the merry railroaders. It is due to return to Duluth at 4 in the afternoon. The program of the railroad men will be continued throughout the evening.

All details of the two days meeting have been completed. The officers of the organization—Mart Adson, president; A. M. Fenton, first vice president; G. A. Sherwood, second vice president; F. C. Buckley, secretary; F. J. Ober, treasurer; Clarence Kelly, general manager and press agent have worked industriously to make the meeting a success. A large attendance is assured, and the most successful meeting in the history of the organization and a good booose for Duluth, is due.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The Sunday afternoon devotional meetings at the Young Women's Christian association will be resumed Sunday, Aug. 29 when Mrs. Burton St. John who arrived in the city today will speak on "The Young Women of China." The Sunday afternoon meetings were discontinued during the summer, but with the formal opening of the fall work with Mrs. St. John as the first speaker the meetings will be resumed. Mrs. St. John was formerly a Duluth young woman and there is much interest in her return as she has been a missionary to China during the last seven years.

FIRST REHEARSAL.

Work on "Up and Down Broadway" Begins.

The management of "Up and Down Broadway" has announced that during the weeks of rehearsal there will positively be no audiences when the amateur show people are learning to sing and dance and roquet all at one and the same time. The effort, when it is unaccustomed, is a bit trying just at first, and an audience of too well known critics is a thing not to be tolerated, and so the doors of the ballroom of the Spalding, where the practicing will be held, are to be coldly closed against all but the active participants. The first rehearsal was held last evening with Donald McDonald as musical director, stage manager, and dancing instructor. The piece will be given at the Lyceum Sept. 10 and 11 under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club.

Among the soloists and those prominent in the cast, will be Mrs. Frank Leach, Miss Jane Everington, Miss Annie Hugo, Miss Frances Woodbridge, Miss Marie Clark Miss Bessie Bailey, Miss Sybilla Hartman, Joe Lonegren, John Konczny and Walter Smith.

Miss Marie Agatin and Mr. McDonald will do the "Chick Song" from "The Country Girl." Among the features will be one from the recent all-star Gambol of the Lambs' club "After the Matinee" and another feature will be "Aren't You the Girl I met at Sherry's?" in which Miss Rachael St. Clair, Miss Senta Erd, Miss Berta Schneid, Miss Marie Agatin and Miss Marjorie Shipherd will take part. The piece will be in three acts.

The rehearsals this year will not be so numerous as last year when "The Talk of the Town" was presented as there is a longer time in which to prepare. The men will be put through their paces this evening by Mr. McDonald and tomorrow afternoon the first rehearsals for the young women will be held.

EXTENSIVE LECTURES.

Prof. Sanford May Be Part of University Course.

Prof. Maria Sanford who returned from the faculty of the University of Minnesota at the close of the summer schooy this year has consented to give her art lecture course at the summer school this year has consented to give one of the most popular in the college of science, literature and arts and many requests were made that Miss Sanford be secured for next year if possible. There is a movement now on foot to have Prof. Sanford identify herself with the university extension course lectures next fall, and if Miss Sanford decides to undertake this work there is a possibility that she will be secured for a local lecture.

READER'S RECITAL.

Harriet Labadie to Be Heard in Duluth.

Thorpe's place at Hubert Wednesday evening, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Lowrie, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Brainerd. Mr. and Mrs. Heald will spend their honeymoon at Briardale, the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. SMART TALK

Is Taught to Fashionable Society Women.

It would seem that no woman should be altogether discouraged as long as new occupations develop as they have during the last decade. In London there is already a new calling which was noticed for the first time this year in numbers sufficient to entitle it to rank among the recognized trades of women who have to support themselves, says the Detroit Free Press.

The claims on the time of a woman of society in the swiftest whirl of London life are now so great that she cannot be expected to keep up with the latest news of the world, the smartest talk about the new books or even the latest notes of fashions. With her social duties and their necessary preparation she has her hands full. It is to supply her with these necessary attributes for conversation that intelligent young women in London are devoting their time. They go once a week, sometimes daily, and while their patrons are in the hands of the hairdresser, their maid or even their dressmakers, they talk to them about the interesting affairs of the day, telling them just what is new in politics, art and literature. In this way my lady is able to acquire sufficient information to appear with credit.

It sometimes happens that one of these universal providers of small talk may literally coach her employer for some particular function she is going to attend, whether it be a dinner that will demand a certain amount of acquaintance with politics or science or literature. Her duty is to make these subjects as clear and comprehensible as she can in as short a time as possible. So successful has this new field been that the number of intelligent, well informed girls who now earn a good living in this way has greatly increased during the last year.

A Kitchen Library.

"Have a little library in your kitchen," advises an Englishwoman. "I always encourage my servants to read as much as possible in their leisure moments, for I have always found that a little light literature brings a pleasant sense of relief to the mind after the daily worries inseparable from looking after a house.

"A supply of entertaining books of fiction in every kitchen would do much to counteract the tendency to mental infirmities of those engaged in household work consequent upon the inevitable monotony of their duties."

An American woman who has had much trouble with incompetent servants retorted, on hearing of the Briton's plans: "If I started such a library in my kitchen, the first volume would be 'How to Cook.'"

THE M. & I. TERMINALS.

Removing Obstructions on Lake Bemidji Shore That Are in the Way.

Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The work of removing the telephone poles on the southeast side of Lake Bemidji so that the terminals of the Minnesota & International railway may be completed is progressing rapidly and will be completed the first of next week. Fred Baumgardner, long-distance lineman for the Northwestern Telephone company, has had charge of the work, and had working with him a crew of ten men. Harry Mills, roadmaster for the Minnesota & International railroad is in charge of the work of installing the roundhouse, machine shop and other buildings, and the dirt is flying at a rapid rate.

It is estimated that the cost of the new terminals will amount to at least $40,000.

BAND CONCERT AT OATKA BEACH

Third Regiment Band Will Render Program Next Sunday.

Have you enjoyed an outing on Minnesota Point this season?

Take the family to Oatka beach Sunday afternoon and hear the free open air concert to be given by Flaaten's Third Regiment band.

This will be the first entertainment for the public at Oatka beach since the White City closed a year ago. The buildings have been removed and the grounds beautifully parked, with plenty of benches and tables. The beach is one of the most delightful places in the city for an outing, and many people, no doubt, will go down early in the day, taking their lunches to eat in the park.

Special arrangements have been made by the Park Point Street Railway company to give frequent service and the crowds will be handled quickly and with comfort, no matter how large.

Double service will be given by the aerial bridge in the afternoon and evening.

Don't fail to hear the splendid program, enjoy the lake breeze and spend an afternoon in a way you will remember with pleasure.

TAFT NOT TO TALK WHILE IN ST. PAUL

Twin City Men's Plans Get Official O. K. From Beverly.

St. Paul, Aug. 20.—There will be no set speech by President Taft on the occasion of his visit to St. Paul Saturday, Sept. 18. The local reception committee had not definitely decided upon plans, but it was expected that the president would speak at the Auditorium as part of the program. This has been eliminated in accordance with a telegram from the presidential summer home.

President Taft is to be entertained at a luncheon in St. Paul on Saturday, but the hour has not yet been decided. After luncheon, Mr. Warner thinks, it is probable that a reception will be made.

A telegram from President Taft's secretary, Fred W. Carpenter, at Beverly, Mass., was received by Eli S. Warner, president of the St. Paul Commercial club, last night, informing him of the president's approval of the program outlined by the Twin City committee.

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Ever since its discovery, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialists who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles should immediately secure one of the special 50-cent packages recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may be obtained at the Lyceum pharmacy and W. A. Abbett's in Duluth, Holmberg's in Superior, and other leading drug stores.

GREEK REPLY IS IN PEACE TERMS

Powers Expect No More Trouble Between That Nation and Turkey.

London, Aug. 20.—Greece's reply to the last Turkish note regarding Crete has been communicated to the powers. Its terms are conciliatory and diplomatists here consider that it should be satisfactory to the porte.

The note regrets that after Greece's previous assurances the Turkish government still complains of the attitude of Greece in Rumelia and Crete, and sets forth to say that the Greek government deplores equally with the other governments that anarchy and agitation which ruined the population of Macedonia, irrespective of race and religion, and it points out that as soon as the new Turkish regime gave grounds for the hope that the situation would be improved, the Greek government did all in its power to assist in the re-establishment of order in Macedonia and intends to continue that policy.

Regarding Crete, the note reiterates that the Greek government will conform entirely with the decisions of the four protecting powers and will abstain from encouraging any eventful agitation in that island.

SAY THEY DID NOT HAZE SUTTON

Dismissed Cadets Issue Statement On Leaving West Point.

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The seven cadets dismissed for hazing Rolando Sutton left the military reservation last night. Before their departure they united in the following statement:

"On the night of June 19, a large number of cadets had a little celebration. There was no thought of hazing anyone. We encountered a cadet sentry. We did not know it was Sutton, or even that it was a plebe. He ran after some of the men and tackled them. There was a friendly skirmish and the sentry was hurt.

"As we understand it there must be deliberate or malicious intent to constitute hazing. There was no such intent on our part.

"We were summoned before the court and each man obliged to convict himself by his own testimony. That seems a little hard. Please state, however, that we have the highest respect and admiration for the commandant of cadets and the court."

The seven cadets are: John H. Booker, Jr., of West Point, Ga., first class; Richard W. Hocker, Kansas City, Mo., third class; Earle W. Dunmore, Utica, N. Y., third class; Chauncey C. Devore, Wheeling, W. Va., third class; Gordon Lefevre, Richmond, Va., third class; Albert E. Crane, Howarden, Ia., third class; Jacob S. Fortner, Dothan, Ala., third class.

TWO ARE KILLED IN AUTO RACES

Tragedy Marks Long Run in Big Contests At Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20.—William A. Bourque of Springfield, Mass., and Harry Holcomb of Grandville, Mass., were killed yesterday when their Knox racing machine crashed into the fence on the home stretch of the Indianapolis motor speedway. Bourque, the driver of the car, died as he was being lifted into the ambulance, and Holcomb, his mechanician, died a few minutes after he arrived at the emergency hospital. Bourque had two legs broken, his skull fractured and the physicians say that he was drowned in his own blood, being unable to breath on account of the blood pouring down his throat.

Holcomb had three holes in his skull and both arms broken.

Their car was running second to Burman and had covered nearly 150 miles of the 250-mile race at the time of the accident. The crash took place on the west side of the course and about 300 yards from the grandstand. The car turned over when it left the track and pinned both men beneath it.

Racing for Years.

Bourque had been in the employ of the Knox company for seven years and for four years had been a racing driver. He finished second to Chevrolet in the recent Cobe trophy race at Crown Point, Ind. Just before the Cobe race he was seriously injured in a hill climb at Springfield, Mass. Holcomb had been in the employ of the Knox company for two years.

The bodies of Bourque and Holcomb were taken East today.

Cause is a Mystery.

Stories as to the cause of the accident vary and no one will ever know what really caused the car of death to swerve from the track. According to the story told by Private Frank Brandor, Camp H, Second regiment, Indiana National Guard, who was nearest to the scene of the accident and had a narrow escape from injury, something caused both men to suddenly turn and look behind. As they did so the steering wheel slipped from Bourque's hands and he threw his arms helplessly in the air. Then came the crash.

One of the rear wheels was found a few hundred feet from the scene of the accident, and this has led to the advancement of the theory that the axle nuts on it had not been properly tightened when the machine had taken on a new tire shortly before. The men probably felt that the wheel was slipping off, and after they looked behind they realized their helplessness to prevent an accident.

Albert Denison, the racing partner of Bourque, collapsed after the accident and the services of a physician were required. The sight of the two men lying dead was too much for the friend of both, who has been called on so often to face death in the same manner.

Chevrolet Is Overcome.

Louis Chevrolet, the French driver of the Buick team, almost blinded with tar and dust from the track, was led into the hospital shortly after the two men had died. The Frenchman, who had been leading during the early part of the long race, was forced to give up. As he gazed upon the bodies of his two former rivals of the track, he muttered, "Too bad, too bad," and then staggered to a chair, too weak to stand both the physical and emotional strain of the moment.

FIVE HAVE VANISHED FROM KANSAS TOWN.

Williamsburg, Kan., Aug. 20.—This usually quiet town is greatly wrought up because of the mysterious disappearance of five of its residents within the last five weeks.

Rev. Wallace M. Stuckey, pastor of the Christian church and well known as an evangelist in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, was the first to go. He left a wife and three children, who are destitute.

The four others who disappeared are Lorena Sutherland, aged 16 years; Harry C. Thomas, aged 24; Wilbur Fogel, aged 22, and Miss Maggie Timmons, aged 15.

Secretary of the Interior Defends His Course as to Public Domain.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 20.—"As long as any public lands remain to be administered, there will be complaints," declared Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger yesterday, speaking of the recent discussion at Spokane and the complaints concerning the reclamation service.

"Some of the settlers on the reclamation projects,' he continued, "were ignorant of the conditions which would confront them and they settled on the land expecting to reap a fortune without the necessity of understanding irrigation methods. They have been disillusionized and now desire the government to release them from their contracts and to reimburse them for their expenditures.

"I realize there are some things in the law governing the disposition of public lands that ought to be modified, and I shall suggest such changes in a report to congress. In the meantime the established policy of the interior department will continue."

"Gross Misrepresentations."

"There have been gross misrepresentations regarding action of the department in certain matters.

"It will be shown, however when the facts are made known, that despite the claims of the restoration of power sites during this administration that actually more sites have been withdrawn during the administration than during the former ones, and that none withdrawn under the former administration have been 'grabbed.'

"There was no controversy between Mr. Pinchot and myself at the irrigation congress in Spokane. I was invited there to make an address on the work of the interior department as it affected matters in which the irrigationists are interested. I did not enter into defense of my course as compared with that of an official in another department. Those who expected a controversy were disappointed so far as I was concerned."

SPECIAL STAMPS FOR HUDSON CELEBRATION.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Acting Secretary Reynolds of the treasury department yesterday signed an order for the issuance of 50,000,000 Hudson-Fulton postage stamps by the bureau of engraving and printing. The stamps were ordered by the postoffice department in commemoration of the celebration next month of the operation of the first steamboat on the Hudson river. The entire issue will be ready for delivery to postoffices throughout the country by the middle of September.

Postmaster-General Hitchcock has approved an order authorizing the substitution of the word "celebration" for "centenary," which was used in the original design of the stamps.

Mauretania Does It Again.

New York, Aug. 20.—The Cunard liner Mauretania anchored off Quarantine last night after a run over the short course which now gives her all records for the eastward and westward trips. She did the 2,783 knots in 4 days, 14 hours and 38 minutes, as against the best performance of her sister ship, the Lusitania, over the same course, of 4 days and 15 hours flat. Her record over the long course, which is 110 miles longer, is 4 days, 15 hours, 55 minutes.

TRYING OUT AUTO FOR ARMY DISPATCH WORK.

New York, Aug. 20.—A military automobile, with Malcolm E. Parrot of the national guard of New York at the wheel, left New York today for San Francisco, bearing dispatches from Maj. Gen. Wood, commanding the Department of the East, to Gen. Weston, commanding the Department of the West. The trip will cover 3,693 miles, and cross eleven states. On its success, it is said, will largely depend the establishment of a regular automobile service for the army.

LINE WILL BE REBUILT

Decision on West Duluth and Bayview Heights Incline.

That the incline railway which has been operated for the past twenty years between West Duluth and Bayview Heights, and which was put out of commission by the storm of July 22, will be rebuilt, was the decision arrived at this afternoon at a meeting of the stockholders of the company, held in the Lyceum building.

Some changes will be made when the line is reconstructed. It will run from the Bay View Heights power house to Grand avenue at West Duluth along the same course as the old roadbed along Kingsbury creek. The West Duluth terminal was formerly on North Central avenue near Main street.

When the roadbed is built, it is understood that it will be of good rock ballast so that it cannot easily be washed away again. But little of the old roadbed can be used, as the storm played havoc with the line at almost every place. A report gained currency a few days ago that the cable line would be abandoned on account of the storm damage.

At the West Duluth terminal on Grand avenue and Sixtieth avenue west it is planned to make connections with the Duluth Street Railway company. It is understood that the street car company will put on double truck cars this fall, and if such is the case it is said that much time will be saved in getting from West Duluth to Proctor. Officials of the belt line company say that with this service installed this connection will shorten the distance from Bay View Heights to Duluth by ten minutes.

By building the station at Sixtieth avenue west and Grand avenue instead of Main street and North Fifty-fifth avenue west, where the old station was, the company shortens its line by several blocks and also avoids considerable trestle work which would not be necessary in the approach to the Grand avenue terminal. It also gives a connection with the Grand avenue line, which will evertually be extended to the new steel plant. The suggestion from some West Duluth and Proctor people that a line be built from Bayview Heights to Proctor, was considered at the meeting, but the idea was abandoned owing to the opposition understood to exist among some people at Proctor to the granting of the franchise for such a line.

It was stated at Proctor that a petition would be circulated asking that the Duluth street railway extend its line from West Duluth to Proctor, when the new road that the Commercial club has been urging has been built. The grade on the road, it is claimed, would easily accommodate street cars. It is said to be about 4½ per cent at the most.

The petition asking the street car company to consider the request of some of the Proctor people is now being circulated and will in a few days be presented to the officials of the company.

A private company from Proctor has for the past few weeks been running a bus line from the end of the Fifty-seventh avenue west car line to Proctor, thus accommodating the people from that part of the city. At West Duluth, it is also said, there is much sentiment favoring the extension of the line from Duluth to Proctor.

CRUSHED BY ORE TRAIN

Erick Anderson, 22 years old, a laborer employed on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern ore docks, was instantly killed at the docks at 9 o'clock last night, by being run over by a train. The body was horribly mangled.

No one witnessed the accident, but it is believed the young man was reaching underneath an ore car for some tools he had left between the rails, when the train unexpectedly started up, catching him before he could get back to safety. His body was found by fellow workers a few minutes later. Life was then extinct.

The authorities were notified, and the remains were taken to Durkan & Crawford's undertaking rooms, where they are being held awaiting the decision of relatives as to funeral arrangements. Anderson's old home was in Southern Wisconsin, and the body may be shipped there for interment.

The deceased lived with his brother, Andrew Anderson, at 1907 West First street. He was unmarried.

Receive Court Summons.

Mrs. P. Nelson and Mrs. Agnes Rask, president and secretary of the Skandinavenske Kvinderfornering of Fond du Lac, a religious society, have been summoned to appear before Judge Cant in the district court and explain what right the society has to be occupying a building on the public square of Fond du Lac. The case is in connection with the city's recent application for a judge's deed to the land in question. The public square is located between Third and Fourth streets and Thompson and Paul avenues.

Will Have Picnic Supper.

Members of the Hematite club of the Westminster Presbyterian church will have a picnic supper this evening on Grassy Point. The young people will meet at the church at 6 o'clock and will leave in a body for the camp. Luncheon will be served at 7:30 o'clock.

Trip Is Postponed.

Because of the illness of one of the members, the annual hay-rack ride and corn-roasting party of the Baptist Young People's union of the West Duluth Baptist church, which was to have occurred this evening, has been postponed for two weeks. It will be given on Friday, Sept. 3.

The afternoon was spent with those sports characteristic of the Scot, and a very pleasant day was passed.

Runaway Accident.

In a runaway accident this afternoon on Grand avenue at West Duluth, a milkwagon collided into a load of hay and the wagon overturned. It was reported that a young man giving his name as Holmberg was injured. The Holmberg boy was driving the milk wagon.

It is understood that his injuries are not of a very serious nature.

QUICK ACTION SAVES BOY IN CANADIAN SOO.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Had it not been for the prompt action of the captain of the steamer Matthew Andrews and the canal employes, Bruce Killen, a newsboy, who fell into the Canadian lock this morning while the boat was passing through, would have been crushed to death between the boat and the canal wall, in identically the same manner in which W. D. Cogswell lost his life at the American locks yesterday morning.

The captain, who was at the wheel, saw the boy fall into the lock and, realizing the danger in an instant, had the bow lines slackened and the stern lines tightened, thus throwing the boat away from the boy in the water, who was rescued by canal employes.

HIS FAMILY HOLDS FOUR KINGS

HENRY GASSAWAY DAVIS.

DESCENDANT OF SEVERAL KINGS

Henry Gassaway Davis' Ancestry Is Looked Into in Europe.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 20.—In the veins of Henry Gassaway Davis, erstwhile railway brakeman, flows more royal blood than any king of Europe can boast of, and hence his grand-daughter, Miss Elkins, has a perfect right to become the Duchess d'Abruzzi, at least so says Mrs. A. L. Richardson, who has returned here from her genealogical researches in Europe.

According to Mrs. Richardson, Miss Elkins is directly descended from Pepin, from Charlemagne and his line of French kings; from Alfred the Great, of England; from Vladimir, czar of Russia, and such a host of lesser king's, princes, dukes, etc., as would fill a book.

"There is scarcely," said Mrs. Richardson, "a historic shrine, castle or cathedral in England and France, or Italy, that has not some direct ancestral interest for Senator Davis' children."

STOLE WHEEL AND SOLD IT

Lloyd Jackson Is Sent to Jail for Sixty Days.

Lloyd Jackson, arrested yesterday afternoon, stole a bicycle and sold it for $8, taking 80 cents in part payment, the police claim. When searched at headquarters a 50-cent piece was found concealed in his mouth. The other 30 cents was found in his pocket.

The stolen wheel belonged to Allan Burrill, and was standing in front of the Torrey building when a stranger, said to be Jackson, got on it and rode away. The owner was a witness to the act and notified a policeman.

The missing man and the missing wheel were located. Jackson already had bargained to sell it for $8, and had taken 80 cents in part payment, it is said, while the buyer went to look for more money.

Jackson was fined $75 and costs in municipal court this morning, with sixty days in jail as an alternative. Having no money, he was forced to take the jail sentence.

WRIGHTS ASK FOR RIGHT TO SMASH RIVAL AEROPLANE

along similar lines as theirs. Regarded in this light, it was pointed out, the suit is likely to have a most important bearing on the development of aerial navigation. The Herring-Curtiss machine is at present the only American rival of importance in the commercial field, but practically all the experimental heavier-than-air machines that have met with any degree of success in this country have been constructed along lines, which, apparently, the Wrights regarded as pre-empted by their patents.

The Original Flyers.

In the bill of complaint, filed yesterday, the Wrights set forth that their claims to the sole rights in heavier-than-air flying machines of this type, "have been recognized by the United States government, which has purchased some of the machines; while the sovereigns of other countries have given similar acknowledgement." The bill continues:

"The inventions of the complainants are of great value and utility. They constitute the first instance in the history of the countless attempts to produce flying machines wherein a 'heavier-than-air' machine ever made aerial flights and wherein the machine was within the control and will of the operator. Thus the complainants have given the world the first machine to fly actually and successfully, and in this sense their work is a creation or embodiment of a new art, and an epoch in aerial endeavor, human flight having been for ages before a synonym for failure and impossibility."

Willard's Flight Fails.

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 20.—C. Foster Willard's first attempt to win the trophy offered by the Scientific American for the longest flight by an aeroplane failed today because of an accident to the framework of his machine, the Golden Flyer. One of the supports of the rear horizontal rudder was broken in starting, and this prevented the vertical rudder from working. After flying in a semi-circle for nearly a mile, Willard was compelled to alight and postpone further attempts until next week.

The scene of the flight was Hempstead Plains, L. I., where Charles M Manly of the Aeronautic society, which owns the aeroplane, had established a circular course about one and one-third miles in circumference. The machine is the one formerly operated by Glenn H. Curtiss, whose record flight of 52 minutes and 40 seconds a few weeks ago Willard is trying to exceed.

Couldn't Steer Machine.

Before starting, Willard had some trouble with the oil pump of his engine, and this delayed his start for about an hour. Then to test the pump he made a preliminary flight around the course and alighted.

The start for the trophy was made at 6:35 a. m. Owing to the roughness of the ground near the starting point an extra strain was put upon the rear horizontal rudder in rising from the starting rail, with the result that the rudder doubled up and interfered with the operation of the vertical rudder. Willard kept on for about a mile, but at the third turn, when two-thirds the distance around the circle was completed, he discovered that he was unable to steer the machine and came to the ground.

Repairs were made quickly, but as the test must be made in the presence of Mr. Manly, representing the aeronautic society, a second attempt at a distance flight cannot occur before Monday, which is the first day on which Mr. Manly can be present.

R. H. Green of Texas, son of Hetty Green, was one of the spectators of today's flight.

BIG BREWER IS INDICTED

ed statements were confirmed by the finding of true bills against Charles Katz, president of the Eastern Brewing company of Brooklyn, and W. L. Clarke, the broker, who approached the Windsor Trust company for Joyce.

A warrant also was issued for the arrest of Sterling Birmingham, the trust company's discharged loan clerk, who is accused of having accepted a gratuity of $250 for putting through the loan involved in the case. To accept such a fee is a misdemeanor under the laws of the state.

Connected With Persch.

Both Katz and Persch had desk room in Clarke's office, and both received additions to their bank accounts shortly after the loan went through. In fact, all the men arrested or indicted thus far have been shown to be closely connected with Donald Persch, who is still a prisoner in the Tombs, unable to raise $50,000 bail.

The specific charge against Mr. Katz is complicity in the alleged theft of 20,000 shares of copper stock, which disappeared from the custody of the Windsor Trust company—with whom it had been deposited as collateral for a loan of $50,000 to M. M. Joyce, a broker for F. Augustus Heinze—and bobbed up again in the curb market, where Heinze bought it back again.

the Chinese government at once approved the line as already surveyed.

"On Aug. 13 China answered this Japanese communication in such terms that the Japanese government felt justified in assuming that China was fully prepared to recognize the immediate necessity of reconstructing the road, and desired to render all necessary co-operation. The Japanese government, therefore, in consideration of the friendly relations between Japan and China, instructed its representative at Mukden to sign a memo with the viceroy and governor.

Memorandum Signed.

"This was done Aug. 19, and the substance of the memorandum is as follows:

"'First, the Antung-Mukden railroad shall be the same gauge as the Pekin-Mukden line; second, Japan and China recognize and approve the line as already surveyed, but the location of a portion of the line between Mukden and Chun Halang; Tung shall be decided after a conference between representatives of the two nations; third, negotiations for the purchase of land and the adjustment of all details shall be instituted from the date of the signature of the memorandum; fourth, from the day after the signature have been affixed, the work of reconstruction shall be accelerated, and fifth, China shall instruct her local officials along the line to give every facility in the matter of the execution of the work.'"

DARING AND GIGANTIC SWINDLE UNEARTHED

printed the notes, all were arrested. Mrs. Keonig was released under bond and Mrs. Harp on her own recognizance.

John Roberts has announced that he will plead guilty in the federal court. The final details of the swindling plot were exposed by the police and J. M. Fetter & Co., Louisville brokers, who were approached by Marion Roberts. A brass-bound trunk with $1,000,000 in Mexican notes will be the chief evidence in the case against the alleged swindlers in the federal court.

Story Develops Fast.

Since the hour of the arrest of John Roberts, with the counterfeit money in his possession there has been unraveled in the customs house of Louisville and in the central police station a remarkable tale of attempted financial buccaneering that rivals some of the boldest exploits in the making of spurious currency.

John Roberts, sitting in the office of the secret service bureau, coolly said that he would plead guilty at the October term of the court, and seemed resigned about spending a majority of his remaining years in the prison at Atlanta, Ga. He had only wanted to be rich, he said.

It was through Marion Roberts that the counterfeiters were apprehended and their plan exposed. Marion Roberts some days ago offered a Louisville broker some Mexican money for him. The broker notified Chief of Police J. H. Haager, who at once enlisted secret service men and the trap to catch Marion Roberts was successfully sprung. Since Marion Roberts' arrest Monday the police learned from him the information which led to the descent upon his brother at Simpsonville yesterday.

When Deputy United States Marshal Blaydes confronted John Roberts in the hamlet in Shelby county, the chief counterfeiter admitted that he was behind the plan to dispose of the imitation 100-peso notes through the broker. He showed Blaydes the trunk, which with Roberts was brought to Louisville.

Just Waiting for Machine.

Roberts said that had a perforating machine and a device to number the bills reached him when he had expected them, he would have been in Mexico a week ago. Roberts is a son of a former judge in this city.

Slender and Beautiful

How Stout People Regain a Perfect Shape.

When a person is too stout and contemplates a special treatment in order to regain slenderness and beauty of form, there is one vital recommendation to be borne in mind; do nothing, take nothing that might possibly be detrimental to health and strength. That means, do not go in for fasting; avoid violent exercising; but take plenty of rest and enjoy rational meals.

With this exordium we will proceed to give the full recipe of the preparation, for reducing weight to normal and restoring slenderness and beauty, which is now in vogue everywhere: ½ oz. Marmoia, ½ oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and 3½ oz. Peppermint Water.

Any druggist will make up this prescription or supply the ingredients to mix at home. Take one teaspoonful of this harmless mixture after each meal and at bedtime. This truly scientific remedy acts beneficially on the whole organism, restoring vigor, appetite, digestive power, renewing the blood and rebeautifying the complexion. The reduction leaves no wrinkles; and there is a splendid redevelopment of muscular fibre.

ACRE LOTS NOW FOR SALE IN

HOMECROFT PARK

(THE NEW SUBURB TO DULUTH.)

The location of Homecroft Park is at Woodland, seven to twelve blocks from the end of the car line, and just outside the city limits. Two fine level county roads run through this beautiful addition, and every lot fronts on a road. A large schoolhouse will soon be built. A telephone line and an electric light line are proposed to be built this fall. In fact, there will be many suburban conveniences in Homecroft Park Addition.

The size of one of these lots is about one acre, some more and some less. The soil consists of from three to six feet of rich black loam, unsurpassed for garden purposes; no stones and well drained. Most of the lots have a beautiful growith of pine and spruce trees, making this locality a healthy residence section, and very desirable for camping purposes during summer and fall.

$1.00 CASH

The terms are so easy that there is a chance for everybody to get one of these valuable lots. ONLY ONE DOLLAR CASH AND TWO TO THREE DOLLARS PER WEEK UNTIL PAID FOR. NO INTEREST AT ANY TIME. NO PAYMENTS WHEN SICK. PERFECT TITLE, (TORRENS TITLE.)

The average price is $300 per lot, some more and some less, according to size.

With Duluth's great future assured, on account of her unsurpassed location in the commercial world, these lots, WITHOUT ANY DOUBT, will increase largely in value, just as land similarly located in all the great cities of the United States, has increased many times its former value. And just think what great benefits the owner of one of these lots can have with an acre of such soil in the meantime. Just think, when from five to ten thousand quarts of strawberries can be raised easily on one acre with proper care, or other berries or kitchen vegetables in the same proportion, you can readily figure out to what a great extent your living expenses can be met and paid for out of the products raised from one of these lots.

Remember also that while the land is increasing in value as time goes on, you can live on it and attend to your work in the city every day.

DO NOT HESITATE. SECURE ONE OF THESE LOTS NOW.

The longer you wait the farther out from the city you will have to go, to say nothing of the fact that this is very nearly the last chance to get a piece of land so near the city with such fine productive soil, where you can nearly double your income every year.

Remember there IS SUFFICIENT TIMBER on most of the lots for ALL BUILDING PURPOSES. Why not walk a few blocks extra and for the same money or less get twelve times more of what is the foundation of all wealth—LAND. Come out tomorrow and make your selection. First come, first served. There is only a limited number of these choice garden tracts. We will have men there to show them to you. If you cannot go tomorrow, go Sunday. THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR INDEPENDENCE. DON'T LET IT SLIP BY, SOMEBODY ELSE WILL SURELY TAKE IT.

REDMEN AT NEW CAMP

With Their Families Are Attending Services at White Earth.

Spiritual Fervor Is Capturing the Chippewas Who Take Part.

White Earth, Minn, Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duane Indian comp meeting at the Duane Methodist Episcopal church is creating considerable spiritual fervor among the Redmen.

Night and day the Indians are singing the gospel hymns and praying in their tents. Four services are held in the church, but the Indians keep the meetings going in their tents. Great enthusiasm exists, and several spiritual conversions have occurred.

The Chippewas are here in families, and many have accepted the faith. This large and useful church edifice is the only Methodist church on the Indian reservation, and its membership is growing.

Rev. A. H. McKee, the Fergus Falls district superintendent, is here in charge of the meetings assisted by Revs. H. Nobbs, St. Paul; J. T. B. Smith, Sauk Centre; C. W. B. Ellis, Hawley; T. J. Chappell, St. Vincent; George A. Warmer, Fosston; B. F. Donovan, Fisher, with Chippewa Methodist Clergymen A. Couture, Odanna'i, Wis., and D. F. Porter Duane and several Wisconsin clergymen.

The meetings are largely attended, and big crowds are expected Sunday for services from sunrise to sunset. Chippewas from Wisconsin arrived this morning, and telegrams and letters arrived saying others are coming.

PLAN BUILDING A POWER PLANT

Pine River, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pine River has been a busy town this season. A local and long distance telephone system has been installed which is now in working order. Work is now in progress laying the cement sidewalks in the business section of the village, and things generally are looking the best.

A company composed of C. H. Smith of Duluth, and B. E. Widenian and E. L. Forbes of Pine River, has been organized and will apply for a franchise at the next meeting of the village council for an electric lighting plant. For power they will utilize the water of Norway brook which flows through the town. A dam will be built which will raise the water in the river and make a good thoroughfare to Norway Lake one mile north of town, which has many summer cottages along its shores.

PRESIDENT AT WINONA.

Plans About Formulated for Greeting Chief Executive Sept. 17.

Winona, Minn., Aug. 20.—President William H. Taft will be entertained in a manner befitting his rank and station as chief executive of the nation when he comes to Winona on Friday evening, Sept. 17. The plans are about formulated. The general committee on arrangements and Mayor W. E. Hamilton and Congressman James A. Tawney will go to La Crosse and meet the president there, and will accompany him back in the special car to Winona.

An automobile drive about the city will be the first thing here. The automobiles will be in waiting at the Milwaukee depot and the president will step direct from the train into a waiting automobile.

The automobile drive will last until 7:30 o'clock and will be followed by a reception at the Winona.

Two public meetings have been planned, at which the general public will have an opportunity of hearing the president in a brief address.

BUYS BINDER AND THEN KILLS SELF

Williston, N. D., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carl Dahl, a bachelor farmer, who lived forty-five miles north, was found dead in his house by Elmer Schlesgo, a neighbor.

In his hand was the shotgun with which he had blown out his brains. Dahl had returned from town with a new binder, and this was still on the wagon, unloaded. His stock had nearly starved to death. Coroner Thomas believes Dahl was overcome by the heat while driving home and shot himself in a fit of insanity. He has 100 acres of wheat ready for the binder and a farm well stocked.

JOHN DUNN, CROOKSTON PIONEER, TO HIS REWARD

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Dunn, a pioneer resident of Crookston and a veteran of the Civil war, passed away Tuesday after a lingering illness of Bright's disease at the family residence near the Northern Pacific bridge.

He had been a resident of Crookston for many years and is one of the best known and most highly respected citizen, a kind and indulgent husband and father and one held in high esteem by all his neighbors.

Deceased was a member of Col. Cobham Post No. 90 of this city, and the funeral will be under the auspices of that order.

The family includes a widow, one daughter, whose maiden name was Jennie, who came from North Dakota a week ago to be at the bedside of her father, and two sons, Albert and John, Jr., who make their home with their parents.

WISCONSIN PEOPLE BUY BELTRAMI LAND.

Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beltrami county lands, especially those in the western end of the county, are in good demand by landseekers and some recent sales indicate the healthy condition of the land market of Northern Minnesota.

W. R. Mackenzie, vice president and resident manager of the Northern Minnesota Dairy Farm Land company, has just closed deals whereby he sells some tracts in the town of Liberty to Wisconsin parties.

Those buying lands: William Esau of Milwaukee, Henry Schulcam of Waudatosa, and Henry Steembock of Oshkosh. They were well pleased with the land and will hold the same either for speculation or personally improve the same.

FALLS INTO TANK.

Bemidji, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Richard McClain of St. Paul, while putting red-hot rivets in the top of the new 100,000-gallon steel water tank, narrowly escaped death by falling thirty feet on the inside of the tank. McClain was working near the top rim of the tank and while stepping to another part of the tank slipped and fell to the bottom. The curved bottom broke his fall, but McClain sustained a bad cut on his head and a badly bruised arm.

WISCONSIN LUTHER LEAGUE HAS ELECTION.

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 20.—The Luther League of Wisconsin, which is holding a three-day session at the English Evangelical Lutheran church in this city, has elected the following officers:

President, Rev. G. Kellar Rubrecht, Milwaukee; vice president, Rev. Howard R. Gold, Madison; recording secretary, John Mael, Mount Horeb; general secretary, Walter F. Stryzwski, Oshkosh; treasurer, Miss Jennie Outmans, La Crosse.

It was decided to hold the convention in 1910 at Platterville, Wis.

Here for Lake Trip.

Little Falls, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fredrickson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kull and Miss Mary Kull, all of Darling, were here recently and took the noon train for Duluth. From that point they will make a trip of about a week over the lakes. At Kalamazoo, Mich., the party will stop for a short visit with friends.

Raised All Valuations.

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 20.—During the closing hours of its session for this year the state board of equalization, after adjusting the assessments of all classes of property within the state, finally raised all schedules 12½ per cent. This was done because it was necessary to raise the assessed valuation of the property of the state $45,000,000 to secure the necessary revenue.

BALLINGER SHOULD RESIGN.

Secretary Ballinger may be perfectly conscientious in his motives, but his acts as secretary of the interior thus far have given rise to what has assumed the proportions of a positive scandal, and it will stand the Taft administration in good stead if he is permitted to resign.

Otherwise the administration must take the blame for his policies, and confess itself at war with the policies in regard to public resources which ex-President Roosevelt held in common with the great mass of the American people.

Most of the natural resources of this country had been permitted to go into the hands of private owners who have used them for the exploitation of the people to whom they once belonged, and who got little in return for the princely gifts they showered upon private capital through their government. Most of the coal and timber is gone, and nearly all the minerals. Water power was the last great natural resource, and there was yet a chance to keep it for the people if the Roosevelt policies were continued.

The law was silent on the subject, but the Roosevelt administration held that in the absence of specific prohibition, it was within the power of the government to withdraw lands containing water powers from entry, and to conserve them for the people. Ballinger, in the Taft administration, has taken the view that in the absence of direct provision of law permitting conservation, all remaining public resources must be turned over to anybody who applies for it. So one of the first acts of Ballinger was to open to entry large areas of land containing water powers which Roosevelt had caused to be withdrawn from entry. This in the face of the plain fact that large and greedy interests, seeking the formation of a water power trust, were busy gobbling up every available source of water power.

The attitude of the Roosevelt administration was that the people's interests should be conserved except where the law forbade it.

The attitude of the Taft administration is that the people's interests shall be conserved only when the law directly requires it, and that without such law private property interests shall be favored.

The Roosevelt attitude is in line with progress and with the new ideals of government for all the people.

The Taft attitude is out of harmony with these new ideals, but in unpleasant harmony with the old idea that nothing is sacred except property and that private interests are superior to the common good.

If Taft countenances Ballinger, he must assume the blame for the Ballinger policies. Ballinger is a member of the Taft cabinet, and he would hardly presume to take a step so important unless he were assured that his action had the approval of his chief.

By his silence and by his tacit acceptance of the Ballinger policy, the president assumes the full responsibility.

The president's professions of sympathy with the Roosevelt policies are not in accord with his acceptance of Ballinger's reversal of those policies. Only by demanding Ballinger's resignation and by replacing him with a man who will safeguard the common interests can he make his professions good.

THE CROP SCARES.

Nobody seems to have been unduly agitated over the recent reports of damage to the Northwestern crops from rust, heat, dampness and other causes, and this attitude of calm indifference to the shocks of sensationalism is the proper one.

There has been some slight damage, no doubt; there always is. That there has been anything that will affect the crop in general so as to reduce the total yield very noticeably is to be doubted.

But about this time in every crop year the "bull" in the wheat market becomes restive. Maybe he is long on wheat and fears the big yield will send the price down. Maybe he does it merely from force of habit. But whatever the reason, about this time in the crop year the most appalling reports of the condition of the crops are spread, and they carry terror into the hearts of the unsophisticated—but none to the sophisticated.

You see the crop alarmist who is bent on manipulating the market has cried "wolf!" altogether too often.

AMERICAN PIANOS BEST.

Though this country has hardly had leisure yet to perfect the artistic side of its nature, it has made great strides in many branches of the arts. Still, the masters, as a rule, are abroad; and it is therefore especially encouraging to note an expert opinion to the effect that pianos made in America are the best the world affords. It is true that this is an ex parte statement, and that it is possible that opinions in other countries would differ: but still the opinion has the ring of authority, and it is backed by observations that tend to show concurrence on the part of musicians in Europe.

Dr. F. Ziegfeld, the head of the Chicago Medical college, on his return from Europe the other day gave the Musical Times his opinion that American pianos are superior to those of any other country. He said: "I was more than ever impressed, on this trip, with the superiority of the American-made piano. During my travels —and earlier during my studies in Europe—I have had full opportunity of carefully inspecting all of the prominent makes of European pianos, and I feel that I am competent to declare in favor of the American piano. The tone of our instruments is more noble—has greater volume without any loss of sweetness. This becomes very noticeable in the rendition of a concerto with orchestra, when the piano is obliged to stand up against the sixty or seventy instruments that make up the orchestra. On such occasion the pianist needs all the help he can get from a full, round tone without harshness—a tone that carried but yet retains its musical quality. And my experience is that the American piano supplies this need better than any other piano. Of course there are several very fine pianos made abroad—artistic instruments that are delightful—but the best pianos made here have all of their characteristics and something more. When it comes to what we call the medium-priced piano there is no comparison, because the American instrument is far superior. To be sure it costs somewhat more, but it represents what our people want. We could never be satisfied with the instruments that form the bulk of the sales abroad. In case designs and workmanship they fall far behind ours—notably so. This has always struck me as very peculiar, for surely the Germans are musical by nature and by education, and one would think they would demand something better. By the way, I saw on this trip several American pianos in the homes of some of my friends. They have traveled in this country and have the money to buy the best, and having heard our pianos they preferred them. I do not mean to say that foreign pianos are all poor—for that would be putting the matter altogether too strongly—but in general terms I unhesitatingly pronounce in favor of the American piano."

This is surprising not only because the Germans are a more musical people than the Americans, but because as a rule the German workman is painstaking, and in many manufactured products the character of the German workmanship is more attractive than that of American products.

WORTH LOOKING INTO.

Congressman Gronna of North Dakota has experienced the disagreeable happening of having his bitterest political enemy appointed census supervisor in his district under his very nose. Naturally, he is indignant about it, and proposes to look into the case. We hope he does.

Mr. Gronna was one of those "insurgent" Republicans who voted against the infamous Aldrich-Payne-Taft tariff bill. The machine organization in his state is in complete accord with the machine organization which perpetrated the new tariff bill. Evidently that organization had more influence with the appointing powers than did Mr. Gronna himself.

The incident is peculiar indeed. In practically all of the appointments thus far made the president has followed the good old way of letting the congressmen dish out this pleasant bit of political plunder. Though Mr. Taft has issued a warning against political activity on the part of the census supervisors, he has held strictly to partisan lines in his appointments except in the South, where he has divided the appointments between the two parties.

In the case of this North Dakota congressman who voted against the tariff bill, however, his wishes are wholly disregarded, and he is given a nasty slap in the face by the appointment of his most active political enemy. Presumably the appointment is not displeasing to the North Dakota machine which bears such close relationship of sympathy and impulses with the Aldrich-Cannon machine in Washington.

THE HEART OF THE CHILD.

"Oh, child, what news from heaven?" said Swinburne; and the purity and altruism of child impulses makes the query seem not inept.

Dr. William Ervin Ashcroft, formerly president of the Ohio normal college, has been investigating the child's disposition toward money, with some interesting results.

Dr. Ashcroft compiled a set of questions which was submitted to the children of one of the public schools in St. Paul, and to the children of one of the schools in Knoxville, Tenn. The questions were answered in writing as in an ordinary examination.

Question No. 5 was this: "If you had a dollar to spend as you liked, what would you buy?" Of the 967 children who made specific answer to this question, 62 per cent said they would invest it in something useful, such as clothing or books; 30 per cent would buy articles not useful; 3 per cent would use it for benevolent purposes; and 5 per cent would buy presents for their friends.

An even 70 per cent of these children, therefore, would use their dollar for useful and benevolent purposes, and only 30 per cent would use it for frivolous purposes. If that properly represents the attitude of children toward money and its uses the next generation will be a lovely lot of people to live among.

But—

The value of the experiment seems questionable. It would have been far more practical if the doctor had given each of a thousand children a big round dollar, and then had taken note of what they did with it. Do you suppose that seven out of ten of them would have passed by the temptations of the candy store and the soda fountain and the toy shop to invest their dollars in books and clothing and charity and presents for others?

It is to be feared that theory and practice are as widely separated in child life as they are in adult life. The answers written by the children were to a large degree dictated by the desire to please, and the mental attitude was very different from what it would have been had each child had in its hand a silver dollar instead of a pencil. The theoretical impulses of the child are good; and the average girl or boy, writing a theoretical answer to a theoretical question, cannot be judged by that answer so well as it could be by its actions. It would have been much more interesting if the experiment had been practical, and if each child had been given a dollar and the result watched.

However, it is good to learn that the child has good theories, even if doubt remains about their practice. Theory is often weak in the presence of acute temptation, but it has value nevertheless, since without good intentions temptation would be overwhelming at all times, and every individual, child or adult, would be abandoned to the sweep of appetite and desire.

Great weather! No spot on earth can beat it.

Take your basket to the Armory tomorrow and buy home-grown garden truck, thus not only affording pleasant furnishing for the Sunday dinner but giving encouragement to the cultivation of the rich nearby soil.

WELCOME THE BOYS HOME.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Duluth's naval militia has made a remarkable record in the maneuvers on the lower lakes, in competition with naval reserves on board five other boats from different ports along the lakes, and it seems to me that Duluth should do something special in the way of celebrating the return of the boys. They are due to arrive here Saturday or Sunday, I believe.

Duluth should be, and doubtless is proud of the work of the men from here, and the way they have handled themselves and their boat. Most cities, in a case of this kind, would give some sort of a demonstration of this pride. At least the Third Regiment band should be at the dock to greet them upon their return. It is always well to show appreciation of a good deed well done, and here is one case where appreciation certainly is due.

If any one thinks that this annual cruise is all or mostly all pleasure, he is very much mistaken. To win any laurels at all means a lot of hard work, both on the cruise and before the boat starts out. It requires a lot of time and patience and practice, both on the part of the men and on the part of the officers. The Duluth naval militia is fortunate in having an excellent set of officers, who take pride in showing a good record in the work of the companies, but the officers alone are not responsible for the success. The hard work of the men, and their close attention to duty, should come in for its full share of credit. It is no small thing to carry away the honors of the fleet, and Duluth should do something to show that she recognizes this.

A BUSINESS MAN.

Duluth, Aug. 20.

MORA HAS SAME PLAINT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Articles in The Herald recently charging Duluth commission men with unfairness in dealing with farmers who send their produce to the Duluth market, have interested me greatly. The same complaint against your local dealers is made here at Mora by shippers, and they are avoiding the Duluth market and sending their produce to the Twin Cities.

They claim the Duluth commission men or many of them are irresponsible. The evil is one that Duluth should take pains to remedy, for garden stuff raised about Mora should rightfully go to Duluth, instead of to the Twin Cities, where it is being sent at present. Perhaps one reason of the alleged unfair dealings is that the men engaged in the commission business in Duluth are of limited means, who do not have the facilities for properly handling the farm produce.

It certainly gives Duluth a black eye when farmers say they cannot get fair treatment there. All the trouble the city and county have taken to get farmers in there, goes for naught, for Duluth isn't going to settle in St. Louis county unless he is assured of a profitable market for what he raises, and Duluth is the market he naturally looks to. There is plenty of cheap land elsewhere in the state, nearer the Twin Cities, where the farmers knows he can find a good market, and those sections will profit at the expense of Duluth and St. Louis county unless local market conditions are changed, and the farmer is given a square deal.

A MORA FARMER.

"THE MATTER WITH DULUTH."

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have noticed in your columns of late a very interesting discussion on the question, "What is the Matter With Duluth?" There have been a number of first-rate suggestions made for improving conditions, but it appears to me that one phase of the question has been treated more lightly than its importance deserves.

In your editorial column of Wednesday last there is the statement that "Duluth ... has hazarded its own money in more or less precarious mining investments in faraway states, territories and foreign lands." In Tuesday's issue you quoted T. J. Walsh as saying that Duluth had missed the opportunity of a life time and let distant capital develop the iron range, the richest mineral district in the world.

In these two statements you have the meat of the whole situation. The mining bubble has been the drag that has kept Duluth back and prevented her development. Duluth's surplus cash has gone into fake mining schemes, not into solid manufacturing investment, and I notice that it is the promoters, not the investors, of these schemes that are riding around in automobiles. It is the mine promoter who is responsible for much of Duluth's backwardness today, and there can be little doubt about it. Every cent that can be saved by many Duluth people has, for the last ten years, gone into mining schemes, and a great big percentage of them have been fakes or futures. A larger per cent now than ever before are empty frauds designed solely for the benefit of the promoter, but they are continuing to fleece the money from the innocent investor in the same old way.

Had the money which has been lost in copper stocks in Duluth the last ten years gone into local manufactures, fostered by cheap power, cheap and handy water transportation, and by Duluth's natural location as a distributing point for the Northwestern states, there would be one of the greatest cities of the West at the Head of the Lakes, and you would have no reason for your agitation on "What is the Matter With Duluth?"

Much Ado About What

Now politics all have died away,
Never a ripple they left, or trace,
Who would have thought they held such sway
Led us so weary and wild a chase,
Putting the citizens off their base?
Just from an idle desire to know
We would inquire in this breathing space
Where are the questions that vexed us so?

The hipless maidens in strange array
Who agitated this year of grace
No words of comment now make us say,
Nor make us hasten our even pace.
Melted away as the frost's frail lace,
Our problems vanish from mind as snow,
Why should we worry the blows to brace
Where are the questions that vexed us so?

Not far away the momentous day
That settles the base ball pennant race,
Then we shall learn in the glad affray
Which of the teams shall win by an ace.
When we grow used to their proper place
Our peaceful currents again shall flow.
No hints of fashion plate, bat or mace,
Where are the questions thot vexed us so?

Sphinx, so inscrutable, blank of face,
You see them come and you watch them go.
If once they mattered, in such a case,
Where are the questions that vexed us so?

Tariff Fight Isn't Over.

Cincinnati Times-Star: Congressman Jim Griggs of Georgia—Grim Jiggs they call him—is one of those who don't believe the tariff fight is over. When he was at the White House to say goodby to the president some of the reporters talked to him about it. "It's like the Irishman and the German who were just out of the hospital" he explained laughingly. "Vot for vass you at de hosspital?' the German inquired. 'To be truthful with ye,' retorted the Irishman, 'it wax because I had a bug on the lapel of me coat and couldn't get it off.' The German looked him over gravely for a moment. 'Mike,' he said finally, 'you better go back. Dat bug iss dere yet.' 'I may be as batty as either of them" concluded Griggs "but in my opinion that bug is there yet."

THE WEATHER

The fair weather continues today, but the weather man looks for a return of the cloudy weather and showers tonight and tomorrow.

The sun rose this morning at 5:12 and will set at 7:11 this evening, making thirteen hours and fifty-nine minutes of sunlight.

A year ago today it was fair and cool.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures of 90 degs. or slightly above continued Thursday in South Dakota, Oklahoma and Gulf states. During the past twenty-four hours showers fell over Nebraska, Kansas, New Mexico, the lake region and Atlantic states due to the influence of barometric depressions central off the North Atlantic coast and over Mexico and Alberta. Temperatures are rising again in Montana and North Dakota. Cooler weather prevails in the lake region, Wyoming, Nebraska, and Vermont as a result of an increase in pressure. The barometer is highest over western Ontario. The easterly movement of the Alberta low pressure will probably cause scattered showers at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

The Tariff and Clothes.

Chicago Evening Journal: Each new day under the Payne-Aldrich-Boutell tariff exposes some new angle of the nefarious piskery by which these faithful servants of the New England mill bosses propose to rob the American public for the profit of their masters.

The National Association of Clothiers, which comprises 97 per cent of the big clothing houses in America, has joined with the carded woolen makers to carry on a campaign against the combed wool and cotton mill men, who are responsible for the increased tariff on clothing.

They point out that the increased prices already announced by the woolen and cotton makers mean an advance of at least 20 per cent in the price of suits, or an added tax of $120,000,000 a year on clothes, or about $8 for every voter in the United States.

Incidentally, substituting cotton for wool has reduced the quality of all classes of goods. Winter standard worsteds have gone down from 21 to 24 ounces per yard to 14 to 16 ounces. Standard spring goods, formerly from 14 to 16 ounces to the yard, now weigh from 12 to 12 ounces.

While the quality goes down the price goes up. In 1907, 18-ounce American standard clay worsted cost 95 cents a yard. In 1900, under the Dingley law, it increased to $1.45. Last January it reached $1.60. Since the passage of the Payne bill it has become $1.80.

This is the tariff which Aldrich, Payne and Boutell declared in congress would lighten the burden of the consumer. It will lighten his burden in two ways: His clothes will weigh less. So will his pocketbook.

Another Pledge Broken.

Philadelphia North American, (Ind.): Cannon was doing more than deposing honest and efficient congressmen from positions where they could be of real service to the people when he rearranged the house committees. He was doing more than punishing the progressives, who were brave and honest enough to oppose his despotic rule.

He was doing much more than these things when, for example, he honored Fowler of New Jersey by substituting for him an Aldrich dummy as chairman of the banking and currency committee.

He was planning to serve the interests Cannon always has served. And when it came to the postoffice committee, that service continued in the most efficacious way possible to make the party a liar to the American people.

Steenerson of Minnesota and Murdock of Kansas are stubborn men. They believe that a parcels post and a postal savings bank are needed. But what, to them, is more important, they believe that those things were promised. And their insurgent temperament is such that they insist upon keeping promises.

Therefore they were ousted from the committee. And at the head of the committee was placed Weeks of Massachusets, a national banker and a virulent opponent of any proposal for either of the promised reforms.

The fate of any bill for a parcels post or a postal savings bank that is referred to that committee already is written.

Aldrich and Cannon have carried another point. What the people will think of the latest breach of faith will not annoy them.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1889.

By Dec. 15 the Duluth & Winnipeg road will be running its regular trains from Duluth to the Mississippi river.

Late advices from Port Arthur state that the construction of the first fifty miles of the Port Arthur, Duluth & Western road has been let to G. H. Middleton & Co., a syndicate composed largely of Scotch capitalists. It is hoped to have the iron laid to the boundary by October, 1890.

H. C. Ives, superintendent of the Breckenridge division of the Manitoba road, has been appointed general manager of the Manitoba Central.

Dr. A. B. Lynde of Milwaukee committed suicide at the St. Louis hotel by cutting his throat with a pocket knife. He was addicted to the use of opium and was a physical and mental wreck. He was about 30 years of age.

William S. Albertson has sued Munger & Markell for $9,000 damages because the walls of the Grand opera house, which was burned last January, fell upon the building occupied by him as a stationery dealer and damaged his stock.

A telegram received from President J. F. T. Anderson of the Minnesota Car company, by M. B. Harrison, states that the company has closed a contract with the Iron Car company for the building of 1,500 iron cars. The contract for building 200 houses at West Duluth has also been let.

Chief Grain Inspector Clausen, on the recommendation of Inspector Fulton, has just appointed three subdeputy inspectors at Duluth. They are Nelson Hoopie of Duluth, George H. Tunell of Crookston and H. C. Hammond of Morris. Joseph M. Christy has been reappointed clerk of the department.

The Wasioja Stone company of Dodge Center will establish an agency in Duluth. Frank A. Day of this city is president of the company.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Rosseau Region: The average consumer will not know that a high tariff law has been enacted. Instead of placing the blame where it belongs he will continue to cuss the merchant, who, as a result of the high tariff, is compelled to charge him more for every article he buys.

Cannon Falls Beacon: Will Mr. Tawney, having achieved the ignoble distinction of being the only self-confessed servant of the interests in the entire Minnesota delegation, be able to come home and make his people believe that his personal ambition is paramount to their interest in tariff revision? If Mr. Tawney's influence is not overestimated by either himself or Sam Langum, he could easily have prevented the passage of the bill as reported by the conference committee and could have compelled honest revision.

Deer River News: The high tariff bill is passed, but in Senators Clapp and Nelson, Minnesota has no apologies to offer.

Hibbing Tribune: Isn't it funny that such a horny fisted old farmer as Joe Cannon should be hand in glove with the glove trust. Yes, it isn't.

Winona Independent: Governor Johnson says the West is an integral part of the United States. Sure! If you don't believe it, just look at our participation in the benefit of the new tariff bill—free hides and taxed lumber.

Rochester Bulletin: Do the voters of the First congressional district remember that Congressman Tawney, in his last three campaigns, loudly proclaimed himself an advocate of tariff revision downward? When the vote was taken on the Aldrich-Payne bill the other day, Tawney was the only member of the Minnesota delegation to cast his vote in the affirmative.

Brainerd Dispatch: A matrimonial alliance is being agitated for the Twin Cities. It is suspected that Minneapolis is flirting and that St. Paul is in no ways sincere in the matter.

Winona Independent: Congressman Tawney may now go on his vacation with a sense of having assisted Payne in delivering most of the goods.

Red Wing Republican: Uncle "Joe" Cannon says he may not be a candidate for speaker again. The Danville man could retire with the hearty consent of most of his countrymen.

Mankato Free Press: Notwithstanding the fact that hides have been placed on the free list, we have not heard the shoe manufacturers making a noise like reducing the price of footgear.

St. Cloud Times: Ex-Congressman James T. McCleary is bound to get back onto Uncle Sam's payroll. He is now mentioned for appointment to the board of tariff experts to be selected by the president. That would be a pleasant jolt to hand to the Minnesota congressmen and senators who voted against the Payne tariff bill. McCleary lost his job as congressman trying to convert his constituents to standpatism. Because of his position on the revision of the tariff the delegation looked askance when he was mentioned for director of the mint. But McCleary's persistency will doubtless be rewarded by the president, although it doesn't look as if a place on the board of tariff experts would be possible under the circumstances.

Non-Partisan Partisanship.

New York Globe: President Taft, who is not lacking in a sense of humor, must smile a little as he thinks of the incongruousness of his census policy. He has 300 or more supervisors to appoint, and distributes this windfall of patronage in the good old spoils way—that is, designates on the recommendation of senators and congressmen of the dominant party except in half a dozen states, where the other party is given half. Having thus offered the census establishment with men who owe their places to political favor, the president has written a letter to Secretary Nagel in which he forbids to both supervisors and enumerators participation in politics while engaged in the census work. In other words, a man may get a job by being politically useful, but to keep it he must turn over a new leaf and temporarily forget politics.

It is, of course, easy to point out that the easiest and most certain way to keep politics out of the census bureau was to begin at the top. The sarcastic advocates of the merit system may say cutting things about the president's inconsistency, just as they have said equally cutting things about the inconsistency of civil reformers as stanch as President Cleveland and Roosevelt. But in an illogical world it is foolish to expect an appointive officer to be perfectly logical. No one will seriously challenge the sincerity of the letter to Secretary Nagel—least of all th personnel of the census establishment. A bitter fountain, if you please, will flow sweet waters—a non-political and nonpartisan census will be taken by partisans temporarily departisanized.

The census was instituted merely to secure a basis for an equitable distribution of congressional representation. But in one hundred and twenty years its function has steadily widened Facts revealed by the census have large influence not only on legislation but on business and humanitarian activities. The influence of the data collected next April will be very great. Hence the absolute need that no taint to partiality attach to it, and hence the explicit order that supervisors and enumerators confine themselves strictly to their duties.

A Few Thoughts.

A New England poet sings of the month of June, and tells us, "Then, if ever, come perfect days"—but in California one need not wait till June, or even April, for out here the morning sun shines as glorious as in January, and we have perfect days and perfect weeks through ten months of the year. The search for Paradise is never absent from the human mind, since men was driven out of the primeval paradise, but is not Paradise more a matter of climate than any other circumstance in life?

"See Naples and go no further;"
"See Rome and die,"

must have been phrases invented by realty men full of civic pride, sent out like a call over the world to attract population to the cities of their love.

* * *

Was not Moses the first real estate agent? For the hymn writers in ancient days sung:

"If you can stand where Moses stood
And view the landscape o'er—
Not heat or cold or raging flood
Could fright you from the shore."

For a breathing spot commend me to the boulevard above Duluth. Neither Moses nor any other writer, sacred or profane have stood where I have and viewed the landscape, waterscape and skyscape o'er. Words are inadequate to picture the scene that lay beneath the feet of the beholder, over the city of Duluth for miles along the lake shore. Swinging over this valley like a bulwark built by Titans is an uplifted mountain of granite crowned by the boulevard, standing like a sentinel over the Zenith City.

There are only two or three places in all this wonderful world worthy to be compared with views from the boulevard. It is one of the few inspiring pictures of almighty design set by God on mountain tops. I compare it with the bold majesty of "The Castled Crag of Drachenfels," which Byron has embalmed in his immortal verse of Childe Harold.

I am not an enthusiast or one whose views are circumscribed, as I have seen the Swiss Alps, the Rhine land, rural England and some famous beauty spots in Ireland through the Lakes of Killarney. All these are familiar scenes in memory, yet after careful consideration it is my opinion there is not a view like that from the Boulevard.

John Bull and His War Scare.

Toronto Telegram: It's all right for American papers to be funny in their cartoons and comments on the "war scare" in England, but Canada and the United States may both thank heaven for the geographical isolation that save them from the tremors of John Bull. The United Kingdom has to stake its very life on the accuracy of its guess as to the intentions of Germany. If John Bull guesses war and it is unprepared for peace, he still lives and all that is lost is money. If John Bull guesses peace and is unprepared for war, the "sceptered isle" is invaded and British liberty is destroyed. It is a supreme and awful guess that Britain has to make. If Uncle Sam were within a few miles of a possible enemy like Germany, the United States of America would be worse scared than Britain ever was.

Northern Minnesota Foresters Listen to Haven and Miller.

Mayor Says Duluth's Climate Is Not Advertised Widely Enough.

Speeches by Mayor Roland D. Haven and Congressman Clarence B. Miller were the features of the big banquet last evening at Lester Park, which brought the big Independent Order of Foresters' convention here to a close. Tables were laid for 300 Foresters from the northern jurisdiction of the state, but more than this applied for places, and some of the tables had to be cleared off to make room for the newcomers.

Mayor Haven boomed Duluth, especially as a summer resort. He said that we have not given enough attention to advertising our climate, and dilated upon the need of a big summer hotel here, calling attention to the frequently crowded condition of the city's hotels at present. The mayor also predicted a great manufacturing and commercial future for the city.

Congressman Miller's speech was along fraternal lines, and he described the development of civilization up to the period when it was ready for the fraternal order not many hundred years ago. Forestry especially came in for an eloquent tribute in connection with its benevolent work. Mr. Miller also told of the hard work of the special session of congress over the tariff bill this summer, when the legislators slaved far into the night with the thermometer hovering around 100 degrees.

A musical program was given by an orchestra, and Miss Alice Sjoselius was on for two solos, both of which were enthusiastically encored. She was accompanied by Miss Isabel Pearson.

DECLARES NOTE IN BOTTLE IS LIE

St. Louis Woman Refuses to Believe Husband Was Drowned at Seattle.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—Mrs. J. Oscar J. Franz of this city does not believe that she is a widow, despite the fact that a note supposed to have been written by her husband as he was facing death by drowning near Seattle, Wash., was delivered to her yesterday. The note was dated July 4 and Mrs. Franz declares she has evidence that Franz was visiting his mother, Mrs. M. J. Ullery, in Moberly, Mo., early in August.

The missive, which was found in a floating bottle by a resident of Seattle and forwarded here, reads as follows:

"Finder of this note will please notify Mrs. Tiefenbrunn, 1915 Pepin street, St. Louis, that while I, J. O. Franz, was out boat riding about two miles from Seattle harbor, my boat struck a log and began to sink rapidly, with the result that I must face death, for I cannot swim. God help me, for I am lost. Good-bye."

Mrs. Tiefenbrunn is Mrs. Franz's mother. The latter said last night that she was married in September, 1907 and resided at Moberly until last March, when Franz claimed inability to support her. She said that she has no explanation to offer for her husband's strange note.

Eczema Broke Out on Baby's Head Causing All Her Hair to Fall Out —Could Not Sleep — Spread of Fearful Disease Averted and Easy, Economical Cure Effected, for

A FRIEND ADVISED USE OF CUTICURA

"When my little girl was four months old her head broke out with eczema. I tried everything but nothing did her any good. She could not sleep at night and she did nothing but scratch her head, which was like a raw piece of meat. All of her hair fell out. A friend of mine told me about Cuticura and the good it did for her little boy. After the first cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment I used I could see a change. I used just two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and my little girl's head is cured. Her hair is growing fine and long and her skin is like velvet. Friends say that my quick action in using the Cuticura Remedies kept the eczema from spreading all over her body.

"I still use the Cuticura Soap and always keep a box of Cuticura Ointment in the house. I used them for my hands, which were so badly chapped that the skin would crack and bleed. I would cry with pain. My hands are entirely cured now. You certainly have my permission to publish this letter in any paper, for I know how wonderful Cuticura is. Mrs. F. Davis, 209 E. Indiana St., Chicago, Ill., Jan. 18, 1909."

HELP CUPID IN SOCIETY

British Matrons Have Had Good Season in Making Matches.

Regular Agency Is Carried On in London for Such Purposes.

London, Aug. 20.—Not in the memory of the most experienced British matrons has there been such a season for matchmaking as that which is just closing, and never has there been such an opportunity for the person calling herself a "society woman" to increase her income by a matrimonial turn over the bargain counter at Burke's.

But she must evolve and develop new ideas. Old birds in the shape of chaperons and rich American mothers won't be caught unless the proper inducements are used. The woman who undertakes to make matches—this delicate profession is rarely pursued by a man—must be able to prove that she is on intimate terms with a cabinet minister or a duchess as a testimonial that she is in the right set.

One very flourishing agency is run within a stone's throw of Grosvenor square, London. The ostensible object of the institution is to teach wealthy Americans and women of other foreign nations British court and social etiquette and the art of good conversation. Incidentally a number of distinguished, titled and other men drop in at tea time and introductions to the pupils are made in the most natural way. It is said that behind this school is a syndicate of society celebrities who divide the spoils after "alliances" have been arranged.

Advertise for Clients.

Here is an advertisement which appeared in the London Morning Post recently:

"Titled lady and gentleman of high position, large establishment, motor cars, wish young lady to reside with them whom they can introduce into exclusive society. 'Lady,' care of Willings."

The advertiser received over fifty answers, many of which were from Americans. Little did those who tried to avail themselves of the offer know that the advertiser was the wife of a dilapidated knight whose effects were sold two days before the announcement appeared. Nothing daunted, her ladyship proceeded to a store and ordered on the hire system some far more elaborate furniture than that "sold up." The automobiles mentioned in the advertisement were also hired by the hour, as were the very servants.

Upstairs her ladyship sat in state in a bower of flowers. She took care to show a kindly little note she had received some time previous from Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain thanking her for having run across Charing Cross platform just as a continental train was about to start in order to procure some newspapers the ex-cabinet minister required. With the newspapers her "ladyship" deposited her card so, of course, Mrs. Chamberlain felt it a duty to write and thank her.

Have Made Good.

Notwithstanding the vulgarity and the undesirability of the machinations of the professional matrimonial agent, it is to be admitted that several quite satisfactory "alliances" have been brought about through her. A certain Irish peeress who does most of her matchmaking on board ship is responsible for the marriage of several interesting and beautiful American heiresses who are in the front rank of Anglo-American society. A few years ago the countess was in a sad plight with her tenants, who declined to pay rents for the bog and mountain lands on which they starved. Today she can afford to forget she ever possessed a porch of land in Ireland, though, of course, for advertising purposes it is nice to be able to speak of "my Irish estate, you know."

HAS PILOT CHART OF GREAT LAKES

Buffalo Chamber of Commerce Receives Copy of Valuable Work.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Among the many valuable publications recently put on file in the information bureau of the chamber of commerce is a pilot chart of the Great Lakes, just received from the United States hydrographic office. By means of easily understood symbols the map gives a mass of information the worth of which can hardly be estimated. From Duluth to the Atlantic coast the whole section is so thoroughly explained that it would seem possible for even a layman to navigate these waterways with the aid of this map alone. Every wireless station receives due attention, and in this connection the public, says Secretary Parke, hardly realizes how freight traffic, and especially the passenger department, are safeguarded. There are twenty-nine wireless stations on the Great Lakes.

The chamber of commerce, has placed its information bureau at the service of the public generally.

ISSUES BULLETIN ON THE RELIGIONS OF THE COUNTRY

Washington, Aug. 20.—Standing out as a conspicuous feature of a bulletin issued by the census bureau entitled "Census of Religious Bodies," is the fact that out of a church membership in the United States in 1906 of nearly 33,000,000, males formed considerably less than half of the total.

Of the total church membership reported by the various religious bodies and classified by sex, 43.1 per cent were males and 56.9 per cent were females. Among the Protestants the difference was greater, only 39.3 per cent being males, while in the Roman Catholic church the males formed 49.3 per cent of the total membership.

Greeks Have More Males.

Fewer males than females were found among the Latter Day Saints, the Lutherans, Disciples, Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and Protestant Episcopalians, the percentage of male members decreasing in the order shown, and there being but 30.5 per cent male among the Episcopalians. Among the Christian Scientists, only 27.6 per cent were males, and of the Shakers but 21.3 per cent, but in the Greek Orthodox church, 93.9 per cent were males.

Other salient features of the report show that there were $1,250,000,000 invested in church edifices, and that every day eight new churches sent their spires skyward.

Of the total estimated population of continental United States in 1906, the church members formed 39.1 per cent, as against 32.7 per cent for 1890. Of this 6.4 per cent increase, the Roman Catholic church is credited with 4.4 per cent and the Protestants with 1.8; the remainder being divided among all other denominations.

Total Membership, 32,936,445.

The total church membership for 1906 was 32,926,445, of which number the Protestants were credited with 20,287,742, and the Roman Catholic church with 12,079,142. Of the Protestants, the Methodists numbered 5,749,838, the Baptists 5,662,234, the Lutherans 2,112,494, the Presbyterians 1,830,555 and the Disciples, or Christians, 1,142,359. The rate of increase shown for the Roman Catholic church is 93.0 per cent, which is more than twice that for all Protestant bodies combined.

STRUCK GOOD LEAD.

New York Committee Sought to Get Primary Pointers in Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 20.—The committee of the New York legislature which has investigated the primary election systems in various states began hearings yesterday in this city. As Wisconsin offers conspicuous examples of the working of the primary law, the committee will also hold a hearing in Milwaukee.

Secretary of State James A. Frear, the first witness, declared his belief that the methods in this state had decreased "bossism" and excited a livelier interest on the part of the people in the personality of the candidates. The committee was apparently interested in the outcome of the recent senatorial investigation, which probed the expenditure of large sums of money by Republican candidates for the United States senate, particularly the $107,500 campaign fund of Senator Isaac Stephenson. Secretary Frear told the committee that in spite of this instance of large expenditures he did not believe it true as has been often stated, that "the poor man cannot get office in a primary election." He supposed that even Stephenson, though eventually elected, received only 33 per cent of the Republican vote and that F. E. McGovern, who spent only $11,000, was a strong third in the race.

State Senator John M. Whitehead of Janesville was called later. He is opposed to the primary system.

MISSING PURSE IN SACK OF RAGS

Max Weinberg Arrested on a Charge of Petit Larceny.

Max Weinberg was arrested yesterday afternoon on London road by Detective Schulte, charged with petit larceny. It is claimed he took a purse containig $4 from the handbag of Mrs. Champlin of Lakeside and hid it in one of his sacks of old rags. It was found there by the detective.

Mrs. Champlin is moving, and had some old rags to dispose of. Weinberg went to the house to get them, under direction of the woman, but upon his arrival there she found she did not have the key, so had to climb through a window. Meantime she laid her handbag on the grass, and when she came to examine its contents, after the rag man had left, she found her purse and $4 was missing.

The police were notified, and Detective Schulte stopped Weinberg on London road. The man denied the charge, even after the missing purse and money had been dug out of a bag of rags. He pleaded not guilty in municipal court and his hearing was set for next Tuesday. He was released under $150 bail.

PLAYGROUNDS WILL CLOSE

Youthful Patrons Will Hold Field Meet at West Duluth.

Youthful patrons of the three public playgrounds of the city will participate in a field meet to be held Aug. 28 on the West Duluth grounds, Fifty-first avenue west. There will be twenty-five contestants from each district, and the meet will be conducted along lines similar to the school field meets held earlier in the year.

The affair will mark the official closing of the playground season, although the grounds will not really be closed to the children until school begins, but will be left in care of attendants. The grounds have been largely patronized this season, and all of them have turned out to be big successes. The average attendance at the West end grounds has been 200 a day.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

Every pore and gland of the skin is employed in the necessary work of preserving its smooth, even texture, softening and cleansing it, and regulating the temperature of our bodies. This is done by an evaporation through each tiny outlet, which goes on continually day and night. When the blood becomes infected with humors and acids a certain percentage of these impurities also pass off with the natural evaporation, and their sour, fiery nature irritates and inflames the skin, and dries up its natural oils, causing pimples, boils, pustules or some itching rash, or hard, scaly skin affection. S S S. cures skin troubles of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its nutritious, red corpuscles, and enriches it in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased by the exuding acrid matter, is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S., the greatest of blood purifiers, expels all foreign matter and surely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum and all other diseases and affections of the skin. It removes pimples, blackheads, and other unsightly blemishes from the skin and assists in restoring a good complexion. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired free to all who write.

BIG RALLY ON PROHIBITION

Party Will Hold Celebration in Chicago Next Month.

Five Ex-Candidates for the Presidency Will Be Present.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Prohibitionists from all quarters of the country will celebrate in Chicago, Sept. 24, the fortieth anniversary of the founding of their party. Announcement is made at national headquarters that extensive preparations are being made for the occasion, and that fully 20,000 blue ribbonists from outside are expected to attend and to march next day in the temperance parade, in which 100,000 persons are expected to be in line.

The party was organized in Chicago Sept. 1, 1869, and the celebration has been put back three weeks on account of the demonstration that temperance forces have arranged for Sept. 25. Old-timers who were present when the party was born have written that they will be on hand, among them John Russell of New Haven, Mich., who was temporary chairman of the convention at which the party had its birth, and Samuel Dickie of Albion, Mich., who was among those present.

On the program will be five men who have run for president on the Prohibition ticket and three who have run for vice president. In ex-presidential candidates the party outnumbers the two big parties, a fact to which National Chairman Charles R. Jones points with pride.

Five Surviving Candidates.

The five surviving presidential candidates who will be present and the years in which they ran for the White House are:

John P. St. John, Olathe, Kan., 1884.
Joshua Levering, Baltimore, Md., 1896.
John G. Woolley, Honolulu, 1900.
Silas C. Swallow, Harrisburg, Pa., 1904.
Eugene W. Chafin, Chicago, 1908.

The surviving vice presidential candidates of former years who will be present are James B. Cranfill, Dallas, Tex., 1892; George W. Carroll, Beaumont, Tex., 1904, and Aaron S. Watkins, Ada, Ohio, 1908.

National chairman Jones, who has just returned from London where he attended the international convention of Prohibitionists, said:

"The history of political parties in the United States shows the longevity of the Prohibition party. Since the republic was founded over thirty parties have been started. Only three have lived to be forty years old or more. They are the Prohibition, the Republican and the Democratic parties.

Party Forty Years Old.

"We are forty years old next month, and we are only fourteen years younger than the Republican party, which shows the strength of the ideas and principles for which our party stands. In the four decades over 2,000,000 different men have voted for Prohibition candidates. We have a strength of 250,000 supporters all the time.

"Many of the principles which we were the first to advocate have since been taken up by other parties. The Prohibition party was the first to declare for the income tax. In 1872 our platform declared for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. Of late years many state legislatures have taken that up and acted favorably. In 1872, also, our platform declared for woman suffrage."

Prohibitions and the liquor interests both are greatly interested in a joint debate which is to be held at Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 30 between Aaron S. Watkins, candidate for vice president last year on the Prohibition ticket, and Clarence S. Darrow, who has been selected by the United States brewers' association to uphold the negative of the proposition: "Resolved, That prohibition as applied to the manufacture, sale and use of intoxicating liquors is right."

The debate will be held under the auspices of the International Lyceum association convention and the Chautauqua assembly of Oshkosh.

CHAMBERS' STORY IS TOO LIKE LIFE

Relatives of New York Pair Talk of Suing Him For Libel.

New York, Aug. 20.—Robert W. Chambers, the author, may be sued for slander because of his latest novel, "The Danger Mark." So also may the publishers of the Saturday Evening Post," in which the story is at present running in serial form.

Relatives of Louis Gordon Hamersley and Katherin Hamersley, young heirs to the $50,000,000 estate of the late James Hooker Hamersley, believe, it is said, that those children are being portrayed by Chambers as Scott Seagrave and Geraldine Seagrave in his novel.

And the Seagrave children, in the story, are more or less of a bad lot, especially the girl. Each has inherited weakness. The girl shows hers by soaking lumps of sugar in cologne and eating them during her childhood days, and later drinking too much champagne and too many Scotch highballs.

Parallel Too Close.

The boy, in the tale, falls in love with his nurse.

Cortlandt De Peyster Field, who is an uncle of the Hamersley children by marriage, and is one of their guardians, admits that he has notified the attorneys for the Hamersley estate, chief of whom is Henry H. Mann of this city, to examine "The Danger Mark" and see if any part of it is actionable. Mr. Field said he saw a very close parallel between the fictitious Seagrave children and the real Hamersley children.

Muscatine, Iowa, Aug. 20.—As a culmination of an Oberlin college romance, Julia Hutchinson, daughter of a prominent lumberman, has started on a 9,000-mile trip to Yokohama, Japan, to wed Ralph Harding of Manila, superintendent of construction of the Manila Limited railway. They will take a 2,000-mile honeymoon in the Orient.

PLAN CITY IN CHICAGO

Garment Manufacturers Will Build Central Group of Buildings.

Proposal for Model Town for Employes Meets With Favor.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Centralization of the combined garment manufacturing interests of Chicago by the erection of a group of eighty buildings to cost approximately $5,000,000 and the abolition of the "sweatshop" by the building of homes, clubhouses, libraries and gymnasiums for 8,500 employes—this, in brief, is the plan launched by the Chicago Garment Manufacturers' association.

The plan, evolved by Sol H. Shoninger, president of the organization, was enthusiastically received by members of the association gathered at the Grand Pacific hotel. As a practical undertaking it was pronounced feasible. Mr. Shoninger, together with Hugo Du Brock and Attorney Jarvis Cratty, were appointed a committee to carry out the preliminary plans and look for a location.

Included in the membership of the association are more than 100 manufacturers of women's and children's garments, who do a combined annual business in Chicago of $40,000,000. Their plants at present are scattered in various parts of the city, and a federation of their respective industries in a central location, they declare, will mean an annual saving of thousands of dollars in rent, insurance, building repairs and other incidental expenses.

Build Manufacturing City.

The tentative plan—and the one which Mr. Schoninger hopes may develop—is for a location of the "manufacturing city" somewhere on the lake—either the north or south shore. However, if it is found impossible to get locations on the lake front, the group of buildings will be erected somewhere on the West or North sides, away from the crowded district of the city.

The combined plant will cover an area of forty acres, and the drawings, which already have been prepared by Mr. Du Brock, specify that each building shall be built of re-enforced concrete and shall measure 75 by 100 feet. The individual plants will be detached, with seventeen feet of space on each side and in the rear, thus providing light workrooms for employes.

The structures will be so grouped that they will face a macadamized boulevard, lined on either side with shade trees, with a large grass plot in the center.

At either end of the row of factory buildings, will be recreation houses, including, possibly, a swimming pool, together with the library, gymnasium and rest rooms. Included in the plans also is a large hotel, where out-of-town merchants and buyers will be entertained.

Plants All Over City.

"We have an almighty great city with wonderful possibilities for future development," said Mr. Shoninger in outlining his plan, "but the garment manufacturers of Chicago are doing business under hampered conditions. Our individual plants are scattered all over the city, much to our mutual disadvantage.

"When the outside merchant comes here to buy a complete line of goods he is handled about from one house to another. He may, after having bought a consignment of skirts, seek a house from which to purchase shirtwaists, and in this event, under the present conditions, we are compelled to carry him about in an automobile at an expense of $4 to $5 an hour.

"All these things make for the discouragement of Chicago trade, with the result that business which should come to this city may soon be placed in other channels. We must get together. We must build our plants side by side in one district, and thus remove this hardship on the visiting merchant. Concentration of business interests makes for success, while honest, clean business competition also is the sap of commercial life."

Has Fixed Details.

After going into the details of the plan Mr. Shoninger told the memebers of the association that he has studied the idea constantly for the last two years.

"The scheme which may seem Utopian, can be carried out, providing I have your active co-operation," he continued. "It is not entirely new, as the Pullman Car company, with its great shops at Pullman; the National Cash Register company at Dayton, Ohio, and several other individual corporations have for years successfully worked the co-operative plan.

"Aside from the commercial aspect, the scheme will work to great advantage in the employment of labor. Conditions will be such that the manufacturer will have no difficulty in getting employes of the better class, and you will be possessed of a long waiting list of applicants anxious to enjoy the privileges extended by our unified system."

Attorney Cratty, who has assisted Mr. Shoninger in working out the preliminary details of the plan, urged its adoption.

"These are among the points to be considered," he said: "Is it an advantage for you to locate your plants centrally?

"Can you get a location which would be jointly advantageous to all?

"Would you not find it advantageous to have happy and contented employes who would be loyal to you?

Lake Shore Site.

"As to the location, it seems to me a site on the lake shore probably would be the most pleasant and the most advantageous to you all around. It is possible, however, that such a site cannot be found, and in this event the West side affords a good field. Most of your help now comes from that section of the city, although you cannot always draw your employes from one district. All things being equal, the scheme can be worked out, for I am convinced that it is perfectly tangible."

John F. Mann, representing the Chicago Association of Commerce, declared that, in his opinion, the proposed "manufacturing city" should be located somewhere on the West or Northwest sides.

"I don't know just where you will finally decide to locate in the event of the success of this plan," he said, "but it appears to me that the West side can offer a practicable site. Into the choice of a location you must take into consideration transportation facilities to those points of the city from which you expect to draw your help, and this problem, so far as the West side is concerned, is practically eliminated."

Following the discussion members of the association were asked to express their views on the plan by a rising vote for or against the proposition. The idea was unanimously carried and arrangements were made for another meeting. Further details of the plan at that time will be unfolded to the members and active work on carrying out the idea will be begun. Meanwhile the committee of three will consult with a view to securing a building site. Just how long this will take Mr. Shoninger and his associates were not prepared to predict.

MISSOURI MAN MAKES IT FLY

Has Invented an Airship That Works on Unique Principles.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 20.—John Bradfield, a car repairer of Rosedale, has invented an airship, which is entirely independent of the aeroplane idea. Four wheels with fans, which open as they go downward in the rotation of the wheel and close as they rise, keep the airship up. A propeller in the rear is used to impel the machine forward. No wings or planes are used to keep the machine in the air.

"I have been working on this machine for years," Mr. Bradfield said. "Six years ago I made my first model. It was a little paper machine and I operated the wheels by attaching it to a sewing machine. The model rose in the air when the wheels turned, and since that time I have been trying to interest men in my scheme of aerial navigation. The only reason I have not made a machine large enough to carry a man is because I have not the capital to carry on my experiments.

"I am confident that when an airship that flies in windy weather as well as in quiet weather is made it will be made on the order of my ship. I got my idea about the fans opening and closing from the birds. They open and shut their wings when they fly. The big planes used in the aeroplane are in the way in flying, because in windy weather it gives too much surface for the wind to blow against."

A new "Casey at the Bat" record by De Wolf Hopper

(Victor Record 31559)

"Ten thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt;
Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt.
Then while the writhing pitcher ground the ball into his hips,
Defiance gleamed in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip."

Mr. Hopper's famous interpretation of this celebrated baseball classic is so realistic that you readily imagine yourself among the throng of yelling "fans"; you almost see the "mighty Casey" strike out; you all but hear the howls of the disappointed Mudville rooters.

ALLEGRO IN THIRD PLACE

Duluth Yacht Fails to Gain in the Race for Trophy.

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 20.—Margaret L. of Minnetonka, won the Class B race yesterday in the Inland Lakes championship series and also by so doing it won the Oshkosh Yacht club's for this particular race. Butterfly of White Bear was second and won a special trophy cup, which was offered special second place trophy cup. Virginia of Oshkosh was third. Allegro of Duluth's From Girl of Madison, and Twenty-Three followed in the order named.

The standing of the "B" boats in percentage is now as follows: Margaret L. 17; Butterfly, 15; Allegro, 12; Virginia, 8; Twenty-Three, 7; Prom Girl, 4.

In Class C. Edith of Butte des Mortes was first, Lemon of Oconomowoc, second; Skip of Minnetonka, third, and Patsy of Oshkosh, last.

Swastika of White Bear, won the Class A race yesterday afternoon in the fastest race of the series, the twelve-mile course being sailed in a stiff breeze in a little over one hour and a half. By winning yesterday's race Swastika captured the W. H. Gilbert cup, a special prize for Oshkosh boy. Kathryn of the Butte Des Mortes Yacht club and Pans V of Pistakee sailed a dead heat, dividing the points for second place and third place. Other yachts finished in the following order: Amogla of Neenah, Mercia of Oshkosh, Humburg of Oconomowoc, Tomahawk of Minnetonka, Black Point of Geneva, and Sieglinde of Geneva.

With one more race of the series to sail, Kathryn leads with a total of 24½ points and Swastika 24. Mercia has 19 points, Tomahawk 17, Amogla 17, Hamburg 15, Pats V, 12½, Black Point 8, and Sieglinde, 4.

CANADIAN HORSE IS THE WINNER

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The closing day of the Grand Circuit races at the Fort Erie track brought together the Canadian pacer, The Eel, and Alleen Wilson. The two met in the 2:02 pace and were the only starters. The Eel won the race in straight heats, the best time being made in the deciding heat, when the mile was made in 2:04.

Later The Eel and Alleen Wilson paced an exhibition mile. The mare got off in front and retained the lead, The Eel nosing her out at the wire. The mile was made in 2:08¼.

The surprise of the day came in the 2:20 purse. Annabelle Lee, driven by Geers, sold favorite in the pools and justified her backers by winning the first two heats. In the third heat Annabelle Lee got off in front and held the position until 200 yards from the wire, when she broke, Kavollo winning the heat. Annabelle Lee remained a strong favorite in the final heats. The mare got away in front, but went to a break on the turn into the back stretch. With the favorite in the air, Nellie Parker assumed the lead, but was quickly overhauled by Kavollo, who went under the wire a winner of the heat and race. Nellie Parker got the place, a length away, Annabelle Lee finishing last.

Ulhan, the unbeaten gelding, won the 2:07 trot easily. San Francisco, who was expected to give Saunders' horse a race, went to a bad break in the first heat and was distanced.

FRIENDSHIP IS PROVEN

Superior Kindly Takes Game From the Winona Brigands.

Keep Killianites From Pulling Down Lead of the Sox.

They are our friends, after all—the Drillers. Before he left Superior for the more gay and lively town of Wausau, Darby O'Brien humbly asked Lew Drill to get the game the Drillers took from the Sox Wednesday from the Killianites. And Darby also hinted that all the games the Drillers took from Winona would be deeply appreciated.

Lew and his men have started well. Yesterday Superior took the opening game from the Winona team by the score of 7 to 2, thus rendering the Sox a very great service, for Wausau took a heartbreaking game from us.

In the game across the bay yesterday Winona got two at the start. Graves got to first on an eror and advanced on McHale's infield out. Curtis got a safe blow and Graves came over, Curtis going to second on the throw to the plate to nip Graves. Crangle singled, sending Curtis home.

That was as far as Winona got in the scoring line. They were held safe the rest of the game. In the Sunshine North Lew's men got very industrious. Koeppling hit for one with one down. Clapper flew out, but German Vogt singled. Bancroft put a Texas leaguer where it couldn't be fondled. Koeppling and Vogt scoring on the hit and Banny going to second. Boertschi walked and Gray hit for one, scoring Bancroft, Caldwell hit, scoring Baertschi and Gray.

In the fifth the Drillers added further to their score. Shaub singled, Koepping attempted to sacrifice, his bunt being safe. Clapper's single brought both men across the plate, but Clapper was caught trying to boost his hit into an extra base. Vogt and Gray retired the side, though Bancroft and Bgertschi sandwiched in two hits in the inning.

That ended the run-getting for the locals, but the Drillers really had enough runs to humble the Killianites. Here's hoping that the down-trodden Drillers will further fan the divine spark of ambition, and today sink the heavy boot of despondency into the rough red neck of our friends, the enemy. GLEAMS IN THE SPORTING FOG BY BRUCE

It looks as if the Winonas, of the tribe of the Ojibways, are due for a severe trimming at the hands of the Lakes. We are going after them with that same playful spirit that a bullpup attacks a muskrat that has nipped the canine on the probocis. We hope and trust that Lew Drill, fat and good natured at most times, has the fighting glint in his eyes as he sicks his braves on to the slaughter.

We lost a hard luck opener at Wausau. It was the kind of a game that is hard to lose, for it was just as much Duluth's game as the enemy's until the lone run looked as big as a large lady in a Princesse gown. We hope to get yesterday's game back and more than even up for it in the present series with the Lumberjacks.

And then we take on the gentle Joe and his band next week. Don't forget that. There is where we are going to pay up old scores. There is a rumor that Winona is making an attempt to secure several new players for the last few games in the dash for the wire. It is to be hoped that there is nothing in the report. If new players are to be secured, however, they should be of a faster type than some of the players who have graced the Winona team the present season.

Winona has seven games yet to play here, that is at the head of the Lakes. It is to hoped that Gentle Joe drops them all. What a crimp for Joe! But that much to be hoped for result is hardly to be expected. The Winona bunch, with all its faults, is a difficult team to beat. The team has never fared very well at the Head of the Lakes though, and the chances are that Joseph will be made to drink the dregs of bitter defeat on his present trip into the northern half.

The race is exciting. We are in the stretch and both Duluth and Winona are under whip and spur. They haven't passed our surcingle yet, but they are running stride and stride with us and any mistake and they may pass us. It is a great, whipping, booting finish, and the team that flashes under the wire first will know that it has had a race.

Good-by, Cy and Rube, Nick, Jesse Jack and Tom, for we are going to leave you now.

The passing of Young, the veteran of twenty years of baseball history; of Rube Waddell; of Nick Altrock; the handsome (?) German; of Jesse Tannehill and long Tom Hughes is booked for the present season. All of the veterans were among the greatest in their day.

There is seldom a big league season completed but does not witness the passing of some star from the firmament of the big league constellation. The present season promises to be no different from the past seasons in this regard.

It looks as if Cy Denton Young, the grand old man of the game, is about through. He had a great year with the Boston Red Sox last year, but with the Clevelands this year the veteran has been getting his bumps rather regularly. Twenty years of baseball is a long, yes, very long time. The Ohio rail-splitter has seen them come and go. He has reminded us of the little babbling brook that Tennyson sent to big league fame. Cy has been going on for a long time.

The veteran never has dissipated and he has never had a sore arm. But like Bob Fitzsimmons and Farmer Martin Burns, he is but human, after all. He cannot go on forever, and it looks as if he was about due to retire to the quiet of his farm.

The strenuous Rube Waddell, the sensational Waddell, the most brilliant southpaw of his day, is surely going back. Connie Mack shipped the fisherman when he observed the jolts of old Father Time, and it looks, in view of the performances of the Reuben at St. Louis, that wise Connie Mack made no mistake in his judgment.

If the Rube does not fall from big league company this season, the season will be memorable for that event alone. The passing of the crazy one will mark the retirement of one of the original characters of baseball; a big, strapping chap, who failed to take advantage of his grand ability, yet, who despite his shortcomings, was one of the most brilliant starboard slingers the game ever produced.

Then there is comedian Nick Altrock. Just two or three years ago he was one of the great stars with Old Roman Comiskey's White Sox. He was the man who had so much to do with the humbling of the Cubs, when the White Sox and the Cubs clashed in the sensational world's series. He is passing. Comiskey shipped him to Washington and from there he has been sent to Minneapolis. Jesse Tannehill was also shipped to Minneapolis, but refused to go. Tom Hughes, another great star and brilliant performer, has hit the toboggan and is now working with Minneapolis, which gets about all the big league castoffs.

It is sad, this passing of the great characters of the national game. In a short year their great deeds on the diamond will have been forgotten. It has always been that way with flickering fame.

Young, Waddell, Altrock, Tannehill, Hughes and Happy Jack Chesbro, too, who is all through, will be forgotten.

And it is goodbye Cy, Rube, Nick, Jesse, Jack and Tom.

James Corbett is having the time of his sweet young life. For the present time he is in Ireland. He is doing his monologue stunt. Then he goes to England. From the land of the moncle he goes to France and then to Brussels. If any of the fighters who ever jumped through the ropes of an arena could make good in theatrical work on the other side, James J. is the man. His tongue is almost as smooth as was Chauncey Depew's, before the insurance investigation gave it the charley horse.

And speaking about theatrical work, baseball players will invade the stage like chickens responding to the chirpings of a maiden with a skillet of heaping food. We will have Mike Donlin, Joe Tinker, Larry Lajoie, possibly, Christy Mathewson and many others of that flit-to-fame class trodding the boards.

* * *

Here is something that some Kipling follower wrote. Take a look at it. We might dedicate it to Umpire Wheeler.

A fool there was, who began to swear
(Even as you or I)
At a shirt and a shoe and a shock of hair
(We called him the umpire who wasn't square.)
But the fool he called him names for fair!
(Even as you or I.)

Oh, the balls we stop and the flies we pop
And the beautiful clean base hits
That are spoiled by the umpire who knows too much
(And now he knows that he knew too much
For we had to give him fits!)

A fool there was, and a ball he fouled
(Even as you or I.)
Tho umpire signalled "Fair!" and the audience howled,
(But the umpire only glared and scowled),
While the batter deeply and fiercely growled
(Even as you or I).

Oh, the wrath unspoke, and the swears we choke,
And the excellent epithets
Which belong to the umpire who knows it all
(That 'tis all of an umpire who knows it all),
And all of our game upsets!

The umpire with haughty pride was filled
(Even as you or I),
But that wasn't what the audience willed
(They loudly demanded his blood be spilled!)
So—some of him lived—but he mostly was killed
(Even as you or I),

And it isn't the chump and it isn't the gump
That makes me so awful mad;
It's coming to know that he never can jump,
(For his head is only a sodden lump)
And his judgment's always bad!

TOURNAMENT NEARING AN END

The semi-finals in the boat club tournament doubles are being played off today.

Grady and Graff are playing Wilson and Davis, and Hooker and McBride have as their opponents Whyte and Washburn.

Both in the semi-finals and finals the matches are for the best three games out of five. As a special feature of the sport program at the boat club Saturday afternoon, the finals will be played off.

Yesterday Whyte and Washburn defeated Payne and De Witt, 6—1 6—1. Hooker and McBride defeated Coleman and Mather, 2—6, 6—3 and 6—3.

Hibbing Wins.

Chisholm, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing defeated Chisholm by a score of 5 to 0 here yesterday. Dick Thorsen was on the mound for the locals. He held Hibbing to seven hits, but errors by him contributed to the victory of the visitors. Weidel held Chisholm to five hits. Graham's long running stab of a fly was the fielding feature of the game.

Score: R.

Hibbing	0 0 0 0 1 0 3 0 1	—5

Batteries—Weidel and Carroll; Thorsen and Chaffee.

THREE DULUTH GOLFERS STILL IN THE RUNNING

Harrison, Cullum and Goodell in "Eights" for Championship.

St. Paul Gets Next Tournament---New Officers Are Elected.

Three Northland Country club golf players are making a strong bid for the state championship. The first and second rounds for the championship are over, and Harrison, Cullum and Goodell are still in the race.

Harrison yesterday afternoon defeated Carpenter of the Lafayette club, Cullum defeated Marfield of the Minikahda club, and Goodell defeated Hertig of the Minikanda club. The matches were all close.

Hopkins, Alexander and Hargreaves were eliminated in the second round of yesterday. Livingstone defeated Hopkins, Miller defeated Alexander, and State Champion Harry Legg defeated Hargreaves. Those remaining in the event for the championship of the state are: Harrison, Johnston, Livingstone, Millen, Legg, Burkey, Cullum and Goodell.

The third round for the championship is being played this morning. Harrison is playing Johnston, Livingstone is playing Millen, Legg meets Burkey, and Cullum has as a competitor Goodell. This means that Duluth will have at least one man in the semi-finals, and perhaps two.

The semi-finals for the first flight, the semi-finals in the second flight, and the second round for the consolation prize are being played off. A putting contest is also being conducted for which prizes will be given.

Banquet Held.

At the banquet held at the clubhouse last evening the new officers of the Minnesota Golf association were chosen. W. H. Lightner of the Town and Country club of St. Paul was elected president. Wendell Hertig of the Minikahada club of Minneapolis was elected vice president and F. T. Parlin of the St. Paul club was elected secretary.

The invitation of T. L. Blood of the Town and Country club of St. Paul, who offered the use of the St. Paul links for the next state tournament, was accepted.

The banquet was one of the most elaborate affairs ever held at the local club and more than 100 were present. The house was prettily decorated in pink and white, the colors of the Northland club. W. W. Walker was toastmaster.

Tom Bendelow, the Spalding man who is conducting the tournament, sang several Scotch songs which pleased those present greatly. An elaborate menu was prepared and served by Mrs. Hill, the club stewardess, and short toasts were given by J. R. Marfield, W. H. Lightner, Wendell Hertig, E. P. Alexander, W. R. Murray and W. J. Olcott.

SPEED KINGS MAKE MARKS

Wonderful Records Are Established By Autos on Indianapolis Speedway.

Fatal Accident Mars Day of Frenzied Striving For Fame.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20.—The second day of the automobile speed carnival at the new Indianapolis motor speedway, was opened with a five-mile stripped class race today. A large crowd turned out to enjoy a program of varied interest which promised to show nearly every racing car gathered at the new track in at least one of the races.

One of the events that attracted the greatest interest was the trial to lower the world's record for the mile and kilometer. The setting of the record of 43 1-10 by Barney Oldfield in his Benz yesterday added new attractions to this event. Each car was permitted to make two attempts at both records and they were timed by the new electrical device which worked so successfully in the first day's events. Christie in his freak racer was on hand prepared to make a hard fight for the gold-plated automobile which has been offered by an automobile manufacturing house for the fastest mile made during 1909.

The track was in better condition than it was yesterday, a large force of laborers having worked all night on the rough spots. The course was oiled all over, according to instructions issued by the American Automobile association.

The speedway owners have announced a twenty-four-hour race to be run on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 24-25. The track will be lighted by a $15,000 electrical plant now being installed. After this meet tomorrow the laborers will be put to work and will be kept hard at it until the track is in perfect condition for the around the clock grind. The management will offer $3,000 in cash prizes for this event, and it is expected nearly all the start drivers in the country will participate.

Two records were broken during the inauguration of the speedway yesterday. Barney Oldfield, driving a high-powered Benz covered a mile in 43 1-10 seconds, breaking De Palme's mark of 51 seconds, and Louis Chevrolet, in a Buick negotiated ten miles in the marvelous time of 8:56 4-10, cutting Oldfield's time of 9:12. Both of these are new American track marks.

Robert Burman, in a Buick, won the 250-mile race, the feature of the day, and the contest in which Bourque and Holcomb lost their lives. The time was 4:38:57 4-10—slow because of the many accidents that marred the race.

The Stoddard-Dayton (Clements) was second in 4:46:01 8-10 and the National (Merz) finished third in 4:52:39 7-10. Another National with Kincaid at the wheel was the only other car of ten starters to finish the long grind.

The death of Bourque and Holcombe of the Knox car caused the American Automobile association to issue an ultimatum to the owners of the big track that certain changes must be made or the sanction for the event will be withdrawn. The American Automobile association demands that the track be freed from the many and dangerous ruts which are said to be unavoidable in a new track and that every inch of it be thoroughly oiled and tarred. Yesterday only a short portion in front of the grand stand was oiled and the dust on the other parts is blamed for the collapse of two drivers in the long race—Louis Chevrolet and Fred Ellis—who were blinded by the dense white mist that covered the major portion of the track.

Two records were broken and the first day of the immense track proved fair to be an unqualified success when a pall was cast over the crowd of 12,000 speed-mad spectators by the sudden death of Bourque and Holcomb.

As the result of the two deaths the Knox company has withdrawn all its entries for the next two days and it is said it will probably never again enter its car in a race.

Besides the horror of the tragedy, the 250-mile race teemed with dramatic incidents and disappointments. The following cars started in the death-dealing grind: Knox (Bourque); National (Kincaid); National (Merz); Stoddard-Dayton (Miller); Buick, (Burman); Buick (Strang; Buick (Chevrolet); Jackson (Ellis); and Stoddard-Dayton (Clements).

Strang was the first to come to grief as his car caught fire before he had completed one lap. He was delayed some time by this and the officials at first refused to allow him to continue as he and his mechanician had been aided by the track volunteer fire company in extinguishing the blaze. The rules of the contest forbid any one but the two men riding in the car from making repairs or touching the cars in any way. Following a long discussion, he was allowed to continue after the remainder of the field had gained about fifteen miles on him. The fire, however, had sapped all the racing blood from his machine and he dropped out after making a gallant effort to regain his lost ground.

Chevrolet dashed into the lead at the start and held it for fifty-two laps or more than half the course, with the brief exception of the fifteenth and sixteenth laps, when he relinquished it to his teammate, Burman, the winner. Then he was blinded and was led from the track. His car was withdrawn. Miller, in a Stoddard-Dayton, also gave up his losing race about this time.

After Chevrolet's withdrawal, Burman again went into the lead, with Bourque second and Kincaid third. This order continued until the fatal accident to the Knox, and Kincaid moved into second place and Ellis, in a Jackson, loomed up as a contender for third place.

Burman led until the eighty-second lap, or until about 205 miles had been covered. Continued trouble with tires and ignition caused him to lose his once commanding lead and drop back to second place, while Ellis, who had passed Kincaid some distance back, took the lead, with Burman second and Clements, in a Stoddard-Dayton, third.

Then the Jackson began to encounter its string of mishaps that finally put it out of the race. A. J. House, the mechanician, was taken ill and forced to leave the car and go to the hospital. Leo Lynch, another driver of the Jackson team, took his place. Ellis' eyes began to fill up with dust and oil, but he remained gamely at the wheel. Finally his car encountered engine troubles after he had once stopped to have some effort made to relieve his eyes.

The failure of his car to work after this stop caused him to lose heart and he finally fell from his seat in a dead faint and he was carried to the hospital. Lynch was not able to get the car going again and was forced to stand by idly and watch his rivals snatch his chances of victory.

With the Jackson out of commission, Burman was able to regain his lead, with Clements second and Kincaid third. This order continued until the finish.

It was in the second event, a ten-mile race for stripped chassis cars that the first record was broken. Chevrolet won easily and apparently had little difficulty in cutting Oldfield's record from 9:12 3-5 to 8:56 4-10. This race was a clean sweep for the Buicks as Strang finished second and Burman third.

Oldfield established his mile record on the long home stretch of the immense ellipse. Getting away to a flying start, his big car fairly tore up the track until it passed over the tape that marked the finish. When his time was announced, 43 1-10, he was greeted with a mighty cheer as he had clipped nearly eight seconds off Ralph De Palma's former record of 51, made in a Fiat on Sept. 5, 1908.

The closest race of the day came in the five mile stripped chassis event won by Burman in a Buick after a fierce struggle with Bourque. The two mighty cars tore around the track with wheels almost touching throughout the five miles. The scant margin of nine-tenths of a second separated Bourque from a victory in the last race he ever finished.

Thorsen to Pitch.

Dick Thorsen is scheduled to work in one of the games the Big Duluths will play against the Hopkins brothers' baseball team. The two bloomer girls baseball team. The two games will be played Saturday and Sunday, the game of Saturday being called at 3:30 o'clock and the Sunday game starting at 3 o'clock. The Hopkins team is composed of men and girls. Men form the battery. Girls play the outfield and some of the infield positions. The team is said to play snappy baseball.

PEACHES TO BE HIGHER

California Fruit Nearly Gone and Washington Crop a Failure.

The Pickling Season Is Here ---Public Market at Armory.

California peaches and plums have been the feature of the market during the past week, but next week will see their finish. They are arriving daily in carload lots and are finding ready sale with the people who like fine fruit, but they will be crowded out during the coming week.

Washington fruits will begin to have their innings during the coming week. Italian prunes and Washington pears will be on the market in quantities, and the quality is expected to be fine. The Washington peach crop has not been up to expectations and the prices will be high.

Bushel tomatoes and pickling cucumbers in great quantity and fine quality are on the market to tempt the thrifty housewife to pickle for the long winter season. There has been little change in price and there will be none. The pickling season is short, and those who intend to stock up for the winter on the kind that mother used to make, will have to go into the market soon or they will be left desolate for a home-pickleless winter.

Every requisite for the many varieties of pickles, relishes, jellies, chowchows and what-nots that can be concocted in the pickling season, are now on the market. There are pickling cucumbers of different sizes, onions, cauliflower, green tomatoes and green peppers for pickles, currants for jellies, peaches and pears for preserves, and if one is very thrifty the rind of watermelons may be used for a variety of jelly of which everyone knows not.

New Mexico canteloupes and Illinois gem melons are still on the market, and both are fine. Grapefruit and watermelons may be had reasonably, and nearly all varieties of green vegetables are still to be had.

• • •

Bartlett pears will go out next week, but for the time there are plenty of them to be had. During the week they have had an increase from $2.50 to $3 a box.

• • •

Oranges are holding firm at unchanged prices, but lemons have gone up from $4.75 to $6 a box.

Grapes are on the market in quantities, with little change in price. Muscat grapes have gone down during the week from $2.25 to $1.50 for four-basket crates.

Early fall apples, mostly of the Duchess variety, are coming from the Southwest and the apples from other markets will not be on for about two weeks.

The epicure has much for delight in prospect of the local market for farm produce grown in the vicinity of Duluth during the next few weeks. The public market will open in the Armory tomorrow and every Wednesday and Saturday for six weeks, the farmers will come to the city to dispose of their produce.

St. Louis county has advanced wonderfully in an agricultural way in recent years and the display at the Armory will open the eyes of a good many people to the possibilities of the soil in this vicinity. Certain varieties of green vegetables thrive here as nowhere else in the country and they will be fresh and inviting on the days the market is open.

New potatoes are holding firm at 50 cents a bushel and Minnesota cabbages are coming in freely at $1.35 a crate. Other vegetables are firm in price.

• • •

The weakness in eggs, noticeable last week, is still present in the price of 24 cents a dozen. There is no prospect of an immediate change.

• • •

Hay and feed prices are unchanged during the week, with the exception of shorts, which have eased off to $23 a ton.

• • •

Butter is firm and unchanged during the week and poultry and meats are also holding at the same prices.

DANCING IS THE BEST METHOD OF DEVELOPING A PRETTY FOOT AND INSTEP, SAYS MISS BESSIE CLIFFORD, THE YAMA YAMA GIRL

Bessie Clifford, the Yama Yama Girl of "The Three Twins" company, which comes to the Lyceum for a week starting Monday evening, Aug. 23, says a pretty girl without a pretty foot is like a ship without an anchor.

"An attractive foot is not necessarily a small one," she declares. "Few young women know how to get their shoes to fit properly. The most important thing is to see that the sole extends out further than the ball of the foot, so that the bottom of the foot will have ample room. This gives comfort and enables one to wear a high heel, and nothing lends more tone than a high heel. This necessitates a high instep, which is very easily developed.

"The instep is nothing more than muscles controlling the forward part of the foot. Any muscle can be developed. You will notice that every chorus girl possesses a high instep. She develops it by constant dancing. I have seen many recruits, when first beginning in the chorus, who would be perfectly flat-footed, and in less than two months would have a high instep and a beautiful foot.

"Ugly feet are an unnecessary evil. I do not know of anything more distasteful than to see a young lady, very handsomely gowned, exhibit a homely foot, and you know this is very often done. And another thing, you know, a great many girls spoil their feet by wearing slippers without heels for house wear. This is a bad habit. A house slipper should always have a heel. I do not mean a high heel, but it should be higher than the front part of the shoe, so as to keep the heel higher than the ball of the foot, so as not to lengthen the tendons.

"If a girl will follow the advice given below you will notice the difference in two weeks, as the muscles of the instep develop very rapidly.

Outlines a System.

"A pretty foot can be easily developed. You take the average chorus girl, and she has a high instep and a very short foot. This is because she has been properly trained and has danced her foot into smallness and the admired shape which calls for a high arch and instep, and she has held herself up on her toes until she has drawn her heels higher in the back, arched her instep and shortened the tendons of the heel. She simply has done what a great many girls pay to have done by the machinery of a beauty doctor.

"However, the beauty doctor's system generally leaves the foot stiff and causes a girl to step short when she walks. It is not necessary that a girl should be a dancer to possess a foot with a high arch and instep. For instance, if a girl would practice walking around in the room on her toes in the morning, or at night before she retires, for at least fifteen minutes, she would notice the difference in a very short time, as the tendons quickly shorten, causing the instep to rise. A girl should always wear a shoe with a high arch and a short vamp, with a very small toe piece.

This gives ease and comfort to the foot and will make it appear much smaller than it really is.

"One can dress the foot to give it an appearance of smallness. The method is simple, but yet it seems only to be known by people of the stage. For instance, you take a girl that requires a shoe, we will say, size 3, and she will get the same size made with a very short vamp and high curve to heel. The shoe will look to be size 1½. A great many women will think that a shoe with a small vamp will be uncomfortable, but that is where they are mistaken. A small vamp shoe is the most comfortable shoe one can wear."

HAS $17,000,000; HAS TO BEG $5

New York, Aug. 20.—Heiress of $17,000,000, yet compelled to ask her friends for as little as $5 for immediate needs, was the plea of Mrs. Julia Watt Morris Curtiss in her application for the removal of conservators of her estate. Justice Brady decided that the conservators must go, and issued an order setting aside the supreme court mandate which appointed them.

Mrs. Curtiss was one of the heirs to the $30,000,000 estate of the late Mary G. Pinkney of Fairfield, Conn.

The allegation on which the appointment of the conservators was based was made by her son, Louis Morris, who declared that Mrs. Curtiss was unable to manage her property.

THINK PEARY AT THE POLE

Students of Exploration Believe He Has Reached His Goal.

Comment on Current Topics Drifting About the Capital.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Those sharps who make a specialty of Arctic exploration are inclined to believe that Commander Peary has at last discovered the North pole. They have no positive information on which to base this belief, for no word has been received from him since he disappeared into the frozen waters of the Far North.

The indications in general, borne out by reports from the Far North, are that the present has been an extremely favorable season for Peary's purposes; wherefore the special ground for the belief that he may have won his goal.

Peary sailed from New York just a year ago, prepared to remained in the Far North three years if necessary, but before he left he told President Roosevelt, who had given the expedition his blessing and half a cargo of horseshoes and four-leaf clovers, that he really expected to get to the pole in the summer of 1909.

Siege is being laid to both poles this year by experienced explorers. The impression prevails that the South pole is liable to be found before the North, because of the marvelous success of the Shackleton expedition, which got nearer to the South pole than anybody had ever before got to either pole.

Detailed reports of the Shackleton expedition have been coming to the National Geographic society and have aroused the greatest interest along with the belief that the Southern pole is really more accessible than the Northern one, because there is not so much open water to be crossed.

Jean Charcot is now in the Antarctic region with an excellently equipped expedition, and Lieut. Shackleton is expected to go South again next season.

If both poles are discovered this year it surely would be a remarkable record for 1909.

"Prohibition has never prohibited, and never will," says C. F. Blalock of Hickory, N. C. Mr. Blalock is a revenue officer, and speaks with conviction.

"No matter where prohibition has been introduced it has been a failure, so far as keeping drink away from those who want it. As long as a man wants to drink he will get it, no matter whether there are laws against the manufacture and sale of liquors.

"It is an established fact," continued Mr. Blalock, "that prohibitory laws make illicit manufacture of whisky possible. Prohibition makes moonshiners and other criminals who circumvent the law in order to sell liquor to whoever wants to buy—man, woman, child, sober or drunk, young and old. And the stuff they make and sell is vile.

"There is a way to make the selling of whisky and other intoxicating drinks as respectable as it is to sell soda water. If the saloons where the drink is sold had no screens, no curtains; if its interior and its patrons were as free to view as the people who frequent drug stores for soda water, it would help considerably to establish temperance. And, then, the saloon keeper should lose his license if he once sells to a minor, to an intoxicated person, or to one who has no money. Treating should not be allowed. If these ideas were embodied into a law, the saloon business would gradually become as respectable as any other business."

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel has conceived the strange idea that a government clerk should work just as hard as a clerk for Smith, Jones & Robinson, wholesale grocers, and, stranger still, he is insisting that the men in his department do it. The result is that the efficiency of his force in work turned out has increased from 25 to 30 per cent and the fiat has gone forth that the heads of the least competent are to fall. Up to the present time seventy clerks have been demoted, thirty have been promoted or transferred from one division to another, and about eight have been allowed to resign.

Not half of the force of the department has been gone over, owing to the pressure of other work on the heads of the department. It is calculated in a rough way that when the shake-up is accomplished a little more than 200 clerks will have been affected by the changes contemplated. The largest percentage of these demoted and "resigned" clerks will be found in the census bureau.

It is feared that this idea may spread to the other departments; in fact, it is said that Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock shows signs of pernicious activity of the same sort already.

The new Spanish minister to this post, the Marquis de Villa Lobar, is not a stranger to Washington by any means, as he was attached to the ministry here as chief secretary when his uncle, the Duke of Veragua, represented the Spanish government as a direct lineal descendant of Columbus at the World's Columbian exposition at Chicago in 1893. The marquis has served since that time as secretary to the Spanish embassy in Paris, and later in London, where he made a splendid record. It is said that it was due to his diplomacy and tact that the marriage between the Spanish King Alfonso and the English Princess Ena was brought about.

SCORES GOMPERS AND MITCHELL

Kirby Declares They Are Enemies to Industrial Welfare.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 20.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and John Mitchell, his associate, were condemned as enemies to the industrial well-being of the country in a speech before the Buffalo chamber of commerce yesterday by John Kirby, Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers. It was also declared by Mr. Kirby that President Roosevelt did his utmost to secure the passage of the Pearre anti-injunction bill, and an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law exempting labor unions from some of its provisions, solely to secure the labor vote.

Amateur Has Bad Fall.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 20.—Frederick Scott, an amateur aeronaut of Lincoln, received injuries last night which physicians fear will result fatally. Scott waited until he was within 200 feet of the ground when he cut loose. The parachute did not have time to open, and he fell heavily, breaking his shoulder and one leg and receiving internal injuries.

ORCHARD TRIAL NOW HAS $13,904 ECHO.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 20.—After five years of litigation, the San Francisco Gas & Electric company has accepted the confession of Harry Orchard, now serving a life sentence for the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg, as a perjured statement, and the corporation has paid Attorney Walter H. Linforth $13,904 for damages inflicted upon his property on Washington street in November, 1904.

During his trial in Idaho, Orchard told of having attempted to kill Fred W. Bradley, an enemy of the Western Federation of Miners, by blowing him up with dynamite. At the time mentioned by Orchard, Bradley was living in one of Linforth's flats. The explosion, however, was attributed to defective gas fixtures and Linforth obtained judgment for $10,800.

The corporation sought to obtain a new trial based upon the statement made in the Idaho courts.

CELEBRATE 200TH YEAR OF FAMILY'S HISTORY.

Carlisle, Pa., Aug. 20.—The descendants of Hugh Brady and Capt. Samuel Brady, pioneer settlers of Cumberland county Pennsylvania, held a re-union here yesterday to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the birth of their ancestors. The descendants live in widely separated sections of the country.

Governor James H. Brady of Idaho, who was expected to be present, sent regrets. Several historical papers were read at the reunion yesterday, and today the descendants visited the Gettysburg battlefield. The Brady reunion committee has headquarters at Pittsburg, the chairman of the committee being Dr. Cyrus Townsend Brady of Kansas City, Mo.

ON THE IRON RANGES

FIREMEN TO HAVE SPORT

Aurora Committees Ready for Range Tournament Association Meeting.

During Celebration Cornerstone of New Aurora Hall Will Be Laid.

Aurora, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Preparations for the second annual convention and tournament of the Mesaba Range Volunteer Firemen's association, to be held here Aug. 25 and 26, are about complete and every indication is that it will be one of the most memorable in the history of the association.

Committees of the local department have been busy for the past two months gathering together sufficient funds and making other preparations. Teams from Biwabik, Tower, Gilbert, McKinley, Buhl and Mount Iron will be here to compete for the prizes. Over $500 in prizes will be awarded during the tournament.

The program for the event has about been completed. Immediately after the morning train the parade will start from First avenue and wind its way up Jackson street. After the parade the address of welcome will be delivered by Capt. Thomas J. Nicholas of Aurora and will be responded to by Peter Cosgrove of Gilbert.

Parade First Day.

Several important races will be run the first day, including the championship hose race for the $50 banner. The big parade will be headed by the boys' band of Ely, which will also furnish the music during the two days. A prize of $10 will be given for the department having the most men in line during the parade. The Aurora team is barred from competing in this event. For the department making the best appearance a cash prize of $20 will be given.

During the first day the cornerstone of the new hall will be laid under the direction of the village council and township board of the town of White. W. H. Guinn will officiate and Charles H. Olson, president of the village, will lay the cornerstone. The oration will be delivered by Attorney Charles T. Murphy. The laying of the cornerstone will mark the first ceremonies of this nature that has ever been given in Aurora and will be a matter of great interest to the citizens as well as the visitors. The hall is being built by the village and town and is to cost $30,000. The building is being erected by Bowe-Burke company of Hibbing, and the architect is A. Puck of Duluth.

The several committees having charge of the tournament are making arrangements to entertain about 3,000 strangers and the village is being decorated in a grand manner. A ball game will take place during the first day between the Ely and Aurora teams and as Ely is after revenge for the two defeats administered to her by Aurora earlier in the season, the game promises to be a hot one.

After the ball game the races will continue. The ladder climbing contest has for the first prize a chief's lantern and as second prize a fireman's searchlight. Ten dollar medal will be given to the winner of the firemen's 100-yard dash and a $5 medal to the second.

Hub-and-Hub Race.

The prizes in the hub-and-hub race are a $15 trumpet and a $5 trumpet. The winner in the novelty hose race will be given a loving cup, and the second best three Miller's respirators. The chiefs' race has for first and second prizes a $10 medal and a chief's white coat. The winner of the wet hose race gets a nozzle and the second best an extinguisher. The flag race has but one prize, a silk flag. The relay bucket race has for prizes an engraved torch for the winner and a firemen's picture for second prize.

The local department has been practicing hard for the affair, and from all apearances they will carry off a large number of the prizes. A large amount of work has been put on the streets to have them in shape for the races, and it is expected that several of the records made at the last tournament will be broken. The local team has arranged for dancing night and day.

Those having the affair in hand are going to use every effort to keep out the fakirs and other undesirables. The secretary has received a large number of communications from fakirs already, and all have been consigned to the waste basket. Every effort is being made to make the tournament the cleanest and most pleasant ever held.

THIRD STREET WILL LOOK FINE

Grand Rapids Thoroughfare Will Have No Electric Wire Poles.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—To make way for the paving of Third street, Supt. Garis has had a crew of men changing the electric light poles and overhead wires on that street. The street lighting system is to be changed, and the wires for the street lights are to be placed underground in conduits, and incandescent lights instead of arcs are to be used. The material for this work has been received and the work of putting the wires underground will be commenced shortly. All of the electric light poles on Third street for about six blocks west of Kindred avenue have been taken down and the line is being moved to Second street, where the Third street users of lights will tap the wire.

The rock crusher broke down Monday, delaying the paving work. Actual work on the street has not been started owing to the fact that the curb and gutter work is the first to be done, and it is now not definitely settled how wide the street is to be paved. The work will be commenced on the street very shortly.

James Passard, who has the contract for laying three blocks of sewer, expects to have his work under way the first of next week. Mr. Passard has had considerable experience in work of this kind, having laid the first main sewer in Grand Rapids. It was Mr. Passard who laid the water mains under the Mississippi river on Leland avenue.

The township has sold its bonds, including the road improvement bonds, to the Fargo Investment company, and the board is now advertising for bids for road work. The roads to be improved are the Grand Rapids portion of the Hill City road, the Lolly lake road and the Horseshoe lake road. The town is also advertising for bids for the construction of a tool house. The bids are to be opened on Aug. 30.

Preparation to paving the streets, the Mesaba Telephone company was notified to remove its poles from Third street. Manager Hostetter of the telephone company is correspondig with the officials and the matter will be satisfactorily arranged soon.

NASHWAUK IS LIVELY

Mesaba Range Town Is Experiencing Quite a Boom These Days.

Much Building With Prospects of New Mines Being Started.

Nashwauk, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—This is certainly anything but a quiet village these days. The amount of building going on here is a great surprise to visitors.

The Olilla hotel, a large three-story structure of solid brick construction, is completed, and is about ready to open for business. The new high school building is nearing completion, and will be ready to open the fall term of school. The sewer system, which was started a short time ago, and which was badly needed, is being pushed to completion, and will be ready for use before winter. Quite a number of places are connecting up with the sewer in anticipation of the completion of the duct.

New stores are being opened up and new dwellings are being started every day. The town is full of life and activity, and a feeling of optimism pervades the air.

One of the flourishing organizations is the Commercial club, of which Attorney John C. Lewis is the secretary. The club proposes to give a big banquet on Sept. 2 to celebrate the activity past and prospective, and to get the people together in a social way.

To Open Two New Mines.

Much is expected to happen for Nashwauk in the coming year. Rumor has it that two new mines are to be opened up very shortly. During the dull season of winter the La Rue mine will employ some fifty men under ground. In addition to this, the mine will do some extensive operations in the pit and in stripping this fall and next year.

The officers of the Mesaba Telephone company told the people of Nashwauk that they will put in an exchange, to be in operation within thirty days, and it is expected that work will start on it at once.

A great many people are coming here these days on various missions. The Duluth, Missabe & Northern, which stops at Cort, five miles south of Nashwauk, is a much-used road, and it requires six bus lines to handle the passengers who come that way, making a rich harvest for the liverymen.

He was taken to his home and Dr. Sherman summoned. The doctor found that the small bone of the leg had been severed and that the large one was badly fractured. "The Professor's Romance."

The welcome that Duluthians have extended to Miss Maude Leone during the two weeks of her special engagement at the Lyceum has been most complimentary, and the advance sale for the three concluding performances to be given tonight, tomorrow night and a Saturday matinee, has been large. "The Professor's Romance," which was chosen for this last week, is a delightful love comedy, and the audiences this week have been greatly pleased with the entire production. Miss Leone is undoubtedly the most popular young actress who has appeared in stock in Duluth, and she appears to the best advantage as "Polly" in this week's performance. At every matinee for the two weeks' engagement every available seat at the Lyceum has been occupied, and the advance sale promises the same for tomorrow.

100 FOREST RANGERS WANTED

Uncle Sam Will Hold Examinations at Cass Lake and Ely.

An examination to fill vacancies in the ranger force on all national forests in district 1 will be held Oct. 25 and 26. From this examination it is expected that 100 appointments will be made in this district.

The examination will be held at the headquarters of each national forest in the district, at the following places: Anaconda, Ashland, Bozeman, Choteau, Dillon, Great Falls, Helena, Kalispell, Libby, Livingston, Missoula, Red Lodge, Sheridan and Thompson Falls, Mont.; Grangeville, Kooskia, Sandpoint and Wallace, Idaho; Au Sable, Mich.; Cass Lake and Ely, Minn.; Camp Crook, S. D., and Newport, Wash.

While the examination is entirely along practical lines and knowledge of field conditions rather than book learning is considered essential, the opportunities for these applicants with educational advantages are considerably increased. The rapid development of the national forests is making continually increasing demands upon those engaged in their management, and men with ability to assume responsibility and serve in supervisory capacities are in demand. These more responsible positions or the national foreste are filled by promotion from lower grades, so that anyone entering as a ranger is eligible for promotion to any of the more responsible and higher paid places, including that of forest supervisor.

Only those men who are at least 21 years of age, not more than 40, of good character, temperate, and in good physical condition, are eligible to take this examination. The salary paid to beginners is $900 a year.

Applicants can secure information concerning the examination from the district forester at Missoula, Mont., forest supervisors, or the United States civil service commission, Washington, D. C.

DULUTH DAIRIES ARE IN FIRST CLASS SHAPE

Health Department Prepares a Table Showing Official Scorings.

J. Uno Sebenius and A. S. O'Brien at Top of the List.

Dairies supplying Duluth with milk and cream are in better condition now than they ever were before, taken as a whole, according to the report of Milk Inspector Luxon of the city health department. He has prepared a table showing the official scoring of the ninety-five dairies inside the city limits, so the consumer may see just how each dairyman stands.

The scoring of all but a very few dairies is high enough to put them in the excellent class, and only two are scored so low as to be classified as poor. If these do not comply with cleanup instructions issued by the health department they will be forced out of business Sept. 1.

J. Uno Sebenius, with a total score of 130 2-3, and A. S. O'Brien, with a total score of 130 ,stand at the top of the list. This is out of a possible 133, so both scores are nearly perfect. In the butter fat both dairies are given a percentage of 4.4. Mr. O'Brien gets 98 for methods and 97 for equipment, while Mr. Sebenius gets 96 for methods and 100 for equipment.

A separate classification is made for equipment and methods. Of the two, the department considers methods as the most important, for this applies more particularly to cleanliness. In both classifications, a score of 85 per cent or above means excellent; between 75 and 85 is good; between 65 and 75 is fair; below 65 is poor. In the total score, everything above 100 is excellent. By a glance at the table as prepared by Mr. Luxon, the consumer can readily see just how his dairyman stands in comparison with others in the same business. There are also seventy-nine dairies outside the city limits sending milk and cream into Duluth. The scorings of these are not included in the table given below.

The report shows that there is a total of 175 dairies sending their products into Duluth, and ninety-five of these are inside the city limits. There is a total of 1,626 cows in the 174 stables. Duluth consumes 4,785 gallons of milk daily. Two milkmen have been arrested and convicted since the first of the year for selling an adulterated product. In the following table, those names not followed by butter fat markings sell milk through local wholesalers, and the markings come later through tests made at the wholesale stores. Following is the table:

BOAT RACES FOR NOVICES

Fifteen Crews Entered in Regatta to Be Held Saturday.

A feature of tomorrow's sports at the boat club will be a race in the lapstreak working boats manned by crews made up principally of novices. The idea of the event has been to get the men who have not been out before interested in the rowing game, and it bids fair to be a big success. Fifteen crews have already entered, and the event is to be rowed off in four heats, four crews in each of the first three heats and three in the last heat.

While the lapstreak boats are considerably heavier than the regular shells, they are the regular craft in which new men are worked out for a time, and are equipped with the sliding seats, and other contrivances like the regular racing shells. As practice has been limited to the latter half of this week in most of the crews, the result will probably be some decidedly humorous features before all the heats are run off. The lapstreak craft have been worked overtime for the last three days, however, the old men in each boat doing their best to initiate the green men into the mysteries of keeping their eyes in the boat, shooting the arms out hard on the recovery, sliding slow, etc., and there are likely to be some close finishes in the different heats.

The officials will be: Starter, Julius Barnes; judge of the course, Dr. Lyman; timekeeper, S. A. McPhail; judge at finish, W. S. Telford.

The crews will be arranged by heats as follows:

First heat: Anderson, bow; Gaylord, Congdon, Meyers; Becker, bow, Killorin, Ferry, Latirop, J. Lonegren, bow, McLain, Ashley, Evans, Withrow, bow, Sellars, McMillan, Walter Hall.

Second heat: McGregor, bow, Carson, Levins, Kincaid; De Volin, bow, C. Lonegren, W. C. Harris, Clark; R. Holmes, bow, Jensen, D. Harris, Sullivan; Higgins, bow, Brown, Carmen, L. H. Jones.

Third heat: Deighton, bow, A. Barnes, Tinkelson, Solle; L'Estrange, bow, Butchart, Tischer, Harper; McDowell, bow, Bradford, Broad, Eachtler; Boshart, bow, D. Lewis, Michaud, George King.

Fourth heat: Burns, bow, Mahoney, G. H. Jones, J. Bradley; Sinclair, bow, McDougall, Aleorth, Walker; Rockwell, bow, Naughton, D. Holmes, Liggett.

The first heat will be rowed at 4:20 o'clock, the others at twenty-minute intervals. The final heat will be held at 6 o'clock, between the winners of the preliminary heats.

RIVAL COUNTY TEAMS TO MEET

The courthouse employes of St. Louis county have received a challenge from the bookkeepers and officers of Douglas county to a game of baseball to be played on the Superior league diamond an Saturday afternoon, Sept. 18. The challenge is in the hands of Register of Titles William Anderson, and he is getting the courthouse men lined up for the game. He expects to be able to announce a definite lineup in the near future. This is the first time they have played the Superior aggregation, but some high class teams have been raised in the courthouse in responses to challenges from the city hall and the police station, and they are confident of cleaning up the Wisconsin record keepers.

Revive Racing Game.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 20.—What several weeks ago appeared to be an incipient effort towards the re-establishment of horse racing in Louisiana has now been crystallized into an organized movement to bring the question of the race track betting up before the legislature in the coming spring.

Both the city park and the fair grounds race tracks here are being kept in condition and have not been turned into building lots, as was reported. This seems to add strength to the current belief that a vigorous effort will be made for the revival of the racing game in this city.

Balloons Sighted.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—One of the three racing balloons which started from Peoria yesterday evening was sighted today at Marine, Ill., thirty miles northeast of here. Another was seen at Linn, Mo., eighty miles west. Both were so high they could not be identified.

Joyette Wins.

Marblehead, Mass., Aug. 20.—The Joyette today won the ninth Sonder yacht race. The Wolf was second, the Manchester III, third and the Crooner a poor fourth.

Denial From Bernhard..

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 20.—Manager Bernhard of the Nashville team, when questioned today regarding the reports that he would succeed La Joie as manager of the Cleveland club, disclaimed any knowledge of the matter, save what he had seen in the newspapers.

Will Erect Concentrator.

A zinc concentrating plant, having a capacity of 300 tons a day, will be erected by the Butte & Superior Copper company, the decision being reached at a meeting of the company in its offices in the Wolvin building, yesterday. The contract will call for the completion of the plant in five months. The company has a large amount of high-grade ore in sight, and it is estimated that the amount known to be available will keep a plant of the capacity planned in operation for several years.

Battleships Cheaper Than Battle.

The Navy league, which has branches in practically every section of the United States, uses its chief argument for a larger and more powerful navy the cost of actual war. The war with Spain cost our government over $4,000,000 per day. It is estimated that a war with a great power would prove many times more costly, probably $10,000,000 per day, the cost of one "Dreadnought." It is beyond dispute that England's navy, although a huge expense, has so far saved that country from war with a great continental power. There is a great saving in health by the daily use of Golden Grain Belt beer. It makes rich blood and builds up your system. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch, Minneapolis Brewing company.

APPEAL FROM ORDER.

Lumber Company Will Take Damage Case to Supreme Court.

The Colvin-Robb Lumber company yesterday filed a notice of appeal to the state supreme court in the case brought against them by Charles Cass. Cass was awarded a $500 verdict against the company this spring, and was granted a new trial by Judge Ensign, on the grounds that the amount was not sufficient to compensate him for his injuries. He sued for $5,000 for injuries received on May 5, 1908, when he slipped on some bark and debris on the floor of the lumber company's mill and fell forward against the saw. The appeal is from the judge's order granting a new trial.

C. F. Weber Bankrupt.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Carl F. A. Weber, president of the Weber company, local mason contractors, today filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the federal district court. Scheduled liabilities aggregate $125,000 and assets amount to $147,000.

Passes Strict "Dry" Bill.

Montgomery, Ga., Aug. 20.—The drastic Fuller prohibition bill today passed the senate with little opposition. There was not a vote against the elimination of that section which sought to prohibit the newspapers and magazines from advertising liquors for sale.

A double Cut

To those who know the wholesale cost of our Stein-Bloch and Sincerity tailored suits, it meant "going some" when we offered the choice of the stock for $19.09.

Today we've cut another "five" off the 1909 Cut price and offer about 200 of these high-class garments at

CULLUM STILL LEFT IN CHAMPIONSHIP EVENT

Will Meet Harry Legg in the Semi-Final Round.

Hertig of the Minikahda Club Wins the Putting Contest.

Dr. M. B. Cullum is the only Duluth man left in the race for the golf championship of Minnesota. This morning he won the right to meet Champion Harry Legg in the semi-finals by defeating Goodell by a score of 5 up and 3 to play.

The match in the semi-finals is being played this afternoon. Cullum meets Legg, and Livingstone of the Town and Country club meets Johnson of the same club.

Johnson of the Town and Country club this morning won from Harrison of the Northland club, by a score of 2 up and 1 to play. Livingstone of the Town and Country club won from Millen of the Meadow Brook club, by the same score. Harry Legg, state champion, defeated Berkey of the Town and Country club, 5 up and 3 to play.

This leaves Johnson, Livingstone, Legg and Cullum still in the race for the state championship.

The finals will be played off tomorrow between the winners of the two matches being played this afternoon. There will be two rounds of eighteen holes each. Eighteen holes will be played in the morning and eighteen in the afternoon.

Putting Contest.

Even the exciting race for the championship was forgotten this morning, when the majority of the golfers met on the green in front of the clubhouse for the putting contest. Hertig of the Minikahda club of Minneapolis won in the finals from Fish of the Town and Country club of St. Paul, by a score of 2 up.

Play in this contest was spirited and was witnessed by a large delegation of the fair sex, who did their best to encourage the respective players.

Hertig, the winner of the contest, had his putting eye right with him this morning, and he made some difficult shots. On starting his final match with Fish, he holed the first ball and played nearly as strong throughout the game.

The consolation event is now down to the semi-finals. McLennan this morning defeated Burton; Towne defeated Miller, 1 up; Draper defeated Crosby, 5 up and 3 to play, and Finkensteadt won from Fisher, 1 up, in 19 holes. In the semi-finals this afternoon McLennan is playing with Towne, and Draper meets Finkensteadt. The finals in this event will be played off Saturday morning between the winners of this afternoon's matches.

The finals in teh first and second flights are taking place this afternoon. In the first flight Piper and Lightener have reached the finals. Piper defeated Walker by a score of 2 up, and Lightener defeated Hegardt, 7 up and 6 to play, for the right to fight it out for the cup.

In the second flight, Stone is meeting McTavish. Stone defeated Brewer, 5 up and 4 to play, and McTavish defeated Duncan, 6 up and 5 to play.

Saturday the tournament comes to a close.

COPPER MARKET STRONG AT CLOSE

Weakness of Early Part of Session Offset By Advance.

The copper market opened quiet and weak this morning and continued so until near the close when efforts of shorts to cover with very little stock coming out sent values up and most of the prominent issues showed a gain in the closing prices.

North Butte opened at $56.25, declined to $56, advanced to $57, fell off to $56.12½, advanced to $59 and closed at $58.50 bid and $59 asked. Amalgamated opened at $84.12½, declined to $83, advanced to $83.50, declined to $83 and closed at $84.50 bid and $84.62½ asked. Anaconda opened at $48 and closed at $48.50. Greene Cananea held at $9.50 bid and $9.75 asked and Superior & Pittsburg was inactive at $16.37½ bid and $16.62½ asked.

The Cost of Living

In your paper of Aug. 3rd you had an editorial on the subject, "The Cost of Living."

"It doesn't need statistics to tell the average householder that the cost of living has advanced greatly in the last dozen years. Everybody is painfully aware of it, especially those with more or less fixed and not too lavish incomes, who find the struggle to make both ends meet becoming harder year by year."—(Herald Editorial).

Barthe-Martin Co. has reduced the cost of living to a large proportion of the people in this section, and can reduce the cost of living to a large number who have not yet made themselves acquainted with our method of doing business.

"The income of the average working man, whether he labors with his hands or his brain, has not increased in anything like the proportion that the cost of living has increased. The people are at the mercy of the specially privileged owners of the trusts and of tariff-protected industries. Competition from abroad is forbidden by the tariff, and competition at home is throttled by the trust. The situation grows worse instead of better, and the relief that was hoped for from tariff revision is turned into mockery by the schedules that congress is providing."—Herald Editorial.

WHEAT OFF IN AMERICA

Heavy Offerings in Minneapolis and Chicago Cause Decline.

Prices Stiffen Toward the Close—Flax is Higher.

Duluth Board of Trade, Aug. 20.—Wheat went off generally in the American markets today on the strength of heavy offerings in Minneapolis and Chicago. Liquidation was in progress in Chicago in great volume early in the session and there was also believed to be considerable short selling. The wheat passed into strong hands, however, and later in the session there was a stiffening up, which regained the lost ground so that the net losses were small.

From Grand Forks, correspondents of local traders report that the weather is ideal for harvesting and that 90 per cent of the harvesting is completed in the southern part of North Dakota. The estimated yield for the state is 80,000,000 bu. Winnipeg correspondents wire that the crops in Saskatchewan and Alberta will be far ahead of last year, wheat averaging 25 bu. to the acre in most sections.

The Modern Miller says today:

"Plowing for fall seeding is generally progressing. In some sections, the dry and hot weather retards farm work. Illinois farmers report weevil appearing in stacked wheat. After the unfavorable experience with weevil last year, farmers are expected to market the infected wheat."

The September option closed ½c lower in Duluth, 1c lower in Chicago, ¾c lower in Minneapolis, ¼c higher in New York, ⅛c lower in St. Louis and ⅞c lower in Kansas City. The December option closed ¼c lower in Duluth, ¼c lower in Chicago, ⅛-¼c lower in Minneapolis, unchanged in New York, ½c lower in St. Louis, ¼-⅜c lower in Kansas City, and ¼c higher in Winnipeg. October wheat closed ¼c higher in Winnipeg and May wheat was ¼c lower in Duluth. Chicago corn closed ⅝-½c higher and oats ¼-⅜c higher.

Broomhall estimates the wheat and flour shipments for Monday next will be, exclusive of North America, about 6,400,000 bu of which quantity Europe will take about 5,600,000 bu. The total world's shipments last week amounted to 8,048,000, and those of a year ago 7,221,000. Arrivals of breadstuffs into the United Kingdom will aggregate about 4,400,000 bu. He predicts that there will be a fair decrease in the quantity of breadstuffs on passage to the United Kingdom. The shipments from India this week amount to 1,016,000 bu. against 1,800,000 bu last week and 104,000 last year. Broomhall predicts that the Indian shipments next week will aggregate 584,000 bu.

Argentine shipments this week amount to 904,000 bu against 328,000 bu last week and 1,244,000 bu a year ago. Corn shipments this week are 2,748,000 bu against 3,413,000 bu last week and 1,227,000 bu last year.

Wheat closed ⅜d higher to ¼d lower in Liverpool, ⅛@¾c lower in Paris, ⅝c lower in Antwerp, 1⅜c lower in Berlin, 1¼@1½c higher in Buenos Ayres.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "There was an easy undertone to the speculative wheat market at the start and values were ⅝@¾d lower, being influenced by the weak American cables yesterday and the freer Russian offerings. Shipments from Argentina and Australia were larger than expected and the Prussian official report was bearish. Following the opening and during the remainder of the moring firmness developed and values showed a sharp rally, prices gaining ⅞@1⅛d on the return of wet weather in the United Kingdom and the better demand for spot wheat, which caused active covering of shorts. Arrivals continue to show a poor quality and there is an improved demand for both cargoes and parcels. At mid-day the market was strong and ⅛@½d higher than yesterday, with the principal strength in the very distant months.

"Corn was quiet at the opening and unchanged. Later the nearby month lost ⅛d on the reported rains in America and a quiet demand for spot. Australian shipments for the week amount to 304,000 bu against 184,000 bu last week and 280,000 bu a year ago."

Car receipts of wheat at Duluth were 5 against 14 last year, and at Minneapolis 92 against 182 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 97 against 196 last year. Chicago received 109 against 85 last year; Winnipeg received 12 against 15 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 698,000 bu, last year 745,000 bu. Shipments 799,000 bu, last year 805,000 bu. Clearances of wheat and flour were 264,000 bu.

Primary receipts of corn were 645,000 bu, last year 448,000 bu. Shipments 324,000 bu, last year 325,000 bu. No clearances of corn.

The local market was active all during the session. Wheat suffered during the early part of the session on heavy offerings in Minneapolis and liquidation in Chicago, but the market developed strength near the close and closed steady.

September wheat opened unchanged at $1.00¼, declined to 99c and closed at 99¾c. December wheat opened ⅛c off at 95⅞c, declined to 95½c, advanced to 95¾c, fell off to 94⅞@95c, advanced to 95⅞c and closed at 95¾c. May wheat opened ¼c off at 99¾c, declined to 99c, advanced to 99⅞c and closed at 99¾c.

Flax was active during the session, with little change in prices, the close showing a gain slightly over yesterday's close. September flax opened unchanged at $1.38, advanced to $1.38¼, declined to $1.37¾, advanced to $1.38½ and closed at that figure. October flax opened unchanged at $1.34, declined to $1.33½ and closed at $1.35. November flax opened unchanged at $1.34, declined to $1.33⅝ and closed at $1.35. December flax opened unchanged at $1.32, declined to $1.31¾ and closed at $1.32.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Weakness Develops in Wheat After Earlier Strength.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Weakness and inactivity characterized trading in the wheat pit early in the session today. A little firmness was manifested at the opening owing to the unexpected strength of the Liverpool market, where prices were up ⅛d to ½d, notwithstanding the severe slump here yesterday, but sentiment soon became bearish because of continued favorable weather for harvesting and threshing in the Northwest. Selling was led by a prominent elevator interest which was a free seller on the previous session. Prices at the opening were ⅛c higher to ¼c lower, September being at $1.00¾ to $1.01, and December at 96⅜c to 96½c. Later September sold off to $1.00⅜ and December to 96c.

The market became extremely weak toward the middle of the session, September dropping to 99⅛c. December at the same time sold off to 95¼c. Covering by shorts caused an advance of about 1c late in the day, the market closing fairly steady, with September off 1c at 99⅞@1.00. December was down ¼c at 96⅛c.

Continued absence of rain in the corn belt caused considerable firmness in the corn market at the start, although the volume of trading was small. September opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 65⅞@66c, and advanced to 66¼c.

Prices slumped off with wheat, September declining to 65⅝c. Later the market followed wheat in its upward trend and the close was firm, with September ⅝@¾c higher at 66⅝c.

Oats were weak early in the day because of general selling prompted by favorable weather for the thrashing and moving of the new crop. Opening quotations showed losses of ⅛c to ½@⅝c, September being at 37⅝@37⅞c. Later September sold up to 38c.

Comparatively liberal receipts of live hogs at Western packing centers inspired selling of provisions at the start, which resulted in moderate weakness. Opening prices were 2½c to 10c lower compared with yesterday's final figures.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Favorable Harvest Weather Makes Options Weaker.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 20.—Favorabl weather for harvesting and the threshing made the market weaker. The near options showed the greater weakness for local elevator interests were heavy buyers of December. Local stocks decreased 600,000 bu for the week, leaving 385,054 bu of wheat in store. Duluth and Winnipeg reported an export business on the deferred contracts which had a tendency to firm the market. September closed ¾c lower than yesterday. Minneapolis today received 92 cars of wheat against 182 cars a year ago; Duluth 5 against 14 and Winnipeg 12 against 15. September opened 99⅞c, high 99⅞c, low 98@98⅛c, closed 98⅝@98¾c. December opened 95⅞@95¼c, high 95⅞c, low 94½c, closed 95¼c. May opened 99¼c, high 99½c, low 98⅝c, closed 99¼c.

Cash wheat was about steady today, selling at yesterday's prices. Country millers are still shipping old wheat here, making the receipts more favorable. They report there is more profit in selling wheat at present prices than in grinding into flour. No. 1 northern sold at $1.25. No. 1 northern spot, $1.35; to arrive, $1.02⅜; No. 2 northern, $1.30@1.32; to arrive, $1.00⅜; No. 3 wheat, $1.20@1.28; No. 3 yellow corn, 66¼@66¾c; No. 3 white oats, 38⅞@40⅞c; No. 2 rye, 66¾@67¾c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 572 tons. Shipments were light, demand only fair and prices unchanged. Bran in 100-pound sacks $20.50.

Flour continued along the same old rut. Millers were expecting a revision of prices in the next two weeks when they look for an active business. Shipments were light, 28,522 bbls, and prices firm. First patents, $6.00@6.20; second patents, $5.90@6.10; first clears, $4.95@5.25; second clears, $3.35@3.65.

Flax—Receipts, 2 cars; year ago, 4 cars; shipments, none. Light offerings made the market inactive. Prices were 5½c above the Duluth September. A car of nominal flax arrived today. Closing prices, $1.44¾.

Barley—Receipts, 40 cars, year ago 54 cars; shipments, 12 cars. The market was a trifle firmer today. Offerings were heavy and demand was strong, especially for choice malting grades. Closing range, 44@61c.

HEARD ON THE FLOOR.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—It was the general belief last night that the Armour interests sold 4,000,000 bu of wheat yesterday, the greater part being December, all of which they are already heavily short. Their sales for September were also large and it is said that in two days about 5,000,000 bu of wheat was sold by the Armour interests. Traders said last night they would not be surprised to see September wheat advance sharply, as the crowd are short and a bulge might give the bull leaders an opportunity to put on more long wheat. Those who were bullish on corn and who have bought largely on the crop damage crop reports of late expressed disappointment at the way the market had acted on the crop news in the past four days. They can only account for it that much of the damage is local and that most traders do not appreciate the gravity of the crop situation. Commission men who always have a big outside following in corn say that the principal buying orders sent in from the interior of Kansas have not been extensive. There were indefinite reports of rain which led to selling by professionals who were after profits. It is said that the market has been slightly overbought and it did not take much force to break off 1c.—Inter Ocean.

Union Pacific Forced to Slight Gain Over Thursday's Close.

New York, Aug. 20.—The stock market opened irregular, but with stocks which showed the greatest weakness yesterday scoring good gains today. Of these New York Central was up 1¾, Reading 1, and Southern Pacific and Union Pacific fractions. On the other hand, American Smelting, Great Northern preferred, and Rock Island were forced down a point. Union Pacific opened at 206¾, but met some large sales and went off to 206. Later it got back to its opening figure.

There was a violent break in the stock market soon after the opening, under the influence of a bear raid, misgivings as to the health of Mr. Harriman and the manifest lack of support to the recent speculative favorites. Union Pacific dropped to 204, United States Steel to 73¼ and Southern Pacific to 130⅜. New York Central and Reading, which had scored early advances of 1¾ each, broke from 141¼ to 137¾ and 159¼ to 155⅝, respectively. Supporting orders made their appearance when the decline began to look very serious and there was a general rally of between 1 and 2½ points. New York Central recovered to 140, Reading got above 158 and Union Pacific got back to 206.

The market showed some feverishness, Reading and Union Pacific fluctuating in the neighborhood of a point. Considerable stock changed hands in the early break, the sales for the first hour running above 500,000 shares. Local stocks were marked up vigorously, United States Rubber advancing 2 above last night, Third Avenue 1½, Consolidated Gas 1½ and Interborough-Metropolitan preferred 1. At noon the market was on the down grade again, Reading, Union Pacific and United States Steel being under decided pressure. Bonds were heavy.

Large amounts of stock were offered for sale after 12 o'clock, which caused a relapse to lower prices of the morning in Union Pacific and United States Steel. Reading sold slightly lower, touching 155⅛. The rest of the list was not so much affected and ruled anywhere from ½ to 2 points above the early low figures. Support was met in Union Pacific at 204 and it rallied a point as did also Reading. At 1 o'clock, however, liquidation was renewed in Union Pacific and it soon declined to 203¾.

The market was kept in a rather nervous state by the frequent wide fluctuations in Union Pacific. That stock broke again to 203¾, which is 3¼ below where it left off yesterday. Sympathetic selling was in large volume in all quarters of the list and one transaction of note was the sale of 8,000 shares of Southern Railway at 30. Indications of support and some demand from the short interest caused a brisk rally afterwards which carried many stocks up from 2 to 2½ above their low prices of the day. Union Pacific recovered to 205¾. New York Central ruled about a point above yesterday's closing, St. Paul and Reading on a parity and a number of other important stocks within a fraction.

The market closed active and strong. A consistent support afforded the market in the closing hour alarmed the short interests and they rushed to cover, putting prices up on themselves steadily. All of the earlier losses were wiped out, and such previous weak features as Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and United States Steel showed a slight gain over last night, while Reading, St. Paul, New York Central and Amalgamated Copper were up a point or more.

Today's market certainly was a whirlwind in the local copper share market. The exchange is a howling success and some seem to think that this coming winter as much as 200,000 single share will be handled in a single day. The whole Northwest takes Duluth stocks and for this reason you can understand our market is a big one.

Look at the Scotts, no one to back them at all, but one of these days the crowd will wake up and you will find that the shares will simply bound to higher prices. An order for 1,000 shares of the full paid would drive it to $11.00 or $12.00 a share. No stock on the board is harder to buy.

Ballaklava and Red Warrior very strong. Butte & Ballaklava should easily advance to $20.00. Red Warrior to $7.00 or possibly $10.00 a share, mines are both very big.

The St. Mary market is a wonder. The whole country is buying this issue, and it certainly looks as if it will be the greatest low priced stock on the board. Orders are in the market for over 25,000 shares, some a little under the market, but it shows the heavy demand for shares in this company.

Calumet & Montana is very strong at 1 1-16 bid. This stock is certainly a dandy and big money should be made on it.

We advertise the official close of Duluth Stock Exchange. Quotations are correct every time unless an error is made in typesetting.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Aug. 20.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 7@9 points in response to disappointing cables and liquidation by recent buyers, who are no doubt, disappointed by the failure of bullish crop news to stimulate a more general demand. Early weather reports indicated another day of excessive heat in the Southwest and there was good buying at the decline, but bulls were not at all aggressive and prices fluctuated around the opening figures during the middle of the morning with the tone rather nervous.

Spot closed quiet; 15 points lower; middling uplands, 12.65; middling gulf, 12.90; sales 917 bales. Futures closed easy, closing bids: August, 12.05; September, 12.03; October, 12.05; November, 12.07; December, 12.06; January, 12.04; February, 12.03; March, 12.05; April, 12.03; May, 12.07.

Peddler Arrested.

Because he was trying to work his wares off upon the public, John E. Bole, aged 40 years, was arrested this afternoon on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He will be arraigned in municipal court tomorrow morning.

Bole claims to represent the Western Chemical company of Oakland, Cal., and sells small bottles of writing fluid at $1.50 a bottle and upwards. He claims for his product that it is a specially prepared kind of ink which will not corrode the pen.

The police have been led to believe that Bole makes the ink himself while on the road. It does not differ from ordinary ink, it is said.

WANTS $40,000 FOR INJURIES

Claiming that, as the result of an accident in the Soudan mine, May 31 of this year, he will be a hopeless cripple for the remainder of his life, Martin Kuretich is suing the Oliver Iron Mining company for $40,000 damages. The papers in the suit were filed with the clerk of the district court this afternoon.

Kuretich was caught in a cavein of ore, his fellow workmen who were in the accident being killed. Kuretich says he came out with both legs and both arms broken, his skull fractured and crushed so that the brains were exposed, his spine injured, and he also claims he was injured internally. He has been confined to his bed and will be for years, and perhaps forever, he says.

He charges negligence and asks $40,000. He has a wife and six children.

SUPERIOR NEWS

Will Run Mile Heats.

If good weather prevails, it is expected that the race matinee of the Superior Driving association which is to be held next Sunday at the Driving park, will be largely attended. It has been announced that all of the races will be in mile heats, the best two out of three taking the honors. Ole Boy, owned by Martin Thorpe will be on the tracks Sunday.

Teachers Are Assigned.

The assignment of the teachers of the public schools of Superior was made yesterday by Supt. W. E. Maddock. A. C. Shong, formerly of the Nelson Dewey school will be principal of the Blaine high school and Harvey Schofield of Nellsville, will take Mr. Shong's place as principal at the East end high school. There are but few changes this year in the list of teachers.

Escapes Stray Bullet.

A stray bullet, fired presumably from a Third street saloon window, nearly hit Lawrence Emerson of the street railway company, late yesterday. He was sitting at his desk in the office at the time. The bullet entered the half open window and lodged in the woodwork just above his head.

Spend Less for Paving.

According to present indications the city of Superior will spend $10,000 less this year for paving than was spent in 1908. During last year the street improvements amounted to $47,000 and the total up to date this year is but $31,000.

Three Divorce Suits.

Desertion is the cause given in three divorce cases filed in the district court this afternoon.

One suit reveals a belated romance which went wrong. W. H. Goodell, 68 years of age, claims his wife, Millie, who he married in 1906, deserted him in June, 1908. He wants a divorce.

Charles Rogers, aged 33, wants a divorce from his wife, Lizzie, aged 32, on the same grounds.

Tillie Stewart, aged 39, claims her husband, George, deserted her in April, 1908, and asks a divorce.

Held for Woman's Murder.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 20.—Gustave Oblaser was yesterday held to the circuit court for trial on a charge of murdering Mrs. Martha Galahn, whose dead body was found in a clump of bushes in Hamtrack county about two weeks ago.

FOREST FIRE BURNS TOWN

Other Localities in British Columbia Deserted By Inhabitants.

Conflagration Near Lake Coeur d'Alene Fought By Farmers.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forest fires now raging in British Columbia are assuming the proportions of the fire which destroyed Fernie last year. A strip of country one mile wide is in the grip of the flames. The town of Roseberry has been destroyed.

Terrific bush fires are raging in the Kootenays and several towns are threatened. The inhabitants are fleeing for safety.

Fire in Newly Opened Land.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 21.—Three hundred farmers and timber men are fighting a great forest fire three miles wide which is sweeping through the splendid fir and tamarack timber north and west of Lake Couer d'Alene. For fifty hours the fire has defied all efforts to check it.

The fire last night was about twenty-five miles southeast of Spokane, burning a path three miles wide. For every mile it moves, it is estimated $100,000 worth of fine timber is destroyed. The total loss thus far is more than $1,000,000.

There are no white settlers on the Idaho side, the flames there being confined to the newly opened reservation for which the drawing was held ten days ago. On the Washington side of the boundary the fire has been in timber owned by the Blackwell Lumber company.

PUNISHED FOR TOO MUCH TALK

One Russian Must Die and Twenty-Four Go to Penal Servitude.

Orel, Russia, Aug. 21.—Decisions have been handed down in the case of the twenty-six social revolutionists recently placed on trial here on charges of promulgating their views among the peasants. One of the prisoners was sentenced to death, twenty-four sent to penal servitude and one was acquitted.

TOLSTOI'S AIDE SENT INTO EXILE

Circulation of Employer's Pamphlet Is Cause of Punishment.

Tula, Russia., Aug. 21.—M Guseff, private secretary to Count Leo Tolstoi, has been exiled to the province of Perm for a period of two years. He was found guilty of circulating Tolstoi's pamphlet entitled, "Thou Shalt Do No Murder," which is a plea against the infliction of the death penalty.

"JUST RAID ON SAVINGS"

Socialist Leader Denounces Listing of American Stocks in Paris.

Insists That No French Money Should Be Sent Abroad.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The Humanite today publishes an article by M. Jaures, the Socialist leader in the chamber of deputies, in which the writer explains his proposal to interpellate the government regarding the project to quote officially in France American speculative stocks, but notably the common stock of the United States Steel corporation. This interpellation will come up in October.

M. Jaures' charges that under the guise of obtaining for France the minimum rates under the new American tariff, the French government contemplates the listing of steel common on the Paris bourse. This, he contends, is a result of the raid upon French savings by American speculators, who long have been anxious to get access to French money.

Keep Money at Home.

Irrespective of the chances of heavy losses through speculative investment, which M. Jaures considers likely, he insists that the policy of allowing French money to go abroad to Russia and other foreign countries is wrong, as this money is needed in France for the development of French industries and the amelioration of social conditions. He declares that the settlement of the tariff differences between the two countries should be in accordance with the interests of the states, irrespective of outside considerations.

In connection with the above, it is semi-officially denied in Paris today that the question of the listing of the shares of the United States Steel corporation ever has been the subject of negotiations between France and the United States.

MANY TO FLY AT RHEIMS

Twenty-Eight Heavier-Than-Air Machines in the Contests.

Arrangements for World's First Aviation Week Are Completed.

Rheims, Aug. 21.—A driving rain storm swept over Rheims this morning and the weather conditions have prevented any of the twenty-eight aeroplane men gathered here for aviation week from indulging in practice flights. Thousands of visitors flocked out to the plain of Betheny in farm wagons, carriages and automobiles in the hope that some daring flyer would venture aloft, but they were disappointed. The experts, however, predict fair weather for aviation week, which begins tomorrow.

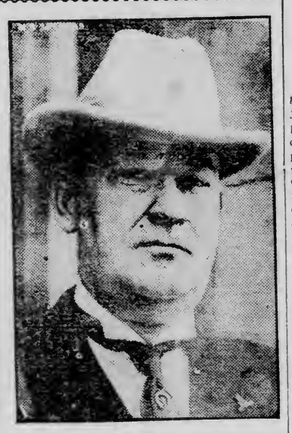
The final arrangements for the opening of the races were concluded today, and everything will be in readiness for tomorrow. Flags on the streets will designate whether flights are being made at the aerodrome. The grand stands for the public are completed, and an army of ushers, cooks and waiters has been brought into the city to care for the visitors. The authorities have brought in a staff of telegraphers sufficiently numerous to send out 200,000 words an hour.

Glenn H. Curtiss the American competitor, still is suffering from the injury to his foot received in a recent accident to his machine, but his hurt will not prevent his taking part in the racing.

There was a great outburst of enthusiasm when Bleriot and Sommer, crossing each other's course in the air during the trials yesterday, each politely dipped his machine in salute.

There is now a total of twenty-eight machines on the grounds, but all of them are not ready for flight.

IS "THE MAN WITH THE CAMERA EYE"



W. P. SHERIDAN.

Lieut. W. P. Sherman is known around the world as "the man with the camera eye." Sheridan's descriptive title is due to his marvelous memory for faces. One look at a criminal photographs his face on Sheridan's memory. Handling thousands of photographs of criminals from all parts of the world, Sheridan says his memory never has played a serious trick. Sometimes the identification of a face does not come to him instantly, but if he lays aside the picture his memory suggests its identity in a short time. Sheridan is a walking "morgue" of portraits, and nothing will so discourage crooks at a big gathering as to learn that Sheridan is watching them.

MORGAN TAKES GREAT WESTERN

Perfunctory Sale Takes Place at St. Paul to the Only Bidder.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Chicago Great Western railroad was sold today by Special Master Albert R. More, representing the United States court and the receiver, to a syndicate formed by J. Pierpont Morgan, for $12,000,000.

Mr. Morgan was the only bidder. His certified check for $500,000, as required by the court, was the only one deposited yesterday. Attorneys S. W. Stevens and G. H. Gardner of New York represented Mr. Morgan. The proceeding was a perfunctory transfer of the road by the receiver to the new company, headed by Samuel M. Felton as president.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 21.—The secretaryof state has issued a license to incorporate to the Great Western Railroad company in the organization of that road by J. P. Morgan & Co. WILL PATROL HIGH SEAS

European Powers Ask the United States to Join in Movement.

International Fleet Proposed to Safeguard Interests of Nations.

Washington, Aug. 21.—The American government will shortly be asked to join a high sea program by the leading powers of Europe, according to confidential information obtained here. This program has for its object the bringing together of a number of ships from each nation to form an international fleet, whose purpose, so far not fully defined, aims at the general protection of maritime interests and for all such other duties warships are assigned to. Their base is to be the Mediterranean.

The program is under the auspices of Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Austria and Russia.

While details of this program are lacking, it is understood that the international fleet will be six first-class battleships, about fifteen cruisers, twelve torpedo boat destroyers and thirty-six torpedo boats.

It is possible that a similar fleet will be established in the Pacific ocean at some later date, if the plans of this program are carried out as anticipated. It is believed that the matter will be taken up in October.

STRIKERS LOSE JOBS

Swedish Street Railway Company Exacts Rigid Terms From Men.

Scores Complete Victory That Is Heralded As Sign of End

Stockholm, Aug. 21.—The local street railway company has scored a complete victory of those of its employes who joined the strikers the beginning of this month. Now that the strike is a failure the men have applied for their old positions, but only a few of them have been taken back. Those who formerly received the maximum wage have been re-employed at the minimum rate, and they have been compelled to sign a periodic contract guaranteeing their loyalty to the company.

On the other hand, the strike-breakers have been rewarded with the best paying positions the company has. The company has instituted suit against the the strikers for damages and breach of contract. This victory is regarded as heralding the final breakup of the general strike.

SAYS HARRY IS STARVED

Mrs. Thaw Issues Another Statement About Son's Treatment.

Declares They Will Not Let Him Play Piano in Asylum.

Matteawan, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw, today made public a statement criticising the treatment accorded to her son in the Matteawan state hospital since his return to that institution by order of Justice Mills. Mrs. Thaw said not only that the comforts accorded to her son when he first was sent to the asylum were not restored after his recent return, but that he had been denied privileges he enjoyed for eighteen months while in the asylum.

Dr. Lamb, the superintendent of the hospital, Mrs. Thaw said, when asked the reason for the discontinuance of privileges to Thaw, answered that what had been done for him was not appreciated. Mrs. Thaw says:

"Even the privilege is denied me of giving my son the whites of eggs and orange juice, prescribed for him by his own physicians and which heretofore

LABOR CHIEF IS IN CHICAGO

Mahon Goes at Once to Meet Car Employes' Representatives.

President of International Union Is Said to Oppose Walkout.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—The arrival in this city today of President William D. Mahon of the International Street Car Men's union gave a brighter outlook to the controversy between the street car companies and their employes, who have threatened to strike if their demands for higher wages are refused. Although President Mahon declined to make any statement in regard to the situation, it is said he is strongly opposed to a walkout and would endeavor to the best of his means to avert action on the part of the street car men.

Immediately after his arrival here he was taken to the union headquarters, where he held a conference with the officers of the local unions and the members of the wage scale committee, who have conducted the negotiations with the traction officials.

WORK OUT PLANS FOR SUBMARINES

Navy Officials Prepare to Spend $2,900,000 Given By Congress.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Plans are being worked out at the navy department for the four submarines authorized by congress. Proposals will be asked for cnstruction soon. These and the fleet collier also authorized by congress comprise the ship work still remaining to be contracted for by the naval establishment under increases in the navy already provided for.

There are many features of submarine construction which the experts are closely studying, and the delay in contracting for these vessels is due to the effort to obtain the very latest improvements.

Congress appropriated $2,000,000 for the building of these ships and $900,000 for the collier. Bids for the latter ship will be open on Aug. 31, and the requirement to be met is a speed of fourteen knots for a vessel that will carry 12,500 tons of coal, including bunker and cargo.

WANTS ANOTHER TUG TO USE ON THE ISTHMUS.

It is about 110 feet long and is for use for towing purposes on the Atlantic side of the canal. The commission is in the market for another similar vessel for work on the Pacific side.

Henry H. Worthington of Washington has beer awarded a contract at $180,000 for supply machinery for the central pumping station at the Gatun dam.

WORLD'S FAIR BABY STOLEN

Shots Are Exchanged in Kidnaping of Marion Bleakley.

Two Men and One Woman Involved---Posse Takes Up the Chase.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 21.—Marion Bleakley, the St. Louis World's fair incubator baby, who was the cause of litigation extended over several years, was kidnaped in a sensational manner at the home of her mother here this morning.

Two men and a woman were engaged in the affair, and the child was secured only after an exchange of shots, which, however, went wide of their mark.

The kidnapers fled in a buggy. The police were notified immediately and a posse was soon in pursuit.

Mrs. Charlotte Bleakley, who was awarded the child by the federal courts two years ago, lived with her mother at 1027 Garfield avenue, which is a mile and a half from the business district. She worked down town as a stenographer.

Woman Helps Kidnapers.

The little girl, who is 5 years old, had been carefully guarded in Topeka and had been constantly attended. This morning a woman, ostensibly selling soap, appeared at the Bleakley home. She soon left, and a half hour later a buggy in which were two men and the same woman, appeared in front of the house.

One of the men alighted and entered the yard, where the child was playing with a young man of the neighborhood in whose charge she had been left. As the kidnaper ran toward her the young man attempted to interfere. The kidnaper shot at him, but missed. He then knocked the boy down with his revolver, carried the child to the buggy and drove off.

Second Time Stolen.

Marion Bleakley has had a stormy career. She was born in a hospital at St. Louis and was placed in one of the incubators shown at the exposition there. While there she was formally adopted by Mrs. James G. Barclay of Moline, Ill. Mrs. Bleakley signed a release, but she afterward sued to recover the child and was successful in the Illinois courts.

She brought the little girl to Kansas, where she was kidnaped from the mother in Montgomery county, but later was recovered.

The fight for the possession of the baby was fought through the state courts, and the supreme court finally awarded the custody to Mrs. Bleakley. Mrs. Barclay then instituted a suit in the federal court, but was again defeated.

WOULD CHECK CORPORATIONS

Uniform Law Men Discuss Limitation of Charters and Activities.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 21.—A uniform state corporation law which will prevent corporations from taking out charters in states where there are few, if any, restrictions, and then carrying on operations in a state where it would have been impossible to get the original charter, was under consideration today by the commissioners on uniform state laws, who are in session here, preliminary to the annual convention here next week of the American Bar association.

It is expected, also, that a uniform marriage and divorce law will be considered and drafted by the commissioners for submission to the state legislatures.

CITY SPLITS ON MILK LAW

Fight at Lorain, Ohio, Becomes Administrative Affair.

Executive and Health Departments Unable to Agree on Action.

Lorain, Ohio, Aug. 21.—The residents of this city had milk for breakfast today after experiencing two days of faminc. The milkmen lifted the boycott against the city and the fight, which originally was between the dealers and the city officials over the purity of the fluid, has simmered down to a quarrel between two departments of the city government.

The health department started the crusade for clean milk by requiring that the cows pass the tuberculin test and that the milkmen procure licenses, indicating that they had lived up to the provisions of the ordinance. Recalcitrant dealers were arrested. After a brief hearing the complaints were dismissed.

Milk is being delivered and the health officers are engaging in a fight with the city executive department. Strict enforcement of the license feature is urged by the health board, and the executive department takes the stand that the ordinance is impossible and too drastic.

BIG INCREASE IN BUSINESS

Edward Hines Says Lumber Is Moving Very Rapidly.

Edward Hines, president of the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company, and one of the largest lumber operators in the world, is a guest of the Spalding today.

Mr. Hines says the lumber business is prospering, that the settlement of the much discussed tariff question has given the big operators more confidence and has permitted them to proceed with deals that were in obeyance while congress was acting on the lumber schedules.

"Our business has increased wonderfully the past two weeks," said the lumber magnate, "and the increase can be traced directly to the settlement of the tariff question. It has given operators confidence and the business is moving on with greater volume. Our mills in this section of the country are going at full blast. There is a slight difficulty in securing men, but I attribute this to the westward movement of labor. I am inclined to believe that the scarcity of labor is only temporary."

Mr. Hines will leave for Chicago this evening, according to present plans.

GET AN INCOME NOW

While land is advancing and is bound to advance on the Isle of Pines, there is still a greater profit to be made in getting an orange or grapefruit grove into bearing. At present prices of land a few hundred dollars invested on the island now will bring the income of thousands of dollars invested later on. Every year's delay in getting started means a bigger price to pay for land, and a longer time to wait for the income.

TRIUMPHANT CRUISE OF GOPHER NEARLY ENDED

COMMANDER GUY A. EATON.

(By Staff Correspondent.)

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 21.—Having bested every crew in the lake fleet at every drill and every maneuver, the Minnesota Naval militia aboard the Gopher, are on their way home.

The Gopher passed through the Soo Thursday afternoon and began the long trip through Lake Superior. The ship will break up the Lake Superior voyage with a short stay at Houghton, and will reach home Sunday afternoon.

It was the desire of Commander Marsh to have all the ships of the fleet return to Thunder Bay but as the distance is so great and as the Gopher is allowed by the state to stay out on the summer cruise but two weeks, the Minnesota ship said goodbye to the lake fleet at Milwaukee Tuesday evening, and since that time has been cruising homeward, alone.

Lieut. A. K. Shoup, the regular officer who has been attached to the Gopher ever since she left Duluth, made his official inspection of the ship Friday.

The boat inspection created much interest. The various crews had painted, scrubbed and shined their craft until they were positively the last word in boat excellence, and Lieut. Shoup had to look sharply to determine which boat was the best. He finally decided that of all the row boats except the gig, the No. 4 whale boat was in the best condition and by that decision, the boat's crew was awarded the prize offered by Lieut. Commander Williamson, the executive officer. The fourth division is under the command of Lieut. Rene T. Hugo.

Friday Mr. Shoup noted the work of the Gopher's crew in the various ship's drills, for his report to the navy department.

Thursday afternoon was given over to the official visit of King Neptune and his suite.

Neptune Visits Ship.

The visit of King Neptune to any ship in the navy is considered a big event. Ordinarily, he only comes aboard when a ship crosses the equator, but he came North this time for the benefit of a number of veterans on the Gopher, who held papers in the Neptune association, and who were very anxious to initiate their fellow sailors into the mysteries of the society.

So when the Gopher crossed the line of no variation on the compass, His Royal Seaweed Highness climbed aboard, accompanied by a most picturesque and incidentally muscular suite.

Neptune paid his respects to Commander Eaton and asked to have the ship turned over to him for a few hours. Mr. Eaton acceded to the request and Neptune took charge, sending one of his lieutenants to the bridge to replace the regular officer of the deck.

Up forward, an immense tank had been made out of canvas and those on board who did not hold certificates showing they had been presented at Neptune's court before, were expected to go through the ceremonies which concluded with a big ducking.

Neptune had some of the heftiest men on the ship in his suite, and when he sent out a couple of men to arrest a person, the arrested person usually went along to the Neptunish central station, beside the chart house, without a single murmur.

The officers and the war correspondent were permitted to "buy off," but the rest of the unlimited had nothing to do but to participate in the prescribed coremonies. These consisted in liberal external applications of corn meal, soap and paint by the court physicians, and a shave by the royal barber, who used some strange, wierd concoction in lieu of lather. After the royal host had decided the victims were properly shaved and doctored, they were allowed to slide down a plank where the court swimming masters stood in the tank and saw that they were effectively ducked.

No one escaped—that is, no one except those who dug down in their pockets and came across, and those who acted as Neptune's suite.

Mike Kevlin lent sprightly but dignified grace to the role of Neptune. He was the real thing in fungus kings. Any one would have played him for the ace in any pack—he was so good. George Jordiloy, the rising young signal man, was Mrs. Neptune. He—or she—was stunningly gowned in cheesecloth, ropes and bangles, and M. Wiles as Neptune's daughter, was another svelte figure in the court group.

Thomas La Lond was the court secretary. There was not a flaw in his interpretation of the role, and his characterization was particularly effective when he read off the list of the visitors and when he gathered in the coin of those plutocrats who could buy off.

John Larson was happily cast as the court surgeon and W. A. Harbour, as the chief of police, could not be told from the genuine copper at first glace. George Soicy had a splendid makeup to aid him in his interpretation of the role of court astronomer. He took his place on the bridge with all the assurance in the world. R. K. Fowler was court chamberlain, J. E. Dorsey was a very thorough court barber, and Chris Bryan, Charles Nelson, C. Smith and E. Petz were busy policemen. Fred Sevey and J. Hargey were swimming masters.

It was a big frolic and was thoroughly enjoyed by every one, including those who were obliged to go through the mill.

THINKS RICE WAS ALREADY CHOSEN

N. P. Langford Says He Was Picked for the Hall of Fame.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is possible that from the files of a legislature a dozen years ago will come the name of the second man Minnesota will place in statuary hall in the capitol at Washington. N. P. Langford, president of the state historical society, and others remember that ten or twelve years ago an effort was made to have Henry M. Rice named as one representative of Minnesota in the Washington hall of fame.

Diligent search of the session laws from the time of the death of Mr. Rice in 1894 fail to show that any such authorization passed the governor's hands, although Mr. Langford is under the impression that it not only passed the legislature, but that a bust was prepared and sent to Washington. This bust, he says, was then refused by the Washington authorities because the requirements are that the statue shall be full length.

Members of the legislature in 1897 and 1899 remember something of the discussion on such a resolution, but are inclined to think that it did not carry. There are also hints that the resolution was lost in the shuffle.

The next legislature is to be asked to name Alexander Ramsey as one of Minnesota's two sons to be so honored.

EXPECT BIG CALL FOR NEW STAMPS

Postoffice Officials Make Rules for Hudson-Fulton Specials.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Heavy demands for the Hudson-Fulton commemorative stamps are now anticipated by the postoffice department, and postmasters throughout the country have been notified that the department may find it impossible to expedite requisitions for these stamps.

This special stamp will be issued in sheets of sixty instead of 100, the regulation number, and all requisitions must be for sixty or a multiple of that number. The department has arranged to fill requisitions three days after they are received, but if the orders are heavy it will be impossible to fill them so promptly. The department will reduce requisitions if it is deemed necessary, and the remaining stamps will be supplied only in response to a new requisition, which may be drawn before the postmaster's stock is exhausted.

PUBLIC MARKET CLEANED OUT BEFORE 10 O'CLOCK

Few Farmers Who Arrive Sell Produce Without Trouble.

The City Provides But Poorly for Their Accommodation.

The Duluth public market, designed to allow the farmers around the city a chance to sell their garden produce direct to the customer, opened at the Armory this morning, and will be open every Wednesday and Saturday for the next six weeks. Only a few farmers were on hand, but the few there were did a rushing business, and were all sold out before 10 o'clock. From then on all they could do was to take orders for future delivery.

There was some dissatisfaction expressed among the tillers of the soil over the fact that the city had allowed them too limited a space in which to display their vegetables. Even though the number present was small, one old lady, Mrs. Gust Velander, had to spread her display in the front part of the building, directly in the glare of the sun where its scorching rays came through a large window, extending across the room. The heat was so great that she had to place the produce under the table instead of on top of it, and by 10 o'clock was complaining of a bad headache. If any more farmers had been on hand they would have had to spread their vegetables on the sidewalk. Almost the entire room used as a market, large though it is, is occupied by wagons, sleighs, building material, etc.

"We had a man fix the place up, and he told us everything was all right," said President Preston of the board of public works. "I shall look into the matter."

"I think there would be more farmers here this morning," said Mrs. Velander, who lives at Hermantown, "if they thought there would be adequate space for their displays. Unless conditions are remedied I am afraid I cannot come any more. Standing here in the heat makes one ill, and the scorching sun spoils the looks of what we have to offer for sale."

The display of garden produce was a very fine one, and there was a good selection offered the early comers. Practically all kinds of garden truck were there, and all of it was strictly first class. The buyers did not hesitate long in grabbing it up. The late comers had to go home disappointed, although some of them had the foresight to put in orders for next week's delivery. Several ladies drove up to the Armory in large touring cars, while others came on foot, with market baskets over their arms, showing that interest in the market is confined to no one class.

The Hermantown farmers said they would have had better crops of certain things this year if it had not been for the grasshoppers. They say they never saw grasshoppers so numerous, and assert that a great quantity of green stuff has been destroyed by them.

NEW RULE TO BE ENFORCED

Long Artificial Code Words Do Not Please the Telegraphers.

Words Not in Dictionary Will Be Split Every Five Letters.

"Please note that beginning Sept. 1 all groups of letters whether pronounceable or not, when such words are not dictionary words and are not combinations of dictionary words, will, in domestic messages, be counted at five letters to the word, or fraction of five letters to the word instead of ten letters to the word, as at present."

This is the notice which the Western and Postal Telegraphic companies are sending to their principal patrons this week. It is a rule which will bear harshly on some of the firms which spend hundreds of dollars daily on the service, but it has become necessary to relieve operators and for financial reasons.

The necessity for the rule arose in the complicated telegraph codes which have been adopted and have been growing more complicated every day. The old rule let pronounceable combinations of letters, whether dictionary words or not, go through the wires as one word, no matter what length. Unpronounceable combinations went at ten letters to the word. Under this system such words as "bacizafahy," "chazebacka," "perporamus," "aptikefiposomintus" became common. These words often stood for whole sentences, and a mistake in one letter meant a complete reversion of the sense. The result was that operators had to go over the message, letter for letter with the greatest care, in order to avoid costly mistakes, and there was also a big chance to get long messages through at rates which would have bankrupted the company.

Code words are not ruled out however. Any word which can be found in the dictionary may be used as a code word with any significance desired. The only ruling is that it must be a word that an operator can recognize and use the company's recognized abbreviations in transmitting. Incidentally, the rule for counting each letter a word in arbitrary unpronounceable combinations is abolished. The rules for sending cable messages are subject to international agreement and are unchanged. Figures, decimal points and bars of division will be counted each separtely as one word.

ARRESTED IN EAU CLAIRE

Duluth Man Charged With Stealing $5 From Companion.

William Kelley of Duluth was arrested yesterday in Eau Claire, Wis., charged with stealing $5 from Samuel Duccoman at Chippewa Falls. While Kelly claims Duluth as his home, the police say he has no permanent residence here, although he makes the Head of the Lakes his headquarters, and is known to quite a few people.

At the time of the theft the two men were in a saloon at Chippewa Falls. While Duccoman, who is 80 years old, was drinking at the bar, it is claimed Kelly slipped hi shand in the older man's pocket and extracted a $5 bill. A bystander saw the act, and reported the matter to the police. Kelly took the car for Eau Claire, and was arrested there. He is 22 years of age.

WILL APPEAL FROM RULING

Great Northern Will Carry Condemnation Fight to Supreme Court.

Ownership of the Interstate Bridge Approach Still Under Litigation.

Albert Baldwin of Baldwin, Baldwin & Dancer, representing the Duluth Terminal Railway company, alias the Great Northern, appeared in the district court this morning and submitted a petition for findings from the court which would practically reverse the decision recently handed down by the court in regard to the condemnation proceedings which the railroad company recently began. Mr. Baldwin stated that if every portion of the petition was granted by the court it was all that the railroad company would ask, but he did not expect that they would even approximate this, and the petition is being submitted merely to pave the way for an appeal to the state supreme court.

The case is quite an important one, involving the question of whether the right of eminent domain can be exercised over the streets of a city in opposition to the wishes of the council. The Soo road, appearing as the Duluth & Thunder Bay Railway company, and the Great Northern, appearing as the Duluth Terminal Railway company, petitioned the council for a franchise to construct an approach to the interstate bridge. It became evident that the Soo was to get the franchise, and W. S. Begg, the Great Northern attorney, at once commenced condemnation proceedings for the construction of an overhead approach, claiming that the right of eminent domain could be exercised in spite of a conflict with the franchise granted by the council. This contention the district court turned down, holding that the city had control over its own streets.

It is from this decision that the proposed appeal will be taken.

The construction of the approach is now being carried on by the Soo, under an agreement with the two companies, providing that, should the Great Northern win in its contention, it is to reimburse the Soo for construction work already done and take over the approach. It was necessary to do this, as it was desired to have the approach ready for the wheat shipments this fall.

CAN FIRE SHELL OF 1,600 POUNDS

New High Power Gun Almost Ready for Tests for the Navy.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Naval experts are awaiting with impatience the completion of the 14-inch gun now under construction by the Midvale Steel works. The gun will be shipped to the Washington navy yard about the middle of September, where the finishing touches are to be added, and will be proof-fired at Indian Head about the middle of October. It will be the first high power gun of this caliber ever constructed for practical purposes and will fire a shell weighing 1,600 pounds.

The navy will beat out the army in this respect, as the latter also has three fourteen-inch modern guns now under way which will fire a shell of about 1,400 pounds. Other nations have built 16-inch muzzle loading guns, but not of very high power.

Cotton Is Damaged.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 21.—Reports received in this city from various points in the main cotton-growing sections of Arkansas indicate that the recent heat wave, which was accompanied by parching winds, has done inestimable damage to the crop. The damage is due to the shedding of the bolls. Growers predict a loss of one-third in the total output unless rain falls within a week or ten days.

SOLD INK TO MINISTERS

John E. Bole, an Old-Time Printer, Is Arrested.

Claims There Was No Fraud, But Draws Sixty Days.

John E. Bole, charged with peddling without a license, was fined $75 and costs in police court this morning. He didn't have any money, so was given the alternative of a 60-day jail sentence, which he was forced to take. When he was arrested yesterday, a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses was lodged against him, but it seemed doubtful if he could be convicted on that, so the charge was changed.

Bole protested his innocence in court, saying that he was engaged in a perfect legitimate enterprise. He admitted he sold without a license, but clamed there was no fraud about it. The police, however, had wired to addresses given in different cities, as recommendations relative to his honest intentions, and the reply to every message was to the effect that the parties named had never heard of him.

The man has been peddling writing fluid in Duluth for the past two or three weeks, and has been particularly active among clergymen. He made his own ink, and sold it in quart bottles for $1.50, promising to throw in a business directory of Duluth, Superior and the ranges is desired. Early in the game he claims to have sold a bottle to Rev. Father Corbett, and has used his name to boost other sales. To his customers he claims to be representing the Western Chemical Manufacturing company, with a factory at Oakland, Cal., and offices at San Francisco. There is no such firm in existence the police have learned.

Bole is a printer by trade, and worked in Duluth as early as 1886. He says he has spent much time on the Pacific coast since then.

MURDERESS TO ASYLUM.

Woman Who Beheaded Children Is Taken to Fergus Falls for Good.

Crookston, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Mary Straus, wife of Anton Straus of Tabor township, Polk county, who in a fit of insanity cut off the heads of her two young children, has been taken back to the asylum at Fergus Falls, whence she was released on parole July 3 last.

Her husband notified the authorities that she had acted apparently sanely since being released, excepting she occasionally made silly remarks, but he never feared she would commit murder. She is destined to spend the rest of her days in the asylum.

JOKE DRINK FATAL.

Deadwood, S. D., Aug. 21.—A drink taken in a frolic proved fatal to Frank Kennedy, a young workman from Nahant. Kennedy sought to play a trick on a friend by drinking a bottle of liquor he found in the man's clothes, but in the dark he swallowed corrosive sublimate instead and lingered forty-eight hours in agony.

BAD HABITS OF MEN CURED

Don't imagine for a moment that your bad habits will not have any permanent effect upon you. Every time you offend against the laws of nature, nature will take its revenge. Don't fool yourself with the belief that "you can stop any time you want to." In one case out of a hundred the man is stronger than the habit he has contracted. In the other ninety-nine the habit WINS.

The Progressive Medical Association of Duluth has had wonderful success in preserving the cause and curing the results of vices of men. Hundreds of wrecks have received new life from their skill. Men who have allowed some bad habit to sap their manhood and weaken their will power without taking any steps to prevent it until outraged nature has refused to continue the unequal struggle any longer, have come to the Progressive Specialists mental and physical wrecks and have gone away, after cured, sound in mind and body.

What we have done for others we are willing and ready to do for you, but we want to impress upon you the necessity of not delaying any longer. Every day you delay gives the habit a greater hold upon you, and by weakening your will, makes it more and more difficult for you to throw it off. You have already noticed the symptoms, the fits of depression, you call them the "blues" in reality they denote you are suffering from Melancholia, a form of insanity which never leaves of its own accord when once it has obtained a foothold—it must be DRIVEN out—and that quickly, or it will land the sufferer in the asylum. That is all the warning that nature will give you. If you do not take the hint you will have to pay the penalty, both in your own mind and body, and in those of your children, for these results do not stop with the one generation. They become rooted in the family and will finally wipe that family completely out, if not checked.

YOUTH MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED AND ROBBED

Man Found Dead on Tracks Probably Victim of Foul Play.

Had Large Sum of Money---Left Saloon With Stranger.

Victor Lion, the young section hand who was reported killed by an ore train within a quarter of a mile of Saginaw, Minn., last Saturday night, between 11 p. m. and 4 a. m. may have been robbed, murdered, and afterward laid on the track to conceal the crime, according to the latest developments in connection with the case. It looks very probable that he was treacherously murdered and a large sum of money which he had on his person at the time, taken from him.

H. J. Amon, who has been looking up the case, has struck some very peculiar circumstances in connection with it. Lion was in the Saginaw House bar until 11 o'clock, but the proprietor is ready to testify that he was perfectly sober when he left there, and by no means sufficiently under the influence of liquor to have allowed himself to be run over by an ore train. At 11 o'clock he started to go out with Ed Erickson, and a stranger who was not known to any of those who were at the bar. Erickson went with him as far as the switchhouse a few hundred yards from the hotel, endeavoring him to persuade him not to go out alone with the stranger. All of the men who were there that night say that Lion was warned several times to "look out for that man."

Erickson was the last man that saw anything of Lion and the stranger has also mysteriously disappeared.

Lion Had Money.

Lion had been working on the section there for two years, had spent little, and like most of his fellows, was in the habit of carrying all of his savings on his person. He was a foreigner, and too ignorant to have kept his money in a bank. During the two years he had lived there he had been very frugal, according to what his companions say, and must have had a good sized pile accumulated.

The men who were present that night all feel sure that the stranger killed Lion, probably by a blow on the head, and then placed the body on the track with the head on a rail so as to completely obliterate all signs of a crime. The position of the remains when found would support this theory. It was evident that the man was lying flat down on the track when the train struck him, as the body was not dragged at all, though the head was mashed to a pulp and one leg was cut off.

Though the men who were in the saloon on the night of the affair say that they told Lion to look out for the stranger, none of them admit having seen him before or since.

It was 11 o'clock when Erickson left Lion and his mysterious companion by the switch house, and after failing to persuade Lion to come back, returned alone to the hotel. At 4 o'clock the next morning the crew of an ore train found what was left of the mangled body of the young laborer. There was not a cent in his clothes when the body reached the undertaking rooms in Duluth.

RAILROADS

SHORTAGE OF CARS.

Iron Ore Shipments in Upper Peninsula Said to Be Hampered.

Negaunee, Mich., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—There has been a shortage of ore cars on this range for nearly a month past, and from present indications there will not be an adequate supply during the remainder of the season, as shortages are also reported from other sections in the Lake Superior district. A railroad man who is employed in the shipping department states that the shortage on this range is curtailing ore shipments at least 25 per cent, though, in spite of the lack of cars, the ore movement for the season will be exceptionally heavy. He expresses the belief that the tonnage sent out will be greatly in excess of that of last year, and not far behind 1907, which was the banner season.

The Northwestern, Lake Superior & Ishpeming and South Shore railways are now employing on an average of from thirteen to fifteen crews in the yards of the two cities. These crews also take care of the shipments from the Cascade range, the American mine, the Portland, Imperial and Ohio properties, west of Michigamme, the Baron at Humboldt, and the Republic. All of the steam shovels on the range have been in operation for some time past.

HEADED FOR NORTHWEST

C. W. Cooper, general passenger agent of the Canadian Northern railroad, who was here on business yesterday, stated that the Candian Northern will bring from 8,000 to 10,000 harvesters through the Head of the Lakes gateway this fall, en route from the Eastern province of Canada, to the great wheat-producing provinces of Western Canada.

The advance guard of the laborers for the wheat fields of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan passed through Duluth yesterday. There were about 300 men in the party. They came to Duluth over the Northwestern line, being transferred here to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and Canadian Northern railroads.

Mr. Cooper stated that Duluth would be the gateway to the Canadian Northern as Port Arthur is to the Canadian Pacific. All men who are needed in the territory of the Canadian Pacific in Western Canada are shipped through the gateway of Port Arthur. This year the Canadian Northern will bring the laborers from the East to the West through the Duluth gateway.

G. Stephens, freight agent of the Canadian Northern, was also here yesterday. Both officials state that the business of the Canadian roads is very heavy and that the present indications point to the largest crop in the history of the three Northwestern provinces.

The present estimate is that 125,000,000 bushels of wheat will be produced by Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, according to the statement of the railroad men.

David Horn, chief grain inspector for Manitoba, was also here yesterday. Mr. Horn states that the present indications are for an immense wheat crop. Mr. Horn spent part of the day in Superior.

CHARGES DESERTION.

Sarah Lovett Says Husband Left Her and Her Children.

Sarah Lovett, 32 years old, began a divorce action against her husband, Oliver Lovett, 49 years old, yesterday, charging desertion. They were married at Eagle Lake in 1894. There are four children, two of whom are with her brother at Princeton, Minn., and the other two she is forced to support. On Oct. 15, 1903, her husband, she says, left her without leaving his address, and she has heard nothing from him since. She wants custody of the children and an absolute divorce.

Lester Park to Be Scene of Affair This Year.

The grocers of the city will hold their annual picnic next Thursday, Aug. 26, at Lester park. The housewives of Duluth will have to do all their ordering for that day on Wednesday, as every grocery store in the city will be closed up for the day.

A big program of sports has been planned, and there will be a dance for the grocers and their friends in the afternoon and evening. The committee has secured an attractive list of prizes for the events on the sport program, and if the weather man condescends to give the right kind of weather indications point to a record-breaking good time. The following prominent grocers are on the committee in charge:

Simon Clark, chairman; George H. Schulenberg, M. R. Bush, John Logan, C. Nilson and T. W. McManus.

The committee in charge of the dancing and social end of the affair, and which will see that everybody gets properly introduced and has something to do during the day, is composed of Burt Holcomb, Sid Everest, D. Case, H. P. Gowan, George Fairley, Lee Gibson, L. L. Culbertson, Paul Lenck, Louis Paddock, James D. McGie, L. J. McManus and George H. Schulenberg.

The program of games will include the regular program, the fat man's race, the married ladies' race, the boys' race, the young ladies' race, the grocers' race, the salesmen's race, etc. There will also be a bread-baking contest, and a baseball game between the grocery clerks and the city salesmen.

The committee on games is composed of George H. Schulenberg and Simon Clark, starters; John Lawrence and John J. Foreman, scorers, and T. W. Walker, Burt Holcomb, W. B. Logan, Charles Kauppi, Thomas Trevillion, J. E. Foubister, H. P. Hjerpe, J. W. Lent and C. Nilson, judges.

There will be a picnic dinner served at noon, and in the afternoon Congressman Clarence B. Miller will deliver the oration of the day.

REPORTS ON ST. MARY'S

Thomas H. Merritt Says Property is Worthy Exploration.

Believes the Group of Mines Will Be Valuable Property.

The following report on the St. Mary's group of mines, near the Red Warrior mine has been made to the St. Mary's Copper company by Thomas Herbert Merritt of this city:

"I hereby desire to report that I have examined the St. Mary's group of claims, consisting of the St. Mary's, Maggie, Mars and Taylor claims, the two latter patented ground. I met there Mr. P. Ryan, the president of the company, and Mr. Davis, the superintendent, both of whom showed me around the property.

"I was in or over the following properties in the Star district on this, or my former visit, viz: The Moscow, Red Warrior, Mowitza, Cedar, Talisman, Orphan Boy, Elephant, Progressive, Commonwealth, Hub and others adjoining the St. Mary's, or in its vicinity, and find the St. Mary's group has the same geological features as the rest; that is, lime bedding cut by cross fissures on or near which the ore bodies are formed.

"The principal veins on these properties are the Mars copper and the St. Mary's lead, silver, the Mars lying in a bedding over the St. Mary's and to the east. The beddings are very regular and seem to carry ore continuously as far as worked. The St. Mary's beddings are very well defined and the ore has been worked out to the surface and to a depth of about twenty feet above where the lower tunnel will cut the vein. They have taken the ore clean, and I did no sampling there, as the small amounts of ore that I could sample would not, in all likelihood, be a fair representation of the ore shipped from the mine. Neither could I say with any certainty the total amount that has been shipped. Mr. Ryan tells me that he has sent to Duluth the smelter returns he was able to gather together, but that some of the smelters that bought the ore had either gone into combinations or were defunct and their records are therefore unavailable. However, the work shows large amounts have been shipped away, and practically all from close to the surface. There is ore in the bottom of the lowest workings showing a continuity of the ore chute.

"The cross-cut tunnel now being run will cut into this bedding about sixty feet, and with a drift started towards the north should and will undoubtedly open up the chute of ore worked above. This tunnel starts in above the Mars copper vein and in consequence does not at all tend to develop that. The Mars copper vein is being developed by a shaft now down about twenty-five feet and some 200 feet to the east of the mouth of the tunnel, and at perhaps thirty feet lower elevation. They should cut this vein at about seventy-five to eighty feet in the shaft. The cross-cut from this shaft will be run bearing to the northwest, so as to intersect the St. Mary's vein to the north of the intersecting being made by the tunnel. These two beddings outcropping on the property gives the apex and the dip being toward the work makes the property very easily explored, the shaft at depth cutting both the St. Mary's and Mars bedding and can be continued into the lower beddings very cheaply and easily.

"My conclusions are that the property is well worthy of exploring and having turned out a considerable amount of ore near the surface with ore still showing in the lower workings, I do not see why there will not be developed a valuable property of this group.

(Signed.)

"THOMAS HERBERT MERRITT."

Dated this 14th day of August, 1909.

NEGRO CLEARED IN TRIAL IN NAVY

Will Not Be Punished for Death of Opponent in Boxing Match.

Washington, Aug. 21.—"Not guilty" the verdict of the naval court which tried Davis Williams, the negro mess attendant of the battleship Vermont, who caused the death of a brother sailor as the result of a boxing match, and who was tried for manslaughter.

News of the acquittal was received at the navy department today through a dispatch from Rear-Admiral Schroeder, commanding the Atlantic battleship fleet now engaged in target practice at the southern drill grounds off Cape Henry.

In consequence of the verdict Williams will be turned over to the Georgia authorities, who want him for trial on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, the alleged offense having been committed before his enlistment in the navy.

Piano Hoister Is Killed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 21.—While placing a rigging to hoist a piano to the fourth floor of the Nixon theater today, one man was killed and several injured when the apparatus collapsed, precipitating them to the pavement, a distance of forty feet.

TRAFFIC MEN IN DULUTH

Prominent Officials of Steel Corporation Pay Visit to City.

Make Tour of Harbor---Guests of President Olcott at Dinner.

A delegation of traffic officials of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation are in the city today. The steel men are here on a pleasure trip, but at the same time will thoroughly investigate the shipping relation of Duluth with other rate points of the Steel corporation. The members of the party reached the city last evening. They will go to the range tomorrow and will probably return to the city Sunday evening.

Among the members of the party are: L. C. Biliter, traffic manager of the Carnegie company of Pittsburg; F. T. Bently, traffic manager of the Illinois Steel company of Chicago; A. W. Carey of the Tennesee Coal & Iron company of Birmingham, Ala.; C. S. Belsterling, traffic manager of the American Bridge company of Pittsburg; F. C. Baird, general freight agent of the Bessemer & Lake Erie Railway company of Pittsburg; J. A. Coakley, traffic manager of the American Steel & Wire company, Cleveland; F. E. Learned, traffic manager of Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railway, Chicago; E. C. Collins, traffic manager of the Pittsburg Steamship company, Pittsburg; J. S. Keefe, second vice president of the American Steel & Wire company, Chicago; J. F. Townsend, traffic manager of the National Tube company, Pittsburg.

It is the annual trip of the railroad men of the companies under the parentage of the Steel corporation, and the Head of the Lakes is honored in receiving the attention of so many of the traffic experts of the corporation. The coming of the steel men may have a deep significance, in that it is believed that their presence here will solve some of the problems that will rise when the steel plant of Duluth becomes a factor in the business of the Steel corporation.

This morning the traffic officials were taken for a trip over the bay on the tug McGonagle. The various docks and other points of interest were shown to the visiting officials. Later in the day they were taken to the Northland Country club.

This evening the visiting officials will be the guests of President Olcott and some of the other officials of the Oliver Mining company at a dinner to be given at the Kitchi Gammi club. An inspection of the mines on the range will be made, and possibly the Vermilion range will be visited before the officials return to the East.

CHANGES ARE ASKED FOR

Oneota Residents Want Another Delivery of Mail, Daily.

Bayview Heights May Be Included in New Rural Route.

Residents of Oneota are now signing a petition asking the postal authorities at Washington to provide for another mail delivery from the West Duluth postal station. At the present time all other resident sections of the city have two deliveries, and the business section of West Duluth receives four daily.

At the local postoffice it is said that two deliveries a day would not be warranted, because that section of the city is too thinly populated. It is believed that the petition will not be looked favorably upon by the authorities at Washington.

The only portion of the West Duluth residence district that receives but one delivery a day is in the vicinity of Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth avenues west and east to the ore docks. The first morning mail that arrives in Duluth is out in time to reach the residents in this district, but they are compelled to wait until the next day for any later mail, or come to the West Duluth station.

The petition of the Bayview Heights residents, which has been in circulation for the past two days, asking the postal authorities to establish a rural route from Proctor for the accommodation of the people living on the Heights may be changed in some respects. It has been learned that there is to be another rural route established from Proctor, running in a western and southwesterly direction.

The new route, it is understood, will be eighteen miles in length. It is said that the Bayview Heights people will now ask that the route be lengthened enough to include that section of Duluth. This would make the line about twenty-four miles long, the average length of a rural free delivery route.

The plan is recommended by Inspector Monroe of the postal department. Since the incline railway to the Heights at West Duluth was put out of commission by the storm, all residents of the Heights have been compelled to go to West Duluth after their mail.

It is not probable that the rebuilding of the line of the Duluth Belt Line Railway company will mean that the petition will be abandoned. Employes in charge of the incline car carried the mail to the top for the accommodation of the Heights residents when the car was running. It was then left at the power house, where the people called to get it.

If the new Proctor route is made to come around by the way of Bayview Heights the people there will get one delivery every day.

WANT REPAIRS AT FOND DU LAC

Roads There Left in Bad Shape By the Storm.

Although nearly a month has elapsed since the big storm visited Duluth and the surrounding section, no action has yet been taken by the city to make the necessary repairs to the streets and roads at Fond du Lac, and people of that section of the city are clamoring for some attention.

When the flood hit Duluth on July 22, the streets at Fond du Lac were submerged and the roads were washed away in many places. Since that time the bad places have been temporarily patched up, but it is said that no action to put the roads back in good shape again has been taken.

The condition of the highways was made worse by the storm of Aug. 11. It has only been recently that Mission creek, which flows through Fond du Lac, has returned to its natural course, it having been swollen for over three weeks. Just what action the city or county will take in repairing the storm damage there is an important topic of discussion now at Fond du Lac.

WILL PLAY SUPERIOR.

Kelleys Will Meet All Star Team From Across the Bay.

The Kelleys will play the picked team from Superior tomorrow afternoon on the West Duluth grounds at Fifty-second avenue west. It is expected that many West Duluth fans will turn out to see the Kelleys play a game on the home grounds.

Upon various occasions the Kelleys have taken different Superior aggregations into camp, and it is understood that some of the best players from those teams, seeking revenge on the hardware men, will be out after the scalps of the West Duluthians tomorrow.

As a curtain-raiser, the Buck's Smokery team will play the ore dock crew early in the afternoon.

LOSES ARM AT ZENITH FURNACE

Edward Blair Is Victim of a Very Painful Accident.

Edward E. Blair, 55 years old, employed as a laborer at the Zenith Furnace company, met with a serious accident this morning about 7:30 o'clock. His right arm was crushed under the wheels of a car and was amputated this morning at St. Mary's hospital.

Blair had been working but a few minutes when the accident occurred. He was engaged in painting the trestle, which leads up to the coke ovens. When a carrier passed him, he stepped down off the trestle but not in time. His arm was caught and crushed at the elbow under the wheels.

He was rushed to the hospital, where the injured limb was amputated at once. Blair is a married man and is the father of several children. He has worked for the Furnace company for a number of years and is well known to many West Duluth people.

TWO FAST BOATS WILL HAVE RACE

Dingle Doman and Dingle Capitol Entered in Speed Contest.

The Dingle Doman, owned by F. H. Wade, which raced the fast motor boat, the Dingle Capital, belonging to Dick Schell, a short time ago, and lost out by an eyelash, the engine giving way in the Wade boat when they were coming in on the home stretch, will race with the Schell boat tomorrow afternoon.

The course for the race will be the same as the previous event. This affair will be pulled off regardless of whether a race is arranged between the Dingle Capital and Capt. Battray's boat or not. Mr. Wade believes that had his engine not broken at a critical moment in the previous race he would have left the Dingle Capital behind him on the home stretch.

DEATH OF MRS. WALKER.

West Duluth Woman Passes Away After a Long Illness.

Mrs. Therese F. Walker, 56 years old, wife of Orra H. Walker of 414 South Sixty-second avenue west, died last evening at her home. She had been ill for some time past but death came suddenly.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Jacobs of West Duluth, and six sons, Harry of Alberta, Can., and Roy Charles, Floyd, Bert and Roscoe, all of West Duluth. The body will be sent to Hastings, Minn., for interment.

Raises Employes' Wages.

The Zenith Furnace company has increased the wages of its employes almost 10 per cent. The move is voluntary on the part of the company, no demand having been made for it. About 400 men are effected by the raise in salary.

Will Go Down the Lake.

Ed Ramstad will leave Monday for a trip down the lakes in his gasoline motor boat, The Chaperone. He will take along a party of friends and they will go to the lower lake ports. The boat is a 10-horse power craft, twenty-eight feet long.

Hold Routine Session.

Members of the West Duluth Commercial club met last evening in regular weekly session, but few matters were taken up for consideration. The gathering turned out to be more of a social affair. Several matters which have been pending before the club were discussed informally.

"Sky Pilot" Coming.

Rev. F. E. Higgins, popularly known throughout the state as the "lumberjack sky pilot" will come to West Duluth next month to be present when a newly organized Bible class of the Westminster Presbyterian church receives its charter.

Rev. Higgins has been invited to present it to the class and it is understood that he had accepted the invitation. The charter list will be open for two more weeks. The charter will be received from the international association.

Annual Picnic.

Members of the Young People's society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church at West Duluth will hold a picnic tomorrow at Fond du Lac.

The affair is an annual outing with the society members and it is expected that many will attend. Games and sports have been arranged for the occasion and a very enjoyable time is anticipated.

The boat which has been chartered will leave the dock at the foot of South Sixty-ninth avenue west at 9:45 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Married By Justice.

The marriage of Miss Nora Fry to Frank Rice was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the West Duluth justice court by Judge J. B. Flack. They will make their home at West Duluth. Both are well known to many people in the western end of the city.

KILLS FORESTRY BILL FOR JOKE

Alabama House Takes Radical Action "In Spirit of Levity."

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 21.—The house, in a spirit of levity, last night killed the forestry protective bill, regarded as one of the most important on the calendar. Its death came largely through opposition from South Alabama, where, with virgin forests of pine, the people want to be unhampered in cutting them down.

OLD SETTLER HERE.

Englishman Visits Duluth After Absence of Thirty-Five Years.

E. Bruce, a resident of London, Eng., who lived in Duluth thirty-five years ago, is a guest of the Spalding today. Mr. Bruce was in this city when it was a mere village and Indians were as numerous as the white settlers. Today he was inquiring for some of the men whom he knew intimately at the time of his residence here.

Mr. Bruce recalls the Jay Cook panic. He came to Duluth shortly after it, and recounts the effects the smashup had upon this part of the country. When he landed here a band of Indians, smoking long pipes, came down to greet the travelers. He was in business in Duluth and recalls some of the pioneer settlers of the little village.

Mr. Bruce is touring the country. He is on his way to the Pacific coast. He will visit some of the Western cities, sailing for England when he reaches Vancouver.

McVEIGH CASE IS NOVEL ONE

Question of Rights of Mother in Settling for Son's Death.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Briefs have been submitted to Judge McClenahan on the motion for a new trial which has been made by the Minneapolis & Rainy River Railroad company in the McVeigh case.

John McVeigh, an engineer working for the defendant company, was killed in a wreck through the alleged negligence of the company. The successful plaintiff, the administratrix of the deceased, was represented by George H. Spear, the action being tried for the defendant by A. Y. Merrill and R. J. Powell of Minneapolis.

The deceased left a father and a mother, and the company settled with the father, paying him $1,500, but refused to give any heed to the rights of the mother. The outcome of the trial, however, was a verdict for the estate for $5,000, this being the largest amount which could be awarded under the law. The court took the position that the settlement with the father did not bar the rights of the mother to an action through the representative of the estate of the deceased.

The question which is involved in the case is an interesting one, and will probably go to the supreme court on appeal.

TWO HARBORS MAN MADE INSPECTOR

Supt. Marquis of the Public Schools Is Given State Position.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—State high schools and graded schools are increasing so rapidly that the state high school board after adding a number of schools to those receiving special state aid, has decided to add an additional inspector and elected W. J. Marquis, superintendent of the city schools at Two Harbors, to the job.

It is several years since the positions of high school inspector and graded school inspector were created, and the number of schools has about doubled since then. The law requires an annual inspection of each high or graded school, but in recent years there have been so many schools that the inspectors had to visit two schools a day. When each school has from a half dozen to a dozen rooms and the inspectors are obliged to take the train or drive ten miles during the noon hour, they can give only a few minutes to each school room.

Two Harbors, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. W. J. Marquis of the local schools who has been appointed an additional state inspector of high and graded schools, has been in charge of the local schools about eight years. He is a graduate of the St. Cloud normal and ranks high among educators. It is not known whether his new duties will compel him to give up his school work here.

SIX SHOVELS IN THE ADAMS PIT

More Ore Than Ever Being Taken From the Eveleth Property.

Eveleth, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Adams open pit, six steam shovels, the most in the history of the mine, are being steadily employed. In the new Adams stripping which goes through the old caves near the Virginia road, two of the shovels are being used, one for stripping and the other for ore. In the older Adams open pit three shovels are in ore and one in the stripping, through some old caves. This work employs many men and from the amount of ore within the radius of the Adams pits considerable ore is still left to be taken out. The Adams pit is now one of the biggest on the range, being almost a mile in length.

The stock piles at the Adams shafts are now all taken away while at the No. 1 Spruce, where there is considerable stock piling there is a steam shovel at work that should clean the ore away in about three weeks. This shipping, with all the ore that is being shipped direct from the shafts and the open pit, makes a considerable amount of shipping this season.

Yesterday was pay day at the Spruce mine, while today the Adams employes are getting their checks.

McVEIGH CASE IS NOVEL ONE

Question of Rights of Mother in Settling for Son's Death.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Briefs have been submitted to Judge McClenahan on the motion for a new trial which has been made by the Minneapolis & Rainy River Railroad company in the McVeigh case.

John McVeigh, an engineer working for the defendant company, was killed in a wreck through the alleged negligence of the company. The successful plaintiff, the administratrix of the deceased, was represented by George Spear, the action being tried for the defendant by A. Y. Merrill and R. J. Dunn of Minneapolis.

The deceased left a father and a mother, and the company settled with the father, paying him $1,500, but refused to give any heed to the rights of the mother. The outcome of the case, however, was a verdict for the plaintiff for $5,000, this being the largest amount which could be awarded under the law. The court took the view that the settlement with the father did not bar the rights of the mother to a recovery through the representative of the estate of the deceased.

The action which is involved in this case is an interesting one, and will probably go to the supreme court on appeal.

TWO HARBORS MAN MADE INSPECTOR

Supt. Marquis of the Public Schools Is Given State Position.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—State high schools and graded schools are increasing so rapidly that the state high school board is adding a number of schools to the list receiving special state aid, has found it necessary to add an additional inspector to the force. W. J. Marquis, superintendent of the city schools at Two Harbors, to the list.

For several years since the positions of high school inspector and graded school inspector were created, and the number of schools has about doubled in that time, the duties and responsibilities of each high or graded school have increased greatly, but in recent years there have been so many schools that the inspectors had to visit two school a day in order to visit each school. The state now has from a half dozen to a dozen rooms and the inspectors are obliged to take the train from one to the other during the noon hour and give only a few minutes to each school room.

Two Harbors, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. W. J. Marquis of the local schools who has been appointed an additional state inspector of high and graded schools, has been in charge of the local schools about two years. He is a graduate of the St. Cloud normal and ranks high among educators. It is not known whether the new duties will compel him to give up his school work here.

FIVE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Four Women and One Man Are Victims of Disaster.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 21. — Four women and one man, the driver of the car, met death, and two young women narrowly escaped a similar fate here Thursday night, when a large touring car, going at high speed, crashed through the railing of the long trestle over the Tide flats at the point known as "Dead Man's Curve." The accident occurred at 11 o'clock.

All the members of the party were from Vancouver, B. C., except the driver of the car, who is a Seattle man.

The dead are Miss Agnes Colvin, Miss Marguerite Paul, Mrs. J. Colvin, Mrs. M. M. Grothe and Ira Perry, the chauffeur.

The tide was at flood when the automobile crashed through the rail, and the victims were hurled into several feet of water. The body of the chauffeur was found afterward, floating half a mile from the accident. The bodies of the four young women who met death have not yet been recovered.

Miss Mary Paul, a sister of one of the dead and Miss Kate Hiscock were rescued by a boatman, who heard their cries and found them clinging to the wrecked car. All of the young women are said to belong to prominent families in Vancouver.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

"A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." For sale by all druggists.

BIRMINGHAM EAGER TO TELL STOCK STORY.

New York, Aug. 21.—Sterling Birmingham, the dismissed loan clerk of the Windsor Trust company, said today, through his counsel, that he was "tired of being made the goat." An investigation is what is most welcome. It would give him a chance to show throughout his connection with the loan of $50,000 to M. M. Joyce, a broker for F. A. Heinze, that he had acted under orders from his superiors.

The grand jury is anxious to determine this point, as it was on the affidavit of President Young that Birmingham was arraigned in police court, charged with a misdemeanor in accepting $250 as a fee for his services in pushing the loan through. His bail was set at $500, which he found no difficulty in furnishing, for further examination next Tuesday.

For Heat Rash Try This

By Louise Field

Many people who are never troubled in the least with skin troubles in the winter, are extremely sensitive to the heat of summer. A little over-exertion, an unusually warm day or some little digestive disorder, and out will come the heat rash to make them wish they had never been born. The little folks too with their tender skins are usually subject to it.

There is really no need, however, for any one to suffer a day from this ailment. Just bathe the skin two or three times a day with Toilet Sulubrin diluted with water and you won't be bothered any more. It will give the most delightful refreshing sensation.

Sulubrin is the perfect home antiseptic and is positively unequaled for all skin trouble. I know this, because I have proven it myself. One bottle which will cost you 75 cents at any first-class druggist's and should last you a long time, is worth a carload of powders and creams. It makes any skin fine and soft and clean. A 25-cent bottle may be had free by addressing the Sulubrin Laboratory, 6 Sulubrin building Grand Crossing, Chicago, enclosing 10 cents (in stamps or coin) to help pay mailing expenses.

Sulubrin is sold in Duluth by William A. Abbett, druggist, 129 West Superior street, 101 West Fourth street, and 932 East Second street.

FINDS FAULT WITH SUTTON DECISION

Attorney Davis Scores Court of Inquiry---Further Action in Fall.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Sharply criticising the conclusions of the court of inquiry which recently reinvestigated the death of Second Lieut. James N. Sutton, Henry E. Davis, counsel for the mother of the dead officer, in a statement, declares that the judge-advocate was derelict in his duty in not conforming the two legal propositions submitted by Mr. Davis. Had he done so and the court heeded him, Mr. Davis continues, "it would have been absolutely obliged to exclude the hypothesis of suicide and almost as certainly to exclude the hypothesis of a wound self-inflicted in any manner as the explanation of the cause of Lieut. Sutton's death."

Of the two propositions referred to, Mr. Davis states that one of them related to the "quality and extent of evidence necessary to a verdict of suicide, and the other respecting the conditions under which a phenomenal explanation of a given situation—in this case, the nature of Lieut. Sutton's wound—could be accepted."

"Unjudicial and Harsh."

In view of the findings and opinion of the court of inquiry, especially the fifth opinion, that the charges of Mrs. Sutton are "unsupported by even a shadow of reason," Mr. Davis declares that he feels it to be his duty to Lieut. Sutton's mother, who, he says, "has so faithfully sought to relieve her son from the stigma of suicide," to submit a statement for the consideration of the public. He refers to the language used in the decision of the court as "eminently unjudicial and unnecessarily harsh."

"I am impelled to this course in a large part," says Mr. Davis, "by the apprehension that those who know only so much of the case as the press has found it possible to publish, may be led to think that the determination of a body of officers in the military service of the country must be a righteous result, and that Mrs. Sutton's attitude might have been justly of the service, as well as the cause of justice, was for the occasion committed."

Next Move in October.

Mr. Davis then reviews exhaustively the findings of the court, and concludes by saying that the statement is on his own exclusive responsibility, and is given out without conference with any other person whatsoever.

Mr. Davis declined to state what further action he would take, although he made it evident that the case would not be dropped. He left the city yesterday to be gone until October, and said that upon his return he would make announcement of his purpose.

STEAMER BURNS TO WATER'S EDGE

Craft Owned By a Stillwater Man Destroyed, But All Passengers Escape.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 21.—The steamer Fred Swayn, Capt. Verne Swayn in command, leaving the port of Peoria for La Salle at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with twenty-five passengers and a crew of fifteen aboard, caught fire off the Avery Manufacturing company's plant in Averysville at 3:20 o'clock and was burned to the water's edge, after being piloted into four feet of water, amidst a patch of small trees.

No lives were lost, and but two people were injured, one seriously. The injured: Joseph Caserider of Paducah, Ky., engineer, seriously burned about the face and body; Charles Reicheberger of Peoria, right arm broken.

The loss is estimated at $35,000, $30,000 of which was on the vessel. Several of the passengers lost all of their belongings.

D. M. Swayn of Stillwater, Minn., owner of the burned steamer, was in the Avery Manufacturing company's plant at the time of the start of the fire and aided in rescuing the passengers and crew, from the shore. His son, Verne, captain of the vessel, was the last to leave the burning ship, and was warmly congratulated by his aged father on reaching shore.

The steamer Fred Swayn was built at Clearwater, Wis., nine years ago, and was at once put into commission on the Peoria-La Salle packet route. She was one of the finest packets plying the Illinois river, and enjoyed a large passenger and freight business.

ACRE LOTS NOW FOR SALE IN HOMECROFT PARK

(THE NEW SUBURB TO DULUTH.)

The location of Homecroft Park is at Woodland, seven to twelve blocks from the end of the car line, and just outside the city limits. Two fine level county roads run through this beautiful addition, and every lot fronts on a road. A large schoolhouse will soon be built. A telephone line and an electric light line are proposed to be built this fall. In fact, there will be many suburban conveniences in Homecroft Park Addition.

The size of one of these lots is about one acre, some more and some less.
The soil consists of from three to six feet of rich black loam, unsurpassed for garden purposes; no stones and well drained.

Most of the lots have a beautiful growth of pine and spruce trees, making this locality a desirable residence section, and very healthy for camping purposes during summer and fall.

$1.00 CASH

The terms are so easy that there is a chance for everybody to get one of these valuable lots. ONLY ONE DOLLAR CASH AND TWO TO THREE DOLLARS PER WEEK UNTIL PAID FOR. NO INTEREST AT ANY TIME. NO PAYMENTS WHEN SICK. PERFECT TITLE (TORRENS TITLE).

The price ranges from $200 to $500, according to size, location and timber.

With Duluth's great future assured, on account of her unsurpassed location in the commercial world, these lots, WITHOUT ANY DOUBT, will increase largely in value, just as land similarly located in all the great cities of the United States, has increased many times its former value. And just think what great benefits the owner of one of these lots can have with an acre of such soil in the meantime. Just think, when from five to ten thousand quarts of strawberries can be raised easily on one acre with proper care, or other berries or kitchen vegetables in the same proportion, you can readily figure out to what a great extent your living expenses can be met and paid for out of the products raised from one of these lots.

Remember also, that while the land is increasing in value as time goes on, you can live on it and attend to your work in the city every day.

Do Not Hesitate. Secure One of These Lots Now.

The longer you wait the farther out from the city you will have to go, to say nothing of the fact that this is very nearly the last chance to get a piece of land so near the city with such fine productive soil, where you can nearly double your income every year.

Remember, there IS SUFFICIENT TIMBER on most of the lots for ALL BUILDING PURPOSES. Why not walk a few blocks extra and for the same money or less get twelve times more of what is the foundation of all wealth—LAND. Come out tomorrow, Sunday, and make your selection. First come, first served. There is only a limited number of these choice garden tracts. We will have men there to show them to you. THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY FOR INDEPENDENCE. DON'T LET IT SLIP BY, SOMEBODY ELSE WILL SURELY TAKE IT.

HAS BAD FALL.

Henry Rein Rendered Unconscious in Accident at Lyceum Theater.

Henry Rein, head flyman at the Lyceum theater, fell from the paint bridge to the stage, a distance of thirty-five feet, last evening, while a performance of "The Professor's Romance" was going on, and was rendered unconscious. He narrowly missed striking Miss Maud Leone, who had just passed from beneath the wings.

Rein was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where it was found that he had suffered nothing more serious than some bad bruises. At the hospital this morning it was announced that he would be about in a day or two. The man had climbed to the paint bridge so that he might be in front of an open window, but lost his foothold and fell.

The accident was not within sight of the audience.

THINK TRAGEDY SORT OF A SHOW

Burlington People See Women Drown During Spectacle on River.

Burlington, Iowa, Aug. 21.—While hundreds of merry-makers watched without any feeling of alarm, thinking the occurrence a part of the pyrotechnic display on the water, five persons last night jumped from a flaming boat into the Mississippi river and two women were drowned.

A carnival was held yesterday, and after darkness fell an elaborate display of fireworks was set off on a barge. It was announced that there would be a set piece representing the destruction of a vessel by fire, showing passengers jumping overboard to escape the flames.

Consequently, when the store of gunpowder on the barge caught fire and flames were hurled in all directions, the spectators on shore did not become alarmed. A launch, containing Marshall Jordan and wife, only recently married, Mrs. I. D. Conover and two other men, all of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, caught fire. The two women were drowned when all leaped into the river.

SERUM KEEPS HOGS FROM HAVING CHOLERA.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 21.—That hogs, by being innoculated by the serum discovered by Dr. M. Dorset, a government specialist, are immune from cholera has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of United States government officials who have been conducting a test at the Kansas City stockyards.

Dr. I. R. Baker, chief of the inspection department of the government in Kansas City, who conducted the tests, assisted by Dr. J. D. Cooper, inspector in charge, and W. B. Niles of the government experimental station at Ames, Tex., will immediately make a report to the secretary of agricultural colleges, showing the complete success of the test.

CATASTROPHE ON CHILEAN RAILROAD.

Santiago Chile, Aug. 21.—A terrible railroad disaster occurred yesterday when two trains came into collision thirty miles north of Santiago. Many persons were killed and injured. Both trains were completely destroyed. The loss will reach $150,000.

Cramps and Dysentery

Diarrhoea, cholera morbus, stomach ache, congestion, sunstroke, heart failure, fainting, weak stomach, malaria, chills, fever, prostration and the hundred and one ills of summer can be prevented and cured by taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

It kills the disease germs, invigorates and strengthens every organ and part of the human body. Absolutely pure. Fifty years' reputation.

Cured Diarrhoea

"I wish to let you know how much good Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me. Four years ago I had a severe attack of Diarrhoea. I did not attend to it until I got so bad I had to quit work. The doctor put me on special diet. I got worse and was so weak I could scarcely walk. I used 'Blackberry Brandy' with no results. I then took Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I began to improve at once, and after taking three bottles I was cured. Now whenever I need something to help me I take a dose of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey at night, and in the morning I feel all right. I use it as a preventive to colds and coughs, as I am exposed to all sorts of weather. I write you that others may know of this wonderful remedy. William Tegge, 77 Bloomfield street, Hoboken, N. J."

It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus producing a liquid food requiring no digestion in the form of a pharmaceutical whiskey, which is one of the most effective tonic stimulants and invigorators known to science; its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Thousands of leading doctors prescribe it, and prominent hospitals use and endorse it, exclusively as the most valuable invigorating tonic stimulant known to medicine.

If weak and run down, take a teaspoonful four times a day in half a glass of milk or water.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold everywhere by druggists, grocers and dealers, or shipped on order for $1.00 a bottle.

Our Consulting Physician will send to every reader of the Duluth Evening Herald advice and an interesting illustrated medical booklet free of charge. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, N. Y.

WEST END

PEOPLE WAIT FOR DECISION

West End Residents Anxious to Have Branch Postal Station.

West end people are wondering what the postal authorities are going to do about the establishing of a branch station at the West end, from which mail can be distributed the same as at West Duluth. The petition of the West end people is now in the hands of the postal authorities and the plea has the indorsement of Postmaster Guy A. Eaton.

Trains which come through the western part of the city carrying mail for that district between Fourteenth and Thirty-third avenuesc west could leave the mail off at the West end instead of taking it to the uptown postoffice, where it is distributed and then taken back by carriers.

It is said that considerable time and money could be saved by having a postal station at the West end. It was stated yesterday at the local postoffice by the superintendent of carriers that over $400 a year was spent for carfare by the carriers between the postoffice and the West end.

Considerable time is lost, also, in making car connections and better service could be given West end people if the station was established. The matter is now up to the department at Washington, which may send a man here to investigate and report whether or not it should be established.

WORK NEARS COMPLETION.

Double Track Cars Will Soon Be Running on Third Street.

Work on widening the distance between the street car tracks on the West Third street car line is now nearing completion. The workmen have finished operations between Thirty-ninth and Twenty-fifth avenues west.

Only the stretch of double track between Twenty-fifth and Nineteenth avenue west still remains to be set over. It is estimated that the entire work will be finished in about two weeks and that the double truck cars will be running on that line about that time.

There is much agitation in the western part of the city for double track between Thirty-ninth avenue west and the end of the Seventy-first avenue west line. Much better service could be given, it is said, and the chances for a collision would also be lessened.

Funeral Is Held.

The funeral of Agnes, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of 734 Garfield avenue, who died Thursday afternoon from tuberculosis, was held this afternoon from the family residence. Rev. J. A. Roberts officiated and interment was at the Lutheran cemetery.

Infant Child Dies.

Charles, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Selner, of 1722 West Superior street, died yesterday, after a brief illness. Funeral services were held from the family residence this afternoon. Rev. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First M. E. church, officiated. Burial was at Park Hill cemetery.

"A Synopsis of the Seventh Day Adventists' Doctrines and Why They Speak More Than Other Denominations About the Law of God" is the theme of the sermon that will be delivered tomorrow evening at Columbia hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street, by Rev. O. J. Nerlund. Services will be conducted in the Swedish language.

I have given him each afternoon when I made my visit.

Cannot Play Piano.

"For the first time in the eighteen months they have denied him the privilege of playing on the piano.

"He is still locked up in the bare cell which I described in court, at 8 o'clock, although other patients, some of whom do not work, are allowed to remain more at large until 9 o'clock.

"Yesterday my son had nothing whatever to eat from 6:15 a. m. to 5:45 p. m., because a lawyer came to see him at noon, dinner hour. Even the keepers wished to get him something to eat, but Dr. Baker gave special orders that they should give him nothing during the eleven and a half hours of starvation.

"We inquired of Dr. Lamb the reason for the deprivations. He answered that what they had done was 'not appreciated much when we went to court.'

"Let Doctor Off Easy."

"To this Harry replied: 'Dr. Lamb, I treated both you and Dr. Baker much better than you deserved, as you know, when testifying. So this must be revenge for what my mother said.' Dr. Lamb made no denial."

"We asked Dr. Lamb more than once if he had any further reason except revenge toward me and the desire to enfeeble my son's health so he would not be able to testify next time as he had done when opposed to Mr. Jerome at the late hearing. Dr. Lamb could give no other reason for this infamous conduct."

LOSES HIS HOMESTEAD.

Alleged Sale of Timber Before Getting Patent Supposed Reason.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Wallace, who six years ago made commutation proof on his homestead near Nevis, has received word from the department at Washington that his right to the land has been canceled and he has no further title to it.

It is reported that the trouble arose over the sale of the timber on the land to T. B. Walker, after he made commutation and before he received his patent. The only relied, it is said, is that the government may return his commutation fee, amounting to $200.

TRADE REVIVAL IS CONFIRMED

New York, Aug. 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today says:

Reports from the principal cities unite in confirming revival in trade. The prospect is that the volume of business will before long be in such proportion that maximum capacity will be reached and labor be at a premium.

In the iron and steel trade this condition indeed seems to be already in sight; and that the wonderful expansion there is no mere mushroom growth is evidenced by the advance orders for 1910. The railroads are enjoying such increases in earnings, and such assurances of good crops, that they are buying freely of steel rails and other supplies.

In the dry goods markets jobbing houses report a much better business than a year ago and in some conspicuous instances, the figures are running ahead of the volume of trade in the corresponding period of 1906.

Orders for iron and steel are increasing so rapidly that mills and furnaces experienced difficulty in making deliveries, and in some instances premiums are being paid for prompt shipments.

Additional orders for shoes are not coming in very freely and shoe manufacturers do not look for much business before the close of this month.

Buyers feel sure that prices at least will be no higher, and consequently continue to delay making contracts. The New England factories are pretty fully employed and have a good volume of business. The demand for all kinds of hides show an improvement and a fair amount of business has resulted with a prospect of larger sales. Leather rules quiet and though many varieties are firmly held, there are weak spots in other kinds. During the week a decline of a cent per pound occurred in oak rough leather.

Less favorable crop and weather news caused an advance in prices of the leading farm staples.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WANTS HER LAND BACK

Duluth Woman Sues Duluth Attorney in the Stillwater Court.

Alleges While She Was Incapacitated Her Property Was Taken.

Stillwater, Minn., Aug. 21.—A tangled condition of affairs is recited in the complaint filed in the district court by Mary J. Stuntz of Duluth through her guardian, John Brown, against George L. Spangler, a Duluth attorney; Lydia O. Beard and her husband, Samuel Beard.

It is alleged that Mrs. Stuntz had valuable lands in various pars of the state, and among them a farm worth $10,000 near White Bear, in the town of Grant.

She was declared insane by the probate court of St. Louis county in 1895. While in that condition judgments were taken against her for expenditures. She was afterwards restored to her civil rights.

It is said that she made a deed for the White Bear farm to J. N. Miller, a clerk in Spangler's office, the price being $1,000, and that she deeded away other lands. Afterwards this land was conveyed to Mr. Spangler, and in turn deeded to Mrs. Lydia O. Beard for $5,000.

The court is asked to set aside the deeds to Miller, Spangler and Mrs. Beard on the theory that they were void.

The complaint says that suits were instituted at other places to set aside conveyances of other property.

ROAD OBJECTS TO CROSSING

Northern Pacific Against Cuyuna Range Road Crossing Its Line.

Deerwood, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northern Pacific railway has notified F. J. Mann, who has obtained a grading subcontract on the Cuyuna Iron Range railroad, that they will not permit any work to be done by the grading crew at Rossburg, the proposed point of crossing of the tracks of the Northern Pacific, and that therefore all work at that point must be discontinued immediately.

This order has not caused much worriment to the Cuyuna Iron Range railroad people, but they look on it as being one of the many annoyances to be invariably encountered during the period of construction. It is confidently stated that this difficulty will be overcome in the courts and that the work will continue steadily, although the present situation will undoubtedly cause the new railroad temporary embarrassment.

The fish and game commissioner's car was in Deerwood all day Tuesday, while being loaded with another consignment of bass fry, which went to the Vermillion range for distribution to the different lakes. This is the second large shipment made by J. P. Saunders within a week. They will return for another such shipment, which will go West.

The Rogers-Brown Ore company is meeting with great success in the sinking of its three-compartment shaft adjoining the Kennedy mine. It is now down forty feet. A slight delay was caused, owing to having to wait for some machinery.

The Cuyuna Range News has started the erection of its printing office. The foundation is already laid and the carpenters are hustling things along with all possible speed.

BIG PAPER MILL PLANT GOING UP

Roof Is Nearly All on the International Falls Concern.

International Falls, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The big paper mill is being rushed to completion. The roof is nearly all on and the upper floor has been laid in one part. The ground floor is being cleared of rubbish and a concrete floor put down. The walls of the sulphite mill are going up rapidly and that part will soon be ready for the steel bridgework that will support the roof. The storeroom at the south end has been started, the concrete walls being nearly completed.

At the site of the power plants, great changes have been made during the past two weeks. The steel work for the Canadian wing is nearly all in place and the building now shows up its form and size. The American power house is also well under way. The concrete work being nearly completed and ready for the steel superstructure. Blasting still continues, but this part of the work is nearly completed, as the last reef of rock to be removed is only a thread, and but a small amount more will be blasted away from the rock bank at the American power house. The rapid progress of the work is a surprise to all, and its magnitude a revelation to the people of International Falls.

FARMER'S INJURY FATAL.

Cut By Mower Sickle, D. C. Blouch of Rice Is Dead.

St. Cloud, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. C. Blouch, one of the prominent farmers of Rice, died Wednesday evening at St. Raphael's hospital from injuries received three weeks ago, when he was badly cut by the sickle of a mower, the horses hitched to the machine running away.

Mr. Blouch, when he met with the injuries which caused his death, was oiling the sickle bar of the mower. He had a colt hitched to the machine, which was frightened in some manner and started to run off. The man caught hold of the lines and the horses backed over him. Then they started up again, the machine again passing over the prostrate man and the sickle badly cutting his arm, after which the horses ran away. He was at once brought to the hospital here, where his injuries were attended to, but it appears that he was internally injured, which injuries caused his death.

The deceased was born in Denmark and was 76 years of age. He leaves a widow and nine children, who are in good circumstances.

THUGS ATTACK NIGHT MARSHAL

Officer Forness of Moose Lake Knocked Senseless By Bad Men.

Moose Lake, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Night Marshal Forness was badly used in a mixup with four men Wednesday night. The men had been making considerable noise in the streets at a late hour and Mr. Forness told them to quit or get out of town. But they still kept it up and he ordered them to leave, and followed them until near J. C. Campbell's place, when the four jumped on him, striking him on the head with a blunt instrument, rendering him unconscious for some moments. When he came to he saw the parties disappearing in the distance.

CHASES DEER IN LAUNCH.

Walker Man Has an Exciting Time Trying to Drive Animal to Town.

Walker, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—While out on Leech lake yesterday in his launch, Louis Krueger of this place saw a deer swimming in the lake, apparently trying to cross it, and gave lively chase, putting on full head with his power. He tried to head the animal toward town, but the deer, swimming rapidly, refused to come this way and, reaching land, scampered off into the woods.

MAY APPEAL TO CONGRESS.

Red Lake County People Indignant Over Engineers' Adverse Report.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman Halvor Steenerson Thursday attended a meeting of the business interests of this city called for the purpose of taking steps to counteract the effects of the recent adverse report of the army engineers relative to the proposed improvement of the Red Lake river, which opposed the expenditure of the $50,000 appropriation made by congress last winter for the deepening of the channel of the Red Lake river from Thief River Falls to the Red lakes, a distance of some 100 miles.

A committee, consisting of Mayor T. P. Hamre; O. J. Schei, president of the Commercial club; Capt. Hanson and John Durbin, was named to prepare data relating to the business of the river and to co-operate with Congressman Steenerson in having this question settled right. If necessary it will be taken up to congress over the heads of the engineers.

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 20.—John Dolan, who escaped from the pen Monday morning and for whom the police of the state have been on the lookout ever since, was captured Wednesday in the vicinity of Casselton.

It is evident that he had made his escape from here or from some nearby town by rail. He was a former railroader and was undoubtedly onto the ways of getting a ride. He was sent up from Stutsman county for five years for grand larceny and had but a few months of his term yet to serve.

ASSAILANT NOT TAKEN.

Hinckley, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The man who shot Marshal Newman Tuesday has not yet been captured. A posse is watching all trains, but no trace of him can be found. It is the belief here that the armed fugitive has gone east through the woods toward the Omaha railroad, and if such is the case, small hopes of capturing him are entertained.

Marshal Newman is badly hurt and will be confined for several months, and may possibly be crippled for life.

Channing, Mich., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Logging operations in the territory served by the Lake Superior division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad will be heavier the coming fall and winter than for any season during the past twenty years. This is the estimate of lumbermen well qualified to pass an opinion. Upwards of 1,000 men will be employed in such of the logging camps as are located in upper Michigan, the most of these in Ontonagon, Dickinson and Iron counties. The most extensive of the operators will be the Sawyer & Goodman company of Marinette, and to facilitate its work no less than three logging railroads are now being constructed by this big lumbering concern.

WHIRLED TO HIS DEATH.

Horrible Fate of a Sawmill Employe at Manistique, Mich.

Manistique, Mich., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—It was a shocking fate which overtook David Blomquist, 17 years of age, when he met an untimely end in the sawmill of the Weston Manufacturing company here. His overalls becoming caught in a shaft revolving at the rate of 300 revolutions per minute, he was whirled to death. His body was horribly mutilated, and his clothing, even to the shoes and stockings, was torn away, except the narrow strip that was wound about him and that held him to the fatal piece of machinery. The father, brother and uncle of the boy witnessed the accident, but were powerless to prevent the fatality.

MARQUETTE PEOPLE ARE GREAT USERS OF WATER.

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—During the past three months the people of Marquette have been using water at the rate of 2,000,000 gallons daily, or an average of 167 gallons for every person in the city. As large as this consumption is, however, it is materially less than was the case prior to the installaton of meters, two years ago. Then the consumption frequently ran as high as 3,000,000 gallons per day. The greatest single purpose for which city water is used is for lawn and street sprinkling.

ENGADINE SAWMILL FIRE HAS INCENDIARY LOOK.

Gould City, Mich., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—While the origin of the blaze is a mystery, it is the suspicions of the citizens of the town that a fire which has destroyed the sawmill of the Freeman Lumber company at Engadine was the work of an incendiary. Engadine is a prosperous little community on the Soo line in Mackinac county. The mill was out of commission for the summer, and it had been boarded up. The loss is estimated at $7,000. No insurance was carried. The mill will be rebuilt, it is stated.

FOOLISH PASSENGER HAS VERY THRILLING ESCAPE.

Deerwood, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—What might have resulted in a very serious accident was averted Thursday by the speedy action of the conductor in charge of No. 1 train, which was pulling out of Deerwood for Brainerd. The train had started and an intending passenger, who was late, tried to catch the train on the run. He missed his footing completely, but fortunately caught the rear hand rail of the front car and the front rail of the rear car and was being dragged along when the conductor who had just boarded the train noticed his predicament and immediately pulled the emergency cord. The train came to a sudden stop and the passenger, none the worse for his experience, boarded the train.

Blackduck—The school board held a special meting last Monday to consider a proposition submitted to the board by L. M. Moon, who offered to buy the old school building for $500. The members thought favorably of Mr. Moon's offer and decided to accept it.

Pine City—E. C. Hinnman, assistant superintendent of the division of postoffice equipment, was in Pine City in an official capacity Wednesday. He was here for the purpose of looking over the proposed new postoffice site, which had been recommended for this place.

Foley—The Foley Milling & Elevator company has a crew at work on the feed mill and warehouse which they are erecting on the old mill site, and it is expected that the new building will be in readiness to commence business within a month. The very latest of mill machinery will be installed.

Sandstone—Cement walks are now being laid in Oldtown, beginning at Ritchie's corner and extending east the whole length of First street. The residents along this street can well feel proud of this fine improvement.

Stillwater—There were ten dogs gathered in by the special police Thursday, who went with the wagon to begin the crusade against canines that were not muzzled, in accordance with the proclamation on account of rabies. Five were taken and killed in the morning and an equal number during the afternoon.

St. Cloud—Thursday evening the home of Emil Lilliquist was entered and two watches and four rings valued at $200 were stolen. Entrance was gained through a dining room window. No trace of the thieves can be found.

Glencoe—William Burke, an old resident of Bergen township, was killed by falling under his wagon, which passed over his body, causing instant death.

"WHY DON'T YOU USE AN ELECTRIC FLAT IRON?"

SAVES TIME SAVES MONEY
SAVES LABOR SAVES WORRY
DOES BETTER WORK

3-lb. Size $3.00
6-lb. Size $3.50

USE the Electric Flat Iron ONE wash day and you will never go back to the old-fashioned way—you will join us in considering the use of the stove-heated iron a relic of the Dark Ages. Just consider! All you have to do is to screw a little plug into an ordinary electric light socket, turn on the power, and in a few moments you can start ironing. That's ALL the attention your iron will need until you have worked your way through the entire batch of laundry. Then you turn off the power, unscrew the plug, and put the iron away.

With the stove-heated iron you have first to light your fire—you know that it will overheat the entire house, but you can't get around it. Then you drag out two or three heavy irons, so that you will always have one at the right temperature, and having put them on the stove, you have to wait twenty or thirty minutes while they arrive at the right heat. From then on, your course through the pile of laundry is punctured by trudging to and from the hot stove to fetch fresh irons and to throw on more coal—blackening your hands and making it necessary to stop and wash them before you can go on with your work—burning your finger to test the heat every now and then; smudging the clothes once in a while with smut from the stove, that you did not notice until too late—hours and hours of drudgery in a stifling heat, when you might have done it all in an hour, the clean, pleasant, cool way, with the ELECTRIC FLAT IRON. Is it worth while? when an initial expenditure of only THREE-FIFTY WILL CUT ALL THE DRUDGERY and TWO-THIRDS OF THE WORK OUT OF WASH DAY.

It's mighty nice of all you boys—this taking Winona down the line while Wausau is unfeelingly defeating us. We are devoutly thankful for the two decisive trimmings you have given Winona, and if it would not seem like asking too much of you, please repeat the dose this afternoon.

Yesterday the Drillers gave the second licking of the present series to the Killianites. The score was 3 to 1. Phil Stremmel was on the mound for the Drillers and pitched good ball throughout the game. Corbett was hit hard and often by the Drillers, who have had their batting clothes pressed and dry cleaned, and are wearing them since the large sized beating they handed us.

Winona scored its lonely run in the third inning. Curtis opened with a screamer against the left field fence and was sacrificed to second. Goodman hit to center and Curtis went to third on the play. Wilhelm hit to the outfield, sending Curtis over the rubber.

The Drillers scored in the opening round. Gray hit safely and Caldwell sacrifice him to second. Geelan, Shaub and Koepping hit safely, sending Dolly oved the platter. Clapper flew out to left and Germany Vogt whiffed, with the bases freighted.

Koepping opened the fourth with a pass and was sacrificed to second by Clapper. Vogt scored him with a hit. Vogt came home when Bancroft's hit was fumbled by Crangle in right.

We hope and trust, we on this side of the turbulent bay, that the good work of the sprightly Drillers will be continued in the next and that again this afternoon the heavy heel of hatred will be brought into play.

BIG DAY AT SPEEDWAY

Autos Are Racing 300 Miles for the Indianapolis Motor Cups.

Strang and Zeingal Divide Honors in the Friday Races.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21.—The final day of the inaugural automobile racing meet on the new Indianpolis Speedway was started today by a 15-mile free-for-all handicap that enlisted the services of many of the best drivers at the track. What is believed to be the largest crowd of the three days began to pour into the stands long before the time for the races to start. When the men in the first event were called to the starting mark by Starter Wagner, nearly every available seat in the big grand stand and the open stand at the south end of the track was taken, and the crowds were pouring in in steady streams.

The program scheduled for today promises to be the most exciting of the meet, and will end with the 300-mile race for the Indianapolis motor speedway cup, which is said to be the most valuable trophy ever offered in an automobile tournament. It is made of silver, the coin value of which is said to be $5,000. It is eight and a half feet high and weighs 500 pounds. This race will bring together one of the best fields of racing drivers that ever competed in an automobile event.

The second race on the program, ten miles, for the amateur championship of America, has aroused an immense amount of interest. Several famous amateur drivers, including Ed Hearne and Arthur Greiner of Chicago, will compete. Greiner will drive a Renault car, while Hearne will pilot his big Fiat.

Following is the list of events for the day:

Fifteen-mile free-for-all, handicap.

Ten miles for the amateur championship of America.

Twenty-five-mile free-for-all.

Consolation, five miles, open to all cars that have not won a race during the meet.

Three hundred-mile race for the Indianapolis speedway trophy, open to all cars up to 600 cubic inch cylinder displacement.

Strang and Zeingal shared the honors of the second day of racing. The former won the fastest 100-mile race ever held in this country, while the latter established a new ten-mile record. Not a single accident of a serious nature marred the day's racing and it was a welcome relief from the tragedies of Thursday. The only accident reported was a bruised arm sustained by Barney Oldfield in the ten-mile free-for-all race, in which Zeingal made his new record.

A crowd of about 18,000 spectators crowded the two big stands and hundreds of automobiles filled every inch of the desirable parking space. The crowd was considerably larger than yesterday, many of the spectators doubtless being attracted by morbid curiosity caused by Thursday's accidents.

The feature of the day was the easy victory of Strang, who drove a Buick in the 100-mile race, the star event of the day. Strang led all the way from the start and won by about ten miles in the exceptional time of 1:32:43 5-10. At first it was thought this was a new 100-mile record for this country, but the officials announced that they had decided to allow the mark of 1:32:18 9-10, made by Chevrolet in the first 100-miles of the 250-mile race, yesterday, to stand, despite the fact that Chevrolet did not finish the race. Strang, however, beat Chevrolet's records for nearly all the distance between twenty and 100 miles. Strang's time was more than 11 minutes better than the 100-mile track record made by Burman at Columbus, Ohio, on July 3 of this year. Burman's record was made on a one-mile track.

A comparison of the time made by Strang yesterday and the record made on a one-mile track clearly demonstrates the possibilities of the new speedway, which is the only 2½-mile track in the world.

Following are the figures:

Mile track:

Distance—	Strang.	Record.	Holder.
20 miles	26:41 7-10	18.45 2-5	Oldfield
30 miles	27:55 9-10	28:38 2-5	Oldfield
40 miles	35:01 6-10	38:41 5-5	Oldfield
60 miles	55:41 7-10	1:08 12 2-5	Clements
80 miles	1:14:18	1:30:46 1-5	Clements
100 miles	1:32:18 5-10	1:41	Burman

Dewitt in a Buick finished second to Strang in the long race in 1:41:32 6-10, and Stillman, in a Marmon, was third in 1:42:37 6-10. Harroun, in a Marmon, was the only other of the seven starters to finish. The Buick (Chevrolet), Marlon (Monson) and Marlon (Stutz) dropped out early in the race.

Strang never stopped once during the 100 miles, his car working like a carefully adjusted piece of delicate mechanism. His pace was uniform throughout, and the speedy car continued to reel off lap after lap and mile after mile with remarkable uniformity. He increased his lead all the way and never once was he forced to take a rival's dust.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 21.—Detroit could do nothing with Gray until the sixth inning, but he became unsteady then and in the sixth and eighth Bush hit in runs, scoring himself also in the eighth, in which inning Gray walked four men and hit another. A double play with the bases filled pulled him out in the seventh inning. Willett was steady throughout and was well supported. The batting of Schaefer and Bush featured the contest. Because of the trade of Rossman for Tom Jones of St. Louis, completed today, Crawford went to first base. THIRTY LEFT IN THE RUNNING

National Tennis Tournament in Progress at Newport.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 21.—Under weather conditions somewhat less favorable than those of the past two days, play in the national tennis championship was resumed here today. The early part of the day was cloudy and the indications were for showers.

Thirty players were in the running at the opening of today's play with fourteen matches remaining in the fourth round.

For the grandstand court the featured match was that between Maurice E. McLaughlin, one of the team of Pacific coast players, who were defeated by Hackett and Alexander in the doubles championship match, and Melville H. Long of California.

Carl Behr of New York, the former internationalist, was matched against C. E. Sands, a veteran player of this city and New York, while the former national champion, W. J. Clothier, was pitted against H. W. Slocum, another former national title holder.

THE GOVERNOR IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Fred M. Warner Witnesses His First Prize Fight.

Governor Fred M. Warner of Michigan has been won over and is now an enthusiastic fight fan.

More or less uncertainly has been connected with the bouts pulled off in the Copper country thi season, because it was understood that the governor was opposed to fistic encounters.

Only a few nights ago, the governor witnessed a real prize fight with a purse both ways and a wager. He thought it was great sport, said so, became enthusiastic, shook hands with the winner, congratulated him, and promised to come again should he be invited.

The affair was staged in one of the armories in Detroit. Private Flynn of one of the companies, who has quite a reputation as a boxer said that he would bet $10 that there was not a man in the regiment who could stand up against him eight rounds.

A young fellow named Boyer took him up. The details were arranged and Boyer more than stood up eight rounds. He had Flynn groggy at the end of the final round.

This was the bout the governor attended.

The Indianapolis Races.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20. — Barney Oldfield in a Benz covered a mile in 43 2-10, failing to equal his record of yesterday by one-tenth of a second.

Zengel in a Chadwick covered a mile in 49 4-10.

De Palma in a Fiat made it in 48 6-10

Five miles stripped chassis, 231 to 300 cubic inch piston displacement—Buick, (Strang), first; Buick, (Chevrolet), second; Marion, (Stutz), third. Time, 4:48.1. Marion, (Monsen), also started.

Ten miles stripped chassis, 301 to 450 cubic inch piston displacement—National, (Merz), first; Buick, (Chevrolet), second; Stoddard-Dayton, (De Hymel), third. Time 9:16 3-10. Stoddard-Dayton, (Clements), also started.

Just before the time to start the first auto race, Lewis R. Spears, the president of the American Automobile association, announced that the meet could be continued under the sanction of that body. The track had been thoroughly gone over by a large force of workmen and after a tour of inspection, Mr. Spears said it was all right at present. The entire circuit had been oiled and the rough spots patched up as much as possible.

IS TRAINING FAITHFULLY

Ketchel Says His Work Has Been Far From Loafing.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 21.—Stanley Ketchel is in the East, preparing for his bout with Sam Langford. Messages received here by friends say that he will spring a big surprise in the boxing line on the Easterners. Instead of taking a vacation in the wilds, Ketchel writes that he has put himself in first-class shape and that Langford thinks he is going to find an easy mark, he is badly mistaken.

Ketchel has followed some of the training methods pursued by Jeffries when the latter used to train in the mountains. He has been hunting and fishing, and in addition, has followed his old calling of woodcutting. He was ordinarily a lumberman, and it is to his constant use of the axe that he attributes the powerful muscles of his arms.

He writes that he has found that he can swing the axe as strongly as ever before, but admits that he is getting heavier. He says this does not indicate any lack of training, however, but that he has naturally a tendency to work up to 175 pounds or thereabouts. He says he will make the middleweight limit in the match with Langford, but that he does not intend to reduce so much hereafter.

Intense Colicky Pains Relieved.

"For some years I suffered from intense colicky pains which would come on at times and from which I could find no relief," says I. S. Mason of Beaver Dam, Ky. "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended to me by a friend. After taking a few doses of the remedy I was entirely relieved. That was four years ago and there has been no return of the symptoms since that time." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

WE'RE BASEBALL CRAZY, SAYS AN ENGLISH PAPER

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 19.—Charley Aldrich, the Cleveland actor, who has been trying to get home from abroad for three or four months in order to see some ball games, writes from Colchester, Eng.:

"I am sending you a copy of an English paper in which is an article on the great American game. It is easy to see that what an Englishman does not know about our beloved game would fill a large volume."

The paper Aldrich incloses is the Sunday Chronicle, published in Colchester, and in it is a four-column article entitled "A Country Baseball Mad."

Here's the "Dope."

Here are a few extracts:

"The Americans are a strangely neurotic kind of race. They are as ready to go into a paroxysm of excitement over a Teddy bear as they are over a presidential election. Baseball has nothing in it—nothing, that is, to the Englishman who regards cricket and football as types of real games—but the American regards it as the one heaven-sent form of sport on earth. Every season we have over here the spectacle of 80,000,000 people literally baseball mad.

"Already baseball has taken in various parts of the country its terrible toll. Under the eyes of 30,000 people a spectator the other day was carried dead off the baseball field. For just one moment there came a murmur of pity. Then came a frantic yell of delight as a popular favorite gave an exhibition of the art of 'sliding to base,' a roar as of 30,000 hungry wolves, and the dead man was forgotten.

"Bring Abraham Lincoln to life, place him on one side of Upper Broadway and Muggsy McGraw on the other, and the crowd shall as inevitably follow in the wake of Muggsy as steel follows the magnet.

"To you in England, loving cricket as your national game, yet treating it soberly as a pastime to be taken up in leisure hours and put aside and forgotten for the more serious duties of life, the spectacle of millions of people going stark, raving mad over a game distinctly lacking in every element of science or attractiveness, is something to make nations wonder."

"Still," adds Aldrich, as he concludes his letter, "I find myself longing to see this game, 'distinctively lacking in every element of science and attractiveness' though it may be. It is scientific and attractive enough to suit yours truly."

ST. YVES WAS A WAITER, BUT WAITED FOR, NOT ON

"The only time I ever waited on anybody was when I finished a race and waited for the second man to come in," is the way Henri St. Yves, the champion Marathon runner, disposed of the story that he had been a waiter over in France before taking to the Marathon game.

"I was a chauffeur for the Renault people before taking to the running game. It was quite a change from riding in an auto to running over twenty-six miles in a stretch, but I grew to like it because I was a consistent winner.

"I spent several years running as an amateur, so you can see that it was not the money that attracted me at first. Naturally, when I found out that I could defeat other long-distance runners and that there was money in the game, I took up professional running.

"Baseball players, football players and sprinters have a cinch training for their races beside what I have to do. It is up to me to keep in trim all the time and I have to do it by meeting the crack runners of every part of the country I happen to be in. Some of those fellows are pretty good, too, and I have to keep my eyes open so that they can't put one over on me."

MAY ROW ON LAKE SUPERIOR

If Bay Is Too Rough the Crews Will Take to Lake.

If the water on the bay is too rough to row this afternoon, the lapstreak races will be rowed on the lake. The officials of the club have spent a good deal of time in getting the crews together, and no matter if the bay is too rough to make rowing by green men impractical, the races will be rowed.

A good deal of interest is being shown in the races of this afternoon. It was not thought that so many crews could be gotten together, and the success the efforts of the officials have met with is encouraging for the outlook for next year.

DICK HYLAND TAKES A BEATING

Johnny Frayne Gets Decision Over Fighting Richard at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 21.—Johnny Frayne got the decision over Dick Hyland last night at the end of the twentieth round.

Frayne outclassed his antagonist and had a lead in every round after the tenth. The fight up to that point was rather tame and uninteresting with the advantage belonging to neither man.

After the tenth round Frayne tore loose and gave Hyland a systematic beating. Frayne's punches were clean, forceful and well timed. In the eighteenth round he all but sent Hyland to the floor with terrific left and rights to the jaw and upper-cuts to the body. Hyland was a 10 to 8 favorite.

DULUTH BOAT IS THIRD IN CLASS B

Margaret L. of Minnetonka First With Butterfly Second.

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 21.—Margaret L. of Minnetonka won the Inland Lakes Yachting association championship in class B. Butterfly of White Bear was second and Allegro of Duluth third. In class C the championship of the regatta was won by Lemon of Oconomowoc, with Skip of Minnetonka second.

Yesterday the last race of the B and C classes were held, being 16 to windward and return. Margaret L. which won the championship, was second yesterday morning, having capsized on the first trip out, but was righted and gained enough time to come in second. The standing of the boats, according to points for the championship, is as follows.

Class B—Margaret L, 22; Butterfly, 21; Allegro, 16; Virginia, 11; Twenty-three, 8; Prim Girl, 6.

Class C—Lemon, 14; Skip, 10; Patsy, 9; Edith, 7.

The inland lake yachting association championship, 1909, for Class A yachts, goes to Kathryn, representing the Butte Des Morts yacht club at Oshkosh, sailed by John Buckstaff, one of the youngest skippers in the association. The Mercia of Oshkosh yacht club, won second place.

WESTON SAYS HE WILL TRY AGAIN

Pedestrian Disappointed at Not Making Walk in 100 Days.

New York, Aug. 21.—Edward Payson Weston, the veteran walker, has returned to New York from San Francisco after walking from New York to San Francisco, a distance of 3,395 miles in 105 days, looking none the worse for his long grind. The performance will go on record as one of the most remarkable in the history of pedestrianism especially in view of the fact that Weston was 70 years old when he accomplished the difficult task.

Weston, in spite of the hardships he encountered in the far West, will make another attempt to make a trans-continental trip within the allotted time, 100 days. He expects to begin the walk early next year and is basing by his past experiences expects to cover 4,000 miles in 100 days, thereby reducing his time by over five days.

During the journey Weston met with all sorts of weather and was compelled to endure all kinds of hardships during the route. He is disappointed over his failure in not making the trip in 100 days as he started out to do, but attributes his failure to turns and twists he was compelled to make.

It is the first time that a bona fide walk has been made across the American continent. Weston laid much stress on the fact that he walked over railroad bridges and tracks in the West instead of resorting to ferries and roads. It had always been Weston's ambition to walk across the continent, and the fact that he succeeded in his seventy-first year is a fitting culmination to the long career of pedestrian triumphs with which he has been associated.

Weston was frequently discouraged during his long trip by the bad roads and severe weather conditions. As the walk progressed he was deprived of his clothing and several times was unable to procure food or water.

In Wyoming his troubles multiplied to such an extent that had it not been for the timely aid rendered by the officials of the Southern Pacific railroad in sending along from Ogden an official on a railroad track velocipede, carrying milk, eggs and other nourishing food, it is doubtful whether Weston would have survived the heat and storms encountered day after day.

BUSHER IN SELECT CLASS.

Joe Pulse, bush leaguer from Kenosha, Wis., is now in the select class with Jim Galvin, Lee Richmond, John Ward, Cy Young and Addie Joss, the only pitchers record who have pitched no-hit-no-man-reach-first games.

Pulse, pitching with the Kenosha City team, was playing against Harvard, Ill. He struck out twenty of the twenty-seven batters who faced him. He did not come close to passing a man. Only one ball was hit out of the infield and he himself threw out three runners at first.

Several years ago Pulse played on the De Pauw universtiy team. He has several times been approached by big league scouts, but refuses to play ball as a business. His record includes several no-hit games, but an error or a pass has always ruined his chances for a perfect game until his recent star performance.

ALREADY PLANS ARE BEING MADE

First Game for the World's Championship Will Take Place Oct. 9.

Though no one can tell who is going to win the major league pennants, arrangements already are being made for the next world's championship series. In Cincinnati there was an important meeting of the members of the national commission—Ban Johnson, Heydler and Herrmann—and baseball's chief tribunal have decided on a campaign of action that will prevent the set of games for the championship of the universe having any of last fall's unsavory incidents. The commission properly intends that this year there shall be no quibbling among the players about the division of the prize money, and that there shall be no scalping of tickets.

The commission in the future will absolutely run the world's series. It will take entire charge of the sale of the pasteboards, and will see that regular patrons are not discriminated against, as they were in Chicago last year. Moreover, the commission will pass a hard and fast rule regarding the distribution of the players' share of the gate receipts. Players who are eligible to participate in the series, even though they have done benchwarming duty all season, will get their pro rata share of the prize money. A bit of legislation of this kind would have saved a lot of baseball scandals last year and kept several athletes from foaming at the mouth whenever the name of C. Webb Murphy is mentioned.

No matter what clubs win the major league pennants, the first game of the 1909 world's championship series will be played on Saturday, Oct. 9. The American league entrant thus will have a four-day rest before being called on to battle with the team that lands the honors in the senior organization. The schedule calls for the Johnsonites to cease battling on Monday, Oct. 4, while the Heydlerites will not wind up their campaign until three days later.

If the series should happen to be between the Pittsburg team and the Tigers, the first game will be played in Pittsburg on Saturday, Oct. 9, and the second game in Detroit on Sunday, day, Oct. 10. In order to make the jump, a special train would be made up.

If the series is between the Cubs and the Tigers, the first game will be played at Detroit and the second game in Chicago on a Sabbath.

Both the big organizations are having spirited pennant sprints. In each league three clubs have chances for the gonfalons—Pittsburg, Chicago and New York in the National, and Detroit, Philadelphia and Boston in the American league.

LITTLE CHANGE IN THE RULES

Field Goal Will This Year Count for But Three Points.

Fall is at hand. The football guide is out. It shows few changes in the rules that governed the game last year. Those who control the destinies of the game have been content to clarify the existing rules and have made few actual changes. The phraseology has been altered in many cases where last year's rules were ambiguous.

The field goal will hereafter count only three points, instead of four. This change will meet with the approval of all professional coaches except those who depend for their team strength on one man with a highly educated toe. It was to protect otherwise stronger teams against the weak teams with the strong kickers that this rule was passed.

It is expected this change will make the field goal play less popular. Hereafter two goals from the field will not be superior to a hard-earned touchdown, and goal from touchdown. The board, when it made this rule, had no desire to encourage the old concentration of attack, but simply wanted to let the teams win or lose on their merits.

Last fall it was mandatory for the defending side, after touchdown, to punt out from inside the 25-yard line. In the future it will be optional with the defending side to punt out or put ball in play by a scrimmage.

This rule was intended to discourage the practice of kicking the ball across the line on a windy day, thus forcing the defenders to punt out in the face of a strong wind, making it possible to take a fair catch and a free chance at a goal.

The forward pass has not been tinkered materially, the principal change being in the way of designating the players who may receive the ball. This season a man must be clearly one yard back of the neutral zone or at the end of the scrimmage line before he can take part in the play.

Also the rule regarding an effort to put the defense offside by false motions has been amended to include the center himself. The center has often been used to coax a five-yard penalty out of the officials by coaching him to make some move with his arms which would bring the opponents across the scrimmage line before the ball was passed.

Schell Will Back the Dingle Capitol Against Battray's Boat.

Richard Schell avers he is quite willing to race Capt. "Bill" Battray, providing the genial captain comes through with a little change, just enough to pay for the oil that will be consumed in sending the new Schell boat ripping through the waters. Mr. Schell says that the captain has a "cornpopper" and that he will experience no trouble in showing him the bright, new stern of the Dingle Capitol.

Those who have seen the captain tearing around the bay, are of the opinion that Mr. Schell will have all he can do to defeat the boat that the captain has brought to the Head of the Lakes. However, Mr. Schell has stated that he will race both of the boats that the captain has brought to Duluth, and that he will back the Dingle Capitol to the extent of $1,000 on the outcome of the race.

The men may get together and settle the details of the proposed match today. A race between the boats would be a treat to motor boat enthusiasts.

Little flits to fame, series No. 8. Ach, dot Wagner. Himmel vot a wonder dot he iss!

Honus Bismarck Wagner is about the greatest human machine that we know of. He is what is known as perniciously active—by the other seven teams in the National league. The fans of Pittsburg do not call his gamboling on the greensward by that name. He is in a class ahead of Bob Fitzsimmons and Farmer Burns; for thought these venerable and well oiled human machines went along like the one-horse shay, they also broke down, like the shay of big league literature.

Now our flit to fame subject has been going along for twelve long years. Twelve years friends, filled with two, three, and four, base hits, and also filled with a bounding activity, beautiful in its elephantine clumsiness, that has cut off the hits of opponents and reduced the batting averages of batsmen who would rival the German with the stick.

'Twas back in 1895, the scene, Warren, Pa. It was in the Iron and Oil league, that Honus played his first professional game. People laughed with merry eclat when they saw the bear-like tread of the German as he chased a fly to the outer precincts of the ball yard. Honus broke into the game as an outfielder, and outside of Emil Frisk, he was about the clumsiest spheroid chaser that the game has produpced.

The iron and oil people didn't prosper greatly. Andy Carnegie and Henry Clay Frick were making money too fast to go to the games, so the league broke up. Some of the players were purchased. Nobody wanted Wagner. People snorted right out in the grandstand when the German almost stumbled over himself pulling down a ball. Strong men grew faint from excessive laughter. Dyspeptics came for miles to watch Wagner play. But finally Steubenville, Ohio, a place where Darby O'Brien used to have a girl, needed a player badly, and Wagner was signed. The city of Steubenville 'lowed as how that 'ere Wagner was no player, and as how the management was calculatin' to save money by buying cheap players. Before Honus left the place the "postmaster" addressed him by the title of "Mister," which is going some. It was in Steubenville that Honus contracted the habit of breaking up games a habit that he has carried until this day.

There is a creek that runs, or used to run—what might be a more apt word—by the grounds of the Steubenville club. Wagner drove the ball into the raging waters of the creek and it was lost forever, though searching parties were sent out. The loss of the ball broke up the game.

In 1896 Honus signed with Paterson, N. J., the place where hats and shoes and anarchists are manufactured. Honus developed the anarchist habit to the extent that he used to murder the ball. They have their Little Italy in Paterson, and Honus became so justly popular that he was regularly invited in to juggle spaghetti on the end of his fork, for it is awfully hard to eat the stringy stuff with a knife, and to sip light Italian wine. That's how popular he was in Paterson, N. J. When any one is too popular in Paterson some one generally heaves a bomb at him, but they loved Honus in a different way.

Louisville secured Wagner the following year. Brother Fred Clarke was with Louisville, and he believed that with years of work and constant practice he might make a sail player out of Honus. Isn't Fred the wise old owl? Down South when anyone becomes popular or famous he becomes a Colonel. After the first two weeks, Honus became Col Honus Bismarck Wagner. The governor was about to appoint Col. Wagner to his staff, but at that time the Louisville team, bag and baggage, was transferred to Pittsburg.

Wagner made many records in Louisville. He still holds the record of being the only baseball player who never drank a mint julep. His German was so broken that he couldn't pronounce the word and his innate modesty forbade him drinking one in company, lest he make some dreadful break. But, liet' Wagner is not a drinking man; that is one of the reasons why he is drawing a salary that makes some of the Pittsburg members of society jealous.

Wagner went from Louisville to Pittsburg. When Wagner departed from Louisville a delegation saw him off. Colonels and citizens of every shade and denomination saw the German shake the light gray dust of "Looyville" from his brogans. The Sangerbund gave Wagner a flute as a parting present, and so conscious is the big German of duty, that he has learned to play the instrument. Out at Carnegie, Pa., on a beautiful evening, far from the bright lights and the admiring throng, Honus may be heard flluting peacefully. Any man who will learn to play a flute out of duty, or out of jail, has the true instinct of deep friendship.

Of course you know the record of our hero since going to the town, that before the coming of Wagner, was largely dominated by one Andrew Carnegie of Scotch extraction. But now Pittsburg swears by all that is German, and Wagner is by far the biggest man in the Sooty city.

Not so long ago Mr. Wagner threatened to quit baseball. He said that he has cornered enough of the world's goods and that he was tired of the strenuous life. Delegations of Pittsburgers trekked out to the Wagner home in Carnegie. They threatened to spoil Wagner's lawn and tear up the flower beds and growing garden. There was nothing to it Wagner rejoined the Pittsburg team, or rather the rest of the team joined Wagner.

The fact that Barney Dreyfus gave Wagner a substantial increase in salary, didn't matter, do you supposed? Mr. Wagner is big, and quiet, and awkward. He is unassuming. He hates noise and excitement. He has hands that are bigger than the hands that hang at the sides of James J. Jeffries or Ed Dunkhurst, the human freight car. You think he is going to slide on his ear when he tears after the ball—but he doesn't. He doesn't wear any pads in his glove and he doesn't care which hand gets the ball. He can pull down a hot liner with either hand, and he can throw from any position.

He has a whip that has more snap than any ever sported by a ten-twenty-third Simon Laggee. He covers more ground than Carrie Nation, which same is going some. He made the classical remark, "Hit 'em where they ain't," and he generally does. He has hit over 300 so long that it is considered a habit. He steals bases like a sprinter, though he is a giant in stature. He humbles along like an ice wagon turned down a Duluth sidehill, but he gets there just the same.

He was a rough, funny talking, funny looking Dutchman when he first broke into the game. Through travel, both on trains and on the ball field, and through association with men like Andrew Carnegie, Henry Clay Frick, William E. Corey and William Temple, whom Wagner admits to his presence when he is not tired or there is not a double-header in prospect, he has become somewhat polished. He was illiterate when he broke into the game, but he has become a reader of books. Yet there are some people that hold that baseball has not an educating influence.

He has a back as broad as a retired Dutch burgher and possesses, too bad, or two bad, which you will, bow legs. But the ball seldom travels through the curving arch formed by the Wagner bowed legs, and he gets enough speed out of his out-swinging limbs to lead the league in base stealing. He does the right thing at the right time. He has baseball brains of a very high calibre. He is generally conceded to be the greatest living ball player, and it is extremely doubtful if any of the old stars ever shone with the brilliancy of Col. Wagner. He has no weakness, and the Pittsburg fans howl with illy suppressed wrath when the Teuton is given a base on balls.

Great is Wagner and may his playing long continue.

An excuse that a fighter was not in condition is about the most measly, weak-kneed excuse that a fighter can make. If we remember correctly, it was because Mistah Gunther "broke his hand" that he failed to whip little George Gunther.

"UMP" SULLIVAN MAKES COFFINS.

"Billy" Sullivan, one of the American Association umpires, has a unique trade. He was a coffin maker before he got to umpiring in professional baseball. This is natural because the silver haired arbitrator comes from Rochester.

Sullivan used to slip away frequently from the plant in the afternoon and the coffin wagon was generally to be found at the Rochester ball park at 5 o'clock to take "Billy" home.

Sullivan was superintendent in a factory in that city and was able to slip away occasionally. Sullivan does not know which is the worst job, making coffins or being in danger of filling one after each game.

TOURNAMENT DOWN TO FINALS

Boat Club Tennis Finals Are Being Played Off.

The winners of the Grady-Graff vs. Wilson-Davis tennis match will meet Washburn and Whyte in the finals for the boat club championship in the doubles this afternoon, as a part of the regular Saturday sport program.

Yesterday Whyte and Washburn defeated Hooker and McBride by a score of 10-8, 6-4 and 6-4. The Grady-Graff and Wilson-Davis match has not yet been finished. Wilson and Davis won the first set, 7-5, and Grady and Graff won the next two by scores of 6-0, 6-0. The semi-finals call for the best three out of five, and the match will be finished this afternoon at 2 o'clock, so that the finals can be played at 3 o'clock.

Cholera Infantum Cured.

"Something like two years ago my baby, which was then about a year old, was taken seriously ill with cholera infantum, vomiting and purging profusely, writes J. F. Dempsey of Dempsey, Ala. I did what I could to relieve her but did her no good, and being very much alarmed about her went for a physician, but failed to find one, so came back by Elder Bros. & Carter's store and Mr. Elder recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. I procured a bottle of it, went home as quickly as possible and gave the baby a dose of the remedy. It relieved her in fifteen minutes and soon cured her entirely." For sale by all druggists.

THE FAMOUS ELECTRIC SWING JOS. M. GAITES'-"THREE TWINS."

FINALE ACT 1. JOS. M. GAITES'-"THREE TWINS."

Electrically lavish is the musical comedy "The Three Twins" which appears at the Lyceum all of next week.

An electrical staff of four men, including a chief electrician, is an important part of the company, and the numerous illuminated displays in the production require their constant attention.

The chief electrical feature is a gigantic merry-go-round and swing, which is rendered brilliant by 1,200 colored bulbs. The placing of this great piece of stage mechanism, weighing three tons, into position, requires the exertion of nine men for a space of about four hours—its dismantling about the same amount of time. It is in actual use on the stage for a little over one minute, which is an illustration of the vast pains-taking exertions put forth by modern amusement enterprises.

The "faceograph" is another popular element in the list of things electrical. By means of a complicated system of lights and mirrors, the features of one of the prettiest of the chorus girls are reflected on a rear drop, vastly enlarged and with the tints of her complexion exactly portrayed. On the sheet the girl is seen to smile, pout, or roll her eyes, her lips moving with the words of the song "The Girl Up There." The chorus girl in question has to insert her head—upside down—within a small compartment, wherein are powerful reflectors. The electrical power of 150 amp. is required for the faceograph, equal to the light force of 300 16-candle power lamps.

TRAFFIC ON DEAD SEA.

Small Sailing Boat Carries Most of the Passengers and Freight.

Washington Herald: "Many false and foolish reports about the Dead Sea—that strange and interesting lake—have been circulated," said Abraham S. Abrahams of Jerusalem and London, who is on a tour of this country.

"Much has appeared from time to time in papers and periodicals about steamboats navigating the Dead Sea," continued the banker. "This too is a fabrication. The only boat on the Dead Sea is a small sailing boat about twenty feet long.

"This vessel makes trips as the wind allows from the north end of the sea to the bay on the eastern side of the tongue that divides the water near the middle. At this terminus some Jews are located. The whole concern is, in fact, in the hands of Jews, who, at a low rate, buy wheat and barley from the Arabs to be delivered on the seashore. From there it is shipped to the Jericho side and carried on donkeys to Jerusalem, where it finds ready sale at a good price.

"When adverse winds blow the little craft is in danger of being swamped, for the so-called Dead Sea becomes a living mass of waves. Not long ago I spent four nights such as never will be forgotten on these waters, and the smartness of the old man at the helm and his boy with the sails saved us from being wrecked again and again. A charge of one mejedie, which is about 80 cents a trip, is made for each passenger, and for a unique voyage it is not exorbitant.

"There is some talk about a small steam tug being put on the sea, but the authorities are loath to grant permission. It will be a great boon when it does arrive, as it will bring the east and west sides of Jordan nearer to each other for communication and trading purposes."

FAMILY FLORICULTURE.

Success Magazine: George Marion, the stage manager, is a lover of nature and a hater of overcoats and umbrellas. Recently, during a violent rain storm, he called on his mother, entering her presence wringing wet.

"George," said she, firmly, "you ought not to expose yourself in such weather. You will get pneumonia."

"But, mother," exclaimed George, with a theatrical wave of his hand, "why should I fear the rain? Does it not nurture the grass? Is it not life to the flowers?"

"It is a long time," said the good woman, closing a window, "since you were a flower."

News of the Theater

Bijou Will Reopen.

Patrons of the Bijou will hardly know the popular home of vaudeville when it opens its doors to the public Monday. Many changes have been made for the comfort of its patrons, among the principal ones being the installing of a new ventilating system. The balcony has been brought forward, which gives that part of the house 200 more seats, and six boxes have been added, each holding eight people. A beautiful porte-cochere has been put over the front and extends to the curb line. The main part of the theater has been newly decorated, and is now one of the prettiest vaudeville theaters in the Northwest. Two large exits have been put in leading direct to the street from the balcony, which was a much-needed improvement.

The show listed for Monday matinee and week will be right up to the standard, as many of the best acts in the country are booked. The same high-grade attractions will appear at the Bijou weekly during the season, as it is on the Sullivan & Considine circuit, which is the largest vaudeville circuit in America, having booking arrangements with over 100 theaters in the United States and Canada, and are the sole owners of the larger part of them. Being able to offer the vaudeville artists so many consecutive weeks, they are able to get the best acts at a reasonable cost and by so doing can produce the best of vaudeville amusement at popular prices.

Porter J. White will present Howard Missimer and his clever company in the fantastic playlet entitled "Mr. Stranger." In the New York Telegraph of recent date is an item in the vaudeville column by B. C. Hart, the critic of that paper, in which he speaks of the vaudeville artist and Mr. Missimer as follows:

"It will be vaudeville that will bring in the one-act play, as it will be the one-act play that will usher in the appreciation of the dramatist's art. Nowadays people go to the theater because they know they will be amused from 8:15 to 11. It is not how they are amused, but that they shall be able to pass pleasantly the hours that are usually 'hard to kill,' but with the advent of the one-act play the story and the way it is told, and not the mere quantity of diversion, will be the thing. There are some books which, with an effort, send a week into oblivion, but how much more satisfying is one passage of a book that takes half an hour in the reading, and a month in the pleasurable recollection! A four-act play tells a story, you listen, and that is all. A one-act play suggests a story, you listen, and finish it according to your mode of thought and the character of your experience. This is the case with Howard Missimer, who is presenting, with the aid of his little company, Oliver White's fantastic fragment called 'Mr. Stranger.' This piece for instance, suggests a story that sends reminiscent thrills down the back of an audience, yet outwardly the tale bears a coat of absolute artificiality. It is in the one-act play that naturalness can wear a quaint disguise. The larger work can bear no mark of the other because its chief end is to convince. The mission of the one-act play is to outline."

One of the funniest of Hebrew comedians before the public is Will H. Fields, better known in vaudeville as "The Bowery Pawnbroker," who will be seen in his original monologue of New York's realistic East side nonsense, also introducing a number of original songs and parodies.

An act that is of the nature class class will be Al Spaulding and Leonore Dupree, who will be seen in their novelty "The Strollers." This is an acrobatic performance with high-class singing introduced in such a way as to set both off to advantage. Besides being an acrobat, Mr. Spaulding is a droll comedian—one of those actors who can make an audience laugh without looking at it. Miss Dupree has a well trained contralto voice, and her selections are up to the minute.

Handier than the dainties, is Miss Edna Davenport, the clever little comedienne, whose songs are the newest on the market and are sung by one who can get the audience's good feeling the minute she enters. Miss Davenport is considered to be one of the best female dancers in vaudeville, and with her singing numbers, graceful movements and pleasing style, vaudeville has a gem.

A big singing and comedy number will be Dave Lubin & company who will present the Southern playlet, "The Humming Coon." There are four people in the act and each one is a singer of quality, and some very funny comedy is introduced that is not overdone. The act has been a big success over the Eastern time the past season.

As an extra feature and one that is considered to be the foremost comedy acrobatic act of Europe, is Baptiste and Franconi, an act that came direct from Paris to the Hammerstein Roof in New York, where it appeared as a feature attraction for six weeks, and is now playing its first American tour in vaudeville, and making a big hit wherever it appears.

Harry Webb will sing illustrated his best song success, entitled, "My Way to Heaven is Through Your Love, Sweetheart." This song is a baritone ballad with a beautiful story.

The moving pictures will be the very newest subjects out, and will show some very funny comedy pictures. Matinees are given daily at 2:45 and night performances at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved by either telephone. The box office opens at 10 a. m. A special school children's matinee will be given Saturday at 2:30.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

BUSY SCENES AT THE PRODUCING CENTERS IN PREPARATION FOR THE OPENING OF THE SEASON—JOHN DREW'S NEW PLAY. ∴ ∴ ∴

New York, Aug. 21.—This is the time of the year when producing centers like New York and Chicago present a busy sight. Theaters and halls of every description are engaged for every moment of the day by theatrical organizations of every description from the first class dramatic company to the "repertoire," which will enlighten the communities generally referred to as one-nighters. It is the season of preparation, and will continue until well into September. Several important productions have already been ventured before the public, but they are mostly musical comedies. The next fortnight, however, will see many of the new things, and then the season will be on in earnest.

Among the important productions in the operetta field will be "The Love Cure," which Henry W. Savage has had adapted from the Viennese work known as "Kunigunde." It is expected to make the sensational hit of the season in its sphere. The rehearsals have been actively in progress for the past few weeks. After a brief tour of the neighboring cities New York will see it at the New Amsterdam theater on Aug. 30.

John Drew's new play, which is to be produced at the Empire theater next month, will be from the French. In its American version it will be known as "Innocent George." It is taken from the reigning success in Paris, "L'Ane du Buridan" (Buridan's Donkey), and is a delightful comedy. Marie Boland will continue as the leading lady with Drew, playing the role of Micheline.

Lillian Russell's new play will deal with Wall street. There is going to be a surfeit of Wall street plays during the coming winter, judging from the announcements already made. The fair Lillian is now on her way back to this country after a brief vacation in Europe, in order to begin rehearsals. The opening of the play is scheduled for the Liberty theater, in New York, on Sept. 13. The outlines of the play suggest its possibilities for the star. The comedy involves four brothers and a village belle. One brother marries the belle and comes to New York and Wall street and dies after being ruined in the street. Then the play begins. The three brothers keeping from the widow the fact that her husband was financially inundated, give her a fourth portion of all their profits, for they also have entered the Wall street field. The money is conveyed through an executor. All the while the brothers are striving for the widow's favor. She discovered that her husband had been unsuccessful in the street and blames the trio. They need a small stretch of railroad that had been left to her and that she has turned against them. They face financial ruin when she discovers things, and then the floor of the stock exchange is stirred as only a village belle such as Miss Russell could stir it.

Henrietta Crosman will stick to her play of last season for the coming months. "Sham" was tried somewhat late in the season and proved to be so entertaining that it will be continued during the coming year. Miss Crosman's tour will extend as far west as Denver, beginning toward the end of this month at Chicago.

One of the interesting bits which were floating around during the past week was to the effect that Florence Roberts was to marry Thurlow Bergen, who has been her leading man for some time past. Miss Roberts is the widow of Lewis Morrison. The announcement also carried with it the information that Miss Roberts was ill and that an operaton would be necessary. All of these are now unequivocally denied by Miss Roberts, including the impeachment referring to her betrothal to Bergen.

When Francis Wilson starts out in his new play, a comedy of his own, called "The Bachelor's Baby," one of the important roles will be in the care of Miss Adelaide Wilson, his daughter. Miss Wilson was seen last year with her father in "When Knights Were Bold."

Miss Cora Maynard, the authoress, has written a new play which the Shuberts will produce this fall. It is called "The Awakening," and under that title was first tried by the Shuberts at the Von Curler, Schenectady. Like "The Ringmaster," which the same company brought out earlier in the summer, the possibilities were so apparent that no time was lost in closing negotiations with the authoress for a New York hearing.

Miss Maynard has gone to the realms of the mystic for the foundation work of "The Awakening," and, as a result, has constructed a play which deals with a most vital, if slightly visionary subject. Augustus Thomas in "The Witching Hour" employed the principle of thought transference. If he did not succeed in establishing the truth of this belief, he at least turned out a dramatic success. The case of Miss Maynard, it is believed, will be a parallel one. She works on the perhaps universal hope that there is communication with the world, as we know it, and that nether portion, which is yet unexplored. The idea is hardly spiritualistic, although many who see the play will rejoice in witnessing a dignified exposition of their belief. There have been innumberable novels based on the presumption that the dead can exert influence through the living, but for some unaccountable reason, playwrights have carefully refrained from drawing from this rich field—rich, not only in imagination, but facts.

"The Awakening," of course, is far removed from the realm of table-rapping and other more or less manifestations of the charlatan. Miss Maynard tells the story with a marked degree of earnestness, at no time resorting to trickery or yielding to the temptation to employ any stage business, mechanism or devices which might visualise her efforts.

The Shuberts believe they have a capital find in "The Awakening."

William Norris, who forsook Shakespeare for musical comedy—making a distinct and lasting impression in "Babes in Toyland"—and who, later returned to the "legitimate," has decided to make another change of base. The Shuberts have offered him the leading role in "The King of Cadonia," one of the latest English musical pieces, and Mr. Norris has accepted. Sam Bernard had first choice on the comedy but preferred "The Wizard." Later it was reported that Richard Carle would be seen in "The King of Cadonia," and, of course, under the management of the Shuberts, who control the rights of the piece.

After many years of what she calls "knocking in vain at the stage doors of the metropolis," Miss Lauretta Taylor, who plays the emotional lead in "The Ringmaster," is at last charming Broadway by her refreshing manner and fine acting.

"After many seasons of stock in the West, I had nervous prostration," says Miss Taylor. "As that is always regarded as a sort of diploma for a leading woman, I considered my education finished and immediately went to New York. I was armed with letters and press notices and really thought New York was waiting for my coming. It took several months of 'making the rounds' to bring me to a realization of the true conditions. Therefore, after numerous heart-breaking, humiliating and sometimes laughable experiences, I went to Chicago where I played in 'The Devil' at the Fine Arts theater. Unfortunately, 'The Devil' slowly died from lack of funds and once more, not knowing why, I found myself in New York.

"Practically all of my training has been in stock, which I believe every actor realizes is about the best school. I have worked very hard, always hoping—secret of knowing—that I ultimately would be seen in a Broadway cast.

"When I first came with the Shuberts I was assigned to play the part of a wild girl of the woods in 'Yosemite,' but alas, the critics, while they praised my acting, gave so much attention to my bare feet and dress, which was made of leaves, that instead of fame, I achieved notoriety. However, I much prefer parts of this kind to those of modern characters. I wish I had had the opportunity of starring in the 'Return of Eve,' but that is another story."

The saying of the late Maurice Barrymore, in regard to the two Drews—John and Sidney—will have to be changed in view of the favorable impression made by "Billy" at Daly's theater, the new three-act farce in which Sidney Drew is starring himself. Mr. Barrymore, on one occasion, said: "The difference between John and Sidney is that John drew while Sidney didn't."

The Henry Wolfsohn musical bureau has booked a number of extensive concert tours for the artists under their management this coming season, which will also include a large number of New York recitals. Foremost in the list of attractions under the control of the Wolfsohn bureau is Mme. Schumann-Heink, who will inaugurate her season with a song recital at the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, on Sept. 29, and after her series of twenty concerts in the Middle West and Canada during the month of October, she will return East for her New York recital in Carnegie hall on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 6. Mme. Schumann-Heink will sing over 100 concerts between Oct. 1 and April 30, traveling from coast to coast, after which she will make a festival tour during the month of May. Mme. Schumann-Heink will appear in five Boston symphony concerts in December, and will also appear with the Theodore Thomas Chicago orchestra, the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra and the St. Paul symphony orchestra.

Fritz C. Kreisler, the eminent violinist, will return for an American tour, after an absence of two years, and will play eighty concerts during his season, opening his tour in his own recital at Carnegie hall on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 23, to be followed by concerts in Boston, Chicago and other points in the Middle West and East until the latter part of November, when he is booked for twenty concerts on the Pacific coast, returning East the middle of January.

Of unusual interest and importance will be the coming of Rachmaninoff, the distinguished Russian composer-pianist, and conductor, whose first American appearance will be in conjunction with the Boston Symphony orchestra in New York, Boston and several cities in the early part of November. He will also appear with the Theodore Thomas Chicago orchestra, the Philiadelphia orchestra, the New York symphony, and in his own Rachmaninoff recitals and chamber music concerts. In some of the orchestral concerts, Rachmaninoff will appear as soloist and conductor, playing one of his own concertos, and conducting on such occasions when one of his symphonies is produced. Of the many Rachmaninoff orchestral compositions, his second symphony in E minor opus 27, has been commented upon as being the most significant Russian composition since Tschaikowsky's sixth. As a pianist, Rachmaninoff has been acclaimed as a most extraordinary artist, while his skill as a conductor has won him renown as an interpreter of the old classics, as well as modern compositions, Richard Strauss, etc. Rachmaninoff's first New York recital will take place at Carnegie hall on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 20, the program of which will include his famous "preludes." Rachmaninoff will remain in America until the middle of January, but efforts are now being made to induce the great Russian to prolong his tour to the end of February.

Mischa Elman, the young Russian violinist who created such a sensation last season upon his first visit to our shores, will return for the months of January, February and March, opening his season with a tour of twelve concerts with the Boston Symphony orchestra, beginning Jan. 4. The Elman tour will not extend further west than Denver.

"I am going to retire from the stage," says Lulu Glaser, "before people will have the chance of saying when they see my name on the billboard: 'What? Is she coming again?' Her first step in this direction was to marry. And hereby may be found a solution of her difficulty—or rather her fear. "Mr. Glaser," as some of the Lambs refer to "him," is no other than Ralph Herz, the comedian. It would be an easy matter for Miss Glaser to "hyphenate" Herz after her name, so some say, thus preventing the dear public from remarking as above. But will Miss Glaser part with her trademark? Why not call Mr. Herz Ralph-Glaser? The Shuberts, who have both under contract, prefer the individual identity, and, as their agreement with Miss Glaser, and a most profitable one to all parties, has several more years to run it is safe to predict that the billboards will continue to emblazon the welcome name. This season it will be Lulu Glaser in "The Girl From the States."

Arrangements were completed this week for William Gillette's last season as an actor, and his first season as playwright-manager. The farewell tour will embrace the principal cities and will present Mr. Gillette in a repertoire of his successes, including "The Private Secretary," "Held by the Enemy," "Too Much Johnson," "Secret Service," "Clarice" and "Sherlock Holmes." After this year he will be associated with Charles Frohman as the manager of a theater in New York. Mr. Gillette is already at work on the first of a series of plays. He expects to write an American comedy drama which will have its premiere in Paris. This will be the first known instance of a play written by an American author being given first before a French audience, and marks another step in the American invasion of the French theater. If the play succeeds in French, it will be given in English in London and in New York.

Miss Amelia Bingham, whose success in "The Climbers" was followed by seasons of discouraging failure, hopes to regain her theatrical prestige by successes in London. She went to the Palace Music hall for a vaudeville act of "Great Moments" from plays that once caught on. London liked the great moments so well that Miss Bingham was asked to put on "A Modern Magdalen." Sir John Hare will perhaps return to the stage for an engagement in this play, out of compliment to Miss Bingham.

Harrison Grey Fiske's plans for the next two years involve the pleasant prospects of an American alliance with the best English actors. Lewis Waller is under contract to bring his own company for a six months' engagement in New York and the principal cities. Along with other plays he will give "Sir Walter Raleigh" and Conan Doyle's "The Fires of Fate." Mr. Fiske has arranged for the appearance of Mrs. Fiske in London in a joint starring venture with Beerbohm Tree, who is to come to America some time this year. The play they will give in London is now being written. Mrs. Fiske will open the season in New York with "Salvation Nell." New plays in Mr. Fiske's hands are a dramatization of "Septimus," a London success; "Pinkie and the Fairies," and "The Bridge," in which George Arless will be starred.

Mario Doro is back on Broadway presenting, for the second time, "The Morals of Marcus." The play fell flat the first time it was seen in New York, two years ago, although it came there after a highly successful Boston season. Now, when New York has only a week's preformance of it. Miss Doro is being enthusiastically received.

The Ben Greet players have finished their second week of al fresco performances of Shakespeare on the greensward at Columbia university, New York. The repertoire included "As You Like It," "Twelfth Night," "The Taming of the Shrew," "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "The Tempest." The greensward of Columbia is an ideal place for these performances, for, no matter how warm the weather, it is always cool and refreshing there, and the forest scenes of Shakespeare are never so real as when presented amid such surroundings. The attendance last week was very large.

Apropos of Mlle Genee's recent appearance as a dancer in a revival of "Robert the Devil," in London, the press of tha capital has teemed with reminiscences. One subject treated was the change in the style of dancing shoes since the days of Taglioni and her rivals, as well as the difference in costuming the dancers. It is recalled that the censor of the old days at first refused to license "Robert the Devil," but his scruples finally were overcome. A memorable appearance in the opera was made by Jenny Lind. The desire to see her was so great that the Haymarket became so jammed with carriages that traffic was for a time impossible. Taglioni, Grisi, Cerito and Grahn, all famous dancers of the period, agreed to appear in the opera together. This attraction put up the prices for places amazingly. But there was a hitch in the vent. Before the curtain rose these famous dancers engaged in a dispute as to precedence. The matter was serious, and it promised unhappy results. But Lumly, the manager, was equal to the occasion. Appearing before the four who were quarreling as to their respective merits and rights, he suggested that the oldest of the quartet should have first place. Peace settled on the scene and there were no further demands as to priority.

Nell, or Mabel Taliaferro, or Mrs. Frederic Thompson, as you please, is receiving many congratulations on the coming celebration of her five thousandth theatrical performance. This young woman, once one of Chauncey Olcott's stage children, is only 22 years old, but she has been on the stage since she was 2 years old. In all her career she has played principal parts. She has appeared in Australia, England and Ireland, besides making twenty-six round trips of the United States. Her principal successes have been in "The Children of the Ghetto," "You Can Never Tell," "On the Quiet" and "Polly of the Circus."

BUSY SCENES AT THE PRODUCING CENTERS IN PREPARATION FOR THE OPENING OF THE SEASON—JOHN DREW'S NEW PLAY.

New York, Aug. 21.—This is the time of the year when producing centers like New York and Chicago present a busy sight. [illegible]

but they are mostly musical comedies. The next fortnight, however, will see many of the new things and then the season will be on in earnest.

Among the important productions in the operetta field will be "The Love Cure," which Henry W. Savage has had adapted from the Viennese work known as "Kuenstlerblut." It is expected to make the sensational hit of the season in its sphere. The rehearsals have been actively in progress for the past few weeks. After a brief tour of the neighboring cities New York will see it at the New Amsterdam theater on Aug. 30.

John Drew's new play, which is to be produced at the Empire theater next month will be from the French. In its American version it will be known as "Innocent George." It is taken from the reigning success in Paris, "L'Ane du Buridan" (Buridan's Donkey), and is a delightful comedy. Marie Roland will continue as the leading lady with Drew, playing the role of Micheline.

Miss Amelia Bingham, whose success in "The Climbers" was followed by seasons of discouraging failure, hopes to regain her theatrical prestige by successes in London. She went to the Palace Music hall for a vaudeville act of "Great Moments" from plays that once caught on. London liked the great moments so well that Miss Bingham was asked to put on "A Modern Magdalen." Sir John Hare will perhaps return to the stage for an engagement in this play out of compliment to Miss Bingham.

Harrison Grey Fiske's plans for the next two years involve the pleasant prospects of an American alliance with the best English actors. Lewis Waller is under contract to bring his own company for a six months' engagement in New York and the principal cities. Along with other plays he will give "Sir Walter Raleigh" and Conan Doyle's "The Fires of Fate." Mr. Fiske has arranged for the appearance of Mrs. Fiske in London in a joint starring venture with Beerbohm Tree, who is to come to America some time this year. The play they will give in London is now being written. Mrs. Fiske will open the season in New York with "Salvation Nell." New plays in Mr. Fiske's hands are a dramatization of "Septimus," a London success, "Pinkie and the Fairies," and "The Bridge," in which George Arliss will be starred.

Mario Doro is back on Broadway presenting, for the second time, "The Morals of Marcus." The play fell flat the first time it was seen in New York, two years ago, although it came there after a highly successful Boston season. Now, when New York has only a week's performance of it, Miss Doro is being enthusiastically received.

The Ben Greet players have finished their second week of al fresco performances of Shakespeare on the greensward at Columbia university, New York. The repertoire included "As You Like It," "Twelfth Night," "The Taming of the Shrew," "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "The Tempest." The greensward of Columbia is an ideal place for these performances, for, no matter how warm the weather, it is always cool and refreshing there and the forest scenes of Shakespeare are never so real as when presented amid such surroundings. The attendance last week was very large.

Apropos of M'lle Genee's recent appearance as a dancer in a revival of "Robert the Devil," in London, the press of the capital has teemed with reminiscences. One subject treated was the change in the style of dancing since the days of Taglioni and her rivals as well as the difference in costuming the dancers. It is recalled that the censor of the old days at first refused to license "Robert the Devil," but his scruples finally were overcome. A memorable appearance in the opera was made by Jenny Lind. The desire to see her was so great that the Haymarket became so jammed with carriages that traffic was for a time impossible. Taglioni, Grisi, Cerito and Grahn, all famous dancers of the period, agreed to appear in the opera together. This attraction put up the prices for places amazingly. But there was a hitch in the event. Before the curtain rose these famous dancers engaged in a dispute as to precedence. The matter was serious, and it promised unhappy results. But Lumly, the manager was equal to the occasion. Appearing before the four who were quarreling as to their respective merits and rights, he suggested that the oldest of the quartet should have first place. Peace settled on the scene and there were no further demands as to priority.

Nell or Mabel Taliaferro, or Mrs. Frederic Thompson, as you please, is receiving many congratulations on the coming celebration of her five thousandth theatrical performance. This young woman, once one of Chauncey Olcott's stage children, is only 22 years old, but she has been on the stage since she was 2 years old. In all her career she has played principal parts. She has appeared in Australia, England and Ireland, besides making twenty-six round trips of the United States. Her principal successes have been in "The Children of the Ghetto," "You Can Never Tell," "On the Quiet" and "Polly of the Circus."

SCENES AND CHARACTERS FROM WRIGHT LORIMERS "THE SHEPHERD KING"

MICAL

Probably the most stupendous and massive production, outside of "Ben Hur," that will visit the West and South this season is Wright Lorimer, in "The Shepherd King," shortly to be seen in this city. A few years ago a production of this magnitude was practically impossible for a traveling organization, but, thanks to the energy of Klaw & Erlanger, by whose efforts most of the stages have been reconstructed and remodeled, a scenic spectacle of the order of "The Shepherd King" is entirely possible. Wright Lorimer has presented his beautiful and impressive play in every city of note in the east for the past six seasons, but his present tour embraces the East for the first time. The management of William A. Brady is a guarantee of the intrinsic merit and artistic worth of "The Shepherd King,' and it is promised that the forthcoming production is on the same high level with such attractions as Grace George, "The Man of the Hour," Robert Mantell, Louis Mann, "The Gentleman from Mississippi" and all other attractions controlled and owned by Mr. Brady.

SCENE FROM "THE SHEPHERD KING"

WRIGHT LORIMER AS DAVID

MERAB.

THE DANCING GIRL

Persons who expect to find a strong religious interest in Wright Lorimer's "The Shepherd King" are doomed to disappointment. The story of the play has a Biblical foundation, but the play itself is in no sense a religious play. It is a big melodrama, using that much abused word in its better sense. Use is made of the familiar stories of the affection existing between David and Jonathan, of the slaying of Goliath and of the affection existing between David and Michael, the younger daughter of Saul.

"The Shepherd King" has numerous spectacular features. The production is one of the most massive in this country. There is a great scene showing the barbaric beauty of the interior of the palace of Saul. Another big scene shows Saul's camp in the vale of Elah.

Each scene is invested with a positive luxuriance of color and design. Every shade of a changing sunset and landscape view, the shimmer of running streams and the rich foliage and low stooping olive trees, the depths of dark forests and the glory of mountain peaks—all these are produced as by a wizard's touch in "The Shepherd King."

A very attractive ballet, representing the dancing daughters of Israel, is introduced in the third act of the play, and there is also a splendid color about this Oriental dancing and a grace of movement which is difficult to adequately describe. The costumes worn by the ballet are most attractive and give a splendid idea of the costumes worn by the women of Israel in the days when Saul was a monarch.

In these days of commercial progress there is, in all likelihood, no branch of industry which shows such a revolution of method and material advancement as the amusement business. Time was when the thespian traveled about the country in caravans, or barnstormed in actual reality, being regarded by the social structure as a kind of pariah, and regarded by them as a curio ity, in much the same manner as they might a lion or a sacred bull. From the theatrical enterprise requiring at the utmost $300 or $400 the business has grown and expanded until at the present day many theatrical productions require an investment of capital which would run a very large manufacturing plant or build a modern steamship. The amount of capital invested by the large theatrical firms is almost beyond the comprehension of the uninitiated. The business of these firms is conducted with an exactitude and upon a system that is the envy of the largest and most powerful corporations in this country. They give employment at more than fair salaries to thousands of employes, and they keep the wheels of industry turning in many branches of trade. As an example of this, take the attraction of "The Shepherd King."

To be exact, "The Shepherd King" gives employment directly to ninety people. This does not take into consideration the employes of the theater where the attraction is playing. To transport "The Shepherd King" company, its scenery, properties and costumes requires three cars. Upwards of $75,000 has been invested in the equipment, and the pay roll exceeds $3,000 weekly. All the work is done, and well done, by a system, and to make the books balance a tremendous business must be done at the box office.

PARDEE IS BITTER CRITIC

Arraigns Secretary Ballinger for Course Regarding Water Powers.

Former Governor of California Gives Out Scathing Statement.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 21.—"Corporate interests back of Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, seized upon every opportunity at the seventeenth session of the national irrigation congress at Spokane, Aug. 9 to 14, to cast aside the Roosevelt policies, the avowed purpose being to gain control of the water power of the country, but the congress was firm and thwarted every effort made, with the result that railroad and corporation lawyers and their friends were utterly routed. I look upon this as a signal victory for Frederick H. Newell, director of the reclamation service, and Gifford Pinchot, chief forester."

Dr. George C. Pardee of Oakland, former governor of California, who is looked upon as one of the foremost exponents of irrigation in the United States, said this among other things in discussing the difference between the policies of the former president and Secretary Ballinger. He added:

"If the reclamation policy of ex-President Roosevelt is carried out, the control of the electrical energy produced by water power in fifty years from now will belong to the common people, but if the policy inaugurated by Secretary Ballinger be adopted, that control will belong to the great corporations of this country.

"Away From Roosevelt."

"President Taft told me that he desired to continue the Roosevelt reclamation policies, yet one of Mr. Ballinger's very first acts was to throw open to public entry 1,000,000 acres of land which had been retained by Secretary Garfield for power sites and dam foundations. He did this secretly, too, without giving any official notice of the act, although it had been the practice under Secretary Garfield to give sixty days' notice of any such opening. As soon as President Taft realized what had been done he ordered the land to be taken back by the government and that no more land be thrown open to entry except by orders given by himself.

"Before President Taft could act the damage had been done, as all the available power and damsites had been taken by corporations through their 'dummies,' and only those tracts which are worthless for power sites were left.

"Headed Off by Taft."

"Since it was given out by President Taft that no more land be returned to public entry except by his order, Secretary Ballinger has done no official act which can be said to be a reversal of the Roosevelt policies. No new projects have been approved by him, the plans for an immense dam in the Grand river valley in California, approved by Mr. Garfield before his retirement from office, have been withheld by Secretary Ballinger.

"The policy of the new secretary is one of hedging and inaction. He is said to have the support of the cabinet at Washington, with the exception of Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, who is an ardent supporter of the Roosevelt policies, and President Taft."

STEALS GOLD BY BEING SPLASHED

Mint Employe is Arrested For Thefts in Plant At Denver.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 21.—Charged with one of the rarest offenses committed against the government—that of abstracting gold from a mint—Charles Dakin, a trusted employe of the mint at Denver, Colo., has been arrested in this city. He is said to have confessed.

Dakin had been employed as a smelter in the Denver mint for four years, previous to taking a month's leave of absence last June. Failing to report for duty at the end of the vacation period an investigation was started. He was located here, and further inquiry disclosed that he had sold $600 worth of refined gold here.

A method was discovered by which an employed allowed the metal while melted to splash on his clothing while at work in the mint, and then scrape it off and keep it for his own use.

Dakin has a wife and children at Denver.

ABDUL HANKERS TO GO A-FISHING

Turkish Government Decides His Wish Cannot Be Granted.

Vienna, Aug. 21.—Word comes from Salonika that ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid has applied to the Turkish government for permission to fish in the sea, from which the garden of the villa Alatini is separated by a high wall.

Abdul Hamid was always a great fisherman, and angled regularly in the Bosphorus from the garden of Yildiz Kiosk.

The Turkish government, however, is said to be afraid that the ex-sultan's friends might make an attempt to carry him off in a boat, if his request were granted.

LINCOLN WAS FARSEEING.

Discussed Labor Problem at Wisconsin State Fair Fifty Years Ago.

Milwaukee, Wis. Aug. 20.—The coming Wisconsin state fair, at which President W. H. Taft will appear, Sept. 17, and deliver an address, will be just half a century from the visit to this fair by Abraham Lincoln, in 1859, when he, fresh from the Lincoln-Douglas debates, delivered an address before a small crowd. In that address Mr. Lincoln, then a struggling young lawyer at Springfield, Ill., seemed to have had a prophetic vision of the great labor questions of the future, and in the course of his address, according to the report made in a newspaper at the time, he said upon this subject:

"By some it is assumed that labor is available only in connection with capital; that nobody labors unless somebody else owning capital, somehow by the use of it, induces him to do it. The prudent, penniless beginner in the world, labors for wages awhile, saves a surplus with which to buy tools or land for himself; then labors on his own account and at length hires another new beginner to help him. This, say the advocates, is free labor—the just and the generous and prosperous system which opens the way for all and gives hope to all, and energy and progress and improvement of conditions to all.

"If any continue through life in the condition of the hired laborer, it is not the fault of the system, but because of either dependent nature, which prefers it, or improvidence, or folly or singular misfortune."

Thus did the great emancipator disclaim, fifty years ago in Milwaukee, upon the labor question, evidently one of concern at that day.

SCHURZ MEMORIAL PLANS PROGRESS

New Yorkers Are Giving Freely Toward Fund Being Raised.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 21.—The New York branch alone of the Carl Schurz Memorial Park association has raised more than enough already to purchase the old Schurz homestead in Watertown, Wis., which the association intends to give to the nation as a memorial park.

Ernest A. Kehr, the Wisconsin committeeman of the association, has returned from New York, where he conferred with members and officers of the association. He said that the New York branch intended to raise $10,000 to purchase the homestead and renovate the house in which Mr. Schurz lived. The branches of the association in other states are going to raise a fund large enough to provide for the maintenance of the property.

The property consists of about nine or ten acres of land and the home in which Mr. Schurz lived. It was sold a year ago to John I. Beggs, president of the street railway company, for $3,500, and he has offered it for the same price to the association. Mr. Kehr said that the project was attracting the attention of the most prominent men in the country. The work in New York of raising funds is, according to Mr. Kehr, being supported by such men as Former Senator John C. Spooner, Edward Boenlmann, Gilbert Roe and Bernhard Heyn, all well known former Wisconsin men.

HAS GUN ON HAY RAKE.

Weapon Goes Off and Youthful Hayraker Is Killed.

Oxford, N. D., Aug. 20.—William, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, living near here in Towner county, was killed by a shotgun in a hay field.

He was raking hay and had gone to the house for lunch in the middle of the afternoon and upon returning to the field he carried a gun upon the hayrake. He had not been back to work long before the gun was accidentally discharged, the charge entering the right side and literally disemboweling him.

He was alone in the field, but Robert Kennedy was working a short distance away and Willie immediately drove there for assistance, holding himself on the rake by the power of his will until he got there, when he collapsed.

NEW STYLE LOCOMOTIVE

Is Being Tried By Great Northern on Iron Ore Trains.

Brookston, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern has been trying a new style of locomotive in the ore service during the past week. It is what is called a superheater, and the experimenting is being done with an engine of the 1,100-class. Great things are expected from this new style engine, as less coal is used and a much better hauling power is obtained. The exhaust steam is used for heating the boiler before the steam escapes into the air and in this way about 20 per cent more hauling power is obtained.

Fat Men Winners.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A baseball game Wednesday between the fat men of the city and the traveling men, who make this city their headquarters, resulted in a victory for the fats by a score of 11 to 9. The proceeds amounting to some $75, was for the benefit of the city band. A game for the same purpose a couple of weeks ago between the fat and lean men of the city, netted the band $154.

MEN BREAK WITH STRIKE LEADERS

Swedish Extremists Are Trying to Fan Flame of Revolution.

Stockholm, Aug. 21.—The hold of the strike leaders on their men, who have been out on strike since the beginning of this month, is weakening daily and the increasing numbers who are giving up indicate that the workers are tiring of the struggle. From 9,000 to 10,000 men, according to the official figures, have resumed work during the last day or two, while the entire union composed of non-Socialists, known as the Svenska Abetareforbund, has thrown down the gauntlet to the federation of labor and announced the intention of its members to return to work Aug. 23.

Embittered by their ill-success, the extreme Socialists are indulging in incendiary language. Charles Lindley, a Socialist member of the Riksdag, addressing a strike meeting, declared that if troops were used against the strikers the first shot fired might be the harbinger of a movement that possibly would become a revolution and precipitate the overthrow of the monarchy.

JAPANESE REACH DULUTH SEPT. 18

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to the official itinerary of the Japanese commercial commission, which will arrive in Seattle Sept. 3 to tour through twenty-four states of this country, the commission will arrive in Duluth on Sept. 18.

The commission was appointed by authority of the Japanese government, and received a special commission from the mikado to express to the American people and government the friendship of Japan for the United States.

BROOKSTON SCHOOL CONTRACT AWARDED.

Brookston, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. T. Larson of this village has been awarded the contract for the erection of the new school building which is being put up by the county board of education. Mr. Larson has a crew of men at work putting in the foundation, and the work will be rushed, as the contract calls for the completion of the structure by Oct. 15. The cost of the schoolhouse will be about $1,000.

FROM THE MINES AND THE SMELTERS

OPTION ON DRAGOONS GROUP

Charles Purdon, Formerly of Duluth, Secures Claims for Colorado Parties---New Find is Made in the Sulphur Spring Valley.

Tombstone, Ariz., Aug. 21.—County Auditor Charles Purdon, formerly of Duluth, has entered the mining field and with James Hart of this city has taken an option for two years on the Abril-Herrera group of claims in the Dragoon mountains for the sum of $30,000. The option calls sixty days and at least four men to be kept at work in the shaft during the life of the bond.

The claims in question are a group of six in what is called Slavin gulch in the Dragoons, a few miles from Middle Pass, on this side of the mountain. They have been held by Frank Abril and others for a number of years, who have done considerable development work on them. Most of the work has been done by means of tunnels and as yet no great depth has been obtained, but the surface indications are all that could be asked for. Most of the ore occurs in the sulphide form and a number of bodies of this class ore have been encountered in the work that has been done on the various claims. During the past week a small body of oxide or carbonate ore was uncovered in one of the crosscuts being run in one of the claims.

It is understood that Messrs. Purdon and Hart only secured the option for Colorado parties, who are expected to arrive here within the next few days to begin work on the property. They have already had experts make a report on the property, and so far they have all been favorable impressed with the development.

John Pearce, the original discoverer of the famous Pearce mine, is in the city for a few days from his new find in the Sulphur spring valley. He has located a group of several claims in the heart of that valley that promises to net him some excellent returns. The claims are located between the west wells of the Chiricahau Cattle company's ranch and what is called the "Aermotor" windmill. Here in a very low range of hills Mr. Pearce has opened up a very promising prospect. Recent assays from the bottom of the shaft of the claims, where a four-foot ledge has been uncovered, gave return of 20 per cent copper and $14 per ton in gold. Mr. Pearce took out several tons of this class of ore and will soon make a shipment to the El Paso smelters. The haul from the property to the railroad is but a few miles in the vicinity of Kelton.

Mr. Pearce had the samples of his ore assayed in Pearce and so favorably impressed were the employes of the Commonwealth company with the returns that they, in behalf of themselves and Messrs. Smith and Swatling, the present lessees of the Commonwealth property, have located a number of claims adjoining those of Mr. Pearce.

NEW WORKINGS AT NATIONAL

Have Reached Depth of 110 Feet and Ground Highly Mineralized---Arizona-Michigan Shaft Down to the 500 Level.

Globe, Ariz., Aug. 21.—A gang of men has been at work at the Iron Cap workings of the National Mining Exploration company, installing a new air compressor, which will be used to operate the drills in the Williams shaft.

The new compressor has a capacity of 800 cubic feet of air per minute and will be large enough to operate the drills at the Williams shaft. The work of installing the machinery is progressing rapidly and it should be in working order by the first of the week.

Within the past few days, an extra shift has been put to work in the new shaft, which is now down to a depth of 110 feet. This work has been done in about three months, operations being necessarily slow, as only one shift was employed until the recent addition was made.

While it is not expected that the ore body will be encountered until a depth of at least 500 feet has been reached, the showing at the present time is very satisfactory.

The shaft is in rock running high in iron with a trace of silver. Two assays showed 23 and 26 per cent of iron. The presence of this metal shows that the formation is highly mineralized and Manager F. A. Woodward is confident that copper will replace the iron, when the proper depth is reached.

The Telfair shaft of the Arizona-Michigan company is down to a depth of 500 feet and the work of crosscutting on this level, both north and south, has been commenced.

According to Supt. N. A Nelson the crosscuts are both in diorites of practically the same nature as those which were encountered in the shaft. This work is very hard and as a result, progress by means of hand drills is slow on both crosscuts. This work has progressed about twenty-five feet each way.

On the south crosscut it is figured that the ore body will be encountered within less than 100 feet. On the opposite working, it is thought that it will be necessary to drive the crosscut between 200 and 300 feet before any important developments appear.

In the sinking of the Telfair shaft and the subsequent work, the Arizona-Michigan has been very fortunate in the fact that no water has been encountered. It has not been necessary to use pumps either in the shaft or in the crosscut which has been started.

OLD WICKES MINES OPENING

Blue Bird is Steady Producer, With Regular Shipments---Work on Old Alta---"Crowley Camp" Busiest Locality in the District.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 21.—Butte men returning from Wickes report increasing activity among the old mines of that district. Wickes and Corbin are really in the same district. Resumption of work at the old Alta mine has put a lot of new life into Wickes. The town itself consists of a general mercantile store, one confectionery store, four saloons, a livery stable, several lodging houses and a number of residences.

Manager Titus is engaged in preliminaries for the resumption of development work at the Alta. The gallows from the Hope mine is being transferred to the Alta, and a shaft will be sunk at No 8 tunnel on one of the most promising veins. The old Bullion compressor is being taken from the mine above Basin and will be set up at the Alta.

The Blue Bird mine, a mile north of Wickes, has been a regular producer for some time, several cars of ore being shipped each week. Only a few miners are employed there at present, but it is understood that new machinery is to be added and the capacity of the plant increased. The Blue Bird is about the only shipper at present about Wickes.

The Minnesota, owned by a Butte and Michigan company, is situated near the Blue Bird and on the same vein. The company is making plans for increasing development work.

A. H. S. Bird has four men at work on the Bird-McCormick group of claims, lying about midway between the towns of Wickes and Corbin. He has found sulphide ores identical with those of the Butte district, and is opening ore bodies of commercial quantities. Mr. Bird has spent a fortune in developing the district, and was practically the pioneer copper prospector there.

The Corbin Copper company, known locally as the "Crowley camp," is employing more men than any other company in the Wickes or Corbin districts. The company is carrying on extensive development work and has opened several fine veins.

THE CHINO COPPER COMPANY

A. Chester Beatty Brings New Ore Estimates Covering Improvements on Showing Which Property is Making---Experiment Mill Almost Ready.

New York, Aug. 21.—A. Chester Beatty, the well-known mining engineer, returned from New Mexico last week, having spent a considerable part of his time going over the properties of the Chino Copper company in that territory, says the Mining Age. Mr. Beatty is satisfied from the nature and character of all the experimental work done to date that the property is going to open up very satisfactorily. The company has now eight drills at work, and steps have been taken to complete the erection of the sampling and experimental mill, which is to become a part of the property's preliminary equipment. This plant will have a capacity of about seventy tons a day and will give the engineers an idea how to handle the ores and data upon which to erect a large plant.

A portion of the company's workings are destined to be of the shovel proposition kind with the regulation open cut workings. In another portion of the property the capping is less than twenty feet thick.

Speaking about the property on Thursday, Mr. Beatty said that they could reasonably account for 6,000,000 tons of ore on the present showings, which would average 2.40 per cent of copper, of which about two-thirds could be considered in sight.

The most peculiar feature about the ores of the Chino company as developed to date is the fact that they practically contain a combination of all the ores heretofore encountered in all of the so-called low-grade porphyry mines in the United States. In some parts of the property the ores are finely disseminated, while in others the ore is present in the seams and fractures cutting through the rock and in other parts of the property the ore shows largely in the shape of high grade native copper.

The contract on this property makes in the form of a horseshoe, and it is along these workings that all of the future exploration work is to be accomplished. The deposit as proved to date varies in thickness from 200 to 400 feet, and in some of the workings the ore has been proved 400 feet deeper from where the former company ceased work.

ALL BUTTE MINES WORKING

For the First Time in a Year All Companies Are Operating at Capacity—Renewed Confidence in North Butte--New Strike on the Anaconda Property.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in a year all of the Butte mining companies are again operating to full capacity. The district is producing copper at the rate of 28,000,000 to 30,000,000 pounds per year. Perhaps the North Butte company alone is not producing up to its normal record, but it is not far behind. The Butte Coalition company is mining more ore at present than at any time in its history, its rate of production being very near 37,000,000 pounds per year. The increasing production can be accounted for only on the theory that the directors of the Amalgamated and Cole-Ryan companies have a great and abiding faith in the near future of the copper market and a big revival of business all over the world. The high rate of production, and apparently gradual increase, is in the face of a statement recently made by an officer of one of the big producing and selling companies that, in his opinion, there was nearer 500,000,000 pounds of copper available for the market than 300,000,000 pounds, as has been estimated. His confidence, however, was based on the fact, as he estimated, that consumption was now very nearly equal to production, and that the demand had not yet nearly reached a point that he considers normal, even under present conditions in business. He therefore contended that the time was approaching when the mines again would be pressed to supply the demand. "How soon this condition will be upon us is hard to say," said the official quoted, "but it is coming, and every big producer and seller of copper realizes it. Recovery has been much slower than some of us anticipated, but the strength and the gradually growing improvement have long been a criterion that has governed the operators. The big copper stocks are in the hands of safe speculators and will be fed to the market only as it is demanded. There is no chance for a break in the present prices of the metal, and the men who have had confidence in the return of prosperity and the permanency and stability of the copper industry will profit by it, for expect to see copper sell again at 16 to 18 cents per pound, and this in spite of the many new producers that are coming into the field and the steam shovel methods of mining in some of the new districts. During the recent panic and depression we heard much about copper becoming as cheap as iron today, but none of us will live to see it."

Butte Coalition.

With the opening of the seventeenth level of the Butte Coalition in the Tramway and Minnie Healey mines, the company will be in position to mine fully 3,000 tons of ore per day. The output has been slowly but constantly increasing for a year, and is now about 1,600 tons per day. No effort has yet been made to push production, but if the demand for copper ever justifies it the company will be in position to double its present production. No property in the Butte district—not even excepting the North Butte—has inspired so much faith and confidence in the people of Butte as has Butte Coalition, and that company has more stockholders in Butte than any other company operating in the district. But they are all looking forward to the coming of the time when the directors, as one of them has been quoted, will be able to pay a substantial dividend and keep up the payments with some degree of certainty.

The payment of another quarterly dividend of $1 on North Butte, in the face of rumors that the dividend would be cut or passed altogether, has renewed public confidence in North Butte, although such was never lacking among the people of Butte and the stockholders of the company here. Thomas F. Cole said the people who were selling North Butte during the bear raids on the stock would live to regret it, and the facts that are coming from the property are gradually bringing the people to believe it. The acquisition of the controlling interest in the Granite Mountain mine by the North Butte company, without the payment of any cash, is a very material asset to the company. Three levels of the company between the Edith May and Jessie mines extend through the Granite Mountain, and the ownership of the property gives the company undisputed passage through it. It also gives to the company another vein or ledge that may develop ore, though at present none has been uncovered. But, greatest of all, it will give the company another working shaft, which will be in commission by the first of the year, and it will enable the North Butte, if advisable by that time, to double its output and copper production. AT THE LAKE COPPER MINES

Assessment By Hancock Consolidated—Franklin Finds Commercial Copper Below Twentieth Level—Good Showing at Ojibway—Second Shaft On Lake Property—Diamond Drilling On the Arcadian.

Houghton, Mich., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—An assessment of $2 per share, payable in two installments, has been called by the directors of the Hancock Consolidated Mining company to meet the cost of further opening up and developing the property. The No. 2 vertical shaft, which is sinking at considerable expense to tap the several lodes traversing the company's lands, has attained a depth of about 1,800 feet and should reach the first of these lodes about the first of the year. A crosscut driving eastward at the eighteenth level in the No. 2 shaft is expected to tap this lode at that depth at about the same time that the lode is encountered in the shaft. This lode, designated as the No. 3 Hancock lode, has been opened at several levels by drifts and a winze in the No. 1 incline shaft, and reveals first-class copper ground at nearly all points of attack, a poor stretch of ground opened in one of the south drifts recently giving way to ground of commercial value in which the drift is now breasted. The company has succeeded in securing a right-of-way for a railroad from the mine to the recently acquired mill site. It is not likely that the construction of the new stamp mill will begin for another year.

Franklin.

Franklin has suspended operations in the No. 2 conglomerate shaft, as also in the Rhode Island shaft on the Pewabic lode, and is directing all energies toward opening work in the Franklin property. This information on the Junior property. This lode was recently tapped by a short crosscut at the twenty-sixth level in the No. 1 Pewabic shaft and so far as opened reveals good stamp rock. Although the ground opened at this point is possibly not as rich as that opened at several other points on the next half dozen levels immediately above, it is yet richer than developed in the very upper levels and seemingly indicates that the development of commercial copper ground from the twentieth level downward is very encouraging in either direction from the shaft, and though some exceptionally rich stretches are noted the ground generally continues variable with occasional stretches of lean, and in spots barren ground alternating with the more frequent stretches of stoping ground.

Ojibway.

Ojibway continues to secure further good showings with every additional foot of drifting done at the 800-level, and ground that apparently has the makings of a mine is being developed at that depth in both shafts. The No. 2 shaft has reached the 1,100-level, at which depth it will probably remain temporarily bottomed during the period of increased activity in the horizontal openings. The No. 1 shaft has a few feet more to go to reach equal depth. The creation of lateral openings for the present is confined to the 800-level in both shafts. There is some talk of making shipments of rock to be treated by their own mill for treatment, but such plans have not been definitely decided upon. If shipments are made, it will be to save rehandling from a stockpile and not with a view to steady production at this time.

New Baltic.

The New Baltic Exploration company is meeting with difficulties in getting its No. 2 sandpipe down to bed rock in consequence of which no drilling has been done for more than two months past. The sandpipe sinking at an angle of 45 degs. has attained a depth of between sixty and seventy feet and apparently is bottomed near the ledge. Some very favorable indications of mineralization were had in the trenching done on this property, but aside from this nothing of importance has developed, a drill hole put down to a depth of 312 feet several months ago apparently having passed outside the mineral zone at this point.

Lake.

Lake is about to begin diamond drilling to determine the strike of the Lake lode northward with a view to sinking a second shaft thereon. The new shaft will probably be located approximately 2,000 feet north of the single shaft now in operation on this property or about midway between the boundaries measuring along the presumed strike of the Lake formation. Operations in the mine continue productive of good results, and though some of the statements concerning the newer developments are rather sensational there is no denying that the general average of the ground so far being opened is exceptionally rich and at times a showing such as is noted at the present time at the fourth level is had that truly eclipses other showings in any individual obtained in recent years. The ground, however, is variable and the occasional stretches of poor and in spots entirely barren ground here as in other mines are most disappointing by their absence. The shaft has attained a depth of 750 feet at which depth a plat is being cut and the fifth level will be established. No copper is showing in the bottom of the shaft which is still sinking in trap rock and a short crosscut of possibly twenty feet will be necessary to reach the lode. The copper shute opened at the third and fourth levels is expected to come in at a distance of around fifty feet from the shaft.

Arcadian.

Arcadian has begun diamond drill operations, with one drill outfit in service. A second machine will go into commission next week. The work is being conducted in the presumed hori-

LAKE SUPERIOR IRON MINES

Ore Shipments Upsetting the Most Optimistic Calculations Made Earlier in Season—Two Docks Break Records—Shortage of Cars in Copper Country—New Towns Growing.

Ore is now going out from the Lake Superior iron region at such a rapid rate that calculations of earlier in the season have been upset entirely. So great a volume of shipments was hardly looked for by the most liberal among the authorities qualified to pass opinion. At no time even in the banner year of 1907 was the outgo from the mines as heavy as it is at present. The best monthly rate attained fell under 7,000,000 tons. The present month, there is every indication, the 7,000,000-ton mark will not only be reached, but it will be eclipsed to the extent of several hundred thousand tons. Already two dock systems—those of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern at Duluth and the Great Northern at Superior—have surpassed their record-breaking achievements registered at this time two years ago, and it begins to look as though the unprecedented production credited to the region in 1907, when 42,000,000 tons were shipped, would be cast into the shade.

The close of August will find the aggregate outgo for the season in the neighborhood of 23,000,000 tons. There is every likelihood that the shipments for the balance of the year will approximate 20,000,000 tons, and as this would be at the rate of less than 6,000,000 monthly for the three and one-half months remaining, it does not seem extravagant at this time to prophesy that more ore will leave the Lake Superior country this year than ever before. Practically all of the big future exploration work is to be accomplished. The deposit as proved to date varies in thickness from 200 to 400 feet, and in some of the workings the ore has been proved 400 feet deeper from where the former company ceased work.

Shortage of Cars.

Consonant with the rush of ore to the lake ports, there is complaint of scarcity of cars. This is particularly the case on the Marquette range, where it is estimated that were ample rolling stock available the shipments would show an increase of 25 per cent over the present volume. In this district the Chicago & Northwestern railway, Lake Superior & Ishpeming, and Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic are employing fifteen crews of switchmen in the yards at Ishpeming and Negaunee. These crews also take care of the shipments from the Cascade district, the American, Portland, Imperial and Ohion properties, west of Michigamme; the Baron, at Humboldt, and the Republic mine. In addition, there is much ore going forward from the Swanzey district and some from the Champion.

All of the steam shovels on the Marquette range have been in operation for some time past. When there is a lack of cars, the shovel work is suspended and the cars are used for pocket shipments. There are a number of good-sized stockpiles, but if cars were to be had as needed there would be very little ore left above the ground by Dec. 1. A sufficient number of cars are available to keep the pockets of all the mines supplied so that no ore is being dumped on the stockpiles at this time. The average shipment from the American mine is a trainload a day, while the combined shipments from the three mines at Michigamme are between two and three carloads daily. The Portland, at which the ore is being mined by steam shovel, recently joined the shipping list and the tonnage from there is increasing steadily. It is expected that the season's outgo will be upwards of 100,000 tons, providing cars can be supplied. The shipments from the Republic and other mines in the western portion of the range are now heavier than at any previous time in their history.

The Breitung company is not shipping as heavily from the Baron mine as the railroad men expected, but this is because a considerable amount of surface improvement and underground development work is being done. The Baron is increasing its force to 150 men, however, and will gradually enlarge production. At its Mary Charlotte mine at Negaunee, the Breitung company is adding 150 men to the payroll. This will increase the force to more than 400 men. Additional orders for ore are the reason for this step. Still another indication of the greatly improved conditions in the mining region is the action of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company in putting its Lake mine at Ishpeming on double shift. This means employment for 200 additional men, and they are being taken on as rapidly as they can be procured. The combined force will aggregate 450 men. The Lake is one of the biggest of the Cleveland Cliffs company's properties. It had been wrought on donut shift regularly until a year ago last December, when because of the depressed state of the iron market it became necessary to discontinue one shift, at which time the neighborhood of 200 men were thrown out of work. Most of those laid off were foreigners, who at once left for their native countries. While there is a large stockpile at the Lake the steam shovels are making big holes in it, and in all probability the greater portion of it will be shipped before the close of navigation.

New Road to Be Built.

Because the location of the present line of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad east of Negaunee is an obstacle to mining development in that vicinity, a new line is to be built be-

BINGHAM SMELTER TO REOPEN

Original Decree Closing It Has Been Modified---Quarterly Report of Utah Company Shows Big Increase --- Michigan Men Will Mine Under Town of Eureka.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 21.—Judge Marshall of the United States district court has given a decision permitting the United States Smelting, Refining & Mining company to operate its copper furnaces at Bingham Junction. The application was filed three weeks ago for a modification of the original decree, which closed all the valley smelters. About one year ago the United States company, with the permission of the court, put in a baghouse system in connection with its lead furnaces. This system, it was demonstrated, enabled the lead sections to operate without injury to vegetable or animal life.

Before the copper furnaces can be placed in commission again it will be necessary to construct another baghouse, together with a complete new flue system, in which the gases are cooled and the acids in the fumes neutralized before they enter the bags for filtration. This, it is said, will involve an expenditure of $250,000.

Six hundred men are now employed at the plant. This number will be increased to 1,200. The plant comprises six lead furnaces, now in full operation, capable of treating 1,000 tons of ore daily, and six copper furnaces with a capacity of 1,200 to 1,500 tons of ore each day.

It is expected that five to six months will be required to make the needed changes in order to comply with the court's requirements. The change will involve an increase in the cost of smelter operation also, but this increase, it is believed, will be more than met by the by-products of white arsenic and arsenate of lead which are made from the dust that accumulates in the baghouse. The opening of the copper furnaces will also enable the company's mines at Bingham to reopen. These were closed with the smelter.

The quarterly report of the Utah Copper company, covering April, May, and June, shows a gross output of 33,774,412 pounds, being about 1,667,000 in excess of the preceding quarter. The net profit from mining and milling was $478,425. There was additional income of $4,832. The average price of copper on which the earning was made was 12.85 cents, as compared with 12.82 cents the preceding quarter. Considering the results at the Garfield plant by themselves the cost a pound

MONTANA COPPER MINES

Helena Assay Office Receipts for July Equal Those of 1908---Copper Production for Butte Camp 25,580,820 Pounds in July.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 21.—The Montana receipts at the United States assay office in this city amounted in July to $151,717.12, practically the same as last July. The receipts from other sources, including Washington, British Columbia and Alaska, swell the total to $157,542.56. Fergus, Chouteau and Madison counties in the order named were the leading Montana contributors.

Rich silver-lead ore has been encountered in the Gilmore mine in Beaverhead county. The property is owned by the promoters of the Gilmore & Pittsburg railroad and the strike was made at the end of a 400-foot crosscut, where the vein proved to be eight feet wide. Shipments will begin as soon as the new railroad is completed into the camp.

The Dark Horse Mining company, operating in the southwestern portion of Beaverhead county, has completed surveys for driving a tunnel at its property, 2,800 feet long, to cost about $50,000. The tunnel will crosscut the veins at a depth of about 300 feet in Montana and then pass beneath the continental divide and emerge in Idaho. The ore will be taken out on the Idaho side and shipped from Baker, a station on the new Gilmore & Pittsburg railroad, now in course of construction. The values are in galena with some gold.

The Mineral Mountain Mining company, which is operating in the Sheep Creek district in the northern part of this county, is to begin immediate shipments of high grade copper ore. For more than a year a force has been engaged in development, and now a large body of ore has been blocked out which will average in the neighborhood of 8 per cent copper. Shipments will be made both to the Washoe smelter and the Tacoma plant of the American Smelting & Refining company. The mine is owned almost exclusively by Helena men.

Reports are current here that the Eastern syndicate which is now conducting operations at the August group in Chouteau county with the view of making a practical test is com-

FROM THE FAR NORTHWEST

News From the Mines of Alaska and British Columbia---Rich Strike on Chicagoff Island--- Valdez Creek Active.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 21.—News has reached the outside of a strike in the Hirst cove tunnel on Chicagoff island. The ledge is four feet wide and shot full of gold from wall to wall. It was cut at 225 feet deep, 342 feet from the tunnel portal. The property is owned by Bernard Hirst of Sitka.

Valdez Creek is very active this season. Pete Monahan washed out $20,000 in dust this year. This is the richest claim on the creek, but is located on a bench off of Tabon discovery, about seventy feet above the river bed. The old channel which carries the values is tapped by a tunnel from the hillside.

Carlson and Nealy are taking out big money in Lucky Gulch, a tributary of Valdez creek.

The Oregon & Susitna Mining company is conducting hydraulic operations on Nos. 1 and 2 below discovery on Valdez creek. The company has good ground and will have a substantial cleanup.

William Croag and partners are working on Valdez creek with good results. Merritt has encountered good pay before bedrock was reached on a tributary of Valdez.

Willow creek, in the Little Susitna region, is a live camp, according to reports sent out by way of Snoved. The stamp mill on Gold Bullion has been in operation for a month with good results. On Fishhook creek, across the divide from the Gold Bullion Mining company's property, the Alaska Gold Quartz Mining company is operating a battery of six stamps with encouraging results. About a mile below this property Frank Bartholf is developing claims which he purchased from Carnegie, Hatcher and Byron Bartholf. He has uncovered a fine showing.

Seattle men have bought the Fairman and Madsen claims in Moose pass for $35,000.

W. A. Dickey of Landlock Bay mine has bonded an Iron Mountain group of twenty-five claims on Knight's island from Capt. Liljigren for $146,000. Immense deposits of iron and copper are close to tidewater on the steamers' path. Dickey says he expects to spend $200,000 in the next two years in opening the property.

British Columbia.

A contract has been let for 400 feet of underground work on the Rio Tinto Treadwell group near Curlew, British Columbia. The tunnel is designed to cut Nos. 1 and 2 ledges.

During the year ended June 30, according to its report just issued, the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company's smelter at Trail, B. C., produced metals, including gold, silver, copper and lead, to the extent of $5,500,000, a new record for the plant.

An English syndicate has bonded for $200,000 Ikeda Bay mine, owned by Japanese. The property is one of the best known on Queen Charlotte Islands. During four years of operation 35,000 tons of copper ore have been shipped.

A new 200-foot shaft will be sunk on the Blue Bird of Rossland. The property is a silver-lead producer. Lesees were bought off to facilitate the proposed development. The new shaft will tap four of the five producing veins. The mine has produced from the grass roots and the greatest depth reached so far is only thirty-five feet. Five different veins with a maximum width of four feet have produced ten cars of $30 ore net from the smelter. One car of carbonated yielded $78 a ton. The Canadian government has paid $10 royalty on the lead contents of each car. Nearly a car of ore is awaiting shipment to the Trail smelter.

NIPISSING-LA ROSE MERGER

Cobalt Believes That Market Campaigning and Publicity on La Rose Points This Way---Earle-Thompson Interests Engineering the Project.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 21.—Gossip relative to a proposed merger of the Nipissing and La Rose companies is being received here, and those in the district who are most familiar with the affairs of the two corporations, as well as with what is being done on the two properties, are of the opinion that the consolidation of them is merely a matter of time.

J. P. Earle and W. B. Thompson are heavily interested in both companies, although their interest in Nipissing is very much less than it is in La Rose. Nipissing stock is very widely distributed, while La Rose is closely held, and it is being pointed out that for the last year and a half Nipissing's production has been very noticeably held down and discoveries on the property have been kept secret. In this connection it is related that the superintendent of Nipissing has made the statement that he could maintain current dividends every thirty days if the management would let him get out the ore, which it will not do.

In a market way there has been very little attempt to keep Nipissing in the limelight or to advance the stock a fact which is believed to be due to the Earle-Thompson policy. La Rose, on the other hand, in addition to having recently acquired at a bargain the very valuable Lawson property, has been developed with an idea of making as large a production as is possible, and every discovery has been heralded far and wide. In addition, the inside interests have recently inaugurated a bull campaign with the idea of pushing the stock to as high a price level as is possible.

These things are viewed here as meaning that the Earle-Thompson interests, while allowing Nipissing to drift along, are pushing La Rose with the idea of placing it on a market valuation which ultimately will justify a consolidation with Nipissing. The opinion prevails here that an effort will be made to carry through this consolidation during the next boom in Cobalt shares, and that it will be made on the basis of share for share, at a per share valuation of about $15 for each stock.

THE WATER POWER TRUST.

More than two years ago this newspaper stated that practically all the natural riches of the country had gone into the hands of trusts and had gotten away from the control of the people except water power, and that it behooved the nation to set about conserving the water powers for the common good before high finance set about gathering them in for private profit and public exploitation.

Anybody who fancied that there was no danger of a water power trust failed to give due credit to the enterprise and ingenuity of American capital. It was and is as plain as the nose on Morgan's face that unless the people kept the water powers private capital would get them, and that this valuable public utility, which in time to come will be greater than all others combined, would become a part of the foundation of Plutocracy and Privilege in this country.

The formation of the water power trust is now under way, having come sooner even than The Herald had expected. President Roosevelt saw the danger, and in his administration the policy was to conserve water powers upon the public domain for the benefit of the people instead of letting them go into the hands of private individuals. Almost the next moment after Roosevelt had ceased to be president and President Taft had appointed Ballinger to be secretary of the interior, that policy was reversed.

The statement by Forester Pinchot that a water power trust is in process of formation is borne out by many facts. John L. Mathews in the August Hampton's Magazine gives details of this combination, tracing ramifications in the relationship of concerns manufacturing electrical apparatus, power plant construction companies and eastern financial institutions, indicating a community of interest and control. These threads lead back to the General Electric company and to J. Pierpont Morgan. He sees the opportunity and is grasping it; and so long as the people fail to look after their own interests in this vastly important matter, and the seizing of a great public utility for private profit is still considered clever and respectable, instead of being looked upon as a twentieth century species of commercial brigandry upon a gigantic scale, it is hard to see why he should be blamed for it. The blame belongs with the people and with the government the people have elected.

The time is coming when electricity generated by water power will turn nearly every wheel in the country, if it does not furnish all light, heat and power used in the land. It lies between Morgan and the people which is to own and control this tremendous force. If the people remain supine and their government complacent, a trust for private profit will own and control it. If the people wake up and their government takes proper steps, a government trust for the common good may own and control it, and thereby command the industrial situation.

The question is simply whether the tremendous force which is being created out of water powers, and which will ultimately dominate the situation in this country, is to be the tool of Morgan for the exploitation of the people, or the tool of the people to be used for the common good.

THE SINGLE FOOD STANDARD.

Because the Federal government has a pure food law, and because most of the states also have pure food laws, and because there is a great lack of uniformity between the national and state laws and therefore much confusion, efforts are being made to bring about uniformity. The plan is a good one, and every manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer will find greater peace of mind when it is accomplished. Also, the work in behalf of the consumer will be more thorough and more effective.

Next week the National Association of Food Commissioners is to meet in convention, and uniform pure food laws will form one of its principal subjects of discussion. A report will be heard from a committee appointed to draft a new "model uniform pure food law." It will differ in some respects from the national law, presumably in the way of improvement.

It is not impossible to improve on the national pure food law. It was not to be expected that a law gained after a long fight, and gained then only at the cost of compromise, would fully meet the situation. But it established the principle of government regulation of food qualities, and in spite of its defects it is one of the most important steps forward taken by this country in years.

Speaking of the proposed model law, the New York Globe says: "No good reason has yet been brought for this movement, while obviously there are many against it. It was supposed that we have a model pure food law—the one enacted by congress in 1906." There is nothing the matter with this statement except in three particulars. First, there are many obvious good reasons for the movement; second, there are no reasons against it that are unselfish or that seek the common good; third, anybody that supposed the federal pure food law, secured as we have said by compromise after a long fight, was a "model" law was too sanguine and unsophisticated to be allowed to go about alone.

The association, therefore, is doing good work in devising a model law, and having devised it it can do better work by seeking to have it enacted first by the nation and second by all the states.

The federal law, of course, applies only to goods that are subjects of interstate commerce. Products cannot be reached within the states where they are manufactured, and they come under the national law only when they seek to cross a state boundary. Intrastate business must be handled by the states themselves; hence the need of good state pure food laws to co-operate with the national law in behalf of the consumer.

The need of uniformity is so plain that it needs no argument. When a given product is lawful in one state and unlawful in another, or lawful in one state but unlawful as a subject of interstate commerce, confusion arises that makes enforcement of the laws difficult. From the viewpoint of manufacturers and dealers, the most rigid law imaginable, if it is uniform throughout the nation, is better than the confusion of laxer laws which differ in every state.

33,000,000 CHURCH MEMBERS.

The census bureau has completed its tabulations of a church census taken in 1906, and its preliminary reports include some interesting figures.

For instance, out of a total population of 80,000,000 nearly 33,000,000 are church members. This is much less than half, but of course it takes no count of the many who are regular church attendants and who believe and practice Christian tenets, even though they have not as yet become communicants.

Classified by sex, the preponderance of women members is very noticeable—56.9 per cent against 43.1 per cent for the men. This difference is much greater among Protestant churches, in which only 39.3 per cent are males while in the Roman Catholic churches males numbered 49.3 per cent of the total membership, or nearly one-half. In sixteen states there are more Catholics than Protestants. Of the total church membership 36.7 per cent is Catholic and 61.6 per cent Protestant.

Fewer males than females were found among the Latter-Day Saints (Mormons), the Lutherans, Disciples, Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and Protestant Episcopalians, the percentage of males decreasing in the order shown until only 35.5 per cent of Episcopalians are males. Among the Christian Scientists only 27.6 per cent are males, and of the Shakers but 21.3 per cent. In the Greek Orthodox church 93.9 per cent are males; this being accounted for by the fact that nearly all the Greek immigrants have been males.

The proportion of church members is increasing. They formed 39.1 per cent of the total population in 1906 as against 32.7 per cent in 1890, or 6.4 per cent more in 1906 than in 1890. Of this increase the Roman Catholic church is credited with 4.4 per cent and the Protestants with 1.8 per cent; the remainder being divided among other denominations.

The actual number of church members reported by the various religious bodies in 1906 was 32,936,445, of which number the Protestants were credited with 20,287,742 and the Catholics with 12,079,142. The Methodists numbered 5,749,838, the Baptists 5,62,234, the Lutherans 2,112,494, the Presbyterians 1,830,555, and the Disciples or Christians 1,142,359.

The rate of increase shown for the Roman Catholic church is 93.5 per cent, which is more than twice that for all the Protestant bodies combined. The Methodists reported 17.5 per cent of all Protestant church members and the Baptists 17.2 per cent.

The total number of local religious organizations in 1906 was 212,230, an increase since 1890 of 47,079 or 28.5 per cent. The Protestant increase in this particular is 27.8 per cent, the Roman Catholic increase is 21.9 per cent, the Jewish congregations 231.9 per cent, and the Mormons 38.3 per cent. The Methodists had the largest number of local organizations, 64,701; the Baptists had 54,880, the Presbyterians 15,506, the Lutherans 12,703 and the Roman Catholics 12,482.

While the total membership is less than 33,000,000, the seating capacity of the churches is 58,536,830, an increase over 1890 of 34.4 per cent. This rate of increase was practically the same for Catholic and Protestant churches, and it kept pace with the increase in population. The church debt was $108,050,946, or 8.6 per cent of the total value; and of this total the Protestant bodies owed $53,301,254 and the Roman Catholics $49,488,055.

A billion and a quarter dollars are invested in church buildings, and every day of the year eight new churches reach their spires toward the clouds.

A LAND OF PESSIMISM.

Judging from an article contributed to the Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg by H. Stolypin, brother of the Russian premier, about the only comfort left in Russia is that it is always darkest just before the dawn. He says, in a discussion of the duma:

"The party of the extreme left, the Black Hundred, represents a street mob; they consist of selfish obscurantists and diseased lunatics. The moderate right, the 'corpses,' are without political significance. The nationalists are would-be bureaucrats, too late for the feast. The Octobrists are cadets of the second class—a pack of bores and paper politicians. The peace renovators are antiquated back numbers. The Kolo, or Polish party, are mere negative elements, tending, however, to disintegrate and destroy. In this respect they cooperate with the Mohammedan party. The cadets are merely political Jesuits, and are nicknamed 'W. W. W. B.;' that is, 'whichever way the wind blows.' The group of labor attempted vainly to expropriate the land in the first and second dumas and are now dead wood. The Essadees (Social Democrats) and the Essars (Social Revolutionists) have bathed Russia in blood and are execrated. I believe this is all. But what does it signify? Complete ruin? What have we to hope for? Where can we find support? The past offers no consolation, for we know that the 'gentlemen' of the old regime have brought Russia to the brink of the abyss. A glance at the present official world brings us the impression of universal rottenness, of universal decay. It is a terrible specter. There is no clean spot left in Russia. What a country, what a people! Demoralized, ungifted, criminal!"

If that is an accurate picture, things must be just about as bad as they can be in Russia. The old order passes, but still hangs on by mere force of feeble inertia and because there is nothing to take its place. The forces of progress are divided, are wild and aimless and futile. The classes are rotten, the masses are sodden in ignorance and vodka. Surely this is a place of desolation and despair.

Yet in the very pessimism of this picture there glints a gleam of hope. Everybody must have noticed that when matters are growing wrong, they get as bad as they possibly can be, and then they get better or chaos ensues. That point seems to have been reached in Russia, judging from this picture. Perhaps chaos and anarchy will come next, if they are not already there. Perhaps in the total destruction of the old order lies the only hope of building up a new order, as the case was with France at the passing of the Old Regime. At any rate, matters are pretty bad, and the future contains only the chilly hope that the blackness may conceal the near approach of redeeming revolution.

Meanwhile, the example is useful, particularly to those pessimists who grow melancholy because progress isn't made faster in this country. Progress must take its time, and in a general sense must take its own way. Matters are so infinitely better in this country, even with its Aldriches and its Cannons and its Rockefellers, that there ought to be comfort in the contrast.

HARRIMAN'S HEALTH AND STOCKS.

The present action of the stock market throws into the limelight once more the absurdity of the impulses that affect the values of securities. Some years ago a former governor of New York, Roswell P. Flower, who was intimately associated with the market, ate and drank too freely because of the thirst and appetite generated by an outdoor excursion, and when he died suddenly the market fell into a panic and many people were ruined.

Now, because the market is uneasy about Harriman's health, stocks tumble two or three points in a day and half a dozen points in two or three days. They are not worth a cent less than they were when the market thought Harriman was getting well. Prosperity is returning by leaps and bounds, and intrinsic values are therefore growing greater day by day. But just because one big stock manipulator isn't enjoying good health, and because the bears choose to make his condition out as badly as possible, stocks tumble. When one man can raise or lower the market value of securities millions of dollars by a crook of the finger, and when millions in values can be swept away because one man has trouble with his stomach, something is wrong.

CHURCH FEDERATION.

When the Protestant church continues to divide its efforts and its energies and to waste its strength by the infinitesimal differences of creed and sect, it makes these petty differences of greater importance than the cause which is the common cause of all sects—the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ on earth.

That is why the idea of church federation finds sympathy and support, even though that sympathy and support are sadly out of proportion to the slender results thus far attained.

The idea of church federation is not new. From the Apostle Paul down to today, there have always been men who realized the need for co-operative work on the part of Christians to accomplish the ends of the Christianity. Satan, if there be such a being, has never accomplished so much to defeat the work of the church as the church itself has accomplished in befuddling its mind and clogging its progress with absurd divisions of sect.

John Calvin wrote from Geneva in 1553 to Archbishop Cranmer of the Church of England, that if necessary he "would cross ten seas to bring the separated churches of Christ into one." John Wesley, more than a hundred years ago, writing to a fellow-minister, said: "I desire a league offensive and defensive with every soldier of Christ. We have not only one faith, one hope, one head, but we are directly engaged in one warfare." Yet in that warfare the battle has been confused because the soldiers of Christ have fallen upon each other in the darkness of prejudice and assailed each other with weapons that should have been turned upon the common enemy.

The desire for unity exists, needing only direction and impetus to make it effective. The ties of creed sit as lightly upon the shoulders of the faithful as the ties of partisanship sit upon the shoulders of the voters in this country. A growing appreciation of relative values is putting the petty differences of sect in the subordinate place where they have always belonged. This means that the great fundamental truths which pettinesses have obscured are rising into the commanding place in which they belong. When men see these great truths clearly, and bend their efforts toward them, federation cannot be long delayed.

Some tangible progress has been made. In December of 1908 the Federal Council which met in Philadelphia had delegates from thirty-four denominational churches, representing more than 17,000,000 communicant members and a majority of the population of the United States. The outcome of the meeting was the organization of the Interchurch Federation of Philadelphia in March, 1909, including congregations connected with twenty-three denominations and representing a majority of the Christians of that community.

When federation assumes practical form there will be an end to the pathos of many small and ill-supported churches struggling ineffectively to do what a few strong and co-operating church societies might do with ease. There will be fewer ministers waging an ineffective battle handicapped by poverty and deprivation. There will be more of human brotherhood and less of human pettiness. There will be glad co-operation in the common cause instead of jealous bickerings over things that are as nothing compared with the everlasting truths that are great enough to form the foundation of one great universal church of Christ.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about live topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective however.)

THE INSPECTOR'S SIDE OF IT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of Aug. 13, under the caption of "The Grocer's Side of It," Mr. W. B. Logan submits his protest to what he terms the "injustice which is sometimes done in the enforcement of the pure food laws by the inspectors." In the case complained of the only injustice which the inspector could cause Mr. Logan, was the purchase of the sample of strawberry preserves.

It is the duty of the inspector to proceed in this manner and then forward his samples to the state chemist, who upon the completion of the analysis, reports his findings to the dairy and food commissioner, who thereupon orders final disposition of the case. If adulterated as in the case of Mr. Logan, a complaint is made in court as provided by law. Mr. Logan also says that he had no way of knowing that the food on his shelves contained coal tar dye. The fact that there appeared upon the label, the statement, "artificially colored" should have at least aroused his suspicion. If as indicated, he was aware that the national law permits the use of artificial colors, it is only fair to assume that he should know that the laws of the state in which he lives and does business do not permit the addition of colors in jams, preserves and marmalades.

The sole purpose of the addition of colors is to make the goods look better than they really are and thereby deceiving the purchaser. It is never used in canned preserves except when they are made from inferior or unripe fruit.

I quote herewith chapter 21, section 1763, General Laws, 1905—Paragraph 2: "Pure fruit jam, preserves and marmalade shall each be defined as a preparation consisting wholly of the fruit specified, preserved in a syrup made of cane sugar and pure water, and containing no other ingredients."

Jellies, jams, preserves and marmalades, which are not brought within the mention of the above dunning must be labeled as substitutes. This section also prohibits the use of coal tar dyes in such substitutes.

Mr. Logan says, "If there is to be any prosecution, why shouldn't it be brought against the manufacturer, and if he cannot be reached by the state law, the wholesaler."

The manufacturer in the case resides at Baltimore and is beyond the jurisdiction of the state. Mr. Logan carefully refrains from mentioning the fact that during my recent visit to Duluth, when discussing his case with me, I offered to dismiss the case against him and bring an action against the wholesaler provided he could tell from whom he purchased the goods. This he was unable to do. He said he had purchased the preserves from one or two jobbers, he did not know which. I met the representative of both houses to whom he referred, who said that upon proof that they had sold the illegal goods they were willing to assume the responsibility. They also said that they had so informed Mr. Logan.

In conclusion I desire to express my appreciation of the extreme fairness and liberal views of the two jobbers above referred to, who assured me that their houses would protect the retailer in the case of all goods sold by them. Mr. Logan's self-interest so absorbs him that he loses sight of the rights of the public. It is the duty of the dairy and food department under the law to bring Mr. Logan to bar for the sale of goods, which are adulterated, hence the prosecution. Respectfully yours,

JOHN McCABE,
Assistant Commissioner.

DEMOCRACY'S HOPE.

"Doc" Bixby in Lincoln State Journal: Let the country take courage and lift its voice in a song of praise and thanksgiving. Democrats are going to hold a conference in Saratoga, N. Y., on the 9th day of September for the one purpose of finding out what the people of this nation need and how it may be provided. Among the patriots who have signified their willingness to be present, their lamps all trimmed and burning, are Boss Murphy, Patriot McCarren, Statesman Norman E. Mack and the Hon. Tom Taggart of Indiana. If Governor John A. Johnson fails to be present he will make the mistake of his life, for these men whose names are emblazoned on the party roll of honor as having carried the Jeffersonian standard ever since they were big enough to lift it, are the very fellows who will have the naming of the next Democratic candidate for president. The people of this country will never stand for one from the East. He may be a might of high and mighty purposes, like Alton B. Parker, but we of the West have been taught to look upon New England products of Democracy with suspicion if nothing worse.

Thrice Bryan ran but could not reach
The goal—he stranded on the beach—
We have another (he's a peach)
Johnson.

He springs from strong and sturdy stock,
As solid as a native rock—
The highest jumper in the flock—
Johnson.

Where northern pine and hemlock nods,
For governor, against big odds,
Thrice did he win, helped by the gods,
Johnson.

Now let Democracy take heed;
It has one man who can succeed
In answer to the party's need—
Johnson.

One name still stands upon the scroll
That should delight the bourbon soul;
Open your mouth and let 'er roll—
Johnson.

Where the deep Mississippi flows,
'Mid summer flowers and winter snows,
Lives—(whothehell do you suppose?)
Johnson.

On every Western tongue you hear
A name that rings in every ear
Loud as a Havelock call for beer—
Johnson.

If in the national campaign
Democracy would win, 'tis plain
One hope is theirs—all else is vain—
Johnson.

Pie, Pie and Pie.

(Dr. Charles McCormick informed the Association of Independent Doctors that pie-eating was excellent for the health.)

Hail! the eminent physician who's a student of nutrition,
And who knows the stomach's wherefore and its why;
Who, though stern in doing duty, still appreciates the beauty
Of the process of assimilating Pie.

Never food of Frenchy fashion can arouse a gastric passion
That inspires a man to dare or even die
Like a luscious quarter section of that symbol of perfection
That is designated commonly as Pie.

No bacteria are sunk in golden slabs of pie or punkin;
In the apple animalculae must die.
I will bet the ark of Noah had no pair of protozoa,
And I'll also bet that boat was full of Pie.

Oh, the glory never-ending of the mince's perfect blending!
For the juicy peach's puffiness we sigh.
No historian can gull us with his yarns about Lucullus
While the goddess of the kitchen gives us Pie.

Willie Penn, why should you grapple with the substance known as scrapple?
Waldo Beacon, take the bean from out your eye.
When you're sitting at your dinner you fill your region inner Full of Pie and Pie and Pie and Pie and Pie.

—JOHN O'KEEFE in New York World.

THE WEATHER.

The expected showers failed to arrive, and today is another perfect summer's day. The weather man looks for showers tonight, and has posted warnings of a southwest gale. A year ago today it was clear and cool. The sun rose this morning at 5:13 and will set at 7:09, making thirteen hours and fifty-six minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures of 90 degs. or more occurred throughout the Missouri and lower Mississippi valleys and Southern states during Friday. The Alberta low pressure area has increased in intensity and has advanced its center to Western Manitoba. During the past twenty-four hours this disturbance caused showers in Western Canada and Northern Montana, and much warmer weather throughout the Rocky mountains, Eastern slopes, the Dakotas Manitoba and Western Ontario. Showers also fell over Atlantic states, Utah and New Mexico, due to depressions central over Mexico and over the North Atlantic region. The barometer is high over the lake region and off the North Pacific coast. Cooler weather prevails in the latter district and extreme Western Canada."

Those Who Do Their Best.

"You'll find in life, one thing, my boy."
said Uncle Hiram, low,
An' weighin' each word carefully,
'there's haste in going slow;
I trust you'll never grow too big to ruminate with care
On that old fable mentionin' the tortoise an' the hare.
An' recollect, my boy, that fame and fortune isn't all
That spells success—it's shoutin',
"Here'" when Duty deigns to call—
I say, although no laurel wreath upon his brow may rest,
The fellow's doin' mighty well who always does his best.

"Perhaps he'll never walk wealth's road, perhaps ne'er scale fame's heights,
But then he'll keep his conscience, an' likely rest well nights,
For those who've fought with main and might where those less strong had quailed.
Though fulsome glory be not theirs, it can't be said they've failed.
Achievement isn't always writ largelettered on one's brow,
While simple peace and sweet content oft lowly lives endow.
An' so, I'd say, though on his brow no laurel wreath's been pressed,
The feller's doin' mighty well who always does his best."

The One Who Understood.

Freeman Tilden in Smart Set Magazine: In her childhood she was sad, because she felt that no one understood her.

In her girlhood she was alone—nobody seemed to understand.

Then she became a woman, and she hoped that the Man would understand. But he didn't. All he knew was that he wanted to make her happy. So, of course, he couldn't.

At last she met someone who understood. He was a musician who played the violin $2 worth in a 40-cent table d'hote where the water was excellent.

He told her she was as beautiful as the rose—

That her eyes were like the sky above Capri—

That she had a Soul that called to his Soul—

And borrowed money of her early and often.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

"Grouches" and How to Get Rid of Them.

It has an ugly sound, this word "grouch," that seems to be getting domesticated in modern parlance. Like another word which begins with the same two letters—the word graft—it is taking on a very definite meaning. When we say "Jones has a grouch against Smith," we understand that Jones' general attitude toward him is at least critical, to put it mildly, and when we say to a boy who comes sulkily down to breakfast, "Johnny, I guess you have a grouch on this morning," it isn't much of a compliment to Johnny, and he knows it isn't.

Slangy the expression may be and ugly sounding, but the thing it stands for is even uglier. Oh, these grouches in the home, the community, the church and in other personal relationships. How they do darken and embitter life. A man was just in to see me who has been nursing one for a long time. Somebody higher up than he in the railroad company for which he works has, he thinks, done him an injury. Whereupon he resigned his position. Now he has a chance to go back and wants to, for he has not been unable to find another job. But he declares he will not even apply for his old place until this official apologizes. "If a man makes a damaging statement about me, ought he not to be made either to prove it or to take it back?" This was the query he put to me at least four times during the fifteen minutes' interview. After a while I got a little impatient and said: "Oh, yes, I suppose, theoretically he ought to. But what's the use, MacAllister, of dwelling forever on that alleged injury. Swallow your pride; go back to your old job. The road wants good men like you. You, for your family's sake as well as your own, need work. Let bygones be bygones. Take hold again. Live down any rumors your supposed foe may have started about you. Compel him to respect you because of your manliness and your attention to business."

A grouch is like a germ. It eats into the very fiber of your mind. You get to thinking of it at night, and it grows as big as a mountain, obscuring everything else in sight. You lose all sense of perspective and proportion. You come down in the morning as tired as when you went to bed. The thing has become twenty times as big as it originally was.

But wasn't I treated shabbily? But even if you were, why should one slight or injustice, or even a series of them, destroy all your peace of mind, make you morbid and melancholy? Think of the numberless other things you have to be grateful for, the countless other interests which may engross your thoughts and energies.

And remember especially these two things: First, it is always better to suffer wrong than to do wrong, and second, man is capable of displaying no nobler grace than that of magnanimity. We most resemble Jesus Christ when we forgive, forget and return good for evil.

THE PARSON.

MEANT TO BE FUNNY.

Puck: Mack—When were you married?

Dyer—Just about six checkbooks ago.

Boston Transcript: Sunday School Teacher.—Now, Danny, what do you understand by "righteous indignation?"

Danny—Gettin' mad without sayin' any cuss words.

Cleveland Leader: Mamma—Have you been taking your cough medicine, like a good boy?

Tommy—No, ma'am. I let Polly taste it an' she liked it, so I traded it to her for an orange.

Chicago News: Anxious Mother—How do you know young Cashleigh is in love with you? Has he told you so?

Pretty Daughter—N-no; but you should see the way he looks at me when I am not looking at him.

Fliegende Blaetter: Critic (as the composer plays his last piece)—Very fine. But what is that passage which makes the cold chills run down the back.

Composer—That is where the wanderer has the hotel bill brought to him.

Washington Star: "Sometimes our disappointments come to be recognized as blessings," said the ready-made philosopher.

"That's a fact," answered the flippant person. "It's always a sweet relief to me to discover in the morning that I forgot to wind the alarm clock.

Catholic Record-Herald: "Colonel," asked the beautiful girl, "were you ever taken completely by surprise?"

"Yes," replied the grizzled warrior. "Once in a New York hotel I asked for a room with a bath, and the clerk didn't reply that they hadn't any such rooms left."

Judge: Drummer—Is there a stationery store at Crow Bend?

Stage Driver—I couldn't say, pard, that you'd find anything stationary at Crow Bend, because they have a twister in them parts most every day what starts things movin', but she's lively, and I'm shore you'd like the place.

Detroit Free Press: "So you're going away for a couple of weeks, are you?" said the neighbor, very graciously.

"Yes," answered the man, "I think we'll be gone that long."

"Good," answered the neighbor. "Let us take your lawn mower and your garden hose till you get back, will you?"

Brooklyn Life: Real Estate Agent (rattling off description of house to Mrs. Fradley, a prospective tenant)—Here's the kitchen—splendid room—all modern conveniences—hardwood floor—

Mrs. Fradley (interrupting)—Oh, it won't do at all. My present kitchen has a softwood floor, and the breakage of dishes on that is something frightful.

You Can't Stop Him.

Sioux City Tribune: Now it is recalled that when Governor Knute Nelson failed to appear and dedicate the Minnesota building at the Chicago World's fair it was John A. Johnson, of St. Peter, who stepped into his shoes and did the honors of the occasion, and he has been stepping into other people's shoes ever since, and the fact that he has a long, narrow foot and Mr. Bryan has a short, chubby one, doesn't seem to change his direction or his gait.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1889.

Duluth has been visited by one of the worst rainstorms in the city's history. Nearly three inches of rain fell, most of it within two hours. The great granite and concrete conduit built last year up First avenue west to Sixth street to carry down the waters of Clark House, proved totally inadequate, and the resulting damages will reach fully $50,000. No material damage was done by the rush of water until the stream reached Fourth street, where it rushed under the Union block, tearing down a retaining wall, carrying away about 1,500 yards of earth and flooding all the lower premises. Much of the space below Michigan street, between Lake avenue and Second avenue west, became a muddy lake several feet deep. The engine and press rooms of The Herald in the Bunnell block were flooded to a depth of three or four feet. Contents of the O'Brien & Knowlton and other buildings were flooded, the total damage being nearly $5,000. The Metropolitan dry goods store at 115 West Superior street was damaged fully $12,000, and Simon Clark's grocery in the adjoining store suffered a loss of $10,000. Smith's Eureka spice store on First street was damaged fully $3,000, nearly all the machinery and stock being ruined. There were several washouts on the line of the St. Paul & Duluth railroad, and the company's loss will be several thousand dollars.

Miss Mae Anson of Minneapolis is visiting Mrs. M. H. Lewis.

Edward G. Hartje, an attorney from Pittsburg, Pa., is here on a visit to Charles P. Craig.

W. A. Foote has returned from a three weeks' visit to his old home in Fort Wayne, Ind.

W. G. Hegardt of Lake Linden, Mich., is back at his old stand as paying teller of the American Exchange bank.

J. Levi Forest, an employe of the county auditor's office, who has been on the sick list for some time, has returned to work.

CHAS. D. CARTER OF OKLAHOMA

By SAVOYARD.

There is all too much truth in the sarcasm that when the Puritan fathers landed in our hemisphere they fell on their knees, and then rose up and fell on the aborigines. The marriage of Rolfe and Pocahontas was earnest of the incalculably benign consequences that would have issued from numerous such marriages. It was that splendid adventurer, Vasco Nunez de Balboa, the first white navigator to see the Pacific ocean, who forfeited his head sooner than divorce his Indian wife. In the treatment accorded the Indian by the European, that of the French was the most humane, and had the Spanish and the English been as gentle and as conciliating, the work of conquering the Western hemisphere by the Caucasion would have been consummated with much more ease and with infinitely less infamy.

That brilliant genius and wonderfully gifted man, John Randolph of Roanoke, was boastful in the pride that he was a descendant of Pocahontas, and many of the F. F. V.'s love to trace their line back to that Indian princess. Where is the American of today with one spark of the pride of ancestry who would not be proud to know that he had Tecumseh for an ancestor? What a hero he was, and the tradition that he stood that hero in forefront of bloody battle made Richard M. Johnson vice president of the United States.

This is the age of commerce. Nothing goes but money. Success is measured by the accumulations of the citizen. Harriman, Morgan, Rockefeller and that ilk are the correspondents of all the all too powerful and insolent barons like Warwick in England and Burgundy in France, when a good lance was the stead of what a sound dollar is now. The captain of industry has usurped the place of the captain of battle. The soldier has ceased to be the primate. The millionaire is the aristocrat. In time he, too, will be supplanted by the intellectual man, and he, in turn, will give place to the good man, but that will not be till this wicked world we live in is civilized—possibly some twenty centuries hence.

But the Indian can hold up his end of the log, even in this race for money. There is Lon C. Hill, a Choctaw, who has made $6,000,000 in enterprises that would extort the admiration of a Huntington, or a Gould, and it is likely that ere he dies he will increase his fortune five-fold. The story of how he made his millions is a financial romance that I wish I had space to relate.

Charles D. Carter, M. C., is seven-sixteenths Indian, mingled Chickasaw and Cherokee. And he is proud of every drop of that blood. The Jew would not be other than a Jew to conquer like Napoleon, and Carter would not let from his veins one drop of their Indian blood to be president of the United States for life. But we have a race in our country far more numerous than the Indian, unfortunately, every son and daughter of which, from Booker Washington down, curses the pigment cell in his body. And that is the misery of it, for caste is stronger than all the armies and all the navies of the conqueror, and prevails over all the philosophies of the sage and over all the benevolences of the philanthropist.

This Indian, about whom I am trying to write, is a direct lineal descendant of that Nathan Carter, who was captured by the Shawnee at the Lackawanna valley massacre, when all the other members of the family, except a sister, were slain. Carter was afterward traded to the Cherokees and married a full-blooded daughter of that tribe and reared a family. The sister of Carter was ransomed by the whites. Benjamin Wisman Carter, father of the congressman, was a great-grandson of Nathan Carter and a captain in the Confederate army, doing valiant service in the big war of 1861-65. After that struggle was over, he settled in the Chickasaw nation, though there was much prejudice against Confederate soldiers round about, and he was in much danger on that account. However, in November, 1866, he married Serena J. Guy, niece of Chief Harris, and sister of Chief William Guy, who is now superintendent of the Indian school at Sulphur Oak. Charles D. Carter, the congressman, is the only child of this marriage.

He was born in a little log cabin near Boggy depot, Aug. 16, 1869. In 1875 his father moved to Mill Creek Stage Stand, and there the boy attended school in 1880, at the age of 11, his first academic instruction. Later he entered the Indian manual training school at Tishomingo, Indian Territory. Between times he worked on his father's ranch. He was cowboy and broncho buster, and would have been the delight of one T. R. had the two met at that time. By and by Carter got a clerkship in a big mercantile establishment at Ardmore, and that fact recalls to my mind that Robert Clive, the Great, was a clerk in India. He was cotton buyer for the store, and a capable business man, young as he was. He left that employ to be auditor of public accounts of the Chickasaw nation, and served in that capacity for two years, when he was chosen a member of the Chickasaw national council and superintendent of Chickasaw schools.

It would be tedious to follow the public career of this man before his new state was created a sister of the other states of the Union. Suffice it to say he was a public servant trusted by all, and faithful to every trust. He has a wonderful physique. With my narrow shoulders and slender chest, I used to look with greenest envy on the magnificent chest of William C. P. Breckinridge, John Young Brown and James A. McKenzie, each and all of whom had lung room of the orator, each and all of whom were born for the forum, each and all of whom were orators compelling and persuasive. I fancy Pericles had that glorious rotundity of bust that was possessed by all three of the men I have named. But this Indian Congressman Carter has a more magnificent chest than any one of the Kentuckians I mentioned, and had he been born the son of some Kentucky Breckinridge or Brown or McKenzie and bred to the forum, I am persuaded he would have surpassed all three of the great orators I have named—the dulcet Breckinridge, the torential Brown, the tuneful McKenzie.

But Carter was bred a merchant's clerk, a school superintendent, a farm hand, a cow puncher, a broncho buster. His was a wild life. Mother Earth was his couch, the starry firmament his canopy. He associated with Indians, cowboys, stage drivers, soldiers, "bad" men and cow thieves. He knew personally most of the famous desperadoes, and recognized all of them by sight, such as the James boys, the Youngers, "Billey the Kid," Pat Garrett, the Daltons, the Lee boys and Sam Bass. He was acquainted with Crazy Snake, Geronimo, the Sitting Bull. Perhaps this man Carter was saved from the life of a desperado by the teachings of a Christian Indian mother, who inculcated him in his infancy with correct sentiments touching right and wrong, ere he attended the first school at the age of 11 years. He shot with bow and arrow as soon as he was out of skirts, and became wonderfully expert. He was superb at "bushka," the Indian baseball. He is a grand fisherman — how truthful. I don't know. In the water he can swim like a shark and float like a cork. On horseback he is at home and with the lariat he can catch the wildest bull at full speed by any hoof.

This Indian Carter is no carpet knight in the melee of parliamentary controversy. He has a shining lance and a savage axe. His speech on the bill entitled an act "Removing Restrictions from Certain Lands in Oklahoma," delivered March 14, 1908, is, all things considered, wonderful production. I wish every American, pure Anglo-Saxon, would read it. A sedate man like James B. Beck or Isham G. Harris, or a brilliant man like W. C. P. Breckinridge, or George G. Vest, might have been proud to father it. When it is considered that this speech came spontaneous from a merchant's clerk, a cow puncher, a broncho buster, who never attended college a day, or read a law book, it is simply a marvelous production.

That it was unstudied is evident, for the most brilliant passages are in response to abrupt interruptions. There is argument, conclusion, mingled with poetry and pathos, and couched in a sweet and undefiled English that very few of our orators are masters of.

I wish I had space to make copious quotations from his great speech, and I have sought to select passages from it to crib, but I could not make selections, for, try as I would, and as I did, other passages clamored for the place.

Carter has the Indian eye in its rich black and fathomless depth and yet it is a laughing eye, such as the cavalryman of romance has. What a trooper he would have been under Forrest, what a raider under Morgan!

In social converse he will frequently startle you with a thought entirely new to you.

People with chronic bronchitis, asthma and lung trouble, will find great relief and comfort in Foley's Honey and Tar, and can avoid suffering by commencing to take it at once. For sale by all druggists.

THE FARMER AND REFORM

THE MAN WHO TILLS THE SOIL FAILS TO FIND THE "MORE ABUNDANT LIFE" BECAUSE HE HAS NOT BEEN ACCUSTOMED TO TEAM WORK.

By GEORGE W. CONN

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

(Mr. Conn is one of the pioneers in the "get together" movement that has recently been instituted among farmers. Years before the president's country life commission was thought of he started a "Federation of Rural Forces" in McHenry county, Ill. He writes from large personal experience.)

It occurs to the writer that of all the causes that prevent the farmer from entering completely into the inheritance of the race and the joys of the "more abundant life," that most fundamental is the lack of a proper social consciousness. His regard for others, to a great degree, is limited to those directly dependent upon him. He builds, thinks and lives almost entirely for his own family. The half-mile from any one has somewhat narrowly inclined his social nature. He does not work in team fashion to good effect. He is not entirely unprogressive. In truth, this is too frequently ascribed to the farmer without proper qualification. He may be justly described as unprogressive when it comes to matters of co-operation or social activity. He often has his "modern" improvements on his farm, but they are solely for him and his "son John." The same man, when he moves to town to "retire," may quite possibly be found among the reactionaries, or members of the "agin it" party, when it comes to the questions of municipal improvements. He has not been "broke" to team work. He has always gone "single."

The most vital problems of the farmer of today involve the economic element in their solutions, and the solution in turn reacts upon the economic situation. The reorganization of two of the most important institutions of the country, the school and church, demands a riper social consciousness. We must have more taxes for one and more generous subscriptions and endowments for the other. The consolidated country school on the one hand and the revitalized and reorganized church on the other will be potent factors in the development of this much-needed social consciousness. To get it we must have them—and to have them we must get it. All co-operation for mutual protection and profit demands a lively social consciousness for its inception and for its successful and efficient prosecution. This seems to be the ultimate desideratum to insure progress in this day and age, and this is just the point that seems to be vulnerable in the character of the farmer.

Growing out of this weakness are many secondary or resulting deficiencies in character. First, his lack of respect for, or a better appreciation of, the finer conventionalities of life. Those customs or practices that, considered separately, are somewhat unimportant, but, in their totality, constitute a fairly true measure of civilization. Second, his lack of respect for "expert knowledge or opinion." Third, his somewhat blind worship of customs and traditions that lead him to confuse slavish imitation with the genuinely practical. Fourth, his inability to get a proper perspective because of his isolation, his so-called "independence" and the exaltation of the commercial ideal.

The farmer's lack of respect for expert opinion is one of the chief obstacles that must be overcome before he can take a forward step. He has been one of the last to recognize the principle of division of labor. This accounts somewhat for his slowness to place confidence in the specialist. Evidence of this is on every hand. He does not value the special knowledge of the teacher as his city brother does. He is prone to ignore the suggestions, and even the orders of the boards of health. He has ignored if not actually defied the work of his local agricultural experiment station to the "last ditch," and only in the last few years has he begun somewhat grudgingly to give them his assistance and confidence.

He has generally been the last to avail himself of the mechanical conveniences of the times. He has most frequently been the pioneer in subscribing for marvelous "hair-growers," quack remedies, magnified fruit embalmed in alcohol and many other "gold bricks." He has too often refused to assist and credit the honest expert in a worthy, constructive work, but has been easily hypnotized by the fake who always held out promises of immediate and magnificent results. Not the least among these instances of his refusal to recognize his real friends was the attitude displayed by many farmers toward the proposal to appoint a commission on country life. It was ridiculed privately and publicly, and here and there are still to be found the dispensers of sarcasm among the farmers. It is the old story of disregard for the opinion of the one who ought to know more than the average person about the situation. That the commission should be made up entirely of a number of so-called practical farmers is not to be thought of. The sooner that farmers recognize the fact that suggestions and much help must come from people who are making a special study of the problem, and who are not now milking cows twice a day, the sooner we shall see a better day. The fact that a specialist is not now working on a farm is not prima facie evidence that all his suggestions are valueless and wholly theoretical. The best advice to many professions and occupations often comes from people who have obtained a good vantage point and proper perspective. The highest self-respect can only come to those who have a high respect for others and their knowledge in an age whose complexity is as evident as the present.

The farmer's lack of regard for the finer conventionalities of life weakens his attempts at co-operation. The men of the city appreciate these so-called minor traits. This very regard for the niceties in social relations dignifies and strengthens their co-operative efforts.

The writer recently attended a meeting of about 600 farmers, who were attempting to form an association for mutual protection. The scene was enough to make one weep who has at heart the welfare of country life. United and harmonious action was an impossibility. The chairman, a good man and a farmer, could do little toward maintaining order. Parliamentary practices were wholly ignored and trampled under foot, as were many other conventionalities. The appearance of the room after the adjournment (better dissolution) was a spectacle calculated to bring a blush to the cheek of the man of some refinement and regard for manners.

The writer is loath to say these seemingly harsh things about the farmer and his lack of refinement in some very common and necessary walks of life. Yet it appeared to the observer to be a factor of no little consequence in the working out of an organization that would be effective and demand the respect of all people. When he comes to that point of development where he rationally and promptly recognizes a place and time for the finer conventionalities of life, he will have made a distinct advance toward his own freedom.

The groove of tradition and custom is worn deep by the farmer. Proposals for a change meet with the stock argument, "We've always got along this way." In a sense it is a hard argument to meet. It's the last resort in forensic oratoricals. The farmer does many, many things in a long and laborious fashion that could easily be improved by slight changes here and there, and by the aid of science. Brains could frequently substitute for brawn for the good of all were it not for this attitude of almost fetich worship. He often prides himself on his "practicality" when a little analysis displays his practicality as a slavish dependence on tradition or custom. Conservatism of the true type is the safeguard of the country, but when it assumes the form of unnatural worship and slavish repetition, when it becomes an accompanist of irrationality, it loses its claim to being a virtue.

This lack of respect for science and the rational element in farm activities has no doubt been one of the factors that drove the boy from the farm. This influence of tradition accounts for many instances of a sustained farm architecture that is outworn, unadapted and unscientific. People still plant beans in "the moon" and overlook the important truths that later science has revealed to them concerning the importance of obeying some of the mandates of nature in preparing the soil and pay a little less attention to a fickle moon. But if the moon does have something to say regarding the growth of beans, let us know. This is what adds zest to farming and puts it in line with other vocations. There is no country problem for the farmer who has caught the vision. It is for those who haven't seen the star of hope.

A man does not necessarily become a full-fledged candidate for the Heavenly Kingdom because he is born in a flower garden or has one put around him. It helps but it cannot wholly save the sinner. Environment does much but it cannot do everything. Beauty is a great element for good in our surroundings, but it cannot purge a man entirely of his sin. On the whole, however, the silent influences are powerful often in inverse ratio to their noisiness. Waiving all sentiment, all poetical hyperbole and all exaggerations of the love-sick youth, we still maintain that the surroundings of the farmer are superior to any other class in the creation of noble traits of character, providing he enters into them. Here is the trouble. He doesn't see these things in their proper relations and proportions. Again, and what is more nearly the truth in prosperous America, he has supplied himself with spectacles whose orbs are two gold eagles and he stumbles through the furrows blind to the truth that would come in and make him free. The dollar has caught him, blind-folded him, gagged him and left him helpless so far as ability to realize spiritual freedom is concerned. The best that's in him is now gone. Everybody sees more in the beauty and the freedom of the farm than the farmer. This beauty is not deception. It's not a mirage, neither is it a hallucination nor an illusion. It is a stern fact farther away from the grindstone of daily toil, when he looks from corn to hogs, from hogs to dollars, and then—when he looks from these to more of life's conveniences, to something better for his kinsmen, instead of casting envious and greedy eyes at the "jining forty," will he learn the lessons that the farm has to teach.

SOCIALISM AND INDOLENCE

"Socialism would compel the worker to share with the shirker," says Ex-President Roosevelt.

"What would you do with the lazy man under Socialism?" is an oft repeated query put to us. There are many persons who sincerely believe that we aim to usher in an economic state where the shirkers would be enabled to live at the expense of the workers, and when men of prominence echo these sentiments it is not at all to be wondered that persons who have given no serious thought to the subject at all—some through lack of time, many through indifference—should fear the incoming of Socialism.

If we are to take a brief summary of existent economic conditions it will require but little effort to ascertain to our own satisfaction that the really necessary work of the nation is being done by the men and women and children who are tilling the soil, cultivating the fields, laying the foundations, erecting the buildings, making the machines, weaving the cloth—in short, all those engaged in the vocations of creating all foodstuffs, all clothing, all buildings, all modern means of transportation and communication; that they, and they alone, are the class who carry upon their combined shoulders the burden and the responsibility of feeding and housing and clothing the entire population of the country. We find, furthermore, that this class suffers most from overwork, and also from lack of proper nourishment; that from this class spring the beggars and "ne'er-do-wells"; that from this class arise not only the "dead beats" and criminals of the land, but also the paupers, the tired and the lazy and the indolent.

It is peculiarly characteristic of the human type that as we evolve more and more our complex civilization; that, as a result of an intensified productivity made possible by the agency of the machine, which is an evolution of modern times, that the worker in mine, mill and factory becomes himself merely a tool employed as one of the factors for the production of commodities. All that is expected of him is sinew and muscle that is able to keep pace in the workshop with the iron and steel instruments and machines that he works in conjunction with. Speed is oft-times more important than skill in many an occupation. This intensity and stress inevitably tend to kill off soul, conscience, consciousness, and ultimately drains the very physical organism of its health and virility. Is it to be wondered if, as a consequence of such conditions, that in the mating of the sexes—both parents having been overworked in the shop and mill, their youth and vigor taken from them and transposed into some material product in the form of a social commodity—that the child thus brought into the world is anemic, sickly and grows up tired and lazy? The real wonder is that the proportion of lazy people is so small comparatively. Many of us are prone to jump at conclusions and condemn the acts of individuals for many things over which, as individuals, they had no power of control. Society—not the individual—has brought into vogue the economic conditions which tend to the enslavement of the workers of the nation. Why, therefore, condemn the effect and yet uphold the cause? Does overwork tend to make man healthy and strong? Does lack of proper food and shelter enable a man to become physically sound?

"As ye sow, so shall ye reap." Society has sown, and today the great mass of individual units in society are reaping the effects. The proper place (in the writer's estimation) for a lazy man is a sanitarium, plenty of fresh air, plenty of food, plenty of lung exercise, and it then becomes only a question of time, if he is not too far gone, when he recovers and becomes a well man—physically and mentally. It is illogical to assume that a man possessed of complete faculties will deliberately evade doing his duty in a social state where all are permitted to develop freely and none are exploited for private profit.

Over 2,000,000 children, boys and girls, most of whom ought to be in the schools at study, are now giving away their immature life blood in the workshops of the land so that an insignificant few of the human race may be enabled to revel in luxury. Is it to be wondered at if these tots develop the worst and not the better traits of human nature? Can it be claimed that working in the shops tends to refine character? The children—as is well known—become worldly wise, possessed of knowledge that contaminates and brutalizes the better self. The church finds itself helpless when compelled to combat the evils that are so grossly evident everywhere, when it attempts to deal with the problem of child labor and its moral aspects, "Suffer little children to come unto me?" What a satire our veneered twentieth century civilization is and its professed Christianity when we try to square it with the teachings of the greatest teacher of the "Christian era." Thousands of children are being sent plumb to hell every year. It is the fiendishness of the profit devil that sends them there. Sometimes the "money changers" wake up and decide to give a ball in the interest of charity—"a charity ball"—and to show their greatness they dress themselves for the occasion in their royal robes a la decollete, spending upon themselves hundreds of thousands of dollars for champagne and other people's necessities, and then as they gaze at one another through their lorgnettes they manage to pass a few condolences upon the "poor creatures" living in the underworld, and then exhausted and self contented they allow their flunkeys to hie them homewards in their magnificent equipages—the poor have been saved another year. Oh ye masters, day of reckoning will come. Let us pray that you wake up before then.

MORRIS KAPLAN.

POLAND CELEBRATES THE CENTENNIAL OF POET'S DEATH

All Poland is celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the birth of one of her greatest sons—the poet Julius Slowacki.

Great poets, artists, musicians and scientists play in the modern life of the Polish nation a part far greater and more important than they would if Poland was a free and independent country. For a nation which has neither kings or presidents of its own, which is deprived of a national government, has no army and still is fighting for its national existence, great men and women in the realm of spirit mean more than for anyone else. They are natural leaders of the people in the days of its calamity. They are for Poland, the sword that strikes and the shield that protects.

One of the greatest among these spiritual leaders of modern Poland, Julius Slowacki was born at Krzemieniec Aug. 23, 1809, son of a professor of literature. He lost his father while he was a child and was educated by his mother in Vilno, which was then famous for its university. Endowed with a strong and brilliant imagination and with a wonderful gift of language, Slowacki became soon the typical romanticist of those highly romantic times. Byron laid early his hold upon him as upon so many other poets, and scarcely anywhere did the great English master come upon a more congenial spirit.

In 1829, Slowacki settled in Warsaw, but when the revolution of 1830 broke out and took complete possession of him. From that moment the "Byronist" became a political power; his lyrical poems written in the patriotic and revolutionary spirit brought him easily to the front of a nation struggling for its liberty. In March, 1831, Slowacki left Poland on a diplomatic mission and after a short activity in Dresden and London went to Paris, which, after the disastrous end of the war with Russia, became the headquarters of the most prominent political exiles.

In Paris Slowacki printed his first volume of poems containing dramas and narratives in romantic style. The semiepic poem, "Jan Bielecki," and the dramas, "Mindowe" and "Mary Stuart," presages the coming master.

The feverish political activity of the Polish refugees in Paris did not agree with the poet, and in 1832 he went to Geneva, where he wrote some of his best works, as "Anhelli," "In Switzerland," a highly delicate and intellectual poem; "Kordyan," a patriotic drama based upon the preparations to the revolution of 1830; "Mazeppa," "Balladyna" "Lambro" and others. In his dramas Slowacki especially appropriated Shakespeare's style of manner. His are of that period, reflects necessarily suffering, discontent, wrath at terrestrial and celestial injustice and depicts unsuccessful attempts to prevent wrong or to avenge outraged right.

In 1836-8 Slowacki visited Italy and the Orient. To this journey was due one of the best jewels of Polish poetry, "The Plague in the Desert," which is justly celebrated as a tragic description of a calamity recalling that of the Greek Niobe. In this poem an Arab patriarch tells in simple, but eloquent words how he has seen his whole family torn away from him by the plague. The antique severity and biblical grandeur of this narrative made it famous in all Europe.

In 1838 the poet returned to Paris, where he remained until the end of his life; he died April 4th, 1849. This third period of Slowacki's short life was very fruitful, but the character of his poetry changed materially. During the years 1840-48 the friends of liberty in France and almost the whole of Europe were making their preparations to another struggle for political liberty which for many of the nations was to be the last.

The great year 1848, "the springtime of nations," as it is being called in history, was approaching, and every great and pure spirit was doing his share of the work. Poland's best sons, gathered in Paris, were teaching the young republicans of western Europe the art of working and fighting for liberty, and amongst them the inspired words of Slowacki were ringing as those of a prophet of a new era.

The theory of the poet was that mankind, in order to enjoy liberty, must render himself worthy of this greatest of all blessings, must rise to the height of possible perfection. The world as it is, or as it was then, did not conform with the ideals of the poet. He saw his own shortcomings and those of his people and called to all to make atonement for their sins. "The Spirit is the King," such is the title of his last unfinished poem—in which Slowacki attempted to picture the gradual development of mankind from barbarism to civilization; underground to this highly philosophical work is Poland's history from its most ancient times.

Slowacki is one of the most powerful factors in the national and political life of Poland, and his influence grows stronger with every year. His teachings are being religiously observed by Poland's sons and daughters, who see in him a prophet and a national hero. His last words to the people were highly significant of what he thought to be the best way to freedom. "Now I go," he says in his poetical testament, "but I beseech the living not to lose hope, to carry always in front of the people the torch of enlightenment, and if needs be to lay down their lives one after the other, as if they were stones, which God's hand throws on a heap to build a trench against the evil."

And in the other place of the same poem he says: "I am gone, but I shall live forever as a fatal force, which invisible will work amongst you until it makes angels of you all eaters of bread."

To change common breadeaters into angels was and is still the historic mission of this great soul, whose ambition was to be "a pilot of a boat full of spirits." He saw freedom and salvation for his people in moral and intellectual uplifting; his poetry is a real power which works amongst the people of Poland as an invisible force, which brings nearer and nearer the hour of justice and of resurrection.

In acknowledgement of his great service to Poland's cause the Polish people by unanimous vote decreed to bring the remains of the poet from the Paris cemetery, where they are resting, and to place them in Cracow, in the national Pantheon alongside of the ashes of Poland's old kings.

ARMY "ROBS" THE SOUTH OF HELP

Negroes Are Enlisting; Employers Must Find Other Workers.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 21.—The male negro population of Atlanta has been materially reduced, and the owners of drug stores, soda foundations, near-beer saloons and messenger agencies are loudly denouncing the United States army for robbing them of their help.

For a number of years negroes have not been enlisted because the two negro regiments had their full quota of men. But the Tenth cavalry has just returned from three years' duty in the Philippines and many terms of enlistment are expiring. To fill the ranks negroes are being enlisted again.

The enthusiastic reception given the black regiment upon its arrival in New York recently has been the one topic among the Southern blacks, and they are all delighted because the negro troopers were treated "lak white folks." Consequently over 100 recruits were shipped to Columbus, Ohio, in one day.

SOOTHED TO SLEEP BY SKEETER BAND

Missouri Village Residents Find Way to Make the Pests Useful.

Higginsville, Mo., Aug. 21.—Residents of this city are the inventors of a scheme which may mean much to suffering humanity. It concerns the swatting of the mosquito.

Like most great ideas, it is simple. It is a wonder it has not been universally adopted long ago. It simply consists of a bulwark of sticky fly paper all around one's bed. This fly paper is made to give out an appetizing odor by flavoring it with a drop of vanila.

It works like a charm, and mosquitoes which would otherwise stand on the bridge of one's nose at midnight get caught in the savory stuff and soothe the sleeper to sweet dreams with their last expiring buzzes.

The scheme has its drawbacks, of course—if the baby needs walking about 2 a. m., or if one's wife fancies she hears burglars and routs one out of bed just before dawn—but taken in all in all the citizens of Higginsville consider it a great success.

SOCIETY

THE golf tournament and attendant festivities have occupied the attention of the members and their visitors at the Northland Country club. Those who were not playing were interested, and the dinners at the clubhouse in the evenings repeated the remarkable plays of the day and still more remarkable ones that were to come tomorrow. Among the dinner hosts of the week at the club were Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Patrick, who entertained twenty guests Monday evening. A. W. Taussig also entertained at a dinner of twenty-five covers, and Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Ward Amers, Jr., entertained twelve guests. An informal dancing party was held every evening at the clubhouse.

FORMAL AFFAIRS OF THE WEEK

Mrs N. F. Huge was hostess at a tea Monday afternoon at her home, 2407 East First street, in the living room pink roses were the decorations and the summer garden flowers were used about the other rooms. THE FATHER OF THE YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK

Nathaniel Pitt Langford's Part in the Discovery of the Park.

By J. S. KIRTLEY

If the title of "Father of the Yellowstone Park" can be honorably and becomingly worn by any one man, living or dead, that man is Hon. Nathaniel Pitt Langford, now living in St. Paul, Minn., at the age of 77.

I.

The part that he played in the discovery of the park looms larger in the lengthening perspective. Though not the official leader of the famous Washburn-Doane party that went out from Helena, Mont., in 1870, to confirm and complete the discovery of the party and then convincingly announce its existence to a cruelly incredulous public, yet his enthusiastic interest in the tantalizing mystery of that fascinating region, his natural aptitudes for such an adventure and his peculiar preparation for it made him a surpassingly important member of the party.

He had gone through a process of reasoning that issued in an unshakable conviction that extraordinary natural phenomena were to be found. The rumors he began to hear shortly after his arrival at Grasshopper creek, near the head of the Missouri river, in the Northern Overland expedition from St. Paul, piqued his curiosity. That was in October, 1862. The report of Capt. John Mullan to congress in 1863, which said that "hot geysers, similar to those of California, exist at the head of the Yellowstone," fell into his hands. That set him to guessing and reasoning. And when he was made president of a wagon road company that carried emigrants from the East into Montana, he had the good fortune to have in his employ for a time the famous Jim Bridger, discoverer of the Great Salt lake and the most capable frontiersman of his day. Jim spun his aerial yarns, and, as usual, no one believed him, no one but Langford. He believed some of them. Jim told of spouting springs that shot up as high as the flag pole in Virginia City, which was sixty feet. Langford believed him because he did not think Bridger possessed the type of mind capable of perpetrating an imaginary geyser. A man who has that peculiar power of discrimination, and can tell when a liar is telling the truth, is sure to do something worth thinking about. He was fully convinced. The next thing was to see this place for himself. High mountains, wild beasts, snows unmelted save for a short time in summer, and the outbreak of the Crow Indians made his proposed expedition in 1867 impossible. It was partly his discussion of the matter and partly the spreading contagious conviction that wonders were to be found up there, that led David E. Folsom and C. W. Cook, attended by William Peterson, to make a quiet, but courageous excursion into the Yellowstone country. They discovered the lower geyser basin. That was in 1869. No one was more interested in their report on their return to Helena than Mr. Langford. It is curiously amusing to us that when he and Hon. Samuel T. Hauser invited Mr. Folsom to meet them in the directors' room at the First National bank and tell what he saw, and assembled some of their friends to hear the story, Mr. Folsom declined to talk in the audience or strangers for fear he would be considered a liar. Others were interested with him, among them Gen. Washburn and Mr. Hauser. In an interview with Gen. Hancock in St. Paul early in the spring of 1870, Mr. Langford received promise of a military escort whenever the expedition should go. A party was enrolled that summer, but faded away at the news of another uprising among the Crow Indians. Then, another plan by which he and Mr. Hauser were to be joined by James Stewart of Deer

then his clear voice rang out the lines from Cowper's "Task," beginning thus: "As one who long in thickets and in brakes Entangled, winds now this way and now that."

He closed with:

"He chirrups brisk his ear-erecting steed
And winds his way with pleasure and with ease."

"For myself I do not know of any day since I left home when I have been in better spirits. I am sure we are on the right course and do not feel any anxiety." That is what he wrote in his diary before he went to sleep. "I am so perfectly confident we are on the right course that I am in the best of spirits." That is what he wrote Sunday morning, after he crawled out from under his thatched roof, and all were sitting about bedraggled in the chilly rain. Crash went a saddle, dragged by a panic-stricken horse against iron picket pins, and all were surprised when Langford produced a little seamless sack of personal baggage and took out of it two gimlets, a screw driver, a pair of nippers, some wrought nails and screws of various sizes, with which the saddle was soon mended.

"There is a pleasure in the pathless woods," he quoted from Byron as they moved off that morning amid inner and outer gloom.

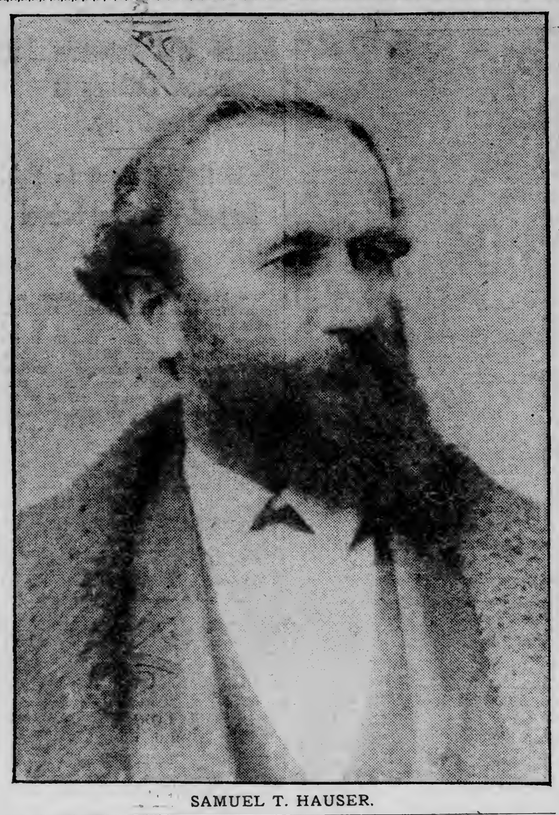
"You always seem to have another card up your sleeve when an emergency arises," said Stickney to him on Monday as they rode along, for Langford had just taken out some maple sugar which he had been carrying in that same seamless sack for five weeks, and distributed it to the hungry men. That Sunday, as they entered the open space at the Firehole river, they saw a column of sparkling water projected to a height of over 100 feet. They saw their first real geyser and named it "Old Faithful." Their expedition had gained its purpose and would live in history. Diaries were kept by Washburn, Doane, Hedges and Langford, the latter the most elaborate and now constituting an attractive volume recently printed.

II.

In securing the nationalization of the Yellowstone region as a park he bore the leading part in a most heroic achievement. The idea of a national park in the wild Northwest was first suggested by George Catlin, the painter of Indian features and forms, that was away back in the 30's. Mr. Folson of the party of 1869 had expressed the same wish to Gen. Washburn before they started on the expedition, but it had not been otherwise mentioned. It was on Monday night, Sept. 19, as they sat about the camphre at the junction of the Gibbon and Firehole rivers that Judge Hedges first introduced the idea in the party. All voted for it with delight, all but Jake Smith. "Our purpose to create a park can only be accomplished by uniting work and concerted action against the incredulity and unbelief of our national legislators, when our proposal shall be presented for their approval. Nevertheless I believe we can win the battle," Mr. Langford made the above entry in his diary that night. They must use personal influence, the pen, public speech, especially in Washington. While Folsom wrote for the Western Monthly of Chicago and Hedges for the Helena Herald, Langford wrote articles that appeared in Scribner's, May and June, 1871. The public laughed at these Western romancers. One man wrote to Dr. Holland, editor of Scribner's this Langford must be the champion liar of the Northwest." Langford went East and lectured in leading cities, at his own expense. Judge Hedges and Congressman Claggett helped outline the campaign. Three arduous months he spent in Washington city. Claggett drew up the bill. Dr. Hayden of the geological survey furnishing boundary lines. Congressmen found copies of the Scribner articles lying on their desks the day before the question came to vote. When, on March 1, 1872, the bill passed both houses and was signed by the president, all who had desired its passage were ready to give Mr. Langford his full mead of praise.

III.

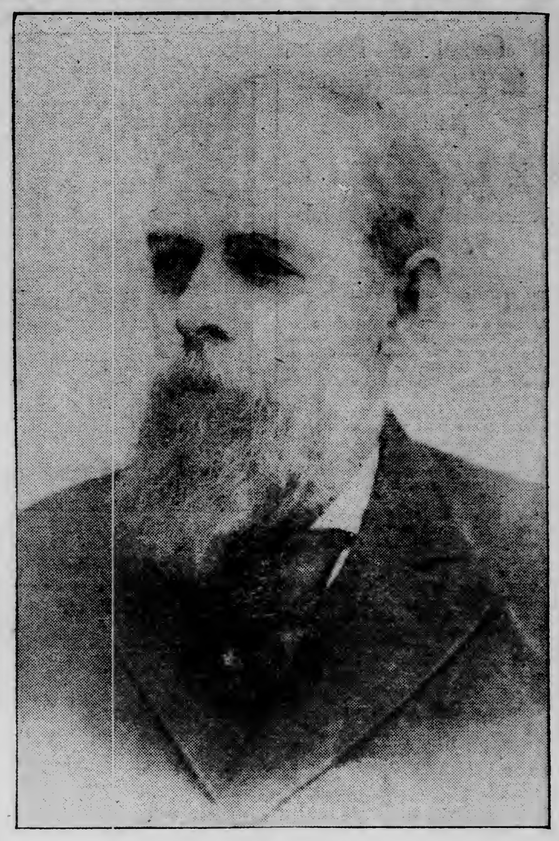
But his most heroic and distinguished service was yet to be rendered. As first superintendent of the park, without salary or an expense account, without facilities or precedents, without popular support, and in the face of every possible effort of greed to exploit the park for personal gain and thereby practically denationalize it. It required clear reasoning, imperious sense of right, unwavering confidence in the outcome, unselfish devotion and unflinching purpose to refuse the offers of rich men to put in needed improvements and pay the government a bonus besides for the privilege of controlling admittance to the park. The salary and the expense account he declined in order to save it from becoming a matter of political spoils.



SAMUEL T. HAUSER.

It was the quality of the man that accounts for his part in the romance of the park. That is the reason Mr. Lincoln had summoned him to the post of collector of internal revenue, when the territory of Montana was organized in 1864. When, in one of President Johnson's caprices he was removed from office, the senate found his collections the best they had, and refused to allow his removal. In another caprice Johnson later appointed him governor, but the matter went over till Grant came in and appointed another man. He had his part in the work of the "Vigilantes," in ridding the community of Henry Plummer and his band of outlaws, of which he tells in his "Vigilante Days and Ways."

Once he was in the town of Blackfoot with his collections of $12,000, which he was to take to Deer Lodge the next day. Four desperadoes were at a drinking house just out of Blackfoot that morning to rob him. Mr. Langford's friend declined to go further and cut across the country. Mr. Langford rode on, but soon saw he was pursued. By looking back at them carefully and riding on slowly he led them to think he was protected in ways they were not aware of and they came on cautiously and slowly. He knew his horse, on a long run, could outrun their ponies. He knew that if he could get one mile ahead he could escape. He rode slowly to the top of the hill and, while they were ascending it, he and Ned were making lightning speed on the other side. He was a mile ahead when they viewed him from the ridge. They saw his ruse and the race began. They gained on him and got almost within shooting distance, but Ned's staying qualities and his rider's cool judgment won the day and, one by one, the ruffians gave up the chase with curses and imprecations upon his head.



DAVID E. FOLSOM.

The park finder was by nature a path finder. He had come to that little town of Bannock, where President Lincoln found him, when he wanted the right kind of a revenue collector, as second assistant to the overland expedition of James L. Fisk from St. Paul, in 1862, leading a band of 120 men and fifty-three wagons drawn by oxen, through the territory of hostile Indians, and many other dangers and hardships. And Fisk found him the careful cashier of a bank in St. Paul conducted by his brother-in-law, Mr. Marshall, afterwards governor of Minnesota. And for that bank position he was fitted by years of training in the public schools of Westmoreland, N. Y., and several years in a bank at Utica. By nature and nurture he was a man for a manly career. As chairman of the Ramsey county board of control and president of the Minnesota Historical society he still leads a strenuous life, but nothing gives him quite so much pleasure as his annual visit to the Yellowstone Park, where all honors are gladly shown him.

LIEUT. GUSTAVE C. DOANE.

Lodge, in a sort of still hunt was succeeded by the final enrollment of the party that marched out from Helena Wednesday, Aug. 17, 1870, each one as "gay as a bridegroom," on an expedition that was to become famous in American history. The following Sunday they were joined at Fort Ellis by a military escort under Lieut. Doane. Nine civilians, six soldiers and four packers and cooks, nineteen in all, made up the historic party. Their names should all be written down. The civilians were Gen. Henry D. Washburn, surveyor general of Montana; Judge Cornelius Hedges, a distinguished lawyer; Samuel T. Hauser, a civil engineer, president of the First National Bank of Helena and afterwards governor of Montana Territory; Warren C. Gillette and Benjamin Stickney, merchants of Helena; Walter Trumbull, assistant assessor of internal revenue; Jake Smith, N. P. Langford. The attendants were two white men named Reynolds and Bean and two negro cooks. The soldiers were Lieut. Gustavus C. Doane of the Second United States cavalry, Sergeant William Baker and Privates John Williamson, George W. McDonnell, William Leipler and Charles Moore.

On that exploration that tested every man's timber, no other man could have filled just the place Mr. Langford took. Mr. Hauser said he had a better idea of directions and distances and mountain heights than any man he had ever known except James Stewart. When there was delicate work requiring a steady nerve, Langford was called on. For nine days and nights a virulent felon kept Lieut. Doane awake, till at last he consented to a surgical operation and Mr. Langford was chosen to perform it, while two men held Doane. Langford thrust a sharp knife, like a lightning stroke, clear through the felon to the bone. "Mr. Langford performed the operation in a masterly manner," was Lieut. Doane's report of the incident.

The whole party were depressed that rainy Friday night, Sept. 16, in camp at the Northwest corner of Yellowstone lake. They had gone up the Yellowstone river and around the lake, without discovering many phenomena, had lost Mr. Everts and spent days in searching for him in vain and now were turning homeward, uncertain as to their own whereabouts. "Cheer up," he said to Washburn and Hauser and

WRITE TO TEDDY FOR POST CARDS

Correspondents Make All Kinds of Wild Demands on the Ex-President.

Nairobi, British East Africa, Aug. 21.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Theodore Roosevelt has received many letters from the United States, containing all kinds of requests with which it is impossible for him to comply, and which it is equally impossible for him even to answer. He has no private secretary—no one to whom he can dictate his correspondence, or who does typewriting for him—and, excepting once or twice when a personal friend has enabled him to catch up with some of his mail by typewriting for him, he has been obliged to leave the great bulk of these letters unanswered.

The petitions are of every conceivable nature, including requests for live wild animals for zoological gardens, for skins of dead animals, for large snakes, for birds' eggs, for teeth and claws of lions and tigers (the writers evidently not knowing that there are no tigers in Africa, and that it would utterly spoil the value of any specimen, whether for scientific or any other purpose, to mutilate it by taking out the claws and teeth), requests for plants, for picture post cards, which are naturally not to be found in the African wilderness, and for all kinds of other objects, including even pickled meat and dried meat of game.

Not only is it impossible for such requests to be granted, but it is impossible for Col. Roosevelt even to attempt to answer the letters making them. The time he has for writing is occupied—and, indeed, more than occupied—by the work he does for a New York magazine.

Paying the Turkish Army.

The task of delivering the pay of any part of the Turkish army is stupendous. Eight kartloads of silver coin were recently conveyed from Ottoman bank to Scraskerat to pay the soldiers who took part in the recent disturbance. These wagons were not guarded; the bags of coin bumped and rattled on the loose boards, the horses stumbled with the weight and onlookers ran forward and pushed. Every Turkish soldier gets a "Medjidieh," which is equal to $4.50. For food values, golden grain belt beer ranks first. The hardy barley and hope from which it is made gives strength to the body and aids the tired brain. Order a case today. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch. UNION MEETING OF ODD FELLOWS

Grand Officers Guests at Reception in Duluth.

The Odd Fellows of Duluth, Superior and Proctor, turned out in force to the big union meeting of the order which was held last evening at Odd Fellows hall, 18 Lake avenue north, in honor of a number of the grand officers of the lodge who were present. The grand lodge officers who were in the city yesterday and in whose honor the affair was given were: Past Grand Master A. Farnsworth of St. Paul; Grand Secretary Al Bolton, St. Paul; Grand Warden H. W. Phillips, St. Paul, and H. A. Hamblin, grand marshall, Duluth.

An initiation of three candidates into the first degree of the order by the famous Duluth team, was a feature of the early part of the evening's entertainment ater which refreshments were served and toasts by the grand officers and others listened to. Capt. Thomas H. Preisnell was toastmaster of the occasion, and Past Grand Masters Hugo and Welles, Mayor R. D. Haven, and Chief of Police C. H. Troyer spoke.

SUES PHYSICIAN.

Eveleth Man Sues Dr. C. W. More for $8,944 for Mistreatment.

Claiming that his health was undermined and seriously impaired by the treatment received while in the hospital operated under the direction of Dr. C. W. More of Eveleth, Frank Johnson, yesterday, commenced suit in the district court against Dr. More for $8,944 damages.

The complaint alleges that from August, 1908, to Nov. 2, 1908, when he left for Hot Springs, he was in Dr. More's hospital. He had been told during the time he was at the hospital that he had taken too much of a certain medicine, he says, but had never been able to find out just what was the matter with him. He was operated on while there. As a result of the treatment he has suffered greatly, he says.

Dr. More in his answer denies the allegations of mistreatment and sets up a counter claim of $124, which he says Johnson owes him for services.

BULL FIGHT PLANNED FOR TAFT AND DIAZ.

Juarez, Mex., Aug. 21.—The city authorities here have voted to appropriate $20,000 to entertain Presidents Diaz and Taft when they meet Oct. 16. The city will be profusely decorated, and a bull fight will be held.

Beverley, Mex., Aug. 21. — President Taft yesterday accepted an invitation to visit Mexican territory on Oct. 16 next, when he will exchange visits with President Diaz of Mexico at El Paso and Ciudad Juarez. Senor Don Francesco Leon De La Barra, the Mexican ambassador, personally conveyed a message from President Diaz to President Taft.

POSTMASTERS AGREE TO CUT DOWN EXPENSES.

Toledo, Ohio., Aug. 21. — Addressing the convention of the National Association of First-Class Postmasters yesterday Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock made public announcement of a policy of strict economy throughout the department, with which he requested the postmasters to comply. He said:

"I am anxious to make a good showing in the postoffice department. I want each postmaster to use every endeavor of reasonable economy in his office. Prevent waste of supplies; see that there is no greater expense than necessary to provide substitute or auxiliary service; double up wherever possible in every way, and reduce expenses as far as you can without impairing the efficiency of the service."

The convention, by a rising vote, pledged support of the policy of economy.

AGED STATE SENATOR DROWNS HIMSELF.

Coventry, R. I., Aug. 21.—State Senator Henry Clay Whipple, aged 72 years, and one of the oldest members of the Rhode Island general assembly, committed suicide yesterday by drowning in the brook on his farm here. Despondency due to ill health was the cause.

LEGG AND LIVINGSTONE ARE TIED AT END OF FIRST EIGHTEEN HOLES

Hot Contest in Progress for State Golf Championship.

D. R. McLennan Wins the Consolation Event From Finkensteadt.

The state golf championship is still in doubt.

At the end of the morning's play, which consisted of eighteen holes, Harry Legg of the Minikahda club of Minneapolis and Gerald Livingstone of the Town and Country club of St. Paul, were tied.

The match brought to the grounds the largest crowd of the present tournament. The players were followed over the course by a big gallery, which was not slow in showing its appreciation when the players made particularly good shots.

There was a big wind blowing that seriously interfered with the long drives, but after once around the men had the wind guaged and their drives were beautiful in the extreme.

On the first round Legg was one down. He tied the score on the third hole of the second round, however, and on the fifth by a beautiful putt, set himself one up. In this position the players continued to the ninth hole.

On the drive from the eighth Legg made a beautiful shot, his ball landing within eighteen feet of the hole. Livingstone was not so fortunate. His drive could not have been straighter, but it was a trifle long and rolled over the embankment, a distance of probably fifteen feet. On the next shot he holed the ball. The shot tied the score.

If the men continue in this position throughout the next eighteen holes they will be forced to play until one or the other is up.

Legg Still Favorite.

By showing the great form displayed this morning, Livingstone stock took a big boom, and there were many bets made on the result of the match. Legg still rules the favorite, but Livingstone has many backers. It was nip and tuck throughout the first half of the match.

Don McLennan is the winner of the consolation event. The score was 3 up and 2 to play. Finkensteadt was McLennan's opponent in the finals in this event. Both are Duluth men.

Tonight the ninth annual tournament comes to a close with the distributing of the prizes. Judge Page Morris will in all probability award the prizes won after which most of the out-of-town people will leave for their respective homes.

The tournament has been a great success and the visitors are loud in their praise of the thoroughly good time shown them by the Duluthians.

A number of these from outside left last night and some went on the morning and noon trains so that only the prize winners and those interested in the championship matches are left. The tournament will next year be held on the links of the Town and Country club of St. Paul.

And, by the way, the outside golfers in attendance promise to advertise Duluth weather.

The earlier scores and standings will be found on the sporting page of this evening's edition.

GUESTS OF THE HERALD AT "THE SHEPHERD KING"

Herald Will Entertain 150 School Children at Great Play.

Essay Contest Open to Public and Parochial School Pupils.

One hundred and fifty children who regularly attend the public and parochial schools of Duluth will be the guests of The Evening Herald at the Lyceum theater the evening of Monday, Aug. 30, the opening night of William A. Brady's magnificent production of "The Shepherd King," which has been called the greatest romantic drama of modern times. This wonderful play will be given here with Wright Lorimer, a leading actor of the day, who headed the cast in the original New York production, taking the part of the same character, and with the New York company behind him.

Any pupil in the public or parochial school, regardless of age or grade, who is willing to use a little mental effort in the writing of an essay, will have a chance to get a parquet seat absolutely without cost to him or herself. The Herald has purchased outright 150 of the best seats in the house, and these will be occupied by this number of boys and girls selected from the contestants by a board of competent judges. The writing of the essay will be a very simple matter, for the number of words used will be limited to a small total, and the subject will be an easy one to handle. Full particulars regarding the contest will be printed in Monday evening's Herald. Every child in the city who has passed beyond the lower grades should watch for the announcements, and make him or herself acquainted with the simple conditions.

Last March The Herald had as its guests at a performance of "Ben Hur" 150 children, who got their tickets under similar conditions. Everything relating to the contest was a most gratifying success. Great interest was manifested in the affair, and those who attended the play were, of course, delighted with what they saw. "The Shepherd King" is just such another massive and elaborate production as "Ben Hur," and is clean, moral, elevating, educational, and, above all, highly entertaining. The interest grips the audience from the rise of the curtain on the first act, and there is no abatement of that interest to the very end. No expense has been spared in providing stage settings, costumes and a cast of actors that is hardly without a parallel on the American stage today. The play was one of the most successful produced in New York last year.

A synopsis of the story will be published in Monday's Herald, and the essays should be written from this. All necessary particulars in regard to the contest will be printed at the same time. This is the opportunity of the year for young people who are at all interested in the stage, and will afford them a chance to see, entirely without cost, one of the best, if not the best, dramatic production that will be seen at the Lyceum during the coming season.

REFUSE TO LET BUSINESS INTERFERE WITH PLEASURE

Gambol-on-Green Club Forgets to Elect Officers.

The Big Show Is Taking Place at Fond du Lac.

The gambol of the lambs was duly celebrated last evening. The gambol became so interesting that business for the time was postponed and the election of officers held over until this afternoon.

The gambol of the railroad men was held in the sun parlor of the Spalding. Mart Adson, president of the organization, was ably assisted by W. E. (Bill) Witherspoon, whose rendition of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," was one of the distinctive features of the evening. W. E. Handy, agent of the Northern Pacific at Crookston, better known in the rumble of the rail world as "Big Bill" Handy, rendered the stirring ditty, "Asleep in the Deep." It's a cinch that no one within earshot of the cavernous voice of the Crookstonite slept while he rendered the soulful offering.

F. D. Lyon, the vocalist of the organization, sang with pathetic tenor tenderness that beautiful Irish ballad, "Sweet Molly O'Grady." Mr. Lyon possesses a sweet lyric tenor voice, his friends say, and those who heard him sing last night wonder where he keeps it. Mr. Lyon is very good-natured, and would have willingly responded to encores had there been any.

Clarence Kelly, the genial press agent of the organization, told some very funny stories. Mr. Kelly is an adept with Irish blarney; he is the best raconteur, whatever that means, in the Gambol organization.

Dignified George Sherwood was present last evening, and for the short session actually stopped talking about business and the growing importance of the Soo at the Head of the Lakes. Fred Hills and "Bill" Hathaway, able representatives of the Great Northern, were charming in the true Jeffersonian simplicity of their manner. As hosts to the visitors to our beautiful little city, they were great.

President Adson was ably assisted in the entertaining line by A. M. Fenton, Frank Buckley and Fred Ober. They were compelled to caution Mr. Witherspoon and Mr. Handy in regard to the anti-disturbance ordinance in Duluth, and in this regard the officials of the club proved strict disciplinarians. Mr. "Bill" Handy's rendition of "Old Fred Lyon is a Merry Old Soul," caused passing pedestrians to look toward the top of the building in admiring wonderment. A child escaped from the clutch of its mother and ran for shelter. No other accidents or mishaps have reached the ears of the entertainment committee.

The railroad men had a great and jolly time. Countless cigars were consumed and some very good stories were told. The beautiful moon and the twinkling lights of the harbor made Oscar Hill of Minneapolis sentimental, just a bit, you know, and those seated near him heard him sigh twice, softly.

B. Riedy, Milwaukee, representative of the Chicago & Alton; C. C. Carpenter, passenger agent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe; W. A. McDonald, local agent of the Northern Pacific at Bismarck; F. L. Owston, agent of the Northern Pacific and the Northern Express company at Grafton; Jack Fisher of the local force of the Northern Pacific, "Father Bill" Chadwick, father of the idea of the organization; Neil Mooney, who looks like Kyrle Bellew, Mr. Holliday of theatrical fame; these and many others were present at the gambol of the Knights of the Rail. This morning a large delegation of railroad men reached the city and all left on the steamer for the outing at Fond du Lac. That accounts for the peaceful condition of the city today.

The wives of the members of the organization were the guests of Messrs. Pierce and Morrissey of the Lyceum last evening.

Trans-Mississippi Congress Then Elects Officers and Adjourns.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 21.—Finally approving resolutions which it is believed will put an end to the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy concerning the segregation of lands other than strictly forest lands, the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress adjourned today to meet again in short session at San Antonio, Tex., in November.

The officers who were elected, in addition to Col. Ike T. Pryor, of San Antonio, Tex., and Arthur Francis of Cripple Creek, Colo., president and secretary respectively as already announced in the report of the committee on permanent organization, follow:

First vice president, A. C. Trumbo, Muskogee, Okla.; second vice president, Sam Dutton, Denver; third vice president, Col. W. F. Baker, Sioux City; fourth vice president, C. A. Jastos, Bakersfield, Cal.; chairman of the executive committee, Fred W. Fleming, Kansas City, Mo.;

Urges Waterway Development.

Congressman J. A. McGuire of Nebraska today spoke on inland waterways. He said the United States government had better spend money in developing inland water routes than give it to shipping trusts and in building battleships to ward off imaginary foes. He declared that the waterways will be the surest way of settling the rate question, and will work no hardship on the railroads, because the latter are unable to carry the commerce of the country and will be less able in a few years.

AUTO RACES AT INDIANAPOLIS

Kincaid in a National Wins the Opening Event.

Motor Speedway, Ind., Aug. 21.—Kincaid, in a National won the opening event, a fifteen-mile free-for-all handicap of the third and final day of the inaugural automobile racing meet at the new Indianapolis motor speedway today. The winner had a handicap of one minute, but had a hard battle to defeat Ralph De Palma in a Fiat, who started from scratch. The Fiat was second and a Marmon, with Stillman at the wheel, finished third.

The biggest crowd of the three days' meet was on hand, when the first race was called. It was stated that there were at least 20,000 people in the two big stands. Every available bit of space was filled, and the autos were parked for more than half a mile along the home stretch.

Before the first regular event, Oldfield, Christie and Zengel made onslaughts on the record for a kilometer, but nothing sensational resulted. Oldfield, driving a Benz, covered the distance in 26 2-10. Christie's freak made it in 28 7-10 and Zengel's time was 29 9-10.

Ed Hearne, a Chicago board of trade man, won the amateur championship of America in a ten-mile race. Ryall in a Buick, gave Hearne a battle royal in the first five miles, but dropped back toward the finish. W. W. Cameron, in a Stearns, and Arthur W. Greiner, in a Thomas, started, but did not finish one lap. The time for the event was 9:44 3-10.

TELEGRAPH CODE CHANGE IS DELAYED.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—The Postal and the Western Union Telegraph companies announced today that they have postponed until Dec. 1 the application of the new rule making cipher messages payable at the rate of five letters to the word instead of the present system of ten letters to the word. The new rule was to have been put in operation Sept. 1, and the postponement is given to afford code users an opportunity to revise their codes.

The new rate applies only to land line messages and does not disturb present cable dispatch rates.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED IN COPPER COUNTRY.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Makki, aged 33, married, while working in the eighth level of D shaft of the Champion mine at Painesdale, picking copper, was fatally crushed by a cavein late Thursday night.

Daniel Giullantee fell from the ninth to the thirteenth level of the Trimountain mine where he was employed as a dumper, yesterday, and was killed.

WHERE WOMEN PROPOSE.

Shall women propose, is a question which does not bother the Hopi Indian maiden, who not only invites her chosen one to matrimony, but if necessary drags him to the altar, or its Hopi substitute, by main force.

When a girl has selected her victim —this ungallant way of putting it is that of a writer in the Travel Magazine —she simply calls upon his mother and talks business. If the old lady lends a willing ear, the matter is settled forthwith, and the young man has no course left open excepting to bow to the inevitable. At times, it is said, violence has been resorted to to drag an unwilling youth to the altar.

Once the matter has been settled to the satisfaction of the women concerned, the girl goes to work to grind meal for her prospective mother-in-law for a period of thirty days, while the man in the case is set to work to weave his future bride's wedding garments. At the expiration of the thirty-day period the ceremony takes place.

Whenever a Hopi maiden feels that the time has arrived when she should begin to think seriously of choosing a husband she does up her hair in two gigantic whorls, one over each ear. These are danger signals, warning the young men of the community that she is gunning for a husband. Sometimes it happens that half a dozen or more young men will take to the tall timber on learning that the whorls have appeared upon the head of a young woman. Flight is their only hope, as the mothers are so jealous of the prerogative of their sex that they rarely interpose on behalf of an unwilling son, and the fathers are not consulted.

ROMANTIC TALE OF A CITY.

The story of the founding of the City of Mexico is one of most extraordinary tales in history. It happened in 1325, at least, it began a long time before that, but was an accomplished fact about 600 years ago.

In the first place, says the Rosary Magazine, imagine an almost inaccessible mountain, crowned with a valley at the height of 8,000 feet above the level of the sea. In the center of this valley there was an immense lake. When the Aztecs arrived, led by the priests of the God of War, they found it in the possession of hostile tribes.

For that reason, and because the priests declared that in a certain part of the lake where there stood an elevation of stones, an eagle had been seen devouring a serpent, they began the construction of the city on this spot, immediately over the deepest waters of the lake. There had long existed a prophecy among the Aztecs that their wanderings would end when they should have reached a place where the priests would behold an eagle resting on a cactus plant, devouring a serpent.

Confident that they had found the spot ordained to be their abiding home, they began to construct rafts of the trunks of trees, covering them with thick layers of earth, upon which they built rude huts of more or less solidity. Groups of dwellings soon began to form themselves in regular order, thus determining the primitive streets of the new city.

They also constructed boats and oars of different sizes useful in peace and war, and while certain of their number occupied themselves in defending their homes and brethren from the onslaughts of hostile tribes, others continued to improve and enlarge the new city. Gradually the lake was filled up, and terraces arose, in the place once occupied by the deep waters.

This was in itself a herculean labor, unsurpassed in ingenuity and durability by any similar work of ancient or modern times. Upon the first of these terraces was constructed the Teocalli, or sacrificial temple. It was begun in 1216 and not completed until 1325, a period of 109 years, from which time may be dated the official foundation of Tenochtitlan, today the modern City of Mexico.

RETURNS FROM ENCAMPMENT

Judge S. F. White Says G. A. R. Meeting at Salt Lake Was Good One.

Judge S. F. White, delegate from the Eighth district for the department of Minnesota at the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Salt Lake city last week, returned last evening. Judge White reports that the encampment was one of the best ever held. The people of Salt Lake threw open their doors and extended the glad hand of welcome, taking care of the visiting veterans with whole-hearted hospitality and solicitude.

"There were 800 delegates voting in the convention, more than at any other in recent years, and the attendance of Grand Army men was as large as any one could wish," said Judge White today. "The old fellows turn out regularly and their interest never flags. The parade was an excellent one. The day was hot, but there were no serious prostrations among the old soldiers. Those who were unable to walk were provided with carriages, and every precaution was taken to give them immediate care in case the heat should prostrate them. Salt Lake is a fine city, and the people are of the best.

"They can say what they want about the Mormon church, but, regardless of their beliefs, they have the basic principles of good citizenship. They teach the fundamentals of morality, honesty, integrity, industry and chastity, and where those are, there is good citizenship. I noticed it on this visit as I did when I visited Salt Lake City thirty years ago. The Mormons may be astray on religious beliefs, but they have the proper appreciation of morality to make good citizens."

Judge White is well pleased with the selection of S. R. Van Sant as grand commander and the choice of Atlantic City for the next encampment. He says the fight between Atlantic City and St. Louis for the encampment was the hottest he ever saw in a convention, the Jersey city winning by but fourteen votes.

After the close o fthe convention last Saturday Judge White went to Colorado Springs, where he visited until Wednesday evening, when he left for home.

HOW JOHN GONSKA WON THE FAT MAN'S RACE IN A WALK

Members of Clan Stewart, who held their annual picnic at Fond du Lac Thursday, are telling a story of how John Gonska, popularly supposed to be the heaviest man in town won the fat man's race in their program of sports in a walk, literally speaking. Run as fast as they might, his competitors had no chance from the start, and, greatly to their discomfiture and greatly to the amusement of the crowd, saw him step easily across the line and carry off the prize, without even a single bead of perspiration rolling down his brow.

Mr. Gonska tips the scales at such a generous weight that he refused to enter the race without a handicap. Sizing up his figure, the other contestants readily agreed that he should be given one. He asked for one yard handicap for every pound he outweighed the next heavier man, and this was also agreed to. The course was 100 yards in length. A comparison of weights showed that Mr. Gonska was just ninety-eight pounds heavier than the fattest man among his competitors, and, much to their chagrin, they saw him take his handicap of ninety-eight yards, which brought him within two yards of the finish line. They were game, however, and stuck to their agreement. Three slow steps carried him well across the line, before the others had barely gotten started. He was given the prize.

SUPERIOR NEWS

COPS WILL RUN RACE.

Interesting Physical Examination Will Be Held Next Week.

What may prove to be an interesting field meet will take place one week from today, when the annual examination of all applicants for positions on the police and fire departments of Superior will occur.

There are thirty applicants for the jobs. The men will be put through all kinds of athletic events, such as racing, jumping and other endurance tests. The firemen will be required to climb a 90-foot ladder.

The physical examination will be very rigid, but the educational requirements are but few.

Want School on Point.

Residents on Connor's Point will petition the school board at its next meeting to provide some kind of a school for the small children on the point. Since the acquisition of the Kimball school building by the Soo road, there has been no schoolhouse there. It is believed that it will be too much of a hardship to make the smaller children walk a mile to the nearest school.

Plan Picnic Again.

After many postponements, the Germans at the Head of the Lakes will hold a picnic tomorrow, if good weather prevails, at Germania park at South Superior. The whole day will be devoted to sports reminiscent of the Fatherland. The Duluth contingent will come over in special cars. It is expected that about 300 will attend.

Supt. Delwiche of the state experimental farm staff with a number of city and county officials made a trip yesterday to the experimental farm, the poor farm and the new asylum for the purpose of inspecting them.

Written for the Herald by E. J. Edwards ("Holland")

(Copyright 1909 by E. J. Edwards)

HOW in the world do they manage to do it all?"

Of course you've heard that question asked many a time by persons discussing the great work or the great amount of work done daily by the men of America who always are more or less in the eye of the world—the Harrimans, the Hills, the Armours, the Coffins, the Westinghouses, the Morgans, the Fricks, the Schiffs, the Lawsons, the Claflins and the like. Well, how do they get through their day's work? And how do they reveal themselves while they are about it?

Recently Paul Morton spoke of Mr. Harriman as being a perfect human dynamo, and if you should see Mr. Harriman hurrying from the Subway station in New York to his office, and, if in haste, not waiting for the elevator but bounding up the stairs two steps at a time, as he often did before he broke down in health, you would say, if you did not know him, "That man is in an awful hurry, he must have some very pressing business." But no, he is just like that in his office. His nerves are all on the surface, and he is such a little man physically that this activity, this quick, nervous movement, is all the more noticeable.

Another striking thing about Mr. Harriman when he is at work is the extraordinary expression that is in his eyes. They seem fairly to gleam with the reflection of inward fire. You would think that with a pair of eyes like his he could see in the night. And he apparently can think of half a dozen things at once, in the course of five minutes giving as many orders to his subordinates, every one of them having something to do with a different department of his railway business.

Finding Leisure in the Midst of Work.

Yet Mr. Harriman is really able, in the midst of the most exciting and confusing business, to divert his mind for a few moments to some leisurely occupation as if that gave him rest.

He was seated in his office in New York one April morning in 1906, dictating to his stenographer, occasionally glancing over the top of his desk to say "yes" or "no" to some questioner, suspending a moment from his dictation to give a command in a short staccato tone of voice, when some one brought in a telegram telling him that San Francisco had been ruined by an earthquake that morning.

You should have seen Mr. Harriman then. San Francisco is the great terminal of his Union Pacific system. He had created millions of wealth in that city. He did not know how great the damage might have been to his railroad. He kept the telegraph wires hot for an hour or two. Then, when he got the news that the earthquake was over but that San Francisco was being destroyed by fire he gave instant command that as soon as possible a special train be made up for him, with orders that it have the right of way from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He knew every helper that he wanted, and he had them in greatest within an hour. He telephoned to his house for such apparel and change of linen and other conveniences of travel as he needed, and in record time he was aboard the special and whizzing across the continent.

He was followed a few hours later by a representative of Eastern bankers, who carried $5,000,000 in credits and cash with which to help the San Francisco bankers. Upon his arrival in San Francisco this banking man found that there was only one telegraph wire available, and that was Mr. Harriman's private wire. When Mr. Harriman learned that this banker was in San Francisco he offered the use of the wire whenever Mr. Harriman himself was not engaging it.

How the telegrams shot with lightning speed here and there throughout all the vast domain covered by the Union Pacific system! Mr. Harriman was concentrating his resources exactly as a great general reorganizes a demoralized army so that it may be ready for fresh attack and for victory. A thousand and one questions arose every hour. And yet this Eastern banker, as he stepped into Mr. Harriman's office to use the telegraph, frequently found Harriman leaning back in his chair reading a book and perfectly calm and as serene as if he were on his private yacht. The banker glanced at the title of the volume, and found that it was George Eliot's novel "Adam Bede."

Some one of the Harriman subordinates would come in and ask a question. "Yes." Mr. Harriman would answer instantly, or it may be "No." Again, some one would come with information, and Mr. Harriman in a few terse words, instantly spoken, would tell him to send to Los Angeles or Sacramento or to some other point and get such material or assistance as was needed. In the interval between these demands Mr. Harriman would take up the novel and read a paragraph or a page until he was again interrupted.

If you never should see Mr. Harriman at work in his private car you would doubtless agree that no better description of him could be given than that he is a human dynamo. He knows how to keep two or three stenographers busy at once. Papers and reports are spread before him and he seems to know their contents and what attention they require by an instantaneous glance upon them with those wonderfully penetrating eyes of his. He never wastes any time. It is either yes or no, do this or do that, and by reason of this celerity of movement he is able to accomplish more in a day than some men of big business are able to do in a week.

Hill's Eye On His Whole System.

You would not expect James J. Hill to move as quickly as Mr. Harriman does, or with just the same kind of nervous energy. For Mr. Hill is a big man, somewhat moderate of speech, not at all impetuous in his step, and he never would attempt to run up a flight of stairs two steps at a time to his office. And yet in many respects Mr. Hill and Mr. Harriman resemble each other in the way they do their work.

If you should go with Mr. Hill out upon the Great Northern railroad you would see him standing upon the rear platform, or—when he was a younger man—riding upon the engine. He would sweep with one glance of his eyes every bit of the railway property that was within the vista. "I think Mr. Hill would be able to count the number of ties per mile on the Great Northern tracks, even if the train were going a mile a minute," one of his friends once said. If in riding upon a train he notices some little jolt which to anybody else would be imperceptible, he is likely to make a note of it and give a command at the first opportunity that a particular rail at a particular point be inspected and renewed if any trouble is found with it.

In his office Mr. Hill is somewhat dignified, rather reserved and quiet, and if you were to see Mr. Harriman and Mr. Hill together within an office your first impression might be that Mr. Hill was the commanding general—the Grant—of a great railway system, while Mr. Harriman was the Gen. Sheridan, equipped for an instant and dashing raid that might carry him many miles at night into an enemy's country. But if you were to listen closely you would discover the same tone of authority, the same sense of absolute confidence and judgment, although not quite the same quickness of mental action, to distinguish both Mr. Harriman and Mr. Hill. You would say that if Mr. Hill does think quite as quickly as Mr. Harriman he is a little slower in expressing this thought. He has this characteristic that distinguishes him from Mr. Harriman, and it is no doubt explained by his sense of artistic beauty.

Mr. Hill will divert himself while traveling on a tour of inspection over his railroads not by reading a book, as Mr. Harriman does, but by taking in the grandeur or romantic, picturesque beauty of some of the landscapes that come within his vista. He will turn from the table in his private car and look out upon a beautiful landscape, and then resume his railway business.

Mr. Harriman goes to his office promptly at 10 o'clock when he is at home, but he has already been up and at work two or three hours. Once in the office he bobs in and out all day. You will see him whisking across the corridors of the office building, hustling as if his last dollar depended upon it, to some one of the banks with which he is associated. Frequently the ends of his necktie flap by the breeze which his hurrying creates.

Sometimes he takes a little luncheon and sometimes none. He crams countless activities into the hours of a single day, nor does he leave his business behind (or did not until he broke down) when he goes to his home, excepting that in the summer season he dismisses such cares when he enters the park which encircles his superb country estate near Tuxedo.

On the other hand, when Mr. Hill is in St. Paul, his home, he is likely, having once entered his office in the morning about 9 o'clock, to remain there all day, although that is not his custom when in New York. He will cross Broadway with slow, deliberate step, his massive head, long, flowing hair and conspicuous beard distinguishing him among the thousands of people upon that busy thoroughfare.

The Day's Work of J. P. Morgan.

If any one should ask a man who has good experience and knowledge of what is going on with the bankers—the men who raise enormous sums of money and who lay plans for cities, railroads and industrial corporations—what three men would best suggest how these men of dollars do their work, he would probably name J. P. Morgan, Jacob H. Schiff and Thomas W. Lawson.

Do they make their money, do they deal in millions, do they create negotiable wealth, in the same way? Or do they differ? Well, the answer would be that the general principle which is adopted is common to all three of them, but each works out in his own way and in accordance with his peculiar personal characteristics his daily business problems.

Nowadays you will see, if you stroll into Mr. Morgan's office, a heavily built man, often with his derby hat resting upon the back of his head, the while he fingers a huge and very black imported cigar, made especially for him. Possibly Mr. Frick strolls in, and this stout man, with a clear, penetrating eye, not needing glasses excepting when he reads, will nod casually to the little man of Pittsburg, who has created one of the world's greatest fortunes, and they will sit chatting as if their conversation was about yachts or pictures. It may be that that day Mr. Morgan has agreed to accept as a banker a new issue of bonds for as much as $10,000,000. You would not think, if you saw him then, that he was chatting about anything more important than his luncheon, or possibly what was the most interesting play then being produced upon the local dramatic stage. How Mr. Morgan works anybody can see, but how his brain works nobody can tell.

In these later years of his life Mr. Morgan drives leisurely from his home in Madison avenue, if the season of the year be spring or fall, to his office, and his partners tell him in a few words what the various propositions are. He nods his head, gives a brief, laconic piece of advice or command, and, presto! business involving millions is done. In these days almost all the detail work of Mr. Morgan's business is done by his partners. There are twelve in all. But if you were to sit upon the little rattan settee which stands just outside the office railing and observe various young men wandering around, sometimes stopping to exchange a joke, sometimes holding a brief conversation over the railing with some man of affairs, you would be likely to think that life in that office is about as easy and comfortable as it is possible to conceive. But all this while transactions involving millions may have been in progress, and in a half hour's conversation there may have been determination to underwrite an issue of $150,000,000 of bonds—as was the case in one instance.

At the luncheon hour, if you were permitted to go with Mr. Morgan's associates into the basement room where they take their simple, homely luncheon, you might see Mr. Morgan as he is at the midday hour. He is very likely to ask: "Have you any pie here? If you have pumpkin pie, give me a piece." And he will stand, Yankee boy fashion, with a slice of pie in one hand and perhaps a piece of ticker tape in the other. Upon one occasion he rushed into the luncheon room, seized a piece of pie, and at the same time held up a section of ticker tape containing a quotation for a well known railroad stock.

"Look at that quotation!" he cried joyously. "If all the people who bought stock in that railroad at the time we first took hold of it had kept it until today they would have regained all of the depreciation and about 25 per cent. more."

Lawson's Great Work-a-Day Gift.

It is as good as a play to watch Thomas Lawson at work. He has a wonderful gift for making every minute count. He seems to be able to do two things at once and not to mix them up. Yards of ticker tape festoon the floor and walls of his office. He will give a command for the purchase or sale of millions of securities with as much unconcern as if he were telling the gardener at his beautiful place at Scituate to add a few more rose bushes or shrubs to the lawn. He is one of the men who think that procrastination is the thief of time. His motto is: "Don't put off till tomorrow what you can do today."

Jacob H. Schiff is one of the quiet, reserved, almost secretive financiers, at least in his immediate personal relation to his business. It is interesting to see E. H. Harriman rush with quick, nervous step into Mr. Schiff's office, and the quiet, sedate and almost purring mannerism which Mr. Schiff adopts when he is in the presence of the great financier and railway operator.

But if Mr. Schiff is secretive in his business and as completely lacking picturesqueness as if he were an automation, he changes that attitude the minute he comes into public. He is the one great American financier of today who has something of the gift of oratory. He speaks in a clear, resonant tone of voice, and every one likes to hear him talk, partly because he seems sincere and earnest and partly because of his grace.

The Two Westinghouses at Work.

It is an interesting experience to watch George Westinghouse as he stands in the middle of any one of his great factories at Pittsburg, counseling with his mechanical engineers or other subordinates. He towers above most of them, for he is a man of great height, and is also heavily built. If you were to see him standing in front of one of his gas engines you would fail to observe the complete absorption with which he watches every movement of the machine—reaching up his hand to see if the retort is hot, suggesting where there might be a better place to put the cold water faucet, or watching with keen eye the indicator that tells whether the great piston rod is working properly.

If you should follow Mr. Westinghouse to the office, where he meets his directors, where the great financing and the business direction of his undertakings are carried on, you'd see him with a telephone within hand's reach, and probably communicating with factories or offices hundreds of miles away. His table is covered with well-arranged reports, upon each one of which he can instantly put his hand. Sometimes he leans with both arms upon the table, and talks with almost hesitating utterance, for he thinks more rapidly than he can articulate his thought. He is one of the rare combinations of great inventive and great business or financial capacity.

On the other hand, the other great force in the world of electric invention and manufacture, Charles A. Coffin, president of the General Electric company, unlike Mr. Westinghouse is not an inventor. But it may be said of him, as of E. H. Harriman, that he is a human dynamo. There is no electric apparatus manufactured in his works that begins to express or utilize the energy which is contained in his own body, and which enables him to carry on, apparently with perfect ease, the enormous business done by him. And yet it is almost impossible to picture, except in this vague way, Mr. Coffin as he does his work.

Ogden Armour an Easy Worker.

J. Ogden Armour and John Claflin, who are two of the greatest of American merchants, did not have to do what their fathers were compelled to do. Each had an organization ready at hand when he took the helm. It is one thing to find an organization and another thing to make it. Yet it takes the highest kind of business ability to run an organization, especially if it be perfectly made.

Mr. Armour is one of those men who have learned to work without seeming to work very hard. There isn't a busier man in Chicago than he; yet he has his organization under such perfect control that when he goes to his desk in the morning, not quite so early as his father used to do, he picks up the various reports brought to him, scans them quickly, and gives his orders promptly, just exactly as if he were the master engineer with a huge machine at the control of his touch upon the lever.

Occasionally during the day Mr. Armour strolls out to attend a directors' meeting, and as frequently as possible is present at the meetings of the directors of the Union Pacific railroad. As a director of that railroad he is in position to know how many carloads of beef cattle are being shipped and where they were going, although he can find that out from his own agents, but perhaps not quite so quickly as if he had nothing to do with the great railway system except to pay enormous freight charges for the trans-

Beer vs. Other Tonics

The government's ruling compelling manufacturers of medicines to state on their labels the constituents of their products, has revealed the fact that most tonics contain a very large percentage of alcohol, often 50% and more.

Beer on the other hand contains but little alcohol, (about 3½%), and its medicinal properties are derived from two of nature's products—hops and barley.

Fitger's Beer

The best by 25 year's test is brewed from the best materials obtainable—selected Minnesota Barley, Bohemian Hops and Lake Superior water, recognized as the best for brewing purposes—a beer of delicious flavor and genuine healthfulness. Keep a case in your cellar and drink a glass or two with your meals.

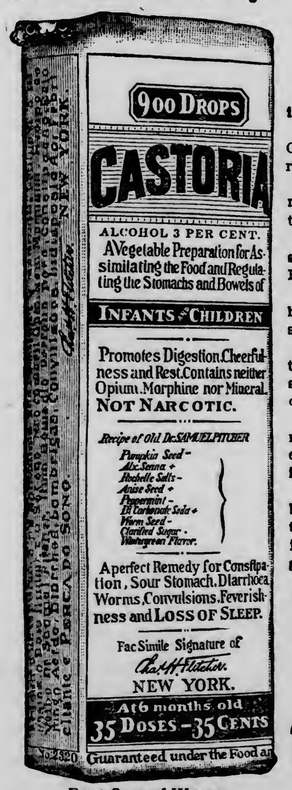
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed conterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.



Exact Copy of Wrapper.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Central Drug Co., of Detroit, Mich., says: "We consider your Castoria in a class distinct from patent medicines and commend it."

Christy Drug Stores, of Pittsburg, Pa., say: "We have sold your Castoria for so many years with such satisfactory results that we cannot refrain from saying a good word for it when we get a chance."

Jacob Bros., of Philadelphia, Pa., say: "We take pleasure in recommending Fletcher's Castoria as one of the oldest and best of the preparations of the kind upon the market."

Hess & McCann, of Kansas City, Mo., say: "Your Castoria always gives satisfaction. We have no substitute for it and only sell 'The Kind You Have Always Bought,' the original."

The Voegeli Bros., of Minneapolis, Minn., say: "We wish to say that we have at all times a large demand for Fletcher's Castoria at all of our three stores and that it gives universal satisfaction to our trade."

Polk Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "Your Castoria is one of the most satisfactory preparations we have ever handled. It seems to satisfy completely the public demand for such an article and is steadily creating a growing sale by its merit."

P. A. Capdau, of New Orleans, La., says: "We handle every good home remedy demanded by the public and while our shelves are thoroughly equipped with the best of drugs and proprietary articles, there are few if any which have the unceasing sale that your Castoria has."

M. C. Dow, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "When people in increasing numbers purchase a remedy and continue buying it for years; when it passes the fad or experimental stage and becomes a household necessity, then it can be said its worth has been firmly established. We can and do gladly offer this kind of commendation to Fletcher's Castoria."

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Lewisohns sank a shaft 500 feet deep on the Granite Mountain, and the North Butte is now making connections with it from three levels above the sixteenth. At the same time the North Butte is developing the Edith May to the Jessie on the 2,200-foot level, and will probably reach the latter vein during October or the first part of November. The company is also opening the old Speculator vein on the two new levels, it having been found, while a connection was being made with the workings of the High Ore mine, to the south of the North Butte shaft, that the Speculator at that depth contained a lot of good ore.

New Important Strike.

A new strike that ought to be of great importance to the North Butte, as well as all other mines in that section of the district, has been made by the Anaconda company in the High Ore mine at a depth of 2,800 feet, deepest workings in the Butte district. The High Ore practically joins the North Butte and the recent strike is 600 feet deeper than the lowest level of the North Butte. A large body of ore has been opened, containing a big quantity of copper glance, assaying 60 per cent copper. In addition to this discovery in the old vein, a new vein of considerable importance has been found in the 2,800-foot crosscut. The strike merely confirms the well known facts that the ore deposits in the Butte mines come and go unexpectedly, and for that reason it is as responsible to expect that the North Butte, which is rather lean on the 2,200-foot level, will, on further development, run into ore as rich as that mined on the upper levels of the mine.

Electric Power.

Preparations are gradually going on for the substitution of electric power for steam at nearly all of the mines in the Butte district, especially those of the Amalgamated, North Butte and Butte Coalition companies. It will mean a great saving in cost of production, President Ryan of the Amalgamated Copper company placing the saving at one-third of a cent per pound. Air power generated by electricity, it is said, can be produced at a cost of $20 a horse power as against $50 per horse power produced by steam. The substitution will be made as soon as the two large power plants at Great Falls are completed. These plants will furnish at least 100,000 horse power. The pole and wire lines between Great Falls and Butte are now being built. It will not be necessary to make any material changes at the mine plants, except to cut out the steam boilers, but the steam plant will still be retained for emergencies. It is probable that several large compressor plants will be established at central mines as general distributing points for compressed air.

Some development work is still going on in the Lexington mine, in which the United Copper company is supposed to own an interest, but ore shipments were stopped some months ago. At the recent meeting of stockholders of La France Copper company, the Lexington operating concern, new directors were elected as follows: W. A. Kidney, R. A. Cormachan, David Gilbert and E. M. Brennan of Butte and John T. Williams of New York, the latter a clerk in the New York office of the United Copper company. The company has not been able to meet its bond coupons, due July 1, but it is assumed that the United Copper company will offer its note at 6 per cent, as it did a year ago for unpaid coupons of La France for Jan. 1 and July 1, 1908. La France paid its county taxes at Butte for 1908, amounting to $337.18, but it has not yet been able to pay the tax of 1907, amounting to $4,693.24, and for which the property of the company was sold by the treasurer. The county of Silver Bow really holds the title to the Lexington mine now, although the company still has the rights to redeem.

The Tuolumne Copper Co., whose stock was recently listed on Eastern curbs, reports a good strike made on the 1,400-foot level of the Tuolumne mine. Supt. Sheehan believes the vein is an extension of the Edith May vein of the North Butte company. So far as opened the vein looks very good and some samples of high grade bornite have been brought out of the mine.

The Corbin Copper company, the latest company organized to operate in the Corbin district, has filed its articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. It is capitalized for $500,000 with 500,000 shares of a par value of $1 per share.

AT THE LAKE COPPER MINES

zon of the Baltic lode, on the extreme south end of the Arcadian property, in practically virgin territory, all work of this nature in the past having been confined to the lodes in the Portage and Isle Royale horizons.

Mass continues to direct a part of its activity toward the opening and development of the so-called New Mass lode, and expects soon to have this copper-bearing bed in shape for production. Some of this rock is now being shipped, mixed with rock from the Evergreen bed, without materially affecting the yield per ton of rock in the total tonnage milled. It is planned to mill this rock separately a little later, when sufficient openings have been created to make possible the shipment of at least 400 tons daily to meet the capacity of one steam stamp. The company is at present securing a very fair grade of stamp rock from D shaft. The situation in A shaft remains unchanged.

tween Eagle Mills and Negaunee, a distance of three miles. The work is to be done by the Cleveland-Cliffs company's railroad department, since in order to permit of the opening of new bodies of ore it is the Cleveland-Cliffs company which is to be benefited by and which desires the shifting of the tracks to the proposed new location. Construction has already been started. Coincident with this work, the South Shore will lay a second track parallel with the one, the building of which is now under way. This will give the company a double track all the way from Negaunee to Marquette, which will much facilitate the movement of ore trains. Both new lines will be ready for use next spring.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company is working towards the South Shore's main line in both the Negaunee and Maas mines. The principal ore bodies still to be removed dip towards each other. It will not be long before the company will begin removing the pillars and letting down the surface, which is the safest and most economical plan of mining. This will necessitate the establishment of new cemeteries for the city of Negaunee, for both the present burial grounds, which adjoin each other, are underlaid with ore. A new site has been chosen for cemetery purposes one which is some distance from the mineralized formation, and the re-interment of the dead will be undertaken shortly. Eventually it will be necessary to shift the line of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad in that vicinity also, the ore bodies coming dangerously near the present tracks. In the Swanzey district, some twenty miles south of Negaunee, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad has engineers at work locating a line for an extension from Ralph to Gwinn. Up to the present time the Swanzey country has been tapped only by the Northwestern and the railroad system of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company. Gwinn is located in the heart of a new and rich mining field, which will be productive of a heavy traffic for many years to come.

Florida, the little town platted last year near M. A. Hanna & Co.'s American mine, to the west of Ishpeming, is to have a dozen more new dwelling houses within the next few months. Most of them will be erected by men employed at the mine. There are now a half dozen new dwellings, also a store building in the town, while the operators of the American have erected sixteen dwelling houses at the nearby mining location. A force of 225 men is now employed at the American, and places are open for a number of miners. The management has had a big demand for ore this season, and the product is going forward as fast as it is hoisted. It is planned to increase the output, now that a new ore crusher has been installed. The company recently put a fine new air compressing plant in operation and sufficient power is now available for the operation of many more drills than are now in use. With the new machinery the mine is equipped to produce upwards of 1,000 tons of ore a day.

More men are now employed in this country to the west of Ishpeming than ever before, with indications that a year hence will see double the present number at work. In the neighborhood of a dozen diamond drill crews are operating in the territory extending from a point west of the American to the Cleveland Cliffs company's North Lake mine. The latter will be employing a large force as soon as the shaft is finished and the ore bodies are attacked. A start has been made with the construction of ten double dwelling houses. So extensive do the ore bodies at the North Lake appear to be that it has thrice been necessary to select a site for the residence now being constructed for the superintendent, those previously chosen having been found to lie within the mineralized formation. Compressed air from the Cliffs Shaft mine at Ishpeming will be utilized to run the power drills at the North Lake, and the construction of the pipe line is now in progress. The route chosen also will be that of electric transmission line which is to be provided as soon as the water powers of the company are harnessed. The search for ore at the North Lake is still being prosecuted actively, and upon all sides the tripods of diamond drills are to be seen. The ores lie deep in the North Lake country, the overburden is treacherous and to open mines requires the expenditure of much time and money.

The Republic Iron company, operator of the Republic mine, Marquette range, and subsidiary to the Cambria Steel company, has started suit in the Marquette circuit court against the Wright Mining company, asking that the court determine the boundary line between the two properties of the two companies, which passes through Smith's bay, an inland lake in section 7, 46-29. The Republic Iron company, which is mining on the east side of the lake, claims ownership from the east shore to a line drawn through the center of the lake, while the Wright Mining company, which also owns property abutting the lake, claims to own the greater portion of the body of water. Ore bodies underlie the lake, and the suit is of no small importance.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel company, which has lately entered the Iron River district of the Menominee range, securing options on several hundred acres of mineral lands in the vicinity of the James, Konwinski, Mineklier and Donohue properties, and running thence to the west for several miles, has commenced exploratory operations there. It has a drill at work on the Olson homestead, in section 11, 43-35. It is probable that operations will be started on other properties in the near future. It is expected that the Jones & Laughlin company will ship close to 2,000,000 tons of ore from its Lake Superior mines this season. It has a number of fine producers on the Mesaba and Marquette ranges.

of the copper produced was 8.98 cents. For the month of June the cost a pound at this plant was 7.91 cents. The costs at the Coppertown plant are uniformly higher than at Garfield because of the former's smaller capacity.

Walter Fitch and a number of Michigan associates have organized the Eureka City Mines company with $1,000,000 capital for the purpose of acquiring the right to mine beneath the town of Eureka in the Tintic district. Mr. Fitch believes that the rich veins of the district will be found at depth. Owners of property receive a small stock interest. The company agrees that no mining shall be done nearer to the surface than 700 feet. It is intended to expend $100,000 in prospecting.

Work has been resumed at the Little Bell in Park City. The plan is to mine the ore that has been opened for a depth of 250 feet beneath the 700-foot level and at the same time prosecute development. Since the shut-down the mine has been entirely drained through the connection made from the Daly West side.

The Wabash, Naildriver and New York Mining companies are all planning to drain their properties in Park City through the Ontario drain tunnel.

What is believed to be the big rich fissure vein from which the Ontario and Daly mines took millions has been found in the Daly Judge mine on the 1,200-foot level. A drift run of 1,000 feet caught the vein, and, it is said, an immense deposit of ore has been uncovered. The ore is of milling grade and contains some zinc, in addition to lead and silver.

A second strike has been made in the Andes claim, owned jointly by the Silver King Coalition and the Silver King Consolidated at Park City. A fissure was cut in a drift between the 1,500 and 1,600-foot levels. The ore is described as high grade.

The Beaver Carbonate Mining company stockholders have authorized a $100,000 bond issue, with the proceeds of which it is intended to build and equip a large mill to handle the low grade ores of the mine. The company is the successor to the Carbonate and Rattler, which ceased operation many years ago. Development has shown ore of milling grade principally.

The Quincy-Thompson Consolidated Mining company is the name of a new incorporation which is to take over the property of the West Quincy and Thompson Mining companies at Park City. Of the million shares in the company the West Quincy stockholders will receive 400,000 shares, Thompson 333,000 shares, and the Daly, West and Ontario companies 200,000 shares for drainage easements and the privilege of working the merger ground through the Daly-West workings.

The Commonwealth mine in Beaver county during the last few weeks has made its best ore showing. Drifts run north and south on a vein which was cut at a depth of 700 feet in the tunnel have penetrated an ore shoot 200 feet long. On the tunnel level the values are relatively low, but short raises ninety feet apart have encountered ore of better grade. Assays show values of sixty and seventy-seven ounces in silver, 15 and 20 per cent lead, 4 per cent copper and less than a dollar in gold.

MONTANA COPPER MINES

posed of a New York banker, Mrs. J. B. Stetson of Philadelphia and a woman resident of Boston. The bond runs until Sept. 1 and calls for $3,000,000. The Eastern interests are represented by John Edgerton, former secretary of the Bald Butte company, who has charge of the work at the Zortman in the Little Rockies. The group consists of thirty claims, owned by Whitcomb & Phillips of Helena, who also own the Ruby, upon which New York capital sought to secure a $5,000,000 bond two years ago. In the August proper forty men are employed and 100 tons are being extracted daily. This ore runs from $30 to $40 a ton, and being cyaniding ore it gives a handsome profit. The August vein is eight feet wide and selected samples have gone as high as $1,700 a ton. This vein is supposed to run through the other claims, and in fact has been tapped in quite a number of them. It is developed by three tunnels, all of which are in ore and the lower of which gives a depth of 300 feet.

An official report from the manager of the Barnes-King mine in Fergus county says that a good sized body of free milling low-grade ore has been uncovered, but that its exact extent had not been ascertained. New work is being prosecuted in the north end. Upon the outcome of these operations depends the future.

The Shakespeare Gold Mining company has been formed under South Dakota laws and will develop and operate properties in Grante county, Mont.

In the property of the Boston & Corbin company in the Jefferson county camp just south of Helena at the 700-foot level seven feet of high-grade copper has been encountered. This is taken as assuring the permanency of the Corbin district. Other Corbin properties continue to show to advantage. In the Butte & Corbin Consolidated the large ore bodies shown in the tunnel and winze retain their high-grade ore while a crosscut has increased this property's value through striking a new vein which shows marketable ore.

In the Minneapolis & Corbin the shaft has reached a depth of 100 feet. While still in the country rock seams of copper glance, chalcopyrite and native copper are not infrequently encountered and these trend toward the hanging wall of the vein of the Copper King. This vein is sixty-five feet wide and the shaft will reach the hanging wall within the next 100 feet. Harry Bush, the Minneapolis owner, is greatly pleased with the showing. The Corbin-Montana is taking ore from its shaft. Assays show 4 per cent copper, 34 ounces silver, 55 per cent lead and $1.20 in gold. Easterners have bonded two properties—the Two Cripples and Valparaiso.

The copper production of the Butte mining companies for July aggregated 26,580,820 pounds, an increase over June of a little more than 1,000,000 pounds. The totals, figured on the basis of twenty-nine working days for July, are:

WHEN THE WORK WHISTLE BLOWS

portation of beef cattle and his products to the various markets.

On the other hand, John Claflin sticks about as closely to his desk as any bank clerk who bends from 9 in the morning until 4 in the afternoon over his ledgers. The instant he arrives at his office he receives various reports, and he has a wonderful capacity for going through and absorbing them, so that he is able to tell each day not only what his business in New York is, but what general business is all over the country.

His subordinates bring him telegrams or well-assorted mail, and he scans them while he is chatting at his desk with some friend or business caller. Very likely the communications have come from as far away as Texas or one of the Northwestern states or Florida. He receives them very much as the weather man at Washington receives his reports from all over the country; and just as the weather reports enable weather predictions to be made, so when he has had all these reports before his eyes Mr. Claflin knows not only what general trade in the United States is for any one day, but what its prospects are for the next day or the next month.

The Day's Work of the Big Steel Men.

Since Henry Clay Frick became a financier as well as a manufacturer he has not confined himself so closely to his desk as he did when he was showing the world how to get control of the greater part of the coke business of the United States. He drops in at his office in the mid-forenoon, chats with his lifelong associate, Mr. Schoonmaker, for a few moments, and then passes into the inner office, where only a favored few see him.

By and by he comes out, and for a moment or two later crosses Broadway, perhaps on his way to the offices of the United States Steel corporation. Sometimes at noon hour he goes with firm, rapid step down Wall street, dropping in at his favorite bank to exchange a few words with its president, Frank A. Vanderlip, and then on he returns. He is very apt to pass into that inner room where E. H. Harriman is seated when he attends to business. In these days Mr. Frick is busy planning. His lieutenants do most of the executing for him.

Judge E. H. Gary, a chairman of the executive board of the United States Steel corporation, is as different in his business attitude and manner from the president of the corporation, W. E. Corey, as it is possible for two men to be. At his desk in business hours Mr. Corey is as near a human icicle as a man can be. But away from his office he adopts an entirely different manner. On the other hand, Judge Gary is as much a politician in the office as he used to be before he gave up law and politics for business.

You should see him preside at a meeting of the United States Steel corporation board; he whirls through a report as rapidly as an auctioneer appraises his wares. He almost mumbles his words. It may be a report involving millions. Judge Gary will say: "Gentlemen, report so-and-so m m m m m m. Are there any remarks? The chair hears none. I put the question. All those in favor say aye; those opposed say no. The ayes have it."

But Judge Gary knows what the opinion of every director is, for he has already talked the matter over in private with them. He works so leisurely that he seems to have what the Spanish call "good fingers for the piano," and it sometimes seems to the directors as if in his business he was actually playing a tune, so perfect is the harmony of his movements. But it is observed that he has his thinking cap on all the time.

Charles M. Schwab bustles around his office as an example of a big man who cannot keep still. He infuses energy and alertness into all those who are near him, and it is said of him that he can dictate more letters and with greater rapidity than any of the other great corporation leaders.

WILL SEND $12,000,000 TO GUATEMALA.

New York, Aug. 20.—Private cable advices received here from Guatemala announce that negotiations have been completed whereby a firm of New York bankers is to furnish a $12,000,000 loan, which has been under discussion in President Cabrera's capital for several months. The purpose of the loan is the refunding of the national debt of Guatemala and the placing of its finances on a gold basis.

DANISH LAWMAKERS GET TONGUE-LASHING.

Copenhagen, Aug. 20.—The members of the Folkething, who met for the first time yesterday since the formation of the new ministry, were treated to a lively overture by Mlle. Westenholz, a suffragist, whose activity in the cause has brought her into prominence on several previous occasions. Forcing her way past the doorkeepers, the woman planted herself in front of the president's chair and gave the deputies a verbal trouncing.

"Here you sit," she cried out, "you Danish men, haggling selfishly in a lust of power over the weal and woe of the country. But the women of Denmark, I tell you, disown you and brand you as a lot of hirelings, belonging to no country, who betray the honor of Denmark."

The bell of the president and a fire of interruptions from the deputies had no effect on Mlle. Westenholz, who concluded her speech before attendants seized her and removed her from the chamber.

PITTSBURG CATHOLICS KEEP "CHOLERA DAY."

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Unusual in the way of celebrations was yesterday's annual Feast of St. Roche, patron saint against pestilence and disease, participated in by more than 10,000 persons who gathered on the hill tops of the South side at daylight and celebrated four masses. The celebration, known to Pittsburgers as "Cholera Day," was established in 1852. During the cholera plague in 1348-49 members of the Catholic church here gathered and made solemn vows that if the plague was driven away they would conduct special services each year in memory of their deliverance.

TELLS HOW LINCOLN GOT NEWS OF THE WAR.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—At the annual banquet of the Old Time Telegraphers' association and the Society of the United States Military Corps, marking the close last night of the joint convention of these organizations, President Wilson of Philadelphia drew a graphic word picture of his personal relations with President Lincoln during the Civil war. During the great rebellion Col. Wilson was superintendent of the war telegraph at the White House.

NEW DULUTH CHURCH IS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

New Duluth, Minn., Aug. 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steeple of the Presbyterian church was struck by lightning Saturday and quite badly burned. The fire department was called out and extinguished the flames.

The Presbyterian parsonage was struck at the same time. Rev. and Mrs. Knudsen were rendered unconscious from the shock but soon recovered.

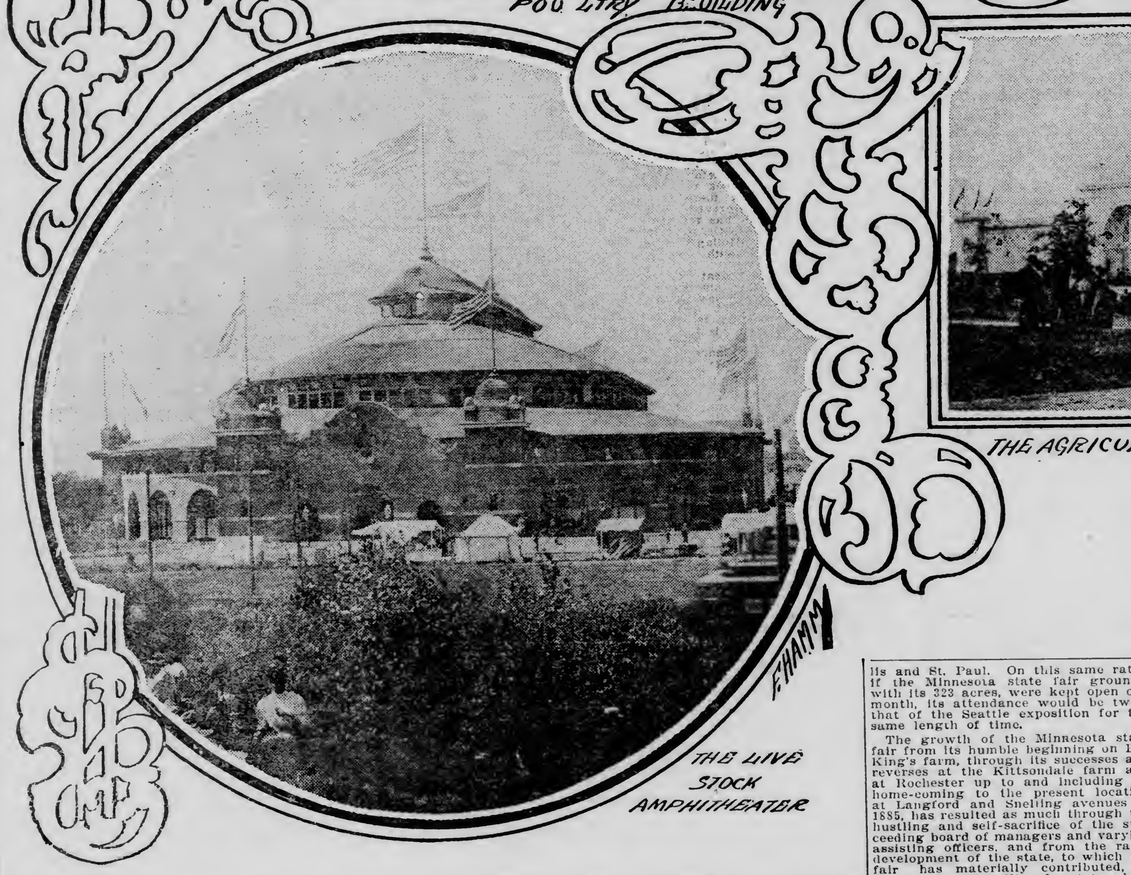
Alberta Town Scorched.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 20.—The town of Lacombe, Alta., was visited yesterday by a $75,000 fire which destroyed the Currie House, Royal hotel and a number of smaller buildings. A number of guests were scorched while escaping in the panic.

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR AND THE ALASKA-YUKON-PACIFIC EXPOSITION COMPARED

THE LIVE STOCK AMPHITHEATER

THE AGRICULTURAL AND HORTICULTURAL BUILDING



POULTRY BUILDING

Few even of the most ardent admirers of the Minnesota state fair realize that in the matter of permanent improvements as well as in acreage it is the greatest institution of its kind in the country. Still fewer realize that, with the exception of the state and government buildings erected there, the Minnesota state fair has a greater investment in its permanent structures than has the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle.

The comparative popularity of these two institutions is indicated by the attendance, which was approximately 660,000 for the first month of the exposition at Seattle, and over 327,000 for the one week of the 1908 Minnesota state fair, midway between Minneapolis and St. Paul. On this same ratio, if the Minnesota state fair grounds, with its 323 acres, were kept open one month, its attendance would be twice that of the Seattle exposition for the same length of time.

The growth of the Minnesota state fair from its humble beginning on Bill King's farm, through its successes and reverses at the Kittsondale farm and at Rochester up to and including its home-coming to the present location at Langford and Snelling avenues in 1885, has resulted as much through the hustling and self-sacrifice of the succeeding board of managers and varying assisting officers, and from the rapid development of the state, to which the fair has materially contributed, as through the liberality of a state which has invested approximately $500,000 in this institution through its legislature in the last twenty years.

Remarkable Features.

One of the most remarkable things about the Minnesota state fair, and one which sets it apart from all other state institutions, is the fact that during the last fourteen years—the only ones whose official records are obtainable—the state fair has paid out in premiums and purses $512,131.03. But a still more remarkable fact, from the standpoint of the business man, is that since 1885 the state fair has added over $500,000 in permanent improvements, and this immense sum was taken from its earnings.

No institution of its kind in this country or Canada has to its credit any achievement approaching this.

In 1885 the first of the present important permanent structures now on the Minnesota state fair grounds was built of glass, steel and wood at an expense of $35,000, and christened the "Main" building, by which name it is known today. Its four wings, each 100 feet wide by 140 feet long, centering upon a dome 120 feet high, made an imposing-looking structure, which during many state fairs has housed the exhibits of Twin City dealers and manufacturers and mercantile concerns of international fields and reputations.

The second of the big buildings, which now add character and dignity to the state fair grounds was erected in 1895, known as the "agricultural and horticultural hall;" is of wood, stone and glass, and cost $25,000. It is of the same general plan as the "main" building, although more modern and built along finer lines. For the most part it has been devoted to the county agricultural exhibits and to exhibits of farm products and examples of the florists' art. The building is approximately 200 by 200 feet, and is considered by many as one of the most artistic on the grounds.

Livestock Amphitheater.

The year 1905 was eventful in state fair annals through the completion and opening of the livestock amphitheater, the most imposing completed building now on the grounds. Built of concrete, steel and glass, it is 250 feet wide and 350 feet long and has seats for 6,500 without crowding. James J. Hill delivered the dedicatory address, and this magnificent structure is devoted during the morning and afternoons of the fair to the judging and sale of livestock and in the evenings to a horse show and hippodrome.

Two of the most substantial, although not the most pretentious buildings now decorating the state fair enclosure were opened in 1907 as the "dairy hall" and "poultry building." Each is a one-story structure of brick, steel and concrete, is approximately square, each cost $25,000 and each is acknowledged by all visiting experts to be the finest for its purpose on the continent. The dairy building has a refrigerator fourteen feet wide and ninety feet long for its butter exhibits and over 2,000 birds were displayed in the poultry building during the last state fair.

This list does not take into account the big modern farm machinery building nor dozens of smaller frame buildings used for exhibits and other purposes. Neither does it include the horse, cattle, sheep and dog barns, the apiary building, fish and game building, administration building nor the homes for the horses annually entered in the speed events.

When the fiftieth annual Minnesota state fair opens Sept. 6, there will also be included in the structures properly classed under permanent improvements, a new machinery exhibit building 100 feet wide by 500 feet long, of steel and concrete, and the new grandstand and exposition building costing $250,000.

The fiftieth annual state fair, the greatest single advertising medium possessed by the state, will therefore open its gates Sept. 6 with the greatest acreage, the fastest track and the most pretentious equipment of high class buildings possessed by any state fair on the North American continent.

DULUTH IS FAST BECOMING A CITY OF BEAUTIFUL HOMES!

PROSPECTS ARE GOOD IN SLUGGISH REALTY MARKET

Few Deals Being Closed, But Optimistic Real Estate Men Say Fall Will Be Busy One---New Addition of Acre Lots Is Put on Market---New Residences and Flat Buildings Planned.

The real estate market is very nearly at a standstill, as far as the closing of deals is concerned. People don't seem to be ready to settle down to business; they are still chasing the elusive pleasures of the summer time and are fighting shy of such sordid considerations as real estate—so it seems, at least.

Prospects are ever with us. As an optimist, the average real estate man can give any other business man a straight flush pat and beat him on the showdown. He exudes optimism at every pore. In the dog days of summer business depression, when men in other lines of business are grumbling and counting over and over again the few lonesome pennies that trickle into their coffers, the real estate man is smiling happily, vowing that the prospects were never better, and looking forward eagerly, expectantly, and certainly to those many deals he is to pull off during the fall months.

Only natural-born, dyed-in-the-wool optimists should get into the real estate business and apparently so they do. Without a deal of any magnitude being closed on the street, there is a warmth of optimism in the real estate offices that is good to feel. The present is nothing, the past forgotten, and the future looms up roseate, as the time of promise. Inquiry is good, values do not place good property in the unattainable class, there is money offered for investment, Duluth is progressing and prospering, and what could any optimistic real estate man ask but that; excepting, of course, a few good deals with large sized commissions attached, being closed?

Seriously, the Duluth realty market is flooded with futures. There is inquiry—plenty of it; desirable properties are being closely held, but the grasp is not so tight that it cannot be loosened in most cases by judicious application of the oil of lucre; residence lots in the suburbs are in good demand and there are plenty of desirable properties to be had. Everything points to a busy fall, but the real busy part of it will not open up until after the first of September, when the cool breezes bring people back from their summer homes and the winter is at hand.

Interest in the suburbs does not flag. The home-builder is busier than the investor just now, for he is looking forward to having a house under roof before the snow comes, and he hasn't a great deal of time to lose. Every week shows a number of deals closed, small singly, but of considerable magnitude when they are counted together, and it is considered that each means a home for some thrifty man of family, an added unit to the combination of units that goes to make up a big city. The home-builder is the life of a city, and hundreds of homes are being erected in Duluth each year. This season has been an exceptionally good one. In West Duluth, the West end, Woodland, Park Point, Lakeside and Lester Park the hammer and saw have done valiant work to build up the city and provide homes for the growing population. In the East end beautiful homes have sprung up and are still springing; in the center of the city investors are putting their money into well-paying apartment houses. There has been no cessation of that branch of the realty and building trades, even if the market has apparently been dull.

* * *

A new addition that means something to Duluth is being put on by W. M. Prindle & Co. It is to be known as the Homecroft Park addition, and is situated about seven to twelve blocks from the car line at Woodland. The tract has been cut up into lots averaging about one acre, and they are being put on the market on easy terms. Most of them have timber enough on them for all building purposes, and the man who wants a home away from the busy marts of trade, the rush of business and the rumble of cars and trucks will probably snap them up. The land is suited for truck gardening, and the tract is so situated that it is not difficult of access. The company reports that there is already a good demand for the lots, and no trouble is expected in disposing of them all readily.

* * *

Work was begun this week on the razing of the old Alworth building on Superior street to make way for the new fifteen-story structure to be erected there by May 1, 1910. Work on the new Holland hotel and the Bradley-Tyson building is also progressing well, and next year will see all three of the beautiful new structures adorning Superior street. With the Soo line passenger depot at Sixth avenue west and Superior street under construction, the main thoroughfare is by no means being neglected.

* * *

There is a healthy demand for loans, real estate men say. Appearances to the contrary, loans are indications of prosperity. People are willing to take a chance on the future of the city. They have confidence in the stability of real estate investment and will mortgage their holdings to the limit to extend them.

The architects are busy with residences and apartment houses forming the bulk of their work. They have some business blocks in hand, but not in such shape as to make them public.

J. J. Wangenstein has prepared plans for a brick flat building for Mellin Bros., at the corner of Fifteenth avenue east and Fourth street. It will be arranged for two families and will be modern throughout. Bids will be taken next week. Plans are also being prepared by Mr. Wangenstein for two frame buildings, arranged for four and two families respectively, on Third street.

Bray & Nystrom this week left the contract for a new school house in the town of Bangor. It will be a frame building containing four rooms and will cost about $12,000. The general contract was awarded to C. Ecklund of Biwabik and the plumbing and heating to the Spencer company of Minneapolis.

* * *

The contract was also let this week for a fireproof residence for T. J. Davis at the corner of First street and Twenty-first avenue east. The building will be of stone, brick and concrete and will be entirely fireproof. It will cost about $20,000.

* * *

Figures are being received for the remodelling of four stores in the Kitchi Gammi building for George Howe. The stores will have modern fronts and will be remodelled and redecorated inside.

* * *

Bids are being taken for a brick residence for W. B. Cross on Jefferson street and Twenty-second avenue east. It will cost about $10,000.

* * *

Bids are being taken for a duplex brick house for Albert Stoltz on Second street and Fourteenth avenue east. It will cost about $7,000.

* * *

The contract was let to D. R. Black company for the plumbing and heating of the Holland hotel. The contract covers work costing about $15,000.

* * *

Anderson & Gow were awarded the contract for a frame garage for Pentecost Mitchell at the corner of Twenty-fourth avenue east and Superior street. The contract was let to the same firm for a garage for T. F. Cole at Seventeenth avenue east and First street. It will cost about $7,000.

* * *

The contract was let to Appleby Bros. for a brick and frame residence for E. A. Silberstein on the corner of Twenty-fourth avenue east and Third street. It will cost about $10,000.

* * *

D. R. Black was awarded the contract for the plumbing and heating in the new residence for H. S. Newell on the corner of Twenty-fifth avenue east and Fifth street.

There were no deeds covering big transfers of city property filed with the register of deeds during the past week. Those amounting to $1,000 or over are as follows:

P. K. Peterson to Bert N. Wheeler, two lots on the southwest corner of Second street and Twenty-seventh avenue east, $1,600.

Marion R. Taylor to Ida E. Nelson, one lot on the south side of First street, between Third and Fourth avenues east, $2,500.

C. H. Clausen to David C. Bar two lots on the south side of Fifth street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues east, $2,450.

J. O. Spalding to Jean Johnston two lots on the corner of London road and Forty-eighth avenue east, $1,500.

* * *

Following are the building permits issued during the past week by Building Inspector S. M. Kielley covering work estimated to cost $1,000 or over:

Ole Helgetun, frame dwelling on the north side of Second street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues west, $2,500.

Emil J. Zauft, frame dwelling on the north side of London road, between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues east, $8,000.

DEFENDS THE PATENT OFFICE

Commissioner Moore Characterizes Its Critics as "Cranks."

Washington, Aug. 21.—Characterizing as "cranks" a number of local inventors who recently met and dealt out severe criticism of the patent administration methods, Patent Commissioner Edward Bruce Moore has made vigorous reply, seeking to show up th[illegible]nsistency of the would-be detractors.

"[illegible] of these people are cranks," said Mr. Moore. "One of them was kicked out of a New York association of patentees and inventors. The same fellow came here before construction work began on the Panama canal and wanted the war department to let him build it himself. He had a marvelous plan to dig the canal in a hurry, and when the department refused to listen to his scheme he went away in a rage. There are a few more of the same kind in that crowd.

"If any fault exists in the patent laws it is the fault of the laws and not of the officials who administer them. Everybody gets a square deal in the patent office."

ABOLISH HORSES FROM CITY WORK

Washington Hopes to Use Motors on Fire Engines, Ambulances, Etc.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Motor vehicles will replace the horse drawn fire engines, trucks, hospital ambulances and police patrol wagons in Washington, if the concerted effort begun by local officials of the District of Columbia is successful before congress. To bring about the change the heads of the different departments are including in their estimates for the next fiscal year appropriations for the purchase of the motor wagons.

STORY IS DENIED FROM NEW YORK

Counterfeiters' Claim to Office in Wall Street Quickly Disputed.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 21.—That John and Marion Roberts, the counterfeiters, whose plans for a big coup in really frenzied finance were interrupted by their arrest in this state Thursday, had no headquarters in Wall street, as they claimed, is the latest assertion with regard to the case. The address which they gave, it is asserted in a dispatch from New York, is occupied by "firms of unquestioned repute, who had never heard of the Roberts'."

Flippancy with a dignified station agent of the Louisville & Nashville railroad and dishonor among thieves are among the causes revealed for the arrests. John Roberts, confessedly chief maker of the spurious notes, was readily located near Simpsonville, because the station agent approached by Deputy United States Marshal Blaydes remembered that a "fat guy," in alighting from a train with a brass-bound trunk some days before, had called him "old sport."

Says Notes Were Stolen.

The treachery is ascribed by John Roberts to his brother, Marion, who, he says, stole some of the Mexican notes from the trunk and used them to make the proposition to J. M. Fetter & Co., Louisville brokers, which led to Marion's entrapping and capture.

John Roberts, who, with his brother, is in jail under a $15,000 federal bond, declared when he had made his "million" he had considered it enough for any man, and had, one dark night, sunk the plates from which the notes were struck in the Ohio river.

CASS LAKE SCHOOLS WILL OPEN ON SEPT. 7.

Cass Lake, Minn., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fall term of school will open Sept. 7 and from the present outlook the attendance will surpass that of any previous year.

P. M. Larson has been retained as superintendent, while Miss Alice Pierson will assume the duties as principal of the high school. The grades will be in charge of the following: First, Elizabeth Lestico; second, Margaret Ireland; third, Genevieve Smith; fourth, Gertrude Mullenmeister; fifth, Ellen Quinn; sixth, Anna Bjoin; seventh, Carrie Ross; eighth, Mary Spencer. The kindergarten, which was introduced last term, will be in charge of Ethel Barbour. Ruth Huggett will be the instructor in the commercial department and the South side school will be ruled over by Mable Hart.

HAVE BROUGHT IN NEARLY 1,000,000 CIGARS FREE.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Nearly 1,000,000 Philippine cigars have been admitted to this country under the free provisions of the Payne tariff law. Practically all of these came in before the law became operative on Aug. 6, but had been held in "bond" in warehouses in anticipation of the passage of the act. Six hundred thousand of the cigars were admitted at New York, 109,000 at San Francisco and 98,000 at Seattle.

Lyman C. Smith's Steering Gear Broken Near the Soo.

The steamer Lyman C. Smith arrived in port this morning in tow of the steamer W. L. Smith, the Lyman C. Smith having become disabled near the Soo through the breaking of one of her crank pins. She was bound up light for ore. After arriving in the harbor, the Lyman C. Smith was towed to the shipyards at Superior by tugs and she will be put in commission again in a few days.

Sailor Hurt at Marquette.

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A sailor on the steamer Andrew Carnegie was seriously and perhaps fatally injured at the L. S. & I. dock by falling into one of the open hatches Thursday afternoon. The man fell a distance of twenty feet striking the bottom of the boat on his back and head with great force. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital unconscious, and was said to be in a critical condition. His name or home has not been learned.

MAYOR FOR ONE WEEK

Alderman John Hogan Will Be "His Honor" Next Week.

Mayor Haven and President Jordan Leave for Montreal.

Alderman John Hogan of the Fifth ward will be acting mayor of Duluth all of next week. Mayor R. D. Haven and Alderman Frank Jordan, who is president of the council, and who is supposed to act as mayor during the absence of Mr. Haven from the city, will leave tomorrow or Monday for Montreal, where they will attend the convention of the American League of municipalities, as delegates from Duluth.

Alderman Hogan is vice president of the council, and when both Mr. Haven and Mr. Jordan is away from town it is up to him to act as the city's chief executive. He will also act as president of the council at the meeting Monday night. The two Duluth delegates will probably be absent for about a week, for it is almost a two day's journey from Duluth to Montreal, so that much time will have to be taken up in travel, in addition to the time given in attending the sessions of the league.

DEFENDS THE PATENT OFFICE

Commissioner Moore Characterizes Its Critics as "Cranks."

Washington, Aug. 21.—Characterizing as "cranks" a number of local inventors who recently met and dealt out severe criticism of the patent administration methods, Patent Commissioner Edward Bruce Moore has made vigorous reply, seeking to show up the inconsistency of the would-be detractors.

"... of these people are cranks," said Mr. Moore. "One of them was kicked out of a New York association of patentees and inventors. The same fellow came here before construction work began on the Panama canal and wanted the war department to let him build it himself. He had a marvelous plan to dig the canal in a hurry, and when the department refused to listen to his scheme he went away in a rage. There are a few more of the same kind in that crowd.

"If any fault exists in the patent laws it is the fault of the laws and not of the officials who administer them. Everybody gets a square deal in the patent office."

ABOLISH HORSES FROM CITY WORK

Washington Hopes to Use Motors on Fire Engines, Ambulances, Etc.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Motor vehicles will replace the horse drawn fire engines, trucks, hospital ambulances and police patrol wagons in Washington, if the concerted effort begun by local officials of the District of Columbia is successful before congress. To bring about the change the heads of the different departments are including in their estimates for the next fiscal year appropriations for the purchase of the motor wagons.

STORY IS DENIED FROM NEW YORK

Counterfeiters' Claim to Office in Wall Street Quickly Disputed.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 21.—That John and Marion Roberts, the counterfeiters, whose plans for a big coup in really frenzied finance were interrupted by their arrest in this state Thursday, had no headquarters in Wall street, as they claimed, is the latest assertion with regard to the case.

The address which they gave, it is asserted in a dispatch from New York, is occupied by "firms of unquestioned repute, who had never heard of the Roberts'."

Flippancy with a dignified station agent of the Louisville & Nashville railroad and dishonor among thieves are among the causes revealed for the arrests. John Roberts, confessedly chief maker of the spurious notes, was readily located near Simpsonville, because the station agent approached by Deputy United States Marshal Blaydes remembered that a "fat guy," in alighting from a train with a brass-bound trunk some days before, had called him "old sport."

Says Notes Were Stolen.

The treachery is ascribed by John Roberts to his brother, Marion, who, he says, stole some of the Mexican notes from the trunk and used them to make the proposition to J. M. Fetter & Co., Louisville brokers, which led to Marion's entrapping and capture.

John Roberts, who, with his brother, is in jail under a $15,000 federal bond, declared when he had made his "million" he had considered it enough for any man, and had, one dark night, sunk the plates from which the notes were struck in the Ohio river.

HAVE BROUGHT IN NEARLY 1,000,000 CIGARS FREE.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Nearly 1,000,000 Philippine cigars have been admitted to this country under the free provisions of the Payne tariff law. Practically all of these came in before the law became operative on Aug. 6, but had been held in "bond" in warehouses in anticipation of the passage of the act. Six hundred thousand of the cigars were admitted at New York, 109,000 at San Francisco and 98,000 at Seattle.

DESIGNATES MORE LAND FOR HOMESTEAD USES.

Washington, Aug. 21.—The secretary of the interior has designated 631,680 acres in the vicinity of Portales, Taibon Yeso creek, and in the Estancia valley, New Mexico, together with 60,320 acres in other parts of the territory as coming within the enlarged homestead act. This makes a total of 15,523,520 acres so designated in New Mexico.

MAYOR FOR ONE WEEK

Alderman John Hogan Will Be "His Honor" Next Week.

Mayor Haven and President Jordan Leave for Montreal.

Alderman John Hogan of the Fifth ward will be acting mayor of Duluth all of next week. Mayor R. D. Haven and Alderman Frank Jordan, who is president of the council, and who is supposed to act as mayor during the absence of Mr. Haven from the city, will leave tomorrow or Monday for Montreal, where they will attend the convention of the American League of municipalities, as delegates from Duluth.

Alderman Hogan is vice president of the council, and when both Mr. Haven and Mr. Jordan is away from town it is up to him to act as the city's chief executive. He will also act as president of the council at the meeting Monday night. The two Duluth delegates will probably be absent for about a week, for it is almost a two day's journey from Duluth to Montreal, so that much time will have to be taken up in travel, in addition to the time given in attending the sessions of the league.

MARKET IS FEVERISH

Wheat Goes Down Under Pressure in American Markets.

Traders Are Hesitating and Expectant, Waiting for News.

Duluth Board of Trade, Aug. 21.—Wheat was lower in all American markets again today on a feverish feeling that could be attributed only to the favorable weather reports from the harvest fields and the awaiting of news on the yields. Cables were a little higher, but they were offset by the bearish feeling. The market sagged all during the short session and the range in prices was small in all markets, the close being nearly high.

The market is expected to be hesitating one for a few days as the Northwestern movement has just begun and traders are waiting until the receipts increase to determine what effect they will have on the market. Russian shipments will be about 4,250,000 bu but there are no other estimates on the world's shipments for Monday.

The September option closed ½c lower in Duluth, ¼-⅜c lower in Chicago, ⅜-½c lower in Minneapolis, ⅜c lower in New York, ½-⅝c lower in St. Louis and ⅞c lower in Kansas City. The December option closed ⅜c lower in Duluth, ⅜-½c lower in Chicago, ⅜c lower in Minneapolis, ¼c lower in New York, ½c lower in St. Louis, ¼-⅜c lower in Kansas City and ⅜c lower in Winnipeg. October wheat closed ¼c lower in Winnipeg and May wheat was ⅜c lower in Duluth. Chicago corn was ⅛-¼c higher and oats were 1-1⅛c lower.

Wheat closed ⅛@½d higher in Liverpool, unchanged in Antwerp, unchanged in Budapest from Thursday, ⅝c lower in Berlin, unchanged in Buenos Ayres.

Broomhall cables from Liverpool: "The weaker American cables yesterday were offset by the small American shipments to Liverpool, and at the opening values were unchanged to ⅛d lower. Shorts in September are covering rather freely and this month showed a gain of ½d, while the distant months advanced sympathetically. Arrivals continue to show disappointment in the way of grading and there was an improved demand for spot. Toward the close buying was somewhat abated, due to the forecast of clear weather in the United Kingdom and lower offerings of cargoes at 1½ decline. At this time the market was ⅛@¼d higher than yesterday.

"Corn was quiet at the start and unchanged. Later there was an advance of ⅛d, with offerings lighter, due to the unfavorable American weather and the firmness of La Plata parcels."

The local market was quiet and wheat was lower in sympathy with the other American markets, while flax was about unchanged. September wheat opened ⅜c lower at 99⅜c, declined to 99⅛c, advanced to 99½c, declined to 99⅛c and closed at 99¼c bid. December wheat opened ¼c lower at 95½c, declined to 95c, advanced to 95¾c, then to 95¼c, declined to 95½c and closed at 95⅜c bid. May wheat opened ½c off at 99¼c, declined to 99⅛c, advanced to 99½c and closed at 99⅜c.

September flax opened ½c off at $1.38½ and closed at $1.38. October flax opened ¼c higher at $1.35¼, declined to $1.34⅞, advanced to $1.36, declined to $1.35⅝ and closed at $1.35¼ bid. November flax opened unchanged at $1.35, declined to $1.34¾, advanced to $1.35¾ and closed at $1.35½ bid. December flax opened unchanged at $1.32, declined to $1.31¾ and closed at $1.31½ bid.

Durum wheat closed ⅜c lower and the coarse grains were unchanged. Cash wheat was 22c over September.

Car receipts at Duluth were 2 against 5 last year, and at Minneapolis 127 against 201 last year, making a total for the Northwest of 129 against 206 last year. Chicago received 87 against 100 last year.

Primary receipts of wheat were 790,000 bu, last year 730,000 bu. Shipments 632,000 bu, last year 527,000 bu. Clearances of wheat and flour were 429,000 bu.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Firm Opening Followed By Weakness on Liberal Sales.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Following a firm opening, the wheat market became decidedly weak today owing to liberal sales by leading commission houses. The selling was inspired chiefly by continued favorable conditions in the Northwest for the harvesting of the new crop. Slight firmness at the start was due to an advance of ⅛@½d at Liverpool, where arrivals of wheat were very small and the grading extremely poor.

Opening quotations here were ¼c lower to ¼c higher, September being at $1.00¼ to $1.00⅛@1.00¼. December opened at 96@96¼c. Before the end of the first half hour September had declined to 99⅛c and December to 95¾@95½c.

Part of the loss was regained later in the day on buying, based on an official prediction of rain for Minnesota and the Dakotas tonight or tomorrow. The market closed fairly steady with September off ¼@⅜c at 99⅝c. December was down ½c at 95⅞c.

Weather throughout the corn belt was still clear today and as a result of the continued drouth, the corn market opened strong, with prices ⅛@¾c above yesterday's close. The slump in wheat, however, prompted considerable selling early in the day, which caused recessions in the price of all deliveries. September, which opened at 66⅞@67c, declined to 66½c.

A steady tone prevailed during the last half of the day and the close was steady with September up ⅛@¼c at 66@66⅞c.

Liberal receipts had a bearish effect on oats. Cash interests sold. The market opened firm in sympathy with other grain and followed wheat and corn in their downward trend. September opened unchanged to ¼c higher at 38½@38⅜c, and sold off to 37⅝c.

Provisions were quiet and steady during the early part of the session. The opening was a trifle easy, owing to liberal receipts of live hogs throughout the West, initial quotations being unchanged to 7½c lower.

HEARD ON THE FLOOR.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—All the big traders were very much mixed in their opinions of wheat last night. Patten was bearish and said that he saw nothing on which to advise buying wheat. President Marcy of the Armour Grain company was practically on the defense. Other traders had positive opinions on the bear side and were not inclined to advise short sales of September, but on bulges thought it safe to sell December and May. Traders regarded the market as a short one. Pit traders said it looked as if the Armour interest had sold 5,000,000 bu of September within the past few days, and a good deal of December, and from all appearances were inclined to believe that the Armour interest was trying to get out of its spread as soon as possible.—Inter-Ocean.

The weather forecast for the corn belt is as follows:

Illinois—Generally fair and warmer.

Indian—Fair and warmer.

Upper Michigan—Cloudy and warmer; showers Sunday.

STOCKS FIRM AT CLOSE

The Operators Bid Up Last Prices Aggressively All Round.

Wide Variety of Shares in Dealings—Late Reactions Slight.

New York, Aug. 21.—The opening transactions in Union Pacific amounted to 10,000 shares at from 207@208½, compared with 206⅝ at yesterday's close. There was a number of material advances also in other portions of the list, Great Northern Ore certificates and Western Union going up 1¾, and American Car and Allis-Chalmers preferred 1⅜. Large fractional gains were made in Reading, New York Central, Rock Island, Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper.

The pace in Union Pacific was considered too fast and a lot of stock was dumped on the market which caused a reaction of 1¼.

Other active stocks sold off in sympathy and the market became the dullest of the week. A wide assortment of industrial stocks were advanced in a confident manner. Northwestern was lowered 1¾ and Louisville & Nashville 1. At 11 o'clock the advance in the important stocks was being renewed and New York Central, Reading and United States Steel were ruling about a point above yesterday's closing and Union Pacific was selling at its highest again.

The market closed firm, but operators had the market well in hand and bid prices up aggressively all around. Advances of a point or more were general and there was a wide variety of shares dealt in. Union Pacific was up 2½, Reading 2⅝, Texas & Pacific 2¼, Northern Pacific 2, Pittsburg Coal 5¼ and the preferred 5⅜. Slight reactions occurred later on moderate profit-taking.

We have seen many good markets, but one such as this is almost impossible to outclass. The buying is from the very best sources. From every direction we receive heavy buying orders. The whole Northwest is bullish. Show me one man who will say that the copper share market will not be a hummer this fall and winter, but this you can not do, for stocks are selling so low and the mines are in such good condition that there is only one way for them to go and that is up. Get your orders in before the big fall and winter boom comes on and you will make a world of money.

Look at the Butte-Alex Scott stocks. These two have been neglected, but boys, oh boys, they will come along from now on. Did you notice the close in the Duluth stock exchange today, full paid was snapped up at $7.75, and if it had been 2,000 shares it would have gone just as fast. If the part paid had been offered it would also have gone, any amount up to a couple of thousand shares.

Some people are not asleep as to the Scott proposition. This mine is as rich as any independent property in Butte, and the showing on the 1,200 is proving up to be a bonanza. You hear about rich strikes of ore in mines, but the Scott is the boy that is getting big, high grade deposits in every direction. We have information from this mine that reads more like a fairy tale than anything else. Capt. Dawson returned from Butte bringing glowing reports. Mr. Stone is sending in reports to Mr. Hugo that confirm everything. Winze is going down in copper glance and high grade ore; winze is now four feet wide. In the upraise they are mining copper glance. In the drift on the twelfth level they are taking out ore and on the 1,000 and 900-foot levels it is almost a mass of high and low grade you will see Scott jump along from now on faster than any stock on the board. Only 100,000 shares, and selling seven times less than Tuolumne. Don't be foolish; remember this company has only a few shares issued compared with others, and the property is just as big and management just as good.

Ballaklava is strong and hard to buy. We can use 2,000 shares of this issue at present bid prices. But of all the stocks on the board where a man is willing to take a little chance on the possible developments of a mine which is as near a certainty as anything can be, St. Mary's stock looks the best of all. At 30 cents it is impossible to buy. This office has orders for thousands and thousands of shares. Here is a chance to again make money like you did on Calumet & Montana and Red Warrior. No matter if a stock is selling low today on a market of this kind, it may advance three times above the present price on favorable news from the property. Take the chance before they tap rich ore in the tunnel. When this is done you will have to pay a big price to get any of the shares. This stock should sell at $1 easy, for it has a big market and the outside districts are heavy buyers. The Twin Cities are now taking it in big blocks. Butte & Superior is also a dandy to take on. Mr. A. B. Wolvin is making good on this proposition and this mine should develop to be one of the biggest mines in the country. The Butte-Alex Scott company also owns 1,500 feet of the big Rainbow lead and some places it is 200 feet wide. This lead is the mother lode of the Butte camp and this is the vein Butte & Superior people are working.

Detroit, Minn., Double Wedding

Detroit, Minn., Aug. 20.—Charles R. Hamilton of Devils Lake, N. D., and Dr. M. R. Melvin of Minneapolis were married Wednesday evening to the Misses Olive and Martha Sturtevant, daughters of Charles G. Sturtevant. Rev. E. M. Hulett of the Baptist church read the service before a large number of guests.

AGED MAN IS FOUND DEAD IN HAY CHUTE.

Eau Claire, Wis., Aug. 20.—The dead body of Rasmus Hansen, a widower, 65 years old, was found yesterday in a hay chute in the North Side hotel barn. It is supposed that Hansen went into the hayloft Sunday to sleep, fell down the chute and was jammed in and suffocated.

THE JACKDAWS OF PULBOROUGH.

Copper Shares Boom

Market authorities agree that the country is on the eve of a copper shares boom that will rival those of 1899 and 1906, when copper stocks, bought in a low metal market such as now prevails, proved phenomenal profit-makers with the advance in the price of the metal.

In the 1909 Copper Shares Boom the stocks of the will command the most attention and make the greatest advances, because of the profit possibilities of the properties they represent, and the inevitable appreciation in values that will follow an advancing metal market.

Low-Grade, Low-Cost Producers

There are ten of these stocks that represent LOW-GRADE, LOW-COST producers conspicuous on the New York Curb:

Nevada Consolidated	Gila
Giroux Consolidated	Chino
Ray Consolidated	Miami
Cumberland-Ely	Inspiration
Ely Central	Ray Central

An exhaustive and searching study of the comparative value of these ten low-grade, low-cost copper producers from the pen of the well known mine and market expert, appears in the current issue of the Mining Financial News. This comparative study of values by Mr. Atwell will enable the investors to gather an intelligent idea of what these issues actually stand for, and how they are likely to perform in the approaching great copper boom of 1909.
